*"And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all things to Myself."
John 12:32*

Therefore GOD also has exalted Him and has bestowed upon Him the name that is above every name, so that at the name of Jesus every knee should bend of those in Heaven, on earth and under the earth, and every tongue should confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of GOD the Father.

Catholic...

---

Q. Where did the word originate?

A. It comes from the Greek word Katholikos, which was later Latinized into Catholicus.

Q. What is the meaning of the word?

A. It means 'Universal', which in itself means, 'of or relating to, or affecting the entire world and all peoples therein'. It means, all encompassing, comprehensibly broad, general, and containing all that is necessary. In summation, it means all people in all places, having all that is necessary, and for all time.

Q. But is it Biblical?

A. Yes it is. It is in Matthew 28:19-20, "Go, therefore and make disciples of all nations...teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; And behold, I am with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world."

That is a statement of Universality, Katholicos, Catholicus, Catholic.

Q. I have heard that the word 'Catholic' did not come into use for hundreds of years after Jesus Christ founded His Church.

A. Not true. The first recorded use of the word that I could find, is in St. Ignatius of Antioch's letter to the Smyrneans, paragraph 8, of 107 A.D., "Where the Bishop appears, there let the people be, just as where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church."

Undoubtedly the word was in use before the time of that writing.

Q. Some say the Catholic Church ended with Constantine (285-337), with the "Edict of Milan" which he issued in 313, which allowed the Church to practice openly. Others say that is when the Church began. Who is right?

A. Neither is right. The Catholic Church is the true Church founded by Jesus Christ and He guaranteed its perpetuity, Matthew 28:20, and its unfaltering truth, 1 Timothy 3:15. Now if either of the arguments in the question were true, than don't you think the Church Fathers would have mentioned it somewhere? Instead, the Church Fathers mention the Catholic Church by Name in hundreds of their writings and spanning many centuries. Ask the ones who say these things to show you documented proof.

In the Apostles Creed, the word "Catholic" is clearly written within:

I believe in God, the Father almighty, creator of heaven and earth. I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord. He was conceived by the power of the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary. He suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died, and was buried. He descended to the dead. On the third day he rose again. He ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again to judge the living and the dead. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy Catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting. Amen.

Many non-Catholic sects also recite the Apostles Creed during their services. However, several of those who do, have substituted the word "Universal", for "Catholic". Thus they have substituted the meaning of the word for the word itself.

Here is what Church Fathers had to say. In every case the word "Catholic" is used. Notice the dates, as they span over a century before and after Constantine. The JXXXX refers to the paragraph numbers in "The Faith of the Early Fathers", by William A. Jurgens.

How to be a good Catholic!

Here are some very basic obligatory rules that all Catholics should know. However, some Catholics are either ignorant of them, or knowingly fail to abide by them.

---

**Attend Mass every week. To deliberately miss Mass on Saturday vigil or on Sunday, is a mortal sin.*

---

**Attend Mass on Holy Days of obligation. We are obligated to do so on certain Feast Days of the year. The Church bulletin and a good Catholic calendar lists these obligatory days.*

---

**Go to Confession at least once a year. If in mortal sin, go as soon as possible. A mortal sin is a sin against any one of the Ten Commandments. The CCC has distinct references to mortal and venial sins.*

---

**Believe with all your heart in the True Presence, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity, of Our Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist.*

---

**Do not receive Holy Communion if you know you have a mortal sin on your soul. That would be yet another and worse mortal sin called a Sacrilege. Examination of Conscience is suggested each day and especially before Confession.*

"Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that they may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you." Hebrews 13:17

Adults are subject to their superiors at work, to authority, and to the law. Of course, all these are subject to the law of God and that is where our first allegiance must be.

Obey the teaching of the Holy Father the Pope, and the teaching of the Magisterium.

**We must respect life in the fullest sense. Abortion is murder of GOD's most helpless creature, an innocent child in its mother's womb. Life begins at conception. Pro-Abortionists try to conceal what is really "Legalized Murder", by using the term, "Pro-Choice". It is NOT a mother's "choice" whether to murder her unborn child or not. The child is not hers. It belongs to GOD. It is not a part of her body. How could it ever be if it is a he and she is a she? It is a separate person with its own human systems and could even have a different blood type.*

Our Creator has thus created each person singularly, independently functioning and with the potential to be a humble member of the world or to become great. In our wonderful country, we each have the power to vote to put great people into leadership. A good Catholic, casts the right vote intelligently and carefully for a person who is Pro-Life which is Pro-GOD. To vote with the tide of popularity that encompasses arrogance, self-aggrandizement and self-pride for advocates who are "pro-choice" is to vote into power those who are the proponents of the culture of death. This is strictly forbidden and against the teaching of the Catholic Church which is the teaching of Christ! A vote for Pro-Life is saying yes to GOD. Remember, Mary, Our Blessed Mother said "YES" to GOD. Make your vote count for Life!

**Do not practice Contraception. It is counter to Holy Scripture and the teaching of the Church. Natural Family Planning, as taught by the Catholic Church is the way to go. Pope Paul VI wrote an Encyclical in 1968 in which he envisioned the evil consequences if contraception were to continue. It is called Humanae Vitae. Be sure to read paragraph #17 as it foretold exactly what would happen and is* happening today over 30 years later. Contraception is the drugged mentality that leads to abortion and more.

*The parents have the responsibility to teach their children right from wrong at an early age, and to see to it that they have the proper Catholic education. Teach them their Sunday obligation, their prayers, that GOD loves them, etc., as soon as they are able to understand. It is not the responsibility of the Church to do this, as the primary responsibility rests upon the parents.

By the example of their parents, they shall learn. Our children when ill-prepared and with no role-models to emulate, go into the world as young adults and are prey for the many false religions and cults waiting to capture them. In their ignorance of the truth, they are enticed by the falseness and succumb to its teachings. Get your children into a sound religious education program. Ask questions of the teachers, lay and religious alike. Search for a program that is solid.

*Have a loving devotion for Our Blessed Mother of GOD.

---

*Pray the Rosary every day.

---

*Say your prayers every day. Say the Act of Contrition each night.

---

*Support the Church financially. Every person should know what they are able to contribute.

Where the bishop appears, there let the people be, just as where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church. # Apologetics Does Not Mean Apologies...

Apologetics and the Holy Eucharist:

---

When the average person gets an "apology" from another person, he hears that person express regrets, or ask pardon for a fault or offense. There is, however, a less common connotation of this word even in a secular dictionary; it also means "a formal justification or defense".

This connotation is rarely used in common speech except when it comes to religion where it is quite common.

"Apologetics" has come to be known solely as "the branch of theology that deals with the defense and proof of Christianity." This science does NOT teach people to say, "Pardon me for believing....". Rather, it teaches one to say, "I believe this BECAUSE...", and does so with reasons which supplement the prime reason for our belief - "because the Church teaches and has always taught this."

---

Apologetics is a science indeed, and it exists only where truth can be systematically justified and defended with consistency...in Catholicism. Apologetics teaches a Catholic to approach a topic on the grounds of the non-Catholic listener with the object of convincing him of the truth, using logic and evidence.

---

Obviously one would not quote from the Scriptures when speaking to a pagan, and one would not quote from the New Testament when speaking to a Jew. For those particular non-Catholics who think they are following Christ by adhering "to the Bible alone", we can base our arguments on Holy Scripture itself. If we can show them they are plainly wrong on a major point by using the Scriptures which they say they believe in, we have done well in our apologetic work to show the truth of Catholicism. Not that you must go around picking arguments with everyone you can, but that you must be "ready always to satisfy every one that asketh you a reason of that hope which is in you." (I Peter 3:15)

---

As we know, having the Scriptures "alone" does not guarantee one the correct interpretation when one rejects the Church which Christ founded on St. Peter and his successors. In the Scriptures there "are certain things hard to be understood, which the unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures, to their own destruction." (II Peter 3:16)

---

Those who are outside of Christ's Church do not have the systematic and consistent theology which would place them in the class of the "unlearned". They do not have Christ in the Blessed Sacrament of which Christ said - "If any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever". Without it one would most certainly be in the category of the "unstable".

St. Peter speaks of the "unlearned and unstable" who "wrest" certain things in Scripture which are hard to understand. This, however, does not exclude the fact that the more plain things of Scripture are also twisted to their own destruction. There are now hundreds of "Christian" sects all believing different interpretations of Scripture (even within the same sect!), yet all claiming "they" personally have the guidance of "the Spirit".

If we can ever apply the principle of "by their fruits you will know them", it is certainly here. A prime example of apologetics at work is in the defense of the Holy Eucharist. While some non-Catholics may claim to adhere to Scripture as "the word of God", they at the same time deny the Real Presence of Jesus in the Sacrament of the altar.

The words of Scripture were not found written on a stone such that one could take the individual words and GIVE them a purpose. No. They were already written with a purpose, inspired by God yet written by men, for other men of a certain time period. Bible quotes alone do not suffice; even the devil is known to have tempted Our Lord by quoting scripture out of the original context.

---

DEFENSE OF THE REAL PRESENCE...

Look at Holy Scripture:

Jesus often used symbolic language; He used it to give a deeper, spiritual meaning to His words (not to confuse His listeners.) Cardinal Wiseman said that, "whenever our Lord's hearers found difficulties, or raised objections to His words from taking them in their literal sense, while He intended them to be taken figuratively, His constant practice was to explain them instantly, in a figurative manner, even though no great error could result from their being misunderstood." An example of this was when Jesus said to his disciples, "Lazarus our friend sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep." His disciples then said, "Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well." Jesus then said plainly, "Lazarus is dead." Christ did not leave them with the misunderstanding that they expressed.

In another incident Jesus told Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, that "unless a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God."

Nicodemus then asked, "How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born again?"

Jesus then answered him precisely by telling him that a man must be "born again of water and the Holy Ghost." Christ again corrects his misunderstanding.

---

At still another time, Jesus said to His disciples, "Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees." The disciples then thought that Jesus was talking about their taking no bread with them. Jesus, knowing what they were thinking, explained Himself and asked, "Why do you not understand that it was not concerning bread I said to you:

Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?"

The disciples then understood that Jesus was talking about their doctrines.

In all these incidents Our Lord explained the meaning of His figurative speech even though taking His words literally would have caused no great harm. We know from this, most certainly, that where there would arise a misunderstanding that would cause harm, Our Lord would most definitely make things very clear to his listeners. We have just such an incident in the Gospel (John 6:48-72):

When Jesus was teaching in the synagogue He told His listeners that:

"the bread that I will give, is my flesh, for the life of the world." The Jews then, "strove among themselves, saying: How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" Jesus then, rather than give a figurative meaning to His words, repeated the same in more emphatic terms:

"Amen, amen I say unto you: Except you eat the flesh of the Son of man, drink indeed."

This was a command, and a divine precept. Many of his disciples murmured at this saying, "This saying is hard, and who can hear it?"

Jesus, knowing this, said to them, "Doth this scandalize you?" And, rather than give a figurative meaning still, "many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him." Jesus, knowing that they had taken Him literally, was then prepared to allow even the twelve apostles to leave Him; Jesus asked His twelve, "Will you also go away?" It is obvious that Jesus meant his words to be taken literally. The way Catholics have always believed them. Jesus promised: "The bread that I will give is my flesh..."

On the eve of His death Jesus fulfilled His promise saying, "Take ye and eat. This is my body." Those who have the true Faith accept this. Before the "Deformation" of the 16th century, when being Christian was synonymous with being Catholic, all Christians believed this and obeyed Our Lord's command by receiving Him in the Eucharist so that they would "have life".

Apologetics; Be Not Afraid...

Be Not Afraid... Be Not Afraid... Be Not Afraid... Be Not Afraid... Be Not Afraid... Be Not Afraid...

---

The word 'Apologetics' is from the Greek word 'Apologetikos', which means a defense. Apologetics is referred to in several Bible verses...

1Peter 3:15, "Be ready always with an answer to everyone who asks a reason for the hope that is within you."

Acts 17:2, "And Paul, as was his custom, went in to them and for three Sabbaths reasoned with them from the Scriptures."

Acts 22:1, "Brethren and fathers, listen to what I have to say to you in my defense."

1 Corinthians 9:3, "My defense against those who question me is this:"

The first subject to discuss in apologetics is 'truth'. Jesus Christ said, "I am the way, the truth and the life", John 14:6. Therefore, whatever Jesus said must be true because He said it, right?

What is the foundation and pillar of truth? What is a pillar? A pillar is something which is upholding something while being firmly implanted on a solid foundation. Is the pillar of truth the Bible? If you think so, then why does the Bible say it is the Church? See 1Tim 3:15

The Church is guided by the Holy Spirit and is therefore the dispenser of truth.

"But when He, the Spirit of Truth has come, he will teach you all the truth. For He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He will hear He will speak, and the things that are to come He will declare to you." John 16:13

GOD is truth. GOD is one. Therefore, truth is one. There can be only one truth.

See the other files posted on this website regarding "Truth", for much more.

The second subject is 'Authority'. Who has the authority to mitigate between two opposing systems of thought? Since Jesus Christ is the 'truth', then whatever He said is true, right?

Did Jesus Christ have authority? Well, He said He did, and if He said it, it must be true...

"I and the Father are one", John 10:30. I would say that is about as high an authority as there is, wouldn't you agree?

"All power in Heaven and on earth has been given to Me", He said that in Matt 28:18. See also Matt 9:2-8. the story of the man on a pallet being lowered through the roof to Jesus.

"And He went down to Capharnaum, a town of Galilee. And there he was teaching them on the Sabbath. And they were astonished at His teaching, for His word was with authority." Luke 4:31-32

Since Jesus Christ has all authority, He passed authority on to the Apostles...

"As the Father has sent Me, I also send you." John 20:21

"He who hears you, hears me; and he who rejects you, rejects Me; and he who rejects Me, rejects Him who sent me." Luke 10:16

"If they have kept My word, they will keep yours also." John 15:20

"When He said this, He breathed upon them, and said to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained.'" John 20:22-23. See also Matt 16:19 and Matt 18:18.

The authority which Jesus Christ gave to the Apostles is passed on to their successors in a process called 'Apostolic Succession'. When the office holder dies, the office does not die, but becomes vacant and is filled by someone else. The earliest example of 'Apostolic Succession' is the first thing the Apostles did after Jesus ascended into heaven. Judas was dead by his own hand and the eleven remaining Apostles voted to replace his empty office with another office holder, Matthias. Read Acts 1:15-26.

"And his ministry let another take." Psalms 109:8, Acts 1:20

Read "The Catholic Church in the New Testament", or "Apostolic Succession", both found elsewhere on this website for an in depth look at this subject.

Did Jesus Christ say that the Bible is the final authority on earth? No, He did not. Jesus Christ said the final authority is the Church. See Matt 18:15-18. The Church has the final authority to mitigate disputes, and to dispense the truth.

The next subject we will discuss is Holy Scripture. Is the Bible a product of the Church or is the Church a product of the Bible? The Church was founded by Jesus Christ at about 30-33 A.D.. The first book of the New Testament was not written for several decades after this. How then could the Church be a product of the Bible?

Read, "Is the Catholic Church the Mother of the Bible or the Daughter?", found elsewhere on this website, for an in depth study of this topic. You will find it was the Catholic Church which gave the Bible to the world.

Is the Papacy an invention of the Catholic Church?

No Way. It is very Scriptural.

Read "The Papacy is Scriptural", on this website, for verses and much more on this subject.

When discussing Apologetics with non-Catholics, you must do it right from Holy Scripture. When Protestantism was first formed in the 16th century, the reformers lost all Authority which they enjoyed in the Catholic Church. They therefore turned to the Bible as their 'sole rule of authority'. This is called 'Sola Scriptura', or 'Bible Alone'. They also could not claim Apostolic Tradition anymore since they could not show Apostolic Succession. They put Apostolic Tradition in the same category as man made tradition and in so doing condemned all tradition. Holy Scripture specifically says to keep the traditions with which you have been taught, which are the Apostolic traditions, and to reject man made traditions. Interestingly, the false doctrine of 'Sola Scriptura', is a man made tradition with its origin at the beginning of the Protestant Reformation. Using the reformers very own rules, 'Sola Scriptura' should then be condemned by themselves.

Read "For Whom the Bell Tolls", and "The Origin of Sola Scriptura", found elsewhere on this website for an in depth study of this topic. In these files, I have shown that 'Sola Scriptura' is not Biblical, as the doctrine of 'Bible Alone' is nowhere to be found in Holy Scripture. I have shown its root beginnings by Martin Luther, and why it is impossible for it to have worked for the first 1400 years of Christianity.

Why do Catholics worship Mary? Mary had other children. Mary could have not been conceived without sin. Mary is not the Mother of GOD. Mary is not ever virgin.

Our dear Blessed Virgin Mary is attacked with these false statements over and over again. These false charges and more are all answered with the truth in the many files found on this website.

Go to "Blessed Virgin Mary's Corner" on this website for a wealth of information regarding the Mother of GOD.

"To be deep in history is to cease to be Protestant." That statement was made by Cardinal John Newman, a convert to Catholicism from the Anglican Church.

If anyone would take the time to research the hundreds of years of writings of the Church Fathers, and their successors, they would see a rich treasure of the history of the Catholic Church from the very beginning of its founding, and continuing on through today. So many false charges made against the Catholic Church fall away like the pruned dead branches from the vine. Any subject you can think of is covered in these writings. As just one example, detractors say the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized around the time of Constantine and is not the Catholic Church of today. This is saying that the 'Gates of Hell' did prevail against Christ's Church. Read Matt 16:18. These same detractors cannot produce one shred of documentation to back up what they charge. However, by reading the Church Fathers, you will find just the opposite. The writings make no mention of this 'great apostasy', but instead they show the Church, which Jesus Christ founded, growing and expanding just as He said it would. Read Acts 1:8. You will see that the 'Gates of Hell' did not prevail. Sadly, Protestants are told not to read the Church Fathers. From what Cardinal Newman said, you can readily see why they are taught this. What a waste to disregard such a goldmine of truth.

Go to the "What Church Fathers Had to Say" section on this website for a whole new world, a wealth of information on practically any subject having to do with the Church. These writings are readily available on the internet for free. I list the URL's in some of these pages for you to see for yourself.

Let us review what we have learned so far...

01. The Church is the guardian and the dispenser of truth, because the Bible said so.
  02. Truth is one. There can be only one truth.
  03. The Church is the final authority on earth, because Jesus Christ said so.
  04. Jesus Christ gave authority to His Apostles.
  05. The Apostles in return passed on this authority to their successors through 'Apostolic Succession'.
  06. The Church is the mother of the Bible, and not the daughter.
  07. The Bible is a product of the Church, therefore it is a Catholic book.
  08. Catholic Bishops in Catholic Councils decided which books were to be included in the Bible.
  09. The Papacy is well represented by Holy Scripture
  10. Sola Scriptura is a man made doctrine and is therefore condemned by Holy Scripture.
  11. False charges against the Mother of GOD, fall away like dead leaves when the truth is manifest.
  12. Writings of Church Fathers are a wealth of information about the Catholic Church.

"Be not afraid", Matt 14:27, to discuss Apologetics with others. Every Catholic is duty bound to do so. Catholics have a truthful answer to any question put to us. If you do not know the answer, then there are many resources with which to turn. Make use of them.

1. Catholics have the truth and we can back up what we say with documents.
  2. Catholics have the Pope and the Magisterium, the dispensers of truth.
  3. Catholics have the Holy Spirit guiding the Church and He prevents it from teaching error.

What is Truth?

Truth, what is it?

The definition of 'truth' is 'opposite of error'. Truth means it is conformable to fact. It is correct. Truth in action, is when the human conscience agrees with the intellect. Truth is 'ONE'. There can be only one truth, Jn 17:17-23. Any variation in the one truth is not truth at all, but error.

Truth is a person. Jesus Christ said, "I am the way, the truth and the life", Jn 14:6. When GOD created each one of us, He wrote His law into our hearts... "When the Gentiles who have no law do by nature what the Law prescribes, these having no law are a law unto themselves. They show the work of the LAW WRITTEN IN THEIR HEARTS. THEIR CONSCIENCE BEARS WITNESS TO THEM, EVEN WHEN CONFLICTING THOUGHTS ACCUSE OR DEFEND THEM", Rom 2:14-15. See also Heb 8:10 and Heb 10:16.

It is our conscience that examines these laws. The 'free will' we were given when we were created makes a decision based on what conscience is telling it, and what the intellect is saying. 'Free will' gives us the ability to make the right or the wrong decision in GOD's eyes. GOD made the laws, and over and over again, He has urged us to do right, and warned us against doing wrong. If we did not have free will, there would be no need for urging or warnings. GOD could simply command us to do His will and we would be helpless to resist. By using free will, we decide which course of action will be taken for each individual incident we face in life. By using free will, each decides for himself where he will spend eternity.

GOD sends no one to hell. We send ourselves through the decisions we make in this life. In addition to GOD's laws written in our hearts, GOD also built in a hunger for Him and an innate desire to seek Him out. Since GOD is 'truth', that innate desire is to seek the 'truth' in all things. When we have sought the truth and have found it, then we have found GOD.

That leads into the purpose of this file. In order to find the truth, we have to test for it. We have an obligation to question if we are in the process of entering the wide gate to perdition, or the narrow gate to salvation. "Enter by the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the way that leads to destruction, and many there are who enter that way. How narrow the gate and close the way that leads to life! AND FEW THERE ARE WHO FIND IT", Matt 7:13-14. Clearly, these two verses say that the majority of us are on the broad way to destruction. Don't you want to be on the narrow way to heaven?

In order to insure you are on the right path you have to work at it. You are obliged to look at all the options, examine them with the intellect, and seek an agreement with the conscience. Satan is very clever at disguising himself and at deceiving us into believing what appears as truth, is in fact error. See Isa 5:20, "Woe to you that call evil good and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness." He is the one who is responsible for so many who are traveling down the broad way. He is constantly telling you that you are on the narrow way, when in fact, he really has situated you on the wide way, the super highway to his domain.

We must not just lie down and accept what we have as being the truth without testing for it on a continual basis. If you just lay back and refuse to test for it, the chances are you are on the wide way as Matt 7:13-14 is trying to tell you.

So how do you test for the truth? I have already given you the answer in the first paragraph. You have to look for error, and you have to see if the truth is conformable to fact. Here are some guidelines. Consult your conscience as you follow these pointers...

1. Have you felt uncomfortable (conscience speaking) with some Bible verses that do not seem to conform to the teaching of your Church? All of Scripture is harmonious and it all should fit together like a giant picture puzzle.
2. When you do question some teaching, do you get definitive answers every time?

3. Do you get meaningless or nebulous answers that don't make sense?

4. Are you absolutely sure that you are in the Church that Jesus Christ founded? He only founded 'A' Church in Matt 16:18. That verse does not say 'Churches'. I am reminded of 1 Cor 10:12, "Therefore let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall."

5. There are over 33,800 different Christian sects in the world today. How can you be sure you have chosen the right one?

6. Remember, 'TRUTH IS ONE', so how can there possibly be 33,800 different Christian Churches, all teaching that ONE TRUTH?

7. If all those Churches taught the same truth, then there would not be 33,800, but only one. What does an examination of conscience say now?

8. That means there have to be 33,799 Churches teaching error. If that is the case, then there are 33,799 Churches on the 'wide path' and only one on the 'narrow'. I don't like those gambling odds of 1 in 33,800. Does that bother your conscience?

9. Most all Churches claim to be the Church of truth. Who do you believe? Which one is right? Which Church does the Bible say is the Church of truth?

10. The Church of truth is spelled out in the Bible. It is the only Church that was given the authority, the one in whom the Holy Spirit dwells forever, John 14:15-17.

11. "But he who does the truth comes to the light that his deeds may be made manifest, for they have been performed in GOD", Jn 3:21. This verse says it all.

12. If you haven't found truth then you haven't found GOD.

This is a very serious letter, one that all should heed if they are truly serious about their salvation. After all, you are playing Russian Roulette with your immortal souls. All of us will spend eternity either in heaven, or in hell. We make that choice ourselves with our own free will. We only have this one life in which to make that choice. Who knows when that life will end? It might be in the next minute or two. There is no second chance. The time is NOW!

Have you ever thought about eternity as compared to the life in this world? This lifetime is insignificant, a mere blink of an eye, compared to the eons of the tortures of hell, or of the unimaginable joys of heaven. "Eye has not seen or ear heard, nor has it entered into the heart of man, what things GOD has prepared for those who love Him." 1Cor 2:9...

Is Half of The Story Sufficient For Salvation?

How many sides are there to a story? If you say two, then you are wrong. If you had one side and I had one side, that would make two sides. However, there is a third side, the side of truth.

---

Rule # 1... One half of truth does not a truth make. Neither does one half of a story make the full story. No intelligent person can hear one side of a story and decide which side has the truth. Both sides have to be heard, then analyzed, and then a decision has to be made as to which side (if either) has a valid story, and after that, the right side(s), or truth side, can be determined.

---

This thinking holds true for discerning what Holy Scripture tells us. Throughout the Bible there are double standards, yet the fundamentalist thinking shows only one standard, or one side of the story, or only one half of the truth. Their thinking is in violation of rule # 1. With only one half of truth, you do not have truth. Anything less than the whole truth is error.

In the following examples, side 'A' is the first side, side 'B' is the second, and side 'C' is the right, or truth side.

Example # 1... Sola Scriptura... Only the Bible. Fundamentalist thinking is that the Bible is sufficient and nothing else is needed for salvation. First of all, in order to believe in the 'Bible Only' philosophy, you have to show that Scripture says it. Is that not true? The doctrine of 'Sola Scriptura' is not to be found in Scripture.

A. Tradition is condemned in many places in Scripture, such as Job 22:15, Mt 15:6, Mk 7:3-13, Gal 1:14, Col 2:8, 1Tim 1:4, Tit 1:14, and 1Pet 1:18. Look at these verses and grasp their meaning. They all address 'vain' human traditions and are rightly condemned. This is one half of the truth.

B. Tradition is supported in more places in Scripture than it is condemned. Study Isa 59:21, Lk 1:2, 2:19,51, Lk 10:16, 2Thes 2:14-15 - "Stand firm and hold the traditions you have learned..", 2Tim 1:13,2:2, 1Pet 1:25, 1Jn 1:1,2:24, 2Jn 1:12, Rev 12:17,19:10. These are different traditions than mentioned in 'A'. These are the Traditions of GOD, or 'Apostolic' Tradition. Again, this is only half of the truth.

C. The truth is, yes, we do condemn the vain tradition of men, as shown in 'A', and we must keep the Tradition of GOD, as shown in 'B'. Thus we have half the truth in 'A', and the other half in 'B', and combined we have the full truth. The false doctrine of Sola Scriptura adds A and B together and puts the total in A, rejecting all of tradition.  $A+B=C$ .

Example # 2... Sola Fides... Saved by faith alone. The fundamentalist believes he is assured of salvation. All he has to do is to accept Jesus Christ as his personal Lord and savior and salvation is automatic and irrevocable no matter what he does for the rest of his life. Oh Yeah? What happened to the ten commandments?

A. Many verses in Scripture attest to salvation by faith alone. Joel 2:32, "...that every one that shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Acts 2:21 says the same almost word for word, and likewise for Rom 10:13. "...I live in the faith of the Son of GOD...", is from Gal 2:20. Again, these are beautiful words that should be heeded by all.

B. However, elsewhere in Scripture there is quite a different side of the story. Start with Mt 7:21, "Not everyone who says to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter the kingdom of Heaven; but he who does the will of my Father in Heaven shall enter the kingdom of Heaven." It is very clear that you have to do the will of the Father to gain salvation. I like 1Cor 10:12, "...let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall." That one says you cannot be guaranteed of salvation. Then James 2:14-26 says over and over, "...Faith too without works is dead...Faith without works is useless...so Faith also without works is dead." Again, words to be heeded by all.

C. So what is the answer to this dilemma? Is this one of those Bible 'conflicts' you keep hearing about? No, not at all. The answer is very simple. There are two types of salvation, 'objective salvation', and 'subjective salvation'. The verses in 'A' are examples of objective salvation. Jesus Christ did atone for all of our sins, past, present and future. He did His part and did it well, but He left the burden upon each one of us to complete the second side of the story by atoning for our own sins, by doing the will of the Father. We have to keep the commandments. We have to practice 'subjective salvation'. There is no salvation by accepting only part of Scripture as shown in 'A', and by rejecting, or trying to explain away the verses in 'B'. Yet this is what some non-Catholics are doing. Again, we have to combine 'A', and 'B', to have the full truth.  $A+B=C = \text{TRUTH}$ .

Example # 3... Sola Gratia... or saved by the Grace of GOD. This is the belief that all are saved solely by the Grace of GOD. The thinking is that all will be saved no matter what they do in this life. Everyone of us is given sufficient grace for our salvation. However, that grace can be rejected and lost by the individual.

A. Some will try to justify this false doctrine with Eph 2:8-10, "For by grace are you saved through faith; and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of GOD." I agree that grace is a 'gift of GOD'.

B. The arguments against Sola Gratia are basically the same as for Sola Fides. See Sola Fides 'B'.

C. There again, there are two kinds of grace, 'deserved' and 'undeserved'. Not all will receive saving grace if they are undeserving of it as shown in Mt 7:21, 1Cor 10:12, and Jam 2:14-26. Why would GOD extend His graces to those who do not keep His commandments? The truth is, yes you will receive saving grace from GOD if you are deserving of it.

Example # 4... Idol Worship... This is another argument aimed against the Catholic Church since it has statues of Jesus and Mary, and other saints.

A. Ex 20:4, "You shall not carve idols for yourselves in the shape of anything in the sky above or on the earth below or in the waters beneath the earth." This verse is why you do not see idols in protestant churches.

B. Num 21:8-9, 'And the Lord said to Moses, "Make a saraph (serpent) and mount it on a pole...Moses accordingly made a bronze serpent..." How about Ex 25:18:22, GOD commands Moses to make two images of angels and to fasten them to the lid of the Ark. GOD commands humans to make idols.

C. Is this another conflict? No not at all. In both cases in 'B', the idols were to be used for a good purpose. In 'A', the meaning is for idols which have an evil purpose such as the golden calf or worship of false gods'. Is there much of a difference between statues of angels and statues of saints? No, not in this case as both are heavenly dwellers, and are servants of GOD. The answer of truth is again  $A+B=C$ .

Example # 5... Repetitive Prayer... non-Catholics claim repetitive prayer is forbidden by Scripture. This statement is aimed squarely at the Catholic prayer of the Rosary.

A. Mt 6:7, "But when you pray, use not 'vain' repetitions, as the heathen do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking." In 1King 18:25-29 there is reference to calling on the name of Baal from morning until noon and their 'prayer' went unanswered. Yes this is true. Vain repetition as heathens do is forbidden. These are examples of 'vain' repetition.

B. Again, there are many more examples of repetitive prayer, which are accepted in Scripture, rather than rejected. See Mt 26:44 where Jesus prayed in the garden three times and said the same words. How about Lk 6:12, "...He went onto a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to GOD." Lk 21:36, "...pray always, that you may be counted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass." How can you 'pray always' without repeating prayers? Then there is Isa 6:3, and Rev 4:8, where the Seraphim, "...rest not day and night, saying Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord GOD Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come." Is that not a prime example of repetitive prayer?

C. In this example non-Catholics accept 'A', and ignore 'B',  $A+A=A$ . Yes, we should abide by the caution of 'vain' repetition of prayer as heathens do. Christians are certainly not heathens. However in 'B', a second type of prayer repetition, or 'Useful', is shown. The correct answer again is  $A+B=C$ .

Example # 6... Call No Man your Father... This has long been a stumbling block for non-Catholics and for no real reason. Catholics call priests 'father'. This is why the stumble.

A. Mt 23:9, "And call no one on earth your father, for one is your Father, who is in heaven." Absolutely right again. We have only one GOD the Father who is in Heaven.

B. Ex 20:12, "Honor your father and your mother..." In far more verses the word 'father' is evoked for creatures by the apostles, and by Jesus Christ Himself. Acts 7:2 and 22:1, "Brethren and fathers...", Rom 9:10, "Isaac our father...", Jn 6:49, "Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness..."

C. What is going on here? What is the translation of Lk 14:26 using the strict sense of Mt 23:9? "If anyone comes to Me and does not hate (it meant to love less, at the time) his 'father' and mother...he cannot be My disciple." Using the logic in 'A', it would have to translate to, 'you would have to love less, the Father in heaven, than myself, to be my disciple'. I do not think Jesus meant it that way. The truth is that Jesus was referring to only one GOD the Father in Heaven in Mt 23:9 not multiples. A priest is a 'spiritual father', just as the male who was needed to conceive each of one us is our 'natural father'. Again A+B=C.

Example # 7... There Can Be Only One Mediator between GOD and man... No one should ever pray to another person as that is against the Bible. This is another stumbling block that non-Catholics have with Blessed Mary, and with Catholics saying the Rosary.

A. 1Tim 2:5, "For there is one GOD and one Mediator between GOD and men, Himself man, Christ Jesus..." Yes right again.

B. However, the Bible is quite clear in pointing out, again, more verses which 'seem' to say just the opposite. Move up to 1Tim 2:1, "I urge therefore...supplications, prayers, intercessions be made for all men." 1Thess 5:25, "Brethren pray for us." Heb 13:18, "Pray for us." Jam 5:16, "Pray for one another." Rev 5:8, "...which are the prayers of the saints." Hmmm, why do saints have to pray? They are already in heaven. Their prayers therefore must be for someone else who is not in heaven.

C. In 'A', we see 'Mediator', and in 'B', we see 'Intercessor'. There is a difference. Jesus Christ mediates between GOD and man. The saints and our fellow man say intercessory prayers for others. If anyone has examined the words of the Hail Mary, the first half is Gabriel's and Elizabeth's greetings in Luke 1:28-42. The second part is, 'Holy Mary, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen'. What is the difference between Heb 13:18, "Pray for us", and Rev 5:8, "...which are the prayers of the saints", and of asking Mary to pray for us in the Hail Mary? We can have only one mediator, but we can have many intercessors. The answer again is A+B=C.

I hope this little exercise has helped you to understand why there are so many 'apparent' conflicts in Holy Scripture, with some verses seemingly contradicting others. They really are not contradictory when you come to the realization that there are three sides to every story. When the full truth is known, then there is no need to try to explain away any verses in scripture. The Bible is harmonious from beginning to end. Nothing can be added, and nothing can be removed. It all fits together perfectly.

Tell The Truth Or Suffer The Consequences!

Holy Scripture is very clear that each one of us is obligated to search for the truth and to abide by it. I am appalled at the number of people who completely ignore these dire warnings from the Bible, or are ignorant of the fact that they are there. Many non-Catholics repeat outright lies about the Catholic Church and take what they have heard or have been taught as truth, without bothering to find out if these things are true or not. When they do this, not only are they calumnizing the Catholic Church, but they are calumnizing its founder, Jesus Christ Himself. After reading this file, not one person can ever again plead innocence of what Scripture has to say about spreading the truth, and about not spreading malicious lies.

---

Anyone who professes to follow Holy Scripture to the letter, must follow ALL of what it says. They cannot keep the parts they like and reject what they do not like. Here are some verses which obligate each and every one of us to search for the truth...

---

"This is good and agreeable in the sight of GOD our Savior, who wishes ALL MEN TO BE SAVED AND TO COME TO THE KNOWLEDGE OF THE TRUTH."

1Tim 2:4

---

"Sanctify them in the truth. Thy Word is truth."

"FOR THE WRATH OF GOD IS REVEALED FROM HEAVEN AGAINST ALL UNGODLINESS AND WICKEDNESS OF THOSE MEN WHO IN WICKEDNESS HOLD BACK THE TRUTH OF GOD."

ROMANS 1:18

That verse by itself should deter any GOD loving person from spreading malicious lies... But there is much more to come. Read on...

"BUT WRATH AND INDIGNATION TO THOSE WHO ARE CONTENTIOUS, AND WHO DO NOT SUBMIT TO THE TRUTH BUT ASSENT TO INIQUITY."

---

"...HE WAS A MURDERER FROM THE BEGINNING, AND HAS NOT STOOD IN THE TRUTH BECAUSE THERE IS NO TRUTH IN HIM. WHEN HE TELLS A LIE HE SPEAKS FROM HIS VERY NATURE, FOR HE IS A LIAR AND THE FATHER OF LIES."

JOHN 8:44

Now that verse settles it. Lying comes from Satan. The truth comes from GOD.

---

"BUT AS FOR THE COWARDLY AND UNBELIEVING, AND ABOMINABLE AND MURDERERS, AND FORNICATORS AND SORCERERS, AND IDOLATERS AND ALL LIARS, THEIR PORTION SHALL BE IN THE POOL THAT BURNS WITH FIRE AND BRIMSTONE, WHICH IS THE SECOND DEATH."

REV 21:8

Pretty strong words for those who propagate lies.

"...AND THERE SHALL NOT ENTER INTO IT ANYTHING DEFILED, NOR HE WHO PRACTICES ABOMINATION AND FALSEHOOD, BUT THOSE ONLY WHO ARE WRITTEN IN THE BOOK OF LIFE OF THE LAMB."

REV 21:27

Let all who have eyes to see, see, and ears to hear, hear.

---

"OUTSIDE ARE THE DOGS, AND THE SORCERERS, AND THE FORNICATORS, AND THE MURDERERS, AND THE IDOLATERS, AND EVERYONE WHO LOVES AND PRACTICES FALSEHOOD."

Rev 22:15

Verse after verse about what will happen to liars.

"Lying lips are an abomination to the Lord." Prov 12:22

---

"A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaks lies shall not escape." Prov 19:5

---

"The lip of truth shall be steadfast forever; but he that is a hasty witness frames a lying tongue." Prov 12:19

---

"He that speaks that which he knows, shows forth justice; but he that lies, is a deceitful witness." Prov 12:17

"Six things there are, which the Lord hateth, and the seventh His soul detesteth: haughty eyes, A LYING TONGUE, hands that shed innocent blood, a heart that deviseth wicked plots, feet that are swift to run into mischief, A DECEITFUL WITNESS THAT UTTERETH LIES, AND HIM THAT SOWETH DISCORD AMONG BRETHREN."

Prov 6:16-19

Wow! Who wants to be on the wrong side of GOD? Those who spread lies are there already.

---

"I speak the truth in Christ, I do not lie, my conscience bearing me witness in the Holy Spirit." Romans 9:1

---

"To this I have been appointed a preacher and an Apostle (I tell the truth, I do not lie), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth."

---

"Rather we are to practice the truth in love, and so grow up in all things in Him who is the head Christ."

Eph 4:15

"Wherefore, put away lying and speak truth each one with his neighbor, because we are members of one another."

---

"O men, how long are you dull of heart? Why do you love vanity and seek after lying?"

Psa 4:3

"But if you have bitter jealousy and contentions in your hearts, do not glory and be liars against the truth. This is not the wisdom that descends from above. It is earthly, sensual, devilish. For where there is envy and contentiousness, there is instability and every wicked deed."

James 3:14-16

Again! Lies are from Satan. Truth is from GOD.

---

"Now this is the judgment: The Light has come into the world, yet men have loved the darkness rather than the Light, for their works were evil. For everyone who does evil hates the Light, and does not come to the Light, that his deeds may not be exposed. But he who does the truth comes to the Light that his deeds may be made manifest, for they have been performed in GOD."

John 3:19-21

Again! Verse after verse, truth comes from GOD.

---

"And his coming is according to the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders, and with all wicked deception to those who are perishing. For they have not received the love of truth that they might be saved. Therefore GOD sends them a misleading influence that they may believe falsehood, that all may be judged who have not believed the truth, but have preferred wickedness."

2Thess 2:9-12

Again! Need I say more?

---

"Therefore GOD has given them up in the lustful desires of their heart to uncleanness, so that they dishonor their own bodies among themselves - they who exchanged the truth of GOD for a lie, and worshipped and served the creature rather than the Creator who is Blessed forever. Amen."

Romans 1:24-25

Amen!

---

"What can be made clean by the unclean? And what truth can come from that which is false?"

Sir 34:4

"But that servant who knew his masters will, and did not make ready for him and did not act according to his will, will be beaten with many stripes."

Luke 12:47

"For the rest, brethren, whatever things are true, whatever honorable, whatever just, whatever holy, whatever lovable, whatever of good repute, if there be any virtue, if anything worthy of praise, think upon these things. And what you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, these things practice..."

Phil 4:8-9

"O Lord, thy eyes are upon truth; thou hast struck them, and they have not grieved; thou hast bruised them, and they have refused to receive correction; they have made their faces harder than the rock, and they have refused to return."

Jer 5:3

"...No lie is of the truth."

---

"Woe to you that call evil good and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter."

Isaiah 5:20

---

"These then are the things, which you shall do: Speak you truth everyone to his neighbor: judge you truth and judgment of peace in your gates. And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his friend, and love not a false oath, for all these things I hate, said the Lord."

Zech 8:16-17

"...Everyone that hath zeal for the law, and maintaineth the testament, let him follow me."

1Macc 2:27

"Let thy speech be sound and blameless, so that anyone opposing may be put to shame, having nothing bad to say of us."

Tit 2:8

"Keep yourselves therefore from murmuring, which profiteth nothing, and refrain your tongue from detraction; for an obscure speech shall not go for naught, and the mouth that believeth, KILLETH THE SOUL."

Wis 1:11

"Honor and glory is in the word of the wise, but the tongue of the fool is his ruin."

"Ever learning yet never attaining knowledge of the truth."

"For there will come a time when they will not endure the sound doctrine; but having itching ears, will heap up to themselves teachers according to their own lusts, and they will turn away their hearing from the truth and turn aside rather to fables."

---

"Now the Spirit expressly says that in after times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceitful spirits and doctrines of devils, speaking lies hypocritically, and having their conscience branded."

1Tim 4:1-2

---

"But these men, like irrational animals created by nature for capture and destruction, deride what they do not understand, and WILL PERISH IN THEIR OWN CORRUPTION."

2Pet 2:12

There is a mouthful of food for thought in this verse, people who deride, since they do not understand because they have not sought the truth. Look at their end result.

---

"In these epistles there are certain things difficult to understand, which the unlearned and the unstable distort, just as they do the rest of the Scriptures also, to their own destruction."

"Blessed are you when men reproach you, and persecute you, and speaking falsely, say all manner of evil against you, for My sake. Rejoice and exult, because your reward is great in Heaven; for so did they persecute the prophets who were before you."

Matt 5:11-12

---

"But all did not obey the Gospel. For Isaiah says, Lord, who has believed our report?"

Romans 10:16

---

"He who says that he is in the Light, and hates his brother, is in the darkness still. He who loves his brother abides in the Light, and for him there is no stumbling. But he who hates his brother is in the darkness, and walks in the darkness, and he does not know whither he goes; because the darkness has blinded his eyes."

1John 2:9-11

"Therefore let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall."

1Cor 10:12

And who can possibly forget one of the ten commandments...

"You shall NOT bear FALSE WITNESS against your neighbor."

Ex 20:16

There you have it. Words straight from the Bible. Do you claim to follow the Bible and all of its teachings? If so, you had better not spread lies and calumnize others. Make sure of what you speak is truth only, and not some false teaching you received from a secondary source. If you want to find the truth about something you have to go to the source and not to someone outside of that source who may be biased. If you want to learn the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches, then go to the source. Purchase a Catholic Catechism, or Google "Catechism search" for an online Catechism search engine, for which there are many.

A few reasons why some people would rather not search for the truth...

They have a closed mind.

They are afraid of what they may find.

They have a fear of the unknown.

They are set in their ways and fear change.

Their pride is greater than their desire for the truth. It is human nature, not to want to admit to a mistake.

They have a habit of automatically condemning something of which they know nothing.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen once said, "Not many men want to die to their lower selves; it costs so much. Some prefer to have a cosmic religion, which NEITHER PUTS RESTRAINT ON THEIR PRIDE NOR CURBS THEIR PASSIONS."

They would not consider learning the truth of the Catholic Church because they would have to give up some part of their lifestyle, such as using contraceptive measures.

I have heard of several non-Catholics who would have to give up their livelihood, as they are ministers, or gain their livelihood from Church services.

Family and peer pressures prevent them from seeking the truth. Remember, GOD comes first in the lives of all of us. Ex 20:2-3

One highly educated non-Catholic minister stated that he became Catholic after realizing five things about the Catholic Church: Its Authority, its Antiquity, its Unity, its Liturgy, and its Sacraments.

Now that I have shown you what Scripture says that you must do,
I will leave you with your conscience. You have to make the decision.

A man may blaspheme against the Son of Man and be forgiven; but the sin against the Spirit of Truth -- what can God Himself do with or for the man who will not acknowledge the truth he knows, or follow the light he sees?
... Alexander Miller, The Renewal of Man

The person who spreads lies risks losing his or her soul.
"If I had two souls, I could risk one, but since I have only one, I must save it."
Saint Thomas More...

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."
Cardinal Ratzinger, October 9, 2000

However,

He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death.

"You, therefore, must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect."

Matthew 5:48

"...your heavenly Father is perfect", is what the second part of that verse has told us, but then we all knew that already.

GOD is perfect because He is without defect, spot, or blemish.

He is without error.

As hard as that verse sounds to us, we must strive to fulfill our obligation for the first part of it, simply because it is a command from Jesus Christ.

Therefore, we must be without error as well.

Jesus Christ also gave us this command, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself."

Matthew 22:39

What exactly does that mean? It means that we must wish the best for our neighbor and have hope for his salvation.

It means that we must strive to help him to be perfect.

It means it is our responsibility to alert him when he is in error.

It is also our responsibility to heed an admonition from another when we are in error.

If any of us fails to expose error when we see it, then we are held responsible for the punishment that the person in error receives.

Holy Scripture gives us several guidelines for what we are obligated to do when we see error.

If a Prophet from GOD gives us a warning in regard to error once, then we certainly should pay attention to it.

And one certainly did:

Ezekiel 3:18-19, "Suppose I tell you that wicked people will surely die, but you don't warn them or speak out so that they can change their wicked ways in order to save their lives. Then these wicked people will die because of their sin, but I will hold you responsible for their deaths. But suppose you warn the wicked people, and they don't turn from their wicked ways. Then they will die because of their sin, but you will save yourself."

However, if that same Prophet from GOD gave a similar warning a second time, then he has added emphasis for the importance of his message and so we must take it very seriously.

And thus did Ezekiel issue his message for a second time:

Ezekiel 3:20-21, "If righteous people turn from living the right way and do wrong, I will make them stumble, and they will die. If you don't warn them, they will die because of their sin, and the right things they did will not be remembered. I will hold you responsible for their deaths. But if you warn righteous people not to sin, and they don't sin, they will certainly live because they listened to the warning. You will save yourself."

But what if that very same Prophet from GOD repeated that same warning yet a third time???

Ouch!

Surely it has become a dire warning indeed, one that simply cannot be ignored:

Ezekiel 33:8-9, "Suppose I say to a wicked person, 'You wicked person, you will certainly die,' and you say nothing to warn him to change his ways. That wicked person will die because of his sin, and I will hold you responsible for his death. But if you warn a wicked person to turn from his ways and he doesn't turn from them, then he will die because of his sin. However, you will save yourself."

As you can readily see we are obligated to speak up and to challenge those who are in error. If we see someone about to fall into the pit, then we must warn them before they do so. If we fail to warn them, then we too will fall into the pit with them, since by our failure to act we have assumed their error as well.

Matthew 15:14, "Let them alone; they are blind guides. And if a blind man leads a blind man, both will fall into a pit."

Proverbs 12:28, "In the path of righteousness is life, but the way of error leads to death."

2Peter 3:15-17, "So also our beloved brother Paul wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, speaking of this as he does in all his letters. There are some things in them hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other scriptures. You therefore, beloved, knowing this beforehand, beware lest you be carried away with the error of lawless men and lose your own stability."

1John 4:6, "We are of God. Whoever knows God listens to us, and he who is not of God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error."

Ephesians 5:11, "Take no part in the fruits of darkness, but instead expose them."

Ephesians 5:13, "...but all the things that are exposed are made manifest by the light: for all that is made manifest is light."

Jude 1:10, "But these men revile whatever they do not understand, and by those things that they know by instinct as irrational animals do, they are destroyed. Woe to them! For they walk in the way of Cain, and abandon themselves for the sake of gain to Balaam's error, and perish in Korah's rebellion."

Romans 1:18, "For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of men who by their wickedness suppress the truth."

Romans 2:5-8, "But by your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed. For he will render to every man according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are factious and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury."

Psalms 95:10-11, "For forty years I loathed that generation and said, they are a people who err in heart, and they do not regard my ways. Therefore I swore in my anger that they should not enter my rest."

"If the people hear the horn and ignore the warning and the enemy comes and takes them, they will be responsible for their own deaths."

Ezekiel 33:4

---

See what your reward for exposing error will be. Notice how well these verses dovetail with those of Ezekiel:

" My brethren, if any one among you wanders from the truth and some one brings him back, let him know that whoever brings back a sinner from the error of his way will save his soul from death and will cover a multitude of sins."

James 5:19-20

---

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven."

Matthew 5:16

---

"Not to oppose error is to approve it; and not to defend truth is to suppress it".

Pope St. Felix III (483-492)

Your Personal Opinion May Have No Bearing Whatever On Doctrinal Truth...

Let us first look at some basic definitions using the Greek roots of words from which they came.

1. Philosophy: 'Philo' from the Greek root, 'Philos' means "the love of". 'Sophy' from the Greek means 'wisdom'.

So philosophy simply means the love of wisdom.

2. Orthodoxy: 'Ortho' from the Greek 'orthos' means straight, or correct. 'Doxa' means 'opinion'. So orthodoxy means a 'straight opinion', or in a simpler analogy, the truth.

3. Now if we combine the word 'philo' with the Greek root word 'doxa' we get the word 'philodoxy'. So as the great Greek philosopher Plato, proclaimed, the word 'philodoxy' was the opposite or antonym of the word philosophy.

4. To add to what we have learned from this simple lesson is that a philosopher is a lover of wisdom, whereas a philodoxer is a lover of opinion.

"Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you are not concerned with anyone's opinion. You do not regard a person's status but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth."

Mark 12:14 (NAB)

They sent their disciples to him, with the Herodians, saying, "Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. And you are not concerned with anyone's opinion, for you do not regard a person's status."

Matthew 22:16

They posed this question to him, "Teacher, we know that what you say and teach is correct, and you show no partiality, but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth."

Luke 20:21

Jesus did not accept the opinions of men, as shown in Matthew 16:13-17:

When Jesus went into the region of Caesarea Philippi he asked his disciples,

"Who do people say that the Son of Man is?"

They replied, "Some say John the Baptist, others Elijah, still others Jeremiah or one of the prophets."

He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?"

Simon Peter said in reply, "You are the Messiah, the Son of the living God."

Jesus said to him in reply, "Blessed are you, Simon son of Jonah. For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my heavenly Father."

See? His disciples mostly expressed personal opinions, which meant little to Jesus.

The one exception was Simon Peter, the only one who answered with doctrinal truth.

"And if you invoke as Father him who judges each one impartially according to his deeds, conduct yourselves with fear throughout the time of your exile."

1Pet 1:17

"In rendering judgment, do not consider who a person is; give ear to the lowly and to the great alike, fearing no man, for judgment is God's. Refer to me any case that is too hard for you and I will hear it."

Deut 1:17

"For the LORD, your God, is the God of gods, the LORD of lords, the great God, mighty and awesome, who has no favorites, accepts no bribes;"

Deut 10:17

"And now, let the fear of the LORD be upon you. Act carefully, for with the LORD, our God there is no injustice, no partiality, no bribe-taking."

2Chron 19:7

"There is no partiality with God."

Rom 2:11

"Masters, act in the same way toward them, and stop bullying, knowing that both they and you have a Master in heaven and that with him there is no partiality."

Eph 6:9

"For the wrongdoer will receive recompense for the wrong he committed, and there is no partiality."

Col 3:25

"My brothers, show no partiality as you adhere to the faith in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ."

Jam 2:1

There are three sides to every dispute, side A, side B, and the one side of truth. Everyone is entitled to their own opinion, but opinions are just that, and are not to be taken as a substitute or stand-in for doctrinal truth.

Then Peter proceeded to speak and said, "In truth, I see that God shows no partiality."

Acts 10:34

"What is Truth?"

John 18:38

There is only one truth, and that one truth is one person, the person of Jesus Christ.

In John 14:6, Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life".

Therefore, we have only one teacher, and one truth.

What does Holy Scripture tell us about speaking the truth?

"But the king said to him, "How many times shall I adjure you that you speak to me nothing but the truth in the name of the LORD?""

1King 22:16, 2Chron 18:15

"The LORD is near to all who call upon him, to all who call upon him in truth."

Psa 145:18

"He who speaks the truth gives honest evidence, but a false witness utters deceit."
Prov 12:17

"These are the things that you shall do: Speak the truth to one another, render in your gates judgments that are true and make for peace."
Zech 8:16

"God is spirit, and those who worship him must worship in spirit and truth."
John 4:24

"You are of your father the devil, and your will is to do your father's desires. He was a murderer from the beginning, and has nothing to do with the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks according to his own nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies."
John 8:44

"And I will pray the Father, and He will give you another Counselor, to be with you forever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you."
John 14:16-17

"Sanctify them in the truth; thy word is truth."
John 17:17

That verse is interesting because with it we can refer to another verse which defined the Word:
John 1:1 "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of men who by their wickedness suppress the truth."
Rom 1:18

"They exchanged the truth about God for a lie and worshiped and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever! Amen."
Rom 1:25

"...but for those who are factious (opinionated maybe?) and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury."
Rom 2:8

"We have renounced disgraceful, underhanded ways; we refuse to practice cunning or to tamper with God's word, but by the open statement of the truth we would commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God."
2Cor 4:2

"For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth."
2Cor 13:8

"Have I then become your enemy by telling you the truth?"
Gal 4:16

"You search the scriptures, because you think you have eternal life through them; even they testify on my behalf.

But you do not want to come to me to have life. I do not accept human praise; moreover, I know that you do not have the love of God in you. I came in the name of my Father, but you do not accept me; yet if another comes in his own name, you will accept him. How can you believe, when you accept praise from one another and do not seek the praise that comes from the only God?"

John 5:39-44

"In giving this instruction, I do not praise the fact that your meetings are doing more harm than good.

First of all, I hear that when you meet as a church there are divisions among you (the end result of differing opinions), and to a degree I believe it; there have to be factions among you in order that those who are approved (those who have the truth) among you may become known. When you meet in one place, then, it is not to eat the Lord's supper, for in eating, each one goes ahead with his own supper, and one goes hungry while another gets drunk. Do you not have houses in which you can eat and drink? Or do you show contempt for the church (note a singular Church) of God and make those who have nothing feel ashamed? What can I say to you? Shall I praise you? In this matter I do not praise you."

1Cor 11: 17-22

"They hate him who reproveth in the gate, and they abhor him who speaks the truth."

Amos 5:10

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness."

2Thess 2:9-12

"This is good, and it is acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth."

1Tim 2:3-4

"If I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth."

1Tim 3:15

"If any one teaches otherwise and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching which accords with godliness, he is puffed up with conceit, he knows nothing; he has a morbid craving for controversy and for disputes about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, base suspicions, and wrangling among men who are depraved in mind and bereft of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. There is great gain in godliness with contentment;"

1Tim 6:3-6

"But you must remember, beloved, the predictions of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ; they said to you, "In the last time there will be scoffers, following their own ungodly passions." It is these who set up divisions, worldly people, devoid of the Spirit. But you, beloved, remember the words spoken beforehand by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, for they told you, "In (the) last time there will be scoffers who will live according to their own godless desires." These are the ones who cause divisions; they live on the natural plane, devoid of the Spirit."

Jude 1:17-19

Why are there so many differences of opinion among those who read the same verses?

One reason is because each person has a built in filtering system. What we hear enters the ear, and what we read enters the eye, and both are filtered by the brain and stored. Since each person is a unique human being, these filtering systems can vary from person to person. What one interprets after it is filtered can be different from what another interprets, thus a difference of opinion results. Let us take a look at some typical verses as examples of opinionated filtering systems:

1. "All have sinned", Rom 3:23

A. The fundamentalist would take this verse literally as he reads his English translation of the bible. He would say by the use of the word "all", it surely means just that, everyone who has ever lived has sinned. There is no doubt about it.

B. Another person, knowing that this verse was not written in English, but in Greek, might question the English translation for using the word "all" from the Greek word "pas*". His filter system has brought him to the conclusion that it could not mean everyone, but "a great many". After all, he reasons, did Jesus sin? Have babies sinned? Can a comatose person sin? He has come to the conclusion that since he has found three exceptions to the word "all", might there not be more? So, have all really sinned?

Which one has the correct opinion if either? In this example it is seen that where there is a translation from one language to another, there could be variations in the meaning of the verse.

*The Greek word Pas, indeed can mean 'a great many', or 'any'.

2. "So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you;" John 6:53

A. The fundamentalist, who takes almost the whole Bible literally, would drop the literal translation of that verse in favor of an opinionated symbolic translation. He uses eisegesis which means, reading into a text something that simply is not there. In no way did Jesus say that he was speaking symbolically.

B. The other person, knowing that it was said by "truth" Himself would take the verse literally. Jesus said it, therefore it has to be true.

So, which interpretation of that verse is the true interpretation? The fundamentalist would say that Scripture is clear and is easily interpreted.

Well if Scripture is so clear, then why are there so many differences of opinion as to its interpretation? And not only that, but why does Scripture itself say that it is not clear?

"So also our beloved brother Paul wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, speaking of this as he does in all his letters. There are some things in them hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other scriptures."

In this little exercise with the examples presented, you can readily see how personal opinions can make accurate study of Holy Scripture problematic, and can be the root cause of division.

So what is the answer regarding personal opinions? How can we determine which one has doctrinal truth, and which one is merely expressing a misguided personal opinion? We can be sure by having only one authority, bestowed by GOD, to separate what is truth from what is error. Read Matthew 16:13-17 again, for the perfect Biblical example of personal opinions of men versus doctrinal truth given by GOD to the one and only Simon Peter.

"What is truth comes from GOD. What is false comes from man."
Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not rely on your own understanding."
Proverbs 3:5

"A fool takes no pleasure in understanding, but only in expressing his opinion."
Proverbs 18:2

The Wolves in Sheep's Clothing...

---

Sheep's Clothing (Development of Doctrine):

This article received June 28, 1997.

It was God Himself, Our Lord, Jesus Christ, who warns us at the 'Sermon on the Mount' - "Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly are ravening wolves." (Matt. 7:15) These words echo across the centuries to us Catholics at the present day, who are just as much, and even more, in need of such a warning. What should motivate us to heed this warning most carefully in our daily lives? Because the purity and integrity of the Faith is a serious matter. A person's Faith can easily be corrupted.

The Baltimore Catechism states that:

"A person who denies even one article of our faith could not be a Catholic; for truth is one and we must accept it whole and entire or not at all." This merely repeats the teaching of Our Lord as written by St. James: "whosoever shall keep the whole law, but offend in one point, is become guilty of all." (St. James 2:10)

St. Thomas Aquinas concurs: "To reject but one article of faith taught by the Church is enough to destroy faith as one mortal sin is enough to destroy charity..."

Pope Leo XIII, in his encyclical "Satis Cognitum", teaches this in so many words: "Nothing is more dangerous than the heretics who, while conserving almost all the remainder of the Church's teaching intact, corrupt with a single word, like a drop of poison, the purity and the simplicity of the faith which we have received through tradition from God and through the Apostles." Not only should we heed Our Lord's warning because of how EASILY a person's Faith can be corrupted, but we should find motivation in the fact that the danger is more prevalent today than it was at the turn of the century, 87 years ago, when St. Pope Pius X felt it necessary to write:

"The partisans of error are to be sought not only among the Church's open enemies; but....in her very bosom, and are the more mischievous the less they keep in the open." "The Church has no greater enemies. For they put into operation their designs for her undoing, not from without but from within. Hence, the danger is present almost in the very veins and heart of the Church, whose injury is the more certain from the very fact that their knowledge of her is more intimate." "They seize upon professorships in the seminaries and universities, and gradually make of them chairs of pestilence." Certainly we don't expect to find men dressed in sheepskin. No. What we are told to "beware" of is that which on the surface sounds pleasing to the ear; that which seems "positive" or "beneficial" at first glance. But behind it all is a subtle error that destroys Faith. What is one of the best ways that an error against the Faith can be taught to a Catholic and have him easily accept it as true even if at first they question the novelty of it? The way it was done at the turn of the century was to say that "doctrine evolves", or that "truth evolves with man". Today however, being that evolution is not generally looked upon favorably by Catholics, they will instead say that you must realize that there is "doctrinal development" - this is the "sheep's clothing" of which Our Lord speaks.

What better way to have false doctrines accepted by the faithful than to claim that the doctrine only "seems different" because they are the truths of old which have "developed" and progressed, or advanced! This is one of the most insidious and treacherous methods of corrupting the faith of a Catholic. The word "development" sounds beneficial or very "theological" to the ear, and may very well catch people off-guard. It is a very general term that has more than one meaning: beware of ambiguous wording. The term must be properly understood.

When an oak tree grows, it matures and develops as anything in nature. The oak tree has in perfection what the acorn had in germ. The acorn does not later become an apple tree. When it comes to the supernatural truths of Divine Revelation we see that this is true. The Church cannot at one time condemn something as a sin or error and later teach that it is true or a virtue.

Let us look at a young boy who lived generations ago, say, Michael Ghislieri. At age 10 the boy learns his catechism, receives the sacraments and professes his Faith. He is a Catholic pure and simple, and knows the truths of his faith. As he matures, so does his faith and understanding of the truths, which he always knows are true. Later in life he studies philosophy and theology and becomes a theologian. He is still just as much of a Catholic as he was when he was 10 but now instead of simply KNOWING things to be true, he now knows the WHYS and HOWS of these truths. He has attained a BETTER understanding as he grew. This is nothing less than a "development of doctrine" in its TRUE SENSE. At age 10 he was Catholic with a GOOD understanding of the Truths of the Faith. As an elderly theologian he believes and professes the very SAME doctrines with the SAME MEANINGS but with a BETTER understanding.

(We now know Michael Ghislieri as St. Pope Pius V.)

The Church was given the Truths of the Faith from Our Lord. The Church teaches that Revelation ended at the death of the last Apostle. This "Deposit of Faith" has been preserved and taught infallibly from the beginning. When the Church was young, Christians had a GOOD understanding of the Faith. As the Church grew we developed a BETTER understanding of what was contained in that sacred deposit. A Catholic in the year A.D.94 is just as much a Catholic as an orthodox theologian of the 20th century, believing the same doctrines - nothing to the contrary. Truth is immutable. What was once condemned by the Church in the past cannot be later approved in principle, nor can what was once declared as true and good by the Church, later become false and sinful. A true development of doctrine "increases" the understanding of the fine points and its relation to other truths. Never can a BETTER understanding mean that what was previously understood was defective. It was understood in less detail, but was NOT an error, or anything to the contrary. A theologian believes the same truths as the school-boy, only he knows them in better detail. This fuller detail cannot be contrary to what the school-boy knows.

So, we see Our Lord warns us of men who would seek to corrupt our Faith. Such men today quite often wear this sheep's clothing of "doctrinal development" to fool unwary Catholics into believing different doctrines than were previously taught by the Church. The sheep's clothing which is just as treacherous and insidious is that of "ecclesiastical position". The Church has had to deal with such heretics in the past, and has dealt with them severely. Heretics who hold high office in the Church can easily fool the average Catholic simply by standing on his office of dignity (as we see in the quote above by St. Pope Pius X). History shows that this has wreaked havoc on the Church. Bishop Arius is a good example. The Arian heresy caused about 80% of the clergy in the east to fall away from the Faith. And many went along, not because they understood that one heresy, but because they simply followed their clergy into it.

St. Paul seemed to warn us of different doctrine when it comes from a source with a special office or dignity: "...there are some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ. But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach a gospel to you besides that which we have preached to you, let him be anathema. As we said: If any one preach to you a gospel, besides that which you have received, let him be anathema." (Gal. 1:7-9) St. Paul gives us a principle to remember: "brethren, stand fast; and hold the traditions which you have learned, whether by word, or by our epistle." (2 Thess. 2:14) Immutable truth is found in tradition. Many people today recognize the heresies that are infesting the Church and are trying to heed St. Paul's words.

An ordinary Catholic not long ago mentioned the disturbing fact that his parish priest in Pennsylvania was telling his flock that baptism wasn't necessary! Had this happened hundreds of years ago, even with the then slow communication and transportation, he would today be as infamous a heretic as a Zwingli, Donatus or Calvin! Today, however, this priest casually goes his way of destroying souls.

---

Many Catholics today have to be extra vigilant because these heretics are not being condemned, and can be found in many parishes. Some of these vigilant Catholics call themselves "traditional Catholics" to distinguish themselves from those who are not standing fast to the traditions. The term, however, is a redundant one: Catholicism, as we have seen, is essentially traditional. Calling a Catholic "traditional" is like calling a circle "round", or saying "a three-sided triangle". But the term today seems to take on a certain necessity of use in order to counteract those who have broken with tradition but still call themselves "Catholic". Unfortunately, there are several different flavors of these "traditionalists", but regardless of our feelings toward them, we must be aware NOT to let our feelings lessen the love we should all have for tradition, which is the touchstone of Catholicism. No one is above tradition.

We read the strong words of St. Paul - "though we, or an angel from heaven". These are words which include the warning that the office even of a Pope, could be used to spread heresy. Of course, in such a case, there would be an "anti-pope" and not a real one. So effective is the Sheep's Clothing of "ecclesiastical office" in promoting error that St. Bernard, Cardinal Newman, and others, logically believed that the only way the Anti-Christ could possibly be so effective in creating a "great apostasy" among Catholics is by becoming an "anti-pope" whom the Catholic world at large would think is a valid Pope. (see article ANTICHRIST in "Catholic Encyclopedia")

So we see:

- 1) How easily one can fall into error and cease to be Catholic.
  - 2) How prevalent error is today.
  - 3) How serious adherence to tradition is.
  - 4) The True meaning of Doctrinal Development.
  - 5) The Sheep's clothing of both "ecclesiastical office" and "evolution of truth". The principle at the heart of this all: Catholic Truth is immutable. It has not, cannot, and will not change. It would be well to read quotes from the Church declaring this crucially important truth.

The Solemn oath taken before God and imposed on all priests from 1910 to 1968 is very clear on the meaning of immutable truth: "I accept sincerely the doctrine of faith transmitted from the apostles through the orthodox fathers, always in the same sense and interpretation, even to us; and so I reject the heretical invention of the evolution of dogmas, passing from one meaning to another, different from that which the Church first had;....the absolute and immutable truth preached by the apostles from the beginning may never be believed otherwise, may never be understood otherwise.....So I promise, so I swear, so may God, etc."

---

"If anyone says: it may happen that to doctrines put forward by the Church, sometimes, as knowledge advances, a meaning should be given different from what the Church has understood and understands, let him be anathema." - Vatican Council (1870)

---

St. Pius X, who called "modernism" the "summation of all heresy", condemned the following: CONDEMNED "58. Truth is no more immutable than man himself, since it evolved with him, in him, and through him." "...the error of the modernists, who hold that dogmatic truth is not absolute but relative, that is, that it changes according to the varying necessities of time and place and the varying tendencies of the mind; that it is not contained in an immutable tradition, but can be altered to suit the needs of human life."

Baltimore Catechism:

Q. 546. Can the Church change its laws?

A. The Church can, when necessary, change the laws it has itself made, but it cannot change the laws that Christ has made. Neither can the Church change any doctrine of faith or morals.

Q. 568. Does the Church, by defining certain truths, thereby make new doctrines?

A. The Church, by defining, that is, by proclaiming certain truths, articles of faith, does not make new doctrines, but simply teaches more clearly and with greater effort truths that have always been believed and held by the Church.

Let Him be Anathema.

Galatians 1:8-9

Anathema:

1Corinthians 16:22 "If anyone does not love the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema."

Anathema...

the meaning of...

'Let him be cursed, excluded from the kingdom of GOD. To be banned or excommunicated'.

---

*Have you ever seen two Bible verses, back to back, which say essentially the same thing?
No? Well, here is a pair of them...*

*Galatians 1:8, "But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a Gospel to you other than that which we have preached to you,
let him be Anathema."*

---

*Galatians 1:9, "As we have said before, so now I say again: If anyone preach a Gospel to you other than that which you have received,
let him be Anathema."*

*Now, why do you suppose St. Paul repeated himself in Galatians 1:8-9?
Why does anyone purposely repeat him or herself, except to drive home a very important point?
We humans are usually good at hearing, but are sometimes poor at listening.
St. Paul stressed the very important point, that if you do not preach the truth, you have separated yourself from the kingdom of GOD.*

"Have I Then Become Your Enemy Because I Tell You the Truth?"

Galatians 4:16

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."

Cardinal Ratzinger, October 9, 2000

"The New Testament is hidden in the Old, and the Old Testament is revealed in the New."

Saint Augustine

The Bible is many books, yet it is one book. It is many stories, yet it is one story. It is the story of GOD's Salvation History of man. Using typology, a very useful tool for Biblical exegesis, so many prefigurations, or symbols, in the Old Testament are found to point to New Testament realities. Strict rules must be followed, and one is that the Old Testament prefiguration is always inferior to the New Testament reality. Another rule is that, never does an Old Testament symbol point to another symbol in the New Testament, but always to a much greater reality.

Psalms 127:1 the prefiguration,

"Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain. Unless the Lord watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain."

There is only one Church of GOD. All the rest were built by man.

All churches on earth, save one, are negated by this verse. So it would seem that unless you can prove that Jesus Christ founded your church, you have labored in vain.

1Timothy 3:15 the reality,

"If I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth."

The house referred to in Psalms 127:1 is explained here. Notice the word used in this verse is 'church' not 'churches'. Also note that the Bible says it is the Church which is the pillar and foundation of the truth. Non-Catholics appear to ignore this verse, as when I ask them, their answer to me is, "It is the Bible which is the pillar and foundation of truth".

Now the big question most pressing is, which church is it?

Never fear for the Bible tells us which Church it is if we follow it and believe the Word of GOD.

Matthew 16:18-19,

"And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Jesus Christ founded a Church. Notice that He did say "church", (singular) and not churches. The gates of hell not prevailing, is a promise that His Church will be protected by Himself from within, and from without for all eternity. For those who insist that the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, then they have really said that the gates of hell did prevail against it, and therefore they have called Him a liar for His promise here.

Matthew 28:18-20,

"All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age."

This is the promise of Jesus Christ to be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, and with no 1500 year gaps, not even one day. For those who say the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, have called Him a liar again for His promise here.

John 14:16-17,

"And I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him. But you shall know Him, because He will dwell with you, and be in you."

Here is the promise that the Holy Spirit will be with the only Church which Jesus Christ founded forever. For those who say the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, have called Him a liar yet again for His promise here.

John 16:12-13, and John 14:26

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

Notice the future tense He "will" guide and "will declare things that are to come".

For those who say the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, have called Him a liar still yet again for His promise here.

Ephesians 3:20-21,

"Now to him who by the power at work within us is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, for ever and ever."

Here is yet another promise from Holy Scripture that the Church which Jesus Christ founded will last forever. For those who say the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, they are being judgmental of the Holy Word of GOD, and thus judgmental of GOD Himself as well.

1John 5:10,

"He who does not believe the Son makes Him a liar; because he does not believe the witness that GOD has borne concerning the Son."

If you do not believe the verses of the promises of Jesus Christ and of Saint Paul as listed above, then you have called both of them a liar.

Ephesians 5:23

"Wives should be subordinate to their husbands as to the Lord. For the husband is head of his wife just as Christ is head of the church, he himself the savior of the body."

Since the Church which Jesus Christ founded is His Body (Ephesians 1:22-23), then He is the Savior of His Body. That is why the only Church which He founded is still here after 2000 years of incessant attacks, both from within and from without.

Acts 5:38-39,

"So in the present case I tell you, keep away from these men and let them alone; for if this plan or this undertaking is of men, it will fail; but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might even be found opposing God!"

Here is yet another reason why the only Church which Jesus Christ founded is still with us after 2000 years of constant attacks. Aren't they who do not believe His word, "opposing GOD", as I have shown here?

Those who attack the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, should realize that when they attack it, they attack Jesus Christ Himself. It is just as shown in Acts 9:4, when Jesus Christ said to Saul, who had been persecuting his Church, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?"

If you will read chapters 7 and 8 of Acts, you will find that Saul was mercilessly persecuting the fledgling Christian Church, committing Christians to prison, and even murdering Saint Stephen (Acts 7:58-59). Why didn't Jesus Christ say, "Why are you persecuting My Church" instead?

So the big question to ask is, which Church is it?

There are literally tens of thousands* of different sects in the world today from which to choose. To eliminate all of the sects and to find the true Church, why don't you simply test for it?

*World Christian Encyclopedia, April 2003, a Protestant publication.

Here is the common sense, historical, and "what Holy Scripture tells us, or doesn't tell us" test:

1. Holy Scripture tells us that it had to have been founded by GOD.

"Unless the LORD builds the house, those who build it labor in vain. Unless the LORD watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain." Psalms 127:1

"And I tell you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matthew 16:18

2. Holy Scripture tells us that there is only one church, Psalms 127:1, Ephesians 1:22-23, 4:3-6.

3. Common sense tells us that it must still be here today, as it was His promise to be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, as shown in Matthew 28:20.

4. Common sense tells us, it has to be able to provide genuine historical documents attesting to its existence and continuity in every century for the past 20 centuries.

Why is it that so many refuse to even read these documents or deny that they even exist?

Are they afraid of what they might find?

"To be deep in history is to cease to be Protestant", said by John Henry Newman, ex Protestant.

Those who refuse to profit from the errors of history are doomed to repeat them again!

5. Common sense tells us, it has to be able to show an unbroken line of hierarchal leadership for the past 20 centuries. Only one Church can show this.

6. Common sense tells us, it has to be able to find its image in Holy Scripture.

7. Holy Scripture tells us that the Holy Spirit will be with His Church forever, John 14:16-17.

8. Scripture tells us that the Holy Spirit will teach His Church all truth over time, John 16:12-13.

9. Common sense and Holy Scripture tell us that the Holy Spirit could not be teaching and guiding any church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded. This is simply because truth is one and those sects not founded by the Lord all have opposing viewpoints between one another. Except for the existence of GOD, every doctrine taught by one, is denied by another. Their teaching is based solely upon personal opinions, which have no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

GOD does not care about man's personal opinions, but only for doctrinal truth:

"They came and said to him, "Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you are not concerned with anyone's opinion. You do not regard a person's status but teach the way of GOD in accordance with the truth.""

Mark 12:14, Matthew 22:16

Saint Peter emphasized the rejection of personal opinion when he answered the high priest with, "We must obey God rather than men."

Acts 5:29

The facts speak for themselves, leaving no room for opposing personal opinions:

"I appeal to you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no dissensions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment."

1Corinthians 1:10

How can tens of thousands of individual sects with millions of members, fail to understand that very clear and simple verse?

Here is another one on the same theme, also ignored by so many:

"So if there is any encouragement in Christ, any incentive of love, any participation in the Spirit, any affection and sympathy, complete my joy by being of the same mind, having the same love, being in full accord and of one mind."

Philippians 2:1-2. See Philippians 1:27 also.

It stands to reason that if all of those various sects taught the same thing, then there would be only one church, just as Holy Scripture demands.

"And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice. So there shall be one flock, one shepherd"

John 10:16

"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you."

John 14:16-17. See also Acts 20:28.

What does whom the world cannot receive mean? To whom did Jesus speak these words? It is clear that the Holy Spirit is guiding the one Church which Jesus Christ founded.

10. Holy Scripture tells us that there will be factions within the one Church of GOD.

"For, in the first place, when you assemble as a church, I hear that there are divisions among you; and I partly believe it, for there must be factions among you in order that those who are genuine among you may be recognized."

1Corinthians 11:18-19

The fact that factions (sects) are present, causes those with the light of truth to shine forth apart from those who are in error. Those who are of the one Church which Jesus Christ founded have that light of truth.

11. Holy Scripture tells us that the only Church which Jesus Christ founded will be subject to Christ and to Him alone. Scripture does not say His Church is subject to man. That makes it a theocracy governed by a hierarchy. The rule comes from the top down and not from the bottom up as in a democracy. How many sects are controlled by the collective will of the people? In the Church which

Jesus Christ founded, if 99% of the people wanted something changed, it would not, and could not be changed unless it was by the will of GOD.

Acts 5:29, Ephesians 5:24-25, 29, Colossians 1:18

12. Scripture tells us that His Church will last forever, Ephesians 3:21, and Matthew 28:20. Why then do some say it apostatized at some time or another, and yet they cannot state the time, nor the place, nor provide any authentic documented "proof" of this so-called apostasy?

13. Holy Scripture tells us that it is the Church and not the Bible which is the pillar and foundation of truth. 1Timothy 3:15. See Ephesians 3:10 also. Why then do some say it is the Bible and not the Church? Where does it say that in Scripture?

14. Holy Scripture tells us that Christ's Church was given the commission of guarding that truth, "...guard the truth that has been entrusted to you by the Holy Spirit who dwells within us." 2Timothy 1:14
Did the truth go unguarded for 1500 years until Martin Luther came along?

15. Holy Scripture tells us that Apostolic tradition will be handed down from generation to generation. 2Thessalonians 2:15

16. Holy Scripture tells us that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is the final authority on earth. Matthew 18:15-18

17. Holy Scripture tells us that the true Church will hold to no private interpretation of Holy Scripture. Acts 8:26-35, 2Peter 1:20-21

18. Holy Scripture tells us that the true Church must be found all over the world, Malachi 1:11, Matthew 28:19, Acts 1:8

19. Holy Scripture tells us that the true Church will offer sacrifice, a clean oblation, every day in every place, Malachi 1:11. A clean oblation could not possibly mean the bloody animal sacrifices of the Old Testament, but the Holy Eucharistic sacrifice as Jesus commanded when He said, "This is my body, which is being given for you; do this in remembrance of me", Luke 22:19. Which of the tens of thousands of sects offer sacrifice every day, or every week, or monthly, or quarterly, or yearly, or not at all? Scripture clearly says to offer a clean oblation every day. "Give us this day our daily bread."
Matthew 6:11
"I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh."
John 6:51

Which, if any, of the thousands of sects abide by these Words of GOD? The true Church which Jesus Christ founded does.

20. It is the Church which Jesus Christ founded that gave the world the Bible.

21. Common sense, history, and Holy Scripture, tell us that there are over 135 well-grounded facts which point to the one true Church which Jesus Christ founded, and to none other.

22. Where is the authority? Holy Scripture is silent when a person searches it for the verse which gives him or her the authority to found yet another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded. No one can simply hold up a Bible and say "This is my authority", if they cannot find the verse which authorizes them to make that statement. The lack of Biblical authority coupled with Psalms 127:1, negates every church on earth, save one, the only one founded by GOD.

Here is where Jesus gave authority to His one and only Church.

"He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."

Luke 10:16

"Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained.""

John 20:20-23, also see Matthew 16:18-19, 18:15-18, 28:18-20.

23. Holy Scripture tells us that the gates of hell will not prevail against it. However, heretics, from within and from without, of all sorts, have been trying to bring it down for almost 2000 years (Galatians 1:13, Philippians 3:6), and all have failed. None of them realized that the reason for their failure is because His Church is protected by Jesus Christ Himself, who is the Savior of His Body, Ephesians 5:23, Acts 5:38-39.

Now it is your turn to name the one church which fits all of the listed criteria perfectly. You know that it has to still be here, as it was His promise.

Those who do not believe what He has said have called Him a liar, 1John 5:10.

"He who believes in the Son has eternal life; he who does not obey the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God rests upon him."

John 3:36

Only one Church on earth fulfills all of the above conditions.

Of the over 33,820* non-Catholic sects in the world today, few can fulfill even one of them.

*World Christian Encyclopedia, April 2001, a Protestant publication.

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of those men who in their wickedness hold back the truth of GOD."

Romans 1:18

"For he will render to every man according to his works: to those who by patience in well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are factious and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury."

Romans 2:6-8

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who do not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. But we are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved, through sanctification by the spirit and belief in the truth."

2Thessalonians 2:9-13

"If anyone teaches otherwise and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching which accords with godliness, he is puffed up with conceit, he knows nothing; he has a morbid craving for controversy and for disputes about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, base suspicions, and wrangling among men who are depraved in mind and bereft of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain."

Faith...

---

For it is the Gift of GOD... Ephesians 2:8

---

"...Thy Faith Has Saved Thee." Matthew 9:22.

"Amen I say to you, I have not found such great faith in Israel." Matthew 8:10

---

Faith, the assent given to a truth:

"Behold, he that is unbelieving, his soul shall not be right within himself, but the just shall live in his faith." Habacuc 2:4, Romans 1:17, Hebrews 10:38.

---

Since GOD is Spirit, HE has no parts, no mass, no height, width, depth, weight, color, in other words, no measurable parameters, such as found in science. He does not occupy space, nor is He in time. As the great theologian and author, Frank Sheed, once recounted of what someone had told him, "That is the best definition of nothing I have ever heard". Truths presented in a learning process of the things of GOD have no scientific measurements, since we talk of things of the Spirit, rather than of earthly things which are measurable. Truths of the Spirit are accepted by us if we have the 'Gift of Faith'.

---

How do we receive this 'Gift of Faith'?

First of all, do you know the difference between a 'Gift' and a 'Present'?

A 'Gift' is given freely and has no strings attached.

A 'Present' has a string or strings attached.

The 'Gift of Faith' comes directly from GOD and He gives it freely...

...If we ask for it.

Hebrews chapter 11:1-40, shows what the 'Gift of Faith' has done for many "heroes" of the Old Testament. It is a marvelous summation of the stories of Abel, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, and many others.

Faith conquered kingdoms, wrought justice, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, recovered strength from weakness, became valiant in battle, put to flight armies of aliens, and raised the dead (Hebrews 11:32-35).

Faith depends on hearing, and on hearing the Word of Christ: Romans 10:17.

Faith is our victory that overcomes the world: 1John 5:4.

Faith is the substance of things to be hoped for, the evidence of things that are not seen: Hebrews 11:1.

Faith is what we believe. Morals are the guidelines of our conduct.

---

Pope Paul VI is said to have walked the hallways of the Vatican, repeating over and over again...

"When the Son of Man comes, will He find, do you think, faith on the earth?" Luke 18:8

Common Sense is Not so Common Anymore!

GOD has given each one of us the power to reason things out by using plain, simple common sense. What has happened to this gift from GOD in our present day society?

It seems at times that it has gone the way of the Dinosaur and the Dodo bird.

*There are now over 33,800* non-Catholic Christian ecclesial communities** in the world today. Twenty years ago there were about 21,000*.*

"Has Christ been divided up?"

\*There is only one Christian Church in the world, since Jesus Christ founded only one. See Matthew 16:18 and you will find that He did say that He founded His Church, and not churches. There cannot be 33,800 different churches, since Christ is one, so they are rightfully called "ecclesial communities".*

---

This is sheer insanity. Anyone with common sense and basic arithmetic or a calculator, and with a few simple operations, can readily see that if allowed to go unchecked as it has been, that there will not be too many years hence, before each non-Catholic Christian will be his or her own ecclesial community. Their numbers have increased 65% in only 20 years. What will the next 20 years bring?

---

Here are a few very simple, but very important, thoughts for you to ponder, all of which require common sense:

---

There is the question of truth, which is the foundation of the Church which Jesus Christ founded:

1. Truth is ONE and it is a person, the person of Jesus Christ. There can be only ONE truth.

He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." John 14:6

If that is the case, then all of those tens of thousands of ecclesial communities should be teaching the same things and thus there would be only one church. How then, can anyone explain the tens of thousands of splits in the one truth of the one Body of Christ which exist today?

2. There is only one GOD, one Father, one Savior, one Holy Spirit, one Body of Christ, one Baptism, and one Faith. See Ephesians 4:1-6

"One faith" means that everyone is of one mind and thought, as Holy Scripture teaches us. In other words, one Church.

See Romans 15:5-6.

3. What is the "Pillar and the Foundation of truth"? See 1Timothy 3:15 for the answer.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

There is the question of authority which is of absolute importance.

"The people were astonished at his teaching, for he taught them as one having authority and not as the scribes."

Mark 1:22

There can be no authority in the Church whatsoever unless it be given to it by GOD:

1. Please show me the verse in the Bible which gives the authority for any person to found his or her own church other than the ONE which Jesus Christ founded?

Can I, or anyone else simply hold up a Bible and declare, "This is my authority"?

If you believe this, then please show me the verse which sanctions it?

2. Please explain the meaning of Psalms 127:1?

"Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain.

Unless the Lord watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain."

Ask yourself these questions.

What house? It is the house of GOD. How many houses did GOD build? The answer is clearly shown in Matthew 16:18 as explained earlier.

What city? It is the New Jerusalem, which is the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

3. Since there are so many non-Catholic ecclesial communities in the world, when a doctrinal dispute arises between them, which one, if any, has the authority to adjudicate said dispute?

If no one has the authority, then how do the disputes ever become settled?

Are they settled merely by creating yet more splits in the Body of Christ?

Yet another split settles nothing. It simply prolongs the dispute and allows for error.

4. What or who is the final authority? Is it the Bible?

Well what does the Bible say?

"If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you, that every word may be confirmed by the evidence of two or three witnesses. If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a Gentile and a tax collector. Truly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Matthew 18:15-18

Scripture clearly teaches that the highest authority is the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Notice that in verse 18 He gave only His Church that authority.

How can these verses be ignored by any person who has common sense?

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

Then there is the question of obedience:

1. "Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that they may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you." Hebrews 13:17

So many non-Catholics claim to follow the teaching of Holy Scripture. I would ask if the founders of the Reformation, Luther, Calvin, Munser, and the others, obeyed this verse? If they were not obedient, how then could their followers be obedient?

2. There are many verses which warn against forsaking GOD given authority regarding His Assembly (O.T.) or Church (N.T.) which He bestowed upon prophets such as Moses (Exodus 3-40), and on the Apostles (John 20:21-23), and to their successors (Hebrews 13:7-8,17).

Read of the rebellion of Korah against the GOD given authority of Moses in Numbers 16, and pay special attention to what happened to Korah, and to his followers in Numbers 16:31-35.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

There is the question of the Holy Spirit:

"How many times have you heard non-Catholics say, "The Holy Spirit told me"?"

They all seem to be saying it, and yet, how can this be? The Holy Spirit is GOD, and GOD is truth, and neither GOD nor truth ever change. There are major differences between denominations, not just minor ones as some would like us to believe. All of the following denominations teach from the same Bible.

How then, can the Holy Spirit tell one denomination one thing and then tell another just the opposite?

For example:

Seventh Day Adventists insist that scripture says we must worship on Saturday. Lutherans with an equal insistence, teach that scripture says we must worship on Sunday.

Wouldn't the Holy Spirit have to be teaching each an opposing viewpoint here? How could He?

Methodists say that scripture says it is alright to ordain women. Baptists say it is not Biblical.

Presbyterians teach "predestination" and they baptize infants. Baptists reject both.

Lutherans say that Jesus Christ is truly present in the Eucharist. Baptists say it is only a symbol.

Which one(s) of these, if any, are receiving guidance from the Holy Spirit for these important doctrinal differences? Again I repeat, is the Holy Spirit teaching each an opposing viewpoint?

Is GOD the author of confusion? Isn't it the opinions of men who are causing the confusion?

They all cannot be right can they? What does your common sense tell you?

Doesn't anyone realize that it could be any one of three spirits which is actually doing the speaking?

They are:

1. The Holy Spirit.

2. The human spirit within each one of us.

3. An evil, or a demonic spirit.

Because of the myriads of doctrinal conflicts in the tens of thousands of present day splits in the Body of Christ, isn't it obvious that we can eliminate choice #1 for all save one, the one and only Church which Jesus Christ founded, and thus would have to have the fullness of truth?

"A Christian man is Catholic while he lives in the body; cut off, he is made a heretic; the Spirit does not follow an amputated member." Saint Augustine of Hippo 354-430

Holy Scripture warns us to test all spirits. "Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are of GOD; 'because many false prophets' have gone forth into the world."

1John 4:1

Just how many, are the "many false prophets"?

That question is easy, for all save one, teach a "variance" of the truth, or not the full truth.

This can be the only a logical conclusion, since if any taught all truth they would be united with the only Church which Jesus Christ founded.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

There is the question of proper Biblical Interpretation:

I am sure that most people are aware that the New Testament was written in the Greek language, except for maybe Matthew, for which many scholars agree that it was originally written in Aramaic and very soon after was translated into Greek.

Every time one language is translated into another, something is either gained or lost. That is why, for proper Bible interpretation, it is best to go back to the original language in which it was written in order to grasp the full meaning.

For Example:

"(31) Simon, Simon, behold, Satan demanded to have you, that he might sift you like wheat, (32) but I have prayed for you that your faith may not fail; and when you have turned again, strengthen your brethren." Luke 22:31-32

In English, the word "you" can be either singular or plural. However in the Greek there is a different word for the plural "you", and it is "humas", the singular "you" is "sou". The meaning of these verses then becomes clear as in verse 31 Jesus spoke to all of the Apostles, whereas in verse 32, He addressed Peter alone.

English translations become problematic when we consider another example, the words "brethren" or "brothers". Non-Catholics will consistently take the word "brothers" as meaning a blood brother or a sibling. They do this all the time to try and "prove" that Jesus Christ had siblings, "other children of the Blessed Virgin Mary. One of the examples they use is Galatians 1:19, "But I saw none of the other Apostles, except James the brother of the Lord." By going to the Greek text, the word used for brother is "adelphos", and its meaning from a Greek dictionary is:

Adelphos (ad-el-fos)

- 1. A brother, whether born of the same two parents or only of the same father or mother.*
- 2. Having the same national ancestor, belonging to the same people, or countryman.*
- 3. Any fellow or man.*
- 4. A fellow believer, united to another by the bond of affection.*
- 5. An associate in employment or office.*
- 6. Brethren or brothers:*
  - 6a. brothers by blood*
  - 6b. all men*
  - 6c. Apostles*
  - 6d. Christians, as those who are exalted to the same heavenly place*

As you can see, this dictionary shows 6 classes of meanings for the Greek word adelphos, and one of those classes has multiple meanings.

How do we determine which meaning is the true meaning?

We must put the verse in context, as with all verses in Scripture, to get the true meaning.

In this case, the most obvious meaning of the word in Galatians 1:19 is 6c. How do we know that? One way is that the verse infers that James is an Apostle, and the true parents of both Apostles named James, are shown in Holy Scripture. Some of the other options could be chosen also, but certainly not 1 or 6a because of the context. Detractors of the Blessed Virgin Mary, ignoring the context, will consistently choose the first meaning only, and will ignore the rest. In some verses, the meaning is blood brothers, but in other verses it means something else. You can readily see that by putting the verse in context it works in two ways. It gives you the true meaning, while at the same time eliminating the spurious meanings.

The meaning always depends upon the context in which the words are used.

By ignoring the context they fall into the trap of 2Timothy 3:7,

"Ever learning yet never attaining knowledge of the truth".

Now if you gave all of the present 33,800+ ecclesial communities the same Bible and asked each for their interpretation of it, you would get 33,800+ different interpretations, all based solely upon private opinions. That is because, for them, it is "every man for himself in Bible interpretation".

However, individual interpretation of Holy Scripture is forbidden by Scripture itself.

Read Acts 8:26-40, 2Peter 1:20-21,3:16.

Aren't these verses ignored by those who are guilty of private interpretation of Holy Scripture?

Everyone is entitled to his or her own personal opinion. However, a person's personal opinion has no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

"They came and said to him, "Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you are not concerned with anyone's opinion. You do not regard a person's status but teach the way of GOD in accordance with the truth. Is it lawful to pay the census tax to Caesar or not? Should we pay or should we not pay?" The sentence in blue is what the Church which Jesus Christ founded does.

Has anyone noticed the similarities of individual interpretation of the Bible, and a lack of one central authority, to the events of September 11, 2001? Islam is very similar to the Protestant mindset, as they also have no single authority and their interpretation of the Koran is based upon opinions from various disconnected sects.

"A body with two heads is a monster", said St. Thomas Aquinas (13th century).

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

After proper interpretation of Holy Scripture, there is the question of not reading into it something of which is simply not there, or of ignoring or not abiding by all of what the Word of GOD has to say.

For example:

Reading in what is simply not there:

1. The Bible does not say that it is the final authority, yet many say that it is.

2. It does not say that Mary had other children, yet many say that she did.

3. It does not say that the Holy Eucharist is a symbol, yet many say that it is.

4. It does not say that it has everything in it and to ignore other documents, yet some say that it does.

Ignoring what is there:

5. It does say that we are to call the Mother of GOD "Blessed", yet most non-Catholics do not.

6. It does say that it is the Church which is the Pillar and Foundation of truth, yet this verse is ignored by most ecclesial communities. 1Timothy 3:15

7. It does say that there is a third place to which we could go, yet almost all except Catholics deny it.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

There is the question of "feelings", and "emotions":

Here are some real bonafide reasons why people have chosen one assembly over another:

"The preacher built a fire in me and I was emotionally charged."

I would say that satan in all his cleverness could build such a fire also. Don't forget that he would give us 99 truths if he could get us to swallow just one lie.

"This one has a better choir, and that lifts me."

It is truth we should be seeking for uplifting, and not a better sounding choir.

"This one has a child care department so we have fewer distractions."

These people completely ignore such verses as Matthew 19:14, "...but Jesus said, "Let the children come to me, and do not hinder them; for to such belongs the kingdom of heaven"."

"I simply felt good."

This is a major problem with our society today. "What feels good for me is all that is important."

"You shall not do as we are now doing; here, everyone does what seems right for himself."

Deuteronomy 12:8

If people had proper understanding of Holy Scripture they would soon realize that worship of GOD is not based on feelings or emotions, but on faith and sacrifice.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

Then there is the all important question of which Church did Jesus Christ found:

1. This question is so simple to answer, yet hardly a single non-Catholic Christian can, or is willing to answer it in truth.

Every Christian denomination on earth was founded by a person with a name. Simply trace the origins of your denomination back through its history and you will find that all non-Catholic ecclesial communities are only traceable back a few years for most, and a few hundred years for some. You will also find that it was founded by a mere human person.

This takes us back to the question of authority which was discussed earlier.

Did any of these human persons have GOD given authority to found your ecclesial community?

If you think so, then I ask for a second time to please show me the verse in Holy Scripture?

2. There is only one Christian Church on earth that is traceable back for almost 2000 years to its founder Jesus Christ. This can be done by many different routes and by using many genuine historical documents. Since GOD does not ever change, then the Church which He founded is still with us today for we have His promises of protection and perpetuality...

His promise of protection:

"And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the powers of death shall not prevail against it." Matthew 16:18

His promises of perpetuality.

"And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Advocate, to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him. But you shall know him, because he will dwell with you, and be in you."

John 14:16-17

"I will not leave you orphans; I will come to you."

John 14:18

*"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all* nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the* *Son, and of the holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all* that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you all* days, even unto the consummation of the world."*

Matthew 28:19-20

**All nations, all truth for all days, have overtones of universality don't they? It is a portent of the "Universal Church" founded by Jesus Christ.*

Here is another "portent" of the Universal Church:

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem (local) and in all Judea and Samaria (spreading out) and to the end of the earth (covering the whole world)."

Acts 1:8

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

Then there is the question of those who say that the Church which Jesus Christ founded, apostatized soon after the last Apostle died:

1. First of all, those people do not have one shred of authentic historical documentation to show anyone for this false charge. Ask them for evidence and you will find that they are unable to produce any genuine historical records.

This charge is merely a smoke screen in order to try and legitimize their own ecclesial community. However, there are literally thousands of genuine historical documents, written by scores of authors, and dating in every century from the first on down to ours which testify to the unbroken continuity of the Church which Jesus Christ founded. The notion that His Church apostatized, would certainly be a monumental event, and would surely be recorded in mountains of historical records, yet not one can be found anywhere in any century before the reformation. With no proof, how can anyone believe those who propagate this deliberate untruth?

What credibility is there for those who make this preposterous false charge?

2. Secondly, and much more seriously, they have just called Jesus Christ a liar for His promises of protection and perpetuity, which He made in the preceding session.

"He who does not believe the Son, makes Him a liar; because he does not believe the witness that GOD has borne concerning His Son."

1John 5:10

If you study the last line in Matthew 28:20, it says that Jesus Christ will be with the Church He founded, every day in every century, until the end of time, and with no gaps, not even one single day. Many would try to have us believe that there was an almost 1500 year gap from the time that the last Apostle died until Martin Luther came along and started the Protestant reformation.

Now, with no evidence whatsoever, and with those making this false charge deliberately ignoring the verses in the preceding session, and therefore being found guilty of calling Jesus Christ a liar, where is their credibility?

"But nothing unclean shall enter it, nor any one who practices abomination or falsehood, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life."

Revelation 21:27

Oops! For those who make false charges against the Church which Jesus Christ founded, they had better remember that verse, and not add it to their list of verses to ignore.

Here are a few more verses which fit our theme here very nicely.

"For I am the least of the apostles, unfit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God."

1Corinthians 15:9

"For you have heard of my former life in Judaism, how I persecuted the church of God violently and tried to destroy it;"

Galatians 1:13

"I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and an arrogant man, but I have been mercifully treated because I acted out of ignorance in my unbelief."

1Timothy 1:13

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

---

A Summation of what we have discussed here:

- 1. Truth is one. There can be only one truth. Truth is the person of Jesus Christ.
- 2. There is only one Church which Jesus Christ founded. Matthew 16:18.
- 3. There can be only one authority for that one Church. Luke 10:16, John 20:21-23.
- 4. Those who labor building a house not built by GOD, do labor in vain. Psalms 127:1
- 5. The Holy Spirit is GOD, and GOD never changes, so He cannot be teaching opposing viewpoints.
- 6. GOD is not the author of confusion, man is. 1Corinthians 14:33
- 7. There must be proper interpretation of Holy Scripture in order to arrive at the full truth.
- 8. We must not read into what is simply not there in Holy Scripture.
- 9. We must not ignore what is contrary to our beliefs, in Holy Scripture.
- 10. A person's private opinion has no bearing whatsoever upon doctrinal truth.
- 11. God would not have given us an inerrant book without first giving us an infallible interpreter for it.
- 12. Our salvation depends upon expressing the truth and not falsehood.
- 13. If the Person who is Truth said it, we have the obligation to believe and practice it.
- 14. Those who refuse to believe, or who ignore what Jesus Christ taught, have called Him a liar.

All it takes to find the truth is a little common sense, but then, where is common sense today?

He who cannot reason is a fool.
He who dares not reason is a slave."

Truthful and Thoughtful Replies to False Charges...

---

So many false charges are made against the Catholic Church by people who refuse to go to the source of Catholic teaching, to find out what the Church really teaches. They instead prefer to propagate the lie they are taught by others of the same mind set. If you wanted to buy a Ford, would you go to a Chevy dealer to find the "truth" about Fords? No, you go to the source, the ones who built the Ford. In the same way you will not learn the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches from a non-Catholic source. So if you have not bothered to go to the source for Catholic teaching, then why do you continue to perpetuate the lie? By doing so, you gamble with your eternal salvation.

---

Here are some of the false charges made against the Catholic Church, and the replies of truth to those charges:

---

*The Catholic Church is not the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Okay, then please give me the name of the Church which He did found, since it must still be here, as He did promise that His Church would last forever, did He not? Matthew 28:20. Did Jesus lie? Also, since every Church on earth was founded by a person with a name, please name the person who did found the Catholic Church if it was not Jesus Christ? Oh, and please do not forget to include the genuine historical document(s) to back up what you say.

*There is no "proof" that Jesus Christ founded the Catholic Church.

To the contrary, here are 140 reasons why it is the Catholic Church which He founded and none other. Now you give me just one reason to "prove" that it is your church which He founded and not the Catholic Church?

*The Catholic Church apostatized soon after the last Apostle died, so the Catholic Church of today is not the same Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Please give me the date of this monumental historical event? Show me your genuine historical documents which "prove" what you charge? Of the thousands of genuine historical documents of every century going all the way back to the first century, and which are available for anyone to research, why is there no mention of this so-called earth shaking "great Apostasy" anywhere to be found? Don't you think that a falling away of the Church which Jesus Christ founded would "rock the universe", so to speak, and be the cause of a great chastisement from GOD after what His Son went through in His passion? Look at what happened to the Jews for their disobedience. Jesus did promise the Holy Spirit would be with, and teach His Church forever in John 14:16-17. Are you calling Jesus Christ a liar for His promises of perpetuity for His Church? See 1John 5:10.

*Well it was not any specific date, but was a gradual process over time.

Okay, but that still implies that it did happen at some time, so give me the date, and your genuine historical documents. List for me the "gradual" apostasies of which you refer and the dates of their supposed happenings?

What is the teaching of the Catholic Church on the Holy Trinity? Is that apostasy?

Does the Church teach that Jesus Christ is GOD? Does the Church.....well, I could ask you about what the Church teaches regarding a hundred subjects.

Instead of my listing all of the subjects on which the Church teaches, it would be much easier if you would just please tell me the subjects of your charges of apostasy by the Catholic Church, and the dates of each?

*The Eucharist is "obviously" only a symbol.

Please show me the "obvious" Scriptural verses which say that it is only a symbol after you have read and studied the two links in this section?

*The Bible alone is our sole authority. We do not need the Catholic Church.

Oh? What did Jesus Christ found, a teaching Church, or a book? Since the Gospels are the heart of the New Testament, please show me the verse(s) where He commanded anyone to write them?

Please show me where the Bible says that it alone is the sole authority?

*The Catholic Church is always coming up with "new doctrine". I refuse to believe anything if I cannot find it in the Bible.

Oh? Please give me a list of this "new" doctrine of what you speak? Also please give me the verse which you use to "prove" that everything worth believing is in the Bible?

*GOD did not need Mary.

Oh? Did GOD tell you that He did not need her? Or did some human person in your sect tell you?

Are you a modern day prophet?

Is your remark that, "GOD did not need Mary", in the Bible? Are you a Sola Scriptura believer?

If so, then you must find that in the Bible for any other SS follower to believe it, right? Show me the verse as 'proof' of what you say?

Well, to the contrary, explain Luke 1:26-38 to me? Why did GOD send the angel Gabriel to her to tell her of the great gift she was about to receive if He did not need her?

*Catholics "worship" Mary.

I have been a Catholic all of my life and I have never heard the Church tell its people that we must worship Blessed Mary (Luke 1:48). For that charge to be true, then please provide the genuine Catholic Church document which states that Catholics are to worship Blessed Mary? Did you ever think to go to the source for the answer to this one?

---

*Mary could not have been immaculately conceived.

Oh? Are you saying that GOD could not have done this?

Did not Jesus say this?

"But Jesus looked at them and said to them, "With men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible.""

Matthew 19:26

Didn't Adam and Eve, and Jesus Christ come into the world without sin? Then please explain to me, why the Mother of GOD could not?

*Mary gave birth to the human nature of Jesus only.

Mothers do not give birth to natures alone, but to persons who possess a nature. Blessed Mary gave birth to the complete person. Now, is Jesus Christ a divine person, or is he a human person?

He could not be both, as that would make Him to be two persons.

*Mary could not be the Mother of GOD.

Well, because you made this statement, you now have only two options. Either Jesus Christ is not GOD, or He had another mother other than Blessed Mary. Which option will you choose?

Show me where Holy Scripture says that, after you have read the link? Suppose you were the brother or sister of GOD. Wouldn't there be a mountain of material written about you and your lives? Isn't it possible that the meaning of words then, are not the same as they are today, especially after they have been translated from language to language? You see, something is always added or lost in a language translation. To prove this, I gave you an example in the 3rd sentence, 'you and your lives'. Do you see it? The word 'you' in English can be singular or plural, but in Greek, different words are used for 'you', sou (singular) and humeis (plural). I do explain the importance of this particular translation problem in greater detail here.

So do not fall into the "brothers-brethren" trap by using today's English meaning only. Read the link for much more.

*Mary could not have been assumed into Heaven.

Oh? Why not? Were you there? Is this yet something else that GOD could not do?

---

*It does not matter which church a person belongs to.

To the contrary, it does matter a great deal. Do you wish to gamble with your eternal salvation?

There is only one true Church, the one which Jesus Christ founded.

I would suggest that you read Psalms 127:1.

Now, since everyone has read Psalms 127:1, I wish to ask all non-Catholics who make these false charges against the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, to please show me the verse(s) in Holy Scripture which give authority for any person to found another church other than that one of Matthew 16:18? Notice that Jesus did say "Church", and not churches in that verse.

For those who make false charges against the Catholic Church without bothering to go to the source to see if the charges are true or not, please read this quote from Saint Irenaeus which was written in 180 A.D.

"CHAP. IV.--THE TRUTH (of what the Catholic Church teaches*) IS TO BE FOUND NOWHERE ELSE BUT IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH, THE SOLE DEPOSITORY OF APOSTOLICAL DOCTRINE. HERESIES ARE OF RECENT FORMATION, AND CANNOT TRACE THEIR ORIGIN UP TO THE APOSTLES.

1. Since therefore we have such proofs, it is not necessary to seek the truth among others which it is easy to obtain from the Church; since the apostles, like a rich man [depositing his money] in a bank, lodged in her hands most copiously all things pertaining to the truth: so that every man, whosoever will, can draw from her the water of life. For she is the entrance to life; all others are thieves and robbers. On this account are we bound to avoid them, but to make choice of the thing pertaining to the Church with the utmost diligence, and to lay hold of the tradition of the truth. For how stands the case? Suppose there arose a dispute relative to some important question among us, should we not have recourse to the most ancient Churches with which the apostles held constant intercourse, and learn from them what is certain and clear in regard to the present question? For how should it be if the apostles themselves had not left us writings? Would it not be necessary, [in that case,] to follow the course of the tradition which they handed down to those to whom they did commit the Churches?"

Saint Irenaeus, Against Heresies, Book 3, Chapter 4, Par 1, 180 A.D.. Jurgens 213

*Added by myself and not in the original St. Irenaeus text.

---

STOP!!! Right here and take a deep breath before proceeding, for your eternal salvation may be at risk!

For proof of this, now read on.

"This is good, and it is acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth."

1Timothy 2:3-4

It is the will of GOD that we all must come to the truth. No one can come to the truth who has a closed mind, or is prejudiced, or has preconceived ideas. The only way anyone can find the truth is to go to the source with an open mind, and discover it for themselves.

"...but for those who are factions and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury."

Romans 2:8

"Now the works of the flesh are obvious: immorality, impurity, licentiousness, idolatry, sorcery, hatreds, rivalry, jealousy, outbursts of fury, acts of selfishness, dissensions, factions, occasions of envy, drinking bouts, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I warned you before, that those who do such things will not inherit the kingdom of God."

Galatians 5:19-21

"Factions"? The dictionary says, "Factions: (1) relating to internal dissension. (2) Promoting internal dissension." Doesn't this sound like the mindset of the reformers? The Reformation certainly did lead to the "thousands of factions"* which we have in Protestantism today.

The word "factions" leads us to yet another verse,

"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all say the same thing; and there be no dissensions among you, but that you be perfectly united in one mind and in one judgment."

1Corinthians 1:10

For all of those who refuse to come to the truth, they will be met with the wrath of GOD.

*There were 33,820 factions of Protestantism as of April 2001, World Christian Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication. This publication can be purchased from www.amazon.com.

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness."

2Thessalonians 2:9-12

For those who do not believe the truth, ALL will be condemned.

What does all of this mean? Let us summarize:

- 1. We are all bound to search for the truth. 1Timothy 2:3-4
- 2. Those who refuse to search for the truth will be met with the wrath of GOD. Romans 2:8
- 3. Those who refuse to accept the truth, will be condemned. 2Thessalonians 2:9-12
- 4. He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death. Hebrews 9:27, Revelation 21:27
- 5. Now who does all of this fit? It certainly does fit all of those who perpetuate false charges against the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, and who continue to do so, by refusing to go to the source for the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches.
- 6. These are not my rules or ideas. They are the teaching of GOD through Holy Scripture.

"Have I then become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?"

Galatians 4:16

---

---

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."

Cardinal Ratzinger, October 9, 2000

However, He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death.

Safeguarding the Faith...

All Catholic theologians and teachers who are not teaching the truth of the Catholic Church are hereby put on notice...

By His Holiness John Paul II Anno Domini, 28 May 1998

---

Apostolic Letter given motu proprio by Pope John Paul II

---

AD TUENDAM FIDEM,

by which certain norms are inserted into the Code of Canon Law and into the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches.

---

TO PROTECT THE FAITH of the Catholic Church against errors arising from certain members of the Christian faithful, especially from among those dedicated to the various disciplines of sacred theology, we, whose principal duty is to confirm the brethren in the faith (Lk 22:32), consider it absolutely necessary to add to the existing texts of the Code of Canon Law and the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches, new norms which expressly impose the obligation of upholding truths proposed in a definitive way by the Magisterium of the Church, and which also establish related canonical sanctions.

---

1. From the first centuries to the present day, the Church has professed truths of her faith in Christ and the mystery of His redemption. These truths which were subsequently gathered into the Symbols of the faith, today known and proclaimed in common by the faithful in the solemn and festive celebration of the Mass as the Apostle's Creed Nicene Constantinopolitan Creed

---

This same Nicene-Constantinopolitan Creed is contained in the Profession of Faith developed by the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, (1) which must be made by specific members of the faithful when they receive an office, that is directly or indirectly related to deeper investigation into the truths of faith and morals, or is united to a particular power in the governance of the Church. (2)

---

2. The Profession of Faith, which appropriately begins with the Nicene-Constantinopolitan Creed, contains three propositions or paragraphs intended to describe the truths of the Catholic faith, which the Church, in the course of time and under the guidance of the Holy Spirit; "who will teach her the whole truth;" (Jn 16:13), has ever more deeply explored and will continue to explore. (3)

---

The first paragraph states: "With firm faith I also believe everything contained in the word of God, whether written or handed down in Tradition, which the Church, either by a solemn judgment or by the ordinary and universal Magisterium sets forth to be believed as divinely revealed." (4) This paragraph appropriately confirms and is provided for in the Church's universal legislation, in canon 750 of the Code of Canon Law (5) and in canon 598 of the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches. (6)

---

The third clause states: "Moreover, I adhere with religious submission of will and intellect to the teachings which either the Roman Pontiff or the College of Bishops enunciate when they exercise their authentic Magisterium, even if they do not intend to proclaim these teachings by a definitive act." (7)

This paragraph has its corresponding legislative expression in canon 752 of the Code of Canon Law (8) and in canon 599 of the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches. (9)

3. The second paragraph, however, which states; "I also firmly accept and hold each and everything definitively proposed by the Church regarding teaching on faith and morals, " (10) has no corresponding canon in the Codes of the Catholic Church. This second paragraph of the Profession of Faith is of utmost importance since it refers to truths that are necessarily connected to divine revelation. These truths, in the investigation of Catholic doctrine, illustrate the divine Spirit's particular inspiration for the Church's deeper understanding of a truth concerning faith and morals, with which they are connected either for historical reasons or by a logical relationship.

---

4. Moved therefore by this need, and after careful deliberation, we have decided to overcome this lacuna in the universal law in the following way:

---

A) Canon 750 of the Code of Canon Law will now consist of two paragraphs; the first will present the text of the existing canon; the second will contain a new text. Thus, canon 750, in its complete form, will read:

Canon 750:

1. Those things are to be believed by divine and catholic faith which are contained in the word of God as it has been written or handed down by tradition, that is, in the single deposit of faith entrusted to the Church, and which are at the same time proposed as divinely revealed either by the solemn Magisterium of the Church, or by its ordinary and universal Magisterium, which in fact is manifested by the common adherence of Christ's faithful under the guidance of the sacred Magisterium. All are therefore bound to avoid any contrary doctrines.

2. Furthermore, each and everything set forth definitively by the Magisterium of the Church regarding teaching on faith and morals must be firmly accepted and held; namely, those things required for the holy keeping and faithful exposition of the deposit of faith; therefore, anyone who rejects propositions which are to be held definitively sets himself against the teaching of the Catholic Church.

---

Canon 1371, n. 1 of the Code of Canon Law, consequently, will receive an appropriate reference to canon 750 § 2, so that it will now read:

---

Canon 1371 – The following are to be punished with a just penalty:

---

1. A person who, apart from the case mentioned in canon 1364 § 1, teaches a doctrine condemned by the Roman Pontiff, or by an Ecumenical Council, or obstinately rejects the teachings mentioned in canon 750 § 2 or in canon 752 and, when warned by the Apostolic See or by the Ordinary, does not retract;

---

2. A person who in any other way does not obey the lawful command or prohibition of the Apostolic See or the Ordinary or Superior and, after being warned, persists in disobedience.

---

B) Canon 598 of the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches will now have two paragraphs: the first will present the text of the existing canon and the second will contain a new text. Thus canon 598, in its complete form, will read as follows:

Canon 598:

1. Those things are to be believed by divine and catholic faith which are contained in the word of God as it has been written or handed down by tradition, that is, in the single deposit of faith entrusted to the Church, and which are at the same time proposed as divinely revealed either by the solemn Magisterium of the Church, or by its ordinary and universal Magisterium, which in fact is manifested by the common adherence of Christ's faithful under the guidance of the sacred Magisterium. All Christian faithful are therefore bound to avoid any contrary doctrines.

2. Furthermore, each and everything set forth definitively by the Magisterium of the Church regarding teaching on faith and morals must be firmly accepted and held; namely, those things required for the holy keeping and faithful exposition of the deposit of faith; therefore, anyone who rejects propositions which are to be held definitively sets himself against the teaching of the Catholic Church.

---

Canon 1436 of the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches, consequently, will receive an appropriate reference to canon 598, so that it will now read:

Canon 1436:

1. Whoever denies a truth which must be believed with divine and catholic faith, or who calls into doubt, or who totally repudiates the Christian faith, and does not retract after having been legitimately warned, is to be punished as a heretic or an apostate with a major excommunication; a cleric moreover can be punished with other penalties, not excluding deposition.

---

2. In addition to these cases, whoever obstinately rejects a teaching that the Roman Pontiff or the College of Bishops, exercising the authentic Magisterium, have set forth to be held definitively, or who affirms what they have condemned as erroneous, and does not retract after having been legitimately warned, is to be punished with an appropriate penalty.

---

5. We order that everything decreed by us in this Apostolic Letter, given motu proprio, be established and ratified, and we prescribe that the insertions listed above be introduced into the universal legislation of the Catholic Church, that is, into the Code of Canon Law and into the Code of Canons of the Eastern Churches, all things to the contrary notwithstanding.

Who Has The Authority?

And who does not!

Authority, what is it? What does it mean? Its root is the word 'author', which means creator or originator. It is from the Latin "auctoritas", the creator's power to command or to make decisions. The dictionary defines it as, "the power to enforce laws, exact obedience, command, determine, or judge". It also means, "one who is invested with this power, especially a government".

So the word can apply to a form of government as well as to an individual. The Senate has the authority to make laws, the Supreme Court has the authority to interpret those laws, and the President has the authority to enforce those laws.

What do you suppose would happen if there was no authority? There would be anarchy, unrest, chaos, everyone 'doing his own thing'. Civilization as we know it would collapse in very short order. Look at Albania. Within days of the collapse of authority, there was anarchy, with thousands trying to flee for their lives. Scripture reminds us, "Where there is no governor, the people shall fall, but there is safety where there is much counsel," Prov 11:14,24:6.

Authority comes from the "Author of Life", Acts 3:15. All authority comes from GOD, "Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore he who resists the authorities resists what God has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment." Rom 13:1-2. Notice that GOD is selective as to just who He gives authority.

The Catholic Church has a form of government called a theocracy and operates as an "Hierarchy". Like any other form of government, it has to have "authority" to function.

The Church received its authority from its founder, Jesus Christ...

1. "You are Peter, and upon this Rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it", Mt 16:18. Jesus will build his Church on solid rock. He will be the 'cornerstone' Psa 118:22 and Eph 2:20-22, the 'foundation' (cornerstone) 1Cor 3:11, and the 'rock' 1Cor 10:4. The 'Gates of Hell shall not prevail against it', means, He will defend it from within and from without, against all adversaries for all time.

2. The Apostles are the foundation with Jesus Christ as the "Chief cornerstone", Eph 2:20.

3. Jesus Christ gave a higher authority for disputes between persons, even when there are two or more witnesses. He told them to appeal to the Church in Mt 18:17, "But if he refuses to hear even the Church let him be as a heathen and the publican (a tax collector for the Roman Empire)." Here, Christ gave full authority to His Church.

4. Paul admonishes those who refuse to accept the authority given to the Church and warns what will happen to them if they refuse in Rom 13:1-2, "Let everyone be subject to the higher authorities, for THERE EXISTS NO AUTHORITY EXCEPT FROM GOD, AND THOSE WHO EXIST HAVE BEEN APPOINTED BY GOD. Therefore HE WHO RESISTS THE AUTHORITY RESISTS THE ORDINANCE OF GOD; AND THEY THAT RESIST BRING ON THEMSELVES CONDEMNATION."

5. Jesus Christ Himself is the head of the Church He founded, the "Head of His Body", Eph 1:22. That is about as authoritative as can be attained.

6. Jesus Christ made sure that His Church was worthy of the authority which He gave to it. He made sure His Church was spotless, "In order that He might present to Himself to the Church in all her glory, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that she might be holy and without blemish," Eph 5:27. He made sure His Church was worthy to be called the "House of GOD", and the "Pillar of Truth", "...how to conduct yourself in the House of GOD, which is the Church of the living GOD, the pillar and mainstay of the truth," 1Tim 3:15.

7. Jesus Christ loves the Church He founded, Eph 5:29. Do you?

8. GOD has said He will be with His Church forever, "I will never leave you, neither will I forsake you," Heb 13:5. In Mt 28:20, Jesus said, "I am with you all days, even until the end of the world." That means He will be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time. Which Church was His Church when these verses were uttered?

GOD has given authority to several people in the Bible. He signifies the passing of authority by changing the name of the person. Some examples are...

1. GOD renamed Abram to Abraham when He made him the 'Father of a Multitude of Nations' in Gen 17:5.

2. GOD renamed Sara to Sarah when He made her the 'Mother of Nations' in Gen 17:15-16.

3. GOD renamed Jacob to Israel, the name of the Jewish Nation, and he became the first Israeli in Gen 35:10.

4. GOD renamed Simon to Peter when He made him the head of His Church in Mt 16:18. Peter was given the authority by GOD, and GOD renamed him to emphasize it. In Mt 16:19, Jesus Christ gave Peter even more authority. He gave him, and none other, the 'keys to the kingdom of heaven', and told him, "Whatever you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." A lot of authority was given in these two verses to Simon, now Peter, a mere creature of GOD.

5. There are more than 50 verses in the Bible that refer to the supremacy of Peter over all of the Apostles. The name of Peter appears more often than the name of any other Apostle in the New Testament. When the Apostles are named, Peter is named first in every case except Gal 2:9. In Mt 10:2, Peter is even called "first", "Now these are the names of the twelve Apostles: FIRST Simon, who is called Peter...". In Acts 15:7, Peter said, "Brethren, you know that in early days GOD made choice among us, that through 'MY MOUTH' the Gentiles should hear the word of the Gospel and believe." Peter recounted his supremacy, as GOD had given it to him in Mt 16:18-19. In Lk 22:31-31, Jesus said, "Simon, behold Satan has desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat. But I have prayed for you, that your faith may not fail; and do you when once you have turned again, strengthen your brethren." Here Jesus appointed Peter to strengthen the others, another clear sign of his supremacy. Finally, in Jn 21:15-17, it is Peter, and only Peter, to whom the Lord commands three times to feed his flock. Peter was the supreme Apostle. The present day supreme Bishop, the Bishop of Rome, is the Pope, Peter's direct successor in a long line of Popes.

6. Jesus Christ gave full authority to the Apostles when in Lk 10:16, He said, "He who hears you, hears Me; and he who rejects you, rejects Me; and he who rejects Me, rejects Him who sent Me." We hear His words through His Church. Therefore these words have to apply to His Church as well, 'he who rejects My Church rejects Me'. That verse also prevents the Pope from teaching heresy, so when the Pope speaks in matters of faith and morals, he is speaking as Christ would and with His authority. Paul acknowledged the authority given to the Apostles in 2Cor 10:8, "For even if I boast somewhat more about our authority, which the Lord has given for your upbuilding, and not for your destruction, I shall not be put to shame."

7. Jesus gave authority to 72 other disciples in Lk 10:1-12, and told them He sends them forth as 'lambs in the midst of wolves'. He told them to shake the dust off their feet from the towns that do not receive them.

8. We are commanded to obey our superiors (priests, Bishops, and the Pope) and to be subject to them, as they keep watch as having to render an account of our souls, Heb 13:17.

9. GOD placed others in His Church as well, "And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers; after that miracles, then gifts of healing, services of help, power of administration, and the speaking of various tongues," 1Cor 12:28. Does your Church have all these?

Knowing of course, that the Apostles would not live forever, and that His Church would continue until the 'end of time'

(Mt 28:20), Jesus Christ made provision to pass on the authority from generation to generation...

1. "I laid the foundation, and another builds thereon. But let everyone take care how he builds thereon, for other foundations no one can lay, but that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ." 1Cor 3:10-11. So there will be followers who will build upon the foundation.

2. "You have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you, and have appointed you that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain...", Jn 15:16.

3. "...that you should set right anything that is defective and should appoint presbyters (priests) in every city as I myself directed you to do," Titus 1:5. Paul commands them to make new priests.

4. "Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which the Holy Spirit has placed you as Bishops to rule the Church of GOD," Acts 20:28. Here the Bishops are given the authority by the Holy Spirit to rule the Church that Jesus Christ founded. Does your Church have Bishops?

5. "And now I commend you to GOD and to the word of His grace, who is able to build up and to give the inheritance among all the sanctified," Acts 20:32. Pass on the authority to your heirs.

6. The Pope and the Bishops are the lawful successors to the Apostles. If we reject their authority, then we reject Christ.

It is the Holy Spirit who guides and guards the Church that Jesus Christ founded. He is the ultimate and final authority...

1. "I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him. But you shall know Him, because He will dwell with you, and be in you," Jn 14:16-17,26, Jn 15:26,16:13. The Holy Spirit will dwell in the Church that Jesus Christ founded and He will be with that Church forever.

Not all will be revealed to the Church at once because we could not bear it. It will all be revealed over time. This is the authorization for the Church to reveal doctrines such as the Immaculate Conception.

1. "Many things yet I have to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. But when the Spirit of Truth has come, he will teach you all the truth, ...and the things that are to come he will declare to you," Jn 16:12-15

2. "I fed you with milk, not with solid food, for you were not yet ready for it...I have planted...but GOD has given the growth," 1Cor 3:1-15.

3. Eph 4:11-16, "...in order to perfect the saints for a work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the deep knowledge of the Son of GOD, to perfect manhood to the mature measure of the fullness of Christ...that we may be now no longer children, tossed to and fro and carried about by every wind of doctrine devised in the wickedness of men, in craftiness, according to the wiles of error.

4. Phil 1:5-11, "...he who has begun a good work in you will bring it to perfection until the day of Christ...I pray that your charity may more and more abound in knowledge and all discernment." Clearly GOD is telling us that knowledge will increase with time.

Now to answer the all important question, "Who has the authority?" In order to have only one truth, it is necessary to have only one authority. The Church that Jesus Christ founded, was given that authority as shown in this letter. Does your Church meet all the scriptural requirements given in this text? Can you trace your Church all the way back to Christ? If you can't, then your Church does not have the authority. If your church does not have the authority, then why are you there? The main difference between the Catholic Church and all other churches, is that the Catholic Church, and only the Catholic Church, has the authority...

I would suggest that everyone read Numbers 16. It is about the rebellion to the authority of Moses by Korah and his followers. Moses did everything he could to try and convince Korah, pleading with him that he was wrong in doing this, and yet Korah and his followers rejected his pleas. Read the final outcome of Korah's rebellion in Numbers 16:30-35. It isn't pretty, but then Korah would not listen to Moses, who was the man on earth of whom GOD had chosen to lead His people. Now read about Martin Luther and his rebellion against the authority of the Catholic Church, and you will see that the story of Numbers 16 has repeated itself. Now read Numbers 16 again, but this time substitute the name of the founder of your church for Korah, and for Moses, the name of the Pope. Those who fail to profit from history are doomed to repeat its mistakes.

"Nothing under the sun is new, neither is any man able to say: Behold this is new; for it has already gone before in the ages that were before us." Ecclesiastes 1:10

Have you ever read Psalms 127:1?

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Now show me the verse(s) in the Bible which gives the authority to any human creature to found another church other than the ONE CHURCH which Jesus Christ founded?

Show me the verse(s) which authorizes anyone to simply hold up a Bible and proclaim, "This is my authority".

Who they are and what they do...

---

I. What is Truth? Asked by Pilate in John 18:38.

- A. Truth is one. There can be only one truth.
- B. 'Truth' is the opposite of 'error'.
- C. The definition of 'Truth' is, 'conformable to fact'. It is when the conscience agrees with the intellect.
- D. Jesus Christ is GOD, and GOD is truth, Jn 14:6. GOD cannot lie as it is impossible for Him since He IS truth. When Jesus Christ said something, we know it is true because HE said it.

1. GOD has spoken to us in two ways.

- a. When Jesus spoke to His Apostles, He spoke orally. He did not write to them or give them a book to read. The Apostles spoke the words of Jesus Christ to others and their descendants, the Bishops. This is called 'Tradition', with a capital 'T'.
- b. He spoke to us through His written word, the Holy Scriptures. The New Testament books were not even written until starting around 48 A.D. and ending about 100 A.D., which was many years after Jesus Christ was crucified about 33 A.D.. It was up to the writers of the NT to accurately record many years later, with the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, the teaching of Jesus Christ, and base much of their writings on 'Tradition'.
- c. In John 20:30, and 21:25, John said, '...and there are MANY OTHER THINGS WHICH JESUS DID, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even THE WORLD ITSELF COULD NOT CONTAIN THE BOOKS THAT SHOULD BE WRITTEN'. This says in very simple terms that there are two areas of GOD'S Holy Word, the Holy Scripture and Tradition.

2. Tradition and Holy Scripture taken together are known as 'The Deposit of Faith'.

II. Truth must be preserved...

- A. It is the job of someone to preserve 'The Deposit of Faith'.
- B. There is a need to preserve the truth. In every level of our society we have leaders and followers, some form of government.
- C. History shows that no civilization, country, city, or organization, has lasted for very long if there were no effective government for the people to follow, trust, and believe in. Some office is needed to interpret, enforce, and follow the laws.

- 1. The Romans had Caesar and the Senate.
- 2. The United States has a President, Congress, and the Supreme Court.
- 3. A state has a Governor and a Legislature.
- 4. A corporation has a CEO and Board of Directors.
- 5. The Catholic Church has the Pope, Bishops, and the Magisterium.

D. These governments make the rules for all to follow. They also have the responsibility to protect and enforce them, in an orderly and timely manner. Without order there is chaos.

1. What would happen in our country if every person did what HE thought was right and ignored the rights of others, and each had HIS own set of rules or laws to follow, or no rules at all? Civilization as we know it would collapse.

a. Do you realize there are some Christian sects that operate this way? Each person is told to interpret the Bible, the Word of GOD, for himself. Whatever feels right for him is all that matters. It is every man for himself essentially. This policy breeds chaos, infighting, and disunity. Remember what Jesus Christ said, "Every house divided against itself cannot stand." Mt 12:25

b. The Bible is not a novel. It is the Word of GOD. If you read it like you would read a novel, you would not gain much from it except mass confusion. If you gave a million people each a Bible, and asked each to interpret it, you would get a million different interpretations. Which one would you believe? Which one has the truth? As we have seen, 'Truth is One'. Which person's interpretation is that truthful ONE?

c. Would you want to believe the interpretation of one man, whose credentials might be questionable, or of the collective interpretation of a group of men with impeccable credentials AND The Holy Spirit?

2. The Catholic Church has the Pope and the Magisterium to interpret, preserve, and protect 'The Deposit of Faith' for all of us.

a. The Magisterium consists of the Pope, and the Cardinals and Bishops acting with the guidance of the Holy Spirit.

b. They meet in councils, and with the guidance of the Holy Spirit, make decisions on important matters regarding the faith.

3. Where there is no governor, the people shall fall, but there is safety where there is much counsel: Prov 11:14,24:6

4. Designs are strengthened by counsels: Prov 20:18

5. The only way we can know ONE truth is to accept ONE authority.

---

III. How can I be sure the truth is being preserved?

A. Of all writings since the beginning of time, what one book can be trusted as being the 'Deposit of Truth'?

1. The Holy Scripture of GOD, the Bible, is what I trust. If it says so, it must be true because GOD Himself said it.

2. If the facts mentioned above in II-D-2-a and b, can be found in the Bible, they must be true. Let us look at a few verses...

3. The Magisterium...

a. Has Bishops placed by the Holy Spirit to rule the Church: Act 20:28, Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which the Spirit has placed you as bishops, to rule the Church of GOD.

b. Has a leader who holds authority and supremacy over all the rest: When GOD gave authority, He changed the name of the person receiving it. Abram was renamed Abraham, Gen 17:5, when GOD made him 'Father of a Multitude of Nations'. Sarai was renamed Sarah in Gen 17:15-16, when GOD made her 'The Mother of Nations'. Jacob was renamed Israel in Gen 32:29, when GOD made him the 'Father of the nation of Israel'. In Mt 16:18, GOD renamed Simon to PETER, and told him YOU are 'ROCK' and upon this 'ROCK' I will build MY CHURCH. Mt 16:19, I will give YOU the KEYS of the KINGDOM of HEAVEN, and whatever YOU shall BIND on earth shall be bound in Heaven and whatever YOU shall LOOSE on earth shall be loosed in Heaven. Peter was the first leader of the Church and was given supremacy and authority over all the other Apostles. Lk 22:31-32, satan has desired to have YOU that he may SIFT YOU as wheat. But I have prayed for thee that thy faith may not fail; and do thou when once thou hast turned again, STRENGTHEN thy brethren. Jn 21:17, Simon dost thou love Me? FEED MY SHEEP. Act 1:15, PETER stood up in the midst of the brethren. Act 2:14, PETER, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice and SPOKE OUT to them: Men of Judea and ALL you who dwell in Jerusalem let this be known to you, and give ear to MY WORDS. Act 15:7, GOD MADE CHOICE AMONG US, THAT THROUGH MY MOUTH, THE GENTILES SHOULD HEAR THE WORD OF THE GOSPEL AND BELIEVE. 1Cor 15:5, and that He appeared to CEPHAS (first) and AFTER that to the eleven.

c. Meets and discusses issues: Act 15:6, So the Apostles and the presbyters (Bishops advisers) had a meeting to look into this matter.

d. Consults with one another about divine revelation: Gal 2:2, I went up in consequence of a revelation, and I conferred with them on the Gospel I preach among the Gentiles.

e. Votes among themselves: Act 1:26, and they drew lots between them.

f. Defines a teaching: Act 15:1,24, Do Gentiles have to be circumcised? Some of our number have disturbed you with their teaching, persons to whom we had given no instruction. (No, they do not have to be circumcised).

g. Is guided and taught by the Holy Spirit: Act 5:32, we are witnesses of these things and so is The Holy Spirit, whom GOD has given to all who obey Him.

Act 15:28, "For The Holy Spirit and we have decided to lay no further burden upon you but this indispensable one..."

Jn 16:12-15, "Many things yet I have to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. But when He, the Spirit of Truth has come, He will teach you all the truth. For He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He will hear He will speak, and THE THINGS THAT ARE TO COME HE WILL DECLARE TO YOU. He will glorify Me, because He will receive of what is mine and DECLARE IT TO YOU. All things that the Father has are mine. That is why I have said that He will receive of what is mine and WILL DECLARE IT TO YOU."

h. Is the pillar of truth: 1Tim 3:15,...in the House of GOD, which is the Church of the living GOD, the pillar and mainstay of the truth.

i. Is the teaching authority of the Church: Mt 28:20, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.

j. Is self propagating and has the authority: Jn 15:16, you have not chosen Me, but I have chosen YOU, and have appointed YOU that YOU should go forth and bear fruit, and that YOUR fruit should REMAIN; that whatever YOU ask the Father in My name He may give it to you. 1Cor 3:10-11, ...I laid the foundation and another builds thereon... Mt 18:17-18, ...and if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the Church, but if he refuse to hear even the Church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican....whatever you bind on earth shall be bound also in Heaven...

k. Affirms that 'private interpretation' of Scripture is NOT to be done: *2Pet 1:20, you must understand first of all, that NO prophesy of Scripture is made by PRIVATE interpretation.

l. Must be obeyed: Heb 13:17, OBEY your SUPERIORS and be subject to them, for THEY keep watch as having to render an account of your souls.

m. Cannot fail: Mt 16:18, and the gates of hell shall NOT prevail against it. Mt 28:20, I am with you ALL days, even unto the end of the world.

IV. Revelation, there are two types...

A. Public: the teaching of Jesus Christ, also called, 'Divine Revelation'.

1. There are no new public revelations as they were sealed when the last Apostle died.
2. The only possible way for new public (divine) revelation is for GOD Himself to come and proclaim it.
3. Public revelation consists of 'Holy Scripture', and 'Sacred Tradition', the 'Deposit of Faith'.
4. It is the mission of the Pope and the Magisterium to interpret, preserve, and protect, the 'Deposit of Faith' for all of us.

B. Private: messages received by vision, or by locution by individuals.

1. We should neither believe nor condemn them, until the Church rules whether they are truth or error.
2. We should test and discern them to see if they are of GOD, 1Thes 5:20-21, 1Jn 4:1-6.

The Primacy of Peter

A lot has been written about the primacy of Peter. I present a point of view which is difficult for any detractor to refute. There is a law in Bible study called 'The Law of First Mention'. It means, the first time something is mentioned in the Bible, the same meaning holds true for that subject in all subsequent verses in which it is mentioned. This law helps to hold the harmony and integrity of scripture. GOD is eternal and unchanging; therefore what he said in Genesis has the same meaning for all chapters.

---

The 'Primacy of Peter' has been disputed by detractors on many points. Peter was given the primacy in Matt 16:18, "AND I SAY TO THEE, THOU ART PETER, AND UPON THIS ROCK I WILL BUILD MY CHURCH." Some say Peter was not the 'rock'. Others try to separate Peter from the Bishop of Rome, by trying to show he was never in Rome. Still others say the words 'I WILL' in Matt 16:18, denotes some future tense. They include Matt 16:19, "I WILL give thee the keys..." as 'proof' that Peter did not receive the keys, but somehow ALL the Apostles received them in Matt 18:18. It is obvious that Jesus spoke to Peter alone in Matt 16:19 and gave him personally, the power of binding and loosening. It is also obvious that Jesus again gave him the power of binding and loosening along with the other Apostles in Matt 18:18, and yet again in John 20:23. However, Jesus gave Peter and Peter alone, the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven in Matt 16:19. Detractors of the primacy of Peter have arguments that are so weak, they are almost non-existent. I could discuss each of these points, but in this section of this letter I will discuss only one point, which makes all other arguments against the primacy of Peter moot.

---

The Law of First Mention...

When something is first mentioned in the Bible, the meaning of it remains the same throughout the rest of the Bible.

When GOD gave authority to someone in Scripture, HE changed the name of that person.

1. GOD renamed Abram to Abraham when He made him the 'Father of a Multitude of Nations', in Gen 17:5. HE gave Abraham 'primacy' over all other men.

2. GOD renamed Sara to Sarah when HE made her the 'Mother of Nations' in Gen 17:15-16. HE gave Sarah 'primacy' over all other women.

3. GOD renamed Jacob to Israel, the name of the Jewish Nation, and Jacob became the first Israeli in Gen 32:29, 35:10.

4. GOD renamed Simon to Peter in Matt 16:18, thus giving him 'primacy' over all of the Apostles. Why else would GOD give a new name to Simon?

---

The 'Law of First Mention' as applied to Abraham, Sarah, and Israel, works very well indeed. Why then do some believe it does not work for Simon-Peter?

---

Matthew 16:13-17...

Jesus said, "Who do men say the Son of Man is?" (13)

But they said, "Some say, John the Baptist; and others Elias; and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets." (14)

He said to them, "But who do YOU say that I am?" (15)

Simon Peter answered and said, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the Living GOD." (16)

Then Jesus answered and said, "Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to thee, but My Father in Heaven." (17)

This verse expresses a blessing for Peter from the Son.

Did you notice that Peter was the only Apostle who knew who Jesus Christ was?

*All of the rest merely expressed an opinion.

GOD the Father, Himself, told Peter alone, and not one of the other Apostles.

It was a blessing for Peter from the Father.

This is a clear sign of the Primacy of Peter from the Father.

---

John 21:1-11...

There are at least three examples of the primacy of Peter in these verses.

In verse 2-3, seven of the disciples are gathered together when Peter makes a decision to go fishing. The others agreed to go with him. They fished all night and caught nothing, as usual. Jesus told them where to cast the net, they did, and caught so many fish, all of them together could not draw the net up (verse 6). John, the disciple whom Jesus loved, told Peter (he informed Peter first) that it was the Lord standing on the beach. Peter jumped off into the sea after hearing of this (verse 7). The other six disciples came with the boat, dragging the net full of fishes. In verse 10, Jesus asked that they bring some of the fishes to Him. In verse 11, it was Peter alone who hauled the net full of 153 large fishes onto land. Now, how much did 153 large fishes weigh? We do not know the average weight of each but since they were large, even at only three pounds each, they totaled over 450 pounds and yet Peter alone managed to haul them ashore when all seven disciples could not draw up the net in verse 6. This clearly shows the super human power of Peter. Once again, the presence of Jesus allowed them to make a huge catch, and after knowing it is the Lord, Peter suddenly has super human power to bring in the catch alone.

John 21:15-17...

Three times in these verses Jesus Christ tells Peter to "Feed My Sheep", or to "Feed My Lambs". For proper understanding of these verses it is necessary to refer to the underlying Greek text.

In verse 16, the Greek word used for "feed" is "poimaino" (second person singular), which means, to act as a SHEPHERD, to rule, to govern, to pastor, or the presiding officer. It is the only time this Greek word is used in the Gospel of John. In verses 15 and 17, the Greek word used for "feed" is "bosko", which means to feed. So verses 15-17 say 'feed my lambs, shepherd my lambs, and feed my sheep'. Jesus told Peter alone to be the SHEPHERD of His flock.

In John 10:16, Jesus said, "...and there shall be one fold and ONE SHEPHERD." The Greek word used here is "poimen (masculine, singular)". Clearly, Jesus said in these verses that there will be only ONE SHEPHERD, and that shepherd will be Peter, the first Bishop of Rome and the first Pope.

Acts 15:7, during the first Church Council, the Council of Jerusalem...

And after a long debate, Peter got up and said to them,

"Brethren, you know that in early days GOD made choice among us, that through MY mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the Gospel and believe."

Who made the choice? GOD did. Who did GOD choose? He chose Peter. Now that is primacy.

Some detractors of Peter's primacy try to show that James (Acts 15:13-21), held the primacy simply because he was the Bishop of Jerusalem. Well, he may have been the Bishop of Jerusalem during this Council, but Peter was the Bishop of the whole world. See Acts 1:8, where Jerusalem was only one of many Church locations to be founded by the Apostles. The books of Acts, Revelation, and a few others, record more than 30 additional locations for the Church other than Jerusalem.

Jerusalem would certainly not even have been considered by the Apostles to be the seat of Christianity, as they had been forewarned by Jesus Himself that the city would soon be totally destroyed. This prophecy was fulfilled in 70 A.D. when Roman legions did indeed destroy it.

See Matthew 24 beginning with verse 15.

Eusebius (263-339) Bishop of Caesarea and known as "The Father of Church History", wrote in 'The History of the Church' volume 2 chapter 1, "But Clement in the sixth book of his Hypotyposes writes thus: 'For they say that Peter and James and John after the ascension of our Saviour, as if also preferred by our Lord, strove not after honor, but chose James the Just, bishop of Jerusalem.'"

Peters primacy: Matt 10:2,16:15-19, *Luke 22:24-33,24:34, John 10:16,21:1-11,15-19, Acts 2:14-41, Acts *5:29,9:36-43,10:1-48,11:1-18, *Acts 15:7, 1Cor 15:5.

---

The names of Peter, which include Simon and Cephas, are mentioned more times in the New Testament than any other Apostle.

"Of Peter the most is known. Peter is mentioned 195 times, the rest of the other Apostles combined are only 130 times. The one mentioned next in frequency to Peter is John, to whom there are 29 references."

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen, "Life of Christ", page 106.

The name James, is mentioned a total of 38 times and of that number there were 2 persons, James the Greater, and James the Less. So if James the Less is said to have the primacy, then why is he mentioned so few times compared to Peter?

Every time the names of the Apostles are listed, except for Gal 2:9, his name appears first. In Mt 10:2 it even says that Peter is first, "Now these are the names of the twelve Apostles: first Simon, who is called Peter,...". See also Mk 3:16, Lk 6:13-14, and Acts 1:13.

Peter's name appears first also when 3 or 4 of the Apostles are listed: Mt 17:1, Mk 5:37, Mk 9:2, Mk 13:3, Mk 14:33, Lk 5:8-10, Lk 8:51, Lk 9:28.

As for Gal 2:9, it was customary then, as it is to this very day, to name the Bishop of the Diocese first. If the Pope visited a Diocese, the Bishop would be named ahead of him as it is the proper protocol. In Gal 2, Peter was visiting Jerusalem, as verses 1-8 show.

It never ceases to amaze me that those who deny the Primacy of Peter, will invariably point to this one and only verse where Peter is named second and will completely ignore the many verses which list his name first. If James held the primacy as some would like us to believe, then why is he mentioned first in only one single verse?

Throughout our salvation history, GOD has always provided a 'Father Figure' to guide His people. Some examples are, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, David, Solomon, and Peter and the succession of Popes.

50 New Testament verses which show the 'primacy' of St. Peter....

\ Matthew 16:18: "And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The "rock" (Greek, "petra") referred to here is St. Peter himself, not his faith or Jesus Christ. Christ appears here not as the foundation, but as the architect who "builds." The Church is built, not on confessions, but on confessors - living men (see 1 Pt 2:5). Today, the overwhelming consensus of the great majority of all biblical scholars and commentators is in favor of the traditional Catholic understanding. Here St. Peter is spoken of as the foundation-stone of the Church, making him head and superior of the family of God - that is, the seed of the doctrine of the papacy. Moreover, "Rock" embodies a metaphor applied to him by Christ in a sense analogous to the suffering and despised Messiah (see 1 Pt 2:4-8; Mt 21:42). Without a solid foundation a house falls. St. Peter is the foundation, but not founder of the Church; administrator, but not Lord of the Church. The Good Shepherd (Jn 10:11) gives us other shepherds as well (Eph 4:11).*

\ Matthew 16:19: "And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven." The "power" of the keys has to do with ecclesiastical discipline and administrative authority with regard to the requirements of the faith, as in Isaiah 22:22 (see Is 9:6; Job 12:14; Rev 3:7). From this power flows the use of censures, excommunication, absolution, baptismal discipline, the imposition of penances and legislative powers. In the Old Testament, a steward, or prime minister, is a man who is "over a house" (Gen 41:40; Gen 43:19; 44:4; 1 King 4:6; 16:9; 18:3; 2 King 10:5; 15:5; 18:18; Isa 22:15, Isa 20-21).*

\ Matthew 16:19: "Whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." "Binding" and "loosing" were technical rabbinical terms, which meant to "forbid" and "permit" with reference to the interpretation of the law and, secondarily, to "condemn," "place under the ban" or "acquit." Thus St. Peter and the popes are given the authority to determine the rules for doctrine and life by virtue of revelation and the Spirit's leading (see Jn 16:13), as well as to demand obedience from the Church. "Binding and loosing" represent the legislative and judicial powers of the papacy and the bishops (Mt 18:17-18; Jn 20:23). St. Peter, however, is the only apostle who receives these powers by name and in the singular, making him pre-eminent.*

\ Peter's name occurs first in all lists of apostles (see Mt 10:2; Mk 3:16; Lk 6:14; Acts 1:13). Matthew even calls him "the first" (10:2). (Judas Iscariot is invariably mentioned last.)*

\ Peter is almost without exception named first whenever he appears with anyone else. In one example to the contrary, Galatians 2:9, where he is listed after James and before John, he is clearly preeminent in the entire context (see, for example, Gal 1:18-19; 2:7-8). Taken in context, Paul is in Jerusalem (2:1), the See of James. Protocol, even to this day is for the Bishop of the diocese to be mentioned first before any visitor is mentioned, even for the Pope. Saint Paul is merely following proper protocol in vs 2:9.*

\ Peter alone among the apostles receives a new name, "Rock," solemnly conferred (Jn 1:42; Mt 16:18).*

\ Peter is asked three times by Christ to feed His lambs, is regarded by Jesus as the chief shepherd after himself (Jn 21:15-17), singularly by name, and over the universal Church, even though others have a similar but subordinate role (Acts 20:28; 1 Pt 5:2).*

\ Peter alone among the apostles is mentioned by name as having been prayed for by Jesus Christ in order that his "faith fail not" (Lk 22:32).*

\ Peter alone among the apostles is exhorted by Jesus to "strengthen your brethren" (Lk 22:32).*

- * Peter first confesses Christ's divinity (Mt 16:16).
- * Peter alone is told that he has received divine knowledge by a special revelation (Mt 16:17).
- * Peter is regarded by the Jews (Acts 4:1-13) as the leader and spokesman of Christianity.
- * Peter is regarded by the common people in the same way (Act 2:37-41;5:15).
- * Jesus Christ uniquely associates himself and Peter in the miracle of the tribute money (Mt 17:24-27).
- * Christ teaches from Peter's boat, and the miraculous catch of fish follows (Lk 5:1-11) perhaps a metaphor for the pope as a "fisher of men" (Mt 4:19).
- * Peter was the first apostle to set out for, and enter, the empty tomb (Lk 24:12; Jn 20:5-6).
- * Peter is specified by an angel as the leader and representative of the apostles (Mk 16:7).
- * Peter leads the apostles in fishing (Jn 21:2-3,11). The "bark" (boat) of Peter has been regarded by Catholics as a figure of the Church, with Peter at the helm.
- * Peter alone casts himself into the sea to come to Jesus (Jn 21:7).
- * Peter's words are the first recorded and most important in the Upper Room before Pentecost (Acts 1:15-22).
- * Peter takes the lead in calling for a replacement for Judas (Acts 1:22).
- * Peter is the first person to speak (and only one recorded) after Pentecost, so he was the first Christian to "preach the Gospel" in the Church era (Acts 2:14-36).
- * Peter works the first miracle of the Church Age, healing a lame man (Acts 3:6-12).
- * Peter utters the first anathema (Ananias and Sapphira) emphatically affirmed by God (Acts 5:2-11).
- * Peter's shadow works miracles (Acts 5:15).
- * Peter is the first person after Christ to raise the dead (Acts 9:40).
- * Cornelius is told by an angel to seek out Peter for instruction in Christianity (Acts 10:1- 6).
- * Peter is the first to receive the Gentiles, after a revelation from God (Acts 10:9-48).
- * Peter instructs the other apostles on the catholicity (universality) of the Church (Acts 11:5-17).
- * Peter is the object of the first divine interposition on behalf of an individual in the Church Age (an angel delivers him from prison - Acts 12:1-17).

Is Peter "Rock", or is he only a "pebble"?

Non-Catholic Christians charge that Peter is not the "rock" because the Greek word used for "rock" in this verse means a little pebble. Right away, it is obvious from the very beginning, that there is a translation problem here. Scholars have determined that Matthew was not written in Greek, but in Aramaic, and was soon translated into Greek, so we have to go to the original written language to find the true meaning of this verse.

Peter was called "Cephas" or "Kepha(s)" in Aramaic, by Christ in Matthew 16:18, and it means a large massive stone or rock. Christ said this at Caesarea Philippi, the site of a large rock mass. See Matthew 16:13. The Aramaic word for a small stone or pebble is "evna". "Kepha", when translated to the Greek language means "Petra" (a large rock) or "Petros" (a small stone). However, unlike Aramaic words which have no gender, Greek words do have gender, and "Petra" is feminine. Translators from the Aramaic to the Greek, changed the word to the masculine gender or "Petros" because they were unwilling to assign a name with feminine gender to a man.

In Matthew 16:18, it is correct to say that Jesus would have said, "You are 'Kepha', and upon this 'Kepha', I will build My Church." In Greek, it would translate to, "You are 'Petros', and upon this 'Petra', I will build My Church." It was the translation of the Aramaic word, "Kepha" (Cephas), into the Greek language that caused the confusion among some who look upon Peter as not being called "rock", but only a "pebble".

Matthew 16:13, 18, John 1:42, 1Corinthians 1:12, 3:22, 9:5, 15:5, Galatians 2:8-9

Detractors argue that Peter could not be the rock because GOD is, 2Samuel 22:2. Well, not only does Scripture call Peter the rock, but it also calls Abraham the rock, in Isaiah 51:1-2. Also, who is the Light of the World? Jesus Christ is in John 8:12, but yet the Disciples are in Matthew 5:14. The words "Rock" and "Light of the World" are not limited to describe GOD alone.

Sent!

It is the Overlooked Little Word of Supreme Importance...

---

Romans 10:14 "But how are men to call upon him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without a preacher?"

In this verse we see that in order to properly hear the word of GOD so that they may believe, there is a condition attached.

They cannot "believe in Him" unless they have heard it, and have heard it from a preacher.

Does that verse mean any preacher, even a false one (2Cor 11:12-15)?

No, definitely not, for Holy Scripture teaches that it could not be just any preacher, but only a preacher who is sent by GOD.

The very next verse will teach us this.

Romans 10:15, And how can men preach unless they are sent? As it is written (Isaiah 52:7, Nahum 1:15*), "How beautiful are the feet of those who preach good news!" (Please note that "good news" is the meaning of the word "Gospel".)

"And how can men preach unless they are sent?" Sent?

If anyone has been sent, then it stands to reason that "someone" had to do the sending. Isn't that true?

And if someone had to do the sending, the word sent by itself implies authority.

By simple deduction, and by common sense, the question must be asked that they who were sent then, were sent by whom?

In this verse we can see and hear the death knell of the "Once saved, always saved" false belief.

The word for "sent", as used in the Greek language of which the book of Romans was written, is apostello.

Doesn't that sound like another Biblical word for which we are all familiar?

Apostello means to send out properly on a mission. From apostello we get the Greek word "apostolos", meaning "Apostle".

The Greek word "Apostolos" means "he who is sent".

So who are the "they" who are those sent, and by whom are "they" sent?

The same Greek word, apostello, is used by Jesus Christ when He spoke to His "Apostolos" in John 20:21:

"Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you."

It is obvious that those who are sent (apostello) by GOD are also given authority by Jesus Christ who is GOD.

That authority was delegated to the Apostles alone by Jesus Christ.

Romans 10:15 had said, "And how can men preach unless they are sent?" I must ask, "Sent by whom and with what authority?"

"And He appointed twelve, to be with Him, and to be sent out to preach..." Mark 3:14

So, those who are sent, are sent with the authority given to them by GOD. Consequently, the only persons authorized to preach were the Apostles, and those who followed them in a long line of succession, the office of the Bishops (Psalms 109:8, Acts 1:20).

This was said by Saint Paul:

"So, if I brag a little too much about the authority which the Lord gave us, I'm not ashamed. The Lord gave us this authority to help you, not to hurt you." 2Corinthians 10:8

In addition there were a few others mentioned in Scripture who were appointed directly by the Lord such as the seventy who were sent in Luke 10:1.

There is another Greek word for sent, and it is pempo.

Pempo is used in verses where sent means not sent with the authority of GOD, such as in Matthew 14:10.

Non-Catholic preachers will have a hard time trying to prove that they were sent by the authority of GOD since they are not in the line of succession going all the way back to the Apostles. So by what authority do these persons preach? They cannot claim that "GOD told me" either, since that would be, at most, only a private revelation if that, and not a public one, so how could anyone "prove" that their claim to "GOD told me" is to be believed? Anyone can utter the excuse that "GOD told me!". History is replete with heretics, criminals, dictators, and despots who used that term as their supposed justification for their evil deeds.

In Numbers 12:1-2, Miriam and Aaron complained against Moses, "Is it through Moses alone that the Lord speaks? Does He not speak through us also?" "And the Lord heard this."

Now read the rest of that chapter and see what the Lord did to them for their false claim. GOD has always spoken through one "Father figure", be it Noah, Abraham, Moses, David, Peter, and on down through Peter's successors for almost 2000 years. GOD is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. Today, as in the past, He does not speak through multiple father figures who do not have the fullness of truth, but speaks only through His one authoritative Vicar of Christ on earth.

In Luke 10:16, Jesus said, "He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me." That verse is a verse of authority and it is a verse of infallibility as well. It is a verse also of obedience for those who were sent. Now there are well over 39,000 non-Catholic sects, each with at least one preacher and all of them are preaching something different from one another. So, given the fact that there can be only one truth and with obedience to only one authority, which one of those tens of thousands is the model of obedience and has the authority and infallibility given to him or her by Jesus Christ?

Which one of the tens of thousands of them could lay claim to Luke 10:16?

"...and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me." What else could this part of Luke 10:16 mean other than to be applied to those who reject the teaching of His "Apostolos" and their successors through the one Church which He founded?

"Neither does any man take the honour to himself, but he that is called by God, as Aaron was."
Hebrews 5:4

"He who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory;
but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true,
and in him there is no falsehood."
John 7:18

"Some were sent, but others just went."

Was Peter Ever in Rome?

Some Non-Catholics will say anything in order to try and "prove" that Saint Peter, the first "Bishop of Rome" was never in Rome. By doing this they hope to discredit Peter as having the primacy, and thus by so doing they attempt to deny that he was the first Pope, and therefore the Catholic claim of Apostolic Succession would fall apart. By denying Apostolic Succession they would then try to show that the Catholic Church is not the Church which Jesus Christ founded. Interestingly, if they ever reached that point (which they never could), then it would be impossible for them to fill the void of which church Jesus Christ did found if it were not the Catholic Church. So, they have presented a circular argument for themselves, an argument which has no beginning and no end.

It is a futile attempt on their part, as they completely ignore an overwhelming deposit of genuine historical documents, and expect knowledgeable people to do the same.

Here are a few of their charges...

And why they fall apart.

1. Holy Scripture does not say that Peter was ever in Rome...

Well, let us see! Holy Scripture does not deny that Peter was ever in Rome either, does it?

So nothing at all was gained by this charge, if you are a Sola Scriptura or Bible only believer.

Is Holy Scripture supposed to be "all encompassing", and the sole source for all historical facts?

Does it say that it is? Did you ever read John 21:25?

However, surprisingly, Holy Scripture does, in fact, say that Peter was in Rome...

Peter wrote,

"The Church which is at Babylon, chosen together with you, greets you, and so does my son Mark."

1Pet 5:13.

Where is this Babylon? By the time the New Testament was written, the city of Babylon, in what is now Iraq, was of almost no importance. Its days of glory were long past in the Old Testament.

Christians were under constant persecution by both the Jews and the Romans from the very beginning and had to practice the faith underground in the homes of believers, and in the catacombs of Rome. In order to recognize one another as fellow Christians, they used code words and symbols.

The fish symbol (ichthos) was used for recognition, and Babylon was the code word for Rome.

If Peter had said he was writing from Rome, then no doubt, the Romans would have begun an intensive search for him.

2. Holy Scripture tells us that the Roman Emperor Claudius (41-54) ordered all Jews to leave Rome (Acts 18:2). Peter was a Jew, but the Church was an underground Church in hiding at the time. Well that charge to leave Rome, even implies that Peter could have been in Rome doesn't it? Eusebius wrote in "The Chronicle" (Ad An Dom 42), that Peter, after establishing the Church in Antioch, went to Rome where he remained as Bishop of Rome for 25 years. We know from other early writings that Peter was crucified upside down in Rome in 67 A.D.. That date, minus 25 years would put him in Rome in the year 42, during the reign of Claudius. Again, this charge can be dismissed for the same reasons given already, that the Church was forced to practice the faith in an underground situation in order to avoid persecution. The Romans had a policy of hunting down and persecuting all of the Apostles.

---

Here are more genuine historical writings attesting to the fact that Peter was indeed in Rome, and that he died there...

St Irenaeus, "Against Heresies", 3,1,1, 180 A.D., J208

"...in their own dialect, while Peter and Paul were evangelizing at Rome, and laying the foundations of the Church."

St Irenaeus, "Against Heresies", chapter III,

"...the very ancient, and universally known Church founded and organized at Rome by the two most glorious apostles, Peter and Paul; as also [by pointing out] the faith preached to men, which comes down to our time by means of the successions of the bishops."

Eusebius, "History of the Church", 2,14,6, 300 A.D., J651dd

In the same reign of Claudius, the all-good and gracious providence which watches over all things guided Peter, the great and mighty one among the Apostles, who, because of his virtue, was the spokesman for all the others, to Rome."

Tertullian, "The demurrer against the heretics", chapter XXXII,1,

"...like the church of the Romans where Clement was ordained by Peter."

Who has the authority to ordain priests? Only Bishops do. Clement was ordained by the Bishop of Rome, Peter.

Saint Peter of Alexandria, "The Canonical Letter", canon 9, 306 A.D.

"Peter, the first chosen of the Apostles, having been apprehended often and thrown into prison and treated with ignominy, at last was crucified in Rome."

Eusebius, "The Chronicle" Ad An.Dom 68, J651cc

"Nero is the first, in addition to all his other crimes, to make a persecution against the Christians, in which Peter and Paul died gloriously in Rome."

Eusebius, "History of the Church", 3,2, 300 A.D., J652a

"After the martyrdom of Paul and Peter, Linus was the first appointed to the Episcopacy of the Church at Rome."

Lactantius, "Of the manner in which the persecutors died":

This letter is addressed to Donatus. It not only shows that Peter was actually in Rome, but that he died there also at the hands of Nero. Chapter II. "His apostles were at that time eleven in number, to whom were added Matthias, in the room of the traitor Judas, and afterwards Paul. Then were they dispersed throughout all the earth to preach the Gospel, as the Lord their Master had commanded them; and during twenty-five years, and until the beginning of the reign of the Emperor Nero, they occupied themselves in laying the foundations of the Church in every province and city. And while Nero reigned, the Apostle Peter came to Rome, and, through the power of God committed unto him, wrought certain miracles, and, by turning many to the true religion, built up a faithful and steadfast temple unto the Lord. When Nero heard of those things, and observed that not only in Rome, but in every other place, a great multitude revolted daily from the worship of idols, and, condemning their old ways, went over to the new religion, he, an execrable and pernicious tyrant, sprung forward to raze the heavenly temple and destroy the true faith. He it was who first persecuted the servants of God; he crucified Peter, and slew Paul: nor did he escape with impunity; for God looked on the affliction of His people; and therefore the tyrant, bereaved of authority, and precipitated from the height of empire, suddenly disappeared, and even the burial-place of that noxious wild beast was nowhere to be seen."

Saint Damasus I, "The Decree of Damasus" 3, 382 A.D., J910u

"The first see, therefore, is that of Peter the Apostle, that of the Roman Church, which has neither stain nor blemish nor anything like it."

Saint Augustine, "Letter to Generosus", 53,1,2, 400 A.D., J1418

"If the very order of episcopal succession is to be considered, how much more surely, truly, and safely do we number them from Peter himself, to whom, as to one representing the whole Church, the Lord said: "Upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not conquer it."

Has anyone ever considered archaeological evidence?

I have presented much authentic documentation that Peter was indeed in Rome, so now let us look at the physical evidence.

Peter's tomb has been found. It was found under the altar of St. Peters Basilica in Rome in 1965. The tomb is plainly marked with his name and there are human remains within it. Anyone who visits St. Peters can see the tomb for himself

---

Other early writings which show that Peter was indeed in Rome...

Dionysius of Corinth in his letter to the 12th Pope Soter in 170 A.D.

Clement of Corinth in his letter to the Corinthians in 70 A.D.

Peter of Alexandria, in his work called 'Penance' in 311.

St Ignatius of Antioch, in his letter to the Romans, about 107.

I have presented several early Church writings in this letter, and there are many others to show that Peter was indeed in Rome, that he and Paul founded the Church there, that he was the first Bishop of Rome, now called the Pope, and that he died there.

For those who charge that Peter was never in Rome, I challenge them to provide genuine historical documents as proof of support for their position. If they have no genuine proof of what they charge, then they have only false charges.

Sola Scriptura

Only the Bible...

Some people will say, "If it is not in the Bible, I will not believe it." Ask them if they believe in the Holy Trinity. If they say 'yes, of course', then say, "O.K. then find the word 'Trinity' for me in the Bible." They can't find it because that word is not in the Bible. How then can anyone who believes in the Holy Trinity say, 'SOLA SCRIPTURA' (only the Bible)? Do you sincerely believe the Bible is the Holy Word of GOD, and is the truth? Do you feel if it is in the Bible, you can believe it? Do you feel if it is not in the Bible, you will not believe it? But what about 'Tradition'? Some people will say 'Tradition' is just something the Catholic Church uses and we can't really believe it because if it isn't written, it can't be true. 'SOLA SCRIPTURA'...

Let's look at this more closely... Now some are saying, they believe in the 'Trinity', of which, the word is not in the Bible (neither is the word 'Incarnation' but most Christians believe in it), but they don't believe in 'Tradition' which IS in the Bible. What? 'Tradition' is in the Bible...?

Well for starters, look in your Bible in Thessalonians: 2Thes 2:15, 'Therefore brethren, stand fast, and hold the TRADITIONS which ye have been taught, whether by WORD, or our Epistle'. This verse is telling you to honor the traditions which have been handed down by word of mouth from generation to generation. SOLA SCRIPTURA...? No way, "For the Bible tells me so." An 'apparent' Bible conflict with 2Thes 2:15, is Col 2:8, "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the 'tradition' of MEN, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ." However the Bible refers to two types of 'Tradition', human 'tradition' (small 't') handed down by men and not after Christ (as stated in Col 2:8), and apostolic 'Tradition' (capital 'T'), handed down from the 'Word of GOD', the teachings of Jesus Christ Himself, and the on going teaching of the Church. The condemnations of tradition in Mt 15:3, Mk 7:9, and Col 2:8 refer to bad human traditions. 2Thes 2:15 refers to apostolic tradition, the 'Word of GOD'. See references at the end of this file.

It is generally accepted that Moses wrote the first few books of the Old Testament. His time was many hundreds of years later than the time of Adam and Eve, and others in these first books. He had no 'Bible' with which to refer while writing Genesis, but he was inspired by GOD, and he did have 'Tradition', handed down to him from generation to generation.

Jesus Christ taught orally, the 'spoken word'. He did not write a book. The only record that He wrote anything at all is in Jn 8:6-8, "Jesus stooped down and with His finger wrote on the ground." We do not even know what He wrote. The first book of the New Testament was written many years after His death. Where did the New Testament writers get their source, Sola Scriptura? There was no Scriptura to draw from at that time, so 'Tradition' had to have played a big role in the writing of these books. If you had no Tradition, you would have no Bible.

There were many books written before and after the New Testament. The Bible does not say that it is the only book to be believed. Many say Peter was not the first Pope, because the Bible does not say he was ever in Rome. It does not say he wasn't there either. Many other writings of the same era (Eusebius Pamphilius, for example), say he was indeed in Rome, and he died there. This was shown to be true, as his tomb was found under St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. In Matthew 1:1-17, we have the 'begats', the genealogy of Jesus Christ (v1,17). It is interesting to note that the genealogy is for Jesus' foster father, St. Joseph, who was not His real Father and not a blood relation. The genealogy of Mary, His real mother, a blood relation, who gave Him birth is not stated in Matthew's begats. After all, the substance of the blood that flowed through the veins of Jesus came from Mary. It was 'TRADITIONAL' for the Jews to show the genealogy of the males and not the females. This clearly shows that 'Tradition' played a big role in the written Word of the Holy Bible.

* Note! The Bible does show Mary to be of the house of David. If you will compare: Gen 3:15, "I will put enmity between thy seed and her 'SEED' (Jesus)..." Rom 1:3, "Concerning His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the 'SEED' of David according to the flesh." Lk 1:32, "...and the Lord GOD will give Him the throne of David His father, and He shall be King over the house of Jacob forever." Also see, Isa 7:13-14, Jn 7:42, Acts 2:29-30, 13:22-23, 2Tim 2:8, Rev 5:5.

Some other words, with a similar meaning to the word, 'Tradition', are used throughout the Bible. Some examples are: Mt 28:20, "TEACHING them to OBSERVE ALL THINGS WHATSOEVER I HAVE COMMANDED YOU." Jn 15:20, "REMEMBER the Word that I have spoken to you." Jn 15:27, "And you also shall BEAR WITNESS, because you have been with Me from the beginning." 1Cor 11:2, 'Now I praise you brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ORDINANCES (the Greek text says, 'keep the TRADITIONS'), as I delivered them to you'. 1Cor 15:2, 'By which ye are saved, if ye keep in MEMORY what I preached to you, unless ye have believed in vain'. Isa 59:21, '...My words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and forever'. Isaiah said it all... See also, 2Tim 1:13, 2Tim 2:2, 2Tim 3:14, 1Pet 1:25, 1Jn 2:24, 2Jn 1:12

Another verse using the word, 'tradition' (human tradition) is: Gal 1:14, 'And profited in the Jews religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the TRADITIONS of my fathers'.

Here is an interesting verse. Read Acts 20:35. "In all things I have shown you that by so toiling you ought to help the weak and REMEMBER the word of the Lord Jesus, that He Himself said, 'IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE'." The word 'REMEMBER', doesn't it mean 'KEEP THE TRADITION'? And if that isn't enough, try to find where the Lord said, 'IT IS MORE BLESSED TO GIVE THAN TO RECEIVE', in the Gospels. You can't because it isn't there. Paul passed this phrase to the people by none other than 'TRADITION'.

There are several events in the New Testament which cannot be traced to the Old Testament and so must have been handed down by TRADITION. Some examples are: Mt 2:23 - Nazarene, 2Tim 3:8 - Jamnes and Jambres, Jude 9 - St.Michael disputing with the devil about the body of Moses.

It has been said, that all that is written in the Gospels cumulatively, would only cover 18 days in the life of Jesus Christ. He lived for 33 years or  $33 \times 365 = 12045$  days. What about the missing 12027 days? Where are the 'writings' of over 99% of His life? A good part is probably lost, and the remainder is, no doubt...TRADITION!

How can anyone dismiss what John says in: John 20:30 and 21:25 Jn 21:25, 'And there are also MANY OTHER THINGS WHICH JESUS DID, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the WORLD ITSELF COULD NOT CONTAIN THE BOOKS THAT SHOULD BE WRITTEN. AMEN'. Amen is right...

So what does all this mean...? In a few words, 'KEEP THE TRADITIONS'.

The 'triangle'...

Have you ever looked at an equilateral triangle (equal lengths and angles in all dimensions)? It is the strongest, most rigid geometric form in existence. You see a lot of them in use in bridges to add strength. The Catholic Church is very careful to preserve 'Tradition'. It is one leg of a triangle of Church teaching. The other two legs are Holy Scripture and the Magisterium. No one leg can subsist without the other two. We have a triangle in the Holy Trinity, a triangle in the teaching of the Church, and a triangle in each living person, a body, soul, and spirit. The legs of each of these 3 triangles cannot be separated and still retain the attributes, integrity, and the meaning of the whole.

For those who of you who believe in Sola Scriptura, I ask you: "SOLA SCRIPTURA, show me in the Bible where it says, SOLA SCRIPTURA, only the Bible." YOU WILL NOT FIND IT. Since you do not believe anything unless it is written in Scripture, how can you possibly believe in Sola Scriptura when it cannot be found in Scripture?

St. Augustine, Martin Luther's guide and mentor, ought to have the last word about Sola Scriptura. He said, "But for the authority of the Church, I would not believe the Gospel."

"Remember the Word that I have spoken to you."
John 15:20

---

"But how are they to believe Him who they have not heard? And how to they hear if no one preaches? And how are men to preach unless they be sent?...Faith then begins on hearing, and hearing on the word of Christ."

Sola Scriptura II

SOLA SCRIPTURA...PART 2

Sola Scriptura means, 'If it is not in the Bible, I will not believe it'. Ask a Protestant if he believes in Sola Scriptura. If he/she says 'yes', then ask, 'Why, by what authority do you believe this'? In order for anyone to practice Sola Scriptura, then the Scripture for believing that doctrine must be found in the Bible, or else how can they believe it? They will invariably point to 2Tim 3:16-17, "All Scripture is inspired by GOD, and useful for teaching, for reproof, for correcting, for instructing in justice; that the man of GOD may be perfect, equipped for every good work."

---

Now let us use our good old 'common sense' and examine these verses.

---

1. Q. Does verse 16 say 'ONLY' Scripture? No, it says 'ALL' Scripture. Now just what does this mean? What is 'ALL' Scripture? 2Timothy was written by St. Paul at about 65-66 A.D., since he was martyred soon after in 67 A.D.. What Scripture did Paul refer to? What Scripture was available to Timothy at this early time in Christianity?

A. During the first century, the Scripture used by the early Christians was the Old Testament. It was a Jewish work known as the Septuagint, a translation of the Hebrew O.T. into Greek, the language used in the whole region at the time. There was no New Testament for hundreds of years until the 'Council of Carthage' in 397, assembled the individual 27 books into what we now have. So if you believe in 2Tim 3:16-17, as the authority for Sola Scriptura, then you have to throw out the New Testament and make do with the Old. That is called 'Judaism'. By the way, the Septuagint included the Apocrypha, called Deuterocanonicals by Catholics, the seven books of the O.T. not included in protestant Bibles. Now fundamentalists are put in the awkward position of having to accept the Apocrypha if they cling to 2Tim 3:16-17.

2. Q. But weren't there were a few N.T. books written by the time Paul wrote 2 Tim?

A. Some of Paul's letters were written before 2Tim, and Mark about 50-65, and Luke in the early 60's. But none of these were in use at the time. Besides, this whole question becomes moot if you back up and read 2Tim 3:15, "For from your infancy you have known the Sacred Writings.." If Paul wrote 2Tim in 66, and Timothy was then a Bishop, then Timothy in his infancy, pushed the time back to around 36, many years before the first N.T. book was written. Again it was the O.T. only, that Paul had to have referred to at that time.

3. Q. How can it be O.T. only? Did not the Apostles teach about Jesus Christ and all that He had done?

A. You are absolutely right. They followed to the letter, the command of the Lord in Mt 28:20, "teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you..." Did Jesus command that the Apostles should write a book? No, He said go out and teach. Now what does this mean? How about 'Tradition'? The Apostles taught of Jesus Christ by word of mouth, handing down what they had been taught, verbally. That is a very good explanation of the meaning of Tradition. Read the Acts of the Apostles.

4. Q. What about 'useful for teaching'?

A. Useful? Yes! Use 'only' the Bible for teaching and nothing else? No! After all, a screwdriver is useful for putting in screws but another tool is needed to hammer a nail. Paul does not say Scripture is the 'only' means of teaching.

5. Q. But verse 17 said the man of GOD may be perfect, equipped for every good work.

A. Yes, but who is the 'man of GOD'. Don't forget, Paul is addressing Timothy, the Bishop of Ephesus, and truly a 'man of GOD'. A man of GOD needs Scripture to perform his 'good work'. Does it say 'fully' equipped for every good work? How about if I showed you another passage with almost the same wording, but about another subject. Would you believe that one too as being self sufficient? Look at Jam 1:4, "And let patience have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and entire, lacking nothing." Now using the Protestant logic here, then 'patience' is all that is needed to be 'perfect', and 'entire'. Hmmm, I thought Scripture was all that was needed in 2 Timothy!

Now to sum it up and tie it all in a neat little package, we have to back up one more verse to 2Tim 3:14, "But do you continue in the things you have learned and that have been entrusted to you, knowing of whom you have learned them." What is this verse telling us? Paul said, 'continue in the things I have taught you'. Paul taught them orally as demonstrated time and again in Acts. He tells Timothy to continue in the traditions. If you take 2Tim 3:14-17 in context, Paul tells Timothy to keep the traditions at first, and then to use Scriptures to advantage at the end. He is saying, 'Tradition', and 'Scripture' go hand in hand. Sola Scriptura therefore is not Biblical.

Sola Scriptura is not historical either, as the 'doctrine' did not exist for the first 1500 years of Christianity. There were no Bibles for the masses, as each one had to be hand copied by Monks. Each copy took many years to produce and they were prohibitively expensive. Even if copies were plentiful, which they weren't, the vast majority of the population of the world was illiterate and could not read them anyway. Sola Scriptura is therefore not workable, as there was no Scripture for the 'masses' to use.

The false doctrine of Sola Scriptura, first proclaimed by Martin Luther, created the 'everyone for himself' syndrome for Bible interpretation. Each individual would claim, 'the Holy Spirit told me'. This thinking flies into the face of what the Bible actually teaches, that individual interpretation of Scripture cannot be done. See Acts 8:27-39, and 2Pet 1:20, and 2Pet 3:16-18. Belief in Sola Scriptura is the primary reason for the fact that there are over 28,000 splinters in Protestantism. There can be only one truth, and yet each splinter claims, 'the Holy Spirit told me'. Each claims the truth, yet each has differences with the others. Truth is one; therefore all Churches should be united in the one truth. Are we led to believe there over 28,000 Holy Spirits, each telling a protestant sect something different, or maybe one Holy Spirit giving a different truth to each? The doctrine of Sola Scripture is clearly a false doctrine invented by mere men, and has no Scriptural basis whatsoever.

Anyone who believes in the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura, and rejects tradition, is taking away from the Word of GOD. They are therefore in violation of all of the Bible verses which admonish, "Do not add to, or take away from, the Word of GOD." Deut 4:2, 11:32, 13:1, Psa 12:7, 33:4, Psa 50:16-17, Prov 5:7, 30:5-6, Jer 23:36, Gal 1:8, 1Pet 1:24-25, 2Pet 3:15-16, Rev 22:18-20

---

I think if anyone is really serious about believing in Sola Scriptura, then he must agree that the Bible has to spell out the doctrine, or he cannot believe in it. If that is the case, then please, someone show me the verse, so I can believe in Sola Scriptura too?

Where is the Reference?

Bible Christians, believers in Sola Scriptura, teach that the Bible is complete and that it is all that is needed. They teach that all answers are given by Scripture. I wish to refute that thinking by showing that there are a lot of questions brought up in Scripture that are not answered therein. So where do we go to find those answers so that we have the fullness of truth and not just some of it?

---

Matthew 11:21, "Woe to thee, Corozain...For if in Tyre and Sidon had been worked the miracles that have been worked in you, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes."

What are these miracles in Corozain? Where is the reference?

---

Matthew 23:2, "The Scribes and the Pharisees have sat on the chair of Moses."

Where is this 'chair of Moses' referenced in Scripture?

---

Acts 20:35, "In all things I have shown you that by so toiling you ought to help the weak and REMEMBER the Word of the Lord Jesus, that He Himself said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

Show me the verse where Jesus said these words.

Matthew 2:23, "And He went and settled in a town called Nazareth; that there might be fulfilled what was spoken through the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene."

In what verse did the prophets say this?

James 4:5, "Or do you think that the Scripture says in vain, 'The Spirit which dwells in you covets unto jealousy.'"

Where does Scripture reference this?

Who are Jannes and Jambres? Where is the reference? If you know, by what means did you find it?

---

Hebrews 11:35, "Women had their dead restored to them by resurrection. Others were tortured, refusing to accept release, that they might find a better resurrection."

Who are these 'others', the ones searching for a better resurrection? Where is the Bible reference?

---

Jude 1:9, "Yet when Michael the Archangel was fiercely disputing with the devil about the body of Moses..."

Where can this 'dispute' be found in Holy Scripture?

---

Jude 1:14, "Now of these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, 'Behold, the Lord has come with thousands of His holy ones.'"

Where is this prophecy in Scripture? Where is the reference?

---

Since non-Catholics are bound to Scripture and Scripture only (Sola Scriptura), the purpose of this file is to show that everything is not in the Bible. Answers to some of the questions asked here can be found through Tradition, and others through the seven books that non-Catholics do not have in their Bibles. Some can be found in the multitude of apocryphal writings, and in the very large library of writings by the Church Fathers. Others simply cannot be found anywhere but have been lost forever for various reasons. It is thought that about 400,000 priceless historical writings alone were lost due to the great fire in the library of Alexandria Egypt in 48 B.C. (the actual date is debatable). Others have been lost simply by the deterioration of the scroll media used by the various authors of antiquity. Catholics have the fullness of truth since they can draw on so many resources outside of Scripture as mentioned above. Protestantism has many pieces missing to their puzzle of GOD's salvation history unless they are willing to search the Catholic sources listed. As long as they cling to the false doctrine of sola scriptura, they will never see the full picture. They will never have the fullness of truth.

The Legacy Of The One Legged Stool...

The Deposit of Faith of the Catholic Church consists of Holy Scripture, Sacred Tradition, and the Magisterium in conjunction with our holy Father the Pope. You can equate it to a three legged stool, with each leg having its own specific function. This three legged stool is also firmly implanted on the solid rock of the Catholic Church. See Matt 16:18, John 1:42, Eph 2:20, 1Pet 2:4-8

---

A three legged stool has strength, is sturdy, stable, steadfast and stalwart. That is all well and good. However, what happens when you cut off one leg? The stool becomes unstable and falls over.

---

During the Protestant reformation, the reformers separated themselves from one of those three legs of stability. They rejected the Pope and the Magisterium, the teaching authority of the Catholic Church. They purposely chopped off one leg of the stool, and by doing so, they lost all authority. They lost the arbitrator of disputes between opposing viewpoints regarding faith and morals.

See Ex 18:13-26 for an important typological precedent, and Matt 18:15-18.

They cut themselves off from the Foundation and the Pillar of Truth which is the Catholic Church. See 1Tim 3:15.

They also made for themselves an unstable stool, one which was shaky and was easily subject to tipping over and shattering.

Since the reformers lost all authority, to whom, or to what, could they turn to fill the void? They turned to the only resource they had, the Holy Bible, a product of the Catholic Church by the way. (See "Is The Catholic Church The Mother Of The Bible Or The Daughter" for the factual details)

In so doing, they declared that the Bible was the sole source of authority, and they proceeded to fabricate a false man made tradition called "Sola Scriptura", or "Bible Alone", in order to promulgate it.

See "The Origin of Sola Scriptura" for an historical treatise on this subject.

Now, throughout Scripture, there is scattered yet a second leg of the Catholic Deposit of Faith to which the reformers could not lay claim. It is Holy Tradition, Apostolic Tradition, GOD's Traditions for which the Church was commanded to keep, and which she had already protected and preserved, for almost 1500 years by the time of the reformation.

*See Psa 44:1, Isa 40:8, ***Isa 59:21, ***John 15:20, Acts 20:35, 1 Cor 2:13, ***1Cor 11:2, Phil 2:16, ***Phil 4:9, ***2 Thess 2:15. ***2Tim 1:13-14, ***2Tim 2:2, ***2Tim 3:14, ***2Tim 4:3, and 1Pet 1:25.*

It is only man-made traditions which are condemned by Holy Scripture.

*See ***Matt 15:2-9, ***Mark 7:3-13, ***1Cor 2:13, ***Col 2:8, ***1Tim 1:4, and ***Tit 1:14*

---

Non-Catholics fail to realize that the Bible is nothing more than Tradition written down. For the first three hundred years of Christianity, there was no New Testament as we know it now. Jesus did not found a book. He founded a teaching Church.

Reformers were forced to cut off yet a second leg from their stool. Now they had only one wobbly leg left to balance on, and balance they did not do for very long at all, not even for one year.

Since the Authority of the Magisterium for Bible interpretation was no longer available, the reformers made a fateful decision that would result in a disaster that grew so fast that they could no longer control it. They had decided that everyone could go his own way in Bible interpretation. This was yet another man made tradition forbidden by Holy Scripture.

See ***Acts 8:26-40, ***2Pet 1:19-21, and ***2Pet 3:16.

The one legged stool fell to the ground and shattered into many pieces. Individual interpretation of Holy Scripture immediately resulted in squabbles and splits in Protestantism which continue to this very day. In 1521, the same year that Martin Luther split from the Catholic Church, Thomas Munser split from Luther. By 1600 there were over 200 splits. By 1900, there were over 1000. Now in 2006, there are over 38,000 splits in the Body of Christ. The splits are continuing to this very day with an estimated 3-5 new splits every week. In addition, all of the major Protestant sects are splitting within themselves. All of this madness was caused by the man-made false doctrines of Sola Scriptura and individual interpretation of Holy Scripture, both of which were started by the reformers.

Martin Luther lamented when he saw the damage that individual interpretation of Scripture had done to his Protestant movement. See several quotes from him regarding his distress over the Protestant splits in "The Origin of Sola Scriptura".

The stool of Protestantism is a shambles. It has shattered into thousands of pieces, and there is no one in Protestantism who has the authority to put the pieces together again. A stool needs three legs to stand tall. It cannot stand on one for long. As soon as the winds of change rise, it will topple over and shatter as did this one.

The Bible clearly says to keep the traditions of GOD and the Apostles, and to condemn the keeping of man-made traditions, as shown above. Isn't it strange that Protestantism condemns keeping and preserving all traditions by the Catholic Church, while at the same time, they in turn, follow two man-made traditions of their own making?

---

"And other sheep I have that are not of this fold. Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice, and there shall be ONE FOLD and ONE SHEPHERD."

John 10:16

See also, Isa 40:11, and 1Pet 2:25

---

Where is the ONE FOLD and the ONE SHEPHERD in Protestantism?

"Has Christ been divided up?" 1Cor 1:13

Sola Scriptura, The Anemic Man-made False Doctrine!

"All scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, equipped for every good work."
2Timothy 3:16-17

Those are the most common verses which non-Catholic sects use in a vain attempt to "prove" that the man made false doctrine of 'Sola Scriptura', or 'Bible Only' is Biblical. However, when these people quote Holy Scripture, they will invariably quote a verse or two entirely out of context. Before anyone even begins to discern the message of what Scripture is really trying to present, they must abide by the established rules, the main axioms of discernment of Holy Scripture, one of which is that you never take verses out of context. It is the context, the senses, and the literary genre, which must be taken into consideration for proper discernment. It is a virtual impossibility for any writer to put into words the true meaning of what he is trying to convey, without someone misconstruing and twisting his intended message. That is why having only one authority for proper discernment is of paramount importance.

"In these epistles there are certain things difficult to understand, which the unlearned and unstable distort, just as they do the rest of the Scriptures also, to their own destruction."

2Peter 3:16

No one should ever quote individual verses out of context in order to try to "prove" something other than what the author had intended to convey. When those two verses from 2Timothy 3 are put into their proper context, they do not mean at all what non-Catholics say they mean. I will prove this by suggesting that before continuing on this page, that you take this detour in order for you to put into proper context, the meaning that Saint Paul had intended for those two verses, and then please return here.

Some food for thought:

Before continuing, I would ask that 'If all Scripture is inspired by GOD', then why aren't the Gospels of Peter, Paul, and Thomas included in your Bible? What answer to that question does Sola Scriptura provide?

Now that we have those two verses in proper perspective, let us "pretend" that Sola Scriptura (from here on truncated to 'SS') really does exist, and that it is Biblical. Here are a few thoughts for you to ponder regarding exactly what you have with SS, but more importantly, what you do not have.

Since you have branched to the link above and now have seen the proper context, you now must realize that all you have from those two verses is the Old Testament, and with it all of the seven books rejected by the reformers.

When 2Timothy 3:16 and 17 are taken in proper context, the false doctrine of SS cannot claim the New Testament.

Consequently, SS believers are forced to make do with the Old Testament alone including the seven books rejected by Martin Luther, which they call Apocrypha. How then can the SS believer, who claims to follow the true teaching of the Bible, relate at all to the Gospels and with them the teachings of Christ?

You do not have a Holy Trinity to believe in do you? You see, the word "Trinity" cannot be found by using SS can it?

You see, the Holy Trinity was defined by the Catholic Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D.. SS is lacking much more.

You cannot find that the Holy Spirit is "consubstantial" with the Father and the Son in SS. That doctrine was not defined until the Catholic Council of Constantinople in 381. SS was no help here.

Do you believe in the "Hypostatic Union" (Jesus Christ has two natures, one human and one divine)?

If so, neither you nor I can find the "Hypostatic Union" in Scripture by using SS.

The Hypostatic Union was defined by the Catholic Council of Chalcedon in 451. SS failed us again.

The word "Bible" cannot be found in the Bible using SS can it? How do you know that the book which you call the Bible is the Bible? Does SS tell you? If so, where in the Bible is the list of inspired books within it? Why aren't the books which I have listed above, and hundreds of others which existed at the time, included in your "Bible" simply by using SS?

The inspired books of the Bible, called the canon, were decided upon by the Catholic Church in several councils after well over three hundred of years of debate. So for the first three centuries of Christianity, there was no Bible with a New Testament, and thus no N.T. SS. These Councils were Rome 382, Hippo 393, Carthage 397, and there were later councils such as Florence 1431, and Trent 1546, reaffirming what these earlier councils had defined. It was those earlier councils which rejected the Gospels of Peter, Paul, and Thomas, and of the hundreds of other books declared to be not inspired. The very first Bible containing a New Testament and the Old Testament was St. Jerome's Latin Vulgate from 404 A.D.. It has all seven of the books rejected by the reformers. Where is the canon of the Bible in SS?

Elucidation:

Here is a summary of the facts regarding Sola Scriptura.

1. According to 2Timothy 3:1-17, taken in context, SS is limited to the Old Testament only, and includes all of the seven Old Testament books rejected by the reformers.

2. SS does not provide the canon of inspired books within Holy Scripture.

Therefore, how does the SS believer know which books are inspired and which books are not?

3. SS does not provide us with a list of uninspired books such as the Gospels of Peter, Paul, and Thomas, and does not explain why those books are not in the SS believers Bible. How can the SS believer differentiate between which books are inspired and which are not?

4. SS does not provide us with the word "Bible". How then can an SS believer even use the word?

5. Therefore SS believers have no way of knowing that the book which they call the Bible is the Bible.

6. Since SS believers cannot show which books in the Bible are inspired, then they have no right to even call theirs an inspired Bible.

7. SS does not provide us with the word "Trinity". So why do SS believers even use the word?

8. SS does not define the Holy Trinity. So why do SS believers think it even exists?

9. Do you believe in "Original Sin"?

Well the words "Original Sin", taken together, are not in the Bible, so how can you believe in it?

10. Do you believe in the "Incarnation"? How can you when that word is not to be found in Holy Scripture?

11. Do you believe in the "Ascension"? How can you when that word is not even in your Bible?

12. Do you believe in something called the "Rapture"? How can you when the word is not to be found in your Bible?

13. Do you believe in "Christianity"? Well that word cannot be found in the Bible either for SS believers.

14. Do "Protestants" not exist at all simply because that word cannot be found in SS?

15. Where in SS are the words, 'we are saved by faith alone'? I can find just one verse where the words "faith" and "only" are found together and there is that little word "not" before them, "You see that by works a man is justified and not by faith only", James 2:24. I cannot seem to find words in support of 'faith alone', except in Martin Luther's German Bible, where he added the word 'alone' to Romans 3:28. The book of James was a thorn in Luther's side, as it contradicted what he taught. That is the reason why he called that book "a straw epistle", meaning it was good for burning.

16. The words "Sola Scriptura" do not appear anywhere in the Bible, so how can any SS believer possibly practice it? By its very name, Sola Scriptura, if it is not in the Bible, then it simply is not to be believed. I get that answer all the time from SS believers who try to tell me that "everything" is in the Bible, in spite of the fact that the Bible in no way says that. However, the Bible does say that everything is not in the Bible, which is just the exact opposite of what SS believers tell me. See John 20:30, and 21:25.

Who should I believe, what SS believers tell me, or what the Word of GOD says?

17. Tell me about the workings of SS at the very beginning when the Church was founded by Christ in about 30 A.D., and the first book of the New Testament, 1Thessalonians, was not written until over twenty years later? If you would read the book of Acts, you will find that the Church was growing very fast during that period. Three thousand were added in only one day in Acts 2:41, and in Acts 2:27, more were added every day. Acts 4:4 mentions five thousand more believers. How can any SS adherent explain this fabulous growth without a New Testament to guide these early believers?

Would an Old Testament SS suffice for New covenant teaching?

18. SS could not possibly have worked for the first 374 years of Christianity (assuming it began in 30 A.D.), since there was no New Testament at all as we know it until 404 A.D..

19. SS could have not possibly have worked for over one thousand years after the Latin Vulgate of 404, since the printing press was not invented until 1450 and all Bibles had to be laboriously copied by hand before then. It is estimated that each Bible took from ten to twenty years of a monk's daily life to reproduce just one copy. A beautiful opulence abounded in those copies, as many were decorated with real gold and precious jewels. The cost for each was prohibitive. Who of the common masses could afford one?

If GOD needed SS then why did He wait over 1400 years before creating Gutenberg so that he could invent the printing press?

20. SS could not have worked at all with the prevalence of illiteracy running as high as 95% for so many centuries.

21. The false man-made doctrine of SS does not appear anywhere in genuine historical writings before Martin Luther came along in the sixteenth century and "invented it".

22. How does the SS believer know which SS interpretation to believe since each one is his or her own pope? One teaches one thing and another teaches just the opposite. That is the main reason why there are tens of thousands of SS believer sects* in the world today, all teaching something different, and all saying "the Holy Spirit told me". Who has the authority for the SS believer to say, "This is the one true meaning of Scripture"? The answer is that there is no authority. It is every SS believer for himself in Biblical interpretation which is forbidden by SS itself for any SS believer to do so, Acts 8:26-38, 2Peter 1:20, 2Peter 3:16.

*The World Christianity Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication. It lists 36,400 as of the middle of 2003.

23. If "everything is in the Bible", so I am told by SS believers, then why do SS believers not believe and practice all of Scripture? Why do they reject large portions of it? Here are some examples of what they reject:

* The three verses I just listed which collectively say there is to be no private interpretation of Holy Scripture.

* 1Corinthians 11:2 and 2Thessalonians 2:15, which say to hold the traditions. SS believers say do not hold traditions.

* 1Timothy 3:15, does not say the bible is the pillar and foundation of the truth, but it is the Church.

* John 10:16, that there shall be one fold and one shepherd, and not the tens of thousands that SS believers have formed.

* 1Corinthians 1:10, that you all say the same thing and that there be no dissensions. Well I have just shown that all of the thousands of sects teach different things, and it is dissensions which cause them to split and form even more sects.

* John chapter 6 which SS believers say is symbolic, yet the same ones say that the rest of the Bible is literal.

* Matthew 16:18 that Jesus said church and not tens of thousands of churches.

* Matthew 28:20 where Jesus Christ promised to be with His one Church every day in every century until the end of time.

* Luke 1:48, 'Henceforth', means from this moment on. 'All generations', means just that and I presume that it includes everyone who is reading this file. 'Will', is a command and not a suggestion. 'Call me blessed'. In all of my extensive conversations with SS believers, not a single one has ever obeyed the command of this verse. This verse is proof positive that SS believers do not follow Holy Scripture, but pick and choose what fits their false beliefs. It is a clear violation of James 2:10, "If someone obeys all of GOD's laws except one, that person is guilty of breaking all of them."

* Luke 2:51, Scripture tells us that the creator of the universe was subject to a creature, His Mother, Blessed Mary, for the first 30 years of His life. Why don't SS believers acknowledge this fact?

* Deuteronomy 4:2, 13:1, Proverbs 30:5-6, Revelation 22:18-20, 'Do not add to or subtract from Holy Scripture' (see #24 below).

* Deuteronomy 12:8, 'You shall not do as we are now doing; here, everyone does what seems right for himself'.

This is yet another condemnation of individual interpretation of Holy Scripture. "If it fits my interpretation it is right for me".

* Revelation 21:8, 21:27 and 22:15, that liars will never make it into heaven.

* Romans 1:18 and 2:8, meet with wrath for those who are contentious and do not submit to the truth. Well I have shown from this lengthy list that SS believers are guilty as charged for closing their eyes and ignoring the verses I have listed in this section. They certainly do not submit to the truth of Holy Scripture. Isn't saying that they obey Holy Scripture, while at the same time ignoring large sections of it, being hypocritical?

A verse which I have previously listed cries out to be repeated at this point:

"For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become guilty of all of it."

James 2:10, RSV

"If someone obeys all of GOD's laws except one, that person is guilty of breaking all of them."

James 2:10, GW

Then there is 1 Peter 4:17, a verse of which all SS believers should be aware as they keep in mind the many commands of Scripture which I have listed above and of which some are not obeyed:

"For the time has come for judgment to begin with the household of God; and if it begins with us, what will be the end of those who do not obey the gospel of God?"

24. Obviously in some cases, the SS believers theme, "everything is in the Bible", does not suffice for them, so in their teaching they add to Scripture by resorting to the use of eisegesis (eye-si JEE-sis), which is an interpretation of Scripture that expresses the individual interpreters own ideas and bias, rather than the true meaning of the text as the author had intended.

Here are some examples of SS believers use of eisegesis and how it adds to, twists, and distorts the meaning of Holy Scripture.

The eisegesis additions or changes to the true Words of GOD are shown in purple.

There are many more than I have listed here.

* Matthew 26:26, Mark 14:22, Luke 22:19, 'This is a symbol of my body'.

* John 6:35, 'I am a symbol of the bread of life'.

If the manna in the desert is symbolic of the Holy Eucharist, does an O.T. symbol ever point to another symbol in the N.T.?

If you think so, then what is the purpose of typology?

* John 6:51 'I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is only a symbol of my flesh'.

* John 6:57, 'and I live because of the Father, so he who eats a symbol of me will live because of me'.

Does a symbol of something have the powers of that something?

* 1Corinthians 11:29, 'For anyone who eats and drinks without discerning the body, could not possibly eat and drink judgment upon himself, for how could a mere symbol harm anyone'?

* Psalms 127:1, 'Unless the Lord builds tens of thousands of houses, those who build it labor in vain'.

* Matthew 16:18, 'You are Peter, an insignificant little pebble, and upon this insignificant little pebble I will build my tens of thousands of different churchES and all of them will be teaching something different'.

Do you really think they will all fit on that one insignificant little pebble?

* Revelation 1:11, 'What thou seest write in a book, and send to the seven Protestant churches...'

* Matthew 16:19, 'I will give every SS believer the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven'.

(Since we all know that each SS believer is his or her own authority, and thus is his or her very own pope, it would not make sense for them to be so unless each one had his or her very own set of keys as well.)

* Matthew 28:20, 'I am with you until you apostatize after the last Apostle has died, and then I will move to another church'.

Note! The identity of this, "another church", is unknown since no SS believer can name it or its founder. Also the date of this monumental and greatest universe shaking event since the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ is unknown. To add to this lack of historical evidence, there is not one single supporting genuine historical document of proof that it ever happened.

Just imagine, an event of this magnitude and it goes unreported and unrecorded! Where were the scribes of the day?

If you will read Ephesians 1:23 you will find that the Church which Jesus founded is His Body and He is its Head. How could His Body go into apostasy and be separated from His Head?

* Ephesians 5:23, 'Just as Christ is head of the Church, being himself not the Savior of His Body'. After all, how could He be the Savior of His Body if it (His Church) fell into apostasy?

* Matthew 16:19, '...and the gates of hell will prevail against my one and only Church'.

* Ephesians 3:21, 'to him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus until the day when the Church goes into apostasy'.

* Acts 1:20, 'And, his ministry do not let another take, for everyone knows there is no such thing as Apostolic Succession'.

* 2Timothy 2:2, '...and the things that you have heard from me through many witnesses, do not commend to trustworthy men, for they may be competent in turn to teach others. This will assure that there will be no such thing as Apostolic Succession'.

* Matthew 18:17, 'and if he refuses to hear them, appeal to the bible'.

* John 10:16, 'and there shall be tens of thousands of folds...'.

* 1Corinthians 1:10, 'I appeal to you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you disagree and that there be many dissensions among you, but that you be not united in the same mind and the same judgment'.

* 1Corinthians 1:13, 'Has Christ been divided up? No, not at all, I see no divisions here'.

* Luke 11:17, 'Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to fruition, and house will rise upon house, by the tens of thousands'.

(Oops! Do I see a conflict here with the verse listed immediately above this one?)

* John 16:13, 'When the Spirit of Truth comes, he will teach something different to each of the tens of thousands of sects'.

* Ephesians 3:10, 'in order that through tens of thousands of different denominations all teaching something contrary to each other, that there be made known to the Principalities and the Powers in the heavens the manifold wisdom of GOD'.

* 2Peter 1:20, 'This then you must understand first of all, that all prophecy of Scripture is only to be made by private interpretation'.

* Acts 8:32, 'I need no one to show me since we are each guided by the Holy Spirit to interpret it for ourselves'.

If that be the case, then why do not all of the tens of thousands of sects teach the same thing?

Is there a different Spirit for each sect, or one Spirit teaching something different to each?

* Acts 5:32, 'And we are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom GOD has given to all SS believers regardless if they obey him or not'.

Do those who 'obey Him' ignore large parts of His Word, and read into His Word (eisegesis) things that simply are not there? Doesn't this verse really mean that those who do not obey Him are not guided by the Holy Spirit?

* Romans 3:28, 'For we hold that a man is justified by faith alone apart from works of the law'.

* Romans 13:2, 'Therefore he who resists the authority resists the ordinance of GOD; and they that resist bring on themselves condemnation except for Martin Luther and the other reformers and their followers'.

* Hebrews 13:17, 'Obey your superiors and be subject to them, however, Martin Luther and the other reformers are exempted'.

* Matthew 22:39, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself except if he be Catholic'.

* 1Corinthians 10:32, 'Do not be a stumbling block to Jews and Greeks, but be sure that you are one to the Church of GOD'.

* 1Corinthians 15:9, 'For I am the greatest of the Apostles, and am worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of GOD'.

* Philippians 2:12, 'There is no need to work out your salvation with fear and trembling for we are already saved'.

* James 2:24, 'You see that not by works a man is justified, but by faith only'.

* James 2:26, 'For just as the body without the spirit is dead, faith without works is assured salvation for all SS believers'.

* And finally, we close exactly where we began with 2Timothy 3:16-17, 'All scripture is inspired by God, past, present, and future, meaning any and all of that which has not even been written yet, and used exclusively for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for all-inclusive training in righteousness, that the man of God may be totally complete, fully equipped with faith alone'.
2Timothy 2:16-17 taken verbatim, and out of context as SS believers always do, conveys the false message that anyone can write a book (after all a book is scripture) and then declare it as being inspired by GOD.

"In these epistles there are certain things difficult to understand, which the unlearned and unstable distort, just as they do the rest of the Scriptures also, to their own destruction."
2Peter 3:16

"Thou shalt not rewrite Holy Scripture in order to fit thy own beliefs and biases. Instead, thou shalt conform thy teachings, and confine thy beliefs to the inspired Word of GOD, with nothing added, and with nothing taken away."

See Deut 4:2, 11:32, 13:1, Psa 12:7, 33:4, 50:16-17, 107:10-11, 119:57, 139-140,

Prov 5:7, 30:5-6, Eccl 3:14, Jer 23:36, Gal 1:8-9, 1Pet 1:24-25, 2Pet 3:15-16, Rev 22:18-20.

I just love Proverbs 30:6 don't you?

GOD, in His Infinite Wisdom, would never have given us one inerrant book, without first giving us one authorized and infallible interpreter for it.

However, GOD did first give us one authorized infallible interpreter for it. He gave us His Church.

For Whom The Bell Tolls... It Tolls For Thee...

It Is The Death Knell Of Sola Scriptura!

---

BONG.G..G...G....G.....

BONG.G..G...G....G.....

BONG.G..G...G....G.....

---

Please remain in silent reverence as we play Taps...

---

I have several documents posted on the subject of Sola Scriptura. You might wish to read these first. Sola Scriptura, Our Side, The Other Side, The Pendant, and Fr. Damen's excellent homilies titled The One True Church, and The Church or the Bible.

For anyone who still believes in the false man-made doctrine of Sola Scriptura, after reading the files listed above, I have a few observations of interest for you that no one has been able to counter with authentic historical documentation.

Since you are still here, I will assume you are set in concrete for your belief of Sola Scriptura (SS). Okay, let us see if you can answer these very serious conclusions of what Holy Scripture really says about your belief.

---

Sola Scriptura means "Scripture Alone", or "Scripture Only".

In other words, say the SS believers, "Everything I need to know, is in Holy Scripture, and everything outside of Holy Scripture, is not to be believed...unless of course it supports my SS beliefs".

By its very title, in order to believe in Sola Scriptura, you must be able to show the verse(s) in which it is authorized and can be found in Holy Scripture. Verse(s) please?

2Timothy 3:16-17 are the only verses which I always receive when I ask that question. First of all, please tell me why I am given only these two verses and not the whole chapter of 2Timothy 3?

One of the very basic rules of Bible interpretation is, "to never take verses out of context".

Those who violate this basic rule, will invariably attempt to show that the Bible will "prove" what they teach is true. It is a well known fact, that verses taken out of context can be made to "appear" to support practically any heretical teaching. Instead of conforming their teaching to Scripture, the people who do this attempt to twist Scripture to conform to their teaching.

Always remember this, "a text without a context is a pretext and nothing more".

Now let us examine these two verses in detail, and in proper context.

---

Why do non-Catholics quote 2Timothy 3:16-17 out of context? I believe it is because when taken in context, the verses clearly show the fallacy of SS and offer no support for it whatsoever. Biblical exegesis taken out of context is a major reason why many simply have the wrong understanding of Scripture.

You should always start with the first verse of a chapter in order to put later verses in the proper context. In some cases you might even have to go back to a previous chapter, in order to be safe.

Please back up to verses 2Timothy 3:1-6. They are about what is happening today in our society.

Verse 7 is a favorite, as it fits right in with SS believers, "EVER LEARNING YET NEVER ATTAINING KNOWLEDGE OF THE TRUTH."

Verses 8-9 reinforce verse 7.

Verse 10, Paul lauds them for following his doctrine. What is his doctrine? Is it a book that he wrote? No, Paul spoke orally. His doctrine was oral Tradition which he passed on to others.

Verses 11-12, Paul is persecuted for teaching the truth, and the same will happen to us.

Verse 13, another favorite, some will lead others to error and it will get worse. The false doctrine of SS is part of the "worse" of which Paul spoke.

Now it becomes most interesting in verse 14, "continue in the things you have LEARNED and that have been ENTRUSTED to you". What can this verse possibly mean, except to KEEP THE TRADITIONS of which you have been taught?

Verse 15, "from your infancy, you have known the Sacred Writings which are able to instruct you unto salvation..." Since 2Timothy was written probably between 63 and 66 and before 67 A.D., when St. Paul was martyred, then the infancy of Timothy, to whom Paul addressed this epistle, had to have been many years earlier, before any New Testament (N.T.) book was written. Timothy was regarded as the Bishop of Ephesus (1Timothy 1:3) and had to have been at least 25-30 years of age at the time the epistle 2Timothy was written. If we subtract an age of just 25 from a possible 66 A.D., Timothy would have been an infant in 41 A.D., and even earlier if he was older than 25 and/or the Epistle was written before 66. Paul had to have been talking about the Old Testament (O.T.) only. The SS believer is then forced to accept only the O.T. to which Paul referred in this verse. The same is also obligated to reject the entire New Testament altogether, since none of it was even written by 41, and it was not even canonically decided until the end of the fourth century, over 300 years later.

Verse 16 says that all Scripture is inspired by GOD and is useful for teaching, reproving, and instructing in justice. That is fine. But, please note that all this verse says is that Scripture is useful, and in no way does it say, or even insinuate, that it is the only useful tool for teaching. This one observation of this one verse is sufficient to destroy the false doctrine of SS by itself, but there is much more to come.

Paul said, "ALL Scripture is inspired by GOD...". Just what Scripture did Paul have at the time? The only Scripture available to Paul was the Old Testament in either of two forms, the Hebrew, or the Greek Septuagint. Scholars agree that the Septuagint was the most quoted in the N.T., and it had all of the books including those which Protestants rejected during the reformation. This then puts SS believers in the difficult position of having to accept the "Deuterocanonicals" (called "Apocrypha by them"), which were in the Septuagint which Greek speaking Jews, including Saint Paul used. Read the files "Deuters", and "Is the Catholic Church the Mother or the Daughter of the Bible", found elsewhere on this website for the details. Remember, these were the seven books rejected by Martin Luther almost 1500 years later, Wisdom, Sirach, Judith, Tobit, Baruch, and 1 and 2 Maccabees. Since those two translations were the only ones available to Paul, and he did say all Scripture was inspired by GOD, then those seven books had to have been inspired by GOD also, were they not? If so, then who would have the authority to remove them? Do you remember what the Bible said about adding to, or removing from the Word of GOD, and what would happen to those who did it?

Obviously, Sola Scriptura believers cannot use 2Timothy 3:16-17 without throwing out all of the New Testament, and they would have to accept all seven Deuterocanonical books as being inspired.

Once again, since Paul said all Scripture was inspired, do you feel this remark was meant for all future Scripture from his time also? It obviously could not, as Paul would not make such a blanket statement about future writings, with his not knowing their content.

If you still insist that ALL Scripture is inspired, then please tell me why the Gospels of Peter, Thomas, James, Matthias, Barnabas, Bartholomew, and Andrew, or the Acts of Peter, Paul, and Philip are not in your Bible?

If you insist on believing it does cover future writings, then you would have to admit that the hundreds (250-300) of books, that were rejected as not inspired, are in fact inspired, simply because Paul said so. By the way, who do you think rejected these many uninspired books, and retained the books you now have in your Bible?

Now we come to verse 17, that the man of GOD may be perfect, equipped for every good work. Does that verse say fully equipped? Does that verse mean that Scripture alone will make a man perfect and fully equipped and lacking nothing? If that is your trend of thought then I will have to remind you of James 1:4, which says, "And let patience have its perfect work, THAT YOU MAY BE PERFECT AND ENTIRE, LACKING NOTHING." Now that verse is more definitive than 2Timothy 3:17, perfect, entire, and...lacking nothing. James 1:1-4 does not even mention Scripture, does it?

In summation:

*People of our time, not ever knowing the truth will lead many astray, vs 1-9.

*Keep the TRADITIONS you have been taught and be prepared to receive persecution for doing it, vs 10-13. I would say we Catholics are persecuted for keeping the 'T'raditions, wouldn't you agree?

*Continue in the truth you have learned from the oral teaching, vs 14-15.

*You cannot use the N.T. at all, and you must accept the 7 disputed books as canonical, vs 15-16.

*Use Scripture, as it is useful for teaching, but by no means the only means, vs 16-17.

*We Catholics abide by all of 2Timothy 3. Do you?

*When you quote Scripture, please do not take it out of context, as it is so obvious that you can easily fall into error.

The very earliest mention of the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura was by Martin Luther as he was questioned in the Synod of Augsburg (Germany) in October 1518. In his appeal to the Council, Luther placed the Bible and its decision (his interpretation of it) above the Pope. Even so he admitted that the authority of the Synod and of the Bible were on a par, only in hope that the Synod would give him a favorable decision. In the Leipzig Disputation in July 1519, Luther declared that Scripture ranked above a Church Council, and that Ecumenical Councils had already erred in matters of faith.* I presume Martin Luther had "forgotten" that by an infallible decision, it was the Pope and the Magisterium, who decided the canons of both the Old and New Testaments in earlier Church Councils.

Sola Scriptura, as I have shown, is non-Scriptural. It cannot be shown that it is historical before the reformation either. That classifies it as a false man-made tradition (small 't') and is therefore condemned by Jesus Christ Himself, as He said in Matthew 15:1-9, and in Mark 7:3-13, and by Saint Paul in 1Corinthians 2:13, Colossians 2:8, and Titus 1:14. This means that non-Catholics who take the Bible literally by lumping Apostolic 'T'raditions and man-made 't'raditions together, must condemn Sola Scriptura as well. Holy Scripture tells us very clearly that man-made 't'raditions are to be condemned as shown above, while Apostolic 'T'raditions are to be preserved (Philippians 2:16, 2Thessalonians 2:14-15, 2Timothy 1:13-14, 2:2, 3:14, Hebrews 2:1).

Again, I will ask of SS believers:

"Please show me the verse(s) in Holy Scripture which authorize the false man-made doctrine of Sola Scriptura?"

---

Why do Sola Scriptura believers ignore so many verses in the Bible which have instructed us to do the exact opposite of what SS proponents would have us do? The Bible is full of them and some are so clear and to the point, that I do not see how they can be misinterpreted. SS in effect, is the false belief that Scripture has all of truth inclusive and that tradition has no place whatsoever in salvation. For a start, "So then, brethren, stand firm and hold the TRADITIONS that you have LEARNED, WHETHER BY WORD OR BY LETTER OF OURS." That comes from 2Thess 2:15. By word or by letter, how plain could Paul have made it? But that falls on deaf ears by believers of SS.

Back up one verse to 14, "For this purpose He also called you by our preaching to gain the glory of Our Lord Jesus Christ." What is preaching other than by word of mouth or 'T'radition. Both verses, 14 and 15, are ignored by proponents of SS.

How about, "Now I praise you brethren, because in all things you are mindful of me and hold fast my 'T'raditions as I gave them to you", 1Corinthians 11:2, ignored by SS proponents.

Matthew 28:20, "Teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you." This verse also ignored by SS proponents. I could list many more but I feel I have made my point. Did Jesus Christ command anyone to write a Gospel, or did he say to go out and teach?

None of the Bible can be deliberately ignored, as SS proponents would have us believe. We cannot be pickers and choosers and accept this verse, and reject that one, as in a smorgasbord, just because it flows with or runs against the grain of our beliefs. This is exactly what proponents of SS do however. Remember all those verses regarding not adding or taking away from the Word of GOD? Scripture is full of references to it. Here are a few: Deut 4:2, Prov 30:5-6, Gal 1:8, 2Pet 3:15-16, and of course Rev 22:18-20.

*Since Paul did say all Scripture is inspired, then that would have to include all verses that even mention tradition, or word of mouth. Is that not true? Since the Old Testament is the only one they can use, if they insist on accepting 2Timothy 3:16-17 as the "authority" for SS, then look at these examples of keeping the traditions from the O.T.: Psa 44:1, Psa 78:5,10-11, Psa 105:5, Psa 143:5, Prov 2:18, Isa 40:8, *Isa 59:21, Jer 6:16-17, Jer 31:36, Dan 7:28, and Zech 1:6.*

Did Paul, or any other writer of New Testament books, know they were writing inspired books at the time of writing? If not, then how do you know the books from which you quote, such as 2Timothy, are inspired at all? Is there a list of inspired books somewhere in the Bible? If so, then please show me the verse(s).

If you cannot find such a list, then please tell me, by what authority do you take these books to be inspired? Did the New Testament just fall out of Heaven into the arms of Luther? Believe it or not, that is what some have been taught.

When was the earliest possible time that the New Testament, as we know it now, came into being? For Sola Scriptura to work at all, it had to be available to the people so they could practice it, is that not true? What New Testament Bible did someone living in 333 use? 222? 111? After all, there were Christians around in those times in order to keep the lions fed, if you will recall. That reminds me, what was it that motivated these early Christians to such a fervor that they sacrificed their lives by the thousands, and in horrible ways of martyrdom, in staunch refusal to give up their Christian faith? Was it the book? If so, what book?

---

How were Bibles reproduced before the invention of the printing press in 1450? Did Heaven once again drop them out of the skies by the millions for all the people who had lived since the time of Christ? Where did the masses of Christians get their Bibles so they could practice SS? The answer is, the masses did not have Bibles, as each and every Bible was hand copied by monks. Do you know how long it took one monk to copy one Bible? It took 10 to 20 years. Now after putting that many years into copying one Bible, how much do you suppose each Bible cost? The average person could not afford to pay for 10-20 years of a monk's labor for one book. So there were very few copies available, and they were in the Churches. How then could anyone before 1450 practice Sola Scriptura even if the idea had existed then?

Do you believe George Washington was the first president? Why? Do you believe the civil war really happened? Why? Do you believe King John signed the Magna Carta? Why? None of these facts are in the Bible, yet you believe them, because you have been taught to believe them, and they are recorded elsewhere in history books. Why then do you not believe anything about the Catholic Church, such as the fact that Peter was indeed in Rome, or that Peter was the first Pope, unless you can find it in the Bible?

Do SS proponents believe in the Trinity? If so, then please show me the word Trinity in the Bible? The Catholic Church has thousands of documents which show exactly how the Church came to be, and how it grew to become the Church that it is today. All of these questions and thousands more are answered in authentic historical documents from the very beginning of the Church.

Eusebius wrote a book of the history of the Church from before it even began, and for the first 200 years or so after it was started by Jesus Christ. Would any SS proponent believe the history book written by Eusebius? No, because they cannot find it in the Bible. Why then would they believe anything written in any history book? Aren't they setting a double standard in not believing Church history as it is recorded, and in believing only non-church history as it is recorded?

Sola Scriptura enthusiasts will never get it right, and will never find the truth. They have built their beliefs on the foundation of the sand of SS, and not on the rock of the Church. Foundations of sand are shifty and unstable. No matter how much patching they do, their house of faith will not be solid, but will shift continually as the wind and water erode the sandy foundation they have built upon. They will spend all of their days trying in vain to prove this, or to prove that, from Scripture.

One denomination has "proven" from Scripture that Jesus Christ was divine and not human, while yet another has "proven" from the very same Scripture, that He was human and not divine.

The man-made false doctrine of Sola Scriptura simply does not work, and never will work.

*The doctrine of Sola Scriptura appeared on the scene at the time of the reformation as I have previously stated. It did not, and could not exist before the invention of the printing press, when Bibles were finally made available at low cost and in abundance, for the masses. The doctrine of SS, is not Scriptural, as I have shown. It is not historical before the reformation, as I have shown also, and it is not workable. This false doctrine of SS, and "individual interpretation" of Scripture (forbidden by Scripture itself in Acts 8:26-35, and 2Peter 1:20), are the root causes of the splits in the Body of Christ in Protestantism. There are now over 37,000 non-Catholic denominations* in existence in the world today. How else would you explain these divisions? Each one claims the truth, "as the Holy Spirit has told them", they claim. Are there 37,000 Holy Spirits telling each one a truth? Or is there one Holy Spirit telling each a different truth? Truth is one and not 37,000. There can be only one truth.*

There is only one Holy Spirit.

Jesus Christ said, "There will be ONE fold with ONE shepherd." John 10:16.

He did not say there will be 37,000 folds with one shepherd.

How do you explain the underlying reason for 37,000 splits in protestantism other than by the adoption of Sola Scriptura and its accompanying individual interpretation of Holy Scripture? Catholics are chastised by some for having a Pope, who is a Father Figure, the Vicar of Christ, the visible head of the Catholic Church on earth, to guide the Church which Jesus Christ founded, in all truth. Aren't all of those non-Catholics who run around practicing individual interpretation of Scripture, in reality, calling each of themselves his or her own pope?

The words "Sola Scriptura" are a misnomer for those who practice it, and who believe that everything necessary for salvation is in Holy Scripture. The reason for this, is that much of what is in Scripture is not even believed by SS adherents. Consequently SS believers will believe only what they want to believe in Holy Scripture, and will discard the rest. Sola Scriptura is then twisted to become Not Sola Scriptura. Cases in point:

They believe in the Holy Trinity which is defined in Scripture but is not named as such, but will reject Purgatory which is equally defined in Scripture, and again is not named as such.

They reject the True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist even though it is clearly defined by Jesus Christ Himself in John chapter 6, and in all three of the other Gospels, and by Saint Paul in 1Corinthians 11:23-30.

They will claim that it is the Bible which is the "Pillar and the Foundation of Truth", and will reject the fact that it is not the Bible, but the Church, as stated in 1Timothy 3:15.

They will claim that everything is in the Bible despite the fact that the Bible says everything is not within its pages in John 20:30-31, and John 21:25.

---

Sola Scriptura believers will attempt to inject their own beliefs into Scripture in a pretense that they are Biblical, when in fact they are not.

Cases in point:

They will claim that it is the Bible which is the final authority, despite the fact that the Bible clearly states that it is the Church which is the final authority in Matthew 18:15-18.

Nowhere in Scripture can it be found where the Bible claims that it is the final authority.

They will claim that the Bible is self authenticating, when in fact it is not.

Nowhere in the Bible does it say this.

They will claim that Scripture is easily interpreted by anyone, when in fact Scripture says just the opposite of what they claim. See Acts 8:30-35 and 2Peter 3:15-16.

The Bible does not define what it means.

They will claim that Mary had other children despite the fact that nowhere in Scripture is this stated. By making this false claim they must realize that by doing so, they have insulted the Holy Family and the Holy Trinity.

They will say that the Bible describes something called "The Rapture", when in fact it does not. That term is a 19th century Protestant invention of John Nelson Darby in 1827, and popularized by Cyrus Scofield in 1909 by a footnote in his Scofield Reference Bible.

Here is some food for thought for Sola Scriptura believers. It is the last nail in the coffin for this false doctrine if you cannot answer these simple questions...

---

Where in Scripture did Jesus give instructions to His Apostles to write a Gospel?

If the Gospel writers believed in SS, why did they recall oral Tradition, such as Matthew 2:23, "...that there might be fulfilled what was spoken through the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene."? That statement made by the prophets is nowhere to be found in Holy Scripture.

Of the 39 Articles of Religion Established by the Bishops, the Clergy, and the Laity of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, in Convention, on the twelfth day of September, in the Year of our Lord, 1801, article # 6 states:

"6. The sufficiency of Holy Scripture for salvation:

Holy Scripture contains all things necessary for salvation. Consequently whatever is not read in Scripture nor can be proved from Scripture cannot be demanded from any person to believe it as an article of faith. Nor is any such thing to be thought necessary or required for salvation. By holy Scripture is meant those canonical books of the Old and New Testaments whose authority has never been doubted within the church."

Where in the Bible are the words which state that the Word of GOD is restricted solely to what is written within Scripture? Where in the Bible is the above paragraph #6 written? Where in the Bible is the authority given for anyone to make such a statement?

Where in the Bible is authority given to anyone to form yet another Church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded? Psalms 127:1

How do we know that the books within the Bible are the Bible?

Does the Bible itself provide us with a list of inspired books?

Where does the Bible claim to be the sole authority for Christians in matters of faith and morals?

If "all scripture is inspired", as stated in 2Timothy 3:16, then why aren't the Gospels of Andrew, Bartholomew, Peter, Marcion, Thomas, Nicodemus, and many others in the Bible?

Who had the authority to decide not to include them?

If the meaning of the Bible is so clear, and so easily interpreted, as many non-Catholics say, and if the Holy Spirit leads every denomination to interpret it in truth, then why are there over 37,000 non-Catholic sects, and millions of individual non-Catholics, all interpreting the Bible differently?

Since non-Catholics claim "the Holy Spirit is guiding them", how can the Holy Spirit be 'telling' each of them a different 'truth'? It would seem to me that if all taught the same 'truth', then there would be only one Church, not tens of thousands as we now have.

Non-Catholics usually claim that they all agree "on the important things". If so, then who of the thousands of sects, is able or has the authority to adjudicate doctrinal disputes between themselves?

Did the reformers follow SS in the teaching of Holy Scripture? I refer to Hebrews 13:17, for one.

Where in the Bible does it say, "If you do not agree with the Church which Jesus Christ founded, you should form your own church"?

Can anyone start his or her own church simply by holding up a Bible and claim it alone to be his or her authority? Where does it say that in Scripture?

How did the early Church evangelize and survive and prosper for over 350 years, without knowing for sure which books belong in the canon of Scripture?

Who had the authority to infallibly decide which books belonged in the N.T. canon and to make this decision binding on all Christians?

Why do non-Catholic scholars recognize the Catholic Church councils of Hippo and Carthage as having made infallible decisions in deciding the canon of the N.T., while at the same time denying the O.T. canon decided by the same Bishops in the same councils?

Why do non-Catholics accept Jewish Council of Jamnia, decisions regarding the O.T. canon while at the same time denying the Christian canon decided in the Christian Councils of Hippo and Carthage? After all, the Council of Jamnia was specifically called by the Jews to counter Christian usage of the Old Testament.

How can non-Catholics accept the infallible decisions of the Bishops of Hippo and Carthage regarding the canon of the N.T., and at the same time reject other teachings of those same Bishops such as the True Presence of Christ in the Eucharist, and the honoring of Mary? It is to be noted that many of the original reformers such as Martin Luther, taught these truths themselves.

How could SS possibly work for over 1400 years after Jesus Christ founded His Church when the vast majority of people were illiterate?

How could SS possibly work for all the years before the invention of the printing press in 1450, when Bibles were prohibitively expensive because they had to be hand copied by Monks over a period of many years for each copy?

Why are there no genuine historical documents in support of Sola Scriptura before the Reformation?

When the reformers separated themselves from the authority of the Catholic Church, they lost all authority for themselves, so they turned to the Bible and declared it to be their sole source of authority (SS). By doing this they ignored the very words of Jesus Christ, as He told us very clearly wherein lies the highest visible authority on earth. Review Matthew 18:15-18 again. Pay especial attention to verse 17, as He tells us what happens to those who will not listen to the authority He had designated.

Since there is only one truth in Holy Scripture, and only one Holy Spirit to prompt us, how then can:

Baptists believe once saved, always saved, yet the Church of Christ says this is not scriptural?

Seventh Day Adventists say we have to worship on Saturday, but Presbyterians say on Sunday?

Lutherans believe in the 'true presence' in the Holy Eucharist, yet Baptists do not?

Episcopalians say The Trinity is 3 persons in one GOD, yet Mormons say it is 3 separate GOD's?

Methodists accept female ministers, yet Baptists say it is not Biblical?

The Assembly of GOD uses instrumental music, yet the Church of Christ says it is not Biblical?

---

All of the above denominations use the same Bible, so why do they not all teach the same doctrine? The answer is simple. They all practice the false man-made tradition of Sola Scriptura and its accompanying individual interpretation of it. If you would put in one place 37,000 people all of which practiced SS, and asked each of them to interpret the Bible, you would get 37,000 different opinions, exactly what we see today.

"The Bible is a supernatural book and can be understood only by supernatural aid."

A.W. Tozer

Personal opinions have no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

Do you see now why there are tens of thousands of non-Catholic denominations?

So which of these 37,000 non-Catholic sects has the authority to say, "This is the way it is, or this is the truth of what Holy Scripture tells us"?

The answer to that question is that none of them do.

Consequently, it is the obligation of everyone to find the only Church which does have that authority. To have only one truth, you must have only one authority, and that one authority was given by Jesus Christ Himself to the one Church which He founded in Matthew 16:18.

Read Matthew 18:18 and Luke 10:16.

The Origin Of The False Doctrine Of Sola Scriptura...

---

Driving The Last Nail In

The Coffin of Sola Scriptura.

Martin Luther (1483-1546) is to be given the credit for inventing the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura (Bible Only or Bible Sufficiency). He had separated himself from the authority of the Papacy and the Magisterium, and thereby so doing lost all authority regarding Church matters. He then turned to the Bible, a book, as the sole source of authority. Can a book ever be a sole source of authority? Can the Constitution of the United States stand alone without an authoritative body to interpret it? What authoritative body is there to resolve disputes between opposing interpretations of the laws written within it? How long would this country have lasted if the founding fathers had not had the foresight to establish a Supreme Court, which has the final word in the interpretation of the Law of the Land? This country would have been split into factions right from the very beginning.

*Isn't this exactly what happened to Protestantism? Luther separated from the Catholic Church in 1521 and immediately there were squabbles between him, Zwingli, his fellow reformer from Switzerland, and Thomas Munzer. In that same year, Munzer broke away and formed the Anabaptists. John Calvin separated in 1536 and formed Calvinism. John Knox parted company and formed the Presbyterians in 1560. John Smith started the Baptists in 1609, and John and Charles Wesley started Methodism in 1739. From the moment they separated themselves from the Catholic Church, Protestantism lost the 'Supreme Court' of Bible interpretation, the Papacy and the Magisterium, and they lost all of the authority given to those two offices by GOD Himself. See the files regarding 'Authority', and 'Magisterium', elsewhere on this website. The splits continue on to this very day, as there are now over 33,800* differing non-Catholic denominations, none of which can claim authority in the interpretation of the Law of GOD, Holy Scripture. It has become so bad that the sects are feuding amongst themselves and are further splitting internally. There are scores of splinters in the Baptists alone, and several splinters in all of the other major Protestant sects. It is every man for himself in Bible interpretation for Protestantism. If it feels good for you, it must be OK....but be prepared to suffer the consequences. There is no unity in what Martin Luther started. If anything, he made a large part of the Body of Christ impotent. It is easy to see the work of satan here, as it is HIS plan to divide and conquer. See Matt 12:25 for Satan's plan, and John 10:16 for the plan of Jesus Christ.*

Now what do you suppose is the root cause of all of this chaos? It was the implementation of the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura, and with it, the private interpretation of Holy Scripture (forbidden in 2Pet 1:20 and 2Pet 3:16). Now, all of Protestantism can interpret the "Constitution of GOD's Law", the Holy Bible, as they see fit, bringing upon themselves splits, disunity, infighting, and chaos. Yes indeed, it would be a strange thing if GOD had given us an inerrant Book, and had failed to give us an authoritative, infallible interpreter for it. Now you and I both know that GOD would never do this.

Martin Luther was a prolific writer and held many views in opposition to the Catholic Church. On Nov 1, 1517, Luther took 95 theses, which he authored, and nailed them to the door of the Castle Church in Wittenburg Germany. The Catholic Church responded by demanding that Luther retract the statements of his which were in conflict with Church teaching.

The very earliest mention of the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura was by Martin Luther as he was questioned in the Synod of Augsburg (Germany) in October 1518. In his appeal to the Council, Luther placed the Bible and his interpretation of it, above the Pope. Even so he admitted the authority of the Synod and of the Bible were equivalent, only in the hope that the Synod would give him a favorable decision. In the Leipzig Disputation in July 1519, Luther went a step further and declared that Scripture ranked above a Church Council, and that Ecumenical Councils had already erred in matters of faith. As a result he was branded a heretic.

*There seems to be a contradiction here, as Luther was a Catholic Augustinian Monk, and therefore was well aware that it was Catholic Church Councils* which finalized the canons of both the Old and the New Testaments. Now at Leipzig, he declared that the product of the Councils ranked above the Councils themselves.*

Luther was warned by the Church in June 1520, in the Papal Bull 'Exsurge Domine'. The Church did everything it could to reconcile with him but he refused, thus setting the stage for his self ex-communication. He was formally ex-communicated on January 3, 1521 through the Papal Bull 'Decet Romanum Pontificem'.

A secular Council called the "Diet of Worms" was convened by the Catholic Emperor Charles V in April 1521, and Luther was again asked if he was going to retract, or maintain, the ideology of his many books. Luther stood firm. An Edict issued by this Council in May 1521, branded Luther as a heretic and an outlaw.

Since Luther had separated himself from the authority of the Catholic Church, he could no longer claim all of the beauty of Church Tradition. Tradition is also contrary to 'his' idea of Sola Scriptura, and so he had to condemn tradition as 'unbiblical', despite the many verses in support of holding traditions such as, "So then, brethren, stand firm and hold the traditions that you have learned, whether by WORD or by letter of ours." 2Thess 2:15

---

Martin Luther was a Catholic priest who started Protestantism, thus making himself the first Protestant. It is interesting that he wrote in his Commentary on St. John, "We are compelled to concede to the Papists that they have the Word of GOD, that we received it from them, and that without them we should have no knowledge of it at all."

Now for someone who humbled himself by admitting that he took the 'Word of GOD' from the Catholic Church, he still proceeded to 'modify' it without having any authority to do so.

Luther is the one who, on his own 'authority', removed 7 books from their rightful place in the Old Testament, and placed them in an appendix. They had references in them which did not agree with 'his' teaching, mainly 2 Maccabees and Purgatory. He also wanted to remove the last four books of the New Testament, Hebrews, James, Jude, and Revelation, and he succeeded in removing them from their rightful place and put them into an additional unnumbered appendix.

Here is a quote from a Lutheran scholar:

Heinrich Bornkamm's LUTHER AND THE OLD TESTAMENT, Trans. by Eric W. and Ruth C. Gritsch. Edited by Victor I Gruhn. Philadelphia: Fortress Press, 1969. page 189:

"He did not make his distaste evident through his arrangement for printing, although he characterized the last four writings of the New Testament (Hebrews, James, Jude, Revelation) as inferior by not numbering them in the Table of Contents, just as the Old Testament Apocrypha, and by separating them from the main writings of the New Testament by a clear space.(394)"

The footnote, number 394, reads as follows: "394 From the New Testament of September, 1522, to the last edition of the Bible in 1546..."

So what do we know? Luther included the four books, Hebrews, James, Jude, and Revelation, in his NT, but only in an unpaginated appendix, clearly separated from the rest of the NT. We know that this continued from the first printing of Luther's NT until he died in 1546, and then his Bible was reconfigured by his followers.

James 2:24 must have proved an embarrassment to him in his teaching of 'Sola Fides', as it says, "You see that by works a man is justified, and NOT by faith ONLY." Also, James 2:26 says, "Faith without works is dead."

Luther added the word 'alone' to his translation of Romans 3:28 because that verse also contradicted his teaching of 'Sola Fides', "For we reckon that a man is justified by faith alone independently of the works of the law."

See Proverbs 30:6

Throughout all of Scripture we are admonished, not to add to, or to take away from Holy Scripture. Here are some of the verses which warn against doing this, Deut 4:2, 11:32, 12:32(13:1), Psa 12:6-7,33:4, Psa 50:16-17, 107:10-11, 119:57,139-140, Prov 5:7, *30:5-6, Jer 23:36, Gal 1:8-9, 1Pet 1:24-25, 2Pet 3:15-16, and of course the verses we are all familiar with from the last paragraph of the Bible, Rev 22:18-19...

"I testify to everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book. If anyone shall add to them, GOD will add unto him the plagues that are written in this book. And if anyone shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, GOD will take away his portion from the tree of life, and from the holy city, and from the things that are written in this book."

Martin Luther removed seven books from the Old Testament. He did take away from the Words of GOD.

The entire books which he alone removed from their rightful place in Holy Scripture and placed in an appendix are, Baruch, Judith, Tobit, Wisdom, Sirach, and 1 and 2 Maccabees. Later, these books were removed entirely from Protestant bibles. As recounted above, he did the same with four books of the New Testament. These books had been in all Bibles for over 1100 years. Who had the authority to remove them? Did Martin Luther? Did any other single person?

Martin Luther rejected all authority of the Church and declared that the Bible was the sole authority. Nowhere in Scripture is it written that Scripture itself is the 'Sole Authority', nor does it say it is 'Self Sufficient', (see 'For Whom the Bell Tolls', elsewhere on this website). He did take away from the Words of GOD. Isa 22:20-22, Prov 11:14, 24:6, *Matt 18:17, Luke 10:16, 2Cor 10:8, *1Tim 3:15, Heb 13:17

Martin Luther added the word 'alone' to Romans 3:28. He did add to the Words of GOD.

Martin Luther condemned Church tradition as unbiblical (since he could no longer claim it) thereby negating scores of verses. He did take away from the Words of GOD. 2Thess 2:15

Martin Luther declared good works were useless for salvation. He did take away from the Words of GOD. James 2:24-26

Martin Luther wrote a series of pamphlets in which he declared that the Priesthood and the Episcopal Office must be done away with. He did take away from the Word of GOD, which clearly established the Episcopal Office and the Priesthood. Acts 6:5,14:22,20:28, Tit 1:5, James 5:14.

So there we have it. Martin Luther is guilty as charged of all of the violations listed above. He is the first Protestant, and the founder of Protestantism. He is the same person who declared the Bible is the GOD given 'Sole Rule of Authority', and is therefore to be believed. He has violated his own teaching by both 'Adding To', and 'Taking Away' from the Word of GOD. No one can deny that he did these things, as they are recorded in history books, and in Church records. His actions reek of Heresy and Hypocrisy, and all of Protestantism owes its heritage to the deeds of this one man.

Martin Luther had many ideas contrary to Catholic and Biblical teaching. Among them are...

Rejection of all authority of the Papacy and of the Magisterium.
Sola Scriptura, scripture alone as the only authority on religious matters.
Sola Fides, faith without works. Good works are useless for salvation.
Justification by faith alone.
Man has no free will.

---

Protestants have tried to show that Sola Scriptura did exist from the time of the Church Fathers. I have been given five references by Protestants, all of which I will discuss next. But before doing so, I will have to say that the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura binds its believers to the Bible and to the Bible only. I have been told repeatedly that if it is not in the Bible, it simply did not happen or it is not to be believed. I am forced to remark then, that according to their own rules, the writings of Church Fathers presented to me by them are not to be believed, as I cannot find them in the Bible. If that is the case, then why did they present them to me in the first place? Aren't they breaking their own rules by doing so? Isn't there a double standard here?

---

Some Protestants of today would rather use the words 'Bible Sufficiency', rather than the more familiar 'Sola Scriptura'. The reason for this is that 'Sola Scriptura' is never mentioned in the writings of the Church Fathers, but 'Bible Sufficiency' is. This is nothing but a ploy to try and show the legitimacy of 'Sola Scriptura' from early Church writings.

Let us first examine the word 'sufficient' with a dictionary...

Being as much as needed. An adequate amount or quantity'.

Does that mean Bible alone? No! Let us see what the Bible itself says,

"Many other signs also Jesus worked in the sight of His disciples, WHICH ARE NOT WRITTEN IN THIS BOOK. But these are written that you may believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of GOD, and that believing you may have life in His Name." John 20:30-31

"There are, however, many other things that Jesus did; but if every one of these should be written, NOT EVEN THE WORLD ITSELF, I THINK, COULD HOLD THE BOOKS THAT WOULD HAVE TO BE WRITTEN." John 21:25

Obviously Holy Scripture has said very clearly, that everything is NOT in Holy Scripture.

Here are the 5 examples as presented to me. My replies are in blue...

Augustine ("De bono viduitatis", [The Advantage of Widowhood]2):

"What more shall I teach you than what we read in the apostle? For holy Scripture fixes the rule for our doctrine, lest we dare to be wiser than we ought . . . Therefore, I should not teach you anything else except to expound to you the words of the Teacher."

This example does not refer to the "Sufficiency of Scripture" at all, but to the "Authority of Scripture". Where are the words which say "Bible Only"? The Apostles taught to hold the traditions too, as I have already pointed out. Also the "Words of the Teacher" say to keep the traditions. See John 15:20, "Remember the Word that I have spoken to you".

Where is the reference to Sola Scriptura?

Augustine ("De unitate ecclesiae", [on the Unity of the Church]3):

"Let us not hear, this I say, this you say; but thus says the Lord. Surely it is the books of the Lord on whose authority we both agree and which we both believe. There let us seek the Church, there let us discuss our case." He goes on: "Neither dare one agree with catholic bishops if by chance they err in anything, with the result that their opinion is against the canonical Scriptures of God."

I do not see anything in this segment that even remotely refers to "Bible Only". Again it references the 'Authority of Scripture'. Hmmm, the third sentence says to take your case (differences of opinion) to the Church. This sentence does indicate that the Church has the final authority, does it not? See Matt 18:15-18. All that the last sentence says is, "do not agree with a Bishop who is in error".

Where is the reference to Sola Scriptura?

Augustine "Contra litteras Petilianas", (Against the Letters of Petilianus) Bk.3, ch.6:

"If anyone preaches either concerning Christ or concerning His church or concerning any other matter which pertains to our faith and life; I will not say, if we, but what Paul adds, if an angel from heaven should preach to you anything besides what you have received in the Scriptures of the Law and the Gospels, let him be anathema."

This is only a repeat of Gal 1:8-9 which warns against preaching another Gospel. Mormons should heed this one as it does not apply to Catholics. However, it would apply to Protestants who deny keeping the traditions. That is preaching another Gospel.

Where is the reference to Sola Scriptura?

---

Protestant references to writings of St. Augustine, for support of Sola Scriptura, fall so short that they are simply non-existent.

Since Protestants like to reference St. Augustine, then I have a few references from him for them:

*"I should not believe the Gospel except as moved by the AUTHORITY of the CATHOLIC CHURCH."
Against the Letter of Mani 5,6, 397 A.D.*

*"But in regard to those observances which we carefully attend and which the whole world keeps, and which derive not from Scripture BUT FROM TRADITION, we are given to understand that they are recommended and ordained to be kept either by the Apostles themselves or by plenary COUNCILS, THE AUTHORITY OF WHICH IS QUITE VITAL TO THE CHURCH."
Letter of Augustine to Januarius 54,1,1, 400 A.D.*

*"I believe that this practice comes from apostolic tradition, just as so many other practices NOT FOUND IN THEIR WRITINGS nor in the councils of their successors, but which, because they are kept by the whole Church everywhere, are believed to have been commended and handed down by the Apostles themselves."
St. Augustine, Baptism 1,12,20, 400 A.D.*

*"What they found in the Church they kept; what they learned, they taught; what they received from the fathers, they handed on to the sons."
St. Augustine, Against Julian, 2,10,33, 421 A.D.*

*"Since by Christ's favor we are CATHOLIC Christians:"
St. Augustine, Letter to Vitalis, 217,5,16, 427 A.D.*

*"By the same word, by the same Sacrament you were born, but you will not come to the same inheritance of eternal life, unless you return to the CATHOLIC CHURCH."
St. Augustine, Sermons, 3, 391 A.D.*

*"This Church is holy, the one Church, the true Church, the Catholic Church, fighting as she does against all heresies. She can fight, but she cannot be beaten. All heresies are expelled from her, like the useless loppings pruned from a vine. She remains fixed in her root, in her vine, in her love. The gates of hell shall NOT conquer her."
St. Augustine, Sermon to Catechumens, on the Creed, 6,14, 395 A.D.*

From the samplings of St. Augustine (354-430), which I have shown here, if I were a Protestant, and was determined to remain one, I would make sure I would not ever quote from him again. There are references to many more quotes from many Church Fathers, following this section.

---

Athanasius ("Contra Gentes and De Incarnatione", [Against Peoples Opinion About the Incarnation] Oxford, p. 2):

"For indeed the holy and God breathed Scriptures are self-sufficient for the preaching of the truth."

If the Protestants read this as 'Sola Scriptura', then I will have to remark that they should change the title to 'Sola Some of Scriptura', as they rejected 7 books of the Old Testament, and the verses which pertain to keeping of the traditions. Again, this section refers to the Authority of Scripture and not Scripture only. Catholics have never disputed the authority of Scripture, only the Protestant claim that it is the 'sole' authority.

Athanasius ("Ad Episcopos Aegyptiae" [To the Bishops of Egypt] in NPNF, Series II, IV:225):

" . . . holy Scripture is of all things most sufficient for us."

This is the only line that was given to me from a very lengthy writing. Following is all of part 4 of this writing, and the line quoted to me is in red at the end.

Athanasius... AD EPISCOPOS AEGYPTIAE...TO THE BISHOPS OF EGYPT

4. IT PROFITS NOT TO RECEIVE PART OF SCRIPTURE, AND REJECT PART.

For whence do Marcion and Manichaeus receive the Gospel while they reject the Law? For the New Testament arose out of the Old, and bears witness to the Old; if then they reject this, how can they receive what proceeds from it? Thus Paul was an Apostle of the Gospel, 'which God promised afore by His prophets in the holy Scriptures[3]:' and our Lord Himself said, 'ye search the Scriptures, for they are they which testify of Me[4].' How then shall they confess the Lord unless they first search the Scriptures which are written concerning Him? And the disciples say that they have found Him, 'of whom Moses and the Prophets did write[5].' And what is the Law to the Sadducees if they receive not the Prophets[6]? For God who gave the Law, Himself promised in the Law that He would raise up Prophets also, so that the same is Lord both of the Law and of the Prophets, and he that denies the one must of necessity deny the other also. And again, what is the Old Testament to the Jews, unless they acknowledge the Lord whose coming was expected according to it? For had they believed the writings of Moses, they would have believed the words of the Lord; for He said, 'He wrote of Me[7].' Moreover, what are the Scriptures to him of Samosata, who denies the Word of God and His Incarnate Presence[9], which is signified and declared both in the Old and New Testament? And of what use are the Scriptures to the Arians also, and why do they bring them forward, men who say that the Word of God is a creature, and like the Gentiles 'serve the creature more than' God 'the Creator[1]?' Thus each of these heresies, in respect of the peculiar impiety of its invention, has nothing in common with the Scriptures. And their advocates are aware of this, that the Scriptures are very much, or rather altogether, opposed to the doctrines of every one of them; but for the sake of deceiving the more simple sort (such as are those of whom it is written in the Proverbs, 'The simple believeth every word[2]),' they pretend like their 'father the devil[3]' to study and to quote the language of Scripture, in order that they may appear by their words to have a right belief, and so may persuade their wretched followers to believe what is contrary to the Scriptures. Assuredly in every one of these heresies the devil has thus disguised himself, and has suggested to them words full of craftiness. The Lord spake concerning them, that 'there shall arise false Christs and false prophets, so that they shall deceive many[4].' Accordingly the devil has come, speaking by each and saying, 'I am Christ, and the truth is with me;' and he has made them, one and all, to be liars like himself. And strange it is, that while all heresies are at variance with one another concerning the mischievous inventions which each has framed, they are united together only by the common purpose of lying[5]. For they have one and the same father that has sown in them all the seeds, of falsehood. Wherefore the faithful Christian and true disciple of the Gospel, having grace to discern spiritual things, and having built the house of his faith upon a rock, stands continually firm and secure from their deceits. But the simple person, as I said before, that is not thoroughly grounded in knowledge, such an one, considering only the words that are spoken and not perceiving their meaning, is immediately drawn away by their wiles. Wherefore it is good and needful for us to pray that we may receive the gift of discerning spirits, so that every one may know, according to the precept of John, whom he ought to reject, and whom to receive as friends and of the same faith. Now one might write at great length concerning these things, if one desired to go rate details respecting them; for the impiety and perverseness of heresies will appear to be manifold and various, and the craft of the deceivers to be very terrible. But since holy Scripture is of all things most sufficient[6] for us, therefore recommending to those who desire to know more of these matters, to read the Divine word, I now hasten to set before you that which most claims attention, and for the sake of which principally I have written these things.

This quote given to me when taken in context is funny, as what does the first sentence say, which is the theme of the whole part? IT PROFITS NOT TO RECEIVE PART OF SCRIPTURE AND REJECT PART. I have already discussed the parts rejected by Protestants, so to whom does this paragraph fit? Where does it say 'Holy Scripture ONLY is of all things sufficient for us? Again it addresses Authority of Scripture, not Sola Scriptura.

Repeatedly, the Protestants like to quote Athanasius to once again 'prove' Sola Scriptura existed in his time, and once again, they have 'proven' that this Church Father never did write anything promoting Sola Scriptura. But he did write some very interesting words against it.

"But what is also to the point, let us note that the very TRADITION, teaching and faith of the CATHOLIC CHURCH from the beginning, WHICH THE LORD GAVE, was preached by the Apostles, and was preserved by the Fathers. On this was the Church founded; and if anyone departs from this, he neither is nor any longer ought to be called a Christian."
St. Athanasius, Letters to Serapion of Thmuis, 1,28, 359 A.D.

My point being made, need I say more?

As I have previously said about another Church Father, if I were a Protestant, I would be careful about quoting from Saint Athanasius (296-373) also.

---

Here are a few quotes from other Church Fathers since Protestants like to quote them...

Saint Ignatius of Antioch (d 110) is an Apostolic Church Father, meaning he knew at least some of the Apostles.

"Wherever the Bishop appears, let the people be there; just as wherever Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church." Letter to the Smyrneans 8:1

"In like manner let everyone respect the deacons as they would respect Jesus Christ, and just as they respect the Bishop as a type of the Father, and the presbyters as the Council of GOD and college of Apostles. Without these, it cannot be called a Church." Letter to the Trallians 3:1

Saint Clement of Rome, is another Apostolic Church Father, and he had this to say...

"Owing to the sudden and repeated calamities and misfortunes which have befallen us, we must acknowledge that we have been somewhat tardy in turning our attention to the matters in dispute among you, beloved; and especially that abominable and unholy sedition, alien and foreign to the elect of GOD, which a few rash and self-willed persons have inflamed to such madness that your venerable and illustrious name, worthy to be loved by all men, has been greatly defamed."
Letter to the Corinthians, Address, 80 A.D..

"Accept our counsel and you will have nothing to regret." Letter to the Corinthians 58:2, 80 A.D.

Saint John Chrysostom (354-407)...

"Therefore, brethren, stand fast and hold the traditions which you have been taught, whether by word or by our letter. From this it is clear that they did not hand down everything by letter, but there was much also that was not written. Like that which was written, the unwritten too is worthy of belief. So let us regard the tradition of the Church as worthy of belief. Is it a tradition? Seek no further." Homilies

Some final notes on Sola Scriptura from its inventor and the founder of Protestantism...

Martin Luther looked around and saw the damage that Sola Scriptura and 'private interpretation' of Holy Scripture was doing to his 'reformation', and made the following remarks...

"This one will not hear of Baptism, and that one denies the sacrament, another puts a world between this and the last day: some teach that Christ is not God, some say this, some say that: there are as many sects and creeds as there are heads. No yokel is so rude but when he has dreams and fancies, he thinks himself inspired by the Holy Ghost and must be a prophet" De Wette III, 61. quoted in O'Hare, THE FACTS ABOUT LUTHER, 208.

"Noblemen, townsmen, peasants, all classes understand the Evangelium better than I or St. Paul; they are now wise and think themselves more learned than all the ministers." Walch XIV, 1360. quoted in O'Hare, Ibid, 209.

"We concede -- as we must -- that so much of what they [the Catholic Church] say is true: that the papacy has God's word and the office of the apostles, and that we have received Holy Scriptures, Baptism, the Sacrament, and the pulpit from them. What would we know of these if it were not for them?" Sermon on the gospel of St. John, chaps. 14 - 16 (1537), in vol. 24 of LUTHER'S WORKS, St. Louis, Mo.: Concordia, 1961, 304.

All of this and much more was said by the founder of Sola Scriptura, just a short time later, as he surveyed the damage it had caused, and was continuing to cause. By this time, Zwingli, had run in this direction, Munzer in that direction, Calvin in yet another direction, all of them scattering the sheep and taking their flocks with them. Luther had let the cat out of the bag and he was helpless to put it back in. He had started something that he was powerless to stop.

"Once you open the door to error, you cannot close it." How true. Luther had set a prime example.

Some other interesting remarks made by Martin Luther...

The Blessed Virgin Mary...

"The great thing is none other than that she became the Mother of God; in which process so many and such great gifts were bestowed upon her that no one is able to comprehend them. Thereupon follows all honor, all blessedness, and the fact that in the whole race of men only one person is above all the rest, one to whom no one else is equal. For that reason her dignity is crowded into a single phrase when we call her the Mother of God; no one can say greater things of her or to her, even if he had as many tongues as leaves and blades of grass, as the stars in heaven and sands on the seashore. It must also be meditated in the heart what it means to be the Mother of God."

The first Protestant loved and honored the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of GOD. Why haven't all of the rest of Protestantism followed his example in honoring her?

The fruits of Sola Scriptura...

"But when He, the Spirit of Truth, has come, He will teach you all the truth. For He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He will hear he will speak, and the things that are to come He will declare to you." John 16:13

Most non-Catholic sects declare that the Holy Spirit is 'teaching' them the truth. However, there can be only one truth. Since the advent of Sola Scriptura and individual interpretation of Scripture, how can the Holy Spirit be in each of the thousands of sects, teaching all of them opposing viewpoints? It is to be noted that all of the following denominations teach from the same Bible, so why the differences in teaching?

1. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Lutherans the Eucharist is the true presence of Christ, and then tell the Baptists it is only a symbol?

2. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Methodists it is alright to have female ministers, and then tell the Baptists it is unbiblical?

3. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Seventh Day Adventists that Saturday is the day of worship, and then tell the Presbyterians the day of worship is Sunday and not Saturday?

4. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Lutherans that the Blessed Virgin Mary was and remains always virgin, and then tell the Baptists she had other children?

5. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Baptists, 'once saved always saved', and then tell the Church of Christ that Sola Fides is unscriptural?

6. How can the Holy Spirit tell Episcopalians to baptize infants and then tell Pentecostals infant baptism is invalid?

7. How can the Holy Spirit tell Mormons that the Holy Trinity is three separate persons, and then tell Methodists the Trinity is three persons in one GOD?

I could go on and on with the differences between non-Catholic sects, but I think you get the point. It takes only a minimum of common sense to realize that the Holy Spirit could not be speaking to each and every one of those thousands of non-Catholic sects in the opposing ways of which I have sampled here. However, I was recently reminded that common sense is not so common anymore. It is easy to see that the 'fruits of Sola Scriptura' are not from GOD. There is no 'one fold and one shepherd' in Protestantism. Opposing teachings in these denominations is rampant, all caused by the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura and its accompanying 'individual interpretation' of Holy Scripture. Which, if any, of these sects is being taught all of the truth, as promised by Jesus Christ in John 16:13?

"And we are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom GOD has given to all who obey Him." Acts 5:32

Okay, GOD Himself has thrown down the gauntlet...TO ALL WHO OBEY HIM.

So who obeys the will of GOD? Is it the Lutherans who say the Holy Eucharist is the 'True Presence' of Jesus Christ incarnate, or is it the Baptists who say, 'It is only a symbol'?

Is it those who say we have to worship on Saturday or is it those who say worship on Sunday?

Is it those who say baptize infants or those who say not to?

I challenge anyone to show me legitimate proof in writing, a genuine historical document, which describes the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura and which predates that which I have shown in this writing.

---

I Further challenge anyone to explain to me how Sola Scriptura could have possibly existed before the printing press. Before that time (1450) it took one monk up to 20 years of his labor to hand copy one Bible. The cost of each was prohibitive and when 95% of the populace was illiterate and could not even read a Bible, then please tell me how it could possibly work? The answer is of course, it did not, and it could not possibly work, and thereby did not exist. Sola Scriptura is not Scriptural, is not historical, and is not workable. Since I have shown its very beginning during the reformation, then that classifies it as a man made tradition, and subject to condemnation by Jesus Christ Himself as shown in Mark 7:8.

For Sola Scriptura Believers Only.

Bye bye, Sola Scriptura!

---

---

Is it the Bible or is it the Church?

It appears to be a question of either/or, which means one or the other for non-Catholic Christians. Non-Catholic Christians have chosen the Bible, since they rejected the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Well, now in regards to itself, just what does the Bible have to say about the Church that Jesus Christ founded?

❁ 1. Did Jesus Christ found the Bible or the Church?

Does the Bible say it was the Bible? No, it says He founded His Church, Matthew 16:18.

❁ 2. What is the pillar and foundation of the truth?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible? No, it says it is the Church, 1Timothy 3:15.

This verse also tells us that the Church was already in existence before 1Timothy was written.

❁ 3. Who or what is the final authority?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible? No, it says it is the Church, Matthew 18:15-18.

❁ 4. Who is the teacher of all the wisdom of GOD?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible? No, it says it is the Church, Ephesians 3:10.

❁ 5. Who is to be saved?

Does the Bible say that all who believe in Sola Scriptura, (the 'Bible only'), will be saved?

No, it says those who are attached to His Church will be saved.

"And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved", Acts 2:47, King James Bible.

Note the singular, "the church".

❁ 6. What are we commanded to edify?

Does the Bible say that we are to edify the Bible?

No, it says we are to edify the Church, 1Corinthians 14:12.

❁ 7. Who or what rules the Church of GOD?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says it is the Bishops that the Holy Spirit has appointed that rule the Church of GOD, Acts 20:28.

❁ 8. What is it that Jesus purchased with His own blood?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says that Jesus purchased the Church of GOD with His own blood, Acts 20:28, King James Bible.

❁ 9. For what did Christ give Himself up?

Does the Bible say it was the Bible?

No, the Bible says that Christ gave Himself up for the Church, Ephesians 5:25.

10. What is it that Jesus nourishes and cherishes?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says that Jesus nourishes and cherishes His Church, Ephesians 5:29.

11. For what is Jesus the savior?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says Jesus is the savior of His Body which is the Church that He founded, Ephesians 1:22-23, and 5:23.

12. What has neither spot nor wrinkle?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says it is the Church that Jesus Christ founded, Ephesians 5:27.

The Church is not holy because of us. The Church is holy because of Him.

13. To whom or to what is the Church subject?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says the Church is subject to Christ, Ephesians 5:24.

14. What are we commanded not to offend?

Does the Bible say it is the Bible?

No, the Bible says we are to give no offence to the Church of GOD, 1Corinthians 10:32.

Do you give offence to the Church of GOD that Jesus Christ founded?

15. What came first, the New Testament part of the Bible or the Church?

Does the Bible say it was the Bible?

No, but it tells us that the Church was already in existence for years before any New Testament books were even written.

How do we know this?

Because it is the Church which is mentioned in these books:

Matthew 16:18 and 18:17,

Acts 5:11, for one and many more times in Acts,

Romans 16:23, and many more verses,

1Corinthians 1:2, and many more verses,

2Corinthians 1:1,

Galatians 1:13,

Ephesians 1:22, and many more verses,

Philippians 3:6 and 4:15,

Colossians 1:18, and many more verses,

1Thessalonians 1:1. 1Thessalonians is considered to be the first New Testament book written, in about 51 A.D..

2Thessalonians 1:1,

1Timothy 3:5, 3:15 and 5:16,

Titus 3:15, per added note in the King James Version,

Philemon 1:2,

Hebrews 2:12 and 12:23,

James 5:14,

1Peter 5:13,

3John 1:6 and 1:9-10,

Revelation 2:1, plus six more in the same book.

Since all of these books mention the word Church, the Church had to have been in existence already for years before they were written.

If that is true, then how was the teaching accomplished without a New Testament of Jesus Christ?

Simply by the same way that Jesus Christ taught, orally. Oral teaching is Tradition.

Tradition (capital 'T') is Apostolic oral teaching handed down to their successors and to others.

The Bible is oral Tradition written down.

There was no such thing as Sola Scriptura even then.

There was not any New Testament scripture for the first twenty years of the existence of the Church.

---

What does the Bible say about itself?

❶ 1. The Bible clearly says that it is inspired by GOD, 2Timothy 3:16.

This can only refer to the Old Testament, since there was no New Testament at the time that St. Paul wrote 2Timothy.

Scores of spurious 'gospels' were written by Gnostics and others and were later declared by the Church to be not inspired.

The new testament canon was not finalized until hundreds of years later in the fourth century and by the Church.

❷ 2. The Bible clearly says it is useful for teaching, 2Timothy 3:16.

Useful means just that, and it does not mean all encompassing or Bible only.

❸ 3. The Bible clearly says that everything is not within it, John 20:30, John 21:25.

Bye bye, Sola Scriptura.

❹ 4. The Bible clearly says that there are many things to say to you but you cannot bear them now, John 16:12.

That implies future teaching, and again that everything is not in the Bible. Bye bye, Sola Scriptura.

❺ 5. The Bible clearly says you are being fed with milk (as with a baby) because you cannot eat meat as yet, 1Corinthians 3:2, Hebrews 5:12-13.

Again we see implied future teaching which comes over time. Bye bye, Sola Scriptura.

❻ 6. The Bible clearly says when the Spirit of Truth has come, He will teach you all the truth, and the THINGS THAT ARE TO COME He will declare to you, John 16:13.

In this verse there can be no doubt that everything is not in the Bible, and that things that are to come will be revealed over time by the Spirit of Truth through His Church.

Here is but one of many prime examples of the fulfillment of this verse, and it is the word "trinity". Sola Scriptura believers, please show me the word "trinity" in the Bible?

It is not there. It is not mentioned even once. Yet, most SS believers do believe in the Trinity and they use the word extensively.

Isn't that being hypocritical to say that you believe in Sola Scriptura and also in the Trinity?

Is not that the practice of "Doublethink"?

The Trinity was not formally defined until the year 381 by the Catholic first Council of Constantinople.

That was well over 270 years after the last book of the Bible, Revelation, was written.

Remember Ephesians 3:10, as listed above? It said it is the Church that is the teacher.

John 16:13 all by itself is the death knell of the false man made doctrine of Sola Scriptura, which means 'Bible only', or 'if I cannot find it in the Bible, then I choose not to believe it simply because it does not exist or it never happened'.

Bye bye, Sola Scriptura.

7. The Bible clearly says that you cannot interpret the Bible on an individual basis, Acts 8:30-35, 2Peter 1:20-21.

Why then do so many non-Catholics do it when Holy Scripture says they cannot?

Who obeys the teaching of Holy Scripture, and who does not?

8. The Bible clearly says that we are not to use 'eisegesis' to interpret Holy Scripture.

"I have applied all this to myself and Apollos for your benefit, brethren, that you may learn by us not to go beyond what is written, that none of you may be puffed up in favor of one against another." 1Corinthians 4:6

The meaning of 'eisegesis' is, an interpretation of Scripture that expresses one's own ideas or bias, rather than the true meaning of the text.

In other words, reading something into Scripture that simply is not there.

---

What does the Bible NOT say about itself?

1. The Bible does not say it is the Bible only.

The man-made false doctrine of Sola Scriptura cannot be found anywhere within it.

2. The Bible does not say to discard Apostolic Tradition.

After all, the Bible itself is merely Tradition written down.

Jesus taught orally.

The Apostles taught orally for many years before the first book of the New Testament was even written.

3. The Bible does not say that it is the final authority.

4. The Bible does not say that Jesus Christ told anyone to write the Bible itself.

5. The Bible did not give us the Canon of inspired books that are included within it.

The Canon of Holy Scripture was decided by the Catholic Church in the fourth century.

---

What does the Bible say regarding the eternal existence of the one Church founded by Christ?

1. The Bible clearly says that if it is man made it will be overthrown, but if it is from GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it, Acts 5:38-39.

After almost 2000 years the Catholic Church is still here despite the many attempts to overthrow it.

What does that tell you?

What do those verses tell you about man made churches?

2. The Bible clearly says if you try to overthrow it you may find yourself fighting even against GOD, Acts 5:39.

Do you think maybe that is the reason why you cannot not find any of those who have tried to overthrow it for the last 2000 years?

For those who tried to bury the Catholic Church, the Church ended up burying them instead.

3. The Bible clearly says, not to offend the Church of GOD, 1Corinthians 10:32.

Do you make it a practice to offend the Church of GOD?

4. The Bible clearly says the gates of hell will not prevail against the Church which Jesus Christ founded, Matthew 16:18.

Did Jesus Christ lie in this verse?

Do you say that the Church that Jesus Christ founded apostatized early on and therefore the gates of hell did prevail against it?

Then why do you bother to quote the Bible at all since you reject so much of it?

5. The Bible clearly says that Jesus Christ will be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, Matthew 28:20.

Again, did Jesus Christ lie in this verse?

Do you preach to anyone who will listen, that the Church which Jesus Christ founded did indeed apostatize, and that He did leave it at some unknown, unwitnessed, and undocumented time?

Again, why do you even bother to quote the Bible at all since you reject so much of it?

6. The Bible clearly says that there shall be no end to the Kingdom which Jesus Christ will found, Luke 1:32-33.

Did the angel Gabriel lie to the Blessed Virgin Mary in these verses? Can an angel of GOD lie?

Do you believe that His Kingdom did in fact end?

7. The Bible clearly says that the Church which Jesus Christ founded will last for all time without end, Ephesians 3:21.

Did St. Paul lie in this verse?

Do you preach that the Church which Jesus Christ founded did not last for all time without end?

Again then, why do you even bother to quote the Bible at all since you reject so much of it?

8. The Bible clearly has a lot to say in the Old Testament, about the fact that the Church which Jesus Christ will found will last forever.

Isaiah 9:6-7,

"For a CHILD IS BORN to us, and a son is given to us, and the government is upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, God the Mighty, the Father of the world to come, the Prince of Peace. His empire shall be multiplied, and there shall be no end of peace: he shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom; to establish it and strengthen it with judgment and with justice, from henceforth and for ever: the zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this."

Isaiah 41:10-11,

"Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am thy God: I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of my just one hath upheld thee. Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded and ashamed, they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

Isaiah 54:11-17,

"O poor little one, tossed with tempest, without all comfort, behold I will lay thy stones in order, and will lay thy foundations with sapphires,

And I will make thy bulwarks of jasper: and thy gates of graven stones, and all thy borders of desirable stones.

All thy children shall be taught of the Lord: and great shall be the peace of thy children.

And thou shalt be founded in justice: depart far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee.

Behold, an inhabitant shall come, who was not with me, he that was a stranger to thee before, shall be joined to thee.

Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the killer to destroy. No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper: and every tongue that resisteth thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the Lord, and their justice with me, saith the Lord."

Isaiah 59:20-21,

"And there shall come a redeemer to Sion, and to them that return from iniquity in Jacob, saith the Lord.

This is my covenant with them, saith the Lord: My spirit that is in thee, and my words that I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever."

Daniel 2:44,

"And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever."

'Break in pieces'? How prophetic! Today, we have 38,000+ non-Catholic Christian sects. Aren't they 38,000+ 'pieces'.

What is the meaning of, "and the kingdom shall not be left to other people"?

Daniel 7:13-14,

"I beheld, therefore, in the vision of the night, and lo, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and he came even to the ancient of days: and they presented him before him. And he gave him power, and glory, and a kingdom: and all peoples, tribes, and tongues shall serve him: his power is an everlasting power that shall not be taken away: and his kingdom that shall not be destroyed."

9. The Bible clearly says that the Church which Jesus Christ founded will be spread around the whole world, to all peoples and for all time, Matthew 28:19-20, Acts 1:8.

All teaching, in all the world, for all time. Those three 'alls' are the definition of Katholikos, the Greek word for Catholic.

10. The Bible clearly says that only GOD can build His house, and others that try to build another house of GOD are laboring in vain, Psalms 127:1

Why then do some continue to labor in vain since the Bible clearly states that they are laboring in vain?

11. The Bible clearly says that no one can lay a foundation other than what was laid already by Jesus Christ, 1Corinthians 3:11.

Why then, do others still lay unauthorized foundations and continue splitting the Body of Christ into more and more pieces?

12. The Bible clearly says that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is His Body, Ephesians 1:22-23.

13. The Bible clearly says that Jesus Christ is the savior of His Body which is the Church, Ephesians 5:23.

14. The Bible clearly says that Saul persecuted and ravaged the Church which Jesus Christ founded, Acts 8:3.

Do you walk in the footsteps of Saul?

15. The Bible clearly says that Jesus Christ said to Saul, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?", Acts 9:4.

Saul was persecuting the Church that Jesus Christ founded (Acts 8:3), so why didn't Jesus say, "why do you persecute My Church?", instead of, "why do you persecute me?"?

It is because His Church truly is His Body, Ephesians 1:22-23.

Now, isn't it true that since Saul persecuted the Church before his conversion, that the book of Acts had to have been written many years after the Church was founded?

Isn't it fair to say that those who today persecute that same Church which Jesus Christ founded could very well have their own names substituted for Saul's in Acts 9:4?

Since every church on earth had a founder with a name, I would strongly suggest that those who persecute the Catholic Church had better find out who is the founder of the Catholic Church.

If they say it was not Jesus Christ, then the onus is upon them to name the person who did, and to provide genuine historical documents to prove what they say.

"What is gratuitously asserted can be gratuitously denied."

In other words, statements made without proof can be denied without proof.

If you persecute the Catholic Church, aren't you really persecuting its founder, just as Jesus said to Saul in Acts 9:4?

---

What does the Bible NOT say about the Church which Jesus Christ founded?

1. The Bible does not say that Jesus Christ founded more than one Church.

2. The Bible does not say that the Bible is elevated higher than the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

3. The Bible does not say that it is the final authority over the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

4. The Bible does not say that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is an 'invisible Church' but is a highly visible one.

"And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues."

1Corinthians 12:28, King James Bible.

Governments? How could anyone possibly govern an invisible church?

5. The Bible does not say that anyone has the authority to found another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded.

There is no verse in all of Holy Scripture which gave authority for anyone to do so.

In fact there is one verse in particular that says anyone who does so is laboring in vain, Psalms 127:1.

What does the Bible say about persons mentioned in the Bible?

1. The Bible most clearly commands every person who has ever lived in the past almost two thousand years to call the Mother of GOD "Blessed".

"Henceforth all generations shall call me blessed", Luke 1:48.

Do you call her blessed? If you do not, and if you claim to follow Bible teaching, then please explain why you do not obey the clear command of Luke 1:48?

2. Who is to rule the Church of GOD after the Apostles have died off?

Does the Bible say it is the ministers of 38,000+ non-Catholic sects, with all teaching something different?

No, the Bible clearly says it is the Bishops, Acts 20:28.

3. The Bible clearly tells us how the Bishops are chosen through Apostolic Succession.

4. The Bible clearly shows the Primacy of Peter over the other Apostles.

5. The Bible clearly tells us that the only persons who have the authority to preach are those who are called by GOD.

"Neither does any man take the honour to himself, but he that is called by GOD, as Aaron was."

Hebrews 5:4

Can just anyone stand on a soap box and claim that he or she was called by GOD?

If so, whatever happened to Ephesians 3:10 mentioned earlier?

By what authority can they claim that they were sent by GOD?

If they claim that the Bible is their authority, then ask them to show you the verse giving them that authority.

If they cannot find the verse then aren't they in fact, "taking the honor to themselves" which is forbidden as read in Hebrews 5:4?

6. The Bible clearly addresses what happens to those who rebel against the Authority of GOD's "Father Figure".

7. The Bible clearly tells us what the end result will be for liars, Revelation 21:8.

What does the Bible say about other topics that non-Catholic Christians reject?

- ❶ 1. The Bible clearly prefigured the Papacy, proving that those are wrong who say that the papacy is an invention of the Catholic Church.
- ❷ 2. The Bible clearly addresses Purgatory. Just because Sola Scriptura believers present a blind eye to the verses does not mean that they are not there.
- ❸ 3. The Bible clearly revealed that Inquisitions were to be held.

The Bible clearly says there will be wrath visited upon those who refuse to submit to the truth, Romans 2:8.

I have previously shown that the Bible says that the pillar and foundation of the truth is not the Bible but it is the Church which Jesus Christ founded, 1 Timothy 3:15. So to what teaching source would Romans 2:8 apply?

The Bible clearly says there will be the wrath of GOD upon those who hold back the truth of GOD, Romans 1:18.

Since I have already pointed out that it is the Church which is the teacher of all the wisdom of GOD in Ephesians 3:10, then isn't it obvious that those who hold back the teaching of His Church, are risking their salvation since the wrath of GOD is upon them, as stated in Romans 1:18?

At the beginning of this page, the question was, "Is it the Bible, or is it the Church?"

Non-Catholic Christians say, "It is the Bible Only", Sola Scriptura, either/or, is their choice. They sit upon a wobbly one legged stool called Bible only.

The correct answer for Catholics is both, not either/or but 'AND'. It is certainly not 'only the Bible'.

However, the Catholic Church does not sit upon an unstable two legged stool, but upon a sturdy three legged stool.

For Catholics it is the Bible 'AND' the Church 'AND' the Magisterium, each of which is dependent upon the other two.

The Church existed for many years from the time of the death of Jesus on the cross in about 30 A.D., until the first book of the New Testament was written in about 51 A.D..

The New Testament teaching during those years was none other than Tradition.

By the time that the last book of the New Testament was written around 100 A.D., the Church which Jesus Christ founded was already on its fifth successor of Peter.

---

---

"Have I then become your enemy, because I told you the truth?"
Galatians 4:16

---

---

"What is gratuitously asserted can be gratuitously denied."
In other words, statements made without proof can be denied without proof.

Okay, which way is it, by Grace, by Faith, or by Works, that brings us into eternal salvation?

---

How about all of the above?

---

---

*For many non-Catholics, the answer to the question is one of 'Either - Or', but with Catholics, the answer is 'And'.
(This is an example of Boolean Logic)*

---

"Together we confess: By grace alone, in faith in Christ's saving work and not because of any merit on our part, we are accepted by GOD and receive the Holy Spirit, who renews our hearts while equipping and calling us to good works." This is a Joint Declaration on Justification (Salvation) by faith, paragraph 15. This joint declaration was agreed upon by the Catholic and Lutheran Churches in 1999 after 33 years of discussion.

---

"Even so let your light shine before men, in order that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father in Heaven." Matt 5:16

"Make no mistake: GOD is not mocked, for a person will reap only what he sows, because the one who sows for his flesh will reap corruption from the flesh, but the one who sows for the Spirit will reap eternal life from the Spirit. Let us not grow tired of doing good, for in due season we shall reap our harvest if we do not give up." Gal 6:7-9

"Work out your salvation with fear and trembling." Phil 2:12

---

*Let us first define the meanings of Grace and Faith and Works.
(CCC, refers to the Catechism of the Catholic Church)
(Trent, refers to the Council of Trent, 1545-1563)*

Grace: Is a supernatural gift from GOD.

Sanctifying grace dwells in the soul and gives it supernatural life. It makes us pleasing to GOD (CCC 2024). It comes to us through prayer and the sacraments. If we have sanctifying grace indwelling our soul when we die, then we go to Heaven. Sanctifying grace is lost if we are in mortal sin (Trent, session 6, chapter V). If this happens, it is spiritual death for the soul. How can we regain Sanctifying grace? We regain it through the sacraments of reconciliation and the Holy Eucharist.

Actual grace are graces that move us or prod us into doing the things which we should be doing, such as trying to regain Sanctifying grace (Trent, session 6, chapter V).

Grace can be all that is needed for salvation in certain cases, such as for babies who are Baptized and die afterward, as they have no faith, and cannot do good works, or for those who repent on their deathbeds.

"For without Me, you can do nothing." John 15:5

"With men, this is impossible, but with GOD all things are possible." Matt 19:26

"I can do all things in Him who strengthens me." Phil 4:13

"...No one can receive anything unless it is given to him from Heaven." John 3:27

"And He said to me, 'My grace is sufficient for you, for strength is made perfect in weakness'." 2Cor 12:9

"I give thanks to my GOD always concerning you for the grace of GOD which was given you in Christ Jesus..." 1Cor 1:4

"For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not from yourselves, for it is the gift of GOD..." Eph 2:8

"But to each one of us grace was given according to the measure of Christ's bestowal." Eph 4:7

"And of His fullness we have all received grace for grace." John 1:16

Grace is a free gift from GOD, and a sufficient amount is given to each and every one of us for our salvation. Without it, we can do nothing at all. We cannot 'save' ourselves without the help of GOD.

Faith: Is the assent given to GOD's truth. 1Thes 2:13

"Faith, however, is believing what you do not yet see; to which faith the reward is seeing what you believe." St. Augustine, Sermons 43:1

Believing in Jesus Christ and in the One who sent him for our salvation is necessary for obtaining that salvation. "Since 'without faith it is impossible to please [GOD]' and to attain to the fellowship of his sons, therefore without faith no one has ever attained justification, nor will anyone obtain eternal life 'but he who endures to the end.'" CCC 161, Matt 10:22,24:13, Heb 11:6.

(Trent, session 6, chapter VIII)

"Now faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." Heb 11:1

"Without faith it is impossible to please GOD." Heb 11:6

"Faith then depends on hearing, and hearing on the Word of Christ." Rom 10:17

(Trent, session 6, chapter VI)

"Yet when the Son of Man comes, will He find, do you think, faith on the earth?" Luke 18:8

Faith is of great importance to GOD.

"Through Him we have received the grace of Apostleship, to bring about the obedience of faith." Rom 1:5

Faith is being obedient to GOD.

"For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision is of any avail, nor uncircumcision, but faith which works through charity." Gal 5:6.

Faith, therefore, works through love.

"And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could move mountains, and have not charity (love), I am nothing." 1Cor 13:2.

Faith, however, is interwoven with love. Faith without love is useless. After reading that verse, how could anyone say they are saved by Faith only, or alone?

"Now the Spirit explicitly says that in the last times some will turn away from the faith by paying attention to deceitful spirits and demonic instructions through the hypocrisy of liars with branded consciences." 1Tim 4:1. See also 1Tim 1:19,5:8,6:10 and 6:21.

Faith can be lost.

"Examine yourselves to see whether you are living in faith." 2Cor 13:5

Works: We work out what GOD works in our hearts. Works are the fruit of faith. As already mentioned, "We work out our salvation with fear and trembling." Whenever St. Paul said works are not needed, he was referring to the old Mosaic Law or works of darkness. He did not mean the good works rendered by the Law of Grace (Trent, session 6, chapter 4) of the New Covenant..

In Matt 25:31-46 are many examples of doing good works, proclaimed by Jesus Christ. There is the separation of the sheep from the goats which relate to, the feeding of the hungry, clothing of the naked, visiting the sick and those imprisoned, and more. Notice that both the sheep and the goats believed, but only the sheep did good works. In verse 46, Jesus cautioned as to what will be the reward of those who do not do these things, and of those who do, "And these will go into everlasting punishment, but the just into everlasting life."

"Work as a preacher of the Gospel, fulfill your ministry." 2Tim 4:5

"Work for upbuilding and not for destruction." 2Cor 13:10

"Work from the heart as for the Lord, and not for men." Col 3:23

"Work out your salvation with fear and trembling." Phil 2:12. See also 1Cor 9:24-27.

"For His workmanship we are, created in Christ Jesus in good works, which GOD has made ready beforehand that we may walk in them." Eph 2:10

"And if you invoke as Father him who without respect of persons judges according to each one's work, conduct yourselves with fear in the time of your sojourning." 1Pet 1:17

"There are just men and wise men, and their works are in the hand of GOD." Eccl 9:1

"...who will render to every man according to his works." Rom 2:6

"But their end will be according to their works." 2Cor 11:15

"For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified." Rom 2:13

"For GOD shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil." Eccl 12:14

"Tribulation and anguish shall be visited upon the soul of every man who works evil; of Jew first and then of Greek. But glory and honor and peace shall be awarded to everyone who does good to Jew first and then of Greek." Rom 2:9-10

"...we should love one another; not like Cain, who was of the evil one, and killed his brother. And wherefore did he kill him? Because his own works were wicked, but his brother's just." 1Jn 3:11-12

"But if anyone builds upon this foundation, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw, the work of each will be made manifest, for the Day of the Lord will declare it, since the day is to be revealed in fire. The fire will assay the quality of everyone's work: if his work abides which he has built thereon, he will receive his reward; if his work burns he will lose his reward, but himself will be saved, yet so as through fire." 1Cor 3:13-15

These four preceding verses lay it on the line that every one's works will surely be tested, and reward or punishment will follow.

"Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord', shall enter the kingdom of heaven; but he who DOES THE WILL OF MY FATHER in heaven shall enter the kingdom of heaven." Matt 7:21

"Now we know that GOD does not hear sinners; but if anyone is a worshiper of GOD, AND DOES HIS WILL, him He hears." John 9:31

"But why do you call Me, 'Lord, 'Lord', and do not practice the things that I say?" Luke 6:46

"But he who does the truth comes to the light that his deeds may be made manifest, for they have been performed in GOD." John 3:21

"Esteem them with a more abundant love on account of their work." 1Thes 5:13

"If anyone, therefore, has cleansed himself from these, he will be a vessel for honorable use, sanctified and useful to the Lord, ready for every good work." 2Tim 2:21

"Let them do good and be rich in good works, giving readily, sharing with others." 1Tim 6:18

"This saying is true, and concerning these things I desire you to insist, that they who believe in GOD may be careful to excel in good works." Tit 3:8

"And let our children also learn to excel in good works, in order to meet cases of necessity, so that they may not be unfruitful." Tit 3:14

"...looking for the blessed hope and glorious coming of our great GOD and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave Himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and cleanse for Himself an acceptable people, pursuing good works." Tit 2:13-14

*"Yes, working together with Him we entreat you not to receive the grace of GOD in vain... On the contrary, let us conduct ourselves in all circumstances as GOD's ministers, in much patience; in tribulations, in hardships, in distress; in stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults; in labors..."
2Cor 6:1,5*

"May you walk worthily of GOD and please Him in all things, bearing fruit in every good work and growing in the knowledge of GOD." Col 1:10

"Bear one another's burdens, and so you will fulfill the law of Christ. For if anyone thinks himself to be something, whereas he is nothing, he deceives himself. But let everyone test his own work, so he will have glory in himself only, and not in comparison with another. For each one will bear his own burden." Gal 6:2-5

"And they who have done good shall come forth unto the resurrection of life; but they who have done evil unto resurrection of judgment." John 5:29

*"If you know that he is just, know that everyone also who does what is just has been born of Him."
1John 2:29*

*"Therefore, he who knows how to do good, and does not do it, commits a sin." Jam 4:17
This is called the sin of omission. Matt 25:37-40 has more examples of sins of omission.*

"And concerning these (evil works) I warn you, that they who do (evil works) such things will not attain the kingdom of GOD." Gal 5:21 (read from verse 16 for context).

"But I have this against you, that you have left your first love. Remember therefore where you have fallen, and repent and do the former works; or else I will come to you, and will move your lamp-stand out of its place, unless you repent." Rev 2:4-5

"I know your works; you have the name of being alive, and you are dead. Be watchful and strengthen the things that remain, but which were ready to die. For I do not find your works complete before my GOD." Rev 3:1-2

"Alexander, the coppersmith, has done me much harm; the Lord will render him according to his deeds." 2Tim 4:14

*"My dear children, let us not love in word, neither with the tongue, but in deed and in truth."
1Jn 3:18*

"I know your works, your faith, your love, your ministry, your patience, and your last works, which are more numerous than the former." Rev 2:19

"And I heard a voice from heaven saying, 'Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord henceforth. Yes, says the Spirit, let them rest from their labors, FOR THEIR WORKS FOLLOW THEM.'" Rev 14:13

The works which you do in this life will follow you forever.

"I know your works and your labor and your patience, and that you cannot bear evil men;" Rev 2:2

"And I saw the dead, the great and the small, standing before the throne, and scrolls were opened. And another scroll was opened, which is the Book of Life; and the dead were judged out of those things that were written in the scrolls, ACCORDING TO THEIR WORKS." Rev 20:12

"And her children I will strike with death, and all the churches shall know that I am He who searches desires and hearts, and I will give to each of you according to your works." Rev 2:23

"Behold, I come quickly! And My reward is with Me, to render to each one ACCORDING TO HIS WORKS." Rev 22:12

"And the world with its lust is passing away, but he who does the will of GOD abides forever." 1John 2:17

"And he who overcomes, and who keeps My works unto the end, I will give authority over the nations." Rev 2:26

"I know your works, Behold, I have caused a door to be opened before you which no one can shut, for you have scanty strength, and you have kept My word and have not disowned My name." Rev 3:8

Even in the Old Testament, good works were beneficial for salvation:

"But yet because they were humbled, the wrath of the Lord turned away from them, and they were not utterly destroyed: for even in Juda there were found good works." 2Chron 12:12

With all of these verses in support of doing good works, how can anyone say works are not required for salvation?

Grace AND Faith:

"They are justified freely by His grace through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus, whom GOD has set forth as a propitiation by His blood through faith, to manifest His justice,..." Rom 3:24-25

"By whom we also have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of GOD." Rom 5:2

"For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think soberly, according as GOD has dealt to every man the measure of faith." Rom 12:3

Now Grace 'anded' together with faith enters into the equation.

"For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not from yourselves, for it is the gift of GOD." Eph 2:8

"So we being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy to be used according to the proportion of faith." Rom 12:5-6

"Now as you abound in everything in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that you abound in this grace also." 2Cor 8:7

"And the grace of our Lord was exceedingly abundant with faith and love which is in Jesus Christ." 1Tim 1:14

"To Titus, my own son after the common faith: grace, mercy and peace, from GOD the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Savior." Tit 1:4

So now it is grace AND faith, not grace OR faith.

These verses refute "Sola Fides" (saved by faith only).

Grace AND Works:

"But by the grace of GOD I am what I am, and His grace in me has not been fruitless, in fact I have labored (worked) more than any of them, yet not I, but the grace of GOD with me." 1Cor 15:10

GOD expects fruit to be produced in the form of good works, by His freely given grace.

"And they sailed to Antioch, from where they had been recommended to the grace of GOD for the work which they fulfilled." Acts 14:26

"Yes, working together with Him we entreat you not to receive the grace of GOD in vain." 2Cor 6:1

Here we see that there is danger of receiving grace from GOD and we not responding with works.

"And GOD is able to make all grace abound toward you; that always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work." 2Cor 9:8

So now it is grace AND works, not grace OR works.

Faith AND Works:

"What does it profit, my brethren, even though a man say he has faith, and have not works? Can faith save him?" James 2:14

"Even so faith if it has not works, is dead, being alone." James 2:17

Faith 'alone' is a Protestant teaching called 'Sola Fides', and has never been a teaching of the Catholic Church.

"Yes, a man may say, you have faith and I have works: show me your faith without your works, and I will show you my faith by my works." James 2:18

"But will you know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?" James 2:20

"Do you see that faith worked along with his works, and by the works the faith was made perfect?" James 2:22

I would say that one verse says it all.

"You see then how that by works, a man is justified, and not by faith only." James 2:24

Goodbye 'Sola Fides'.

"So as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also." James 2:26

What more could St. James have said to make it any clearer that faith and works go hand in hand?

These verses could not have been written any plainer, no works begets no faith. Why did St. James repeat himself in so many verses? Why does anyone repeat himself? They do it to drive home an important point.

Is it any wonder that Martin Luther called the Book of James a 'straw epistle'? He removed it from its rightful position in his German translation of the New Testament, along with Hebrews, Jude, and Revelation, and placed them in an unpaginated index. These verses in James destroy his teaching of 'Sola Fides'. See "The Origin of Sola Scriptura" elsewhere on this website for more on this subject.

Grace AND Faith AND Works:

I have shown many Bible verses which reference Grace and Faith, Grace and Works, and Faith and Works. From a study of these verses, it is obvious that GOD's plan of salvation requires our cooperation with Him by our good works in return for His freely given gifts.

Grace NOR (not 'or') the Law: We are not under the Law* as the Jews were, but we are under the Grace of GOD in the New Covenant.

*The Law referred to in the New Testament is the Law of Moses unless qualified further as the Law of Christ.

"For the Law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ." John 1:17

"Do not think that I have come to destroy the Law or the Prophets. I have not come to destroy, but to fulfill." Matt 5:17

"For sin shall not have dominion over you; for YOU ARE NOT UNDER THE LAW, BUT UNDER GRACE." Romans 6:14

"What then? Are we to sin because we are NOT under the Law but under grace? By no means!" Romans 6:15

"Moreover the Law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound." Rom 5:20

"I do not frustrate the grace of GOD, for if righteousness come by the Law, then Christ died in vain." Gal 2:21

"You who would be justified in the Law are estranged from Christ; you have fallen away from grace." Gal 5:4

These verses have made it quite clear that we do not achieve salvation under the Law of Moses, but under the new 'Law of Grace'.

Faith NOR (not 'or') the Law: We are justified by faith and not by the Law.

"For the promise that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham or to his seed through the Law, but through the righteousness of faith. For if they which are of the Law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect." Rom 4:13-14

"Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what Law? Of works? Nay: but by the law of faith. Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the Law." Rom 3:27-28

"But that no man is justified by the Law in the sight of GOD, it is evident: for, the just shall live by faith. And the Law is not of faith: but the man that does them shall live in them. Christ has redeemed us from the curse of the Law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, 'Cursed is everyone that hangs on a tree:' that the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith." Gal 3:11-14

"What shall we say then? That the Gentiles (that is us folks, anyone who is not a Jew), which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith. But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, have not attained to the law of righteousness. Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the Law. For they stumbled at that stumbling stone." Rom 9:30-32. See Gal 2:16 in the next paragraph.

Grace OR Faith NOR / NAND Works: 'Nor' in boolean algebra is NOT 'OR', 'Nand' is NOT 'AND'. Essentially the phrase means grace or faith but never works. This is Protestant teaching. Here are some verses which trip the Protestant viewpoints...

"But we know that man is not justified by the works of the Law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ. Hence we also believe in Christ Jesus, that we may be justified by the faith of Christ and NOT by the works of the Law." Gal 2:16

"For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of GOD. Not of works, lest any man should boast." Eph 2:8-9

This verse refers to human works only, without the benefit of grace or faith. Some Protestants charge that Catholics believe they are saved by works. This verse shows this not to be true.

"For those who rely on the works of the Law are under a curse. For it is written 'Cursed is everyone who does not hold to all things that are written in the book of the Law, to perform them'. But that by the Law no man is justified before GOD is evident, because 'he who is just lives by faith'. But THE LAW DOES NOT REST ON FAITH; but, 'he who does these things, shall live by them'. Christ redeemed us from the CURSE OF THE LAW..." Gal 3:10-13

*"For we reckon that a man is justified by faith (alone*) independently of the works of the Law." Rom 3:28. *The word 'alone' was injected by Martin Luther in his German translation of Romans in order to provide support for HIS instruction of 'Sola Fides'. The word is not in the Greek transcripts.*

Some Protestants say these verses above 'prove' that works are not needed. However, these verses refer only to works under the Law, and not to works under grace.*

"For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not from yourselves, for it is the gift of GOD; not as the outcome of works, lest anyone may boast. For His workmanship we are, created in Christ Jesus in good works, which GOD has made ready beforehand that we may walk in them." Eph 2:8-10

"He has redeemed us and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to His own purpose and the grace which was granted to us in Christ Jesus before the world existed." 2Tim 1:9

"But when the goodness and kindness of GOD our Savior appeared, then not by reason of good works that we did ourselves, but according to His mercy, he saved us through the bath of regeneration and renewal by the Holy Spirit." Tit 3:4-5

What these three verses say is that mere human works will not achieve salvation by itself without the gifts of faith and the grace of GOD.*

In A Nutshell:

Good works are needed along with faith...*

Why do Catholics believe that good works are necessary for salvation? Does not Paul say in Romans 3:28 that faith alone justifies? (See the note on Romans 3:28 above. The word 'alone' was injected by Martin Luther in his translation. If St. Paul, who writes fluently and uses many approaches to explain justification by faith, and who uses the words 'faith' and 'alone' many times in this very Epistle, meant to write 'Faith Alone', he most assuredly would have done so). Catholics believe that faith and good works are both necessary for salvation, because such is the teaching of Jesus Christ.

What Our Lord demands is 'faith which works through charity'. (Gal 5:6).

Read Mt 25:31-46, which describes the Last Judgment as being based on works of charity.

The first and greatest commandment, as given by Our Lord Himself, is to love the Lord God with all one's heart, mind, soul, and strength; and the second great commandment is to love one's neighbor as oneself, (Mk 12:30-31).

"For God has done what the Law, weakened by the flesh, could not do: sending His own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the just requirement of the Law might be FULFILLED IN US, who walk NOT according to the FLESH but according to the SPIRIT." Rom 8:3-4.

"For you were called to freedom, brethren; only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for the flesh, but through love be servants of one another. For the whole Law is fulfilled in one word, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." Gal 5:13-14

Thus, although faith is the beginning, it is not the complete fulfillment of the will of God. Nowhere in the Bible is it written that faith alone justifies. When St. Paul wrote, 'For we account a man to be justified by faith, without the works of the Law' (Gal 2:16), he was referring to works peculiar to the old Jewish Law, and he cited circumcision as an example.

The Catholic Church does not teach that purely human good works are meritorious for salvation; such works are not meritorious for salvation, according to her teaching. Only those good works performed when a person is in the state of grace, that is, as a branch drawing its spiritual life from the Vine which is Christ (Jn 15:4-6), only these good deeds work toward our salvation, and they do so only by the grace of GOD and the merit of Jesus Christ. These good works, offered to God by a soul in the state of grace (i.e., free of mortal sin, with the Blessed Trinity dwelling in the soul), are thereby supernaturally meritorious because they share in the work and in the merits of Christ.

Such supernatural good works will not only be rewarded by GOD, but are necessary for salvation. St. Paul shows how the neglect of certain good works will send even a Christian believer to damnation: 'But if any man have not care of his own, and especially of those of his house, he has denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel', (1Tim 5:8).

Our Lord tells us that if the Master (GOD) returns and finds His servant sinning, rather than performing works of obedience, He 'shall separate him, and shall appoint him his portion with unbelievers', (Lk 12:46).

Furthermore, Catholics know they will be rewarded in Heaven for their good works.

Our Lord Himself said:

'For the Son of man...will render to every man according to his works', (Mt 16:27).

'And whosoever shall give to drink to one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, amen I say to you, he shall not lose his reward', (Mt 10:42).

Catholics believe, following the Apostle Paul, that 'every man shall receive his own reward, according to his own labor', (1Cor 3:8).

'For God is not unjust, that he should forget your work, and the love which you have shown in his name, you who have ministered, and do minister to the saints', (Heb 6:10).

'I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. As to the rest, there is laid up for me a crown of justice, which the Lord the just judge will render to me in that day: and not only to me, but to them also that love his coming', (2Tim 4:7-8).

Still, Catholics know that, strictly speaking, God never owes us anything. Even after obeying all God's commandments, we must still say:

'We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which we ought to do', (Lk 17:10).

As St. Augustine stated: 'All our good merits are wrought through grace, so that God, in crowning our merits, is crowning nothing but His gifts'. Had St. Paul meant that faith ruled out the necessity of good works for salvation, he would not have written:

'...and if I should have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing', (1Cor 13:2).

If faith ruled out the necessity of good works for salvation, the Apostle James would not have written: 'Do you see that by works a man is justified; and not by faith only'?...For even as the body without the spirit is dead; so also faith without works is dead', (James 2:24-26).

Or: 'What shall it profit, my brethren, if a man say he hath faith, but hath not works? Shall faith be able to save him'? (James 2:14).

If faith ruled out the necessity of good works for salvation, the Apostle Peter would not have written: 'Wherefore, brethren, labor the more, that by good works you may make sure your calling and election. For doing these things, you shall not sin at any time. For so an entrance shall be ministered to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ', (2Pet 1:10-11). If faith ruled out the necessity of good works for salvation, the primitive Christian Fathers would not have advocated good works in such powerful words...

Wrote St. Irenaeus, one of the most illustrious of the primitive Christian Fathers:

"For what is the use of knowing the truth in word, while defiling the body and accomplishing the works of evil? Or what real good at all can bodily holiness do, if truth be not in the soul? For these two, faith and good works, rejoice in each other's company, and agree together and fight side by side to set man in the Presence of God", (Proof of the Apostolic Preaching).

In Summation:

1. Are we saved by Grace Alone?

Yes, as this is the teaching of the Catholic Church. Grace is a gift from GOD. It is given freely to us, but in return He expects us to do our part by our performance of Good Works.

2. Are we saved by Faith Only?

No, this is "Sola Fides", and it is taught by a few Protestant sects. It is impossible, for salvation by Faith alone, for we can do nothing of ourselves without the Grace of GOD, and again Good Works. The only verse in the entire Bible where the words Faith and Only appear together is in James 2:24 where he said, "You see that by works a man is justified, and NOT by faith only."

3. Are we saved by Works Alone?

No. Mere human works are useless without the grace of GOD and faith working through love.

4. Can we say we are "Saved" by just accepting Jesus Christ as our Lord and Savior?

No. This is what some Protestant sects teach, Baptists especially. This teaching excludes doing Good Works and essentially says that as long as we accept Jesus Christ, we can do anything we want to do. If this teaching were true, then what is the purpose of the Ten Commandments (Trent, session 6, chapter XI)? Why did Jesus Christ say, "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of Heaven; BUT HE WHO DOES THE WILL OF MY FATHER IN HEAVEN SHALL ENTER THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN." Matt 7:21.

Now how can anyone DO the will of the Father without doing Good Works?

5. Salvation is an on going process...

We were saved in the past: Rom 5:1-2, 8:24, Eph 2:5-9.

We are being saved now: 1Cor 1:18, 1Cor 15:2, Phil 2:12, Heb 10:14, 1Pet 1:8-9, 1Pet 2:1-2.

We will be saved in the future: Matt 10:22, 24:13, Rom 6:16, 13:11, 1Cor 3:15, 5:5, Gal 2:17, Gal 5:4-5, Rev 21:6-7.

We can also lose our salvation: Matt 6:14-15, *7:21, 24:44-51, 25:31-46, Mark 11:26, Luke 10:16, John 14:21, Rom 11:22, Rev 21:8, 21:27.

Justification by Faith Alone, is a Protestant teaching.

It was unheard of in the Christian community before the sixteenth century.

---

Works are the fruit of Faith, but a necessary fruit... Rosalind Moss

We work out what GOD works in our hearts.

Faith plus Works equals Faith working through Love.

DECREE ON JUSTIFICATION

Proem.

Whereas there is, at this time, not without the shipwreck of many souls, and grievous detriment to the unity of the Church, a certain erroneous doctrine disseminated touching Justification; the sacred and holy, ecumenical and general Synod of Trent, lawfully assembled in the Holy Ghost,-the most reverend lords, Giammaria del Monte, bishop of Palaestrina, and Marcellus of the title of the Holy Cross in Jerusalem, priest, cardinals of the holy Roman Church, and legates apostolic a latere, presiding therein, in the name of our most holy father and lord in Christ, Paul III., by the providence of God, Pope,-purposes, unto the praise and glory of Almighty God, the tranquillising of the Church, and the salvation of souls, to expound to all the faithful of Christ the true and sound doctrine touching the said Justification; which (doctrine) the sun of justice, Christ Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, taught, which the apostles transmitted, and which the Catholic Church, the Holy Ghost reminding her thereof, has always retained; most strictly forbidding that any henceforth presume to believe, preach, or teach, otherwise than as by this present decree is defined and declared.

---

CHAPTER I.

On the Inability of Nature and of the Law to justify man.

The holy Synod declares first, that, for the correct and sound understanding of the doctrine of Justification, it is necessary that each one recognise and confess, that, whereas all men had lost their innocence in the prevarication of Adam-having become unclean, and, as the apostle says, by nature children of wrath, as (this Synod) has set forth in the decree on original sin,-they were so far the servants of sin, and under the power of the devil and of death, that not the Gentiles only by the force of nature, but not even the Jews by the very letter itself of the law of Moses, were able to be liberated, or to arise, therefrom; although free will, attenuated as it was in its powers, and bent down, was by no means extinguished in them.

CHAPTER II.

On the dispensation and mystery of Christ's advent.

Whence it came to pass, that the heavenly Father, the father of mercies and the God of all comfort, when that blessed fulness of the time was come, sent unto men, Jesus Christ, His own Son-who had been, both before the Law, and during the time of the Law, to many of the holy fathers announced and promised-that He might both redeem the Jews who were under the Law, and that the Gentiles, who followed not after justice, might attain to justice, and that all men might receive the adoption of sons. Him God hath proposed as a propitiator, through faith in his blood, for our sins, and not for our sins only, but also for those of the whole world.

---

CHAPTER III.

Who are justified through Christ.

But, though He died for all, yet do not all receive the benefit of His death, but those only unto whom the merit of His passion is communicated. For as in truth men, if they were not born propagated of the seed of Adam, would not be born unjust,-seeing that, by that propagation, they contract through him, when they are conceived, injustice as their own,-so, if they were not born again in Christ, they never would be justified; seeing that, in that new birth, there is bestowed upon them, through the merit of His passion, the grace whereby they are made just. For this benefit the apostle exhorts us, evermore to give thanks to the Father, who hath made us worthy to be partakers of the lot of the saints in light, and hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the Kingdom of the Son of his love, in whom we have redemption, and remission of sins.

---

CHAPTER IV.

A description is introduced of the Justification of the impious, and of the Manner thereof under the law of grace.

By which words, a description of the Justification of the impious is indicated,-as being a translation, from that state wherein man is born a child of the first Adam, to the state of grace, and of the adoption of the sons of God, through the second Adam, Jesus Christ, our Saviour. And this translation, since the promulgation of the Gospel, cannot be effected, without the laver of regeneration, or the desire thereof, as it is written; unless a man be born again of water and the Holy Ghost, he cannot enter into the Kingdom of God.

CHAPTER V.

On the necessity, in adults, of preparation for Justification, and whence it proceeds.

The Synod furthermore declares, that in adults, the beginning of the said Justification is to be derived from the prevenient grace of God, through Jesus Christ, that is to say, from His vocation, whereby, without any merits existing on their parts, they are called; that so they, who by sins were alienated from God, may be disposed through His quickening and assisting grace, to convert themselves to their own justification, by freely assenting to and co-operating with that said grace: in such sort that, while God touches the heart of man by the illumination of the Holy Ghost, neither is man himself utterly without doing anything while he receives that inspiration, forasmuch as he is also able to reject it; yet is he not able, by his own free will, without the grace of God, to move himself unto justice in His sight. Whence, when it is said in the sacred writings: Turn ye to me, and I will turn to you, we are admonished of our liberty; and when we answer; Convert us, O Lord, to thee, and we shall be converted, we confess that we are prevented by the grace of God.

---

CHAPTER VI.

The manner of Preparation.

Now they (adults) are disposed unto the said justice, when, excited and assisted by divine grace, conceiving faith by hearing, they are freely moved towards God, believing those things to be true which God has revealed and promised,-and this especially, that God justifies the impious by His grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus; and when, understanding themselves to be sinners, they, by turning themselves, from the fear of divine justice whereby they are profitably agitated, to consider the mercy of God, are raised unto hope, confiding that God will be propitious to them for Christ's sake; and they begin to love Him as the fountain of all justice; and are therefore moved against sins by a certain hatred and detestation, to wit, by that penitence which must be performed before baptism: lastly, when they purpose to receive baptism, to begin a new life, and to keep the commandments of God. Concerning this disposition it is written; He that cometh to God, must believe that he is, and is a rewarder to them that seek him; and, Be of good faith, son, thy sins are forgiven thee; and, The fear of the Lord driveth out sin; and, Do penance, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost; and, Going, therefore, teach ye all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost; finally, Prepare your hearts unto the Lord.

---

CHAPTER VII.

What the justification of the impious is, and what are the causes thereof.

This disposition, or preparation, is followed by Justification itself, which is not remission of sins merely, but also the sanctification and renewal of the inward man, through the voluntary reception of the grace, and of the gifts, whereby man of unjust becomes just, and of an enemy a friend, that so he may be an heir according to hope of life everlasting.

Of this Justification the causes are these: the final cause indeed is the glory of God and of Jesus Christ, and life everlasting; while the efficient cause is a merciful God who washes and sanctifies gratuitously, signing, and anointing with the holy Spirit of promise, who is the pledge of our inheritance; but the meritorious cause is His most beloved only-begotten, our Lord Jesus Christ, who, when we were enemies, for the exceeding charity wherewith he loved us, merited Justification for us by His most holy Passion on the wood of the cross, and made satisfaction for us unto God the Father; the instrumental cause is the sacrament of baptism, which is the sacrament of faith, without which (faith) no man was ever justified; lastly, the alone formal cause is the justice of God, not that whereby He Himself is just, but that whereby He maketh us just, that, to wit, with which we being endowed by Him, are renewed in the spirit of our mind, and we are not only reputed, but are truly called, and are, just, receiving justice within us, each one according to his own measure, which the Holy Ghost distributes to every one as He wills, and according to each one's proper disposition and co-operation. For, although no one can be just, but he to whom the merits of the Passion of our Lord Jesus Christ are communicated, yet is this done in the said justification of the impious, when by the merit of that same most holy Passion, the charity of God is poured forth, by the Holy Spirit, in the hearts of those that are justified, and is inherent therein: whence, man, through Jesus Christ, in whom he is ingrafted, receives, in the said justification, together with the remission of sins, all these (gifts) infused at once, faith, hope, and charity. For faith, unless hope and charity be added thereto, neither unites man perfectly with Christ, nor makes him a living member of His body. For which reason it is most truly said, that Faith without works is dead and profitless; and, In Christ Jesus neither circumcision, availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but faith which worketh by charity. This faith, Catechumen's beg of the Church-agreeably to a tradition of the apostles-previously to the sacrament of Baptism; when they beg for the faith which bestows life everlasting, which, without hope and charity, faith cannot bestow: whence also do they immediately hear that word of Christ; If thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments. Wherefore, when receiving true and Christian justice, they are bidden, immediately on being born again, to preserve it pure and spotless, as the first robe given them through Jesus Christ in lieu of that which Adam, by his disobedience, lost for himself and for us, that so they may bear it before the judgment-seat of our Lord Jesus Christ, and may have life everlasting.

CHAPTER VIII.

In what manner it is to be understood, that the impious is justified by faith, and gratuitously.

And whereas the Apostle saith, that man is justified by faith and freely, those words are to be understood in that sense which the perpetual consent of the Catholic Church hath held and expressed; to wit, that we are therefore said to be justified by faith, because faith is the beginning of human salvation, the foundation, and the root of all Justification; without which it is impossible to please God, and to come unto the fellowship of His sons: but we are therefore said to be justified freely, because that none of those things which precede justification-whether faith or works-merit the grace itself of justification. For, if it be a grace, it is not now by works, otherwise, as the same Apostle says, grace is no more grace.

CHAPTER IX.

Against the vain confidence of Heretics.

But, although it is necessary to believe that sins neither are remitted, nor ever were remitted save gratuitously by the mercy of God for Christ's sake; yet is it not to be said, that sins are forgiven, or have been forgiven, to any one who boasts of his confidence and certainty of the remission of his sins, and rests on that alone; seeing that it may exist, yea does in our day exist, amongst heretics and schismatics; and with great vehemence is this vain confidence, and one alien from all godliness, preached up in opposition to the Catholic Church. But neither is this to be asserted,-that they who are truly justified must needs, without any doubting whatever, settle within themselves that they are justified, and that no one is absolved from sins and justified, but he that believes for certain that he is absolved and justified; and that absolution and justification are effected by this faith alone: as though whoso has not this belief, doubts of the promises of God, and of the efficacy of the death and resurrection of Christ. For even as no pious person ought to doubt of the mercy of God, of the merit of Christ, and of the virtue and efficacy of the sacraments, even so each one, when he regards himself, and his own weakness and indisposition, may have fear and apprehension touching his own grace; seeing that no one can know with a certainty of faith, which cannot be subject to error, that he has obtained the grace of God.

---

CHAPTER X.

On the increase of Justification received.

Having, therefore, been thus justified, and made the friends and domestics of God, advancing from virtue to virtue, they are renewed, as the Apostle says, day by day; that is, by mortifying the members of their own flesh, and by presenting them as instruments of justice unto sanctification, they, through the observance of the commandments of God and of the Church, faith co-operating with good works, increase in that justice which they have received through the grace of Christ, and are still further justified, as it is written; He that is just, let him be justified still; and again, Be not afraid to be justified even to death; and also, Do you see that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only. And this increase of justification holy Church begs, when she prays, "Give unto us, O Lord, increase of faith, hope, and charity."

CHAPTER XI.

On keeping the Commandments, and on the necessity and possibility thereof.

But no one, how much soever justified, ought to think himself exempt from the observance of the commandments; no one ought to make use of that rash saying, one prohibited by the Fathers under an anathema,-that the observance of the commandments of God is impossible for one that is justified. For God commands not impossibilities, but, by commanding, both admonishes thee to do what thou are able, and to pray for what thou art not able (to do), and aids thee that thou mayest be able; whose commandments are not heavy; whose yoke is sweet and whose burthen light. For, whoso are the sons of God, love Christ; but they who love him, keep his commandments, as Himself testifies; which, assuredly, with the divine help, they can do. For, although, during this mortal life, men, how holy and just soever, at times fall into at least light and daily sins, which are also called venial, not therefore do they cease to be just. For that cry of the just, Forgive us our trespasses, is both humble and true. And for this cause, the just themselves ought to feel themselves the more obligated to walk in the way of justice, in that, being already freed from sins, but made servants of God, they are able, living soberly, justly, and godly, to proceed onwards through Jesus Christ, by whom they have had access unto this grace. For God forsakes not those who have been once justified by His grace, unless he be first forsaken by them. Wherefore, no one ought to flatter himself up with faith alone, fancying that by faith alone he is made an heir, and will obtain the inheritance, even though he suffer not with Christ, that so he may be also glorified with him. For even Christ Himself, as the Apostle saith, Whereas he was the son of God, learned obedience by the things which he suffered, and being consummated, he became, to all who obey him, the cause of eternal salvation. For which cause the same Apostle admonishes the justified, saying; Know you not that they that run in the race, all run indeed, but one receiveth the prize? So run that you may obtain. I therefore so run, not as at an uncertainty: I so fight, not as one beating the air, but I chastise my body, and bring it into subjection; lest perhaps, when I have preached to others, I myself should become a cast-away. So also the prince of the apostles, Peter; Labour the more that by good works you may make sure your calling and election. For doing those things, you shall not sin at any time. From which it is plain, that those are opposed to the orthodox doctrine of religion, who assert that the just man sins, venially at least, in every good work; or, which is yet more insupportable, that he merits eternal punishments; as also those who state, that the just sin in all their works, if, in those works, they, together with this aim principally that God may be gloried, have in view also the eternal reward, in order to excite their sloth, and to encourage themselves to run in the course: whereas it is written, I have inclined my heart to do all thy justifications for the reward: and, concerning Moses, the Apostle saith, that he looked unto the reward.

CHAPTER XII.

That a rash presumptuousness in the matter of Predestination is to be avoided.

No one, moreover, so long as he is in this mortal life, ought so far to presume as regards the secret mystery of divine predestination, as to determine for certain that he is assuredly in the number of the predestinate; as if it were true, that he that is justified, either cannot sin any more, or, if he do sin, that he ought to promise himself an assured repentance; for except by special revelation, it cannot be known whom God hath chosen unto Himself.

---

CHAPTER XIII.

On the gift of Perseverance.

So also as regards the gift of perseverance, of which it is written, He that shall persevere to the end, he shall be saved:-which gift cannot be derived from any other but Him, who is able to establish him who standeth that he stand perseveringly, and to restore him who falleth:-let no one herein promise himself any thing as certain with an absolute certainty; though all ought to place and repose a most firm hope in God's help. For God, unless men be themselves wanting to His grace, as he has begun the good work, so will he perfect it, working (in them) to will and to accomplish. Nevertheless, let those who think themselves to stand, take heed lest they fall, and, with fear and trembling work out their salvation, in labours, in watchings, in almsdeeds, in prayers and oblations, in fastings and chastity: for, knowing that they are born again unto a hope of glory, but not as yet unto glory, they ought to fear for the combat which yet remains with the flesh, with the world, with the devil, wherein they cannot be victorious, unless they be with God's grace, obedient to the Apostle, who says; We are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh; for if you live according to the flesh, you shall die; but if by the spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live.

---

CHAPTER XIV.

On the fallen, and their restoration.

As regards those who, by sin, have fallen from the received grace of Justification, they may be again justified, when, God exciting them, through the sacrament of Penance they shall have attained to the recovery, by the merit of Christ, of the grace lost: for this manner of Justification is of the fallen the reparation: which the holy Fathers have aptly called a second plank after the shipwreck of grace lost. For, on behalf of those who fall into sins after baptism, Christ Jesus instituted the sacrament of Penance, when He said, Receive ye the Holy Ghost, whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them, and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained. Whence it is to be taught, that the penitence of a Christian, after his fall, is very different from that at (his) baptism; and that therein are included not only a cessation from sins, and a detestation thereof, or, a contrite and humble heart, but also the sacramental confession of the said sins,-at least in desire, and to be made in its season,-and sacerdotal absolution; and likewise satisfaction by fasts, alms, prayers, and the other pious exercises of a spiritual life; not indeed for the eternal punishment,-which is, together with the guilt, remitted, either by the sacrament, or by the desire of the sacrament,-but for the temporal punishment, which, as the sacred writings teach, is not always wholly remitted, as is done in baptism, to those who, ungrateful to the grace of God which they have received, have grieved the Holy Spirit, and have not feared to violate the temple of God. Concerning which penitence it is written; Be mindful whence thou art fallen; do penance, and do the first works. And again; The sorrow that is according to God worketh penance steadfast unto salvation. And again; Do penance, and bring forth fruits worthy of penance.

CHAPTER XV.

That, by every mortal sin, grace is lost, but not faith.

In opposition also to the subtle wits of certain men, who, by pleasing speeches and good words, seduce the hearts of the innocent, it is to be maintained, that the received grace of Justification is lost, not only by infidelity whereby even faith itself is lost, but also by any other mortal sin whatever, though faith be not lost; thus defending the doctrine of the divine law, which excludes from the kingdom of God not only the unbelieving, but the faithful also (who are) fornicators, adulterers, effeminate, liars with mankind, thieves, covetous, drunkards, railers, extortioners, and all others who commit deadly sins; from which, with the help of divine grace, they can refrain, and on account of which they are separated from the grace of Christ.

---

CHAPTER XVI.

On the fruit of Justification, that is, on the merit of good works, and on the nature of that merit.

Before men, therefore, who have been justified in this manner,-whether they have preserved uninterruptedly the grace received, or whether they have recovered it when lost,-are to be set the words of the Apostle: Abound in every good work, knowing that your labour is not in vain in the Lord; for God is not unjust, that he should forget your work, and the love which you have shown in his name; and, do not lose your confidence, which hath a great reward. And, for this cause, life eternal is to be proposed to those working well unto the end, and hoping in God, both as a grace mercifully promised to the sons of God through Jesus Christ, and as a reward which is according to the promise of God Himself, to be faithfully rendered to their good works and merits. For this is that crown of justice which the Apostle declared was, after his fight and course, laid up for him, to be rendered to him by the just judge, and not only to him, but also to all that love his coming. For, whereas Jesus Christ Himself continually infuses his virtue into the said justified,-as the head into the members, and the vine into the branches,-and this virtue always precedes and accompanies and follows their good works, which without it could not in any wise be pleasing and meritorious before God,-we must believe that nothing further is wanting to the justified, to prevent their being accounted to have, by those very works which have been done in God, fully satisfied the divine law according to the state of this life, and to have truly merited eternal life, to be obtained also in its (due) time, if so be, however, that they depart in grace: seeing that Christ, our Saviour, saith: If any one shall drink of the water that I will give him, he shall not thirst for ever; but it shall become in him a fountain of water springing up unto life everlasting. Thus, neither is our own justice established as our own as from ourselves; nor is the justice of God ignored or repudiated: for that justice which is called ours, because that we are justified from its being inherent in us, that same is (the justice) of God, because that it is infused into us of God, through the merit of Christ. Neither is this to be omitted,-that although, in the sacred writings, so much is attributed to good works, that Christ promises, that even he that shall give a drink of cold water to one of his least ones, shall not lose his reward; and the Apostle testifies that, That which is at present momentary and light of our tribulation, worketh for us above measure exceedingly an eternal weight of glory; nevertheless God forbid that a Christian should either trust or glory in himself, and not in the Lord, whose bounty towards all men is so great, that He will have the things which are His own gifts be their merits. And forasmuch as in many things we all offend, each one ought to have before his eyes, as well the severity and judgment, as the mercy and goodness (of God); neither ought any one to judge himself, even though he be not conscious to himself of anything; because the whole life of man is to be examined and judged, not by the judgment of man, but of God, who will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts, and then shall every man have praise from God, who, as it is written, will render to every man according to his works. After this Catholic doctrine on Justification, which whoso receiveth not faithfully and firmly cannot be justified, it hath seemed good to the holy Synod to subjoin these canons, that all may know not only what they ought to hold and follow, but also what to avoid and shun.

The Sixth Session

JUSTIFICATION CANONS

CANON I.-If any one saith, that man may be justified before God by his own works, whether done through the teaching of human nature, or that of the law, without the grace of God through Jesus Christ; let him be anathema.

CANON II.-If any one saith, that the grace of God, through Jesus Christ, is given only for this, that man may be able more easily to live justly, and to merit eternal life, as if, by free will without grace, he were able to do both, though hardly indeed and with difficulty; let him be anathema.

CANON III.-If any one saith, that without the prevenient inspiration of the Holy Ghost, and without his help, man can believe, hope, love, or be penitent as he ought, so as that the grace of Justification may be bestowed upon him; let him be anathema.

CANON IV.-If any one saith, that man's free will moved and excited by God, by assenting to God exciting and calling, nowise co-operates towards disposing and preparing itself for obtaining the grace of Justification; that it cannot refuse its consent, if it would, but that, as something inanimate, it does nothing whatever and is merely passive; let him be anathema.

CANON V.-If any one saith, that, since Adam's sin, the free will of man is lost and extinguished; or, that it is a thing with only a name, yea a name without a reality, a figment, in fine, introduced into the Church by Satan; let him be anathema.

CANON VI.-If any one saith, that it is not in man's power to make his ways evil, but that the works that are evil God worketh as well as those that are good, not permissively only, but properly, and of Himself, in such wise that the treason of Judas is no less His own proper work than the vocation of Paul; let him be anathema.

CANON VII.-If any one saith, that all works done before Justification, in whatsoever way they be done, are truly sins, or merit the hatred of God; or that the more earnestly one strives to dispose himself for grace, the more grievously he sins: let him be anathema.

CANON VIII.-If any one saith, that the fear of hell,-whereby, by grieving for our sins, we flee unto the mercy of God, or refrain from sinning,-is a sin, or makes sinners worse; let him be anathema.

CANON IX.-If any one saith, that by faith alone the impious is justified; in such wise as to mean, that nothing else is required to co-operate in order to the obtaining the grace of Justification, and that it is not in any way necessary, that he be prepared and disposed by the movement of his own will; let him be anathema.

CANON X.-If any one saith, that men are just without the justice of Christ, whereby He merited for us to be justified; or that it is by that justice itself that they are formally just; let him be anathema.

CANON XI.-If any one saith, that men are justified, either by the sole imputation of the justice of Christ, or by the sole remission of sins, to the exclusion of the grace and the charity which is poured forth in their hearts by the Holy Ghost, and is inherent in them; or even that the grace, whereby we are justified, is only the favour of God; let him be anathema.

CANON XII.-If any one saith, that justifying faith is nothing else but confidence in the divine mercy which remits sins for Christ's sake; or, that this confidence alone is that whereby we are justified; let him be anathema.

CANON XIII.-If any one saith, that it is necessary for every one, for the obtaining the remission of sins, that he believe for certain, and without any wavering arising from his own infirmity and disposition, that his sins are forgiven him; let him be anathema.

CANON XIV.-If any one saith, that man is truly absolved from his sins and justified, because that he assuredly believed himself absolved and justified; or, that no one is truly justified but he who believes himself justified; and that, by this faith alone, absolution and justification are effected; let him be anathema.

CANON XV.-If any one saith, that a man, who is born again and justified, is bound of faith to believe that he is assuredly in the number of the predestinate; let him be anathema.

CANON XVI.-If any one saith, that he will for certain, of an absolute and infallible certainty, have that great gift of perseverance unto the end,-unless he have learned this by special revelation; let him be anathema.

CANON XVII.-If any one saith, that the grace of Justification is only attained to by those who are predestined unto life; but that all others who are called, are called indeed, but receive not grace, as being, by the divine power, predestined unto evil; let him be anathema.

CANON XVIII.-If any one saith, that the commandments of God are, even for one that is justified and constituted in grace, impossible to keep; let him be anathema.

CANON XIX.-If any one saith, that nothing besides faith is commanded in the Gospel; that other things are indifferent, neither commanded nor prohibited, but free; or, that the ten commandments nowise appertain to Christians; let him be anathema.

CANON XX.-If any one saith, that the man who is justified and how perfect soever, is not bound to observe the commandments of God and of the Church, but only to believe; as if indeed the Gospel were a bare and absolute promise of eternal life, without the condition of observing the commandments ; let him be anathema.

CANON XXI.-If any one saith, that Christ Jesus was given of God to men, as a redeemer in whom to trust, and not also as a legislator whom to obey; let him be anathema.

CANON XXII.-If any one saith, that the justified, either is able to persevere, without the special help of God, in the justice received; or that, with that help, he is not able; let him be anathema.

CANON XXIII.-If any one saith, that a man once justified can sin no more, nor lose grace, and that therefore he that falls and sins was never truly justified; or, on the other hand, that he is able, during his whole life, to avoid all sins, even those that are venial,-except by a special privilege from God, as the Church holds in regard of the Blessed Virgin; let him be anathema.

CANON XXIV.-If any one saith, that the justice received is not preserved and also increased before God through good works; but that the said works are merely the fruits and signs of Justification obtained, but not a cause of the increase thereof; let him be anathema.

CANON XXV.-If any one saith, that, in every good work, the just sins venially at least, or-which is more intolerable still-mortally, and consequently deserves eternal punishments; and that for this cause only he is not damned, that God does not impute those works unto damnation; let him be anathema.

CANON XXVI.-If any one saith, that the just ought not, for their good works done in God, to expect and hope for an eternal recompense from God, through His mercy and the merit of Jesus Christ, if so be that they persevere to the end in well doing and in keeping the divine commandments; let him be anathema.

CANON XXVII.-If any one saith, that there is no mortal sin but that of infidelity; or, that grace once received is not lost by any other sin, however grievous and enormous, save by that of infidelity ; let him be anathema.

CANON XXVIII.-If any one saith, that, grace being lost through sin, faith also is always lost with it; or, that the faith which remains, though it be not a lively faith, is not a true faith; or, that he, who has faith without charity, is not a Chris taught; let him be anathema.

CANON XXIX.-If any one saith, that he, who has fallen after baptism, is not able by the grace of God to rise again; or, that he is able indeed to recover the justice which he has lost, but by faith alone without the sacrament of Penance, contrary to what the holy Roman and universal Church-instructed by Christ and his Apostles-has hitherto professed, observed, and taught; let him be anathema.

CANON XXX.-If any one saith, that, after the grace of Justification has been received, to every penitent sinner the guilt is remitted, and the debt of eternal punishment is blotted out in such wise, that there remains not any debt of temporal punishment to be discharged either in this world, or in the next in Purgatory, before the entrance to the kingdom of heaven can be opened (to him); let him be anathema.

CANON XXXI.-If any one saith, that the justified sins when he performs good works with a view to an eternal recompense; let him be anathema.

CANON XXXII.-If any one saith, that the good works of one that is justified are in such manner the gifts of God, as that they are not also the good merits of him that is justified; or, that the said justified, by the good works which he performs through the grace of God and the merit of Jesus Christ, whose living member he is, does not truly merit increase of grace, eternal life, and the attainment of that eternal life,-if so be, however, that he depart in grace,-and also an increase of glory; let him be anathema.

CANON XXXIII.-If any one saith,that,by the Catholic doctrine touching Justification, by this holy Synod inset forth in this present decree, the glory of God, or the merits of our Lord Jesus Christ are in any way derogated from, and not rather that the truth of our faith, and the glory in fine of God and of Jesus Christ are rendered (more) illustrious; let him be anathema.

The Bible Tells Us That There Is No Salvation For Those Who Do Not Believe In Its Teaching!

2Chronicles 20:20,

"And they rose early in the morning, and went out through the desert of Thecua: and as they were marching, Josaphat standing in the midst of them, said: Hear me, ye men of Juda, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: believe in the Lord your God, and you shall be secure: believe his prophets, and all things shall succeed well."

1Corinthians 15:1-2,

"Now I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached to you, which also you have received and wherein you stand. By which also you are saved, if you hold fast after what manner I preached unto you, unless you have believed in vain. The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders."

2Thessalonians 2:9-15,

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness. But we are bound to give thanks to God always for you, brethren beloved by the Lord, because God chose you from the beginning to be saved, through sanctification by the Spirit and belief in the truth. To this he called you through our gospel, so that you may obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So then, brethren, stand firm and hold to the traditions which you were taught by us, either by word of mouth or by letter."

Hebrews 5:8-9,

"And whereas indeed he was the Son of God, he learned obedience by the things which he suffered. And being consummated, he became, to all that obey him, the cause of eternal salvation:"

Romans 15:5-6,

"Now the God of patience and of comfort grant you to be of one mind, one towards another, according to Jesus Christ: Rom 15:6 That with one mind and with one mouth you may glorify God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Are those 39,000 sects of one mind?

Well if they were, there would be only one, not 39,000 with all teaching the same truth and not teaching something different from one another.

John 14:23-24,

"Jesus answered and said to him: If any one love me, he will keep my word. And my Father will love him and we will come to him and will make our abode with him. He that loveth me not keepeth not my words. And the word which you have heard is not mine; but the Father's who sent me."

Mark 1:15, And saying: The time is accomplished and the kingdom of God is at hand. Repent and believe the gospel:

John 8:45-47,

"But if I say the truth, you believe me not. (46) Which of you shall convince me of sin? If I say the truth to you, why do you not believe me: (47) He that is of God heareth the words of God. Therefore you hear them not, because you are not of God.

So do you believe that what is taught in Scripture must be believed in order to obtain your salvation?

We will see from the results of a litmus test of one key verse later on.

---

Acts 8:30-31;

"And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Isaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest? And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him."

2Peter 1:20-21;

"First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, because no prophecy ever came by the impulse of man, but men moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God."

Scripture is very clear in those verses that it is not to be interpreted on an individual basis. What happens if those verses are ignored or not believed? Every individual runs around acting as his own Pope with his own interpretation, and there we have the main cause of the chaos that we have today with 39,000 sects in the world that call themselves Christian.

So do you believe that what is taught in Scripture must be believed in order to obtain your salvation?

John 3:18,

"He that believeth in him is not judged. But he that doth not believe is already judged: because he believeth not in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

Did you get the message from that verse? He is already judged who does not believe in the Word of GOD.

And who is the Word? If you do not know the answer to that question, then please read John 1:1.

John 10:14-16;

" I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me, as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice.

So there shall be one flock, and one shepherd."

With 39,000 sects in the world today with each teaching something different, is that obedience to one flock, and one shepherd?

Isn't that a glaring example of so many ignoring a command from Jesus Christ Himself?

John 17:21-23;

"I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word, that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. The glory which thou hast given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and thou in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that thou hast sent me and hast loved them even as thou hast loved me."

Do those 39,000 sects obey John 17:21-23?

John 10:25-28,

"Jesus answered them: I speak to you, and you believe not: the works that I do in the name of my Father, they give testimony of me. (26) But you do not believe, because you are not of my sheep. (27) My sheep hear my voice. And I know them: and they follow me. (28) And I give them life everlasting: and they shall not perish for ever. And no man shall pluck them out of my hand."

John 14:22-24,

"Judas saith to him, not the Iscariot: Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself to us, and not to the world?" (23) Jesus answered and said to him: "If any one love me, he will keep my word. And my Father will love him and we will come to him and will make our abode with him. (24) He that loveth me not keepeth not my words. And the word which you have heard is not mine; but the Father's who sent me."

Acts 5:32-33,

"And we are witnesses of these things: and the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to all that obey him. (33) When they had heard these things, they were cut to the heart: and they thought to put them to death."

Galatians 3:1, "O senseless Galatians, who hath bewitched you that you should not obey the truth: before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been set forth, crucified among you?"

Galatians 3:22, "But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe."

Galatians 5:7, "You did run well. What hath hindered you, that you should not obey the truth?"

2Thessalonians 1:8-9, "In a flame of fire, giving vengeance to them who know not God and who obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. (9) Who shall suffer eternal punishment in destruction, from the face of the Lord and from the glory of his power."

Wow! Talk about fire and brimstone teaching from those two verses.

Is anyone listening? Is anyone in those 39,000 sects paying attention to 2Thessalonians 1:8-9?

2Thessalonians 3:14,

"And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man and do not keep company with him, that he may be ashamed."

1Peter 2:6-8,

"Wherefore it is said in the scripture: Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious. And he that shall believe in him shall not be confounded. (7) To you therefore that believe, he is honour: but to them that believe not, the stone which the builders rejected, the same is made the head of the corner: (8) And a stone of stumbling and a rock of scandal, to them who stumble at the word, neither do believe, whereunto also they are set."

1Peter 4:17,

"For the time is, that judgment should begin at the house of God. And if at first at us, what shall be the end of them that believe not the gospel of God?"

Romans 2:8,

"but for those who are factious and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury".

Factious?* What is the meaning of that word?

It means divisive, dissentious, and discordant.

Isn't that what non-Catholic Christians have become?

Aren't those 39,000 sects, that call themselves Christian, guilty of being divisive, dissentious, and discordant?

1Corinthians 1:10,

"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all say the same thing and there be no dissensions among you, but that be perfectly united in mind and in one judgment."

What do those verses tell you? What part of the word 'one' is simply not understood or not heeded by the founders and followers of the 39,000 sects in the world today that call themselves Christian? So back to the beginning where I pointed out several verses that warn of no salvation for those who do not believe in the teaching of Holy Scripture. Will you still continue to not obey those Scriptural teachings and simply ignore those verses?

If you answer yes, then you are playing Russian roulette with your salvation.

---

This litmus test for non-Catholics has only one question that I will present to them.

It will show beyond the shadow of a doubt if they obey the commands of Holy Scripture or not...

The question comes from:

Luke 1:48,

"Because he hath regarded the humility of his handmaid: for behold from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed."

"Behold", means to see with attention.

"From Henceforth", means from the moment she said it until the end of time.

"All Generations", I would presume means just that, you, myself, and everyone else.

"Shall", denotes a command and not a suggestion.

"Call Me Blessed".

Holy Scripture could not be any more clear on this one verse, so there is no excuse for a misinterpretation of it or for any reason to ignore it.

The question:

Do you call the Mother of GOD, Blessed?

Have you ever done so in your entire lifetime?

Will you now comply with Bible teaching and do so from now on?

Or will you continue to play roulette with your salvation?

I have presented ample evidence of Bible teaching regarding obeying the commands within it, and the dire consequences awaiting those who refuse to do so.

The choice is yours.

Abide in Me, and I in You...

---

Jesus said:

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that bears no fruit, he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. You are already made clean by the word which I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If a man does not abide in me, he is cast forth as a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire and burned. If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you."

Wow! In those seven verses, the word ABIDE is mentioned seven times. The context of those verses provides us with a lot of light as to what is required of us by GOD for our eternal salvation.

Jesus said:

"Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. For the gate is narrow and the way is hard, that leads to life, and those who find it are few."

Matt 7:13-14

So we must not only ABIDE in Him but we must also strive to enter by the narrow gate. If we do not ABIDE in Him, then it is obvious that we are not on the path to the narrow gate of salvation, but on the path to the wide gate and to eternal destruction.

So Jesus said that if we do not ABIDE in Him (the Vine) then we will be taken away from the Vine by the Father, and will be cast off only to wither, to be gathered, and then to be thrown into the fire and burned.

Now that I have your attention, shouldn't we now find the meaning of the word ABIDE?

The theological meaning of ABIDE is to dwell within. Jesus would come and dwell in us and we likewise in Him. So as long as we do what Jesus requests of us then we are on the path to the narrow gate to salvation. So to assure that we are on right path, Jesus has commanded that we must ABIDE in Him.

What is required in order to have Jesus ABIDE in us and we in Him?

Can we do it?

1. By accepting Him as our own personal Lord and Savior?

No. Where does the Bible say that?

2. By the grace of GOD only? Sola Gracias?

No. Where does the Bible say that?

3. By faith in GOD alone? Sola Fides?

No. Where does the Bible say that?

It is simple common sense that since He commanded that we must do something, then doesn't it stand to reason that He would also tell us how to do it?

Jesus was very clear in what we must do in order to have Him ABIDE in us and we in Him.

He left this command for us in John 6:53-57, and it is the only place in Holy Scripture in which you will find it:

53 "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you (the taken away branch); 54 he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. 55 For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. 56 HE WHO EATS MY FLESH AND DRINKS MY BLOOD ABIDES IN ME, AND I IN HIM. 57 As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me."

What does "Truly, truly" mean to you in verse 53? What does "unless" mean?

The body lives because it receives real food sustenance. Starve the body and it will die.

Just as the body needs real sustenance, so does the soul, else it will not bear fruit.

The soul lives by real Divine sustenance, the true presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist.

---

Now let us go back to the "Vine and the Vinedresser", and review the true meaning of those verses and their vital importance for our eternal salvation. In doing so, we need to simply ask ourselves a few simple questions and answer them with our own GOD given common sense again.

Who is the Vine?

Jesus the Christ is.

Who takes away some of the branches from the Vine?

GOD the Father does.

Why are some of the branches taken away?

Because they bear no fruit.

Then why do they not bear fruit?

Because they do not seek sustenance from the Vine.

Why do those branches not seek sustenance from the Vine?

Because the branches that are taken away believe that the sustenance is only a symbol, and a symbol in itself obviously has no life giving sustenance or nourishment.

---

"Any one who goes ahead and does not abide in the doctrine of Christ does not have God; he who abides in the doctrine has both the Father and the Son."

2 John 1:9

Sola Fide, Can It Work?

---

---

Many protestant sects teach that all that is needed for salvation of their souls is Faith Only...

---

Sola Fide, saved by faith alone.

All they need is to accept Jesus Christ as their Lord and savior and no matter what they do after, they are assured they will go straight to heaven. Jesus Christ paid the price for all sins, past, present, and future. Jesus Christ took the test for us all and gave each of us a grade of 100%. Now doesn't that sound good? Just think, you can do anything you want for the rest of your life and your irrevocable ticket to heaven was paid for with the blood of Christ almost 2000 years ago. What a gift! What a great blessing! What nonsense!!!

The primary error here, has its roots in the fact that protestant churches are built on the wrong foundation, therefore no matter how much work they do to their church, it will not help if the foundation is faulty. Which Church is built on 'rock' (Mt 16:18), and which Church is guided by the Holy Spirit (Jn 14:16-17)?

Fundamentalists look to Jn 5:24, "...he who hears My word, and believes Him who sent Me, has life everlasting, and does not come to judgment, but has passed from death to life." They use Gal 2:20, "And the life that I now live in the flesh, I live in the faith of the Son of GOD who loved me and gave Himself up for me." There are other verses which they use as well, such as Rom 4:4-8, and Eph 2:8-10.

These verses are all good, but the foundation upon which the interpretation of them is built, is faulty. The fault lies in the fact that there are two very different kinds of salvation, not one. This is stated very clearly in Jn 5:24 by the word 'AND' which makes that verse conditional on two fronts, not one. We have to 'Hear' His word, AND we have to 'Believe' in Him.

The error is in NOT 'hearing' the word, which means 'doing' the will of GOD. Fundamentalists accept the second part and ignore the first. The Bible is filled with verses about 'doing' the will of GOD. Those other verses I quoted are from the first kind, or 'Objective Salvation'. Jesus Christ did in fact redeem all men by his sacrifice on the cross. He paid for the sins of all mankind, past, present, and future with His blood. He did His part, but He did not buy each of us a guaranteed foolproof, irrevocable 'ticket' to Heaven as some churches teach. He redeemed us and opened the gates of Heaven and gave us free will to decide for ourselves where we will spend eternity. He fulfilled 'Objective Salvation'. Now we all have to do our part which is called 'Subjective Salvation'. We must DO the will of GOD, and that is called 'Works'. This is spelled out so clearly in Scripture.

Let us start with Phil 2:12, "...Work out your salvation with fear and trembling." How can anyone respond to that one except subjectively? Did Jesus Christ really work it out for you? How about Rom 11:22, "See, then, the goodness and the severity of GOD: His severity toward those who have fallen, but the goodness of GOD toward you if you abide in His goodness, otherwise you also will be cut off." That says keep GOD's commandments or you will not make it to Heaven, and will be cut off. Then see 1Cor 9:27, "I chastise my body and bring it into subjection, lest perhaps after preaching to others I myself should be rejected." Paul himself, teaching that even he, with all of his faith, could still be rejected.

Look at Lk 6:46, "But why do you call Me Lord, Lord, and do not do the things that I say? Doing the things which Jesus Christ says to do is 'works'.

Heb 11:39-40, "And all these, though they had been approved by the testimony of faith, did not receive what was promised, for GOD had something better in view for us; so that they should not be perfected without us."

Rev 2:26, "And to him who overcomes, and who keeps my works unto the end, I will give authority over the nations."

Open your Bible to Acts 5:29-32... But Peter and the Apostles answered and said, "We must obey GOD rather than men...(32) and we are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom GOD has given to all who obey him." Those verses are unmistakable that we have to do our part by obeying the commandments of GOD.

Then there is the dreaded (by Protestants) Jam 2:14-26 which starts with (14) "What will it profit, my brethren, if a man says he has faith, but does not have Works? Can the faith save him?... (17) So faith too, unless it has Works, is dead in itself...(20) Faith without Works is useless...(21) Was not Abraham our father justified by Works when he offered up Isaac his son upon the altar? (22) Do you not see that Faith worked along with his Works, and by the Works the faith was made perfect?... (24) You see that by Works a man is justified, and not by faith only...(26) For just as the body without the spirit is dead, so, Faith also without Works is Dead." 'Subjective Salvation' in action, is shown for that whole section written by St. James. I could go on and on with verses like this, and could ask questions such as, why is there a need for the ten commandments, since we are 'automatically saved'? I think you get the message from what I have shown.

Read Matt 25:31:46. It is all about doing good works in this life. Then there is Rev 14:13, "And I heard a voice from Heaven saying, 'Write: blessed are the dead who die in the Lord henceforth. Yes, says the Spirit, let them rest from their labors, for their works follow them.'" Is that clear enough that works are needed in addition to faith? Still not convinced? Then how about another crystal clear verse? Rev 22:12, "Behold, I come quickly! And My reward is with Me, to render to each one according to his works."

I must call it to your attention that the Bible mentions Faith Only, once and only once, in one verse, and in that verse it says NOT by Faith Only.

Are You Saved?

---

"For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends."

2Corinthians 10:18

Some non-Catholics teach that all you have to do to achieve salvation is to accept Jesus Christ as your personal Lord and Savior, and your salvation is assured in this life. You only have to make a once in a lifetime commitment and no matter what you do for the rest of your life, you can be certain that you will go to Heaven when you die. Once you do this, it is an impossibility that you will ever lose your salvation. That train of thought, however, is not Biblical, and in reality it is a sin of presumption.

Jesus did not die just so we could sin.

Let us examine Holy Scripture and see what it has to say.

---

"For if you confess with your mouth that Jesus is the Lord, and believe in your heart that GOD has raised Him from the dead, You shall be saved." Romans 10:9

"For whoever calls upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Romans 10:13

This is what St. Paul said. Some non-Catholics use these two verses, taken completely out of context, to try to provide justification for their false, man made, "Once saved, always saved" belief.

A text without a context is only a pretext.

If they would only read further on in the same chapter they would clearly see the context of Romans 10:9 and 13, and the fallacy of this false belief:

Romans 10:14 "But how are men to call upon him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without a preacher?"

In this verse we see that in order to properly hear the word of GOD so that they may believe, there is a condition attached.

They cannot "believe in Him" unless they have heard it, and have heard it from a preacher.

Does that verse mean any preacher, even a false one (2Cor 11:12-15)?

No, definitely not, for Holy Scripture teaches that it could not be just any preacher, but only a preacher who is sent by GOD.

The very next verse will teach us this.

Romans 10:15, And how can men preach unless they are sent? As it is written (Isaiah 52:7, Nahum 1:15*), "How beautiful are the feet of those who preach good news!" (Please note that "good news" is the meaning of the word "Gospel".)

"And how can men preach unless they are sent?" Sent?

If anyone has been sent, then it stands to reason that "someone" had to do the sending. Isn't that true?

By simple deduction, and by common sense, the question must be asked that they who were sent then, were sent by whom?

In this verse we can see and hear the death knell of the "Once saved, always saved" false belief. The word for "sent", as used in the Greek language of which the book of Romans was written, is apostello.

Doesn't that sound like another Biblical word for which we are all familiar?

Apostello means to send out properly on a mission. From apostello we get the Greek word "apostolos", meaning "Apostle".

The Greek word "Apostolos" means "he who is sent".

So who are the "they" who are those sent, and by whom are "they" sent?

The same Greek word, apostello, is used by Jesus Christ when He spoke to His "Apostolos" in John 20:21:

Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you."

It is obvious that those who are sent (apostello) by GOD are also given authority by Jesus Christ who is GOD.

That authority was delegated to the Apostles alone by Jesus Christ.

Romans 10:15 had said, "And how can men preach unless they are sent?" I must ask, "Sent by whom and with what authority?"

"And He appointed twelve, to be with Him, and to be sent out to preach..." Mark 3:14

So, those who are sent, are sent with the authority given to them by GOD. Consequently, the only persons authorized to preach are the Apostles, and those who followed them in a long line of succession, the office of the Bishops (Psalms 109:8, Acts 1:20).

This was said by Saint Paul:

"So, if I brag a little too much about the authority which the Lord gave us, I'm not ashamed. The Lord gave us this authority to help you, not to hurt you." 2Corinthians 10:8

In addition there were a few others mentioned in Scripture who were appointed directly by the Lord such as the seventy who were sent in Luke 10:1.

There is another Greek word for sent, and it is pempo.

Pempo is used in verses where sent means not sent with the authority of GOD, such as in Matthew 14:10.

Non-Catholic preachers and ministers will have a hard time proving that they were sent by the authority of GOD since they are not in the line of succession going all the way back to the Apostles. So by what authority do these men preach?

"Let every soul be in subjection to the higher authorities, for there is no authority except from God, and those who exist are ordained by God. Therefore he who resists the authority, withstands the ordinance of God; and those who withstand will receive to themselves judgment."

Romans 13:1-2

None of those non-Catholic preachers and ministers can claim that they have GOD given pastoral authority, since it would be at most only a private revelation if that, and not a public one, so how could anyone "prove" that their claim to "GOD gave me the authority" is to be believed? Anyone can utter the excuse that "GOD told me". History is replete with heretics, criminals, dictators, and despots who used that term as their supposed justification for their evil deeds.

In Luke 10:16, Jesus said, "He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me." That verse is a verse of authority and it is a verse of infallibility as well. It is a verse also of obedience for those who were sent. Now there are well over 39,000 sects of diverse denominations that call themselves Christian, each with at least one preacher and all of them are preaching something different from one another. So, given the fact that there can be only one truth and with obedience to only one authority, which one of those tens of thousands is the model of obedience and has the authority and infallibility given to him or her by Jesus Christ?

Which one of the tens of thousands of them could lay claim to Luke 10:16?

"...and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me." What else could this part of Luke 10:16 mean other than to be applied to those who reject the teaching of His "Apostolos" and their successors through the one Church which He founded?

Here is another verse with a similarity to Luke 10:16:

"We are of God. Whoever knows God listens to us, and he who is not of God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error."

1John 4:6

Now that we have taken Romans 10:9-15 in context, it is clear that verse 15 negates any thought of "Once saved, always saved" as being a foregone conclusion.

But that is not all, as there is more which negates the false belief of, "Once saved, always saved" in Romans 10:

Romans 10:16, But they have not all obeyed the gospel; for Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed what he has heard from us?"

How can anyone obey the Gospel when they are preached to by someone who is not sent? And just who are "us"?

"Us" are those who are sent with the authority of GOD.

Romans 10:17, "So faith comes from what is heard, and what is heard comes by the preaching of Christ."

So from where does "the preaching of Christ" in absolute truth come? Again, it is from those who are sent with the authority to do so given to them by GOD. Authority from GOD is the only guarantee for those sent, of preaching only one truth, and with only one authority. It is the lack of the authority from GOD that has created the tens of thousands of sects of diverse denominations that we see today, with all of them preaching their own individual interpretation of Scripture. Theirs is nothing more than personal opinionated preaching.

Truth stands alone. It comes from Jesus Christ, who said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" in John 14:6. Truth is not dependent upon private opinions. Jesus Christ said that he cares not for the opinions of men, Mark 12:14.

Therefore the opinions of mankind have no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

Romans 10:18, "But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have; for "Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world."

Whose voice "has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world"?

Again, it is those who are sent, the Apostles and their successors whose words have gone out to all the earth and to the ends of the world as commanded by Jesus Christ Himself to the Apostles in: Matthew 28:18-20, "And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age."

And in:

Acts 1:8, "But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth."

From what I have presented here for Romans 10, it is to be a lesson learned that no one should ever take a verse or two out of context in order to promote a false belief.

It is impossible for anyone to write a text of which any person could take a line or two out of context and twist it to mean something entirely different from what the author had intended. By taking verses out of context, a true statement could easily be transformed into something other than the truth.

Jesus Christ Himself said, "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven; but he who does the will of My Father in Heaven shall enter the kingdom of heaven."

Matthew 7:21

"And Isaiah cries out concerning Israel, 'Though the number of Israelites were like the sand of the sea, ONLY A REMNANT WILL BE SAVED...'" Romans 9:27

"Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to GOD on THEIR behalf is for salvation. I testify with regard to them that they have zeal for GOD, but it is NOT DISCERNING. For I bear them witness that they have zeal for GOD, but not according to knowledge; for, ignorant of the justice of GOD and seeking to establish their own, they have not submitted to the justice of GOD. For Christ is the consummation of the law unto justice for everyone who believes." Romans 10:1-4

St. Paul clearly said that only a remnant of the Jewish nation will be saved, since they have not rejected Jesus Christ as the Messiah. In these verses he addressed the Judaizers who were still clinging to the Old Covenant Jewish traditions.

However, Jesus Christ in Matthew 7:21, had spoken to all of us, and He clearly stated that we have to do the will of the Father. Doing something requires effort, or work. That work is keeping the commandments. Those who do not keep the commandments will not enter heaven.

Does this sound like "Once saved, always saved to you?"

Jesus Christ redeemed us and provided for our salvation. The Gates of Heaven were opened, but not one of us can just 'walk in' and claim residency without obeying the will of the Father.

---

Another verse which they use to try to support the "Are you Saved" misnomer, is John 10:28.

"And I give them everlasting life; and they shall never perish, neither shall anyone snatch them out of My hand."

See also John 6:37, "And him who comes to Me I will not cast out."

Both of those verses indicate that Jesus Christ will be loyal to us and will never cast us out.

However, He left open the fact that we could simply jump out of His hand and walk away from Him by not keeping His Word.

Here is yet another verse used by those who say they are forever "saved".

"For GOD so loved the world that He gave his only-begotten Son, that those who believe in Him may not perish, but may have life everlasting." John 3:16

It seems at first glance from that verse, that all one has to do is to believe in Jesus Christ to be saved. Again, when the verse is understood from the original Greek text, this is not the case at all. When the underlying Greek wording is analyzed, their argument is lopped off from the vine as yet another fruitless branch would be.

The Greek word used here for "believe", is "Pisteuvw", or when transliterated into English is "Pisteuo". This Greek word means, to believe, to rely on, and to "obey". To "obey" involves works, which means we must bear good fruit.

"Why do you call me 'Lord, Lord,' and not do what I tell you? Every one who comes to me and hears my words and does them, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep, and laid the foundation upon rock; and when a flood arose, the stream broke against that house, and could not shake it, because it had been well built. But he who hears and does not do them is like a man who built a house on the ground without a foundation; against which the stream broke, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great."

Luke 6:46-49

Those are powerful verses against "once saved always saved". Let us shine a bright light upon them. Non-Catholics believe that all we have to do is to hear His words and accept them and they are saved. However, Jesus said not only do we have to hear His words, but we have to DO WHAT HE TELLS US.

Here is only one example out of many, a case in point:

Jesus said in John 10:16, "...and there shall be one fold and one shepherd." And in John 17:21, "...that all may be one."

In those two verses are just a single example out of many that I could list. That being said, I must ask, "Since there are now some 39,000 sects of diverse denominations (folds) in the world today, how can any one of them claim that they obey the words of Jesus when He commanded that we must be one?" If they do not obey His words, then Scripture has clearly conveyed to them the fact that their house is built without a foundation and that it will fall.

39,000 sects in existence now is proof enough that those words of Jesus have come true.

If those verses of Luke 6:46-49 are ignored by the tens of thousands of sects, then the following verse has to be ignored by them as well:

"Knowing their thoughts, he said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and no city or house divided against itself will stand;..."" Matt 12:25

United we stand. Divided we fall.

You could be a branch attached to the vine, but just who is the vine dresser?

"I am the true vine, and My Father is the vine dresser. Every branch in Me that bears no fruit He will take away; and every branch that bears fruit He will cleanse, that it may bear more fruit."

John 15:1-2

"For all of us must be made manifest before the tribunal of Christ, so that each one may receive what he has won through the body, according to his works, whether good or evil."

2Cor 5:10

See Matthew 22:8-14, the parable of the marriage feast. The one who was not dressed properly was cast into the darkness outside where there was weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

In Matthew 25:1-13 is the parable of the ten virgins. Five were not prepared for the coming of the Bridegroom (Christ) and were shut out of the marriage feast.

Then there is another parable which applies to our topic. In Matthew 13:47-50, the kingdom of heaven is likened to a net cast into the sea and gathers fish of every kind, both good and bad. The good fish are saved, but what happens to the bad ones in verses 49-50? They are cast into the furnace of fire where again there is weeping and the gnashing of teeth. All of the fish were gathered into the net, but were all of them saved from the furnace of fire?

Read about the sheep and the goats in Matthew 25:31-46. You probably have already noticed that both believed, but did you also notice that only one worked? What was the final end of those who did no works? See verses 45-46. Since the goats believed, why then were they not saved also?

See, you may think you are "saved", but a fruitless person is cut off. Now you can readily see that salvation depends upon each one of us and on our individual fruitful actions in a very important way.

Nothing defiled may enter the kingdom of heaven.

"And there shall not enter into it (heaven) anything defiled, nor he who practices abomination and falsehood, but only those who are written in the book of life of the Lamb." Revelation 21:27

Does this sound like "Once saved, always saved?"

The people who fit this verse are not following the will of GOD, the Ten Commandments.

"He who overcomes shall possess these things, and I will be his GOD, and he shall be my son. But as for the cowardly and unbelieving, and abominable and murderers, and fornicators and sorcerers, and idolaters and all liars, their portion shall be in the pool that burns with fire and brimstone, which is the second death." Revelation 21:7-8

Does this sound like "Once saved, always saved?"

Where do liars spend all eternity even if they accept Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior, but fail to work out their salvation by keeping the Ten Commandments? Are not "Thou shalt not lie", and "Thou shalt not kill" two of the Ten Commandments?

According to the "Once saved, always saved" group of believers, you can sin as much as you want after accepting Jesus Christ and your salvation is guaranteed, regardless.

"Why do you ask me what is good? One there who is good, and he is GOD. But if you will enter into life, OBEY THE COMMANDMENTS." "Which commandments?" the man asked. Jesus said, "Never murder. Never commit adultery. Never steal. Never give false testimony. Honor your father and mother. Love your neighbor as you love yourself."

Matthew 19:17-19

These verses clearly have said that if we do not obey the commandments, we will not have (eternal) life.

So if a person who thinks he is "saved", and then lies or commits adultery, how then does he reconcile his actions with Matthew 19:17-19 and Revelation 21:7-8 and 21:27?

Jesus did cure the infirmed man at the pool in John 5:1-9, and later He told him in verse 14, "See, you are well! SIN NO MORE, THAT NOTHING WORSE BEFALL YOU." Does that sound like, "once saved, always saved"?

Here is yet another example, the woman caught in adultery in John 8:1-10. Jesus had prevented her from being stoned to death, and in verse 11 He said, "Neither do I condemn you; GO, AND DO NOT SIN AGAIN." Again, Jesus cautioned, not to sin again.

What is the message from these two examples from John 5 and 8? What if both sinned again? In the first case it would seem that indeed, SOMETHING WORSE WOULD BEFALL THE MAN and in the second case it would be a clear disobedience by the woman to a direct command of Jesus. I repeat, does that sound like, "once saved, always saved"? No way!

"Here is the patience of the Saints, who keep the commandments of GOD, and the faith of Jesus." Revelation 14:12

If we are "saved" already then what is the purpose of having to obey the commandments?

So, can we truthfully say that we are saved? If we co-operate with the commands of GOD, we can have hope that we will be saved. However, we cannot assume, as some non-Catholics believe, that it is a one sided process completed by Jesus Christ alone. He did His part, now it is up to each one of us to do our part by our co-operation with His unlimited sacrifice on the cross.

How can anyone reconcile the false man made doctrine of "once saved, always saved" when Holy Scripture clearly tells us to, "Work out your salvation with fear and trembling."? Phil 2:12

Nevertheless, Catholics realize that even the fulfilling of Our Lord's requirements for salvation is impossible without the free gift of His grace.

---

Salvation is an ongoing process throughout our lives. It is a life-long struggle as this verse, mentioned earlier, tells us:

"Work out your salvation with fear and trembling." Phil 2:12

This verse is in direct conflict with the notion of "Once saved, always saved".

Since salvation is an on going life-long process:

We were saved in the past: Rom 5:1-2,8:24, Eph 2:5-8, 2Tim 1:9, Tit 3:5.

We are being saved now: Rom 5:9-10, 1Cor 1:18,15:2, 2Cor 2:15, Phil 2:12, 1Pet 1:8-9,2:1-2.

We will be saved in the future: Mt 10:22,24:13, Rom 13:11, 1Cor 3:12-15,5:5, 2Tim 2:11-13, Rev 21:6-7.

We can lose our salvation:

Those who believe "Once saved, always saved", assume (presumption?) that they are written in the "Book of Life" (Dan 12:1) in red indelible ink, and cannot ever be removed from it no matter how much they sin.

How then could they ever explain Ex 32:33:

"The Lord answered, 'Him only who has sinned against Me will I strike out of My book'?"

Even St. Paul admitted that he could lose his salvation:

"...but I chastise my body and bring it into subjection, lest perhaps after preaching to others I myself should be rejected."

1Cor 9:27

Then there is Rom 11:22, "See, then, the goodness and the severity of GOD: His severity towards those who have fallen, but the goodness of GOD towards you if you abide in His goodness; otherwise you also will be cut off."

"I have confidence in you the Lord, that you will not think otherwise; but he who disturbs you will bear the penalty, whoever he may be." Gal 5:10

"But that servant who knew his masters will, and did not make ready for him and did not act according to his will, will be beaten with many stripes." Luke 12:47

"You therefore, brethren, since you know this beforehand, be on your guard lest, carried away by the error of the foolish, you fall away from your own steadfastness." 2Pet 3:17

Is this "once saved, always saved"? Well then, what about those who fall into this trap?

Refer to John 10:28 earlier in this post where I said we can simply jump out of His hand and walk away from Him.

Who are those who gloss over these verses and present a blind eye to them?

"Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are immorality, uncleanness, licentiousness, idolatry, witchcrafts, enmities, contentions, jealousies, anger, quarrels, factions, parties, envies, murders, drunkenness, carousings, and suchlike. AND CONCERNING THESE I WARN YOU, AS I HAVE WARNED YOU, THAT THEY WHO DO SUCH THINGS WILL NOT ATTAIN THE KINGDOM OF GOD." Gal 5:19-21

Again, does this sound like "Once saved, always saved"?

Who can ignore Matt 25:31-46, where the shepherd will separate the sheep from the goats and the righteous will receive their reward but the accursed will depart into the everlasting fire?

See also, Matt 6:14-15, 7:21, 24:44-51, Mark 11:26, Luke 10:16, John 14:21, Rom 11:22, and Rev 21:8.

---

Perseverance in doing the will of the Father:

This virtue will bring us to our goal:

"...but he who has persevered to the end will be saved." Matt 10:22, 24:13

Notice that these verses do not say that we are saved but that we will be saved...future tense. What does "persevered" mean? Why should anyone have to worry about perseverance if they are already saved?

"Life eternal indeed he will give to those who by patience in good works seek glory and honor and immortality; but wrath and indignation to those who are contentious, and who do not submit to the truth but assent to iniquity." Rom 2:7-8

"And in doing good, let us not grow tired; for in due time we shall reap if we do not relax." Gal 6:9

"Do not therefore, lose your confidence, which has a great reward. For you have need of patience that, doing the will of GOD, you may receive the promise:" Heb 10:35-36

"Blessed is the man who endures temptation; for when he has been tried, he will receive the crown of life which GOD has promised to those who love Him." Jam 1:12

"But he who has looked carefully into the perfect law of liberty and has remained in it, not becoming a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work, shall be blessed in his deed." Jam 1:25

"Take, brethren, as an example of labor and patience, the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord." Jam 5:10

"Therefore, brethren, strive even more by good works to make your calling and election sure. For if you do this, you will not fall into sin at any time. Indeed, in this way will be amply provided for you the entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and savior Jesus Christ." 2Pet 1:10-11

Well, this verse makes it clear that you need good works to help you to your salvation.

"Once saved, always saved" does not look so promising anymore, does it?

"Him who overcomes I will permit to eat of the tree of life, which is the paradise of my GOD."

Rev 2:7

"Fear none of those things that you are about to suffer. Behold, the devil is about to cast some of you into prison that you may be tested, and you will have tribulation for ten days. Be you faithful unto death, and I will give you the crown of life." Rev 2:10

"And to him who overcomes, and who keeps My works unto the end, I will give authority over the nations." Rev 2:26

"Therefore let him who thinks he stands take heed lest he fall."

1Cor 10:12

Let us take this verse in context so we all know the truth of what St. Paul has said here:

Starting with 1Cor 10:1-4, all were believers and thought they were going to be saved. In verses 5-10 some were lost for various reasons due to sin (surprise!!!). Verse 11 is a warning for those today who proclaim that they are saved. The end of ages points to today as well. Verse 12, those who think they stand (are saved) are liable to fall.

Let us now back up to verse 9, "We must not put the Lord to the test..."

Aren't we putting GOD to the test when we claim that we are saved?

Now we must read this next verse yet again to answer that question.

"For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends."

2Cor 10:18

And what about this one?

"I have a clear conscience, but that doesn't mean I have God's approval. It is the Lord who cross-examines me."

1Cor 4:4

Aren't those who claim that they are saved already, prejudging themselves and are attempting to circumvent the judgment of GOD?

See these additional verses also: John 15:4-10, 1Cor 15:58, Eph 4:14,6:10-17, 1Thes 3:8,5:21-22, 2Thes 2:15-17,

Heb12:1-15,13:9, Jam1:4,2:14-26, 1Pet1:4-7,5:8, Rev2:17,3:5,11-12,21,21:7

For all of those who think they are already saved, I must warn them that it is a sin of presumption to believe that false Protestant invented doctrine, as 1Cor 10:1-12 and 2Cor 10:18 in the previous section have told us.

Show me a genuine historical document written before 1500 in which it is defined?

I would suggest that you re-read Matt 25:31-46. You will see in these verses that both the sheep and the goats thought that they would be saved, but the sin of presumption was upon the goats and they were rejected, simply because they did no works.

Clearly, Holy Scripture has shown that the false doctrine of once saved, always saved has no Scriptural basis whatsoever.

"So faith, hope, love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love."

1Cor 13:13

So if we are saved by faith alone, then what is the purpose of Scripture telling us to have hope? There would be no need for hope if we are saved already. What does that verse say about love? It says love is greater than faith. For those who say they are saved by faith alone, are they not insinuating that faith is greater than love? Aren't they ignoring both hope and love?

Since I mentioned the year 1500 above, there was a reason why I did. It was Martin Luther who "invented" the false doctrine of "Once saved, always saved", when in Romans 3:28 he added the word "alone" to his German translation of Holy Scripture. That verse then read, "...a man is justified by faith alone". This action on his part was an embarrassment to the other reformers, and so you will not find that little word "alone" in Romans 3:28 in the King James or any other Protestant Bible except for Luther's.

Here is one quote from Martin Luther regarding "Once saved always saved",
"Be a sinner and sin boldly, but believe and rejoice in Christ even more boldly... No sin will separate us from the Lamb, even though we commit fornication and murder a thousand times a day."

Martin Luther, letter to Melanchthon, August 1, 1521

What about those verses I quoted previously regarding the command of Jesus to sin no more.
Is this the meaning of "Once saved always saved"?

Can we throw out the ten commandments now along with scores of other verses?

No, not at all according to John 14:15, "If you love me you will keep my commandments".

How can anyone possibly reconcile those Words of Christ with that quote from Luther above?

Of what purpose does that verse serve with Luther's twisted theology?

What about "Thou shalt not commit adultery and thou shalt not kill?"

Shall we believe the words of Luther or the Words of GOD?

Did you know that Martin Luther wrote the obituary for his own church?

In this quote from one of his writings, he was speaking of "Saved by Faith alone (or only)".

"If this article stands, the church stands; if it collapses, the church collapses."

Martin Luther, Exposition of Psalms 130,4

Well, Martin, that 'article' of yours did not stand, but did indeed collapse.

You see, your added word "alone" in your German Bible in verse Romans 3:28 was removed by your successors and was never added in other language translations.

I have shown more than ample evidence of that collapse in the verses included in this writing, sooooo....?

Interestingly, the people who believe in "Are You Saved", or "Once Saved, Always Saved", are the same people who berate the Catholic Church for canonizing saints. Now the word "Saint" simply means, a "Holy One", or a person who is in heaven. So, by believing in, "Once saved, always saved", it simply means that those who believe in it are canonizing themselves already. In other words, since I am "saved", "I will go to heaven, and therefore, all who are in heaven are saints, therefore I am already a saint".

---

"Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide and the way is easy, that leads to destruction, and those who enter by it are many. For the gate is narrow and the way is hard, that leads to life, and those who find it are few."

Matt 7:13-14

It would seem to me that "Once saved, always saved" is the easy way since it requires no effort on the part of the individual. The easy way, according to the teaching of Holy Scripture, is not the way to eternal salvation.

---

"For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends."

2Corinthians 10:18.

In John 8:11, didn't Jesus say to the woman about to be stoned for adultery,

"Neither do I condemn you; go, and do not sin again."

Has any believer of "Once Saved, Always Saved" ever read those two verses?

AGAIN, JESUS DID NOT DIE JUST SO WE COULD SIN ALL THE MORE.

---

"And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, Praising God, and having favour with all the people.

AND THE LORD ADDED TO THE CHURCH DAILY SUCH AS SHOULD BE SAVED."

Acts 2:46-47, King James Bible

What do those two verses tell you?

Are those 39,000* sects of diverse denominations in the world today of one accord?

Are they in singleness of heart?

What about the last line?

Are you attached to the one Church that Jesus Christ founded?

Holy Scripture does say that in order to be saved, you must be added to His Church, does it not?

"I Know that I am Going Straight to Heaven when I die!"

---

So I was told by a non-Catholic recently. He would not tell me which denomination he belonged to but did say that he was an elder.

He immediately started with his litany of criticism of the Catholic Church and said that he liked Martin Luther.

When I realized that this was headed towards being a one sided conversation on his part, I replied that I would be happy to answer any question that he may have if he would first answer only one very simple question of mine.

"Please name the person who founded the Catholic Church?"

He ignored it and continued with his litany. So I turned my simple question around with:

"Please name the Church that Jesus Christ founded?"

Again he refused to answer my simple question and continued with his agenda, so I ended the one sided conversation promptly.

You see we all must obey Holy Scripture:

Titus 3:10-11, "As for a man who is factious, after admonishing him once or twice, have nothing more to do with him, knowing that such a person is perverted and sinful; he is self-condemned."

I believe he knew very well the answer to my question but was likely one of those who taught that the Catholic Church fell into apostasy as many denominations teach. Also by telling me the truth he would be admitting that Jesus Christ was the founder of the Catholic Church.

If he did admit that then I could see him as being a new Saul who persecuted the Church:

Acts 9:3-5, "Now as he journeyed he approached Damascus, and suddenly a light from heaven flashed about him.

And he fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?"

And he said, "Who are you, Lord?" And he said, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting."

Why did Jesus say "why do you persecute me" instead of saying 'why do you persecute My Church'?

It is because His Church is His Body, Ephesians 1:22-23, Colossians 1:18,24.

Now let us go back to his remark, the title of this page...

His remark of "I know that I am going straight to heaven when I die", is in reality the deadly 'sin of presumption', and I will explain.

He is guilty of a false Protestant teaching, that is to grab one Bible verse that sounds good and simple and to run with it while completely ignoring one of the most important basic rules of Bible exegesis, that is of context, context, and context.

Case in point:

The entire Bible is harmonious. There are no errors within it, only 'apparent' errors as seen by those who seek the truth but not by those who have a contrary agenda. Here is the verse that they use mostly to try to justify their false belief in their 'guaranteed' salvation:

Romans 10:9, "For if thou confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thy heart that God hath raised him up from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

Now if they would only read the very next verse there is a stumbling block therein that is ignored:

Romans 10:10, "For, with the heart, we believe unto justice: but, with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation."

Now let us see what one of the best Bible commentaries has to say about Romans 10:9, Haydock's 1859 edition:

"Ver. 9. Thou shalt be saved. To confess the Lord Jesus, and to call upon the name of the Lord, (ver. 13.) is not barely the professing of a belief in the person of Christ: but moreover implies a belief of his whole doctrine, and an obedience to his law; without which the calling of him Lord will save no man.

(St. Matthew vii. 21.) (Challoner) --- This passage must be understood like many others of this apostle, of a faith accompanied by a good-will ready to perform what faith says must be practised; as it is required in this very place, that what we believe in the heart, we should confess with our mouth. (Estius)"

Now since we all know that the Bible is harmonious from beginning to end, did you notice that Haydock's steered us to another verse that has more to say regarding Romans 10:9?

Matthew 7:21, "Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven."

Is that verse a contradiction of Romans 10:9? Not at all. It is merely adding to its context.

Not every verse can contain every condition associated with it for obvious reasons. For one, the fact that other Biblical authors had written regarding the same subject, but from a different point of view and their differences are an addition to the context of the whole subject.

Here are many more verses regarding the 'sin of presumption'.

James 4:13-16, "Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and get gain";

whereas you do not know about tomorrow. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes.

Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we shall live and we shall do this or that."

As it is, you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil."

Isaiah 13:11, "I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will put an end to the pride of the arrogant, and lay low the haughtiness of the ruthless."

Romans 12:3, "For by the grace given to me I bid every one among you not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith which God has assigned him."

2Timothy 4:3-4, "For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own likings, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander into myths."

Luke 9:23, "And he said to all, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me"."

James 4:10, "Humble yourselves before the Lord and he will exalt you."

1Peter 5:5, "Likewise you that are younger be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble."

Numbers 15:30, "But the soul that doeth ought presumptuously, whether he be born in the land, or a stranger, the same reproacheth the LORD; and that soul shall be cut off from among his people."

James 4:6, "But he gives more grace; therefore it says, "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble"."

Deuteronomy 18:20, "But the prophet who presumes to speak a word in my name which I have not commanded him to speak, or who speaks in the name of other gods, that same prophet shall die."

Philippians 2:12, "Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling;"

Luke 14:10-11, "But when you are invited, go and sit in the lowest place, so that when your host comes he may say to you, 'Friend, go up higher'; then you will be honored in the presence of all who sit at table with you. For every one who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

1Corinthians 10:11-12, "Now these things happened to them as a warning, but they were written down for our instruction, upon whom the end of the ages has come. Therefore let any one who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall."

Rom 2:4-6, Or do you presume upon the riches of his kindness and forbearance and patience? Do you not know that God's kindness is meant to lead you to repentance? But by your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed.
For he will render to every man according to his works."

"Hebrews 10:26-27, "For if we sin deliberately after receiving the knowledge of the truth, there no longer remains a sacrifice for sins, but a fearful prospect of judgment, and a fury of fire which will consume the adversaries."

Deuteronomy 6:16, "You shall not put the LORD your God to the test, as you tested him at Massah."

1Corinthians 10:9, "We must not put the Lord to the test, as some of them did and were destroyed by serpents;"

2Corinthians 10:18, "For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends."

Oh yes, remember at the beginning of this message that elder who contacted me and would not answer a single question of mine?

He said he liked Martin Luther. Well it is too bad that he either did not read the writings by Luther, or did and ignored much of what Luther wrote.

Here is a gem that Luther wrote, complete with references:

Letter to Melanchthon, August 1, 1521 Luther's Works, vol. 48

"If you are a preacher of grace, then preach a true and not a fictitious grace; if grace is true, you must bear a true and not a fictitious sin. God does not save people who are only fictitious sinners. Be a sinner and sin boldly, but believe and rejoice in Christ even more boldly.... as long as we are here [in this world] we have to sin.... No sin will separate us from the Lamb, even though we commit fornication and murder a thousand times a day."

Are only Catholics admitted into Heaven?

Far be it for me to speak in behalf of GOD, for He is the only one who knows who goes to Heaven, and He does not tell us on an individual basis.

However, through His Church, we know that canonized saints are in Heaven. That is about all that we truly know who is there now.

For the rest of us, the guidelines for attaining eternal salvation are in Holy Scripture, and there are many of them.

I have dealt with these guidelines in great detail in many other pages in this Catholic Treasure Chest site.

From these guidelines we can extrapolate a plethora of foods for thought. These thoughts will probably stay with us until the day we die.

---

From what I have gleaned so far, I would say the short answer to the question is a resounding NO! Here is where common sense and our GOD given reasoning powers begin, based on what we know from Holy Scripture.

For sake of brevity, I will classify all non-Catholic Christians as Protestants and so, in my opinion, we have five major camps of humanity,

(1) Catholic, (2) Protestant, (3) non-Christian religions, which are so widely varying in their beliefs and practices, that I can speak for them only briefly, (4) and there are those who have never even heard of GOD, (5) and of course Atheists who deny the existence of GOD.

1. Do all Catholics go to Heaven?

I would say no, as there are many who call themselves catholic but really are not Catholic at all in the true sense.

Some do not partake of the seven sacraments. Some do not obey the ten commandments, such as their failure to attend Mass on Sundays and holy days, for one example.

"Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling." Philippians 2:12

2. Can any Protestants be admitted into Heaven?

I would say yes, but for most, through no fault of their own, they do not have the full deposit of faith as laid out in the Bible.

They have some truth but not the full truth as taught by the only Church that Jesus Christ founded. This group, probably unknowing, is in some way connected to the Catholic Church through Baptism, which is a plus for them.

They could attain Heaven but it seems to me that it will be more difficult for them since they are wanting in so many of GOD given graces.

Seven sources of GOD's graces are plainly listed in Holy Scripture and good Catholics strive for all seven, the sacraments.

Most Protestants only have two sacraments and even they could be questionable depending upon who issues them.

Common sense tells me that the more sacraments an individual receives, the better the chance that he or she will attain eternal salvation.

I would have reservations for those who persecute the only Church which Jesus Christ founded since they are really persecuting Him (Acts 9:3-5) since His Church is His body and He is its head. The hardest thing to open is a closed mind, so they should open their minds to a quest in search of the truth. Romans 2:5-8 would give me trepidation if I were guilty of its message therein.

3. Can any members of non-Christian religions attain Heaven?

I would say probably yes, but I have great reservations for those violent ones who forcibly impose their religion on others.

4. Can those who have never even heard of GOD go to Heaven?

I would say they could if they followed the laws written into all human hearts by GOD. See Romans 2:11-15.

5. Can Atheists attain eternal salvation?

Please read Matthew 10:33 and then decide for yourself.

The Family of GOD...

The Communion of Saints

---

The Church is a family. The Church Militant (on earth), Church Suffering (in Purgatory), and Church Triumphant (in Heaven) are not three divisions of the Catholic Church, but are united in one family in the Communion of Saints. The Communion of Saints is a communion of the living, not of the dead. The Communion of Saints is the Church, CCC 946. The Church, then, is 'The Holy People of GOD', and her members are called 'saints', CCC 823.

(CCC is the Catechism of the Catholic Church)

---

The Family of GOD was built up by GOD through the covenants He made with man.

The first covenant GOD made with man is the one with Adam. This can be seen as the marital covenant, the first step of a family organization.

The second covenant was made with Noah, and this can be seen as the household covenant, since Noah and his family were the only ones who were saved in the ark.

Next came the covenant with Abraham, or the tribal covenant. Abraham became the patriarch of many families united into one 'tribe'.

Then came the covenant with Moses where the various tribes were united into a national covenant.

After that came the Davidic covenant of the kingdom where there was formed a national kingdom.

Lastly, the new covenant of Jesus Christ, was instituted, where all men are united into one body, the body of Christ in an international world wide family of GOD, the Holy Roman Catholic Church.

---

---

"I am the GOD of Abraham, and the GOD of Isaac, and the GOD of Jacob.

I am not the GOD of the dead but of the living."

Mt 22:32, Mk 12:26-27

---

"And behold, two men were talking with Him. And these were Moses and Elias, who, appearing in glory, spoke of His death, which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem."

Lk 9:30-31.

Not only were these two Saints alive, but they spoke, and they even spoke to Him about future happenings.

---

"And I tell you that many will come from the east and from the west, and will feast with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven."

Mt 8:11

Does it sound like these three heroes of the Old Testament are not alive?

---

"And the tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep arose; and coming forth out of the tombs after His resurrection, they came into the city and appeared to many." Mt 27:52-53.

Many who died, and now are alive, moved themselves and appeared to others.

---

"In which also He went and preached to those spirits that were in prison."

1Pet 3:19.

They were spirits, yet they lived, and He preached to them.

---

"And when he had taken the scroll, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb, each holding a harp, and with golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints; and they sang a new song, saying, "Worthy art thou to take the scroll and to open its seals, for thou wast slain and by thy blood didst ransom men for God from every tribe and tongue and people and nation, and hast made them a kingdom and priests to our God, and they shall reign on earth."

Rev 5:8-10

"And with the prayers of the saints there went up before GOD from the angels hand the smoke of the incense."

Rev 8:4.

Clearly, the saints in heaven live.

Note that the word "pray" has two meanings:

- 1. To utter or address a prayer or prayers to GOD...*
- 2. To make a fervent request or an entreaty...*

When it is said that Catholics "pray" to the Saints, it is the second meaning.

---

"And the angel answered and said to her, "The Holy Spirit shall come upon you and the power of the Most High shall overshadow you..."

Luke 1:35.

Here is an example of a heavenly being, archangel Gabriel, speaking to a human being.

---

"For you are all children of GOD through faith in Christ Jesus."

Gal 3:26.

"...but you have received a spirit of adoption as sons, by virtue of which we cry, 'Abba! Father!' The Spirit Himself gives testimony to our spirit that we are sons of GOD."

Rom 8:15-16.

---

"He predestined us to be adopted through Jesus Christ as His sons, according to the purpose of His will."

Eph 1:5.

"But to as many as received Him He gave the power of becoming sons of GOD; to those who believe in His name."

Jn 1:12.

"For as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, many as they are, form one body (family), so also is it with Christ."

1Cor 12:12.

---

"Therefore, you are now no longer strangers and foreigners, but you are citizens with the Saints and members of GOD's household: you are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets with Christ Jesus Himself as the chief corner stone. In Him the whole structure is closely fitted together and grows into a temple holy in the Lord; in Him you too are being built together into a dwelling place for GOD in the Spirit."

Eph 2:19-22

---

"For in one Spirit we were all Baptized into one body, whether Jews or Gentiles, whether slaves or free; and we were all given to drink of one Spirit. For the body is not one member, but many."

1Cor 12:13-14

---

"So we, the many, are one body in Christ, but severally members one of another."

Rom 12:5.

---

"That there may be no disunion in the body, but that the members may have care for one another. And if one member suffers anything, all members suffer with it, or of one member glories, all the members rejoice with it."

1Cor 12:25-26.

---

"...there will be joy among the angels of GOD over one sinner who repents."

Lk 15:10.

"Rather are we to practice the truth in love, and to grow up in all things in Him who is the head, Christ."

Eph 4:15.

Christ is the head of the body, the family.

---

"For from the whole body (being closely joined and knit together through every joint of the system according to the functioning in due measure of each single part) derives its increase to the building up of itself in love."

Eph 4:16.

---

"Therefore, you are now no longer strangers and foreigners, but you are citizens with the saints and members of GOD's household; you are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets with Christ Jesus Himself as the chief cornerstone. In Him the whole structure is closely fitted together and grows into a temple holy in the Lord; in Him you too are being built together into a dwelling place for GOD in the Spirit."

Eph 3:19-22.

We are citizens in the family of GOD.

---

"Now you are the body of Christ, member for member."

1Cor 3:27.

---

"Be you yourselves as living stones, built thereon into a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to GOD through Jesus Christ."

1Pet 2:5.

"And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers; after that miracles, then gifts of healing, services of help, power of administration, and the speaking of various tongues. Are all Apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Are all workers of miracles? Do all have the gift of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret?"

1Cor 12:28-30.

Family members have different skills.

---

"And He Himself gave some men as Apostles, and some as prophets, others again as evangelists, and others as pastors and teachers, in order to perfect the saints for a work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ."

Eph 4:11-12.

---

"Now the multitude of the believers were of one heart and one soul, and not one of them said that anything he possessed was his own, but they all had things in common."

Act 4:32.

---

"...one body and one Spirit, even as you were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one Baptism; one GOD and Father of all, who is above all, and throughout all, and in us all."

Eph 4:4-6, CCC 946-962.

"Lord, that I may see"

Luke 18:41

---

---

The Catholic Church recognized its image in the inspired books of the Bible. That is how it determined the Canon of Scripture. Fr. Ken Baker...

It never ceases to amaze me how a Church that is so easily recognizable in a few simple Scripture verses, is overlooked, or even denied by some.

---

---

1. Jesus Christ is the TRUTH:

John 14:6, "I am the way, the TRUTH, and the life. No one comes to the Father but through Me." Whatever He said, therefore is the TRUTH.

"He who does not believe the Son, makes Him a liar." 1John 5:10

Read the many files I have posted on this website, under the subtitle, "Truth".

2. Jesus Christ has all AUTHORITY:

Romans 13:1-2, "Let everyone be subject to the higher authorities, for there exists no authority except from GOD, AND THOSE WHO EXIST HAVE BEEN APPOINTED BY GOD (6). Therefore, he who resists the AUTHORITY resists the ordinance of GOD; and THEY THAT RESIST BRING ON THEMSELVES CONDEMNATION."

Read the many files I have posted on this website under the subtitle, "Authority".

3. Jesus Christ passed on the AUTHORITY to His Apostles to act in His behalf:

Luke 10:16, "He who HEARS YOU, HEARS ME; AND HE WHO REJECTS YOU, REJECTS ME; AND HE WHO REJECTS ME, REJECTS HIM WHO SENT ME."

John 20:21, "...As the Father has sent Me, I ALSO SEND YOU." When He had said this, he breathed upon them, and said to them, "RECEIVE THE HOLY SPIRIT; WHOSE SINS YOU SHALL FORGIVE, THEY ARE FORGIVEN THEM; WHOSE SINS YOU SHALL RETAIN, THEY ARE RETAINED."

---

4. Jesus Christ founded His ONE Church:

Matt 16:18, "And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church." He who is the TRUTH, Jesus Christ, did not say Churches, did He?

5. In chapter 18 of Matthew, Jesus Christ made His Church the FINAL AUTHORITY:

Matt 18:15-18, "But if your brother sin against you, go and show him his fault between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have won your brother. But if he does not listen to you, take with you one or two more so that on the word of two or three witnesses every word may be confirmed. AND IF HE REFUSE TO HEAR THEM, APPEAL TO THE CHURCH, BUT IF HE REFUSES TO HEAR EVEN THE CHURCH, LET HIM BE TO YOU AS THE HEATHEN AND THE PUBLICAN."

He who is TRUTH, Jesus Christ, did not say appeal to the Bible did He?

Eph 1:22, "And all things He made subject under His feet, and Him he gave as Head over all the Church, which is indeed His Body, the completion of Him who fills all with all."

The Church which Jesus Christ founded does indeed have the FINAL AUTHORITY, since Jesus Himself is the Head of His Body.

---

6. Now that the Apostles have the AUTHORITY, to speak in the PERSON OF CHRIST (2Cor 2:10), they exercise that AUTHORITY.

Now that Christ's Church has the final AUTHORITY, who, or what becomes the Guardian of the TRUTH? Is it the Bible?

1Tim 3:15, "...but in order that you may know, if I am delayed, HOW TO CONDUCT YOURSELF IN THE HOUSE OF GOD, WHICH IS THE CHURCH OF THE LIVING GOD, THE PILLAR AND FOUNDATION OF THE TRUTH."

It is not the Bible, but the Church, which is the guardian of TRUTH. What is a foundation? It is the base upon which the Church rests, the "Rock" upon which Jesus Christ built His Church (1Cor 3:11, Eph 2:20) . What is a "pillar"? It is something which holds something up, it "upholds" it. The Church which Jesus Christ founded now has the final AUTHORITY (2) and the task of being the Guardian of the TRUTH (1), and of upholding it.

---

7. Knowing that the Apostles will not live forever, Scripture made provision to replace them by a system of Apostolic Succession. It is the person holding the office which dies. The office in itself does not die but is then filled by another:

Psalms 109:8, "...let another take his office."

Acts 1:20-26, "...And his ministry let another take."....And they prayed and said, "You, Lord, who knows the hearts of all, show which of these two you have chosen to take the place in this ministry and Apostleship from which Judas fell away to go to his own place." And they drew lots between them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven Apostles.

1Cor 3:10-11, "According to the Grace of GOD which has been given to Me, as a wise builder, I laid the foundation, and another builds thereon. But let everyone take care how he builds thereon. For other foundation no one can lay, but that which has been laid, which is Jesus Christ (6)."

Acts 20:28, "Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which THE HOLY SPIRIT HAS PLACED YOU AS BISHOPS, TO RULE THE CHURCH OF GOD, WHICH HE HAS PURCHASED WITH HIS OWN BLOOD."

Acts 20:32, "And now I commend you to GOD and to the Word of his Grace, WHO IS ABLE TO BUILD UP AND TO GIVE THE INHERITANCE AMONG ALL THE SANCTIFIED."

This very same process has continued down through the ages in an unbroken line to the present day. Every Pope is chosen by lots, just as the Apostles did for Matthias in Acts 1:20-26.

This unbroken line of Bishops and Popes can be traced all the way back to the Apostles.

Do you have all of this in your Church?

See "The Papacy is Scriptural", elsewhere on this website for much more.

See also, "The Unbroken Line", elsewhere on this website. It is a complete listing of every Pope from St. Peter to our present one.

---

8. It is the Holy Spirit who guides and guards the Church which Jesus Christ founded:
John 14:16-17, "And I will ask the Father and He will give you another ADVOCATE TO DWELL WITH YOU FOREVER, THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH WHOM THE WORLD CANNOT RECEIVE, BECAUSE IT NEITHER SEES HIM NOR KNOWS HIM. BUT YOU SHALL KNOW HIM, BECAUSE HE WILL DWELL WITH YOU, AND BE IN YOU."

John 16:12-13, "Many things yet I have to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. BUT WHEN HE, THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH, HAS COME HE WILL TEACH YOU ALL THE TRUTH. FOR HE WILL NOT SPEAK ON HIS OWN AUTHORITY, BUT WHATEVER HE WILL HEAR HE WILL SPEAK, AND THE THINGS THAT ARE TO COME HE WILL DECLARE TO YOU."

Matt 10:26, "Therefore, do not be afraid of them. FOR THERE IS NOTHING CONCEALED THAT WILL NOT BE DISCLOSED, AND NOTHING HIDDEN THAT WILL NOT BE REVEALED."

These last two verses clearly say that everything is NOT in the Bible, and that understanding and discernment by the Church will increase over time.

9. The Church which Jesus Christ founded will be here from the time He founded it until the end of time. In many verses it is the promise of GOD:

Dan 2:44, "But in the days of those kingdoms the GOD OF HEAVEN WILL SET UP A KINGDOM THAT SHALL NEVER BE DESTROYED, AND HIS KINGDOM SHALL NOT BE DELIVERED UP TO ANOTHER PEOPLE. AND IT SHALL BREAK IN PIECES, AND SHALL CONSUME ALL THESE KINGDOMS, AND ITSELF SHALL STAND FOREVER."

Matt 16:18, "And THE GATES OF HELL SHALL NOT PREVAIL AGAINST IT."

Matt 28:20, "And behold, I AM WITH YOU ALL DAYS, EVEN UNTO THE CONSUMMATION OF THE WORLD."

This verse means every day in every century until the end of the world.

John 14:16, "...and HE WILL GIVE YOU ANOTHER ADVOCATE TO DWELL WITH YOU FOREVER."

I believe that verse would mean unbroken continuity until the end of time. Wouldn't you agree?

Eph 3:21, "TO HIM BE GLORY IN THE CHURCH AND IN CHRIST JESUS DOWN THROUGH ALL THE AGES OF TIME WITHOUT END."

This verse said it all.

---

10. "TO BE DEEP IN HISTORY IS TO CEASE TO BE PROTESTANT."

John Cardinal Newman, an Anglican convert to the Catholic Church, said that after he had done an intense study of the Church Fathers.

Sadly, many Protestant ministers tell their flocks not to read the Church Fathers*, as they might be corrupted by doing so. This could not be further from the truth. Everyone reads the history of their own country, or of the world, and of the people in it. How then, can anyone be prevented from reading the history of Christianity? By reading these historical writings for yourselves, you will gain a better understanding of the truth, and knowledge of the truth will set you free, John 8:32.

However, if you deny the truth, you will perish, 2Thess 2:9-12.

*Rom 1:18, "For the wrath of GOD is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of those men WHO IN WICKEDNESS HOLD BACK THE TRUTH OF GOD."

What did the historians of Christianity, the early Church writers, and Church Fathers have to say?

---

1st Century:

Didache, 10:5 70 A.D.

"Remember, O LORD, YOUR CHURCH. DELIVER IT FROM EVERY EVIL AND PERFECT IT IN YOUR LOVE. GATHER IT FROM THE FOUR WINDS, SANCTIFIED FOR YOUR KINGDOM, WHICH YOU HAVE PREPARED FOR IT."

The entire "Didache" is posted elsewhere on this website for your reading pleasure.

---

2nd Century:

St. Ignatius, Bishop of Antioch, (d-107?).

Letter to the Smyrneans, 8, 106 A.D.

8. "You must all follow the lead of the bishop, as Jesus Christ followed that of the Father; follow the presbytery as you would the Apostles; reverence the deacons as you would God's commandment. Let no one do anything touching the Church, apart from the bishop. Let that celebration of the Eucharist be considered valid which is held under the bishop or anyone to whom he has committed it. Where the bishop appears, there let the people be, JUST AS WHERE JESUS CHRIST IS, THERE IS THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. It is not permitted without authorization from the bishop either to baptize or to hold an agape; but whatever he approves is also pleasing to God. Thus everything you do will be proof against danger and valid."

This entire "Letter to the Smyrneans" can be found elsewhere on this website.

3rd Century:

St. Clement of Alexandria (150-211).

Stromateis, 7:17:107:3, J435, 202 A.D.

"We say, therefore, that in substance, in concept, in origin and in eminence, THE ANCIENT AND CATHOLIC CHURCH IS ALONE, GATHERING AS IT DOES INTO THE UNITY OF THE ONE FAITH WHICH RESULTS FROM THE FAMILIAR COVENANTS, or rather, from the one covenant in different times, by the will of the one GOD and through the one Lord, those already chosen, those predestined by GOD who knew before the foundation of the world that they would be just."

---

4th Century:

St. Athanasius (296-373), Bishop of Alexandria.

In his lifetime he earned the title "Father of Orthodoxy".

Letter to Serapion of Thmuis 1:28, 359 A.D.

"Let us note that the very tradition, teaching, and faith of the CATHOLIC CHURCH from the beginning, which the Lord gave, was preached by the Apostles, and was preserved by the Fathers. On this was the Church founded; and if anyone departs from this, he neither is nor any longer ought to be called a Christian."

4th Century:

St. Augustine of Hippo (354-430).

Against the Letter of Mani 5:6, J1580-1581, 397 A.D.

"I should not believe the Gospel except as moved by the AUTHORITY of the CATHOLIC CHURCH."

St. Augustine mentioned the Catholic Church, by name, over 300 times in his writings.

5th Century:

St. Vincent of Lerins (d-450).

The Notebooks, 2:1-3, J2168, 434 A.D.

"I received almost always the same answer from all of them, that if I or anyone else wanted to expose the frauds and escape the snares of the heretics who rise up, and to remain intact and sound in a sound faith, it would be necessary with the help of the Lord, to fortify that faith in a twofold manner: first, of course, by the authority of divine law; AND THEN BY THE TRADITION OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH" ..... "And thus, because of so many distortions of such various errors, it is highly necessary that the line of prophetic and apostolic interpretation be directed in accord with the norm of the ecclesiastical AND CATHOLIC MEANING. IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH HERSELF EVERY CARE MUST BE TAKEN THAT WE MAY HOLD FAST TO THAT WHICH HAS BEEN BELIEVED EVERYWHERE, ALWAYS, AND BY ALL. FOR THIS IS, THEN, TRULY AND PROPERLY CATHOLIC."

---

6th Century:

St. Fulgence, Bishop of Ruspe (467-527).

The Forgiveness of Sins, 1:19:2, J2251a, 512 A.D.

"For he is saved by the Sacrament of Baptism, whom the unity of love holds WITHIN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH up to his passing from this present life."

---

Here are many more references of the Catholic Church, written by the Church Fathers and early Church writers. These writings are of the history of Christianity. The Jxxx references are to a set of three excellent books, "The Faith of the Early Fathers", by William A. Jurgens.

This is only a small sampling of the historical writings of Christianity. There are literally many thousands of them, by scores or hundreds of authors, and spread over many centuries. I urge everyone to go and read for themselves, the wealth of Christian information written by Christian historians, the Fathers of the Church, and Early Church Writers. Go here. . This literally is a goldmine of Christian information, and it is all free.

A summary of what we have learned here:

It is the Catholic Church which was founded by Jesus Christ.

It is the Catholic Church which is protected, preserved, and perpetuated by Jesus Christ.

It is the Catholic Church which has the AUTHORITY given to her by Jesus Christ.

It is the Catholic Church which is the PILLAR AND FOUNDATION OF TRUTH.

It is the Catholic Church which is mentioned many times in the writings of the Christian historians.

---

Questions and objections, regarding the Catholic Church, which are answered in this document:

A. The Catholic Church is not the Church which Jesus Christ founded. False! See Sections 1-6.

B. The Catholic Church was not founded until the fourth century. False! See Sections 4-10.

C. The Catholic Church apostatized in the early centuries. False! See Sections 9-10. There is not one written word to substantiate this false charge. No one who has made the charge has been able to back up what they say with a single authentic document from the time it supposedly happened. In fact, they cannot even provide a date in which it "happened". Why would anyone deliberately teach against what Scripture says about the durability and perpetuality of GOD's Church? Why would anyone want to make such an unfounded charge as this in the first place? The Church Fathers surely would have mentioned such a monumental event. Instead they wrote just the opposite. They wrote of how the Catholic Church was increasing and prospering, and how it fought off heretical attacks of all types, attacks which continue to this very day. Notice that I marked the writings of the Fathers of the Church, which I have quoted, with the Century Number in which they were written. The writings span all the way from the First to the Sixth Centuries. There is not even a hint of a "great apostasy" in these writings. You will find this to hold true throughout all of their writings. So, what do the detractors have to say now in their defense?

Please read, "The Catholic Church in the New Testament", which is found elsewhere on this website. In it, you will find the detailed plan of the only Church which Jesus Christ founded. There is only one present day Church which fits this plan perfectly, as it has for almost 2000 years. Compare your Church and see if it even comes close to fitting the plan as presented by Holy Scripture.

Name another organization which has existed for almost 2000 years, and has withstood the constant slings and arrows of heretics in every Century, from the First until the Twenty First? Tell me how the Catholic Church has been able to endure this constant onslaught?

Read on for the surprising (for some) answer.

---

"What then shall we say to these things? If GOD is for us, who is against us?"

Romans 8:31

---

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone.

For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown;

but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it.

Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD."

Moving the Rock...

"Thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build My Church." Matt 16:18

"You are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets with Christ Jesus Himself as the Chief Cornerstone. In Him the whole structure is fitted together and grows into a temple holy in the Lord." Eph 2:20-21

*"And ALL things He made subject under His feet, and Him He gave as head over ALL the Church, which indeed IS His Body, the completion of Him who fills all with all. " Eph 1:22-23
See also, Eph 4:11-16.*

"But why do you call Me, 'Lord, Lord', AND DO NOT PRACTICE THE THINGS THAT I SAY? Everyone who comes to Me and hears My words AND ACTS UPON THEM, I will show you what he is like: he is like a man building a house, who dug deep AND LAID A FOUNDATION UPON ROCK (Matt 16:18). And when a flood came, the stream broke against that house AND COULD NOT SHAKE IT; because it was founded on rock. But he who has heard My words AND HAS NOT ACTED UPON THEM is like a MAN WHO BUILT HIS HOUSE UPON THE GROUND WITHOUT A FOUNDATION; against which the stream broke AND STRAIGHT AWAY IT FELL IN, AND GREAT WAS THE WRECK OF THAT HOUSE." Luke 6:46-49

In these few verses, Jesus Christ founded His One, Holy, Apostolic, and Catholic Church, BUILT ON ROCK, and He set the system of government under which it would operate. He said He was the Head and we are the body.

THE HEAD OF THE BODY TELLS THE BODY WHAT TO DO. THE BODY DOES NOT TELL THE HEAD. So what system of government did Jesus Christ blueprint for His Church? It is a theocracy and operates as an Hierarchy. The members of an Hierarchy are subject to its head. To whom the Church listens to, therefore, comes from GOD, and not from the people.*

What do we call the system of government where the head is subject to the body, the members, the "will of the people"? It is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. It is called a Constitutional Republic. What a republic type of government listens to, comes from the people, and not from above.

Can a theocratic Hierarchy ever become a Republic? No, not unless there is Anarchy first which causes a split in the Body of Christ.

Anarchy we have experienced in the past. It was called the Reformation. Reformers broke away from the Hierarchy and the result today is a plenitude of non-Catholic ecclesial communities running under various forms of government, with some being even a "rule by the people" of sorts. They "bend" to the will of the people, and not to the will of GOD, as in the Catholic Hierarchy. Here are a few examples:

1. Prior to 1930, Protestant ecclesial communities agreed with the Catholic Church that contraception was intrinsically evil. In 1930 at the Anglican Lambeth Conference, the members agreed to "bend" to the "will of the people" and allowed contraception under limited conditions. Soon, one by one, other Protestant ecclesial communities followed suit until now most of them whole heartedly condone contraception. You see, once you open the door to error, you cannot close it. Error proliferates and is self feeding.

Read about Onan in Holy Scripture and see what GOD did to him for contracepting in Gen 38:9-10. Read Deut 23:1-2, Matt 21:19, and Rev 9:21. Read this file on this website for many verses which attest to the very fact that GOD is Pro-Life, and any human plan to circumvent His command is a grave sin. The Catholic Hierarchy holds fast to the will of GOD on this subject of contraception while non-Catholic ecclesial communities hold to the will of the people. Read this very prophetic letter from Pope Paul VI, written in 1968, regarding The Evil Consequences of Contraception. Pay particular attention to paragraph #17 to see what a stunning prophesy of dire consequences this Pope warned about over 30 years ago, if the evil of contraception was allowed to continue. His prophecy we are suffering through today.

The Hierarchal Catholic Church is almost alone in condemning contraception..... that is..... ALMOST!!!

GOD, Himself, just happens to be on our side. That fact puts the infinitely heavy, and immovable "ROCK" on one side of the scale, while a feather, or even less weight is on the other side. Would you care to read Luke 6:46-49 again? The "stream breaking against the houses" in those verses, in one sense, is a prefigurement of the "will of the people".

2. Abortion, again, ...the "will of the people":

By the republic people's Supreme Court decision, Roe vs Wade in 1973, ushered in legalized abortion. Since then over 40,000,000 babies in the United States alone have been murdered in the womb. There are so many Bible verses against the taking of human life, yet by republic decision, the "will of the people" has brought us the "culture of death". See this very Biblical Anti-Abortion file for a summation of these verses. By a "will of the people" decision, the will of GOD has been completely circumvented. For almost 2000 years the Hierarchal Catholic Church has staunchly opposed this evil brought on by man. Need I say again that GOD is firmly on the side of the Hierarchal Catholic Church on the subject of abortion, in addition to contraception?

3. Now, the "will of the people" has demanded from the Hierarchal Catholic Church that women be admitted to the priesthood. Is there any Biblical evidence that Jesus Christ or any of the Apostles condoned women as priests? No, there is not one word of Biblical support for this demand. However there are some choice verses against it, such as, 1Cor 14:34-35, and 1Tim 2:11-12. Then there is Judges 17:10 and 18:19 which say, "...be our father and priest..." Have you noticed that Holy Scripture is very loudly silent on, "be our mother and priest"?

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen once remarked, "A woman can never become a priest. The Word of GOD is 'the seed' (Luke 8:11, Matt 13:19-23). It is the man who gives the seed. The woman receives it."

The Anglican ecclesial community started admitting women as priests in the 1990's. The result was an immediate outflow of some 1200 Anglican priests and bishops to the Catholic Church. I suspect this migration was not due to sexual discrimination, but to a recognition that what this ecclesial community did was against the will of GOD. More recently that same ecclesial community announced that it will ordain a female bishop. The Anglican ecclesial community, and some of its members, have been at odds over this decision.

Now as for the "people's will", should the Hierarchal Catholic Church heed to the demands originating from the body below, or continue to do what is mandated from the Head above? You tell me the answer? Does Luke 6:46-49 come to mind?

4. The "will of the people" has demanded from the Hierarchal Catholic Church that divorce and subsequent remarriage be accepted freely. Jesus Christ Himself, condemned divorce in Matt 19:3-12, Mark 10:10-12, and Luke 16:18. Almost all non-Catholic ecclesial communities condone divorce and remarriage, "bending" yet again to the "will of the people". How can they ignore the teaching of Jesus Christ Himself? Yet they do.

The Hierarchal Catholic Church stands firm and almost alone, but there again, with the will of GOD on this issue.

Luke 6:46-49, how prophetic!

5. The "will of the people" of various non-Catholic ecclesial communities is demanding same sex marriages or "holy unions" which are anything but holy. The Methodist ecclesial community has already done this in Sacramento and with the blessings of over 60 ministers. I have read where yet another mainline Protestant ecclesial community has decided to follow suit. The door to this error has now been opened, and I can envision history repeating itself on this subject, as the Anglican Lambeth Conference did for contraception. There are so many Bible verses which condemn the homosexual act, such as, Lev 18:22, Rom 1:18-27, 2Pet 2:4-10, and Jude 7, to name a few.

GOD willed that marriage is between a man and a woman, not between same sexes. Show me the verses which condone same sex marriages? This is a grave offense against GOD. The Hierarchal Catholic Church has responded strongly against this abomination. The Catholic Church condemns the homosexual act, the sin, but not the person.

How many houses built with no foundations will "fall and become wrecks" because of this issue? Certainly, the unbending "house built on rock" will not. Again, I am reminded of Luke 6:46-49.

2Timothy 4:3-4

---

The Hierarchal Catholic Church, and especially the Vicar of Christ, the Pope, has come under much criticism for being "old fashioned", or "medieval" in its thinking, saying,

"For after all this is the 90's (in the past, 2000's now) and times have changed. Therefore, the Church has to change and accept the 'will of the people'."

The Holy Father is criticized from every direction for not changing this or not changing that.

Can he???

Does he have the power to make these "will of the people" changes?

Who is the only Person who can make changes to the Hierarchal Catholic Church?

This brings us back to the beginning of this file. Please tell me what the definition of Hierarchy is?

In your opinion, can the Church accept the "will of the people"?

Is the Catholic Church to be bound by personal opinions?

---

I have to ask,

"Does GOD change?" I always thought He was the same yesterday, today, and forever.

"Does truth ever change?" Truth is one. How can truth ever change?

"Did GOD relent from the sins of Sodom and Gomorrah?" No, not according to Scripture.

"Were the sins of Sodom and Gomorrah any worse than what I have recounted above, that the 'will of the people' are trying to force the Church to do?"

"Which Church does not 'bend' to the 'will of the people'?"

"Which Church is consistent in doing the will of GOD?"

"Which Church is the one built on rock?"

---

*Can the "Rock" be moved by the will of the people?
Answer please?*

---

*Yes?
Then please explain to me how?*

---

*No?
Then why do people keep pressing for change?*

Let's Kick The Rock...

---

Let Us Go and 'Kick the Rock'...

Persecutors of the Church that Jesus Christ Founded, Take Heed...

---

And He (Paul) Said, "Who Art Thou Lord?" And HE said, "I AM JESUS, WHOM THOU ART PERSECUTING." Acts 9:5.

---

"I (Paul) Am The Least Of The Apostles, And Am Not Worthy To Be Called An Apostle, Because I Persecuted The Church Of GOD." 1Cor 15:9, Gal 1:23...

---

Why do some people ignore such powerful verses as these of Holy Scripture? Why do they expend so much energy in trying to 'Kick the Rock' and to no avail, when they could be using that same energy to preach love to their flock? People have been kicking the 'rock' for centuries and what has it proven? Only that if you kick the 'rock', the 'rock' will not budge, but you will hurt your foot. Some might prefer to butt their heads against the 'rock', but this will only give them a headache. This is proven in the indisputable fact that the Catholic Church has grown in membership over the centuries to over one billion members. All of the Ellen Gould Whites, and Charles Taze Russells combined, have not been able to deter the growth of the Catholic Church. Instead, all of the 'kickers' have lost 'market share' while the Catholic Church has gained it. So, of what use is it to 'kick the rock'?

Is there a reason why 'kicking the rock' is a waste of energy? Yes, there is a very good reason. It is because, truth always wins in the end. You must remember what Abraham Lincoln said about 'fooling' the people. He said, "You can't fool all of the people all of the time."

You can prove a truth, but you cannot prove a lie. For those who enjoy 'kicking the rock', here are some indisputable facts:

1. Jesus Christ founded 'A' Church in Mt 16:18.

2. Jesus Christ also said in Mt 16:18, that "The Gates Of Hell Shall Not Prevail Against It." That means, Jesus Christ Himself will defend His Church from Without and From Within. That verse applies to the detractors and to the 'rock kickers'. You will NOT prevail because Jesus Christ said you wouldn't. History has shown this to be true. Why do some simply do not believe the words of Jesus Christ?

3. In Mt 28:20, Jesus Christ said He would be with His Church until the end of the world. If you think your church is the church He was talking about, was it in existence at the time He said these words? If not, then how could He be talking about your church? Was Jesus Christ telling the truth when He made this statement? Apparently the detractors and 'rock kickers' do not believe He was.

4. Name 'A' Church that you can trace all the way back to Mt 16:18. It should be easy as you only have one choice.

5. ALL protestant churches were founded by mere men over 1400 years after Jesus founded His Church in Mt 16:18.

6. In Jn 14:15-17, Jesus said, "I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of TRUTH whom the WORLD cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him. But YOU shall know Him, because He will dwell with you and be in you." Jesus said here that a permanent Advocate will come and be with His disciples forever. Who are His disciples? Was Jesus telling the truth here also?

7. The Church which Jesus Christ founded is what and where? His Church, or His 'Body' are the people and He is the head, 1Cor 10:17, Eph 1:22-23, Col 1:24. Since His Body is the people of the Church, then the detractors and 'rock kickers' are kicking me, and the other members of Christ's Church. If anyone would like to refute these factual truths I have listed, I would certainly like to hear from you...

A CHALLENGE TO 'ROCK KICKERS' AND DETRACTORS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH...

IF, IN YOUR OPINION, THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IS NOT THE CHURCH THAT JESUS CHRIST FOUNDED, THEN PLEASE TELL ME WHICH CHURCH IS THE TRUE CHURCH? DO NOT FORGET TO SUPPLY GENUINE HISTORICAL DOCUMENTS PROVING WHAT YOU SAY. PLEASE KEEP IN MIND BEFORE YOU ANSWER, THE WORDS OF OUR LORD IN MATT 28:20, "I WILL BE WITH YOU ALL DAYS, EVEN UNTIL THE END OF THE WORLD."

---

Love comes from GOD, and hate only comes from satan. These people think they are doing the world a service. When instead, it is a disservice and reflects on themselves and not on the 'Rock'. Now what does the Bible have to say about detractors, calumnizers, liars, rock kickers', and 'sins of the tongue'?

1. Start with Prov 6:16-19. "Six things there are which the Lord hates, and the seventh His soul detests: haughty eyes, A LYING TONGUE, hands that shed innocent blood (abortion), A HEART THAT DEVISES WICKED PLOTS, feet that are swift to run into mischief, A DECEITFUL WITNESS THAT UTTERS LIES, and HIM THAT SOWS DISCORD AMONG BRETHREN. " Hey, any 'rock kickers', do you see yourselves here? Seems to me if you do any of these things, you are betting your soul with where you will spend eternity. These verses should be enough to make any thinking, and GOD fearing person to think twice before kicking the rock, but there are many more verses on these subjects.

2. Lying: Jer 7:8, "Behold, you put your trust in lying words, which shall not profit you." Jer 9:3-9, "They have bent their tongue...for lies and not for truth...and a man will mock his brother, and they will not speak the truth, for they have taught their tongue to speak lies...thus says the Lord of Hosts, I will melt them and try them." Ez 13:8, "Because you have spoken vain things, and have seen lies, ...I come against you." Jn 8:44, "...the devil...When he tells a lie he speaks from his very nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies." Acts 5:1-10, Ananias and his wife both lied about the price they got for their land and both were immediately struck down and died. Rom 1:25, "They who exchanged the TRUTH OF GOD FOR A LIE." Eph 4:29, "Let no ill speech proceed from your mouth..." "Col 3:9, Do not lie to one another..." There are many more if you want to check them out, Job 13:4, Dan 11:27, Mic 2:11,6:12, Hab 2:18, Rom 3:13, 2Thes 2:3-12, 2Tim 4:3-5, Tit 1:9-14, and just see what will happen to liars in Rev 21:8.

3. Calumny: A false statement maliciously made to ruin another's reputation. Harming the name and good reputation of persons by lies. Wis 1:11, (see separate file on the deuterocanonicals), "Keep yourselves from murmuring which profits nothing, and refrain your tongue from detraction."

Sir 5:15-16, "...the tongue of the fool is his ruin." Sir 28:12-26, see what happens to calumniators. Mt 5:11, 11th beatitude. Mt 5:44, "Pray for those who persecute and calumniate you." Again there are many more, Eccl 10:20, Mt 10:25-31,11:16-19, Mt 12:24-37, Lk 6:28, 2Pet 2:12,3:16.

4. The Tongue: Prov 18:21, "Death and life are in the power of the tongue: They that love it, shall eat the fruits thereof." Sir 28:15, "The whisperer and the double tongued is accursed, for he has troubled many that were at peace." James 3:1-12, "...the tongue is a little member...that can defile the whole body and setting on fire the course of our life, being itself set on fire by HELL....but the tongue no man can tame, a restless evil full of deadly poison..." Again, there are many more verses, Sir 4:20-31, Sir 5:16,14:1,20:1-20,23:7-15.

5. Rock Kicking: "Do not be a stumbling block to the Church of GOD," 1Cor 10:32. Hey 'kickers'! Did you gloss over this one?

In order to be a true Christian, you have to pattern your life after what Holy Scripture tells you. If it says it is wrong to do something, then it is against Scripture to do it, and you will be judged accordingly.

The entire Bible can be summed up in One Word...Love, Gal 5:14.

The first three of the ten commandments concern love of GOD, and the last seven are love of your fellow man. Jesus Christ summed the ten commandments into just two, Love of GOD, and Love for each other, Matt 22:34-40.
"Love is the fulfillment of the law," Rom 13:10.

Okay, 'rock kickers', detractors, disparagers, calumniators, show me your justification for what you are doing. Show me where the Bible preaches hate. Show me where it says 'Be Thou the Judge of Others'. You can't find it? Well here is a list I found that you can use...

I ...er.....hmmm, guess what? I couldn't find any justification for those actions either...!

---

Now do some soul searching...

Eternity is a long long time. Each decides for themselves where they will spend it.

Exposes the False Charges by non Catholics against the Catholic Church...

---

It never ceases to amaze me the amount of mud that non-Catholics continue to throw at the Catholic Church. However, no matter how much or how hard they throw it, they cannot make any of it stick. They never have learned that you can "proof a truth", but a person possessing simple common sense and the ability to reason, will "never buy the lie".

---

"In the meantime, when so many thousands of the multitude had gathered together that they trod upon one another, he began to say to his disciples first, "Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. Nothing is covered up that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not be known. Therefore whatever you have said in the dark shall be heard in the light, and what you have whispered in private rooms shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.""

Luke 12:1-3

So let us shout it from the housetops while we shine a bright light on some of the many lies that are thrown at Catholics:

---

They charge:

"The Catholic Church is the Whore of Babylon of Revelation 17, and the "proof" is in verse 9 where the woman sits upon seven mountains. Those seven mountains are the seven hills of Rome", so they say. Is that proof enough for you?

Alas, however, Rome has more than seven hills with Vatican Hill located across the Tiber River from the seven hills referred to as "the seven hills of Rome". I explained it all here in great detail and with a map of Rome showing the location of the seven hills, and I have provided a list of at least 100 verses which are an affront to Jerusalem.

In these 100 verses, Jerusalem, which does sit on seven hills, is called:

Abomination, Associate of the Scarlet Beast, Babylon, Bad, Bloody City, Cursed, Death of the Prophets, Evil brought upon, Evil Done to the Saints, Fornicator, Gomorrah, Great Harlot, Great Whore, Habitation of Demons, Harlot, Immoral, Laid Waste, Mother of Harlotries, Mother of Abominations, Prostitute, Rebellious, Smitten City, Sodom, Sorcerer, Unfaithful Wife, Whore, and Wickedness of Heart.

Contrast those 100 verses describing Jerusalem, with every verse in Scripture which mentions Rome by name. There are only nine:

Visitors from Rome, Acts 2:10

Claudius ordered Jews to leave Rome, Acts 18:2

Paul said he must also see Rome, Acts 19:21

Bear witness in Rome, Acts 23:11

We came to Rome, Acts 28:14

On our arrival at Rome, Acts 28:16

To all GOD's beloved who are in Rome, Rom 1:7

I am ready to preach the gospel to you also who are at Rome, Rom 1:15,

But when he came to Rome he sought me out, 2Tim 1:17

Do you see anything here that even remotely connects the "whore of Babylon" to Rome?

Now do you have any doubts as to just whom, what, or where, the "whore of Babylon" refers? Still do? Well, lookee here:

Rev 17:18 tells us who, or what and where the "whore" is,

"And the woman whom thou sawest is the great city which has kingship over the kings of the earth."

Well then, all we have to do is to determine which city is this great city, isn't that true?

How convenient it is that Holy Scripture tells us the answer to that one too:

"And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that ascends from the bottomless pit will make war upon them and conquer them and kill them, and their dead bodies will lie in the street of the great city which is allegorically called Sodom and Egypt, where their Lord was crucified."

Rev 11:7-8

So, was the Lord Crucified in Rome? I was always taught that it was in Jerusalem, or outside its walls.

Now let us put on our Protestant Sola Scriptura glasses, which I always don when dealing with them, and ask them to show us exactly where in Scripture is Rome associated with the Whore of Babylon? You see, they will not believe anything unless they can find it in the Bible, so we can play that same game too regarding their false charges.

---

They charge:

"Catholics 'worship' Mary".

Well, we have two retorts to that lie and they cannot answer either one.

First, if Catholics 'worship' the Mother of GOD, then the Catholic Church has to tell us to. If the Catholic Church tells us to, then it is written somewhere in genuine Catholic Church documents.

Please show me the document(s) to "prove" your charge?

Second, we tell them this when they give us the 'Mary' riot act:

Do you really think you follow the Bible teaching?
You have mentioned Mary in your post. I will prove from your very own words (or lack of) that you do not follow all of Scripture, but pick and choose as you see fit.

Luke 1:48

"Henceforth", means from the moment she said it until the end of time.

"All generations", I would presume includes you as well as myself and everyone who has lived ever since the time she said it.

"Shall/Will", denotes a command and not a suggestion.

"Call me Blessed".

You did not call her blessed even once, and I sincerely doubt that you ever have in your entire life.

Catholics call her "blessed" and obey this command.

Martin Luther, the first protestant, called her "blessed".

He obeyed this command.

Now, please tell me why you do not follow this command of Holy Scripture?

Show me the verse which authorizes you to accept a verse which appears to conform to your teaching and reject another which does not conform to it?

Aren't we commanded to conform our teaching to the Bible and not to try to conform the Bible to false teaching?

---

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."

However, He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death.

Why do Non-Catholic Christians Attack Jesus?

And Jesus said, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."
Luke 23:34

---

What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun.
Ecclesiastes 1:9

---

In Matthew 16:18 Jesus said, "And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Now Jesus did say Church and not churches didn't He? So He founded a single Church and none other, right?

And what about the gates of hell not prevailing against it? That means His Church will last to the end of the world, doesn't it?

Matthew 28:19-20, "Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you.

And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

Hmmm, this is a second time that Jesus said His Church would last forever and He would be with it every day in every century until the end of time.

He said that around 2000 years ago so it is obvious that His ONE and ONLY Church is still with us today.

Remember, that was His promise.

Many Protestants have told me that the Catholic Church fell into apostasy at some unknown time after the last

Apostle died and of course they can never tell me when, or provide me with a genuine historical document of proof.

So what they really said to me is that Jesus was a liar for His promises of His perpetual Church.

1John 5:10, "He who believes in the Son of God has the testimony in himself. He who does not believe God has made him a liar, because he has not believed in the testimony that God has borne to his Son."

Jesus would never lie to us, He couldn't. Remember, He IS God and God cannot lie.

However protestants can. Just start counting their lies in this page.

Please note that when I use the word 'protestant' from this point on, I refer to all who call themselves 'Christian' but are not in the one Church that Jesus Christ founded in about 29-30 A.D..

Hebrews 6:18, "That by two immutable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have the strongest comfort, we who have fled for refuge to hold fast the hope set before us."

This is more biblical proof that Jesus Christ could not lie.

Acts 5:38-39, "And now, therefore, I say to you: Refrain from these men and let them alone. FOR IF THIS COUNCIL OR THIS WORK BE OF MEN, IT WILL COME TO NAUGHT: BUT IF IT BE OF GOD, YOU CANNOT OVERTHROW IT, LEST PERHAPS YOU BE FOUND EVEN TO FIGHT AGAINST GOD.*

And they consented to him."

WOW! Those two verses fit protestantism to a 'T'. They have been trying to overthrow the Catholic Church for almost 500 years, from 1520 when Martin Luther broke from the Catholic Church and formed the first protestant denomination, and right to this day. Oh and by the way read all you can about Luther and you will find in 1520 and many years before and after that time, the Catholic Church was mentioned by name many times. So it was still here in Luthers time almost 1500 years after it was founded by Jesus Christ.

---

The Body of Christ:

Gee whiz look at these verses:

Ephesians 1:22-23 "and he has put all things under his feet and has made him the head over all things for the church,

WHICH IS HIS BODY, the fulness of him who fills all in all."

So the Church that Jesus Christ founded that will last forever is really and truly His Body. Do Protestants believe those verses? Apparently not since they are always attacking His body, His one and only Catholic Church.

Did you ever think of how many people who attack the Body of Christ will be taken to Heaven?

Read on for much more that proves that it is the Catholic Church that is the Body of Christ and NONE OTHER.

Judaism:

John 4:7-9, "There came a woman of Samar'ia to draw water. Jesus said to her, "Give me a drink."

For his disciples had gone away into the city to buy food. The Samaritan woman said to him, "How is it that you, a Jew, ask a drink of me, a woman of Samar'ia? For Jews have no dealings with Samaritans."

Jesus was a Jew, right?

Judaism had only one temple for all and it was located in Jerusalem, so many Jews had to travel long distances to worship there. Long distances in those days could be 70 miles or more, a hardship for the Jews but they did it.

Things changed drastically for that situation since Jesus established a world wide 'universal' Church.

---

The Universal Church:

Acts 1:7-8, He said to them, "It is not for you to know times or seasons which the Father has fixed by his own authority.

But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem (Local) and in all Judea and Sama'ria (Expanding out) and to the end of the earth (World Wide, 'Universal')."

There you have it. His Church is not confined to one city where the people had to go long distances to worship.

Instead He is bringing His Church to the people all over the whole world in time, making it 'Universal'.

Acts 9:31, "So the church throughout all Judea and Galilee and Sama'ria had peace and was built up; and walking in the fear of the Lord and in the comfort of the Holy Spirit it was multiplied."

So His Church, now being built up as it is spreading out, had a second person of the Holy Trinity, the Holy Spirit comforting it.

Did you notice in the first three words of that verse it says 'So THE church', singular?

Take a look at Revelation chapters 2 and 3. All of those churches listed are examples of the expansion made by the Apostles and their followers of the one Church that Jesus Christ founded. They had gone long distances establishing more Churches farther away towards becoming 'Universal'.

THOSE CHURCHES ARE NOT PROTESTANT CHURCHES AS PROTESTANTS WOULD LIKE US TO BELIEVE.

The word protest-ant did not even come into being until 1529, about 1500 years after the Catholic Church was founded.

---

A name for the 'Universal' Church:

So why is it that protestants cannot name the Church that Jesus Christ himself founded? Many say the reason is that the word 'catholic' cannot be found in the bible. Well let us look and see if it is or not. I gave you a clue in Acts 1:7-8 above. It is easy if you knew some important basic bible rules that everyone should know before even opening their bible. One of the basic rules is to realize that the entire bible was written in foreign languages and so all that we read in English is a translation, and not the original writing. Accurate translations of every word between two languages is difficult for some words because of the parameters that differ between the languages. Hebrew has only about 8000 words and is one of the most difficult to translate because each word could have many different meanings depending on the context of which it is used. Greek is easier to translate, as it has so many more words than Hebrew. Context is also very important for proper English translation from the Greek. As one example, take the English word 'brethren' where protestants see it only as brothers of Jesus, when He had no brothers. Read Acts 1:15 where there were 120 'brethren'. Ask a protestant how did the mother of those 120 brethren manage to do that in one lifetime? Brethren has many other meanings such as friends, neighbors, cousins, companions, etc. The OT was written mostly in Hebrew and the NT was written mostly in Greek. The book of Acts was translated from the Greek and the word 'Catholic' is not a Greek word as such.

The word 'Catholic' came from Latin catholicus, from the Greek adjective (katholikos), meaning 'UNIVERSAL'.

I will note here that 'katholikos' is a translation too of sorts in a small way because Greek letters are entirely different from English letters and my keyboard does not have Greek letter keys on it.

The English word 'Catholic' does not have to be in the Bible as such because the evidence is there in Latin as Catholicus and who spoke Latin in those days? Rome did (John 19:20). And Romans certainly talked a lot since they were in power in Israel from about 63 BC to well over two centuries later. More importantly, the liturgy within the Catholic Church was in Latin, Catholicus.

So are the protestants lying when they say they cannot find the word 'Catholic' in the Bible? Not necessarily. They may just be ignorant of bible structure because they are not taught the truth. Truth can only be gained through Jesus Christ (John 14:6) and His one and only Catholic Church and not through protestant ministers who were self appointed and certainly not appointed by Jesus Christ.

By the way, in order to be fair and the protestants claim they cannot find the word 'Catholic' in the Bible, I cannot find Lutheran in the Bible. Also to be fair I cannot find a faith called Baptist, Methodist, Anglican, Mormon, Episcopalian, Adventist, etc, just go Here for scores more, all founded by humans who had no God given authority to do so.

1Corinthians 10:32, "Give no offense to Jews or to Greeks or to the church of God."

It is the Catholic Church and none other. Notice again the singularity of the word 'Church'.

Do protestants give offense to the Church of God? You bet they do. I receive it a lot, my being a member of the Body of Christ.

---

Divide and conquer or is it 'divide and lose' your soul?

1Corinthians 11:18-19, "For, in the first place, when you assemble as a church, I hear that there are divisions among you; and I partly believe it, for there must be factions among you in order that those who are genuine among you may be recognized."

There have been divisions from the very beginning but the true Catholic Church survived them all and there are hundreds of genuine historical writings written by many Catholic Church Fathers in every century to prove it.

Go Here for a list of Church Fathers and Here for a list of their writings in many centuries

Remember the promise of Jesus that He would be with His Church for all days.

"To become deep in history is to cease to be Protestant."

A quote by a convert from the Anglican Church, Cardinal John Newman.

1Corinthians 11:22, "What! Do you not have houses to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God and humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? Shall I commend you in this? No, I will not."

Do you despise the Church of God? Many Protestants do, by telling me the Catholic Church is not the true Church.

Too bad they can never prove what they say by giving me their unknown name of the 'true' Church that has been in operation every day in every century ever since Jesus Christ founded it. Since Jesus Christ founded it almost 20 centuries ago, it must be very large, world wide, and have over a billion members, and yet many protestants still refuse to name it. Protestants, for the umpteenth time, please give me the name of the Church that Jesus Christ founded?

The truth please!

1Corinthians 12:27-31, "Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it.

And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then workers of miracles, then healers, helpers, administrators, speakers in various kinds of tongues.

Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? Do all possess gifts of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret? But earnestly desire the higher gifts. And I will show you a still more excellent way."

I must again point out the singularity in the first two lines, 'one body' and 'one church'.

Are you in the Body of Christ? Certainly not unless you are in the Catholic Church. How could you be if your denomination was founded in 1520 or years later by a mere human person who had no God given authority what so ever in which to do so? Show me the verse that says any denomination founded by any human person is in the Body of Christ? Dear protestant wouldn't you rather be within the Body of Christ rather than being outside of it and attacking it?

1Corinthians 14:34-35, "the women should keep silence in the churches. For they are not permitted to speak, but should be subordinate, as even the law says. If there is anything they desire to know, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is shameful for a woman to speak in church." Protestants take pride in telling me that they obey the teachings in Holy Scripture. So will even one explain to me why there are so many Protestant females in so many denominations who are ministers?

1Corinthians 15:9, "For I am the least of the apostles, unfit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God."

Now we know why there are no Apostles in Protestantism.

---

Next, maybe a Prototype Protestant ancestor?

Acts 8:1-3, "Now there broke out on that day a great persecution against the CHURCH in Jerusalem, and all except the Apostles were scattered abroad throughout the land of Judea and Samaria. And devout men took care of Stephen's burial and made great lamentation over him. But Saul was harassing the CHURCH; entering house after house, and dragging out men and women, he committed them to prison."

Hmmm, sounds like Saul was the first prototype protestant ancestor attacking the only Church that Jesus Christ founded. It is like what protestants first founded by Martin Luther in 1520 and by many others do in voice and in writings today.

Acts 9:1-5, "But Saul, still breathing threats of slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest and asked him for letters to the synagogues at Damascus, that if he found any men or women belonging to this 'Way' (a word used for Christianity at that time), he might bring them in bonds to Jerusalem. And as he went on his journey, it came to pass that he drew near to Damascus, when suddenly a light from heaven shone round about him; and falling to the ground, he heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?" And he said, "Who art thou Lord?" And He said, "I am Jesus whom thou art persecuting."

What did Jesus say here?

Saul in his zeal had been mercilessly persecuting the newly founded followers of Jesus Christ who were known as 'the Way' (Acts 19:9,23, 24:14,22) then, and were called Christians at a later and safer time.

Saul is first mentioned in Acts 7:58-59, where he gave his approval for the stoning to death of the first Christian martyr, Saint Stephen. Those persecutions have continued every day for centuries by many different groups and to this very day. The Catholic Church has been attacked for almost 500 years from 1520 to today with protest-ants leading the way. It reminds me of a never ending relay race where the one in lead tires, ages, and passes his baton on to the upstarts.

It is too bad that the protestants of today do not bother to read genuine historical writings of so many Catholic saints in every century of persecuters of the Catholic Church and what the persecuters final demise was. Start with the Roman Empire the most powerful country in the world at that time which persecuted the Catholic Church for centuries and tell me where it is today? It is long gone since 476 A.D. but the Catholic Church is still here, well over 1500 years later.

Obviously the Roman Empire was fighting against God (Acts 5:38-39) for more than a century and was infinitely more powerful than the fledgling Catholic Church. To repeat myself in order to 'prove' a point again, the Roman Empire is long gone and yet the Catholic Church is still here. Protestants still tell me the Catholic Church fell into apostasy and still cannot tell me when and cannot produce a document of proof. So who am I to believe, protestants who do not have anything of proof of their false charges, or Jesus Christ who has protected His one and only Catholic Church for almost 2000 years as He promised He would?

So who would you trust, Jesus who cannot lie because He is God, or protestants who refuse to tell the truth and who despise His Church and cannot prove anything of what they charge? How many would choose the truth of God?

Mark 10:19, "You know the commandments: 'Do not kill, Do not commit adultery, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Do not defraud, Honor your father and mother.'"

For those who fail to profit from the errors of history are doomed to repeat them again.

Speaking of history, do protestants ever read the Old Testament for the wealth of verses regarding the New Testament?

Have you ever wondered why bibles even have an Old Testament with so many thinking it is nothing but old Jewish history?

The Bible:

In exchanging questions and answers with protestants I have noticed a wide variance of answers from them regarding the same mostly Biblical questions. This leads me to believe that they violate this verse:

2Peter 1:20-21, "Understanding this first: That no prophecy of scripture is made by private interpretation. For prophecy came not by the will of man at any time: but the holy men of God spoke, inspired by the Holy Ghost."

The correct interpretation of Holy Scripture has been passed down for centuries to Catholics through Jesus Christ's Catholic Church.

Go Here for a wealth of information regarding the writing of the New Testament, then Here for many centuries of writings from Catholic Church Fathers.

Once saved, always saved:

More than one Protestant has told me, "I know that I am going straight to heaven when I die". However that remark in reality is the 'deadly sin of Presumption'. He is guilty of a false Protestant teaching, that is to grab one Bible verse that sounds good and simple and to run with it while completely ignoring one of the most important basic rules of Bible exegesis, that is of context, context, and context.

Case in point:

The entire Bible is harmonious. There are no errors within it, only 'apparent' errors as seen by those who seek the truth but not by those who have a contrary agenda. Here is the verse that they use mostly to try to justify their false belief in their 'guaranteed' salvation:

Romans 10:9, "For if thou confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thy heart that God hath raised him up from the dead, thou shalt be saved."

Now if they would only read the very next verse there is a stumbling block therein that is ignored:

Romans 10:10, "For, with the heart, we believe unto justice: but, with the mouth, confession is made unto salvation."

Now let us see what one of the best Bible commentaries ever written has to say about Romans 10:9,

Haydock's 1859 edition:

"Ver. 9. Thou shalt be saved. To confess the Lord Jesus, and to call upon the name of the Lord, (ver. 13.) is not barely the professing of a belief in the person of Christ: but moreover implies a belief of his whole doctrine, and an obedience to his law; without which the calling of him Lord will save no man.

(St. Matthew vii. 21.) (Challoner) --- This passage must be understood like many others of this apostle, of a faith accompanied by a good-will ready to perform what faith says must be practised; as it is required in this very place, that what we believe in the heart, we should confess with our mouth. (Estius)"

Now since we all know that the Bible is harmonious from beginning to end, did you notice that Haydock's steered us to another verse that has more to say regarding Romans 10:9?

Matthew 7:21, "Not every one who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven."

Is that verse a contradiction of Romans 10:9? Not at all. It is merely adding to its context.

Not every verse can contain every condition associated with it for obvious reasons. For one, the fact that other Biblical authors had written regarding the same subject, but from a different point of view and their differences are an addition to the context of the whole subject.

Here are many more verses regarding the 'sin of presumption'.

James 4:13-16, "Come now, you who say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into such and such a town and spend a year there and trade and get gain"; whereas you do not know about tomorrow. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes.

Instead you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we shall live and we shall do this or that."

As it is, you boast in your arrogance. All such boasting is evil."

Isaiah 13:11, "I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will put an end to the pride of the arrogant, and lay low the haughtiness of the ruthless."

Romans 12:3, "For by the grace given to me I bid every one among you not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith which God has assigned him."

2Timothy 4:3-4, "For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own likings, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander into myths. "Those verses perfectly describe protestantism exactly as it is today.

Luke 9:23, And he said to all, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me."

James 4:10, "Humble yourselves before the Lord and he will exalt you."

1Peter 5:5, "Likewise you that are younger be subject to the elders. Clothe yourselves, all of you, with humility toward one another, for "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble."

James 4:6, "But he gives more grace; therefore it says, "God opposes the proud, but gives grace to the humble."

Philippians 2:12, "Therefore, my beloved, as you have always obeyed, so now, not only as in my presence but much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling."

Rom 2:4-6, Or do you presume upon the riches of his kindness and forbearance and patience? Do you not know that God's kindness is meant to lead you to repentance? But by your hard and impenitent heart you are storing up wrath for yourself on the day of wrath when God's righteous judgment will be revealed.

For he will render to every man according to his works."

---

The Holy Eucharist:

Protests have a cracker and coke for communion. Catholics have the true Body and Blood of Jesus Christ.

Which would you rather have?

John 6:51-58, "I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh." The Jews then disputed among themselves, saying, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?" So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me. This is the bread which came down from heaven, not such as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live for ever."

All non-Catholic Christians please heed what Jesus taught ALL of us. You will NOT receive Him in crackers and coke.

The Old Testament:

Malachias 1:11, "For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice (the Catholic Mass), and there is offered to my name a clean oblation (the Holy Eucharist): for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts."

Go Here for 100 prophecies in the Old Testament that were fulfilled in the New Testament.

God is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. I find Numbers 16 to be very interesting. It is about those who did not obey God and what happened to them as a result. It isn't pretty to say the least. It reminds me of the words of Jesus Christ, 'That they be ONE' and not the 30,000+* denominations of protestantism that exist today.

*World Christian Encyclopedia

Elucidation...

1. What was it that Saul persecuted in Acts 8:1-3?

It was the ONLY Church founded by Jesus Christ as mentioned twice in those three verses.

2. Then why did Jesus Christ say, "Why doest thou persecute me?", instead of 'Why doest thou persecute My Church'?

It is because His Church is his body and He is the head (Ephesians 5:23). Whatever happens to the body is registered in the head. Isn't that true?

3. Therefore, whenever someone persecutes the Church which Jesus Christ founded, they are really persecuting Him since His Church IS His Body as well.

4. History repeats itself over and over again. Protestants merely mirror another new Saul.

5. Will Protestants who are the new Sauls ever see the light of truth as he did and become the new Paul? Acts 13:9

Saul went from the extreme left of spending eternity in hell with Satan for the damage he did to the Body of Christ, and then to the extreme right into the arms of Jesus Christ and became at the end, Saint Paul, in Heaven for all eternity.

Hey all 'new Saul' protestants who are still attacking the Catholic Church which is the Body of Christ, take heed. It is not too late for you to become 'new Paul's' simply by ceasing attacking the Body of Christ and joining the Church of truth founded by Jesus Christ.

The Blessed Virgin Mary:

I was once attacked by a protestant who was giving me the Mary riot act. 'Catholics worship Mary', 'Mary this', 'Mary that'. I asked him if he ever read the Bible. He said he had a doctorate. I said 'apparently doctor, you never read the Bible'. So I gave him a Bible lesson on these three verses and asked him if he ever read them before.

Luke 1:46-48, And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord, and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has regarded the low estate of his handmaiden. For behold, henceforth all generations will call me blessed." I replied "Doctor, 'Henceforth' means from the time she said it until the end of time. 'All generations' I presume, includes you too. 'Will' is a command and not a suggestion. 'Call me blessed' means just that. Doctor in your tirade you never once called her blessed.'" He replied with 'Blessed Mary' from that point on.

Another stab at the Blessed Virgin Mary was, 'She was nothing different from any other mother'. I gave him my Father Dwyer's classic retort that he taught us well, 'yes, but what a difference between the Sons'. She is the mother of the creator of the universe in His human nature. What more could any other mother add to that accomplishment? She deserves our love and respect. She has it from Catholics but why do protestants continue their attacks on her and the Catholic Church for doing so?

Common Sense questions for non-Catholic Christians:

There is only one Church in the whole world that was founded by God and as I have shown here it is the only Church that is truly holy, simply because its founder is holy and He keeps it holy as Holy Scripture has taught us that His Church IS HIS BODY AND HAS TAUGHT US:

"I AM WITH YOU ALWAYS, EVEN UNTO THE END OF THE WORLD." Matthew 28:20, King James.

That one and only Church founded by God has to be with us today and it is and will last UNTO THE END OF THE WORLD.

That is a promise from God who cannot lie. His one and only Church can be traced all the way back from this very day and through every century almost 2000 years back to its founding by our Lord Jesus Christ. Go Here for much more.

Today there are more than 30,000 separate denominations who call themselves Christian yet each one was founded by a human person who had no authority what so ever to do so. Not one was founded by God which makes them all false.

Now to prove my point, since I have been told by so many that they do not believe anything unless they can find it in the Bible.

SHOW ME IN THE BIBLE WHERE GOD GAVE AUTHORITY TO ANY HUMAN PERSON TO START THEIR OWN DENOMINATION?

I must confess that I could not find a single verse either.

From the very beginning of its founding many tried to destroy the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

First there was Saul, and who confronted him? It was none other than its founder Jesus Christ.

Then came the Romans and what happened to them? In 476 A.D. the Roman Empire, the most powerful force in the world for centuries was destroyed. Then came the Moslems, the Crusades and many wars against Moslems for centuries.

In 1520 along came Martin Luther who broke away from God's Catholic Church and formed protestantism by claiming HIS OWN authority to do so. Obviously he could not find God given authority to do so in the Bible either. Please go to that Luther link for so much more detail about his movement.

Then in 1571 in the miraculous Battle of Lepanto the Moslems were finally defeated.

But again the Catholic Church survived, saved again by Jesus Christ its founder.

One of the biggest errors of Protestantism is their teaching of 'Bible Only'. When Martin Luther broke away from the Catholic Church in the 16th century he lost all but the Catholic Bible. He lost any authority he may have had so he invented the 'Bible Only' theory. He was not satisfied with seven books of the Old Testament so he removed them that had been in it for thousands of years. Now, any non-Catholic please show me where the false teaching of 'Bible Only' is found in the Bible? If you cannot find the verse then please tell me why you tell me that if something is not in the Bible, you will not believe it? Oops I forgot about that Phantom Verse that apparently several have found in the Bible.

While searching for an answer to that one show me also a verse where Jesus told the Apostles to write the New Testament? Why did Jesus come to earth in the first place? He knew He would not be with us long and so in His three years of teaching He formed His Apostles, taught them well, and commissioned them to spread His teaching throughout the whole world via His one and only Catholic Church. As the Apostles died off their batons were passed on to Bishops in every century with the same teaching that the Apostles received from Jesus. The Apostles had no New Testament to work with to teach from but they did have absolute truth (John 14:6) teaching from Jesus Christ Himself.

The first book of the New Testament was not even written until about 30 years after Jesus died on the cross and the last book, Revelation, was written about 100 A.D.. So in those days 'Bible Only' could have had only the Old Testament.

The true teaching from the mouth of Jesus Christ is directly from Him to the Apostles, to the Bishops, through the centuries and down to all peoples throughout the world (Universal) to this very day by the Catholic Church. It is no wonder why protestants cannot find a date or genuine historical document to prove their lie of apostasy of the Catholic Church. They cannot provide a document or a date

SIMPLY BECAUSE IT IS A LIE AND IT NEVER HAPPENED.

So protestants say they will not believe anything unless they can find it in the Bible. So now here is your chance to show me 'Bible Only' in the Bible. Remember your very own belief that you cannot believe it if you cannot find it in the Bible.

I cannot find the word 'rapture' in the Bible either. Protestants believe in it but the word itself did not come into existence until the Puritans invented it in about the 17th century.

Matthew 24:11, "And many false prophets will arise and lead many astray."

Hmmm sounds to me like an accurate prediction of Martin Luther and his multitude of protestant ministers doesn't it?

2Thessalonians 2:10-12, "And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved. And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness."

Revelation 2:2, "I know your works, your toil and your patient endurance, and how you cannot bear evil men but have tested those who call themselves apostles but are not, and found them to be false."

Holy Scripture teaches that Jesus Christ came to earth and founded one Church and promised that His Church would be with us forever. That was almost 2000 years ago so that Church has a name and it is still with us today. Thousands of genuine historical documents regarding that Church were written in every century by many true saints and holy people. Those documents are in existence for anyone to read today. Since it was founded by God who cannot lie, and it is by far the largest and world wide Christian Church and as I have written here it has a name. Please tell me the name of that one and only Church? This is a very simple question with a very simple answer.

Why is it that so many protestants refuse to answer with the name of the Church that Jesus Christ founded?

What do you think that Jesus Christ might think of your refusal to even name His one and only Church?

Do you think He would approve your refusal? I think not as He wants everyone to come to His Church. Acts 1:8

So how could you ever find the true Church if you did not even know its true name?

Ephesians 1:22-23, "And he hath subjected all things under his feet and hath made him head over all the church, Which is his body and the fulness of him who is filled all in all."

Ephesians 5:23, "Because the husband is the head of the wife, as Christ is the head of the church. He is the saviour of his body."

My but those are pretty strong words directly from Jesus Christ.

So why do protestants attack Jesus?

"What does it profit a man if he gains the whole world but loses his soul?" Mark 8:36

"YOU CAN ALWAYS PROVE THE TRUTH BUT YOU CAN NEVER PROVE THE

LIE!"

"One cannot have God for his Father, who will not have the Church for his Mother."

How many protestants can you guess will make it to Heaven by spending their lives attacking the Body of Christ?

How many protestant lies have you found in this writing where they ignore the truth from the mouth of Jesus Christ?

John 5:37-44, "And the Father who sent me has himself borne witness to me. His voice you have never heard, his form you have never seen; and you do not have his word abiding in you, for you do not believe him whom he has sent. You search the scriptures, because you think that in them you have eternal life; and it is they that bear witness to me; yet you refuse to come to me that you may have life. I do not receive glory from men. But I know that you have not the love of God within you. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not receive me; if another comes in his own name, him you will receive. How can you believe, who receive glory from one another and do not seek the glory that comes from the only God?"*

God did not found protest-antism. It was founded by man starting with Martin Luther. God founded His ONE 'UNIVERSAL' Church as unity for the whole world, and not split into more than 30,000 pieces as human persons have done and without any God given authority what so ever to do so.

Why does the word 'protestant' start with the word 'protest'? Protest against who?

Since God's Church is His Body then those doing the protesting are protesting against God. It is as simple as that.

John 10:14-16, "I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me, as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice. So there shall be one flock, one shepherd."

See! Jesus wants ALL to be with Him in ONE FOLD and not the 30,000+ folds of protestantism. He wants all of protestantism to be in His ONE Fold which is His universal Catholic Church.

Protestants, sadly, have rejected His Catholic Church and in doing so, the Body of Christ.

Mark 8:31, "And he began to teach them that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again."

"Those who fail to profit from the errors of the past are doomed to repeat them again."

John 10:37-38, "If I am not doing the works of my Father, then do not believe me; but if I do them, even though you do not believe me, believe the works, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me and I am in the Father."

For the protestant leaders, ministers, and founders of even more denominations today, first you do not have Biblical Divine authority. There is no verse that says you do. Second, you are fighting against Jesus AND God the Father, and third you are responsible for the salvation of not only your soul, but for all of the souls in your denomination who are not receiving the truth of Jesus Christ, and by the Father, by deliberately ignoring: "So there shall be ONE FLOCK AND ONE SHEPHERD."

Protestantism has 30,000+ flocks and 30,000+ shepherds, and their number is growing by the day. And they all teach something different from one another. If they all taught the same truth there would be only ONE FLOCK AND ONE SHEPHERD as Jesus Christ taught us. Why is that so hard for protestants to understand and to believe?

Tell me what part of 'ONE' is it that protestants simply do not understand?

Common sense is not so common anymore.

If I were ever a protestant, the following Bible verse would scare me to death...

Revelation 21:8, "But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the polluted, as for murderers, fornicators, sorcerers, idolaters, AND ALL LIARS, their lot shall be in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur, which is the second death."

My reason in writing this post is not to condemn, but to point out errors of non-Catholics and bring to them the ONE and ONLY truth in the Bible with the teaching of Jesus Christ. In doing so I leave it up to you the readers, to decide where you will spend all eternity after you leave this world.

Ask yourself: Shall I spend the rest of my life in one of the 30,000+ denominations not founded by God, but founded by humans who had absolutely no God given authority (find it in the Bible) to do so, or should I go with Jesus Christ and His ONE and ONLY true

Catholic Church? That decision can be only yours.

Recap:

Jesus said, or Bible says:
did, or did not receive:

We must be one fold.
thousands of folds.

My Church will last forever.
into apostasy, no date or reason.

Authority given to Apostles. given to founders.

This is My Body and Blood.

Jude 1:24-25, "Now to him who is able to keep you from falling and to present you without blemish before the presence of his glory with rejoicing, to the only God, our Savior through Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, before all time and now and for ever. Amen"

History of the Catholic Church: The First 100 years

The earliest genuine historical document that I have found that openly mentions the Catholic Church by name.

Note:

My purpose in writing this page is to show non-Catholics who tell me that they do not believe anything that cannot be found in the Bible. Well I have certainly included enough verses here to convince anyone that Jesus wants all Christians to be in His one and only Church and not in false denominations which were founded by mere humans who had no authority to do so. There are verses here which say just that.

The 100th anniversary of the Miracle of Fatima is this year on October 13, 2017. Wouldn't it be a great gift to God if many non-Catholics had entered the Catholic Church before then? Come on non-Catholics, open your eyes and finally see that the Bible says you are attacking the Body of Christ, instead of joining Him with love. May God bless you.

From Where Did These Truths Originate?

  - 10. The Canon of the Old Testament.*
  - 11. The Canon of the New Testament.*
  - 12. Your Bible.*

What? You can't find the answers to these twelve examples in Scripture?

But many of the non Catholic ecclesial communities teach these same doctrines.

How could they do this if the answers are not to be found in the Bible?

The answer to "From Where Did These Truths Originate?", is that they all are the product of decisions made by the Catholic Church. They may not be explicit in Holy Scripture, but they certainly are implicit. They are perfect examples of the Holy Spirit teaching all the truth to the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

"If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you forever, the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you."

John 14:15-17

Notice that the Spirit of Truth will FOREVER be with the Church that Jesus founded.

How can anyone who calls themselves Christian say that the Spirit of Truth left His Church at some undetermined time?

Either they lied or Jesus Christ did in those verses. Who do YOU believe?

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine; therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you."

John 16:12-15

"And he will declare to you the things that are to come."

  11. The Council of Carthage, 397
  12. Right from the Catholic Church at the Council of Carthage, 397. It is a Catholic book.

Here are some other decisions made by the same Catholic Church in some of the same councils as listed above. The difference being that most non-Catholic ecclesial communities reject these. isn't it strange that, by their acceptance of those above, these ecclesial communities are admitting that the Catholic Church made infallible decisions for the topics listed, but the same Church in the same councils erred in the ones listed below?

1. The Canon of the Old Testament. Council of Carthage, 397.
2. The Blessed Virgin Mary is the Mother of GOD. Council of Ephesus, 431.
3. The true presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Council of Lyons I, 1245.
4. The definition of Purgatory. Council of Florence, 1431
5. A reaffirmation of the Canons of both the Old and New Testaments. Council of Trent, 1545

These are perfect examples of the pick and choose mentality of non-Catholic communities.

"I will retain these because they fit with my teachings or with my feelings, and I will reject those which do not fit.

I am compelled to remind you that:

Any persons private opinions or their "feelings", have no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

The Gist of it All!

It is all so very Simply Simple!

Page 1 of 2 pages.

---

---

Q. "What is truth?"

Asked by Pontius Pilate of Jesus Christ in John 18:38.

A. The answer to that question is that truth is a person who said:

"I am the way, and the truth and the life."

John 14:6

Let us examine that statement further by simply using our GOD given common sense:

Q. How many Jesus Christ's are there?

A. There is only one, as everyone knows.

Q. So how many truths are there?

A. Since there is only one Jesus Christ, common sense tells us that there can be only one truth.

Q. Can Jesus speak different truths?

A. No. Truth is one, so that is an impossibility.

If there existed multiple and conflicting 'truths', would not that cause confusion amongst the people?

Q. Can GOD be the author of confusion?

A. No!

"For God is not a God of confusion but of peace."

1 Corinthians 14:33

Is Jesus Christ GOD?

---

Q. How many Churches did Jesus Christ found?

A. He founded only one Church.

"And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

Notice that it is only ONE CHURCH in that verse. He did say Church, and not churches, did He not?

Q. What is the meaning of:

"and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it", as quoted from Matthew 16:18?

A. It means His ONE Church is indestructible and will last forever.

That truth is repeated in many other verses using different wording:

"Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

Matthew 28:19-20

The last part of Matthew 28:20, "And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world", is a promise from Jesus Christ that He will be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time.

There will be no gaps, not one single day.

"To him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus, unto all generations, world without end. Amen."

Ephesians 3:21

There you have it again, His perpetual Church.

"And I will ask the Father: and he shall give you another Paraclete, that he may abide with you for ever: The spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, nor knoweth him. But you shall know him; because he shall abide with you and shall be in you. I will not leave you orphans: I will come to you."

John 14:16-18

Wow! How many guarantees of His perpetual Church can you find in those three loaded verses?

1. The Spirit of Truth will abide in His Church forever.

How many 'Spirits of Truth' are there? You should know the answer to that one by now.

2. Notice the Spirit of Truth cannot be received by everyone.

What does that tell to you from what I have noted previously?

3. "I will not leave you orphans: I will come to you."

What is an orphan? It is a person who is left alone by his or her family.

That is yet another verse where Jesus Christ said He will never leave His Church.

Why then do some non-Catholics claim that He did leave His Church soon after the last Apostle died or at some unknown time?

Or some claim His Church went into apostasy at some unknown time.

It seems that not one non-Catholic person can give the date for this supposed 'Great Apostasy', nor any genuine historical document to prove what they say.

Those who claim such things, are actually calling the Son of GOD a liar in all of the verses which I have listed so far, where He told us that His Church would last forever, and that He would be with it forever.

Is Jesus really truth personified? Isn't that what He said in John 14:6?

Why then do some who claim to follow Him, not believe Him?

---

The Church which Jesus founded is already almost 2000 years old.

It has to be, as that was His promise, of almost 2000 years ago, was it not?

His Church has been attacked from within and from without during that entire period.

However it is still with us today, fulfilling the promises of its founder that it will last until the end of time.

If Mother Church lasted through all of those attacks for all of those years, then that is certainly indicative of Divine protection, is it not?

Holy Scripture has taught us that Christ is the head of His Church and He is the Savior of His Body, Ephesians 5:23.

Why then do some insist that His Head left His Body at some unknown and unprovable point in time?

Here are several verses, some repeated here, from both the old and new testaments that guarantee the perpetual nature of the one Church that Jesus Christ founded:

2Sam 7:12-13, Psa 127:1, Isa 9:7,41:10-11,54:17,59:21, Jer 1:17-19,

Dan **2:44,6:26,7:13-14, Hag 2:8-10, *Lk 1:32-33, Acts 5:38-39, 1Cor 10:32, Eph 3:21,5:23, Heb 12:28,13:20.

Are the varied authors and prophets of all those verses speaking the truth of the Word of GOD?
If we cannot believe them, then who can we believe?

---

So, I have three very simple questions for those who find pleasure in attacking His one and only Church:

Q. 1. Since every Church on earth had a founder with a name, please name the person who founded the Catholic Church?

No guesses or opinions please, just the facts, and back up your answer with genuine historical documents and/or verse(s).

Q. 2. Since there are now 40,000* different sects in the world today which call themselves Christian, please provide me with the Bible verse(s) that gave authority for any human person to found another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded?

Q. 3. Since you seem to think that Jesus Christ did not found the Catholic Church, then please give me the name of the ONE Church that he did found?

Here are some unacceptable answers for that question:

A. Christianity: That is no answer as that is a system of beliefs and not the name of His Church.

B. Constantine: Show me the genuine historical document which proves that he founded the Catholic Church?

C. Some unknown nebulous person at some unknown time:

If they give that as an answer, why is it that not one person can provide the name of the person, and the time in which that unknown person founded it?

It never ceases to amaze me that Catholics can provide a mountain of genuine historical documents and writings to prove their case, yet, non-Catholics can never provide any genuine historical documentation to back up their false charges.

When you attack the Catholic Church, you attack its founder, so you had best find out who founded it.

Saul persecuted the Church that Jesus Christ founded. See Acts 8:1-2.

But read also Acts 9:4 and see who he really persecuted.

Are you a modern day Saul?

"...For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD."

Acts 5:38-39

WOW!

Such powerful verses for everyone to heed.

Has the Catholic Church ever been overthrown?

Certainly many have tried.

Those two verses support the fact that the Catholic Church is not a plan or work of men.

Maybe that is why non-Catholics cannot provide the name of a human person founder of the Catholic Church, simply because there was none.

I would certainly not like to find myself fighting even against GOD.

Would you want to put yourself in the position of fighting against GOD?

You play roulette with your salvation by not researching genuine historical documents as to who founded the Catholic Church.

Start by researching the writings of the Church Fathers.

There are so many easy ways to find documents of the Fathers and others dating in every century from the first on down to the present.

Since you are probably on line reading this then simply "Google: Church Fathers".

The writings of the Fathers are so prolific that I have included a reference link, to a page on this website so that you may search the Fathers by name or by subject.

In the voluminous writings of Saint Augustine, he mentioned the Catholic Church by name over 300 times.

Here is but one example of them:

"I should not believe the Gospel except as moved by the authority of the Catholic Church."

NOTE!

The "J" references are to a set of three books titled, "The Faith of the Early Fathers", by William A. Jurgens.

Those three books are so very useful in that Mr. Jurgens has condensed the gist of the writings of the Fathers into those three volumes, and his several different indexes make it easier to find what you are looking for. As I mentioned earlier, the writings of the Fathers are very prolific. My electronic copy is 32 megabytes long....zipped. That is a lot of text.

Remember what you have learned so far, that there is only one truth and that of the 40,000* sects, each of which teaches something different from one another, none of them could possibly be the true Church.

Besides that, all of them would have to provide genuine historical documents proving that they even existed at the time of Christ, and show an unbroken line of Apostolic succession. Not a single one can meet either one of those conditions.

His Church existed in His time and it is His guarantee that it exists today, almost 2000 years later. So it is a simple question that has a simple answer, and that is to simply name the Church which Jesus Christ founded?

A Catholic Compliance...

---

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down thereof My name has been glorified among the Gentiles; and in every place incense is offered to My Name, and a Pure Offering: for My Name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord Almighty."

*Malachias 1:11,
Septuagint*

---

Every minute of every day, all over the world, the Catholic Church celebrates the sacrifice of the Mass, and offers incense and a 'Pure Offering', the Holy Eucharist, the 'True Presence' of Jesus Christ to the Name of GOD. How many other Churches comply with this command from the Lord Almighty? How many other Churches can comply at all?

Truth...

"The Church, instituted by the Lord and confirmed by the Apostles, is one for all men; but the frantic folly of the diverse impious acts sects has cut them off from her. It cannot be denied that this tearing asunder of the faith has arisen from the defect of poor intelligence, which twists what is read to conform to its opinion, instead of adjusting its opinion to the meaning of what is read. However, while individual parties fight among themselves, the Church stands revealed not only by her own doctrines, but by those also of her adversaries. And although they are all arranged against her, she confutes the most wicked error which they all share, by the very fact that she is alone and One.

All the heretics, therefore, come against the Church; but while all the heretics can conquer each other, they can win nothing for themselves. For their victory is the triumph of the Church over all of them. One heresy struggles against that teaching of another, which the faith of the Church has already condemned in the other heresy, - for there is nothing which the heretics hold in common, ' and the result is that they affirm our faith while fighting among themselves."

The Moslems tried to destroy it in the middle ages, and failed. The Catholic Church is still here.

---

The Protestants tried to destroy it in the reformation and failed, and look what happened to them. The church of Protestantism, which Luther founded, was from the very beginning cracked and splintered. Look at Protestantism today, over 39,000 splinters, with more cropping up every day.

The Catholic Church is still here.

*Communism tried to destroy it and failed, and where is communism today?

*Why do you think the Catholic Church has endured all these attacks for almost two millennia?
It is because it was founded by Jesus Christ and is guarded from within and from without by Him and the Holy Spirit, that is why. Christ guaranteed the perpetuity of His ONLY Church.

How to Find the True Church...

---

---

The One true Church, and how to recognize it.

---

---

Use this guideline as a measure...

- *It was founded by Jesus Christ Himself in Mt 16:18.
  - *It would be built on Simon Peter, Mt 16:18.
  - *It would be defended by GOD Himself, Mt 16:18-19.
  - *It would have authority given by Jesus Christ, Mt 16:19,18:17-18.
  - *It would be guided by the Holy Spirit who will dwell within it, Jn 14:15-17, Act 15:28,16:6.
  - *It would be one and undivided, Mk 3:24-25.
  - *It would have one fold and one shepherd, Jn 10:16.
  - *It would have Priests, Bishops, and Deacons, 1Tim 3:1-13.
  - *It must have the Holy Eucharist celebration, Jn 6:42-70, Act 2:42.
  - *It must be found in all nations, Mt 28:19.
  - *It must be found in all centuries, Mt 28:20.
  - *Jesus Christ said He would be with His Church every day, in every year, until the end of the world, Mt 28:20.
- This means no gaps in time.

Examine your Church to see if it meets ALL of these requirements.
It must NOT have a human person founder.
It must have a continuous history going back over 1950 years.

Is the Catholic Church a Denomination?

Many misinformed non-Catholics have told me that it is one.

---

Let us set this misconception straight once and for all and with the truth:

Denomination:

A denomination is something that we mortals help to create by joining it. The Catholic Church is not a denomination because it is a divinely instituted community. There is not much in a denomination that is secure from change. It is constantly being revised by its members. It has no unchangeable form as is commanded of the Catholic Church by Jesus Christ. A denomination changes with the trends of the age, and many times simply by a vote of its members. In other words, a denomination changes when opinions change. One example is of the Anglican Lambeth conference of 1930 when it was decided to allow contraception. Prior to that year, all denominations taught as the Catholic Church did on that subject. After that date, then one by one, other denominations decided to change and accepted contraception, and they did it not because GOD wanted them to, but from secular pressure. A denomination has fluid boundaries that change with the times. The Catholic Church has fixed boundaries on the matters of faith and morals and so it does not change, simply because GOD does not change.

---

The Origin of the word Denomination in a religious sense:

"Denomination: (n.) Look up denomination at Dictionary.com late 14c., "a naming, act of giving a name to," from Old French denominacion "nominating, naming," from Latin denominationem (nominative denominatio) "a calling by anything other than the proper name, metonymy," from denominare "to name," from de- "completely" (see de-) + nominare "to name" (see nominate). Meaning "a class" is from mid-15c. Monetary sense is 1650s; meaning "religious sect" is 1716."

Notice that the word was originated in a religious sense in 1716. By that date the Protestant revolt from the Catholic Church led by Martin Luther in 1520 had already split within itself into at least twelve pieces. A word had to be found to distinguish one split sect from another and that word was Denomination.

The One True Church...

By Fr. Arnold Damen S.J.

---

The One True Church, by Fr. Arnold Damen S.J.(1815-1890)

About this Article and its Author:

Father Arnold Damen was born in the province of North Brabant, Holland, on March 20, 1815. He was admitted to the Society of Jesus, November 21, 1837, and was one of the band of young novices brought over to this country by Father DeSmet, renowned Jesuit missionary to the American Indians. In his illustrious career, which spanned some fifty years of apostolic work before his death on January 1, 1890, Father Damen and his companions conducted missions in nearly every principal city of the United States. He is said to have been more widely known in this country, and at one time to have exercised personally a greater influence than any bishop or priest in the Catholic Church.

---

Little wonder, for by his majestic presence and force of eloquence, Father Damen as a missionary rose to a success that surpassed anything ever before --- or since --- known in America. The fiery apostolic zeal of this beloved and pious priest can only scarcely be measured by the twelve thousand conversions to Catholicism for which he was responsible, often receiving as many as sixty or seventy souls into the Church in one day. For it must be noted, too, that in the midst of all this remarkable labor, he also managed to found and to organize the great Jesuit institutions of Chicago.

---

What explains the inspiring achievement of Father Damen? As one writer expressed it, "He cared nothing for applause or criticism. He was working to save souls." In other words, his noble accomplishments were the fruits of immense charity. That is, charity in the truest sense: He loved God and his fellow man so much that he would spare no energy or effort that was necessary to wrest a soul from the spiritual error and darkness which would bring about its eternal loss. And to this saintly Jesuit, such was the certain fate always and everywhere present outside the one true Church.

---

Father Damen preached in an age quite recent to our own, when Catholics not only still universally believed but lived by the infallibly declared, immutably constant dogma of the Faith, "Outside the Church there is no salvation." This was, in fact, his whole creed and teaching, by which he effectively converted so many.

---

We are pleased to reprint Father Damen's compelling sermon, "The One True Church," unedited, exactly as it was first published shortly after his death in 1890. In so doing, we have two purposes: One is to recall to our fellow Catholics of whatever rank or dignity within the Church that the unequivocal belief in the doctrine on salvation is not only essential to the recovery of the Faith from the grave errors which now corrupt it, but it is the inseparable mark of the true Church Militant. The second and all important purpose, of course, is to encourage Catholics to place this imperative message in the hands of non-Catholics. By so doing, all of you who help in such apostolic labors will be continuing the blessed work of the venerable priest, Arnold Damen.

Nihil Obstat: T.L. Kinkead, Censor Deputatus. Imprimatur: Michael Augustine, Archbishop of New York. "The Only Church That Christ Established Is The Catholic Church." "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be condemned." -- Mark XVI, 16.

---

I.
MY DEARLY BELOVED CHRISTIANS:

From these words of our Divine Saviour, it has already been proved to you, that faith is necessary for salvation, and without faith there is no salvation; without faith there is eternal damnation. Read your own Protestant Bible, 16th verse of St. Mark, and you will find it stronger there than in the Catholic Bible. Now, then, what kind of faith must a man have to be saved? Will any faith do? Why, if any faith will do, the devil himself will be saved, for the Bible says that devils believe and tremble. It is, therefore, not a matter of indifference what religion a man professes; he must profess the right and true religion, and without that there is no hope of salvation, for it stands to reason, my dear people, that if God reveals a thing or teaches a thing, He wants to be believed. Not to believe is to insult God. Doubting His word, or believing even with doubt and hesitation, is an insult to God, because it is doubting His Sacred Word. We must, therefore, believe without doubting, without hesitating.

I have said, out of the Catholic Church there is no divine faith --- can be no divine faith out of that Church. Some of the Protestant friends will be shocked at this, to hear me say that out of the Catholic Church there is no divine faith, and that without faith there is no salvation, but damnation. I will prove all I have said. I have said that out of the Catholic Church there can be no divine faith. What is divine faith? When we believe a thing upon the authority of God, and believe it without doubt, without hesitating.

Now, all our separated brethren outside of the Catholic Church take the private interpretation of the Bible for their guide; but the private interpretation of the Bible can never give them divine faith. Let me, for instance, suppose for a moment, here is a Presbyterian; he reads his Bible; from the reading of his Bible he comes to the conclusion that Jesus Christ is God. Now, you know this is the most essential of all Christian doctrines --- the foundation of all Christianity. From the reading of his Bible he comes to the conclusion that Jesus Christ is God; and he is a sensible man, and intelligent man, and not a presumptuous man.

And he says: "Here is my Unitarian neighbor, who is just as reasonable and intelligent as I am, as honest, as learned and as prayerful as I am, and, from the reading of the Bible, he comes to the conclusion that Christ is not God at all. "Now," says he, "to the best of my opinion and judgment, I am right, and my Unitarian neighbor is wrong; but, after all," says he, "I may be mistaken! Perhaps I have not the right meaning of the text, and if I am wrong, perhaps he is right, after all; but, to the best of my opinion and judgment, I am right and he is wrong." On what does he believe? On what authority? On his own opinion and judgment. And what is that? A human opinion --- human testimony, and, therefore, a human faith. He cannot say positively, "I am sure, positively sure, as sure as there is a God in heaven, that this is the meaning of the text." Therefore, he has no other authority but his own opinion and judgment, and what his preacher tells him. But the preacher is a smart man. There are many smart Unitarian preachers also, but that proves nothing; it is only human authority, and nothing else, and therefore, only human faith. What is human faith? Believing a thing upon the testimony of man. Divine faith is believing a thing on the testimony of God.

II.

The Catholic has divine faith, and why? Because the Catholic says: "I believe in such and such a thing." Why? "Because the Church teaches me so." And why do you believe the Church? "Because God has commanded me to believe the teaching of the Church; and God has threatened me with damnation if I do not believe the Church, and we are taught by St. Peter, in his epistle, that there is no private prophecy or interpretation of the Scriptures, for the unlearned and unstable wrest the very Scriptures, the Bible, to their own damnation." That is strong language, my dear people, but that is the language of St. Peter, the head of the Apostles.

The unlearned and unstable wrest the Bible to their own damnation! And yet, after all, the Bible is the book of God, the language of inspiration; at least, when we have a true Bible, as we Catholics have, and you Protestants have not. But, my dearly beloved Protestant friends, do not be offended at me for saying that. Your own most learned preachers and bishops tell you that, and some have written whole volumes in order to prove that the English translation, which you have, is a very faulty and false translation. Now, therefore, I say that the true Bible is as the Catholics have it, the Latin Vulgate; and the most learned among the Protestants themselves have agreed that the Latin Vulgate Bible, which the Catholic Church always makes use of, is the best in existence; and, therefore, it is, as you may have perceived, that when I preach I give the text in Latin, because the Latin text of the Vulgate is the best extant.

III.

Now, they may say that Catholics acknowledge the Word of God; that it is the language of inspiration; and that, therefore, we are sure that we have the Word of God; but, my dear people, the very best thing may be abused, the very best thing; and, therefore, our Divine Saviour has given us a living teacher, that is to give us the true meaning of the Bible. And He has provided a teacher with infallibility; and this was absolutely necessary, for without this --- without infallibility we could never be sure of our faith.

There must be an infallibility; and we see that in every well-ordered government, in every government --- in England, in the United States, and in every country, empire and republic, there is a Constitution and a supreme law. But you are not at liberty to explain that Constitution and supreme law as you think proper, for then there would be no more law if every man were allowed to explain the law and Constitution as he should think proper. Therefore, in all governments there is a supreme judge and supreme court, and to the supreme judge is referred all different understandings of the law and the Constitution. By the decisions of the supreme judge all have to abide, and if they did not abide by that decision why, my dear people, there would be no law any more, but anarchy, disorder and confusion.

Again, suppose for a moment that the Blessed Saviour has been less wise than human governments, and that He had not provided for the understanding of His Constitution, and of His Law of the Church of God. If He had not, my dear people, it would never have stood as it has stood for the last eighteen hundred and fifty-four years. He has then established a Supreme Court, a Supreme Judge in the Church of the Living God.

IV.

It is admitted on all sides, by Protestants and Catholics alike acknowledged, that Christ has established a Church; and, strange to say, all our Protestant friends acknowledge, too, that He has established but one Church --- but one Church --- for, whenever Christ speaks of His Church, it is always in the singular. Bible readers, remember that; my Protestant friends, pay attention. He says: "Hear the Church," --- not hear the churches --- "I have built My Church upon a rock" --- not My churches. Whenever He speaks, whether in figures or parables of His Church, He always conveys to the mind a oneness, a union, a unity.

He speaks of His Church as a sheepfold, in which there is but one shepherd --- that is the head of all, and the sheep are made to follow his voice; "other sheep I have who are not of this fold." One fold, you see. He speaks of His Church as of a kingdom, in which there is but one king to rule all; speaks of His Church as a family in which there is but one father at the head; speaks of His Church as a tree, and all the branches of that tree are connected with the trunk, and the trunk with the roots; and Christ is the root, and the trunk is Peter and the Popes, and the large branches are the bishops, and the smaller branches the priests, and the fruit upon that tree are the faithful throughout the world; and the branch, says He, that is cut off from that tree shall wither away, produce no fruit, and is only fit to be cast into the fire --- that is, damnation.

This is plain speaking, me dear people; but there is no use in covering the truth. I want to speak the truth to you, as the Apostles preached it in their time --- no salvation out of the Church of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

V.

Now, which is that Church? There are now three hundred and fifty different Protestant churches in existence, and almost every year one or two more are added; and besides this number there is the Catholic Church. Now, which of all these varied churches is the one Church of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ? All claim to be the Church of Jesus. But, my dear beloved people, it is evident no church can be the Church of Jesus except the one that was established by Jesus. And when did Jesus establish His Church? When? When He was here upon earth. And how long ago is it that Christ was upon earth? You know our Christian era dates from Him. He was born many centuries ago. That is an historical fact admitted by all. He lived on earth thirty-three years. That was about nineteen centuries before our time. That is the time Christ established His Church on earth.

Any Church, then, that has not existed thus long, is not the Church of Jesus Christ, but is the institution or invention of some man or other; not of God, Not of Christ, but of man.

Now, where is the Church, and which is the Church that has existed thus long? All history inform you that is the Catholic Church; she, and she only among all Christian denominations on the face of the earth, has existed so long. All history, I say, bears testimony to this; not only Catholic history, but Pagan history, Jewish history and Protestant history, indirectly. The history, then, of all nations, of all people, bears testimony that the Catholic Church is the oldest, the first; is the one established by our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

If there be any Protestant preacher who can prove that the Catholic Church has come into existence since that time, let him come to see me, and I will give him a thousand dollars. My dear preachers, here is a chance of making money --- a thousand dollars for you. Not only all history, but all the monuments of antiquity bear testimony to this, and all the nations of the earth proclaim it. Call on one of your preachers and ask him which was the first church --- the first Christian Church. Was it the Presbyterian, the Episcopalian, the Church of England, the Methodist, the Universalist or the Unitarian? And they will answer you it was the Catholic Church. But, my dear friend, if you admit that the Catholic Church is the first and the oldest --- the Church established by Christ --- why are you not a Catholic?

To this they answer that the Catholic Church has become corrupted; has fallen into error, and that, therefore, it was necessary to establish a new church. A new church, a new religion. And to this we answer: that if the Catholic Church had been once the true church, then she is true yet, and shall be the true Church of God to the end of time, or Jesus Christ has deceived us. Hear me, Jesus, hear what I say! I say that if the Catholic Church now, in the nineteenth century, is not the true Church of God as she was 1854 years ago, then I say, Jesus, Thou has deceived us, and Thou art an imposter! And if I do not speak the truth, Jesus, strike me dead in the pulpit --- let me fall dead in the pulpit, for I do not want to be a preacher of a false religion!

VI.

I will prove what I have said. If the Catholic Church has been once the true Church of God, as is admitted by all, then she is the true Church yet, and shall be the true Church of God until the end of time, for Christ has promised that the gates of hell shall not prevail against the Church. He says that He has built it upon a rock, and that the gates of hell shall never prevail against it.

Now, my dear people, if the Catholic Church has fallen into error, then the gates of hell have prevailed against her; and if the gates of hell have prevailed against her, then Christ has not kept His promise, then He has deceived us, and if He has deceived us, then He is an imposter! If He be an imposter, then He is not God, and if He be not God, then all Christianity is a cheat and an imposition.

Again, in St. Matthew, 28th chapter and verses XIX and XX., our Divine Saviour says to His Apostles: "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe whatsoever I have commanded you." "Lo," says He, "I, Jesus, the Son of the Living God, I, the Infinite Wisdom, the Eternal Truth, am with you all days, even until the end of the world." Christ, then, solemnly swears that He shall be with His Church all days to the end of time, to the consummation of the world.

But Christ cannot remain with the Church that teaches error, or falsehood, or corruption. If, therefore, the Catholic Church has fallen into error and corruption, as our Protestant friends say she has, then Christ must have abandoned her; if so, He has broken His oath; if He has broken His oath He is a perjurer, and there is no Christianity at all.

Again, our Divine Saviour (St. John, 14th chapter) has promised that He would send to His Church the Spirit of Truth, to abide with her forever. If, then, the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of Truth, teaches the Church all truth, and teaches her all truth forever, then there never has been, and never can be, one single error in the Church of God, for where there is all truth there is no error whatsoever. Christ has solemnly promised that He will send to the Church the Spirit of Truth, who shall teach all truth forever; therefore, there has never been a single error in the Church of God, or Christ has failed in His promises if there has.

Again, Christ commands us to hear and believe the teachings of the Church in all things; at all times and in all places. He does not say hear the Church for a thousand years or for fifteen hundred years, but hear the Church, without any limitation, without any reservation, or any restriction of time whatever. That is, at all times; in all things until the end of time, and he that does not hear the Church let him be unto thee, says Christ, as a heathen and as a publican.

Therefore, Christ says that those who refuse to hear the Church must be looked upon as heathens; and what is a heathen? One that does not worship the true God; and a publican is a public sinner. This is strong language. Could Christ command me to believe the Church if the Church could have led me astray --- could lead me into error? If the teaching of the Church be corrupt, could He, the God of truth, command me without any restriction or limitation to hear and believe the teachings of the Church which He has established?

Again: Our Divine Saviour commands me to hear and believe the teaching of the Church in the same manner as if He Himself were to speak to us. "He that heareth you," says He, in His charge to the Apostles, "heareth Me, and he that despiseth you despiseth Me." So then, when I believe what the Church teaches I believe what God teaches. If I refuse what the Church teaches I refuse what God teaches. So that Christ has made the Church the organ by which He speaks to man, and tells us positively that we must believe the teaching of the Church as if He himself were to speak to us. Therefore, says St. Paul, in his Epistle to Timothy, "the Church is the ground" --- that is, the strong foundation --- "and the pillar of the truth." Take the ground or foundation of this edifice away, and it crumbles down; so with regard to these pillars upon which the roof rests; take them away and the roof will fall in; so St. Paul says, "the Church is the ground and the pillar of truth," and the moment you take away the authority of the Church of God you induce all kinds of errors and blasphemous doctrines. Do we not see it?

VII.

In the sixteenth century Protestantism did away with the authority of the Church and constituted every man his own judge of the Bible, and what was the consequence? Religion upon religion, church upon church, sprang into existence, and has never stopped springing up new churches to this day.

When I gave my Mission in Flint, Michigan, I invited, as I have done here, my Protestant friends to come and see me. A good and intelligent man came to me and said: "I will avail myself of this opportunity to converse with you." "What Church do you belong to, my friend," said I. "To the Church of the Twelve Apostles," said he. "Ha! ha!" said I, "I belong to that Church too. But, tell me, my friend, where was your Church started?" "In Terre Haute, Indiana," said he. "Who started the Church, and who were the Twelve Apostles, my friend?" said I. "They were twelve farmers," said he; "we all belonged to the same Church --- the Presbyterian --- but we quarreled with our preacher, separated from him, and started a Church of our own." "And that," said I, "is the Twelve Apostles you belonged to --- twelve farmers of Indiana! The Church came into existence about thirty years ago." A few years ago, when I was in Terre Haute, I asked to be shown the Church of the Twelve Apostles. I was taken to a window and it was pointed out to me, "but it is not in existence any more," said my informant, "it is used as a wagonmaker's shop now."

Again, St. Paul, in his Epistles to the Galatians, says: "Though we Apostles, or even an angel from heaven were to come and preach to you a different Gospel from what we have preached, let him be anathema." That is the language of St. Paul, because, my dearly beloved people, religion must come from God, not from man. No man has a right to establish a religion; no man has a right to dictate to his fellow-man what he shall believe and what he shall do to save his soul. Religion must come from God, and any religion that is not established by God is a false religion, a human institution, and not an institution of God; and therefore did St. Paul say in his Epistles to the Galatians, "Though we Apostles or even an angel from heaven were to come and preach to you a new Gospel, a new religion, let them be anathema."

VIII.

You see then, my dearly beloved people, from the text of the Scripture I have quoted that, if the Catholic Church has been once the true Church, then she is yet the true Church. You have also seen from what I have said that the Catholic Church is the institution of God, and not of man, and this is a fact --- a fact of history, and no fact of history so well supported, so well proved, as that the Catholic Church is the first, the Church established by Jesus Christ.

So, in like manner, it is an historical fact that all the Protestant churches are the institutions of man --- every one of them. And I will give you their dates, and the names of their founders or institutors. In the year 1520 --- 368 years ago --- the first Protestant came into the world. Before that one there was not a Protestant in the world, not one on the face of the whole earth; and that one, as all history tells us, was Martin Luther, who was a Catholic priest, who fell away from the Church through pride, and married a nun. He was excommunicated from the Church, cut off, banished, and made a new religion of his own. Before Martin Luther there was not a Protestant in the world; he was the first to raise the standard of rebellion and revolt against the Church of God. He said to his disciples that they should take the Bible for their guide, and they did so.

But they soon quarreled with him; Zuinglius, and a number of others, and every one of them started a new religion of his own. After the disciples of Martin Luther came John Calvin, who in Geneva established the Presbyterian religion, and hence, almost all of those religions go by the name of their founder.

I ask the Protestant, "Why are you a Lutheran, my friend?" "Well," says he, "because I believe in the doctrine of good Martin Luther." Hence, not of Christ, but of man --- Martin Luther. And what kind of man was he? A man who had broken the solemn oath he had made at the altar of God, at his ordination, ever to lead a pure, single, and virginal life. He broke that solemn oath, and married a Sister Catherine, who had also taken the same oath of chastity and virtue. And this is the first founder of Protestantism in the world. The very name by which they are known tells you they came from Martin Luther. So the Presbyterians are sometimes called Calvinists because they come from, or profess to believe in, John Calvin.

IX.

After them came Henry VIII. He was a Catholic, and defended the Catholic religion; he wrote a book against Martin Luther in defense of the Catholic doctrine. That book I have myself seen in the library of the Vatican at Rome a few years ago. Henry VIII defended the religion, and for doing so was titled by the Pope "Defender of the Faith." It came down with his successors, and Queen Victoria inherits it to-day.

He was married to Catherine of Aragon; but there was at his court a maid of honor to the Queen, named Ann Boleyn, who was a beautiful woman, and captivating in appearance. Henry was determined to have her. But he was a married man. He put in a petition to the Pope to be allowed to marry her --- and a foolish petition it was, for the Pope had no power to grant the prayer of it. The Pope and all the bishops in the world cannot go against the will of God.

Christ says: "If a man putteth away his wife and marrieth another, he committeth adultery, and he that marrieth her who is put away committeth adultery also." As the Pope would not grant the prayer of Henry's petition he took Ann Boleyn anyhow, and was excommunicated from the Church. After a while there was another maid of honor, prettier than the first, more beautiful and charming in the eyes of Henry, and he said he must have her, too. He took the third wife, and a fourth, fifth and sixth followed.

Now this is the founder of the Anglican Church, the Church of England; and, therefore, it is that it goes by the name of the Church of England. Our Episcopalian friends are making great efforts nowadays to call themselves Catholic, but they shall never come to it. They own that the name Catholic is a glorious one, and they would like to possess it.

The Apostles said: "I believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church" --- they never said, in the Anglican Church. The Anglicans deny their religion, for they say they believe in the Holy Ghost, the Holy Catholic Church. Ask them are they Catholics, and they say, "Yes, but not Roman Catholics; we are English Catholics." What is the meaning of the word Catholic? It comes from the Greek word "Catholicus" --- universal --- spread all over the earth, and everywhere the same. Now, first of all, the Anglican Church is not spread all over the earth; it only exists in a few countries, and chiefly only where the English language is spoken. Secondly, they are not the same all over the earth, for there are now four different Anglican churches: The Low Church, the High Church, the Ritualist Church and the Puseyite Church.

"Catholicus" means more than this, not only spread all over the earth and everywhere the same, but it means, moreover, at all times the same, from Christ up to the present day. Now, then, they have not been in existence from the time of Christ. There never was an Episcopalian Church or an Anglican Church before Henry VIII. The Catholic Church had already existed fifteen hundred years before the Episcopal came into the world. After Episcopalianism different other churches sprang up. Next came the Methodist, about one hundred and fifty years ago. It was started by John Wesley, who was at first a member of the Episcopalian Church; subsequently he joined the Moravian Brethren, but not liking them, he made a religion of his own --- the Methodist Church. After John Wesley several others sprang up; and finally came the Campbellites, about sixty years ago. This Church was established by Alexander Campbell, a Scotchman.

X.

Well, now, my dear beloved people, you may think that the act of the twelve apostles of Indiana was a ridiculous one, but they had as much right to establish a church as had Henry VIII, or Martin Luther, or John Calvin. They had no right at all, and neither had Henry VIII, or the rest of them any right whatsoever.

Christ had established His Church and given His solemn oath that His Church should stand to the end of time; promised that He had built it upon rock, and that the gates of hell should never prevail against it --- hence, my dear people, all those different denominations of religion are the invention of man; and I ask you can man save the soul of his fellow-man by any institution he can make? Must not religion come from God?

And, therefore, my dearly beloved separated brethren, think over it seriously. You have a soul to be saved, and that soul must be saved or damned; either one or the other, it will dwell with God in heaven or with the devil in hell; therefore, seriously meditate upon it.

When I gave my Mission in Brooklyn several Protestants became Catholics. Among them there was a very highly educated and intelligent Virginian. He was a Presbyterian. After he had listened to my lecture he went to see his minister, and he asked him to be kind enough to explain a text of the Bible. The minister gave him the meaning. "Well, now," said the gentleman, "are you positive and sure that is the meaning of the text, for several other Protestants explain it differently?" "Why, my dear young man," says the preacher, "we never can be certain of our faith." "Well, then," says the young man, "good-bye to you: If I cannot be sure of my faith in the Protestant Church, I will go where I can," and he became a Catholic. We are sure of our faith in the Catholic Church, and if our faith is not true, Christ has deceived us. I would, therefore, beg you, my separated brethren, to procure yourselves Catholic books. You have read a great deal against the Catholic Church, now read something in favor of it.

You can never pass an impartial sentence if you do not hear both sides of the question. What would you think of a judge before whom a policeman would bring a poor offender, and who on the charge of the policeman, without hearing the prisoner, would order him to be hung? "Give me a hearing," says the poor man, "and I will prove my innocence. I am not guilty," says he. The policeman says he is guilty. "Well, hang him anyhow," says the judge. What would you say of that judge? Criminal judge! unfair man; you are guilty of the blood of the innocent! Would not you say that? Of course you would. Well now, my dearly beloved Protestant friends, that is what you have been doing all along; you have been hearing one side of the question and condemning us Catholics as a superstitious lot of people, poor ignorant people, idolatrous people, non-sensical people, going and telling their sins to the priest; and what, after all, is the priest more than any other man?

My dear friends, have you examined the other side of the question? No, you do not think it worth your while; but this is the way the Jews dealt with our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and this is the way the Pagans and Jews dealt with the Apostles, the ministers of the Church, and with the primitive Christians.

Allow me to tell you, my friends, that you have been treating us precisely in the same way the Jews and Pagans treated Jesus Christ and His Apostles. I have said this evening hard things, but if St. Paul were here tonight, in this pulpit, he would have said harder things still. I have said them, however, not through a spirit of unkindness, but through a spirit of love, and a spirit of charity, in the hope of opening your eyes that your souls may be saved. It is love for your salvation, my dearly beloved Protestant brethren --- for which I would gladly give my heart's blood --- my love for your salvation that has made me preach to you as I have done.

XI.

"Well," say my Protestant friends, "if a man thinks he is right would not he be right?" Let us suppose now a man in Ottawa, who wants to go to Chicago, but takes a car for New York; the conductor asks for his ticket; and he at once says: "You are in the wrong car; you ticket is for Chicago, but you are going to New York." "Well, what of that?" says the passenger. "I mean well." "Your meaning will not go well with you in the end," says the conductor, "for you will come out at New York instead of Chicago."

You say you mean well, my dear friends; your meaning will not take you to heaven; you must do well also. "He that doeth the will of My Father," says Jesus, "he alone shall be saved." There are millions in hell who meant well. You must do well, and be sure you are doing well, to be saved. I thank my separated brethren for their kindness in coming to these controversial lectures. I hope I have said nothing to offend them. Of course, it would be nonsense for me not to preach Catholic doctrines.

"Saul, Saul, why doest thou persecute me?"

---

---

---

---

"Saul, Saul, why doest thou persecute me?"

Acts 9:4

What did Jesus say here?

Saul in his zeal had been mercilessly persecuting the newly founded followers of Jesus Christ who are called Christians.

Saul is first mentioned in Acts 7:58-59, where he gave his approval for the stoning to death of the first Christian martyr, Saint Stephen.

---

Acts 8:1-3, "Now there broke out on that day a great persecution against the CHURCH in Jerusalem, and all except the Apostles were scattered abroad throughout the land of Judea and Samaria. And devout men took care of Stephen's burial and made great lamentation over him. But Saul was harassing the CHURCH; entering house after house, and dragging out men and women, he committed them to prison."

---

Acts 9:1-5, "But Saul, still breathing threats of slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest and asked him for letters to the synagogues at Damascus, that if he found any men or women belonging to this Way (a word used for Christianity at that time), he might bring them in bonds to Jerusalem. And as he went on his journey, it came to pass that he drew near to Damascus, when suddenly a light from heaven shone round about him; and falling to the ground, he heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why dost thou persecute me?" And he said, "Who art thou Lord?" And He said, "I am Jesus whom thou art persecuting."

---

Elucidation...

1. What was it that Saul persecuted in Acts 8:1-3?

It was the CHURCH as mentioned twice in those three verses.

2. Then why did Jesus Christ say, "Why doest thou persecute me?", instead of 'Why dost thou persecute My Church'?

It is because His Church is his body and He is the head (Eph 5:23).

Whatever happens to the body is registered in the head. Isn't that true?

3. Therefore, whenever someone persecutes the Church which Jesus Christ founded, they are persecuting its founder as well.

---

"For I am the least of the Apostles, and am not worthy to be called an Apostle because I persecuted the CHURCH OF GOD."

1Cor 15:9

---

"For you have heard of my former manner of life in Judaism; how beyond all measure, I persecuted the CHURCH OF GOD, and ravaged it."

Gal 1:13.

---

"As regards zeal, a persecutor of the CHURCH OF GOD."

Phil 3:6

---

"I give thanks to Jesus Christ our Lord, who has strengthened me, because he counted me trustworthy in making me his minister.

For I formerly was a blasphemer, a persecutor and a bitter adversary; but I obtained the mercy of GOD because I acted ignorantly, in unbelief."

1Tim 1:12-13

---

"Do not be a stumbling block to Jews and Greeks and to the CHURCH OF GOD."

1Cor 10:32

---

Here are two extremely simple and very basic questions for those who attack the Catholic Church:

1. Since every church on earth had a founder with a name, please name the founder of the Catholic Church?

I can name the founders and dates of founding of hundreds of sects of diverse denominations and do it with genuine documented proof.

So for anyone who attempts to answer that question, please show me your proof.

Why is it that non-Catholics refuse to, or cannot answer that simple question?

2. Show me the Bible verse(s) which gave authority for any human person to found another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded?

I eagerly await truthful answers to those two very simple questions.

Hellenismos en Katholikos Ekklesia; Paganism in Ecclesia Catholica? Paganism in the Catholic Church?

---

*Some sects of diverse denominations who call themselves Christian, will go to any length to try to discredit the Catholic Church. When the reformists rebelled against Papal authority in the sixteenth century, they broke from the Catholic Church, spawning what we see today as literally tens of thousands of splits* in the body of Christ. The reformers lost all authority by doing so, and they could not claim Apostolic tradition since that was an integral part of the Catholic Church. Apostolic tradition is an important part of the deposit of faith, which had been faithfully preserved and guarded by the Catholic Church for over 1400 years at the time. Thus, they lost, or more accurately discarded, two legs of the three upon which the true Church of Jesus Christ rests. Thereupon, the only leg they had left was the Holy Bible, which they took from the Catholic Church, and which was, and still is, a Catholic Book. So, now, what to do? How could they even justify their existence? The only possible way to justify what they had done was to try to demonize the Catholic Church, in order to "prove" that they were doing the right thing in the eyes of GOD.*

One tactic that they use in a demonic attack, is to falsely accuse the Catholic Church of Paganism.

**There are now over 36,400 non-Catholic ecclesial communities as of 2003. This is an increase of 2580 in just two years over the 33,820 reported in 2001, by the World Christian Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication.*

---

The meaning of Paganism broadly includes all religions other than the true one founded by Jesus Christ, and narrowly, all except Christianity, Judaism, and Mohammedanism. So to put it simply, a Pagan in the narrow sense is one who is not a spiritual descendant of Abraham. By simple deduction, it is obvious that anyone who accuses the Catholic Church of Paganism, will have to prove that the Church is not Christian, and that it was not founded by Jesus Christ. Since the contrary of truth cannot be proven, both conditions are impossible to meet by the accusers.

Here are some of the outlandish charges they have invented over the years:

The Catholic Church which is known as the Roman Catholic Church was founded by the Roman pagan Emperor Constantine, therefore it must be "pagan" since he was pagan. When challenged by Catholics to show "proof" of this charge, they offer the Edict of Milan, issued by Constantine in 313 A.D.. The Edict of Milan says nothing about founding the "Roman" Catholic Church or of any other church. It merely allowed Christianity to practice the faith openly without fear of Roman persecution, which it endured from the time of the crucifixion, for almost 300 years. Genuine historical records show that Emperor Constantine was a pagan when he issued the Edict in 313, and was baptized into the Catholic Church just before he died in 337. Since he was not even a baptized Christian in 313, how could a pagan have founded any Christian church?

The basis of this false charge is the word "Roman" attached to the Catholic Church, and nothing more. I would suggest that perpetrators of this false charge research the origin of the title "Roman Catholic Church". They will find that it was used for the first time about 1200 years after the death of Constantine, by the Anglicans of Henry VIII, who wanted to retain the title "Catholic Church" for themselves.

What better way could the Pagan Roman Empire be converted to Christianity than by GOD implanting His Church within their midst? Isn't this exactly what happened? Rome is now the center of Christianity, thanks to the Catholic Church.

Another one of the false charges of Paganism...

The Catholic Church is a pagan society, and the proof is in the pagan symbols which permeate the entire Church. For one example, they have an Egyptian obelisk, a symbol of a pagan society, being encompassed by the very "arms" of the Vatican, and here is the visible proof..

The truth...

The obelisk is located in the center of St. Peter's Square in Rome. It is 83 feet high and weighs 331 tons. Detractors invariably only give half of the story while conveniently omitting the parts which destroy their false charges right from the start.

Well, here is the rest of the story of this obelisk which they purposely omit:

This obelisk is not inscribed, which is unusual because almost all obelisks were inscribed to honor the Pharaoh of the time. Because of this, no one knows from where it originally came or who created it. History shows that Emperor Augustus Caesar (27 B.C-14 A.D) had it erected in the Julian Forum in Alexandria, where it remained until 37 A.D.. In that year Emperor Caligula (Caius Caesar) had it moved to the Circus in Rome.

It is known that in the Roman Circus, many Christians including St. Peter were martyred.

At the end of the 16th century, Pope Sixtus V (1585-1590) decided to use obelisks as markers for pilgrims who visited Rome. He had them placed in front of major Basilicas so that they might be visible from afar. He directed that this obelisk, pictured below, was to be re-erected in the colonnaded square in front of the Basilica of St. Peter, where it remains to this day. He Christianized it by having a bronze cross mounted on the top. On the base of the cross is inscribed, "Behold the Cross of the Lord! Depart ye hostile powers! The Lion of the tribe of Judah hath prevailed! Christ conquers, Christ is King, Christ is Emperor! May Christ protect His people from all evil!"

It is a fitting tribute to St. Peter. No doubt it was one of the last things the first Bishop of Rome must have seen before his martyrdom. The obelisk represents the triumph of Christianity over the paganism from which the obelisk came, and this is one of many in Rome.

Here is a closer look showing that it has no inscriptions, and the cross is seen at the very top.

Besides the many obelisks still in Egypt, there are others scattered around the world. They are in London, Dorset, and Durham, in England, Paris France, Istanbul Turkey, Florence, Rome, and Urbino, in Italy, and in our own United States in Central Park in New York City. Also there is the Washington Monument in our national capitol of Washington D.C.. Although it is not of Egyptian origin, it certainly was patterned after Egyptian obelisks. Does this mean that all of these countries worship pagan gods? Well, those who say the Catholic Church does, will have a hard time convincing the masses in those countries that they do as well.

---

Here is the obelisk on display in Central Park in the center of New York City. Note the inscriptions impressed upon it. It is called Cleopatra's Needle and is a twin of another one in London. Do all New Yorkers and Londoners worship pagan gods simply because they display these obelisks? I would have to say, that the detractors of the Catholic Church would be forced to say "yes" wouldn't you agree?

---

Here is another completely false and baseless charge of Paganism...

The Catholic Church worships the sun or the pagan sun god Ra, because of its many depictions of sun bursts in monstrances, in the domes of basilicas, iconography, halos, and in all forms of art.

And now comes "the rest of the story", as Paul Harvey would say...

Most people, when looking at the underside of a dome such as the dome of St. Peter's Basilica, see a circle with supporting members radiating out in all directions, an architectural feature of most domes.

Non-Catholic accusers of pagan worship see it as just another symbol of the sun.

The picture above is of a monstrance, and in the center is the Blessed Sacrament. Many monstrances have radiating lines for all 360 degrees around the center, and they do remind us of a sunburst, and for a very good reason.

Those who make these charges claim to know the Bible, when in fact they do not, for in the "sun" is depicted the "SON" in glory and brightness.

"The heavens are telling the glory of God; and the firmament proclaims his handiwork. Day to day pours forth speech, and night to night declares knowledge. There is no speech, nor are there words; their voice is not heard; yet their voice goes out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them he has set a tent for the sun, which comes forth like a bridegroom leaving his chamber, and like a strong man runs its course with joy. Its rising is from the end of the heavens, and its circuit to the end of them; and there is nothing hid from its heat."

Psalms 19:2-7

The tent or tabernacle was the dwelling place of GOD, and of course the bridegroom prefigures Jesus Christ.

"For the Lord God is a sun and a shield, he bestows favor and honor. No good thing does the Lord withhold from those who walk uprightly."

Psalms 84:11

"But unto you that fear my name, the Sun of justice shall arise, and health in his wings."

Malachi 4:2

Did you notice that the word, "Sun", is capitalized? Is it a misspelling of "Son", or is it on purpose?

This verse is a clear reference to the second person of the Holy Trinity as figured by the Sun.

I have just listed two clear verses which symbolize GOD as the Sun. Now why do those who accuse the Catholic Church of pagan sun worship ignore what Scripture clearly has said?

"Once for all I have sworn by my holiness; I will not lie to David. His line shall endure for ever, his throne as long as the sun before me."

Psalms 89:35-36

"So they shall fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun; for he will come like a rushing stream, which the wind of the Lord drives. And he will come to Zion as Redeemer, to those in Jacob who turn from transgression, says the Lord."

Isaiah 59:19-20

"The sun shall be no more your light by day, nor for brightness shall the moon give light to you by night; but the Lord will be your everlasting light, and your God will be your glory. Your sun shall no more go down, nor your moon withdraw itself; for the Lord will be your everlasting light, and your days of mourning shall be ended."

Isaiah 60:19-20

"Thus says the Lord, who gives the sun for light by day and the fixed order of the moon and the stars for light by night, who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar— the Lord of hosts is his name..."

Jeremiah 31:35

"And he brought me into the inner court of the house of the Lord; and behold, at the door of the temple of the Lord, between the porch and the altar, were about twenty-five men, with their backs to the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the east, worshiping the sun toward the east."

Ezekiel 8:16

The East, the direction of the sunrise, has great significance in Scripture...

"Afterward he brought me to the gate, the gate facing east. And behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the east; and the sound of his coming was like the sound of many waters; and the earth shone with his glory. And the vision I saw was like the vision which I had seen when he came to destroy the city, and like the vision which I had seen by the river Chebar; and I fell upon my face. As the glory of the Lord entered the temple by the gate facing east, the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, the glory of the Lord filled the temple."

Ezekiel 43:1-5

"And those to encamp before the tabernacle on the east, before the tent of meeting toward the sunrise, were Moses and Aaron and his sons, having charge of the rites within the sanctuary, whatever had to be done for the people of Israel; and any one else who came near was to be put to death."

Numbers 3:38. See also Isaiah 41:2, 43:5, and Ezekiel 11:23,46:12.

"Where is he who has been born king of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the East, and have come to worship him... When they had heard the king they went their way; and lo, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came to rest over the place where the child was."

Matthew 2:2,9

"For as the lightning comes from the east and shines as far as the west, so will be the coming of the Son of man."

Matthew 24:27

We shall look to the East where the sun rises, and the Son also rises.

"And you, child, will be called prophet of the Most High, for you will go before the Lord to prepare his ways, to give his people knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins, because of the tender mercy of our God by which the daybreak from on high will visit us to shine on those who sit in darkness and death's shadow, to guide our feet into the path of peace."

Luke 1:76-79

"In that day there will be five cities in the land of Egypt which speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the Lord of hosts. One of these will be called the City of the Sun. In that day there will be an altar to the Lord in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar to the Lord at its border."

Isaiah 19:18-19

The City of the Sun in Egypt was Heliopolis, located north of modern Cairo. Helio is the Greek word for 'sun'. Heliopolis was the center of worship for the Egyptian sun god Ra until about 2100 B.C.. Heliopolis is about 100 miles from Alexandria, which saw Christianity rise through the efforts of St. Mark. Alexandria spawned theologians Clement of Alexandria, and Origen. It was governed by several Catholic Bishops such as Athanasius and Cyril.

"And those who are wise shall shine like the brightness of the firmament; and those who turn many to righteousness, like the stars for ever and ever."

Daniel 12:3

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean oblation, for my name is great among the Gentiles, says the Lord of hosts."

Malachi 1:11

"So perish all thine enemies, O Lord! But thy friends be like the sun as he rises in his might."

Judges 5:31

"Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear."

Matthew 13:43

"And he was transfigured before them, and his face shone like the sun, and his garments became white as light."

Matthew 17:2

"It was now about the sixth hour, and there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour, while the sun's light failed; and the curtain of the temple was torn in two. Then Jesus, crying with a loud voice, said, "Father, into thy hands I commit my spirit!" And having said this he breathed his last."

Luke 23:44-46

Did you see the message here? The sun's light failed...The Son, the light of the world, died.

"And very early on the first day of the week they went to the tomb when the sun had risen."

Mark 16:2

In this verse is yet another connection which many miss. The sun had risen, and on a Sunday... The Son had risen, and on a Sunday.

"At midday, O king, I saw on the way a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, shining round me and those who journeyed with me."

Acts 26:13

"In his right hand he held seven stars, from his mouth issued a sharp two-edged sword, and his face was like the sun shining in full strength."

Revelation 1:16

"Then I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven, wrapped in a cloud, with a rainbow over his head, and his face was like the sun, and his legs like pillars of fire."

Revelation 10:1

"And a great portent appeared in heaven, a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars."

Revelation 12:1

"Then I saw an angel standing in the sun, and with a loud voice he called to all the birds that fly in midheaven, "Come, gather for the great supper of God...""

Revelation 19:17

"The people that walked in darkness, have seen a great light. To them that dwelt in the region of the shadow of death, light is risen"

Isaiah 9:2

"Again Jesus spoke to them, saying, "I am the light of the world; he who follows me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

John 8:12

Just as the physical sun casts off physical darkness, so does the spiritual Son cast off spiritual darkness.

"I have come as light into the world, that whoever believes in me may not remain in darkness."

John 12:46

"I Jesus have sent my angel to you with this testimony for the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, the bright morning star."

Revelation 22:16

"And I saw no temple in the city, for its temple is the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb. And the city has no need of sun or moon to shine upon it, for the glory of God is its light, and its lamp is the Lamb. By its light shall the nations walk; and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory into it."

Revelation 21:22-24

"And night shall be no more; they need no light of lamp or sun, for the Lord God will be their light, and they shall reign for ever and ever."

Revelation 22:5

The light of the sun in this life, is replaced by the light of the Son in the next.

After absorbing the meaning of all of these verses, what was that false charge again?

It seems to have been evaporated by the sun = Son connection throughout the Bible, hasn't it?

As a final note on this subject of "pagan" sun worship, here is a picture of the birthplace of Jesus Christ.

Notice that the exact spot where Jesus the Christ was born is marked as a sunburst, or a star, of which the sun is!

Now what do those who say, the Catholic Church "worships" the pagan sun god, have to say about this holy place?

---

The Ankh...

The first cross was the Egyptian Ankh, sometimes called an ansate cross. It was a pagan Egyptian symbol of eternal life. Kings, Queens and "God's" were the only ones who were allowed to carry it.

Now, for all of those who venerate the cross of Jesus Christ, are they venerating a pagan symbol? Those who accuse Catholics of pagan worship cannot have it both ways.

---

"Let no one deceive you with empty words, for it is because of these things that the wrath of God comes upon the sons of disobedience. Therefore do not associate with them, for once you were darkness, but now you are light in the Lord; walk as children of light (for the fruit of light is found in all that is good and right and true), and try to learn what is pleasing to the Lord. Take no part in the unfruitful works of darkness, but instead expose them. For it is a shame even to speak of the things that they do in secret; but when anything is exposed by the light it becomes visible, for anything that becomes visible is light. Therefore it is said, "Awake, O sleeper, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give you light." Ephesians 5:6-14

"But these men, like irrational animals created by nature for capture and destruction, deride what they do not understand, and will perish in their own corruption, receiving thereby the recompense of their wrongdoing."

Two Extremely Simple Questions

For Non-Catholics to Answer.

---

They are about as basic as you can get, and are both extremely important for your salvation. If they are so simple and are so basic, why then do non-Catholics refuse to answer them?

Why don't you be the first to answer them with the truth?

Question #1:

Every church on earth had a founder with a name.

Please name the founder of the Catholic Church? No guesses please, or personal opinions, just the facts.

Backup your answer with genuine historical documents and/or Bible verse(s).

---

Question #2:

After studying this page, please show me the Bible verse(s) which gave authority to anyone to found another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded?

---

Here are a few hints to make it even easier for anyone to come up with the correct answers:

For Question #1:

Acts 8:1-3,

"And at that time, there was raised a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem. And they were all dispersed through the countries of Judea, and Samaria, except the apostles. And devout men took order for Stephen's funeral and made great mourning over him. But Saul made havock of the church, entering in from house to house: and dragging away men and women, committed them to prison."

So here we have Saul making havoc of the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

It is obvious that Saul knew almost nothing about who the founder of that Church really was, or else he would not have been persecuting it.

Acts 9:1-5,

"And Saul, as yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest and asked of him letters to Damascus, to the synagogues: that if he found any men and women of this way, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem. And as he went on his journey, it came to pass that he drew nigh to Damascus. And suddenly a light from heaven shined round about him. And falling on the ground, he heard a voice saying to him: Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? Who said: Who art thou, Lord? And he: I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. It is hard for thee to kick against the goad."

So, Saul thought he was persecuting the Church that Jesus Christ founded, when in fact he was persecuting its founder.

Saul found out the hard way. Do you wish to find out the hard way also?

When you stand before Jesus Christ in judgment, do you think He might ask you the same question that He asked Saul?

"(substitute your name here) why persecutest thou me?"

I strongly suggest that you who persecute the Catholic Church had better find out who founded it, that is if you value your salvation at all.

---

For Question #2:

Read these verses in your Bible:

Psalms 127:1, 1Corinthians 3:11, John 10:1-2, John 10:16, 1Peter 4:17, 2Peter 2:1, 1Corinthians 14:33, Luke 11:23, 2John 1:9, and Romans 10:15.

---

Now who will be the first non-Catholic to give me truthful answers to these two ever so simple and basic questions?

Note! The date as I add this note is April 4, 2014.

The date of this page is January 19, 2008.

It has been over 6 years and not a single non-Catholic has attempted to answer these two very simple questions.

That silence alone speaks volumes, does it not?

 **Back to Defenders.....**

The Roman Church of Constantine...

---

The Roman Catholic Church was founded by the Roman Emperor, Constantine, in 313 A.D.???

---

That is what some anti-Catholics will tell you.

When you ask them for "proof" of what they say, they will refer to the "Edict of Milan" issued by Emperor Constantine in 313 A.D.

---

This false charge is riddled with errors. Let us examine them one at a time...

---

1. They use faulty reasoning by saying that since the Catholic Church is called the "Roman Catholic Church", it must have been founded by a Roman Emperor, namely Constantine. They point to the "Edict of Milan", issued in 313 A.D., as "proof". Now if anyone would just read the "Edict" for themselves, they would find that it merely gave Christianity the freedom to practice the faith openly and with no fear of persecution from the Romans. After all, for centuries Christians were persecuted mercilessly by the Romans from the very beginning. It was the Romans who nailed Jesus Christ to the cross and it was a Roman soldier who thrust a spear into His side. Do you recall the Roman Circus and all of those hungry lions?

Nothing at all is said in the "Edict" about Constantine founding the "Catholic Church", which is not even mentioned by name in the document, and the persons who perpetrate this false charge cannot provide any other genuine historical document which supports it.

2. Their second error is the fact that the term, "Roman Catholic", was not even coined until about 1200 years later in the 16th century, by Protestant reformers, especially Anglicans, because they wanted to retain the name "Catholic" for themselves.

---

3. Their third error is their failure to read, and to accept, the documents of the Church Fathers and other Church writers. Hundreds of these documents clearly contain the words "Catholic Church", and are dated from 107 A.D. That date is hundreds of years before Constantine's "Edict" was issued. Genuine historical writings in which the words "Catholic Church" appear, are in every century from 107, up to and beyond the Reformation, and to this very day.

The sheer volume of these genuine historical documents is so overwhelming, that it is a continuity that cannot be denied.

Saint Augustine alone, mentioned the Catholic Church by name over 300 times in his writings. Just to mention a few more, so did Saint Athanasius and Saint Jerome mentioned the Catholic Church by name many times. These are just three examples out of scores of early authors.

---

4. Their fourth error is in trying to show that the "Catholic Church", and the "Roman Catholic Church", are two different Churches, when in fact they are one and the same.

---

5. Their fifth error is their interpretation of, for example, the Russian Catholic Church, the Ukrainian Catholic Church, etc. They try to show divisions such as Roman, Russian, Ukrainian etc. They fail to realize that there are many Catholics in these, and many other countries, and they are not separate Catholic Churches, but are united to the one Holy Catholic Church. The names just distinguish them from the Orthodox Churches in those countries. It would be proper to say, "the Catholic Church in Russia, the Catholic Church in Ukraine", etc..

---

6. Their sixth error is tagged to the first error in that anti-Catholics try to peg the Catholic Church as an

"apostate"* or a "Pagan Church", since they charge that it "was founded" by the pagan Roman Emperor Constantine. If the detractors insist on this false charge, then they will have to admit that the very Bible which they all use, came from that same "apostate" or "pagan" Church, and it was provided by that Church scores of years after Constantine died.

*Calling the Catholic Church an "apostate Church" is tantamount to calling Jesus Christ a liar (1John 5:10), for Jesus promised in Matthew 28:20, that He would be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, and with no gaps. He also promised that the Holy Spirit would be with His Church forever, in John 14:16-17, and that His Church is the final authority, in Matthew 18:17, and that He would not orphan His Church, in John 14:18. Saint Paul wrote in Ephesians that, "Just as Christ is head of the Church, being Himself savior of the body." Ephesians 5:21

Now who or what is the Body of Christ? It is His Church. Ephesians 1:22-23

So since Jesus Christ is the Savior of His Church, could it ever become an "apostate Church"?

Saint Paul also said that it is the Church which is the "pillar and foundation of the truth", in 1Timothy 3:15. He did not say it was the Bible.

So someone please tell me then, how the Church which Jesus Christ founded could ever apostatize?

---

7. Their seventh error is in failing to read the history of Constantine (285-337) which is quite interesting, as he was a pagan Roman Emperor who was baptized into the Catholic Church just before he died in 337. If he had founded the Catholic Church in 313 as some claim, then why did he wait until 337 before joining it? How could he have founded a Church to which he did not belong? How could a non-baptized pagan found a Christian Church? Who would join it?

His mother was Saint Helena who journeyed to the Holy Land in search of the true Cross of Christ. She found it in a miraculous way, but that in itself is yet another interesting story.

Scandals Within the Catholic Church...

---

Why are there so many scandals within the Catholic Church?

---

Sexual misconduct charges brought against Catholic priests have generated big media headlines and the detractors and haters of the Catholic Church are having a field day, temporarily. I said "temporarily" because of the record of survivability of the Catholic Church for almost two millennia, and of the "person" who is its head.

But before continuing, let us put this particular scandal into its proper context.

1. The Catholic Church is more than four times as large as all of non-Catholic Christianity combined. Since 1950 the Church in the United States has had 109,694 priests. During that time period of over fifty years, 4392 (as reported in February 2004) were accused of molesting minors, or about four percent. Remember, that number is the total number of those charged and not the number of those found guilty. We can not be so naive as to ignore the fact that many of those are false charges and were brought about by greed in hopes of gaining a monetary settlement. We remember the person who falsely accused the Archbishop of Chicago and who later dropped the charge, saying that he had lied. Keep in mind that those allegedly charged with pedophilia are a small minority of the total charged.

Keep in mind also that these figures did not come about all at once recently, but are spread out as far back as 1950, over 50 years ago. Some of the accused priests were discharged by the Church decades ago and hundreds of others have since passed away, making any defense in their behalf an impossibility.

Remember, we could not have had Jesus Christ as a Savior without also having a Judas to betray Him.

2. These supposed sexual abuse problems are not a Catholic clergy monopoly, as the guilty are in all non-Catholic Christian denominations as well. Recent figures have shown that an average of 3500 religious in non-Catholic sects are charged similarly every year. What with tens of thousands of individual Christian sects in the world today, these abuses do not receive the attention given to the Catholic Church by the media.

Some of the tens of thousands of non-Catholic sects openly acknowledge that they "ordain" homosexual ministers. How many of those would you suppose are pedophiles?

However, it is the Catholic Church which has always been the "bulls-eye" of the target of detractors since its very beginning almost 2000 years ago. The liberal media have a tendency not to sensationalize scandals in Protestantism and they do just the reverse for the Catholic Church. They have put the Catholic Church under a microscope, looking for any possible aberration which they take great pride in blowing all out of proportion.

Didn't Jesus say, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone..."?

John 8:7

3. From the figures I have listed above, the great majority of Catholic priests who are not part of this scandal, are looked upon as guilty until proven innocent, instead of the other way around as it is in the secular world. What kind of compassion for the great majority of innocent priests is espoused by the liberal media, and by those individual non-Catholics who enjoy attacking the Catholic Church? It appears that all Catholic priests are being treated with suspicion. Is that being Christ-like? Is this fair to the innocent who are the vast majority?

4. Do we condemn all executives of large corporations because of the alleged actions of those of a few? Do we condemn all of Islam because of the actions of some militants?

5. Do we condemn Peter because of Judas?

6. Jesus Himself sat at table with sinners. That is a sign that all are welcome to His table.

"And as he sat at table in the house, behold, many tax collectors and came and sat down with Jesus and his disciples. And when the Pharisees saw this, they said to his disciples, "Why does your teacher eat with tax collectors and sinners?" But when he heard it, he said, "Those who are well have no need of a physician, but those who are sick. Go and learn what this means, 'I desire mercy, and not sacrifice.' For I came not to call the righteous, but sinners."

Matthew 9:10-13

The Catholic Church is, and has always been a hospital for sinners, and not a hotel for saints (Mark 2:17). The visible Catholic Church is populated by fallible human beings, and all have sinned.

Romans 3:23,5:12.

Didn't Saint John say, "If we say that we have not sinned, we make Him a liar, and His word is not in us"?

1John 1:10

The purpose of the Catholic Church is to make saints in heaven out of sinners on earth.

Contrast that with some Protestant sects who claim, "once saved always saved". That statement really means, "we can sin as much as we want because we are already saved". If anyone claims that they are saved in this life, aren't they really proclaiming themselves as being saints already?

7. Those who relish attacking the Catholic Church are guilty of all of the following:

A. "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone..."?

John 8:7

B. "Do not be a stumbling block to Jews and to Greeks and to the Church of God..."

1Corinthians 10:32

C. "I am the least of the Apostles, and am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God."

1Corinthians 15:9

D. "But these people, like irrational animals born by nature for capture and destruction, revile things that they do not understand, and in their destruction they will also be destroyed."

2Peter 2:12

E. "Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am your GOD. I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of My Just One hath upheld thee*.

Behold all that fight against thee** shall be confounded*** and ashamed, as they shall be as nothing****, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

Isaiah 41:10-11

*The "Just One" has upheld His Church every day in every century for almost 2000 years.

Matthew 28:20.

**These are the attackers of the Catholic Church, past, present, and future, until the end of time.

***Split into more than 37,000 pieces as Protestantism is today, with more pieces added weekly.

****Psalms 127:1

---

So why are there so many scandals in the Catholic Church?

Simply because Holy Scripture tells us that there will be scandals within the only Church which Jesus Christ founded. If there were no scandals, then Holy Scripture would be in error, would it not? So how can anyone become upset when scandals do arise within the Church?

"Woe to the world because of scandals! For it must needs be that scandals come, but woe to the man through whom scandal does come!"

Matthew 18:7

And He said to His disciples, "It is impossible that scandals should not come; but woe to him through whom they come."

Luke 17:1"

In the time that Jesus walked the earth, there was the greatest human scandalizer of all time, Judas. Judas was one of twelve chosen by Jesus Christ Himself, so what was the scandal rate among Christ's closest disciples? It was about 8 1/2 %.

"From the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven has suffered violence, and men of violence take it by force."

Matthew 11:12

"Woe to you when all men speak well of you, for so their fathers did to the false prophets."

Luke 6:26"

"Blessed are you when men revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so men persecuted the prophets who were before you."

Matthew 5:11-12

---

A comparison between Jesus Christ and His Mystical Body. He is the head and His Church is His body (Ephesians 1:22-23). You cannot separate the head from the body. They are one.

What happens to the one, must also happen to the other.

Reference to Jesus Christ is the first of the lines following, and to His Body, the Catholic Church, the second.

They rebelled against His Authority.

They rebel against its Authority. 2Peter 2:10

They said Crucify Him, Matthew 27:23.

Heretics have been trying to crucify it for 2000 years.

He is called Beelzebub, Matthew 10:25.

They call it the Church of Satan.

They said he is a false messiah, Luke 22:70-71.

They say it is a false church.

He called Himself the Son of GOD.

It claims it was founded by GOD, Matthew 16:18.

He called Himself Truth, John 14:6.

It claims to be infallible, 1Timothy 3:15.

He called Himself King, John 18:37.

It says it is the only true Church, Matthew 16:18.

He could not sin.

It has no spot or wrinkle, Ephesians 5:27.

He was not believed by many, Luke 22:67.

It is not believed by many.

He was denied by many, Luke 22:57-60.

It is denied by many.

He was derided, not being understood.

It is derided, not being understood, 2Peter 2:12.

Not understanding Him, they walked away, John 6:66.

Not understanding it, they walked away.

He had many false accusers, Mark 14:56-59.

It has many false accusers.

He was mocked, Luke 23:35-37.

It is mocked.

He was scandalized, Luke 17:1-2.

It is scandalized.

He was hated without a cause, John 15:18-25.

It is hated without a cause.

His accuser, Judas, died, Matthew 27:5.

Its accusers die, but still, the Church lives on to bury its accusers.

His enemies would stumble and fall, John 18:6.

Its enemies stumble and fall.

We have no king but Caesar, John 19:15.

We have no need of it, as we have the Bible.

Can anything good come out of Nazareth? John 1:46.

Can anything good come from Rome?

They cried out, "Not this one but Barabbas", John 15:18-25.

It is also rejected by the world.

He bore His Cross, John 19:17.

It bears a cross also, the cross of persecution for almost 2000 years.

He died on the Cross, John 19:30.

It has thousands of martyrs, many on crosses.

---

"If the world hates you, know that it has hated me before it hated you. If you were of the world, the world would love its own; but because you are not of the world, but I chose you out of the world, therefore the world hates you."

John 15:18-19

The Catholic Church is certainly not of the world, for it is:

A City set on a Mountain, Matthew 5:14.

A Dwelling Place for GOD, Ephesians 2:22.

A Spiritual House, 1Peter 2:5.

GOD's Building, 1Corinthians 3:9.

Mount Zion, Psalms 2:6, Micah 4:7, Hebrews 12:22.

My Church, Matthew 16:18.

Our Mother, Galatians 4:26.

The Bride of Christ, Joel 2:16, John 3:29, Revelation 21:2.

The Body of Christ, Ephesians 1:22-23, Colossians 1:24.

The Church of GOD, Acts 20:28.

The Church of the Firstborn, Hebrews 12:23.

The City of the Living GOD, Hebrews 12:22.

The City of Truth, Zechariah 8:3.

The Congregation of Saints, Psalms 149:1.

The Daughter of the King, Psalms 45:13.

The dispenser of the Wisdom of GOD, Ephesians 3:7-11.

The final authority of GOD on earth, Matthew 18:15-18.

The Fold of Christ, John 10:16.

The Heavenly Jerusalem, Galatians 4:26.

The Holy City, Revelation 21:2.

The Holy Mountain, Zechariah 8:3.

The House of Christ, Hebrews 3:6.

The House of GOD, 1Timothy 3:15, Hebrews 10:21.

The Household of GOD, Ephesians 2:19.

The Kingdom of GOD, Luke 4:43.

The Kingdom of Heaven, Matthew 13:31.

The Lamb's Spouse, Revelation 19:7,21:9

The New Jerusalem, Isaiah 65:18, Revelation 3:12,21:2.

The Pillar and Foundation of Truth, 1Timothy 3:15

Since the Catholic Church is the Body of Christ, it must experience the same passion as He did. He was persecuted and calumnized unjustly, and so must His Church suffer the same trials.

The persecutors and calumnizers should realize that when they attack the Catholic Church, they are really attacking its founder, Jesus Christ Himself.

In rejecting His Church, they are in fact, rejecting Him.

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work, is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against God."

Acts 5:38-39

If only the attackers and detractors of the Catholic Church would stop ignoring these verses and heed the very important message they present. They might then notice that no man-made institution could possibly have lasted for 2000 years, while at the same time having to endure the unending attacks of constant slings and arrows from countless heretics and from all quarters.

Now you please tell me, just who is protecting the Catholic Church?

Almost 2000 years later, His ONE and ONLY Church lives and is stronger than ever.

No matter how hard the persecutors try, His Kingdom will last forever,
Daniel 7:14, Hebrews 1:8.

His Church will last until the end of the world as promised by Him in Matthew 28:20.

Anyone who does not believe what He has promised has called Him a liar.

"BEHOLD, I HAVE GIVEN YOU POWER TO TREAD UPON SERPENTS AND SCORPIONS, AND OVER ALL THE MIGHT OF THE ENEMY; AND NOTHING SHALL HURT YOU."

Luke 10:19

*Et Tu Brute?**

It's an "Inside" Job...

---

In the almost 2000 year history of the Catholic Church, genuine historical records show that in every century, it has been under non-stop brutal attack from all directions by dissidents, heretics, and apostates who wish to destroy her.

These persecutions were foretold by Jesus Christ Himself, in Matthew 5:11-12, Luke 6:26, and in many other verses. These attacks were from the very beginning, and started within the inner circle of the chosen Apostles, by the traitor named Judas.

Then came the attacks from the Jews.

Look what happened to them instead!

Jerusalem and the Jewish temple were destroyed, a million or so Jews were slain, as the records show, and every Jewish priest was slain by the Romans in 70 A.D..

Judaism was almost completely destroyed.

Why did the Jews fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

Then came the Romans who burned Christians at the stake and fed them to the lions. Roman Emperors such as Nero and Diocletian, backed by the most powerful army the world had ever seen, did everything they could to destroy the Catholic Church, and yet they failed. Why did they fail? Instead, they in turn and their evil empire with them, were destroyed in 476 A.D..

Their pagan society, their country Italy, and with it Rome, the capitol of the world, were converted to Catholic Christianity instead.

*Why did the Romans fail to destroy the Catholic Church? Did the Church have a larger, more powerful army with more weapons, or was there yet an infinitely much more important reason**?*

Scores of various heretical and apostate beliefs also sprang up. Just to name a few, there were Nestorians, Arians, Vandals, Moslems, Waldenses, Albigensians, Catharists, Protestantism, the French Revolution, Modernism, New Age, Nazism, Communism, Dissidents, and now Secular Humanism, Fundamentalism, Relativism, Indifferentism, and Hedonism. There are many more heretical and apostate groups and beliefs of every kind that you can imagine, which are not listed here.

Interestingly, the most damaging heretical, apostate, and schismatic attacks came from within the Catholic Church itself, and they have appeared to run roughly on a 500 year cycle.

Why did these hundreds of heretical groups over the centuries fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

Some non-Catholics teach that the Church which Jesus Christ founded apostatized soon after the last Apostle died. However they can offer no date of this so-called "Great Apostasy", nor can they provide any documented "proof" of what they falsely charge. Did in fact, the church which Jesus Christ founded apostatize? Could it ever?

I wish someone who makes this false charge would show me the verse which says the whole Church which Jesus Christ founded did or would apostatize? If in your opinion you think it did, then you have just called Jesus Christ a liar (1John 5:10), for He promised to be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, and with no 1500 year gaps, not even one single day.

He said this in Matthew 28:20. He promised His Holy Spirit would be with His Church forever in John 14:16, and John 16:12-13. We have the promise of Ephesians 3:21 also.

If you really believe what Holy Scripture says, then you must realize that it is impossible that the Church, which Jesus Christ founded, could apostatize. It is simply because GOD said it could not, because He Himself is guiding it and defending it.

However, people within His Church certainly could, and have apostatized. Down through every century since the very beginning there were many great apostasies and heresies, and a few schisms.

All of the verses which mention apostasy, have relation to individual apostates and not to the Church as a whole. Here are just a few examples, Matthew 13:21,24:24, Luke 22:31, John 6:66, Galatians 1:6-10, 2Thesalonians 2:3, 1Timothy 1:19-20,4:1, 2Timothy 1:15,4:1-4, Hebrews 3:12, Hebrews 6:4-8,10:26-29, 2Peter 2:20-21, 3:17, 1John 2:19, Jude 1:5. There is not one verse that refers to the whole Church, which Jesus Christ founded, as having gone into apostasy.

1. Arius, a Catholic Bishop, started the most dangerous heresy of all time by proclaiming that Jesus Christ was a human person, and not a divine person. The Church was split down the middle with many Bishops taking the position of Arius.

Why did "insider" Arius fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

2. The next great "drubbing" was when the Catholic Patriarch of Constantinople refused to accept the primacy of the successor to Saint Peter, the Pope, and a schism resulted with the Eastern Churches splitting from the Catholic Church. Those became a loose consortium of Churches called the Orthodox Churches. Some of these today are in communion with the Western Pope, while a few others, like Protestantism, have no all encompassing centralized authority.

Why did the "insider" schism fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

3. 500 or so years later a Catholic priest by the name of Martin Luther broke away from the Catholic Church and became the first Protestant by forming the Lutherans. Within that same year, 1521, another Catholic priest, Thomas Munzer broke from the Catholic Church and formed the Anabaptists. Less than 20 years later a very staunch Catholic and anti-Protestant, King Henry VIII of England, who had been given the title of "Defender of the Church" because of his stand against Luther, broke from the Catholic Church and formed the Anglicans.

He was angered at the Pope for not giving him an annulment so he could marry yet another woman.

Why did "insider" Protestantism fail to destroy the Catholic Church? Protestantism instead, is becoming more and more impotent, and is destroying itself as did the Roman Empire. It is imploding, while at the same time the Catholic Church continues to grow at a rapid rate.

Why did the "insider" Catholics who started Protestantism fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

4. Now another almost 500 years has passed since the so-called reformation, and the Catholic Church has yet another "drubbing" from within, precipitated by alleged charges of pedophile priests.

Did not Jesus Christ say, "...and a man's enemies shall be they of his own household."

Matthew 10:36

From this, the Church can reasonably expect another possible "sawtooth" with this latest attack, followed by another and greater growth as never experienced before. People fail to realize that the Catholic Church has two sides to it, the divine side which has no spot nor wrinkle (Ephesians 5:27), and the human side, which, tainted by the sin of Adam, as is all of mankind, is the reason why we have a Church given to us by GOD in the first place.

Why will this "insider" attack fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

The Church was founded by Jesus Christ for the salvation of sinners of which we all are.

The Catholic Church has always been a hospital for sinners and not a hotel for saints (Mark 2:17).

"If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us."

1John 1:10

I would say that verse applies to every person on earth wouldn't you? Here is a companion verse: Didn't Jesus say, "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone...?"

John 8:7

Now, if 1John 1:10 applies to everybody on earth, then John 8:7 should apply to nobody on earth. For that to be true, then I ask you, why then are so many stones being cast at the Catholic Church, and just who is he who is so vain as to think he is qualified to throw them?

Why will insiders fail to destroy the Catholic Church?

As history clearly shows, "insider" attacks have proven to be a complete and total disaster for each and every one of those who incite them.

Interestingly, Napoleon Bonaparte, a staunch and powerful enemy of the Catholic Church, had sworn to destroy it once and for all. A captured Catholic Bishop knowing Napoleon's goal, told him, "What makes you think you can destroy the Catholic Church, for we who are within the Church itself, have failed to do so?"

I am sure the good Bishop must have said this with tongue in cheek.

Where is Napoleon Bonaparte today? What happened to his empire? Where is the Catholic Church?

Adolf Hitler, who might have won World War II with his powerful war machine, also vowed to destroy the Catholic Church. He did have thousands of Catholic priests and nuns put to death. Where is Adolf Hitler today? What happened to his empire? Where is the Catholic Church today?

Then there is Joseph Stalin, an avowed atheist, and yet another hater of the Catholic Church. He too said he would destroy the Catholic Church and he too failed. Where is he today? Where is his communistic atheistic empire? Where is the Catholic Church today?

---

History of the Catholic Church for the past almost 2000 years since its founding by Jesus Christ:

The horizontal line represents historical time. The toothed pattern represents the growth of the Catholic Church over this time period with a "sawtooth" drop roughly every 500 years. Notice that after each of these "bites" were taken out of the Church by "insiders" the growth of the Church, after a short period of time, was even greater than ever before. Today the Catholic Church has 1.1 billion members, despite all of the centuries of non-stop attacks from within and from without.

*How would you account for this***?*

Roughly every 500 years since its founding by Jesus Christ in 30 A.D., the Catholic Church has experienced a severe "drubbing" by heretics, apostates, or schismatics from within its ranks. Afterwards it has always shown a growth pattern which was larger, faster, and stronger than ever.

*Why did all of these "Et tu Brute* insiders" fail to destroy the Catholic Church?*

After all, any man-made secular institution no doubt would have succumbed centuries ago from any single one of these vicious attacks.

The answer to all of the "whys" and "hows", for which I have asked in this document, is in Holy Scripture:

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work, is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD.."

Acts 5:38-39

It is too bad that those who continue to attack the Catholic Church have deliberately ignored the historical evidence of the failures of others like them before them, and the clear connection to these two verses.

And of course they never could see themselves as being participants in the last sentence of Acts 5:39.

The reason for that is found in other verses in Holy Scripture:

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness."

2Thessalonians 2:9-12

Could it be that every 500 years or so, we have witnessed GOD at work, busily cleaning the human side of His Church, pulling out the weeds, blowing away the chaff, and pruning fruitless branches?

Have you ever heard of winnowing? It is an ancient and simple process by which the wheat (good) is separated from the chaff (undesirable) by means of the wind.

A dictionary says regarding 'winnow', "To separate the wheat from the chaff by means of the wind. To get rid of undesirable components. To blow chaff off and away".

The cut wheat with the chaff together, are tossed to the wind which blows away the lighter chaff, and allows the heavier wheat to fall to the ground, thus separating the good from the bad. Note that the goodness of the wheat, harder to see when commingled with the chaff, is now pure and stands out. In like manner, GOD allows a "wind" to blow through His Church every now and then in order to separate the faithful from the unfaithful, the good fruit from the rotten fruit, the good fish from the bad fish, and the wheat from the chaff. The goodness of the faithful, now is much more apparent.

In the Old Testament the temple was cleansed of undesirables, 2Chron 29:16, as was the temple in the New Testament twice, and by Jesus Christ Himself, (2nd time) Matthew 21:12-13, Mark 11:15-17, Luke 19:45-48, (1st time) John 2:14-16.

"Let no one think that virtuous men and good Christians ever leave the bosom of the Church; it is not the wheat that the wind lifts, but the chaff; trees deeply rooted are not blown down by the breeze, but those which have no roots. It is rotten fruits that fall off the trees, not sound ones; bad Catholics become heretics, as sickness is engendered by bad humors. At first, faith languishes in them, because of their vices; then it becomes sick; next it dies; because, since sin is essentially a blindness of spirit, the more a man sins, the more he is blinded; his faith grows weaker and weaker; the light of this divine torch decreases, and soon the least wind of temptation or doubt suffices to extinguish it."

Courageous Catholics Can Cheer Cause Christian Chronicles Confirmed Christ's Communicated Consequences Correctly...

---

Yes, Uhhh, Could You Please Repeat That Again?

---

Catholics! Are you feeling persecuted? The media, as you have no doubt noticed, takes great pride in printing and broadcasting everything it can find, that is of a negative nature regarding the Catholic Church. Many Protestant denominations appear to spend the majority of their time attacking us with hatred and lies, rather than preaching love to their flocks, as Christ commanded all Christians to do. It is ironic, and whether these detractors realize it or not, they are helping all Catholics to salvation by their actions. Here is the proof...

"Woe to you when all men speak well of you."
Luke 6:26

See? If we were not persecuted, where would we be now?
We would surely be in the THROES of the WOES.

---

Want another one?
Okay!

"Blessed are you when men reproach you, and persecute you, and, speaking falsely, say all manner of evil against you, for My sake. Rejoice and exult, BECAUSE YOUR REWARD IS GREAT IN HEAVEN; for so did they persecute the prophets who were before you."
Matthew 5:11-12

---

Here is yet another one for you.

*"No disciple is above his teacher, nor is the servant above his master.
It is enough for the disciple to be like his teacher, and for the servant to be like his master.*

IF THEY HAVE CALLED THE MASTER OF THE HOUSE BEELZEBUB, HOW MUCH MORE THOSE OF HIS HOUSEHOLD!"

Matthew 10:24-25

See? Jesus Christ even gave us a token of what the detractors would say.

---

Here are some more Scriptural examples for you to ponder:

---

*The detractors charge: The Catholic Church has many scandals...
So? Is it not Scriptural that Jesus Christ said this would happen? So what is the problem?
Do they not believe what He said?*

*"Woe to the world because of scandals! For it must needs be that scandals come, but WOE TO THE MAN THROUGH WHOM SCANDAL DOES COME!"

Matthew 18:7

*And He said to His disciples, "It is IMPOSSIBLE THAT SCANDALS SHOULD NOT COME;
BUT WOE TO HIM THROUGH WHOM THEY COME."

Luke 17:1

These are the words of Jesus Christ Himself. Did he say the Church is the source, or the cause of the scandals? No, He said a man (or woman, to be politically correct for the time of the Gospel writing) is.

*Remember, the Catholic Church is not a hotel for saints, it is a hospital for sinners (Mark 2:17).
Hmmm, I seem to recall a certain man named Judas, chosen by Jesus Christ Himself. This man was responsible for the scourging, crucifixion, and death of the creator of the universe. It was the worst possible scandal ever conceived and perpetrated by.....none other than a man.*

The Catholic Church itself is indefectible. It has to be, because it has an indefectible founder.

See Ephesians 5:25-27

---

Detractors charge: The Catholic Church is a cult founded by Satan...

"The father from whom you are is the devil.....When he tells a lie he speaks from his very nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies."

John 8:44

"I write these things to you hoping to come to you shortly, but in order that you may know, if I am delayed, how to conduct yourself in the house of GOD, which is the Church of the Living GOD, the PILLAR AND FOUNDATION OF THE TRUTH."

1Timothy 3:14-15

*Well, since Catholics can show that the Catholic Church is the Church which was founded by Jesus Christ (see the many files I have posted on this website which backup what I say*), it is the "Pillar and Foundation of the Truth". Therefore, how could it possibly be founded by the "father of lies"?*

\ See...*

The Unbroken Line,

The Papacy is Scriptural,

What Church Fathers Had to Say (the whole section),

Authority (the whole section).

Here is another point on the same subject:

But the Pharisees, hearing this, said, "This man does not cast out devils except by Beelzebub, the prince of devils." And knowing their thoughts Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand?"

Matthew 12:24-26. See also, Mark 3:22-26, and Luke 11:17-20.

It is well documented that the Catholic Church has been performing successful exorcisms for many centuries, beginning with Saint Peter in Acts 5:15-16, and Saint Paul in Acts 16:16-18. So, with the above words of Jesus Christ in mind, how has the Catholic Church stood for almost 2000 years, while during that same time period, being successful in casting out Satan innumerable times, if it were a satanic cult? Anyone with common sense and the power to reason can see that this false charge is self defeating.

---

*Detractors charge: The Catholic Church is not the Church which Jesus Christ founded, for that primitive Church apostatized soon after the last Apostle died.
If that is the case then Jesus Christ lied when He said...*

*"I am with you ALL days, even until the end of the world."
Matthew 28:20*

*"...and the gates of hell shall NOT prevail against it."
Matthew 16:18*

*"...and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth..."
John 14:16-17*

*"I will not leave you orphans."
John 14:18*

*"...a husband is head of the wife, just as Christ is head of the Church, BEING HIMSELF SAVIOR OF THE BODY."
Ephesians 5:23*

*Isn't Saint Paul saying that Jesus Christ is the Savior of His Church here?
Well then, just who are the detractors fighting against anyway?
Is there any doubt whatsoever in your mind as to who will win?*

*"He who does not believe the Son, makes Him a liar."
1John 5:10*

*"He who believes in the Son has everlasting life; HE WHO IS UNBELIEVING TOWARDS THE SON SHALL NOT SEE LIFE, BUT THE WRATH OF GOD RESTS UPON HIM."
John 3:36*

*Detractors do not have one shred of evidence to support this false charge. Just ask them for genuine historical documented "proof" of what they say. You will find that they have none whatsoever. However, the Catholic Church has many authentic historical writings, which not only do not mention this so-called "Great Apostasy", but these writings attest to just the opposite. They show a Catholic Church growing and expanding despite the incessant attacks from the Jews, Romans, Heretics, Protestants, and others. ---

*My favorite verse, "What shall we say to these things? If GOD is for us, who is against us?"
Romans 8:31*

---

What does Holy Scripture say will happen to those persecutors and purveyors of falsehood?

*"Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net which was thrown into the sea and gathered fish of every kind; when it was full, men drew it ashore and sat down and sorted the good into vessels but threw away the bad. So it will be at the close of the age. The angels will come out and separate the evil from the righteous, and throw them into the furnace of fire; there men will weep and gnash their teeth."
Matthew 13:47-50*

*"The kingdom of heaven may be compared to a man who sowed good seed in his field; but while men were sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat, and went away. So when the plants came up and bore grain, then the weeds appeared also. And the servants of the householder came and said to him, "Sir, did you not sow good seed in your field? How then has it weeds?" He said to them, "An enemy has done this". The servants said to him, "Then do you want us to go and gather them?" But he said, "No; lest in gathering the weeds you root up the wheat along with them. Let both grow together until the harvest; and at harvest time I will tell the reapers, Gather the weeds first and bind them in bundles to be burned, but gather the wheat into my barn."
Matthew 13:24-30*

---

Here is some food for thought for all of those who persecute the Catholic Church...

*"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone.
For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown;
But if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it.
Else perhaps you may find yourselves FIGHTING EVEN AGAINST GOD."
Acts 5:38-39*

After almost 2000 years of continuous , non-stop persecution, the Catholic Church is still here....and still growing.

How do you account for that other than the promises of Acts 5:38-38, and Romans 8:31?

GOD is protecting His Catholic Church just as He said He would in Matthew 16:18, and 28:20.

---

In every century for almost 2000 years, heretics have been composing the epitaph of the Catholic Church, but instead of burying the Church, the Catholic Church has been burying the heretics.

Defenders Of The Church...

In Defense of the Catholic Church:

"Put on the armor of GOD, that you may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. For our wrestling is not against flesh and blood, but against the Principalities and the Powers, against the world rulers of this darkness, against the spiritual forces of wickedness on high. Therefore take up the armor of GOD, that you may be able to resist in the evil day, and stand in all things perfect. Stand, therefore, having girded your loins with truth, and having put on the breastplate of justice, and having your feet shod with the readiness of the Gospel of Peace, in all things taking up the shield of faith, with which you may be able to quench all the fiery darts of the most wicked one. And take unto you the helmet of salvation and the sword of the spirit, that is, the Word of GOD."

Ephesians 6:11-17

We Catholics are under a continuous bombardment of negativism from many sources. How many times have you heard from the pulpit a Catholic priest deliberately attacking a non-Catholic Church? I do not recall one single case in which this has happened. Yet others take great pleasure in attacking our Catholic Church, and they will do it from the pulpit. It amazes me how some non-Catholic sects seem to spend a significant percentage of their time in attacking our Church, instead of preaching to their own followers, of "love thy neighbor" as taught by the Word of GOD in Holy Scripture.

It is the duty of every Catholic to learn the faith and to defend it. Do not be afraid to speak out when your Church is being attacked by anyone.

When you defend the Church, you are defending its founder, Jesus Christ. He will remember that when you meet Him face to face someday.

He will also remember those who attacked His Church which is His body, with He Himself being the Head and Savior of it (Eph 1:22-23, 5:23, Col 1:18).

These pages will show you some of the false charges made against Our Blessed Mother, Catholic teaching, and the Catholic Church, and I will tell you how to respond to these charges. I will also show you some of the things these attackers will never tell you.

For those who defend Our Blessed Mother, Catholics, and the Catholic Church, from the non-stop barrage of slings and arrows, Holy Scripture has promised that you will certainly receive your reward:

"My brethren, if any of you err from the truth and one convert him: He must know that he who causeth a sinner to be converted from the error of his way shall save his soul from death and shall cover a multitude of sins."

James 5:19-20.

The Regrettable Reformation!

---

---

More correctly, it is called "The Protestant Revolt" since it did not "Reform" anything.

---

---

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Psalms 127:1

Surely, the reformers had to have been aware of this verse. Why then, did they all ignore it?

---

The very founder of the "Reformation", Martin Luther, was the "regrettable" one, as he surveyed the damage that his rebellion against authority had caused. His writings show that he lamented his deed when he penned the following remarks...

"This one will not hear of Baptism, and that one denies the sacrament, another puts a world between this and the last day: some teach that Christ is not God, some say this, some say that: there are as many sects and creeds as there are heads. No yokel is so rude but when he has dreams and fancies, he thinks himself inspired by the Holy Ghost and must be a prophet."

De Wette III, 61. quoted in O'Hare, THE FACTS ABOUT LUTHER, 208.

"Noblemen, townsmen, peasants, all classes understand the Evangelium better than I or St. Paul; they are now wise and think themselves more learned than all the ministers."

Walch XIV, 1360. quoted in O'Hare, Ibid, 209.

"We concede -- as we must -- that so much of what they (the Catholic Church) say is true: that the papacy has God's word and the office of the apostles, and that we have received Holy Scriptures, Baptism, the Sacrament, and the pulpit from them. What would we know of these if it were not for them?"

Sermon on the gospel of St. John, chaps. 14 - 16 (1537), in vol. 24 of LUTHER'S WORKS, St. Louis, Mo.: Concordia, 1961, 304.

All of this and much more was written by the founder of the Reformation, just a short time after, when he noted the chaos he had created. By this time, Munzer had run in this direction (in 1521, the same year that Luther broke away), Zwingli, had run in that direction, Calvin in yet another direction, all of them scattering the sheep and taking their flocks with them. Luther had let the cat out of the bag and he was helpless to put it back in. He had started something that he was powerless to stop.

Regretful, he certainly was as:

"Once you open the door to error, you cannot close it."

How true! Luther had become the victim by not heeding the consequences of this simple proverb.

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

---

The fruits of the Reformation...

There is a steady increase in the acceleration rate of the endless splitting of the Body of Christ by non-Catholic ecclesial communities, despite this command directly from the lips of Jesus Christ...

"...and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

John 10:16

We are commanded by Scripture to be of one mind, in one spirit, and with one mouth to glorify GOD.

Romans 15:5-6, Philippians 1:27, 2:2

"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all say the same thing; and that there be no dissensions among you, but that you be perfectly united in one mind and in one judgment."

1Corinthians 1:10

*In 1600, due to the Protestant reformation, there were more than 100 splits into various sects. By 1900, there were around 1000. By 1981 there were more than 20,700. Today there are over 33,800* splits in the Body of Christ and all, save one, were founded by mere human creatures.*

Non-Catholic ecclesial communities have increased in number by about 65% in only twenty years.

It is to be noted that some sects prefer not to be called Protestant, since they were not involved in the Reformation. However, they no doubt owe their very existence to the Reformation, for without it, their communities probably would not exist today. The first word in Protest-ant is "Protest". Therefore anyone who claims to be Christian and who is not active in the Catholic Church is a protest-ant against the Catholic Church, so this file applies to all non-Catholic Christians as well, regardless of what they wish to call themselves.

This writing is about the division of the Body of Christ by non-Catholics, whether they be Protestant or anyone else.

How can the descendants of the reformers explain why there are more than 33,800 folds instead of the one fold commanded by Jesus Christ? Where is the oneness? Where is the unity in one mind? Why are there so many dissensions? How can the reformation be from GOD when there is so much confusion and outright disobedience to His Holy Word from its members?

"GOD is not the author of confusion..."

1Corinthians 14:33 (King James)

This is yet another verse proponents of the reformation tend to ignore. If GOD is not the author of 33,800+ confused splits in His Body, then who is? It is caused by the disobedience of his creatures.

"Has Christ been divided up?"

1Corinthians 1:13

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Psalms 127:1

"Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that you may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you."

Hebrews 13:17

Do you think Martin Luther and the other reformers agonized over this verse, or did they purposely, just simply ignore it? Surely, they knew it was there. Show me the Scriptural verse which gives the authority to disobey superiors? Isn't this exactly what the reformers did? Didn't they display flagrant disobedience in defiance of what Holy Scripture teaches? Show me the verse which authorizes anyone to break from the Church which Jesus Christ founded and to form his or her own church?

If the authority does not come from GOD, then there is no authority whatsoever.

"Let no one lead you astray with empty words; for because of these things the wrath of GOD comes upon the children of disobedience. Do not, then, become partakers with them."

Ephesians 5:6-7

"The Scribes and Pharisees have sat on the chair of Moses. ALL things, therefore, that they command you, observe and do. But do not act according to their works; for they talk but do nothing."

Matthew 23:2-3

This is a command to be obedient regardless of individual feelings, and it comes from Jesus Christ.

---

Jesus Christ warned us that there would be scandals in His Church.

"Woe to the world because of scandals! For it must needs be that scandals come, but woe to the man through whom scandal does come!"

Matthew 18:7

And He said to His disciples, "It is impossible that scandals should not come; but woe to him through whom they come."

Luke 17:1

These are the words of Jesus Christ Himself. Did he say the Church is the source, or the cause of the scandals? No, He said a person is. Remember, the Catholic Church is not a hotel for saints, it is a hospital for sinners (Mark 2:17).

Hmmm, I seem to recall a certain man named Judas, chosen by Jesus Christ Himself. This man was responsible for the scourging, crucifixion, and death of the creator of the universe. It was the worst possible scandal ever conceived and perpetrated by.....none other than a man.

The Catholic Church itself is indefectible. Scripture says it is, and we know it since it has an indefectible founder.

See Ephesians 5:25-27

We do not leave Peter and the rest of the Apostles because of the works of Judas.

---

Throughout the Bible, the leaders of GOD's chosen people openly sinned, yet GOD's community, or congregation, survived as one fold and one shepherd...

Abram lied (Genesis 12:13), yet he went on to become Abraham, the father of a multitude of nations, Genesis 17:4.

Sarah lied to GOD (Genesis 18:15) yet she was the mother of nations and kings descended from her (Genesis 17:16) and she gave birth to Isaac (Genesis 21:1-3), and GOD's chosen people survived.

Isaac lied (Genesis 26:7-11), yet his flock survived intact.

Jacob lied and deceived (Genesis 27:24), however, GOD's chosen people survived.

Moses was disobedient to GOD and thus was not allowed to lead the community to the promised land (Numbers 20:1-12). The community, however, survived.

Aaron was made high priest (Exodus 28:1-3), yet later led the people into grave sin by making an idol of a golden calf, and he worshiped it (Exodus 32:21-35). However he was back as the high priest in Exodus 40:13, and the community survived.

David committed murder and adultery (2Samuel 11:1-27), but yet the community survived.

Solomon practiced idolatry and had 700 wives and 300 concubines, and had great wealth, 1Kings 11:1-43. See Deuteronomy 17:17 where kings shall not have a great number of wives, nor accumulate great wealth, yet Solomon's community survived.

Peter lied to Jesus (possibly unknowingly in Matthew 26:35), and openly denied him three times (Matthew 26:69-75), yet he went on to become the first Bishop of Rome, and the first Pope, and he wrote two inerrant books which we use to this very day, and the Church still survived as one flock with one shepherd.

One Apostle denied Christ (Matthew 26:69-75), one betrayed him (Matthew 26:25), one doubted him (John 20:25), and all ran away from him (Matthew 26:56). That covers all of the original twelve, right? Yet the Church which Jesus Christ founded, survived as one fold with one shepherd, and all of the Apostles save for one, became saints.

Saul persecuted the Church mercilessly and imprisoned many Christians and even approved of the murder of at least one in Acts 7:58-59 to Acts 8:1-2. Yet the Church remained one and true to Peter, and Saul became Paul, one of the greatest Apostles.

As you can see, the authority of the Church is not dependent upon the works of any of its members. The Church is greater than any of its members. It is greater than any Pope or Bishop, or Church Father or Saint. It is greater than Luther, or Calvin, or Munzer, or Zwingli, and of any or all of those who broke away to form their own churches.

Why is the Church greater than any of its members?

It is because it is the Mystical Body of Christ, and He is the head. The last time I checked, it was the head that tells the body what to do and not the other way around. Isn't that still true?

Each member is merely one out of many branches of the vine. Fruitless branches can be pruned, yet the vine lives.

If a member is cut off it is likened to the parable of the vine-dresser:

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the vine-dresser. Every branch in me that bears no fruit he will take away; and every branch that bears fruit he will cleanse, that it may bear more fruit."

John 15:1-2

Did you notice who does the pruning?

Nowhere in Scripture is authority given for anyone to start another church other than the ONE which

Jesus Christ founded. However, there are many verses which warn against forsaking GOD given authority regarding His Congregation (O.T.) or Church (N.T.) which He bestowed upon prophets such as Moses (Exodus 3-40), and on the Apostles (John 20:21-23), and to their successors (Hebrews 13:7-8,17).

Read of the rebellion of Korah (Core in some Bibles) against the GOD given authority of Moses in Numbers 16. See how Moses pleaded with him and his followers to end their revolt which was from within Moses' own tribe of Levites. The rebellious were adamant in their "No" to him in verse 14. Pay special attention to what happened to Korah, and to his followers in Numbers 16:25-35. It isn't pretty.

Yet again does history repeat itself:

Read the parallel story of Martin Luther, at the beginning of the reformation where he displayed the same obstinacy toward the GOD given Papal authority, as Korah had done to the GOD given authority of Moses some 3000 years earlier.

"I know that after my departure fierce wolves will get in among you, and will not spare the flock. AND FROM AMONG YOUR OWN SELVES MEN WILL RISE SPEAKING PERVERSE THINGS, TO DRAW AWAY THE DISCIPLES AFTER THEM."

Acts 20:29-30

How do these verses apply to the reformers?

Well, Martin Luther and Ulrich Zwingli were Catholic priests.

So they were, "from among your own selves men will rise", and they did, "speak perverse things" (Hebrews 13:17 also, remember?), and they did, "draw away the disciples after them".

Pretty good fit, wouldn't you say? Didn't Saint Luke hit the nail on the head in Acts 20:29-30?

"What is it that has been? The same thing that shall be. What is it that has been done? The same thing that shall be done. Nothing under the sun is new, neither is any man able to say: Behold this is new; for it has already gone before in the ages that were before us. There is no remembrance of former things; nor indeed of those things which hereafter are to come, shall there be any remembrance with them that shall be in the latter end."

Ecclesiastes 1:10-11

Those who fail to profit from the mistakes of others in history are doomed to repeat them.

"To him shall be the obedience of nations."

Genesis 49:10

"But the sure foundation of GOD stands firm..."

2Timothy 2:19

"The Lord knows how to deliver the GOD-fearing from temptation and to reserve the wicked for torment on the day of Judgment, but especially those who follow the flesh in unclean lust AND DESPISE AUTHORITY."

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

---

Here is a small sampling of the 33,800+ non-Catholic denominations, and the dates of founding:

1521, Martin Luther started the Lutherans when he broke away from the one true Church that had already existed for 15 centuries. Prior to this time, the false doctrine of "Sola Scriptura", or "Bible only", had not existed, and neither had the false man made doctrine of "Individual Interpretation" of Holy Scripture.

1521, Thomas Munzer started Anabaptists by breaking from Lutheranism in the same year.

1534, King Henry VIII started the Church of England. (Anglican)

1536, John Calvin, teaching predestination, formed the Calvinists.

1560, John Knox, who studied under Luther, started Presbyterians.

1582, Congregationalists started by Rob Brown, as a branch from Puritanism.

1609, John Smyth formed the Baptists. They have severely splintered since then.

1739, John Wesley started the Methodists, in a split from Anglicanism.

1774, Theophilus Lindley started Unitarians.

1789, Samuel Seabury started Episcopalians.

1793-1809, Churches of Christ had four separate founders.

1830, Joseph Smith founded the Mormons in Palmyra New York.

1860, William Miller, a farmer, started the Adventists.

1863, Ellen Gould White started the Seventh-Day Adventists.

1865, William Booth started the Salvation Army.

*1875, New Age was started by Helena Blavatsky. *COL 2:8*

1879, Mary Baker Eddy started Christian Scientists.

1879, Charles Russell started the Jehovah's Witnesses.

1900-1920, conservative Episcopalians, Lutherans, Presbyterians, and Methodists, formed a consortium, and started Fundamentalism.

1901, Pentecostalism was started in the United States. It has since split into many independents.

1914, Felix Manalo started Iglesia ni Cristo.

1930, Independent Churches of America (IFCA), was formed by a consortium of churches.

1952, L. Ron Hubbard started the Church of Scientology.

1965, Chuck Smith began Calvary Chapel.

1968, Disciples of Christ, started as a splinter of Churches of Christ.

1974, Ken Gullickson started the Vineyard Christian Fellowship.

20th century. Assemblies of GOD, and other splinter Pentecostal groups, are some of hundreds of new sects founded by mere men.

Did GOD examine and approve the plans for all, or for even one, of these splits in His Body?

"You shall not do as we are now doing; here, everyone does what seems right to himself..."

Deuteronomy 12:8, Judges 17:6, Judges 21:25

Isn't this the mindset of a lot of people today?

"I will do my own thing."

"What 'feels good' for me is right for me."

"It does not matter which Church I belong to."

A persons personal opinion has no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

"Has Christ been divided up?"

1Corinthians 1:13

If there were only one Church then Christ would not be divided, right?

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Matthew 12:30

And knowing their thoughts Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand?"

Matthew 12:25-26

Isn't this exactly what is happening to non-Catholic ecclesial communities? They are imploding due to these never ending splits. The splinters are getting smaller and smaller, and eventually if this keeps up, each member theoretically will be his own ecclesial community.

Did any of these people receive authority from GOD to form their own ecclesial communities?

Did any of these people receive authority from Holy Scripture to form their own ecclesial communities?

"Behold I am against the prophets, said the Lord, who use their tongues, and say: The Lord said it. Behold I am against the prophets that have lying dreams, said the Lord, and tell them, and cause my people to err by their lying, and by their wonders, when I sent them not, nor commanded them, who have not profited this people at all, said the Lord."

Jeremiah 23:31-32

"But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction. And many shall follow their pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of."

2Peter 2:1-2

"But these men deride whatever they do not know; and the things they know by instinct like the dumb beasts, become for them a source of destruction."

2Peter 2:12, Jude 1:10

How many non-Catholics have derided Catholic beliefs without even trying to understand them?

"These are grumbling murmurers walking according to their lusts. And haughty in speech, they cultivate people for the sake of gain. But as for you, beloved, be mindful of the words that have been spoken beforehand by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ, who kept saying to you that at the end of time there will come scoffers, walking impiously according to their lusts. These are they who set themselves apart, sensual men, not having the Spirit."

Jude 1:16-19

"Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which you have learned: and avoid them. For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly; and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple."

Romans 16:17-18

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Psalms 127:1

Did the Lord build any of the houses listed above?

---

"But when he, the Spirit of Truth, has come, He will teach you all the truth."

John 16:13

Most non-Catholic sects declare that the Holy Spirit is "teaching" them the truth. However, there can be only one truth. Since the advent of Sola Scriptura and individual interpretation of Scripture, how can the Holy Spirit be in each of the thousands of sects, teaching all of them opposing viewpoints? It is to be noted that all of the following denominations teach from the same Bible, so why the differences in teaching?

- 1. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Lutherans the Eucharist is the true presence of Christ, and then tell the Baptists it is only a symbol?*
- 2. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Methodists it is alright to have female ministers, and then tell the Baptists it is unbiblical?*
- 3. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Seventh-Day Adventists that Saturday is the day of worship, and then tell the Presbyterians the day of worship is Sunday and not Saturday?*
- 4. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Lutherans that the Blessed Virgin Mary was and remains always virgin, and then tell the Baptists she had other children?*
- 5. How can the Holy Spirit tell the Baptists, "once saved always saved", and then tell the Church of Christ that Sola Fides is unscriptural?*
- 6. How can the Holy Spirit tell Episcopalians to baptize infants and then tell Pentecostals infant baptism is invalid?*
- 7. How can the Holy Spirit tell Mormons that the Holy Trinity is three separate persons, and then tell Methodists the Trinity is three persons in one GOD?*

I could make a much longer list than I have posted here because every theological doctrine, except for the existence of GOD, which is taught by one non-Catholic church is denied by another. What does this show us, other than utter chaos and flummox, in the aftermath of the reformation?

Who, in all of these non-Catholic ecclesial communities, has the authority to adjudicate the many doctrinal disputes which have arisen between them? Can anyone answer this one?

Doesn't this seem to be reminiscent of the Tower of Babel story in Genesis 11:1-9, which brought with it similar consequences?

"Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am your GOD. I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of My Just One hath upheld thee. Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded (split into 33,800 pieces maybe?) and ashamed, they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

Isaias 41:10-11

"And they shall fight against thee, and shall not prevail, for I am with thee, said the Lord, to deliver thee."

Jeremiah 1:19

"They shall go about seeking the Word of the Lord, and shall not find it."

Amos 8:12

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Matthew 12:30

What does this verse mean? It says that Jesus is the gatherer (John 10:16), and that those who are against him are the scatterers. Who are the scatterers here?

Aren't they the founders of the 33,800 sects, the ones who have split and scattered the flock?

"Woe to the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture, said the Lord."

Jeremiah 23:1

Who is the "author of confusion" and who is not?

Did you remember 1Corinthians 14:33?

Do those who say "The Holy Spirit prompted me", realize that it is one of three spirits which is actually doing the "prompting"?

They are:

- 1. The Holy Spirit.
- 2. The human spirit within each one of us.
- 3. An evil, or demonic spirit.

These spirits must be discerned, as we are obliged by Holy Scripture to test all spirits.

"Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are of GOD; because many false prophets have gone forth into the world."

1John 4:1

The testing can be easily done, as we have the Word of GOD with which to discern the spirits.

If the prompting is contrary to the teaching of Holy Scripture, then most assuredly, it is NOT coming from the Holy Spirit. That leaves us with only two choices, neither of which is from GOD.

"And every spirit that severs Jesus, is not of GOD, but is of antichrist of whom you have heard that he is coming, and now is already in the world."

1John 4:3.

I would say this verse is completely ignored by those who sever Jesus by forming their own ecclesial communities wouldn't you? Doesn't this prove that they do not follow Holy Scripture? Doesn't it sound more like 'cultivating people for the sake of gain' as shown in Jude 1:16 earlier in this file?

In Saint Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians 1:22-23, when he mentions the "Body", he refers to the Body of Christ, His one and only Church.

"And all things he made subject under his feet, and him he gave as head over all the Church, which indeed is his body, the completion of him who fills all with all."

In Ephesians 4:4-6, Paul said, "One Body (meaning ONE Church only), One Spirit,...One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism, One GOD and Father of all..."

Were the ecclesial communities listed earlier, founded by mere men or women, creatures of GOD? Did any of these persons have GOD given Biblical authority to found a church? Bible verse please?

Is forsaking John 10:16, and John 17:20-23, contrary to the teaching of Holy Scripture? Yes, yes!

Is forsaking Romans 15:5-6, or 1Corinthians 1:10, or Philippians 1:27, or Ephesians 4:1-6, contrary to the teaching of Holy Scripture? Yes, yes, yes, and yes, you bet it is!

We can deduce with confidence, that if the spirit we just tested is not the Holy Spirit, then it can only be one of our two remaining choices, both of which are spirits of the false prophet.

Letter to Serapion of Thmuis, 359 A.D..

"It is therefore, the Catholic Church alone which retains true worship. This is the fountain of truth; this, the domicile of faith; this the temple of GOD. Whoever does not enter there or whoever does not go out from here, he is a stranger to the hope of life and salvation... Because, however, all the various groups of heretics are confident that they are the Christians, and think that theirs is the Catholic Church, let it be known: that is the true Church, in which there is confession and penance, and which takes a salubrious care of sins and wounds to which the weak flesh is subject."

The Divine Institutions, 304 A.D..

"The Church, instituted by the Lord and confirmed by the Apostles, is one for all men; but the frantic folly of the diverse impious acts sects has cut them off from her. It cannot be denied that this tearing asunder of the faith has arisen from the defect of poor intelligence, which twists what is read to conform to its opinion, instead of adjusting its opinion to the meaning of what is read. However, while individual parties fight among themselves, the Church stands revealed not only by her own doctrines, but by those also of her adversaries. And although they are all arranged against her, she confutes the most wicked error which they all share, by the very fact that she is alone and One. All the heretics, therefore, come against the Church; but while all the heretics can conquer each other, they can win nothing for themselves. For their victory is the triumph of the Church over all of them. One heresy struggles against that teaching of another, which the faith of the Church has already condemned in the other heresy, - for there is nothing which the heretics hold in common, and the result is that they affirm our faith while fighting among themselves."

The True Religion, 7,12, 397 A.D.

*"What the soul is to man's body, the Holy Spirit is to the Body of Christ, which is the Church. The Holy Spirit does in the whole Church what the soul does in all members of one body. But see what you must beware of, see what you must take note of, see what you must fear. It happens that in the human body, or rather, off the body, some member, whether hand, finger, or foot, may be cut away. And if a member be cut off, does the soul go with it? When the member was in the body, it lived; and off, its life is lost. What Saint Cyprian of Carthage (200-258) had to say:

The Unity of the Catholic Church (251 A.D.)

Chapter 7, the Seamless Tunic

This sacrament of unity, this bond of concord inseparably connected is shown, when in the Gospel the tunic of the Lord Jesus Christ is not at all divided and is not torn, but by those who cast lots for the garment of Christ, who rather might have put on Christ, a sound garment is received, and an undamaged and undivided tunic is possessed. Divine Scripture speaks and says: 'Now of the tunic, since it was woven throughout from the upper part without seam, they said to one another: "Let us not tear it, but let us cast lots for it, whose it shall be (John 19:24)." ' He bore the unity that came down from the upper part, that is, that came down from heaven and the Father, which could not all be torn by him who received and possessed it, but he obtained it whole once for all and a firmness inseparably solid. He cannot possess the garment of Christ who tears and divides the Church of Christ. Then on the other hand when at the death of Solomon his kingdom and people were torn asunder, Ahias the prophet met King Jeroboam in the field and tore his garment into twelve pieces (1King 11:29), saying: 'Take to thee ten pieces, for thus saith the Lord: "Behold I rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give thee ten scepters, but two scepters shall remain to him for the sake of my servant David and for the sake of Jerusalem the city which I have chosen, that I may place my name there." When the twelve tribes of Israel were torn asunder, the prophet Ahias rent his garment. But because the people of Christ cannot be torn asunder, His tunic woven and united throughout was not divided by those who possessed it. Undivided, joined, connected it shows the coherent concord of us who have put on Christ. By the sacrament and sign of His garment, He has declared the unity of the Church.

About The Blessed Virgin Mary...

"The great thing is none other than that she became the Mother of God; in which process so many and such great gifts were bestowed upon her that no one is able to comprehend them. Thereupon follows all honor, all blessedness, and the fact that in the whole race of men only one person is above all the rest, one to whom no one else is equal. For that reason her dignity is crowded into a single phrase when we call her the Mother of God; no one can say greater things of her or to her, even if he had as many

How to make the Catholic Church look like the numerous sects of diverse denominations.

---

In order to make the Catholic Church look like the thousands of sects of diverse denominations, you have to:

---

Take away the Tabernacle which houses the Divine Presence of GOD.

---

*Take away the Altar upon which the Priest calls upon the Holy Spirit to change the bread and wine into the True Presence of Our Lord Jesus Christ, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity.
The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass then ceases to exist.*

---

Take away the Sacristy Lamp which signifies the Divine Presence of GOD.

---

Take away the Crucifix which reminds us of the sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the Cross, which is the source, center, and summit of the Mass.

---

*And you end up with nothing more than a meeting hall.
Catholics have one of those too, but it is a separate building.*

Are We Born As Adults, Or As Babies?

---

This question sounds simple enough for everyone to answer correctly,... well, almost everyone. Some, believe it or not, say there were cases in which some were never babies and they had to have started as adults.

---

Jesus Christ, who we all know to be, the Son of GOD, and therefore a divine person, began His humble life in His human form, His human nature, as a little helpless baby, just like the rest of us. He needed his mother and his foster father, St. Joseph, just like we needed our mother and father, to feed us and tend to our needs. Jesus grew and advanced in wisdom and age (Luke 2:52) just like we all do. It is said that the 'Creator of the Universe' was taught how to make furniture by St. Joseph, as Jesus became a carpenter too. Jesus later became the 'Bridegroom' (Matt 9:15) and the Church which He founded in Matt 16:18 became His 'Bride'. Jesus had shown us the humble, infant beginning of the Bridegroom, the facts that He matured in growth, learned, and gained in wisdom. But what about the Bride?

---

Now, some try to show that the 'Bride' started as an adult from birth. They look at the Catholic Church of today and try to equate it to the 'infant' Church which Jesus Christ founded, by looking at the 'Bride' as fully grown and matured from the very beginning. I actually received an inquiry as to why Peter cannot be found in the book of Revelation, named as the first Pope. Another asked me to show him the Immaculate Conception (defined in 1854) in Scripture (the last book of Scripture was written about 95-100 A.D.). Questions like this abound and few fundamentalists can accept the fact that the Church actually had an infancy.

---

By the way, who or what is the Church? The Church is all of us. We are the body, and Jesus Christ is the head (Eph 1:22-23, Col 1:24). Like any body we grow and increase in wisdom, and must be fed, both bodily and spiritually.

---

A newborn baby, being not ready for solid food as of yet, has to be fed with milk. So too, the infant 'Bride' Church, had to be fed with milk... "I fed you with milk, not with solid food, for you were not yet ready for it (1Cor 3:2)." It takes awhile for the mind and the body to become accustomed to this new Christian environment. The Bride had to advance in age and wisdom by taking one step at a time, just like the Bridegroom, or like a little baby learning to walk.

---

It is much easier for the baby to mature than it was for the 'baby Church'. After all, most babies do not have to be concerned with mere survival as the Church did. Remember, from the very beginning, the Church was persecuted by both the Jews and the Romans (and others as well), all vowing to eradicate this 'dangerous' new religion. The Church had to 'go underground' and practice in secret in catacombs, and use codes such as the fish symbol, as a sign of recognition to one another. The Apostles and Bishops were under constant fear of being persecuted and martyred, and they had to move in secrecy. In fact, most of the Apostles were caught and martyred, as well as most of the early Bishops and Popes (Bishop of Rome then). I would say this tremendous persecution slowed the progress of growth for the fledgling Church, but by no means stopped it. This persecution lasted for hundreds of years for the early Church, and it did not end until 313, when the Roman Emperor Constantine signed the 'Edict of Milan' allowing tolerance of Christianity.

---

After 313, the Church emerged from the underground and practiced openly. The very early Church consisted of Bishoprics or Sees, a Bishop would have his own domain in various cities such as Antioch, or Jerusalem, or Ephesus. The two main cities were Constantinople, called the Eastern Church, and Rome, called the Western Church. It was obvious from the beginning that there had to be one authority, so Rome was given preference as to be the authority from which all other Churches would follow. The Church was now no longer an infant but a child. And as a child there was a lot to learn.

---

What! A lot to learn? Jesus Christ is the head of the Church, so what is there to learn? We should have known it all from the very beginning! Aha, that is where fundamentalists err. "And I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the WORLD cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him. But YOU shall know Him, because He will dwell with YOU, and be in YOU. I will not leave you orphans; I will come to YOU." John 14:16-18. So Jesus Christ will send His Spirit of Truth, not to the world, but to the Church He founded. He will not abandon it as parents would a child. He would care for His Church and not leave it orphaned, and He would do this forever, Matt 28:20.

This was foretold in Isaiah 59:21, "My Spirit that is in you, and My words that I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your seed, nor out of the mouth of your seed's seed, said the Lord, from henceforth and forever."

So now that the Church is guaranteed the Spirit of Truth forever, what is next?

---

Next we have John 14:25-26, "These things I have spoken to you while yet dwelling with you. But the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in My name, He WILL TEACH YOU ALL THINGS, and bring to your mind whatever I have said to you." Hmmm, He will teach you ALL things... Future tense, 'He WILL'. He did not say, He 'has taught' you all things did He? So, over a period of time the Holy Spirit will teach ALL things to the Church which Jesus Christ founded. Jesus Christ, the cornerstone of the Church, will build His Church, brick by brick, over a period of time, and do it slowly, as a child grows from infancy to adulthood.

---

Now, if we take a look at Church history, isn't this exactly what has happened? The fledgling Church had its first worldwide council at Nicea in 325, only 12 years after being freed from the yoke of Roman tyranny. Now the Church went to work, fulfilling the teaching of the Holy Spirit, just as Jesus Christ had said. The first thing the Bishops did at Nicea, was to decree that Jesus Christ is GOD, that He is equal to the Father and to the Holy Spirit, and they declared the doctrine of the Holy Trinity, as expressed in the Nicene Creed. Truly, the Holy Spirit is at work in the Church which Jesus Christ founded. What a marvelous beginning to a Church approaching puberty.

---

Another truth was revealed to the young Church by the Holy Spirit in 397, at the Council of Carthage. The Council finalized the Canons of both the Old and New Testaments. The Old would have 46 books, including the Deuterocanonicals, and the New would have the 27 books that all Bibles have today. The Bible was born by an infallible decision of the Catholic Church.

---

At the Council of Ephesus in 431, the Blessed Virgin Mary was declared the Mother of GOD, as revealed by the teaching of the Holy Spirit.

At the Council of Chalcedon in 451, Jesus Christ was declared to be one person with two natures, one divine and one human.

In the second Council of Nicea in 787, it was revealed by the Holy Spirit, and decreed by the Council, to preserve and protect Holy Tradition.

At the Council of Lyons in 1245, it was decreed that the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son.

In 1545, at the Council of Trent, the Bishops reaffirmed the Canons of both testaments of the Bible as set forth by the Council of Carthage, and declared that the official Bible of the Church to be the Latin Vulgate, which was completed by St. Jerome in 404. This Council also decreed that the Bishops are the direct descendants of the Apostles, something that had to have been revealed by the Holy Spirit.

In 1854, the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception was announced. At Vatican I in 1870, the infallibility of the Pope was decreed, and in 1950 the doctrine of the Assumption was revealed.

---

There you have it. To this day, the Bride is growing and maturing, and is gaining in wisdom as revealed by the Holy Spirit. The Bride is far from defining all truth as promised by Jesus Christ, but a great deal has been revealed to her over the last 1900 plus years. The Church is an adult now, and the Holy Spirit is still speaking, and is still teaching, and will continue to do so until the end of time.

The Thread Of The Catholic Church As It Is Woven Through Scripture...

How the Catholic Church is presented in Holy Scripture, and beyond...

---

It is Prefigured, Predicted, and Prophesied by GOD, and the Prophets in Holy Scripture from Genesis to Revelation...

Gen 14:18, "Then Melchisedek, the King of Salem, brought out bread and wine; for he was a priest of the most high GOD."

This is a clear prefigurement of Jesus Christ as King and Priest, and the offering of Holy Communion in the Church.

2Sam 7:12-13, "And when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. He shall build a house to my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever."

These verses refer to the 'seed of David', who is Jesus Christ. The 'house' is a place of worship. His 'Kingdom' is the everlasting Church.

Psalms 127:1-2, "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Tobit 13:10-23, many details about the Church of GOD are given, and also warnings are given to those who despise His Church.

Hosea 2:14-24, GOD spoke of His Church as His Spouse.

Isaiah 54:1-17, Christ's Church is the New Jerusalem tossed with the tempest as Noah was. GOD will lay the foundation. No weapon formed against it will prosper. Many other details are given here.

Isaiah 59:19-21, GOD promises perpetual orthodoxy for the Church which the promised Christ will found.

Isaiah 22:20-24, Prefigures the Papacy and its Authority, the Seat of Peter, and the Vatican.

Sirach 50:6-21, Prefigures the Pope, the Sacrifice of Mass, the Holy Eucharist, the Precious Blood.

Isaiah 62:5, Jer 7:34, Jer 16:9, Jesus Christ is the Bridegroom, and His Church is the Bride.

Jeremiah 23:1-8, a Messiah is promised who will shepherd His flock and set up pastors over them who will feed them.

Micah 4:1-3, many people and nations will come to GOD's 'Mountain of the House of the Lord'.

---

GOD, the architect and chief cornerstone of His Church, emptied Himself and took on the nature of a slave and was made like unto man in the person of, Jesus The Christ... Phil 2:7, Luke 2:7, John 1:1,14

Matthew 16:18, Jesus Christ founded His Church and promised it would be defended from within and from without as He said, "...and the Gates of Hell shall NOT prevail against it." This is a guarantee of perpetuity for His Church. All of those who enjoy kicking His 'Rock' will not prevail.

Matthew 28:19-20, Mark 16:15, Jesus commanded His followers to make disciples of all nations, teaching them all that He has commanded them, and that He would be with His Church all days in every century until the end of the world. The three 'alls' signify unity and universality. The word 'Catholic', means Universal. 'UNIVERSAL', is one of the Four Marks of Christ's Church.

Isa 40:11, John 10:16, John 17:20-21, Rom 16:17, Eph 4:3-6, 1Pet 2:25, Jesus Christ commanded that His Church must be ONE. It must be ONE in its founder, in its head, in its final aim, in its teaching, and in its government. There shall be ONE fold with ONE shepherd. Common sense tells us that GOD cannot be the author of various opposing systems of religion. GOD is the Author of Truth and Truth is ONE. 'ONE', is one of the Four Marks of Christ's Church.

Eph 3:20-21, He who is able to accomplish all things, will be Glorified in his Church, and in Jesus Christ down through 'ALL THE AGES OF TIME WITHOUT END'. I would say this guarantees again, the perpetuity of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, wouldn't you agree?

Matthew 16:18-19, Jesus Christ chose the man to lead His Church on earth by changing his name from Simon to Peter, which means 'rock'. He gave Peter and his descendants, the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven, and the power to bind and loosen sins. There is an unbroken line of leaders of the Church, first 'Bishops of Rome', and then 'Popes', going all the way from Pope Benedict XVI, the present Pope, back to St. Peter. 'APOSTOLIC', is one of the Four Marks of Christ's Church.

Matthew 5:48, John 17:17-19, the Church which Jesus Christ founded, has a Holy Founder, Holy Doctrine, and produces Holy members (just look at the thousands of Saints and read of their lives). 'HOLY', is one of the Four Marks of Christ's Church.

Matthew 18:18, and John 20:22-23, Jesus gave all of the Apostles the power to forgive sins. This power was passed down through their descendants by the Sacrament of Holy Orders.

Matthew 18:17, Jesus Christ demonstrated that His Church has the authority, as He told His followers to appeal to it, and if they refused to hear His Church, to let them be heathens.

Matthew 26:26, Mark 14:22, Luke 22:19, Jesus Christ introduced the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist, when He said, "THIS IS MY BODY...DO THIS IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME."

Matthew 26:28, Hebrews 8:6-13, the New Covenant was initiated, fulfilling the Old Covenant. The Old and New Covenants are together one story.

John 3:29, St. John the Baptist referred to Jesus Christ as the 'Bridegroom', and to His Church as the 'Bride'.

Rev 19:7-9, the marriage of the 'Lamb' and His 'Spouse'.

---

The Church which Jesus Christ founded became firmly established...

Acts 2:1-13, the Holy Spirit descended upon the Apostles and filled them with the Spirit of Truth. They were endowed with many languages so that they could teach all nations, and every person would understand each in his own native tongue. Jesus had commanded them to teach all the nations in

Matthew 28:19.

Eph 1:22, Eph 5:23, Col 1:18, Jesus Christ is the Head of His Church.

Eph 5:30, Col 1:18,24, we are the Body of Christ, the Church. Whatever happens to the body is registered in the Head.

Eph 5:25, Jesus Christ loves His Church which He calls His Bride.

John 14:16-17, the Spirit of Truth, the Holy Spirit, will dwell forever within the Church which Jesus founded. Once again the perpetuity and indefectibility of the Catholic Church is guaranteed by GOD.

1Tim 3:15, the Church is the pillar and mainstay of the truth.

Eph 5:27, the Church is Holy and Spotless.

Acts 8:27-40, 2Pet 1:20-21, the Church discerns Holy Scripture, as moved by the Holy Spirit.

Acts 2:41,47, Acts 5:14, Acts 6:7, Acts 9:31 the new Church grows and spreads.

Acts 2:42,20:7, the Eucharistic Communion, the Mass, is celebrated in the new Church, and it is celebrated on Sunday, and now every moment of every day, and not just the Sabbath of the Old Covenant.

Acts 15:7, the Primacy of Peter is sealed as he said, "...GOD made choice among us, that through MY mouth the Gentiles should hear the Word of the Gospel and believe." It is clear that GOD did indeed make the choice in Matthew 16:18.

Proverbs 20:18, "Designs are strengthened by Councils".

Proverbs 11:14,24:6, "Where there is no governor, the people shall fall; but there is safety where there is much counsel."

Acts 15:4-29, the fledgling Church held its first council, the Council of Jerusalem. They discussed issues, and selected representatives, and made decisions about the problems facing them at that time. Church Councils are still being held periodically; the most recent one being Vatican II in 1963.

Galatians 2:2, the leaders of the Church consult with one another about divine revelation.

Acts 5:29, the Church must obey GOD rather than men.

Acts 1:26, the leaders of the Church vote among themselves.

Acts 20:28, the Holy Spirit placed Bishops in the Church to rule the Church of GOD.

Hebrews 7:11-17, a new Christian priesthood is initiated according to the order of Melchisedech. It replaced the Old Covenant priesthood of the order of Aaron.

Hebrews 13:17, 1Thess 5:12, St. Paul stressed the importance of obedience to the superiors, as they are charged with having to account for the souls of the faithful.

1Cor 15:9, 1Tim 1:13, St. Paul called himself the 'least of the Apostles', and said he was 'not worthy to be an Apostle' because he persecuted the Church of GOD. A clear warning to persecutors of the Catholic Church. Paul repented once he was shown his error.

1Cor 10:32, St. Paul warned all not to be a 'stumbling block' to the Church of GOD.

1Cor 11:22, St. Paul warns, 'despisers of the Church of GOD will not be commended'.

Matthew 28:19-20, the Church which Jesus Christ founded is given the teaching authority for the whole world.

1John 4:6, those who know GOD listen to His Church; those who do not know GOD do not listen to His Church. By this we will know the Spirit of Truth, and the spirit of error.

John 15:16, 1Cor 3:10-11, Matthew 18:17-18, the Church is self propagating.

*John 15:15-16, Acts 13:3,14:22,19:6, 1Cor 3:10-11, 1Tim 3:8-13,4:14,5:22, 2Tim 1:6, Titus 1:5, knowing that the Apostles will not live forever, provision is made to perpetuate the clergy by the 'laying on of hands' for new Priests, Deacons, and Bishops. This is the Sacrament of Holy Orders.

1Cor 12:28, Eph 4:11-12, St. Paul said, GOD has placed some in His Church as, Apostles, Prophets, Evangelists, Pastors, and Teachers. GOD has bestowed upon His Church, miracles, gifts of healing, services of help, power of administration, and the speaking of tongues.

1Cor 3:2, St. Paul said he feeds us with milk and not solid food as we are not ready for it. Our minds have to be open and receptive, and not have the blindness of Paul (Acts 9:8-9), in order to receive the revelations from GOD.

John 14:25-26,16:12-15, The Holy Spirit 'will' teach the Church all the truth and all things. The word 'will', indicates future tense. Jesus said, "Many things yet I have to say to you, but you cannot bear them now." All truth will be taught to the Church. Here Jesus dispensed the authority for doctrine to be defined by His Church.

After the last book of Holy Scripture, Revelation, was written by St. John, about 97 A.D., the Church which Jesus Christ founded continued to grow. It was under great persecution from both the Romans and the Jews (1Cor 15:9), and others, who tried to eradicate this 'new' Christianity. Christians had to practice in secret, and not openly, and they had to use signs such as the fish symbol to recognize one another. Most of the Apostles except for Judas and St. John were martyred. Many Bishops and priests were martyred as well. St. Peter was the first Bishop of Rome, and he was crucified upside down in Rome in 67 A.D., by Nero. His tomb and relics were found under the main altar of St Peters Basilica in the Vatican. Read the file 'Peter in Rome' elsewhere on this website.

104-107 A.D., the name 'Catholic Church', which had been in use earlier, was recorded by St. Ignatius of Antioch in his 'Letter to the Smyrneans'. He said, "Where the Bishop appears, let the people be, just as where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church."

313 A.D., the Roman Emperor Constantine signed the 'Edict of Milan', giving Christians freedom to practice openly. They no longer had to hide and practice the faith in the catacombs for fear of persecution. At this time the 32nd 'Bishop of Rome', St. Melchiades, was in office. Yes, there is a list of 'Bishops of Rome', soon to be called 'Popes', in an unbroken line, going all the way back to St. Peter. See 'The Unbroken Line', for a complete list of all the Popes, found elsewhere on this website.

325 A.D., the first world Council, the Council of Nicaea is convened only 12 years after the Church was released from the yoke of tyranny. This Council decreed that Jesus Christ is GOD and is consubstantial with the Father. It also formulated the Nicene Creed.

Eusebius of Caesarea 263-339 A.D., wrote a ten volume history of the Catholic Church which spans the time from before Jesus Christ was born until about 335 A.D.. It is available on the Internet. Search on 'Eusebius'.

381 A.D., the Council of Constantinople I, declared the Holy Spirit consubstantial with the Father and the Son. This Council revised the Nicene Creed to the version which the Church uses today.

Holy Scripture was limited to the Old Testament, the Septuagint, a Greek translation of the Hebrew O.T.. There was no New Testament, as we know it now, in use from the beginning of the Church until 397 A.D.. The N.T. books were written, as were many others, but someone had to decide which of the books were inspired by GOD and which ones were not.

397 A.D., a Catholic Council, the Council of Carthage, made a decision as to which books were inspired, and were to be included in both the Old and New Testaments.

404 A.D., the first Bible incorporating the New Testament was completed by St. Jerome. It had all 46 books of the Old Testament, and 27 books of the New Testament, the same books as we have today, as decreed by the Council of Carthage. It was called the Latin Vulgate, and was the main Bible for the Catholic Church for over 1000 years. The Vulgate is still, to this day, the official Bible of the Catholic Church.

431 A.D., the Council of Ephesus was convened. The Blessed Virgin Mary was declared to be the Mother of GOD.

451 A.D., the Council of Chalcedon declared the Primacy of Rome.

787 A.D., the Council of Nicea II commanded to preserve and protect the traditions of the Church.

1545-1563, the Council of Trent, the longest Council in Church history was called in response to the reformation. The Protestants had just removed seven books and parts of others from the Old Testament. This Council reaffirmed that these books would remain in the Bible just as they had been for over 1500 years in the Vulgate and Septuagint.

1854, the Pope declared the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception. Four years later in 1858, the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to St. Bernadette and said, "I am the Immaculate Conception." This was a confirmation from Heaven of the 1854 declaration.

1870, the Council of Vatican I declared the doctrine of Papal Infallibility.

1950, Pope Pius XII declared the doctrine of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

1962, the Council of Vatican II was convened. It has been called the greatest religious event of the 20th century.

Today... The Church is still growing with over 1 billion Catholics spread through every country of the world. The Catholic Church is truly Universal. Jesus Christ is still the Invisible Head, and the Holy Spirit is still guiding the Church which Jesus Christ founded in about 30-33 A.D..

Climb Every Mountain of the Lord!

---

It would be helpful for the reader to be familiar with typology before continuing with this file. Typology is indispensable when a person seeks the connections between the Old and the New Testaments of Holy Scripture. Without this knowledge the connections are not readily apparent, and much understanding is lost.

In this writing you will come to the knowledge that the "Mountain of the Lord" prefigures the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Old Testament Types:

Gen 19:17 And they brought him forth, and set him without the city: and there they spoke to him, saying: Save thy life: look not back, neither stay thou in all the country about: but save thy self in the mountain, lest thou be also consumed.

Elucidation:

It is through this "mountain" that thy self shall be saved. Clearly in this verse, the word 'mountain' must point to something other than a mound of earth and rock. It must have another more symbolic meaning.

Gen 22:1 After these things, God tempted Abraham, and said to him: Abraham, Abraham. And he answered: Here I am.

Gen 22:2 He said to him: Take thy only begotten son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and go into the land of vision; and there thou shalt offer him for an holocaust upon one of the mountains which I will shew thee. (Mount Moriah, 2Chron 3:1)

Elucidation:

Interestingly, this rendering of Gen 22:2, taken from the Douay Rheims Bible as well as the Latin Vulgate, says, "and go into the land of vision". Some other Bibles say to go to Mount Moriah, or just to Moriah. The Septuagint says, "go into the high land".

Gen 22:3 So Abraham rising up in the night, saddled his ass, and took with him two young men, and Isaac his son: and when he had cut wood for the holocaust, he went his way to the place which God had commanded him.

Gen 22:4 And on the third day, lifting up his eyes, he saw the place afar off.

Gen 22:5 And he said to his young men: Stay you here with the ass; I and the boy will go with speed as far as yonder, and after we have worshipped, will return to you.

Gen 22:6 And he took the wood for the holocaust, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he himself carried in his hands fire and a sword. And as they two went on together,

Elucidation:

Can you see the typology here? Isaac is to be sacrificed and he carried the wood on his back to his place of sacrifice. In the New Testament, upon His back Jesus carried the wood upon which He would be sacrificed, the cross.

Gen 22:7 Isaac said to his father: My father. And he answered: What wilt thou, son? Behold, saith he, fire and wood: where is the victim for the holocaust?

Gen 22:8 And Abraham said: God will provide himself a victim for an holocaust, my son. So they went on together.

Gen 22:9 And they came to the place which God had shewn him, where he built an altar, and laid the wood in order upon it; and when he had bound Isaac his son, he laid him on the altar upon the pile of wood.

Gen 22:10 And he put forth his hand, and took the sword, to sacrifice his son.

Gen 22:11 And behold, an angel of the Lord from heaven called to him, saying: Abraham, Abraham. And he answered: Here I am.

Gen 22:12 And he said to him: Lay not thy hand upon the boy, neither do thou any thing to him: now I know that thou fearest God, and hast not spared thy only begotten son for my sake.

Gen 22:13 Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw behind his back a ram, amongst the briers, sticking fast by the horns, which he took and offered for a holocaust instead of his son.

Elucidation:

A ram was caught fast by his horns in the briers. Jesus wore the crown of thorns (briers). GOD saved Isaac, the son of Abraham, but He did not save His own Son.

Gen 22:14 And he called the name of that place, The Lord seeth. Whereupon, even to this day, it is said: In the mountain the Lord will see. Gen 22:15 And the angel of the Lord called to Abraham a second time from heaven, saying:

Gen 22:16 By my own self have I sworn, saith the Lord: because thou hast done this thing, and hast not spared thy only begotten son for my sake:

Gen 22:17 I will bless thee, and I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that is by the sea shore; thy seed shall possess the gates of their enemies.

Gen 22:18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thou hast obeyed my voice.

Gen 31:54 And after he had offered sacrifices in the mountain, he called his brethren to eat bread. And when they had eaten, they lodged there:

Elucidation:

In the Church which Jesus Christ founded, we come to Mass to offer sacrifice and to consume not bread but what appears to be bread since it has been transubstantiated into the true Body and Blood of Jesus Christ. What has been shown as a type in Gen 31:54, has become the reality or antitype of today.

Exo 3:1 Now Moses fed the sheep of Jethro, his father in law, the priest of Madian: and he drove the flock to the inner parts of the desert, and came to the mountain of God, Horeb.

Exo 3:2 And the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he saw that the bush was on fire, and was not burnt.

Exo 3:3 And Moses said: I will go, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

Exo 3:4 And when the Lord saw that he went forward to see, he called to him out of the midst of the bush. and said: Moses, Moses. And he answered: Here I am.

Exo 3:5 And he said: Come not nigh hither, put off the shoes from thy feet; for the place, whereon thou standest, is holy ground.

Exo 4:27 And the Lord said to Aaron: Go into the desert to meet Moses. And he went forth to meet him in the mountain of God, and kissed him.

Exo 15:17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, in thy most firm habitation, which thou hast made, O Lord; thy sanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

Exo 15:18 The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.

Exo 18:5 And Jethro, the kinsman of Moses, came with his sons, and his wife to Moses into the desert, where he was camped by the mountain of God.

Exo 19:3 And Moses went up to God; and the Lord called unto him from the mountain, and said: Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel:

Exo 24:18 And Moses entering into the midst of the cloud, went up into the mountain: And he was there forty days and forty nights.

2Chron 3:1 And Solomon began to build the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, in mount Moria, which had been shewn to David his father, in the place which David had prepared in the thrashing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

Elucidation:

Solomon built a magnificent temple to the Lord atop Mount Moriah in Jerusalem. It must have been an awe inspiring sight with its gleaming white walls over 30 feet high making it visible for great distances. Atop Mount Moriah today, all that remains of the temple are what are called the Temple Mount and the Wailing Wall, since the temple was completely destroyed by the Romans in 70 A.D. (Matt 24:2)

Psa 99:9 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and adore at his holy mountain: for the Lord our God is holy.

Isa 2:2 And in the last days the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared on the top of mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow unto it.

Isa 2:3 And many people shall go, and say: Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall come forth from Sion, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

Elucidation:

1. 'On the top of mountains' means 'the House of the Lord' will be highly visible.

'All nations shall flow to it' simply means that the 'House of the Lord' will be world wide. (Matt 28:19, Acts 1:8)

2. Who is "The Word of the Lord". See John 1:1, and 14.

Isa 14:13 And thou saidst in thy heart: I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God, I will sit in the mountain of the covenant, in the sides of the north.

Eze 43:12 This is the law of the house upon the top of the mountain: All its border round about; most holy: this then is the law of the house.

Dan 2:45 According as thou sawest, that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and broke in pieces the clay and the iron, and the brass, and the silver, and the gold, the great God hath shewn the king what shall come to pass hereafter, and the dream is true, and the interpretation thereof is faithful.

Mic 4:1 And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and high above the hills: and people shall flow to it.

Mic 4:2 And many nations shall come in haste, and say: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob: and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth out of Sion, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem.

Elucidation:

"In the last days" are the days in which we live today. These verses prefigure the Church which Jesus Christ will found, and it will be spread throughout "many nations". See Acts 1:8.

Zep 3:11 In that day thou shalt not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me for then I will take away out of the midst of thee thy proud boasters, and thou shalt no more be lifted up because of my holy mountain.

Hag 1:8 Go up to the mountain, bring timber, and build the house: and it shall be acceptable to me, and I shall be glorified, saith the Lord.

Zec 8:3 Thus saith the Lord of hosts: I am returned to Sion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called The city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of hosts, The sanctified mountain.

Elucidation:

The City of Truth? What is truth (John 18:38)? Truth is a person, the person of Jesus Christ. He will dwell in His sanctified 'mountain'.

New Testament Antitypes:*

Mat 5:1 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain, and when he was set down, his disciples came unto him.

Mat 5:14 You are the light of the world. A city seated on a mountain cannot be hid.

Elucidation:

The Temple as described above can certainly be equated to 'a city that cannot be hid'. Just as the temple is a type of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, so is His Church the temple's antitype.

Therefore His Church cannot be hidden either.

Mat 14:23 And having dismissed the multitude, he went into a mountain alone to pray. And when it was evening, he was there alone.

Elucidation:

Just as Jesus went to the mountain to pray, we go to the Church which He founded to pray. Again, it is clear that when GOD has spoken, it is from His mountain in the Old Testament and from His Church after He founded it in the New Testament.

Mat 17:1 And after six days Jesus taketh unto him Peter and James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart:

Mat 17:2 And he was transfigured before them. And his face did shine as the sun: and his garments became white as snow.

Elucidation:

The only time in the Gospels in which Jesus showed His Divinity was from a high mountain. Since we have already equated the mountain to His Church, we can safely say that His Divinity is present in His Church as well.

Mat 17:3 And behold there appeared to them Moses and Elias talking with him.

Mat 17:4 And Peter answering, said to Jesus: Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

Mat 17:5 And as he was yet speaking, behold a bright cloud overshadowed them. And lo a voice out of the cloud, saying: This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased: hear ye him.

Mat 17:6 And the disciples hearing fell upon their face, and were very much afraid.

Mat 17:7 And Jesus came and touched them: and said to them: Arise, and fear not.

Mat 17:8 And they lifting up their eyes, saw no one, but only Jesus.

Elucidation:

In attempting to endure the trials and tribulations of life, we should find comfort in Mat 17:8, and when we are down and out, remember to lift up our eyes and see 'no one but only Jesus'.

Mat 28:16 And the eleven disciples went into Galilee, unto the mountain where Jesus had appointed them.

Mat 28:17 And seeing him they adored: but some doubted.

Mat 28:18 And Jesus coming, spoke to them, saying: All power is given to me in heaven and in earth.

Mat 28:19 Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.

Mat 28:20 Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world.

Elucidation:

In Mat 28:20 is the promise of Jesus Christ that He will be with the one Church which He founded, every day in every century until the end of time. There will be no gaps, not even one single day. It is His promise that His Church will last from the day on which He founded it until this very day and for all future days of time.

Mar 3:13 And going up into a mountain, he called unto him whom he would himself: and they came to him.

Mar 3:14 And he made that twelve should be with him, and that he might send them to preach.

Mar 3:15 And he gave them power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils.

Mar 6:46 And when he had dismissed them, he went up to the mountain to pray,

Luk 6:12 And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray: and he passed the whole night in the prayer of God.

Rev 3:12, He who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God; never shall he go out of it, and I will write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my GOD, the new Jerusalem which comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name.

Rev 21:10 And he took me up in spirit to a great and high mountain: and he shewed me the holy city Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God,

Rev 21:11 Having the glory of God, and the light thereof was like to a precious stone, as to the jasper stone even as crystal.

Elucidation:

On a 'great and high mountain' we see the (New) holy city, Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from GOD. This is a vision of GOD's holy Church.

Upon Which Scripture Verse Was The Catholic Church Founded ?

TO OUR VENERABLE BRETHREN THE PATRIARCHS, PRIMATES, ARCHBISHOPS, BISHOPS, AND OTHER LOCAL ORDINARIES IN PEACE AND COMMUNION WITH THE APOSTOLIC SEE.

Venerable Brethren, Health and Apostolic Benediction.

Never perhaps in the past have we seen, as we see in these our own times, the minds of men so occupied by the desire both of strengthening and of extending to the common welfare of human society that fraternal relationship which binds and unites us together, and which is a consequence of our common origin and nature. For since the nations do not yet fully enjoy the fruits of peace - indeed rather do old and new disagreements in various places break forth into sedition and civic strife - and since on the other hand many disputes which concern the tranquility and prosperity of nations cannot be settled without the active concurrence and help of those who rule the States and promote their interests, it is easily understood, and the more so because none now dispute the unity of the human race, why many desire that the various nations, inspired by this universal kinship, should daily be more closely united one to another.

2. A similar object is aimed at by some, in those matters which concern the New Law promulgated by Christ our Lord. For since they hold it for certain that men destitute of all religious sense are very rarely to be found, they seem to have founded on that belief a hope that the nations, although they differ among themselves in certain religious matters, will without much difficulty come to agree as brethren in professing certain doctrines, which form as it were a common basis of the spiritual life. For which reason conventions, meetings and addresses are frequently arranged by these persons, at which a large number of listeners are present, and at which all without distinction are invited to join in the discussion, both infidels of every kind, and Christians, even those who have unhappily fallen away from Christ or who with obstinacy and pertinacity deny His divine nature and mission. Certainly such attempts can nowise be approved by Catholics, founded as they are on that false opinion which considers all religions to be more or less good and praiseworthy, since they all in different ways manifest and signify that sense which is inborn in us all, and by which we are led to God and to the obedient acknowledgment of His rule. Not only are those who hold this opinion in error and deceived, but also in distorting the idea of true religion they reject it, and little by little. turn aside to naturalism and atheism, as it is called; from which it clearly follows that one who supports those who hold these theories and attempt to realize them, is altogether abandoning the divinely revealed religion.

3. But some are more easily deceived by the outward appearance of good when there is question of fostering unity among all Christians.

4. Is it not right, it is often repeated, indeed, even consonant with duty, that all who invoke the name of Christ should abstain from mutual reproaches and at long last be united in mutual charity? Who would dare to say that he loved Christ, unless he worked with all his might to carry out the desires of Him, Who asked His Father that His disciples might be "one." [1] And did not the same Christ will that His disciples should be marked out and distinguished from others by this characteristic, namely that they loved one another: "By this shall all men know that you are my disciples, if you have love one for another"? [2] All Christians, they add, should be as "one": for then they would be much more powerful in driving out the pest of irreligion, which like a serpent daily creeps further and becomes more widely spread, and prepares to rob the Gospel of its strength. These things and others that class of men who are known as pan-Christians continually repeat and amplify; and these men, so far from being quite few and scattered, have increased to the dimensions of an entire class, and have grouped themselves into widely spread societies, most of which are directed by non-Catholics, although they are imbued with varying doctrines concerning the things of faith. This undertaking is so actively promoted as in many places to win for itself the adhesion of a number of citizens, and it even takes possession of the minds of very many Catholics and allures them with the hope of bringing about such a union as would be agreeable to the desires of Holy Mother Church, who has indeed nothing more at heart than to recall her erring sons and to lead them back to her bosom. But in reality beneath these enticing words and blandishments lies hid a most grave error, by which the foundations of the Catholic faith are completely destroyed.

5. Admonished, therefore, by the consciousness of Our Apostolic office that We should not permit the flock of the Lord to be cheated by dangerous fallacies, We invoke, Venerable Brethren, your zeal in avoiding this evil; for We are confident that by the writings and words of each one of you the people will more easily get to know and understand those principles and arguments which We are about to set forth, and from which Catholics will learn how they are to think and act when there is question of those undertakings which have for their end the union in one body, whatsoever be the manner, of all who call themselves Christians.

6. We were created by God, the Creator of the universe, in order that we might know Him and serve Him; our Author therefore has a perfect right to our service. God might, indeed, have prescribed for man's government only the natural law, which, in His creation, He imprinted on his soul, and have regulated the progress of that same law by His ordinary providence; but He preferred rather to impose precepts, which we were to obey, and in the course of time, namely from the beginnings of the human race until the coming and preaching of Jesus Christ, He Himself taught man the duties which a rational creature owes to its Creator: "God, who at sundry times and in divers manners, spoke in times past to the fathers by the prophets, last of all, in these days, hath spoken to us by his Son." [3] From which it follows that there can be no true religion other than that which is founded on the revealed word of God: which revelation, begun from the beginning and continued under the Old Law, Christ Jesus Himself under the New Law perfected. Now, if God has spoken (and it is historically certain that He has truly spoken), all must see that it is man's duty to believe absolutely God's revelation and to obey implicitly His commands; that we might rightly do both, for the glory of God and our own salvation, the Only-begotten Son of God founded His Church on earth. Further, We believe that those who call themselves Christians can do no other than believe that a Church, and that Church one, was established by Christ; but if it is further inquired of what nature according to the will of its Author it must be, then all do not agree. A good number of them, for example, deny that the Church of Christ must be visible and apparent, at least to such a degree that it appears as one body of faithful, agreeing in one and the same doctrine under one teaching authority and government; but, on the contrary, they understand a visible Church as nothing else than a Federation, composed of various communities of Christians, even though they adhere to different doctrines, which may even be incompatible one with another. Instead, Christ our Lord instituted His Church as a perfect society, external of its nature and perceptible to the senses, which should carry on in the future the work of the salvation of the human race, under the leadership of one head, [4] with an authority teaching by word of mouth, [5] and by the ministry of the sacraments, the founts of heavenly grace; [6] for which reason He attested by comparison the similarity of the Church to a kingdom, [7] to a house, [8] to a sheepfold, [9] and to a flock. [10] This Church, after being so wonderfully instituted, could not, on the removal by death of its Founder and of the Apostles who were the pioneers in propagating it, be entirely extinguished and cease to be, for to it was given the commandment to lead all men, without distinction of time or place, to eternal salvation: "Going therefore, teach ye all nations." [11] In the continual carrying out of this task, will any element of strength and efficiency be wanting to the Church, when Christ Himself is perpetually present to it, according to His solemn promise: "Behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world?" [12] It follows then that the Church of Christ not only exists to-day and always, but is also exactly the same as it was in the time of the Apostles, unless we were to say, which God forbid, either that Christ our Lord could not effect His purpose, or that He erred when He asserted that the gates of hell should never prevail against it. [13]

7. And here it seems opportune to expound and to refute a certain false opinion, on which this whole question, as well as that complex movement by which non-Catholics seek to bring about the union of the Christian churches depends. For authors who favor this view are accustomed, times almost without number, to bring forward these words of Christ: "That they all may be one.... And there shall be one fold and one shepherd," [14] with this signification however: that Christ Jesus merely expressed a desire and prayer, which still lacks its fulfillment. For they are of the opinion that the unity of faith and government, which is a note of the one true Church of Christ, has hardly up to the present time existed, and does not to-day exist. They consider that this unity may indeed be desired and that it may even be one day attained through the instrumentality of wills directed to a common end, but that meanwhile it can only be regarded as mere ideal. They add that the Church in itself, or of its nature, is divided into sections; that is to say, that it is made up of several churches or distinct communities, which still remain separate, and although having certain articles of doctrine in common, nevertheless disagree concerning the remainder; and these all enjoy the same rights; and that the Church was one and unique from, at the most, the apostolic age until the first Ecumenical Councils. Controversies therefore, they say, and longstanding differences of opinion which keep asunder till the present day the members of the Christian family, must be entirely put aside, and from the remaining doctrines a common form of faith drawn up and proposed for belief, and in the profession of which all may not only know but feel that they are brothers. The manifold churches or communities, if united in some kind of universal federation, would then be in a position to oppose strongly and with success the progress of irreligion. This, Venerable Brethren, is what is commonly said. There are some, indeed, who recognize and affirm that Protestantism, as they call it, has rejected, with a great lack of consideration, certain articles of faith and some external ceremonies, which are, in fact, pleasing and useful, and which the Roman Church still retains. They soon, however, go on to say that that Church also has erred, and corrupted the original religion by adding and proposing for belief certain doctrines which are not only alien to the Gospel, but even repugnant to it. Among the chief of these they number that which concerns the primacy of jurisdiction, which was granted to Peter and to his successors in the See of Rome. Among them there indeed are some, though few, who grant to the Roman Pontiff a primacy of honor or even a certain jurisdiction or power, but this, however, they consider not to arise from the divine law but from the consent of the faithful. Others again, even go so far as to wish the Pontiff Himself to preside over their motley, so to say, assemblies. But, all the same, although many non-Catholics may be found who loudly preach fraternal communion in Christ Jesus, yet you will find none at all to whom it ever occurs to submit to and obey the Vicar of Jesus Christ either in His capacity as a teacher or as a governor. Meanwhile they affirm that they would willingly treat with the Church of Rome, but on equal terms, that is as equals with an equal: but even if they could so act, it does not seem open to doubt that any pact into which they might enter would not compel them to turn from those opinions which are still the reason why they err and stray from the one fold of Christ.

8. This being so, it is clear that the Apostolic See cannot on any terms take part in their assemblies, nor is it anyway lawful for Catholics either to support or to work for such enterprises; for if they do so they will be giving countenance to a false Christianity, quite alien to the one Church of Christ. Shall We suffer, what would indeed be iniquitous, the truth, and a truth divinely revealed, to be made a subject for compromise? For here there is question of defending revealed truth. Jesus Christ sent His Apostles into the whole world in order that they might permeate all nations with the Gospel faith, and, lest they should err, He willed beforehand that they should be taught by the Holy Ghost:[15] has then this doctrine of the Apostles completely vanished away, or sometimes been obscured, in the Church, whose ruler and defense is God Himself? If our Redeemer plainly said that His Gospel was to continue not only during the times of the Apostles, but also till future ages, is it possible that the object of faith should in the process of time become so obscure and uncertain, that it would be necessary to-day to tolerate opinions which are even incompatible one with another? If this were true, we should have to confess that the coming of the Holy Ghost on the Apostles, and the perpetual indwelling of the same Spirit in the Church, and the very preaching of Jesus Christ, have several centuries ago, lost all their efficacy and use, to affirm which would be blasphemy. But the Only-begotten Son of God, when He commanded His representatives to teach all nations, obliged all men to give credence to whatever was made known to them by "witnesses preordained by God,"[16] and also confirmed His command with this sanction: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be condemned." [17] These two commands of Christ, which must be fulfilled, the one, namely, to teach, and the other to believe, cannot even be understood, unless the Church proposes a complete and easily understood teaching, and is immune when it thus teaches from all danger of erring. In this matter, those also turn aside from the right path, who think that the deposit of truth such laborious trouble, and with such lengthy study and discussion, that a man's life would hardly suffice to find and take possession of it; as if the most merciful God had spoken through the prophets and His Only-begotten Son merely in order that a few, and those stricken in years, should learn what He had revealed through them, and not that He might inculcate a doctrine of faith and morals, by which man should be guided through the whole course of his moral life.

9. These pan-Christians who turn their minds to uniting the churches seem, indeed, to pursue the noblest of ideas in promoting charity among all Christians: nevertheless how does it happen that this charity tends to injure faith? Everyone knows that John himself, the Apostle of love, who seems to reveal in his Gospel the secrets of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, and who never ceased to impress on the memories of his followers the new commandment "Love one another," altogether forbade any intercourse with those who professed a mutilated and corrupt version of Christ's teaching: "If any man come to you and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into the house nor say to him: God speed you." [18] For which reason, since charity is based on a complete and sincere faith, the disciples of Christ must be united principally by the bond of one faith. Who then can conceive a Christian Federation, the members of which retain each his own opinions and private judgment, even in matters which concern the object of faith, even though they be repugnant to the opinions of the rest? And in what manner, We ask, can men who follow contrary opinions, belong to one and the same Federation of the faithful? For example, those who affirm, and those who deny that sacred Tradition is a true fount of divine Revelation; those who hold that an ecclesiastical hierarchy, made up of bishops, priests and ministers, has been divinely established, and those who assert that it has been brought in little by little in accordance with the conditions of the time; those who adore Christ really present in the Most Holy Eucharist through that marvelous conversion of the bread and wine, which is called transubstantiation, and those who affirm that Christ is present only by faith or by the signification and virtue of the Sacrament; those who in the Eucharist recognize the nature both of a sacrament and of a sacrifice, and those who say that it is nothing more than the memorial or commemoration of the Lord's Supper; those who believe it to be good and useful to invoke by prayer the Saints reigning with Christ, especially Mary the Mother of God, and to venerate their images, and those who urge that such a veneration is not to be made use of, for it is contrary to the honor due to Jesus Christ, "the one mediator of God and men." [19] How so great a variety of opinions can make the way clear to effect the unity of the Church We know not; that unity can only arise from one teaching authority, one law of belief and one faith of Christians. But We do know that from this it is an easy step to the neglect of religion or indifferentism and to modernism, as they call it. Those, who are unhappily infected with these errors, hold that dogmatic truth is not absolute but relative, that is, it agrees with the varying necessities of time and place and with the varying tendencies of the mind, since it is not contained in immutable revelation, but is capable of being accommodated to human life. Besides this, in connection with things which must be believed, it is nowise licit to use that distinction which some have seen fit to introduce between those articles of faith which are fundamental and those which are not fundamental, as they say, as if the former are to be accepted by all, while the latter may be left to the free assent of the faithful: for the supernatural virtue of faith has a formal cause, namely the authority of God revealing, and this is patient of no such distinction. For this reason it is that all who are truly Christ's believe, for example, the Conception of the Mother of God without stain of original sin with the same faith as they believe the mystery of the August Trinity, and the Incarnation of our Lord just as they do the infallible teaching authority of the Roman Pontiff, according to the sense in which it was defined by the Ecumenical Council of the Vatican. Are these truths not equally certain, or not equally to be believed, because the Church has solemnly sanctioned and defined them, some in one age and some in another, even in those times immediately before our own? Has not God revealed them all? For the teaching authority of the Church, which in the divine wisdom was constituted on earth in order that revealed doctrines might remain intact for ever, and that they might be brought with ease and security to the knowledge of men, and which is daily exercised through the Roman Pontiff and the Bishops who are in communion with him, has also the office of defining, when it sees fit, any truth with solemn rites and decrees, whenever this is necessary either to oppose the errors or the attacks of heretics, or more clearly and in greater detail to stamp the minds of the faithful with the articles of sacred doctrine which have been explained. But in the use of this extraordinary teaching authority no newly invented matter is brought in, nor is anything new added to the number of those truths which are at least implicitly contained in the deposit of Revelation, divinely handed down to the Church: only those which are made clear which perhaps may still seem obscure to some, or that which some have previously called into question is declared to be of faith.

10. So, Venerable Brethren, it is clear why this Apostolic See has never allowed its subjects to take part in the assemblies of non-Catholics: for the union of Christians can only be promoted by promoting the return to the one true Church of Christ of those who are separated from it, for in the past they have unhappily left it. To the one true Church of Christ, we say, which is visible to all, and which is to remain, according to the will of its Author, exactly the same as He instituted it. During the lapse of centuries, the mystical Spouse of Christ has never been contaminated, nor can she ever in the future be contaminated, as Cyprian bears witness: "The Bride of Christ cannot be made false to her Spouse: she is incorrupt and modest. She knows but one dwelling, she guards the sanctity of the nuptial chamber chastely and modestly." [20] The same holy Martyr with good reason marveled exceedingly that anyone could believe that "this unity in the Church which arises from a divine foundation, and which is knit together by heavenly sacraments, could be rent and torn asunder by the force of contrary wills." [21] For since the mystical body of Christ, in the same manner as His physical body, is one, [22] compacted and fitly joined together, [23] it were foolish and out of place to say that the mystical body is made up of members which are disunited and scattered abroad: whosoever therefore is not united with the body is no member of it, neither is he in communion with Christ its head. [24]

11. Furthermore, in this one Church of Christ no man can be or remain who does not accept, recognize and obey the authority and supremacy of Peter and his legitimate successors. Did not the ancestors of those who are now entangled in the errors of Photius and the reformers, obey the Bishop of Rome, the chief shepherd of souls? Alas their children left the home of their fathers, but it did not fall to the ground and perish for ever, for it was supported by God. Let them therefore return to their common Father, who, forgetting the insults previously heaped on the Apostolic See, will receive them in the most loving fashion. For if, as they continually state, they long to be united with Us and ours, why do they not hasten to enter the Church, "the Mother and mistress of all Christ's faithful"? [25] Let them hear Lactantius crying out: "The Catholic Church is alone in keeping the true worship. This is the fount of truth, this the house of Faith, this the temple of God: if any man enter not here, or if any man go forth from it, he is a stranger to the hope of life and salvation. Let none delude himself with obstinate wrangling. For life and salvation are here concerned, which will be lost and entirely destroyed, unless their interests are carefully and assiduously kept in mind." [26]

12. Let, therefore, the separated children draw nigh to the Apostolic See, set up in the City which Peter and Paul, the Princes of the Apostles, consecrated by their blood; to that See, We repeat, which is "the root and womb whence the Church of God springs,"[27] not with the intention and the hope that "the Church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth"[28] will cast aside the integrity of the faith and tolerate their errors, but, on the contrary, that they themselves submit to its teaching and government. Would that it were Our happy lot to do that which so many of Our predecessors could not, to embrace with fatherly affection those children, whose unhappy separation from Us We now bewail. Would that God our Savior, "Who will have all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth,"[29] would hear us when We humbly beg that He would deign to recall all who stray to the unity of the Church! In this most important undertaking We ask and wish that others should ask the prayers of Blessed Mary the Virgin, Mother of divine grace, victorious over all heresies and Help of Christians, that She may implore for Us the speedy coming of the much hoped-for day, when all men shall hear the voice of Her divine Son, and shall be "careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace."[30]

13. You, Venerable Brethren, understand how much this question is in Our mind, and We desire that Our children should also know, not only those who belong to the Catholic community, but also those who are separated from Us: if these latter humbly beg light from heaven, there is no doubt but that they will recognize the one true Church of Jesus Christ and will, at last, enter it, being united with us in perfect charity. While awaiting this event, and as a pledge of Our paternal good will, We impart most lovingly to you, Venerable Brethren, and to your clergy and people, the apostolic benediction.

Given at Rome, at Saint Peter's, on the 6th day of January, on the Feast of the Epiphany of Jesus Christ, our Lord, in the year 1928, and the sixth year of Our Pontificate.

The Catholic Church in the Old Testament...

---

"And in the days of those kingdoms the GOD of Heaven will set up a Kingdom THAT SHALL NEVER BE DESTROYED, and His Kingdom shall not be delivered up to another people; and it shall break into pieces, and shall consume all these kingdoms, and ITSELF SHALL STAND FOREVER." Dan 2:44

---

The New Testament lies hidden in the Old Testament and the Old Testament is revealed in the New Testament. There is much in the Old Testament which prefigures and prophecies happenings in the New Testament. These prefigurements are called 'types'. The New Testament 'reality' is always greater than the Old Testament 'type'. All of Holy Scripture, including both testaments, is one continuous story. It is the story of GOD's Salvation History.

---

The Catholic Church can be compared to Noah's Ark. Not one person outside of the ark was saved. See the file 'Outside of the Catholic Church There is No Salvation', elsewhere on this website.

---

"And every living thing on the earth was wiped out, from man to beast, from reptile to bird of the air; they were wiped from the earth. Only Noah and those with him in the ark were saved."
Gen 7:23

---

The Catholic Church is a Visible Church. It is the 'City set on a mountain which cannot be hidden' of Matt 5:14. It is the 'Lighted lamp not put under the bushel but on the lampstand in order to light the whole house' of Matt 5:15.

---

"And in the last days the Mountain of the House of the Lord shall be prepared on top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow into it. And many people shall go, and say: Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the GOD of Jacob, and He will teach us his ways, and we will walk in His paths, for the law shall come forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem." Isa 2:2-3

---

"And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and high above the hills, and many people shall flow to it. And many nations shall come in haste, and say: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the GOD of Jacob, and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths, for the law shall go out of Zion, and the Word of the Lord out of Jerusalem." Mic 4:1-2 (note Mic 4:1-2 and Isa 2:2-3 are almost identical).

---

"And you shall know that I am the Lord your GOD, dwelling in Zion my holy mountain; and Jerusalem shall be holy and strangers shall pass through it no more." Joel 3:17

---

"Thus said the Lord of Hosts: I am returned to Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called THE CITY OF TRUTH, AND THE MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD OF HOSTS." Zech 8:3

"For thus said the Lord of Hosts: Yet one little while, and I will move the heaven and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land. And I will move all nations, and the desired of all nations shall come; and I will fill this house with glory, said the Lord of Hosts. The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, said the Lord of Hosts. Great shall be the glory of this last house more than of the first, said the Lord of Hosts; and in this place I will give peace, said the Lord of Hosts." Hag 2:7-10

"An invisible church is no church at all." St Ignatius of Antioch

The Catholic Church has a hierarchy system of authority and leadership, the Papacy and the Magisterium. It is all prefigured in the Old Testament...

The Papacy and the Magisterium:

"Now, listen to me, and I will give you some advice, that GOD may be with you. Act as the people's representative before GOD, bringing to Him whatever they have to say. Enlighten them in regard to the decisions and regulations showing them how they are to live and what they are to do. But you should also LOOK AMONG ALL THE PEOPLE FOR ABLE AND GOD-FEARING MEN, TRUSTWORTHY MEN WHO HATE DISHONEST GAIN, AND SET THEM AS OFFICERS OVER GROUPS OF THOUSANDS (Cardinals), of hundreds (Archbishops), of fifties (Bishops), and of tens (Priests). Let these people render decisions for the people in all ordinary cases. More important cases they should refer to you (the Pope), but all the lesser cases they can settle themselves. Thus your burden will be lightened, since they will bear it with you. If you do this, when GOD gives you orders you will be able to stand the strain, and all these people will go home satisfied." Ex 18:19-23

The authority.

Keys were a symbol of authority in the Old Testament:

"And it came to pass in that day, that I call my servant Eliacim, the son of Helcias, and I will clothe him with thy robe (the Pope wears a robe), and will strengthen him with thy girdle (a sash, the Pope wears a sash), and will give thy power into his hand (the Vicar of Christ): and he shall be a 'father' (the word 'Pope' means 'father') to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. And I will LAY THE KEY OF THE HOUSE OF DAVID UPON HIS SHOULDER; AND HE SHALL OPEN AND NONE SHALL SHUT; AND HE SHALL SHUT, AND NONE SHALL OPEN (binding and loosening. Rome has spoken, the issue is settled)." Isa 22:20-22

Compare these verses to Matt 16:19 where Jesus gave the 'Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven' to Peter only, and also gave him the power of 'binding and loosening'.

See 'The Papacy is Scriptural', found elsewhere on this website, for much more...

---

The Catholic Church is a teaching and a preaching Church...

"Go, then! It is I who will assist you in speaking and I will teach you what you are to say." Ex 4:12

The Lord said to Moses, "Come up to Me on the mountain and, while you are there, I will give you the stone tablets, on which I have written the commandments intended for their instruction." Ex 24:12

"You must teach the Israelites all the laws that the Lord has given them through Moses." Lev 10:11

"Now, Israel, hear the statutes and decrees which I am teaching you to observe, that you may live, and may enter in and take possession of the land in which the Lord, the GOD of your fathers, is giving you." Deut 4:1

---

Every Catholic Church is consecrated by a Bishop at its inception. Is your church consecrated?

"Take the anointing oil and anoint the dwelling and everything in it, consecrating it and all its furnishings, so that it will be sacred." Ex 40:9

---

Every Catholic Church has a Sanctuary. Does your church have a sanctuary?

"They shall make a Sanctuary for Me, that I may dwell in their midst." Ex 25:8

---

A sanctuary lamp is required, to burn continuously, to show the presence of the Living GOD. Every Catholic Church has a sanctuary lamp which burns continuously when Christ is present in the tabernacle. Does your church have a sanctuary lamp?

The Lord said to Moses, "Order the Israelites to bring you clear oil of crushed olives for the light, so that you may keep lamps burning regularly. In the meeting Tent, outside the veil that hangs in front of the Commandments, Aaron shall set up the lamps to burn before the Lord regularly, from evening til morning. Thus by a perpetual statute for you and your descendants, the lamps shall be set up on the pure gold lampstand, to burn regularly before the Lord." Lev 24:1-4

---

Every Catholic Church has a Tabernacle, the dwelling place of GOD in the Church. Does your church have a Tabernacle?

"This Tabernacle and all its furnishings you shall make exactly according to the pattern I will now show you." Ex 25:9

"Moreover, you shall make the Tabernacle with ten curtains of fine twined linen..." Ex 26:1

---

Every Catholic Church has an Altar. Does your church have an Altar?

"You shall make an Altar..." Ex 27:1

---

Catholic Churches have Priests. Does your church have Priests?

"From among the Israelites have your brother Aaron, together with his sons...brought to you, that they may be My Priests." Ex 28:1

---

The Catholic Church ordains new Priests and Bishops. Does your Church ordain new Priests?

See Lev chapters 8 and 9, for details of the Ordination of Aaron, the High Priest, and of his sons.

---

Priests of the Catholic Church wear vestments...

See Ex 28 for the details of the various vestments required of the priests of the time of Moses, and of the High Priest Aaron. Aaron's vestments are amazingly like those which are worn by Catholic Bishops and the Pope today.

The Pope wears a Miter, as did Aaron, the High Priest. See Ex 28:4, 28:37-39, 29:6, 39:28-31, and Lev 8:9, 16:4, and Zech 3:5 for details of how it looked.

---

Moses carried the Rod of Aaron to symbolize his authority. Ex 7:8-13 and 17:4-6
A Catholic Bishop carries a rod, or Crosier as a symbol of his pastoral office.

The sacrifice of the Mass was prefigured in Mal 1:11...

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, My Name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to My Name A CLEAN OBLATION, for My Name is great among the Gentiles."

---

The Catholic Church holds Counsel and Councils. The first one was the Council of Jerusalem, convened shortly after the Church was founded. It is documented in Acts 15. The most recent was Vatican Council II in 1962.

"Where there is no governor, the people shall fall, but there is safety where there is much Counsel."
Prov 11:14

"The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; but he that is wise hearkens unto Counsels." Prov 12:15

"Designs are brought to nothing where there is no Counsel; but where there are many Counsellors, they are established." Prov 15:22

"Now the Counsel of Achitopel, which he gave in those days, was as if a man should consult GOD." 2Sam 16:23

"Take Counsel, gather a Council; make thy shadow as the night of the midday;..." Isa 16:3

---

The Catholic Church is 'Universal', as its name implies...

"I will make a great nation of you. I will bless you and make your name great, so that you shall be a blessing. I will bless them that bless you, and curse them that curse you. In you shall all the nations of the earth be blessed." Gen 12:2-3

"Day to day pours forth this Word, night to night sends out this knowledge. There is no speech and no utterance whose sound may not be heard: into all the earth their sound goes forth, and unto the ends of the world their tidings." Psa 19:3-5

"All you inhabitants of the world, who dwell on the earth, when the sign shall be lifted up on the mountains, you shall see, and you shall hear the sound of the trumpet." Isa 18:3

"Come near, you Gentiles, and hear, and hearken you people. Let the earth hear, and all that is therein, the world, and everything that comes forth of it." Isa 34:1

---

In all eight chapters of the 'Song of Songs' or 'Canticles', married love is symbolic of the love of GOD for His Church.

The Catholic Church in the New Testament...

---

Jesus Christ declared in Matthew 16:18, that He will build His Church on solid rock, the rock of Simon-Peter.

It is generally recognized that the point of actual founding of the Catholic Church is at the cross in John 19:34, "...but one of the soldiers opened His side with a lance, and immediately there came out blood and water."

At Pentecost in Acts 2:1-4, the Apostles were given the authority, and the power, by the Holy Spirit with which to commence the building of the Church. Notice in Acts 2:14-36 that Peter, the same Peter who denied Christ three times and ran off and wept (Matt 26:69-75), is immediately emboldened and gives his first discourse.

---

The blueprint for the birth and growth of the Catholic Church was drawn by Jesus Christ Himself. "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took and sowed in his field. This indeed is the smallest of all the seeds; but when it grows up it is larger than any herb and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and dwell in its branches." Matthew 13:31-32

Jesus Christ planted that tiny seed, and He has tended it, and watered it, and loved it, and nourished it, and protected it, and watched it grow and expand for almost 2000 years. He will continue to watch over His Church until the end of time. That is His promise.

---

The word 'Catholic' is taken from the Greek 'Katholicos', which translated, means 'Universal'. The Greek word was Latinized into 'Catholicus'. Taking the true meaning of the word, we find that the 'Catholic Church' is mentioned in Scripture in Matt 28:19-20, "Go, therefore, and make disciples of 'ALL' nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe 'ALL' that I have commanded you; and behold, I am with you 'ALL' days, even unto the consummation of the world." The three 'ALLS' are ALL people, ALL truth, for ALL time, truly 'Universal', truly 'Catholic'.

---

Throughout the Old Testament GOD dealt with His chosen people, His 'firstborn' (Ex 4:22) the Hebrews, the Israelites, and the Jews. His first covenant was with Adam and Eve, a small group. As the Old Testament progressed, GOD's covenants encompassed a larger and larger group of people, Noah and his family, then Abraham and his tribe, then Moses with many tribes, then David with his Kingdom. Now in the New Testament, Jesus Christ fulfilled the promise of the Old Testament and invoked a New Covenant, a worldwide covenant, encompassing not only the Jews, but all people everywhere, every country, every tongue, every race, universal, Catholic. Jesus Christ gave a specific command to his Apostles for them to do this...

Acts 1:8, "...but you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you shall be witnesses for me in Jerusalem (local) and in all Judea and Samaria (spreading out) and even to the very ends of the earth (worldwide - universal - all encompassing - CATHOLIC)."

---

The Catholic Church, the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, was persecuted by both the Jews and the Romans from the very beginning. The Jews wanted to stamp out this new Christianity because Christ called Himself GOD. The Romans wanted to destroy this new Christianity because Christ called Himself a King. The infant Church had to practice in hiding or fade into oblivion. But fade it would not because its founder was GOD Himself who promised the Gates of Hell would not prevail against His Church. Matt 16:18

---

The very first Church gatherings were not in churches (buildings) at all but in the homes of loyal Christians. These gatherings were done in great secrecy in order to avoid persecution. The faithful had to use code words to communicate, such as Babylon for Rome, and the fish symbol. The word 'fish' is Icthus in Greek, the dominant language of the time. Icthus is the first letters of 'Jesus Christ Son of GOD Savior'. Fish are used as a symbol of the faithful, referring to the miraculous catch (Luke 5:1-7), and that some of the Apostles were fishermen.

*"And continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread in their houses..."
Acts 2:46*

*"Greet Prisca and Aquila, my helpers in Christ Jesus, who for my life have risked their own necks. To them not only I give thanks but also the Churches of the Gentiles. Greet also the Church that is in their house. Greet my beloved Ephraenetus, who is the first fruits of Asia to Christ."
Romans 16:3-5.*

"The Churches of Asia greet you. Aquila and Priscilla with the Church at their house (Corinth) greet you heartily in the Lord." 1Cor 16:19

*"Greetings to the brethren who are at Laodicea and to Nymphas and the Church that is in his house."
Col 4:15-16*

*"And to Appia, the sister, and to Archippus, our fellow soldier, and to the Church that is in thy house:"
Philemon 1:2*

Notice in Romans and Corinthians above, that the Church had already spread to Asia.

---

*It was prophesied by Caiphias, the high priest, that Jesus would gather all of His Children into ONE. "This, however, he said not of himself; but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus was to die for the nation; and not only for the nation, but that He might gather into ONE the Children of GOD who were scattered abroad." John 11:51-52
The beginning of the fulfillment of this prophecy is in the book of Acts.*

---

The new Church expanded rapidly. This rapid expansion was due in part to the fact that the Romans had built excellent roads connecting the various cities. The Apostles used these roads to advantage.

"Now they who received his word were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand souls." Acts 2:41

"And the multitude of men and women who believed in the Lord increased still more..." Acts 5:14

"Now in those days, as the number of the disciples was increasing..." Acts 6:1

*"So the Church grew stronger and stronger in the faith and increased in numbers daily."
Acts 16:5*

"And the Word of the Lord continued to spread, and the number of the disciples increased rapidly in Jerusalem; a large number also of the priests accepted the faith." Acts 6:7

*"Now throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria the Church was in peace and was being built up, walking in fear of the Lord, and it was filled with the consolation of the Holy Spirit."
Acts 9:31. The command of Jesus Christ in Acts 1:8 is being carried out.*

"And news concerning them came to the ears of the Church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch. Acts 11:22

"But the Word of the Lord continued to grow and spread." Acts 12:24

Starting in Acts 13:1, the worldwide, universal, Catholic Church began to expand to eventually include all of humanity...

"Now in the Church at Antioch there were prophets and teachers, among whom were Barnabas and Simon, called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen the fostering brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul." Acts 13:1

"On arriving at Jerusalem they were welcomed by the Church and the Apostles and Presbyters (priests), and they proclaimed all that GOD had done with them." Acts 15:4

"Then the Apostles and the Presbyters (priests) with the whole Church decided to select representatives and to send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. Acts 15:22

*"But I commend to you Phoebe, our sister, who is in the ministry of the Church at Cenchrea..."

1Thess 1:8

"Amen I say to you, wherever in the Whole World this Gospel is preached, this also that she has done shall be told in memory of her." Matt 26:13

"But I say; Have they not heard? Yes, indeed, Their voice has gone forth into All the Earth, and their words Unto the ends of the World." Rom 10:18

"And this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the Whole World, for a witness to All Nations; and then will come the end." Matt 24:14

"Go, therefore and make disciples of All Nations..." Matt 28:19

And He said to them, "Go into the Whole World and preach the Gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15

"But they went forth and preached everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed the preaching by the signs that followed." Mark 16:20

---

The Liturgy of the Mass began to develop...

"And they continued steadfastly in the teaching of the Apostles and in the Communion of the Breaking of the Bread and in Prayers." Acts 2:42

"I will declare thy name to my brethren; in the midst of the Church I will praise thee." Heb 2:12

Incense is used at Mass...

"According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord. And the whole multitude of the people were praying outside at the hour of incense." Luke 1:9-10

"And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all the saints upon the golden altar which is before the throne. And with the prayers of the saints there went up before GOD from the angel's hand the smoke of the incense." Rev 8:3-4

The Catholic Church uses incense today, and offers it up with the prayers of the saints. Does your church do these things?

---

The Apostles preached to the Jews in the synagogues on Saturday because that was their 'Sabbath' and the Apostles knew that was the time to preach to the greatest number of Jews gathered together. Then on the next day, Sunday, they preached the new Christianity to the Jewish converts, and to the Gentiles.

"And the next Sabbath almost the whole city gathered to hear the Word of the Lord." Acts 13:44

"And he would preach in the synagogue every Sabbath, and try to convince the Jews and Greeks." Acts 18:4

"And on the first day of the week (Sunday), when we had met for the Breaking of the Bread (the Holy Eucharist of the Mass), Paul addressed them, as he was to leave the next morning, and he prolonged his address until midnight." Acts 20:7

---

As the number of Churches increased at a rapid pace, it soon became obvious that there had to be a centralized seat of authority with which to oversee them all, and to insure that they all spoke with the same one voice of truth. Was this to be Jerusalem, since some say that James had the authority since he was the Bishop of Jerusalem and not Peter? Absolutely not, because the Apostles heard from the lips of Jesus Christ Himself in Matthew 24, that Jerusalem would soon be destroyed. James may have been the Bishop of Jerusalem, but Peter was the Bishop of all the world. See Acts 1:8. This central seat of authority became Rome, and the Papacy, and the Magisterium. The story of how this all came about is well documented by the Church Fathers.

The Catholic Church has Deacons now, just as it had then. The Diaconate was started...

"So the Twelve called together the multitude of the disciples and said, 'It is not desirable that we should forsake the Word of GOD and serve at tables. Therefore, brethren, select from among you seven men of good reputation, full of Spirit and of wisdom, that we may put them in charge of this work. But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the Word'." Acts 6:1-6

"Is anyone among you sick? Let him bring in the presbyters of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord." James 5:14

The Catholic Church has Bishops now, just as it had then...

Before the Apostles passed on, they started a system, commanded by Jesus Christ, to pass the baton to successors. This was to insure the perpetuality of the Catholic Church which Jesus Christ founded. That system is called 'Apostolic Succession'.

Every Catholic Bishop can show his line of spiritual descent, that is, who consecrated him, who consecrated his consecrator, and so on, all the way back to the Apostles. Jesus Christ vested in the Apostles special authority. This special Apostolic authority has been passed down in unbroken succession through the Bishops of the Church for almost two thousand years, so that the present Bishops of the Church truly teach with the voice of Jesus Christ through the Apostles.

Passing the Baton...

Heb 6:1-3, "Therefore, leaving the elementary teaching concerning Christ, let us pass on to things more perfect, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith towards GOD, of the doctrine of baptisms and the laying on of hands, of the resurrection of the dead and of eternal judgment."

Psa 109:8, "...May another take up his duties."

Acts 1:20, "...And his ministry let another take."

Note! The Greek word used in this verse is "episkope" which means "Bishop". In the Douay Rheims and the King James Bibles, the word used is "Bishopric". Here we see that a Bishop is to replace an Apostle. That is a prime example of Apostolic Succession.

Acts 20:32, "And now I commend you to GOD and to the Word of His grace, who is able to build up and to give the inheritance among all the sanctified."

1Chron 24:5, "And he divided both the families one with the other by lot; for there were princes of the sanctuary, and princes of GOD..."

1Chron 25:8, "And they cast lots by their courses, the elder equally with the younger..."

1Chron 24:31, "And they also cast lots over against their brethren the sons of Aaron before David the king, and Sadoc, and Ahimelech, and the princes of the priestly and Levitical families, both the elder and the younger. The lot divided all equally."

Lk 1:8-9, "Now it came to pass, while he was officiating in the order of his course as a priest before GOD, according to the customs of the priest's office, that he was chosen by lot to enter the temple of the Lord to burn incense."

Acts 1:15-26, "In those days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, now in the number of persons met together was about a hundred and twenty,....And they drew lots between them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles."

1Cor 3:10, "According to the grace of GOD which has been given to me, as a wise builder, I laid the foundation, and another builds thereon."

The 'Laying on of Hands' to convey authority and leadership is prefigured in the Old Testament.

Num 27:15-23, Then Moses said to the Lord, "May the Lord, the GOD of the spirits of all mankind, set over the community a man who shall act as their leader in all things, to guide them in all their actions; that the Lord's community may not be like sheep without a shepherd." And the Lord replied to Moses, "Take Joshua, son of Nun, a man of spirit, and lay your hands upon him. Have him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, and commission him before their eyes. Invest him with some of your own dignity, that the whole Israelite community may obey him. He shall present himself to the priest Eleazar, to have him seek out for him the decisions of the Urim in the Lord's presence; and as He directs, Joshua, all the Israelites with him, and the community as a whole shall perform all their actions." Moses did as the Lord had commanded him. Taking Joshua and having him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, he laid his hands on him and gave him his commission, as the Lord had directed through Moses."

Deut 34:9, "And Joshua, the son of Nun was full of the Spirit of Wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and he did as the Lord commanded Moses."

This same rite was practiced in the early Church and continues to this day. The Bishop, by the 'laying on of hands', conveys a succession of Priests and Bishops with a commission, giving them the authority and the leadership needed to perpetuate the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Acts 6:6, "These they set before the apostles, and after they had prayed they laid their hands upon them."

Acts 9:17, "...and laying his hands upon him, he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus, who appeared to thee on thy journey, that thou mayest recover thy sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit." A 'laying on of hands' is a filling of the Holy Spirit.

Acts 8:17, "Then they laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit."

Acts 19:6, " and when Paul laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they began to speak in tongues and to prophesy."

Acts 13:3, "Then having fasted and prayed and laid their hands upon them, they let them go."

2Tim 1:6, "For this reason I admonish thee to stir up the grace of GOD which is in thee by the laying on of my hands."

1Tim 4:14, "Do not neglect the grace that is in thee, granted to thee by reason of prophecy with the laying on of hands of the presbyterate."

Acts 9:15-17, "But the Lord said to him, 'Go for this man is a chosen vessel to me, to carry My Name among nations and kings and the children of Israel. For I will show him how much he must suffer for My Name'. So Ananias departed and entered the house, and laying his hands upon him, he said, 'Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus, who appeared to thee on thy journey, that thou mayest recover thy sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit'."

ST. CLEMENT OF ROME, BISHOP AND APOSTOLIC FATHER OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.
FIRST LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS 80 A.D.

CHAP. XLIV.--THE ORDINANCES OF THE APOSTLES, THAT THERE MIGHT BE NO CONTENTION RESPECTING THE PRIESTLY OFFICE.

"Our apostles also knew, through our Lord Jesus Christ, and there would be strife on account of the office of the episcopate. For this reason, therefore, inasmuch as they had obtained a perfect fore-knowledge of this, they appointed those [ministers] already mentioned, and afterwards gave instructions, that when these should fall asleep, other approved men should succeed them in their ministry. We are of opinion, therefore, that those appointed by them, or afterwards by other eminent men, with the consent of the whole Church, and who have blamelessly served the flock of Christ in a humble, peaceable, and disinterested spirit, and have for a long time possessed the good opinion of all, cannot be justly dismissed from the ministry. For our sin will not be small, if we eject from the episcopate those who have blamelessly and holily fulfilled its duties. Blessed are those presbyters who, having finished their course before now, have obtained a fruitful and perfect departure [from this world]; for they have no fear lest any one deprive them of the place now appointed them. But we see that ye have removed some men of excellent behaviour from the ministry, which they fulfilled blamelessly and with honour."

What Church Fathers, Church Councils, and early writers had to say about Apostolic Succession...

IRENÆUS, AGAINST HERESIES 4,33,8, 180 A.D.

"The true gnosis is the doctrine of the Apostles, and the ancient organization of the Church throughout the whole world, and the manifestation of the Body of Christ according to the successions of Bishops, by which successions the Bishops have handed down the Church which is found everywhere."

IRENÆUS, AGAINST HERESIES 5,20,1, 180 A.D.

"For all these [heretics] are of a much later date than are the Bishops to whom the Apostles handed over the Churches."

CLEMENT OF ALEXANDRIA, WHO IS THE RICH MAN THAT IS SAVED 42,2, 200 A.D.

"After the death of the tyrant, the [Apostle John] came back to Ephesus from the island of Patmos; and upon being invited, he went even to the neighboring cities of the pagans, here to appoint Bishops, there to set in order whole Churches, and there to ordain to the clerical estate such as were designated by the Spirit."

FIRMILIAN BISHOP OF CAESAREA, LETTER TO CYPRIAN 75,16, 255 A.D.

"Therefore the power of forgiving sins was given to the Apostles and to the Churches which these men, sent by Christ, established; and to the Bishops who succeeded them by BEING ORDAINED IN THEIR PLACE."

TERTULLIAN, THE DEMURRER AGAINST HERETICS 32,1, 200 A.D.

"Moreover, if there be any (heresies) bold enough to plant themselves in the midst of the apostolic age, so that they might seem to be handed down by the Apostles... we can say to them: let them show the origins of their churches, let them unroll the order of their bishops, running down in succession from the beginning, so that their first bishop shall have for author and predecessor some one of the Apostles or of the apostolic men who continued steadfast with the Apostles."

TERTULLIAN, THE DEMURRER AGAINST HERETICS 32,2-3, 200 A.D.

"For this is the way in which the apostolic Churches transmit their lists: like the Church of the Smyrneans, which records that Polycarp was placed there by John; like the Church of the Romans where Clement was ordained by Peter. In just this same way the other Churches display those whom they have as sprouts from the Apostolic seed, having been established in the episcopate by the Apostles."

COUNCIL OF LAODICEA, CANON 12, 343 A.D.

"That Bishops are to be appointed to ecclesiastical leadership by the judgment of the metropolitans and their surrounding Bishops, after they have been examined at length as to their knowledge of the faith and quite frankly as to their deportment."

---

The Bishops of the Catholic Church of today vote amongst themselves just as the Apostles did in the ancient Church.

"And they drew lots between them, and the lot fell upon Matthias: and he was numbered with the eleven Apostles." Acts 1:26

The Catholic Church has a visible head on earth today (the Pope) just as it did in its infancy, one who will shepherd the flock and who will represent the invisible head Jesus Christ...

"And after a long debate, Peter got up and said to them, "Brethren, you know that in early days GOD made choice among us, that through MY mouth the Gentiles should hear the Word of the Gospel and believe." Acts 15:7-11

Right after Peter's discourse in Acts 15:7-11, which was during the first Church council, the Council of Jerusalem, the dissension within the council was abated.

"Then the whole meeting quieted down and listened..." Acts 15:12

This is a prefigurement of the authority of the Pope, "Rome has spoken, the issue is settled."

Some in the Church will be given a specific gift...

"Now you are the body of Christ member for member. And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers; after that miracles, then gifts of healing, services of help, Power of Administration, and the speaking of various tongues." 1Cor 12:27-28

---

The Catholic Church has as its 'Power of Administration' a system of government known as a 'Hierarchy'.

Eph 4:11-16: "And his gifts were that some should be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the cunning of men, by their craftiness in deceitful wiles. Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by every joint with which it is supplied, when each part is working properly, makes bodily growth and upbuilds itself in love."

There is a correspondence between the apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors and teachers, and the vital organs of the Body of Christ. Every body has vital organs, without which it cannot function. The lesser members are essential, to be sure, but if they were cut off, the body would merely be inconvenienced, not destroyed. As the body matures, the cells of the vital organs reproduce their own cells; the heart, heart cells; the liver, liver cells, the brain, brain cells, and so forth. They do so with the material from other living cells: blood, genes, etc. So, as long as the body lives, its hierarchal composition will continue. Without this hierarchal order there is disorder. Lacking unity with the Body of Christ, "children" (used here of the carnal) are out of control, not in its place and therefore not functioning properly, remains immature. What member is connected directly to the head? The body "builds itself up in love" while the members are members of one another, Rom 12:5, Eph 4:25. So, there must always be a hierarchy in the Body of Christ, the Church. If the members are members of one another, Rom 12:5, Eph 4:25, and the body "builds itself up in love" and the body "fills the universe in all its parts", then there is an intimate bond between all the members that is for their upbuilding. This is the communion/intercession of saints.

Many thanks to Paul Kamalsky for this contribution of the hierarchy of the Catholic Church.

Through the Catholic Church there shall be made known the wisdom of GOD...

"Yes, to me, the very least of all saints, there was given this grace, to announce among the Gentiles the good tidings of the unfathomable riches of Christ, and to enlighten all men as to what is the dispensation of the mystery which has been hidden from eternity in GOD, who created all things; in order that through the Church there be made known to the Principalities and the Powers in the heavens the manifold wisdom of GOD according to the eternal purpose which He accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord." Eph 3:8-10

It is not the Bible, but the Catholic Church that is the foundation and the pillar of truth...

"I write these things to thee hoping to come to thee shortly, but in order that thou mayest know, if I am delayed, how to conduct thyself in the house of GOD, which is the Church of the Living GOD, the pillar and mainstay of the truth." 1Tim 3:14-15

---

If a dispute arises, first begin at the lowest level to resolve it, a one on one discussion. If that fails, then take one or two witnesses with you to confirm the wording of the dispute. If that fails then appeal to the Church, the final authority...

"And if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the Church, but if he refuse to hear even the Church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican." Matt 18:15-18.

Jesus Christ is the head of the Catholic Church...

"But just as the Church is subject to Christ, so also let wives be to their husbands in all things."

"And He Himself gave some men as Apostles, and some as Prophets, and others again as Evangelists, and others as Pastors and Teachers, IN ORDER TO PERFECT THE SAINTS FOR A WORK OF MINISTRY, FOR THE BUILDING UP OF THE BODY OF CHRIST, UNTIL WE ALL ATTAIN TO THE UNITY OF THE FAITH AND OF THE DEEP KNOWLEDGE OF THE SON OF GOD, TO PERFECT MANHOOD, TO THE MATURE MEASURE OF THE FULLNESS OF CHRIST. AND THIS HE HAS DONE THAT WE MAY BE NOW NO LONGER CHILDREN, TOSSED TO AND FRO AND CARRIED ABOUT BY EVERY WIND OF DOCTRINE DEvised IN THE WICKEDNESS OF MEN, IN CRAFTINESS, ACCORDING TO THE WILES OF ERROR. RATHER ARE WE TO PRACTICE THE TRUTH IN LOVE, AND GROW UP IN ALL THINGS IN HIM WHO IS THE HEAD, CHRIST. FOR FROM HIM THE WHOLE BODY (BEING CLOSELY JOINED AND KNIT TOGETHER THROUGH EVERY JOINT OF THE SYSTEM ACCORDING TO THE FUNCTIONING IN DUE MEASURE OF EACH SINGLE PART) DERIVES ITS INCREASE TO THE BUILDING UP OF ITSELF IN LOVE." Eph 4:11-16

"This grace has abounded beyond measure in us in all wisdom and prudence, so that HE MAY MAKE KNOWN TO US THE MYSTERY OF HIS WILL ACCORDING TO HIS GOOD PLEASURE HE PURPOSED IN HIM TO BE DISPENSED IN THE FULLNESS OF THE TIMES; TO RE-ESTABLISH ALL THINGS IN CHRIST, BOTH THOSE IN THE HEAVENS AND THOSE ON EARTH."Eph 1:8-10

"I fed you with milk, not with solid food, FOR YOU WERE NOT YET READY FOR IT. NOR ARE YOU NOW READY FOR IT, FOR YOU ARE STILL CARNAL." 1Cor 3:2

"For whereas by this time you ought to be masters, YOU NEED TO BE TAUGHT AGAIN THE RUDIMENTS OF THE WORDS OF GOD; AND YOU HAVE BECOME SUCH AS HAVE NEED OF MILK AND NOT OF SOLID FOOD. The Catholic Church which Jesus Christ founded will last for all eternity...

"No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper, and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment, thou shalt condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the Lord, and their justice with Me, said the Lord." Isa 54:17

"And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matt 16:18

"And behold, I am with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world." Matt 28:20

"And I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him. But you shall know Him, because He will dwell with you, and be in you." John 14:16-17

"Now, to him who is able to accomplish all things in a measure far beyond what we ask or conceive, in keeping with the power that is at work in us, to Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus down through all the ages of time without end. Amen." Eph 3:21

"And he said to them, 'Men of Israel, take care of what you are about to do to these men. For some time ago there rose up Theodas, claiming to be somebody, and a number of men, about four hundred, joined him; but he was slain, and all his followers were dispersed and he was brought to nothing. After him rose up Judas the Galilean in the days of the census and drew some people after him; he too perished, and all of his followers were scattered abroad. So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD.'" Acts 5:35-39

*Well, clearly, the Catholic Church is still here after almost 2000 years. It has certainly been tried by many to overthrow it from without and from within, almost without reprieve for the entire two millennium. Jews, Romans, Vandals, Heretics, Islam, Protestants, the French Revolution, Modernists, Hitler, Communists, and many others, one group after another, have tried and failed, and yet the Church still stands. It is the oldest, and the largest, and the longest lasting institution on earth. Having said that, aren't you compelled to agree that the Catholic Church is of the work of GOD and not of men? Despite all of this constant attack, the Catholic Church has grown to well over one billion (1,045,000,000*) members, or one sixth of the population of the entire earth, as of January 2000. (*official Church figure)*

The early Church can be compared to the planting of a seed, an acorn. Over the past almost 2000 years the acorn has grown into a large and beautiful oak tree.

""...And though a tenth remain in it, it will be burned again, like a terebinth or an oak, whose stump remains standing when it is felled." The holy seed is its stump." Isaiah 6:13

to this magnificent oak tree.

The oak tree has all of the qualities of the acorn, but the acorn does not have all of the qualities of the oak tree.

---

The Catholic Church is the only Church which fits perfectly with the pattern of the Early Church as portrayed by Holy Scripture. There is no other Church which even comes close to matching it.

---

"Only you must remain firmly founded in the faith and steadfast and not withdrawing from the hope of the Gospel which you have heard.

IT HAS BEEN PREACHED TO EVERY CREATURE UNDER HEAVEN...." Col 1:23.

"For no other foundation can any one lay than that which is laid down, which is Jesus Christ."

1Corinthians 3:11

---

The Old Testament has a verse which complements that one:

"Unless the LORD builds the house, those who build it labor in vain...."

Psalms 127:1

The Lord's house is defined in 1Timothy 3:15;

"But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth."

1Timothy 3:15

Now the Lord speaks of actually building the house;

"And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church."

Matthew 16:18

Did you notice the singular nature of those verses, the house, not houses, and the church, or My Church, not churches?

---

"Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, "Behold, I am laying in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tested stone, a precious cornerstone, of a sure foundation: He who believes will not be in haste"."

Isaiah 28:16

"Every one then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house upon the rock; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat upon that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock. And every one who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house upon the sand; and the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell; and great was the fall of it."

Matthew 7:24-27

Notice that Jesus said the wise man built his house upon the rock. He did not say his houses upon the rock.

"And he came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near; for through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father. So then you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the cornerstone, in whom the whole structure is joined together and grows into a holy temple in the Lord; in whom you also are built into it for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit."

Ephesians 2:17-22

Note!

In order to be "built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets", you must be able to prove that your sect has Apostolic Succession.

In order to show that your sect belongs "in whom the whole structure is joined together and grows into a holy temple in the Lord", you must again be able to prove that your sect has Apostolic Succession.

"But God's firm foundation stands, bearing this seal: "The Lord knows those who are his," and, "Let every one who names the name of the Lord depart from iniquity"."

IN ABOUT THE YEAR:

30 A.D., The foundation of the Catholic Church was laid down by Jesus Christ.

See Matthew 16:18,18:15-18,28:20, and Ephesians 5:23, and of course revisit Psalms 127:1, since it was now fulfilled at that time.

Martin Luther, the first Protestant, had this to say regarding the Church founded by Jesus Christ:

A sermon by Martin Luther:

"Accordingly, we concede to the papacy that they sit in the true Church, possessing the office instituted by Christ and inherited from the apostles, to teach, baptize, administer the sacrament, absolve, ordain, etc.,"

Sermon for the Sunday after Christ's Ascension; John 15:26-16:4 (2nd sermon), page 265, paragraph 28. (1522)

Luther remarked several years later:

"We concede -- as we must -- that so much of what they [the Catholic Church] say is true: that the papacy has God's word and the office of the apostles, and that we have received Holy Scriptures, Baptism, the Sacrament, and the pulpit from them. What would we know of these if it were not for them?"

Sermon on the gospel of St. John, chaps. 14 - 16 (1537), in vol. 24 of LUTHER'S WORKS, St. Louis, Mo., Concordia, 1961, 304

"For no other foundation can any one lay than that which is laid down, which is Jesus Christ."

1Corinthians 3:11

However, almost 1500 years after Jesus Christ founded His Church, chaos and confusion entered the picture.

1Corinthians 3:11 and several other verses were ignored by many, as mere human men and women had other ideas.

How can any verses of Holy Scripture be ignored by those who claim they believe in Sola Scriptura? Not GOD, but mere human creatures would begin to lay their own foundations. However, they could not lay them on rock, since the rock supports only the one Church which Jesus Christ founded.

"For GOD is not the author of confusion, but of peace..."

1Corinthians 14:33

"But Peter and the Apostles answered and said, "We must obey GOD rather than men."

IN THE YEAR:

1521. The foundation of the Lutherans, the beginning of Protestantism, was laid down by Martin Luther.

1522. The foundation of the Anabaptists was laid down by Conrad Grebel, Menno Simons, Thomas Munzer and others.

1525. The foundation of the Mennonites was laid down by Menno Simons in a split from Anabaptists.

1534. The foundation of the Anglican Church of England, was laid down by King Henry VIII.

1536. The foundation of the Calvinists was laid down by John Calvin, as he taught predestination.

1560. The foundation of the Presbyterians was laid down by John Knox, who studied under Luther.

1582. The foundation of the Congregationalists was laid down by Robert Brown, a branch from Puritanism.

1609. The foundation of the Baptists in Holland was laid down by John Smyth.

1639. The foundation of the Baptists in America was laid down by Roger Williams.

1647. The foundation of the Quakers was laid down by George Fox in England.

"Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that they may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you."

Hebrews 13:17

How many of the above "foundation layers" obeyed the clear command of Hebrews 13:17?

How many simply ignored yet another Bible verse?

---

1693. The foundation of the Amish was laid down by men in a split from the Mennonites.

1708. The foundation of the Church of the Brethren was laid down by five men and three women.

1739. The foundation of the Methodists was laid down by John and Charles Wesley.

1770. The foundation of the Universalists was laid down by John Murray in New Jersey.

1774. The foundation of the Unitarians was laid down by Theophilus Lindley.

1789. The foundation of the Episcopalians was laid down by Samuel Seabury. It is the American branch of Anglicans.

1792. The foundation of the Reformed Church in America was laid down by many who broke from the Dutch Reformed Church.

1802. The foundation of the Seventh Day Baptist General Conference was laid down by Stephen and Ann Mumford.

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Luke 11:23

Isn't it obvious that those who founded all those sects are violating Holy Scripture by scattering instead of gathering?

In that verse, Jesus did say "gather with me", did He not?

Also, since He gathers, those who scatter are against Him, are they not?

I have listed only 100 or so of the 39,000* sects of diverse denominations which existed as of 2007. At the present rate of growth there will be 63,000* sects by 2025, an increase of 26,000 from the 39,000 of 2007. That amounts to 1238 new foundations projected to be laid down by mere human men and women every year, or slightly more than an average of 3 each and every day. That means in 100 years there will be at least 123,800 additional sects at the present rate of growth. There will no doubt be many more than that figure since the rate of growth of the sects has been accelerating every year.

"For no other foundation can any one lay than that which is laid down, which is Jesus Christ."
1Corinthians 3:11

---

The 100 or so foundations laid down by men or women which I have listed here can be printed on just 2 pages.

However, if I were to list all 39,000 of them it would require a rather hefty book of more than 750 pages.

Every time another new foundation is laid down by mere men and women, the Body of Christ is split yet again.

Apparently, none of those other 'foundation layers' had even read Psalms 127:1, or 1Corinthians 3:11, or 1Peter 4:17, or if they did, they certainly ignored them.

Isn't ignoring those verses tantamount to raising their egocentric opinions to be above the word of GOD?

"If a house is divided against itself, that house cannot stand."

---

The plan put forth by Jesus Christ is just the opposite, for He called for unity:

"And there shall be one fold and one shepherd."
John 10:16

The House of GOD is mentioned 78 times in all of Holy Scripture (RSV).

The houses of GOD are not mentioned even once.

GOD's House is mention 5 times in all of Holy Scripture. (RSV)

GOD's houses are not mentioned even once.

The House of the Lord is mentioned 222 times in all of Holy Scripture (RSV).

The houses of the Lord are not mentioned even once.

The Lord's House is mentioned 10 times in all of Holy Scripture (RSV).

The Lord's houses are not mentioned even once.

"I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, beg you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all lowliness and meekness, with patience, forbearing one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit, just as you we are called to the one hope that belongs to your call, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all."

Ephesians 4:1-6

How many 'one(s)' did you count in those few verses?

Elucidation:

Saint Paul admonished us to have only one faith.

Having one faith means being of one mind as we are admonished to be by St. Paul in Philippians 1:27, and 2:2.

Having one mind requires that there be only one authority.

Doesn't it stand to reason that by having only one faith, everyone would be teaching and hearing the same truth and therefore there could not be any other but the one Church which Jesus Christ founded? Also, by having only the one Church, would not the commands of Psalms 127:1, 1Corinthians 3:11, and 1Peter 4:17 be obeyed?

Saint Paul continued in his letter to the Ephesians:

"And his gifts were that some should be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the cunning of men, by their craftiness in deceitful wiles."

Ephesians 4:11-15

---

Even in the Old Testament it was GOD's will that we may all be one.

"The word of the Lord came to me: Son of man, take a stick and write on it, For Judah, and the children of Israel associated with him; then take another stick and write upon it, For Joseph (the stick of Ephraim) and all the house of Israel associated with him; and join them together into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. And when your people say to you, Will you not show us what you mean by these? say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am about to take the stick of Joseph (which is in the hand of Ephraim) and the tribes of Israel associated with him; and I will join with it the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, that they may be one in my hand.

When the sticks on which you write are in your hand before their eyes, then say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the people of Israel from the nations among which they have gone, and will gather them from all sides, and bring them to their own land; and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king over them all; and they shall be no longer two nations, and no longer divided into two kingdoms."

Ezekiel 37:15-22

There is only one GOD, one Father, one Jesus Christ, one Savior, one Shepherd, one Lord, one High Priest, one Holy Spirit to guide the one Church that Jesus Christ founded, which is the one Body of Christ. There is only one cornerstone and one foundation. There is only one visible head of Christ's Church on earth, and there is only one authority which was given to that one Church. There is only one Word, one truth, one Scripture, one infallible interpretation of that one Scripture, one hope, one faith, and one Baptism. We are to be of one mind, be one in spirit, and speak with one mouth in unity. We are all to say the same things, have one intent, are to have no dissensions between us, and are to render only one judgment.

How many 'one(s)' did you count in that paragraph?

I sometimes wonder, what part of 'one' is simply not understood by so many?

How do we know that it is the Catholic Church that Jesus Christ founded?

---

1.

We know because of the Promises of Perpetuality made by Truth Himself (John 14:6), Jesus Christ. We know that He founded One Church only, as He stated in Matthew 16:18.

We know because He promised His Church would be defended from within and from without.

"And the gates of hell will NOT prevail against it." Matthew 16:18

We know because He promised to be with His Church until the end of the world, in Matthew 28:20.

We know because He promised He would not leave us orphans, in John 14:18.

We know because He promised the Spirit of Truth would dwell with it forever, in John 14:16.

We know because Saint Paul promised the Church will be with us forever." Ephesians 3:21

2.

We know because of Holy Scripture. The Catholic Church* is the only Church on earth which fits the pattern of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, and as Blueprinted for us in the Bible. There is not another Christian Church in the world that matches this plan as does the Catholic Church.

Compare your Church with what Holy Scripture has said it should be.

* The Catholic Church herein, includes all of the rites which have seven Sacraments and a valid Priesthood.

---

3.

We know because the Kingdom of GOD promised in Holy Scripture is the Catholic Church*.

Note: Saint Matthew most often used the term Kingdom of Heaven instead, as he directed his Gospel to the Jews, and they were forbidden to even say the name of GOD.

*Lumen Gentium I,3-5

Why did Jesus Christ become Incarnate in the first place? Was it to leave us with a book, or to establish a Church? Well, He just happened to tell us why:

"But He said to them, "To the other towns also I must PROCLAIM THE KINGDOM OF GOD, FOR THIS IS WHY I HAVE BEEN SENT"."

Luke 4:43

"But I tell you truly, there are some standing here who will not taste death before they see the Kingdom of GOD."

Luke 9:27

Jesus Christ founded His Church shortly after making this statement, and some to whom He spoke will live to see it.

"For the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost."

Luke 19:10

And how are we, who are the lost ones, to be saved?

It is through the Church which Jesus Christ founded here on earth.

"The Kingdom of GOD may be found where the Body of Christ shall be."

St. Alphonsus Liguori

"Where the Bishop appears, there let the people be, just as where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church."

St. Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Smyrneans 8, 107 A.D..

Where Jesus Christ can be found in the Holy Eucharist, there is the Kingdom of GOD.

4.

We know because it is the Catholic Church which is the "Pillar and the Foundation of the Truth", not the Bible, as shown in 1Timothy 3:15. Not one non-Catholic church can make that claim, as not one of them even existed until almost 1500 years after 1Timothy was written.

---

5.

We know because the Catholic Church is firmly Implanted in Solid Rock.

"Everyone therefore who hears these My Words and acts upon them, SHALL BE LIKENED TO A WISE MAN WHO BUILT HIS HOUSE ON ROCK. AND THE RAINS CAME, AND THE WINDS BLEW AND BEAT AGAINST THAT HOUSE, BUT IT DID NOT FALL, BECAUSE IT WAS FOUNDED ON ROCK."

Matthew 7:24-25

For almost 2000 years the rains and the winds of enemy and heresy have certainly beat against the Church which Jesus Christ founded. However, His Church is firmly anchored in Rock and has endured the worst of these Storms.

"And I say to you, you are Peter, and UPON THIS ROCK I WILL BUILD MY CHURCH."

Matthew 16:18

Non-Catholics charge that Peter is not the "rock" because the Greek word used for "rock" in this verse means a little pebble. Right away, it is obvious from the very beginning, that there is a translation problem here. Scholars have determined that Matthew was not written in Greek, but in Aramaic, and was soon translated into Greek, so we have to go to the original written language to find the true meaning of this verse.

Peter was called "Cephas" or "Kepha(s)" in Aramaic, by Christ in Matthew 16:18, and it means a large massive stone or rock. Christ said this at Caesarea Philippi, the site of a large rock mass. See Matthew 16:13. The Aramaic word for a small stone or pebble is "evna". "Kepha", when translated to the Greek language means "Petra" (a large rock) or "Petros" (a small stone). However, unlike Aramaic words which have no gender, some Greek words do have gender, and "Petra" is feminine. Translators from the Aramaic to the Greek, changed the word to the masculine gender or "Petros" because they were unwilling to assign a name with feminine gender to a man.

In Matthew 16:18, it is correct to say that Jesus would have said, "You are 'Kepha', and upon this 'Kepha', I will build My Church." In Greek, it would translate to, "You are 'Petros', and upon this 'Petra', I will build My Church." It was the translation of the Aramaic word, "Kepha" (Cephas), into the Greek language that caused the confusion among some who look upon Peter as not being called "rock", but only a "pebble", and in so doing attempt to deny his Primacy.

Matthew 16:13, 18, John 1:42, 1Corinthians 1:12, 3:22, 9:5, 15:5, Galatians 2:8-9.

Some charge that Matthew 16:18 is based on the "confession" of Peter and not Peter, the person. First of all, the Context clearly shows that the verse is based upon the person of Peter, and not his confession of faith. In the previous verse 17, Jesus blessed the person. In verse 19, He blessed Peter, the person, a second time by giving him and him only the keys. Clearly, all three verses signify a great and special blessing was bestowed upon the person of Peter.

Secondly, the Catholic Church is built upon confessors, and not confessions.

*"Where Peter is, there is the Church. And where the Church, no death is there, but life eternal."
Saint Ambrose, On Twelve Psalms, 40,30, 397 A.D.*

*"You are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets with Christ Jesus Himself as the Chief Cornerstone. In Him the whole structure is fitted together and grows into a temple holy in the Lord."
Ephesians 2:20-21*

"And everyone who hears these My Words and does not act upon them, shall be likened to A FOOLISH MAN WHO BUILT HIS HOUSE ON SAND. AND THE RAIN FELL, AND THE FLOODS CAME, AND THE WINDS BLEW AND BEAT AGAINST THAT HOUSE, AND IT FELL, AND WAS UTTERLY RUINED."

Matthew 7:26-27

*Other Christian churches have been buffeted and splintered into over 36,400* pieces because they were not founded by Jesus Christ and thus were not built upon Rock.*

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Psalms 127:1

---

6.

We know because only the Catholic Church has the Fullness of Truth.

"I am the way, and THE TRUTH and the life. No one comes to the Father but through Me."

John 14:6

Since Jesus Christ is the truth, then the Church which He founded and guides has all truth.

There can be only one truth. If all Christian Churches taught all truth, then there would be only one Christian Church. However, this is not the case, as there are literally thousands of Christian Churches today, with each teaching something different from the others. How can this be possible that each one of these plenitude of Churches has all truth? By reasoning, it is obvious that only one of these churches can have the fullness of truth. The trick is to find which one it is.

How do we find truth? We test for it.

"For whoever keeps the whole law, but offends in one point, has become guilty in all".

James 2:10

So we find the churches who do not keep the whole law, and by process of elimination, we can determine which Church has the fullness of truth.

I will pose just one test question which will eliminate 99% of the thousands of Christian Churches:

"So then, brethren, stand firm, and HOLD THE TRADITIONS THAT YOU HAVE LEARNED, WHETHER BY WORD OR BY LETTER OF OURS."

2Thessalonians 2:15

Obviously, BY WORD OF OURS, means to hold the Apostolic traditions. Every non-Catholic church which denies holding of these traditions, is thereby denying parts of Holy Scripture.

---

7.

We know because it is the only Church which has the Authority, Given to it by Jesus Christ Himself. Christ did not leave the world devoid of His voice.

"He who hears you, hears Me; and he who rejects you, rejects Me; and he who rejects Me, rejects him who sent Me."

Luke 10:16

If you reject the Church which Jesus Christ founded, you reject Him, and in turn, the Father.

"But if your brother sin against you, go and show him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have won your brother. But if he does not listen to you, take with you one or two more so that on the word of two or three witnesses every word may be confirmed. AND IF HE REFUSES TO HEAR THEM, APPEAL TO THE CHURCH, BUT IF HE REFUSES TO HEAR EVEN THE CHURCH, LET HIM BE TO YOU AS THE HEATHEN AND THE PUBLICAN."

Matthew 18:15-17

So, to whom did Jesus Christ give the final authority? Did He give it to a book? No, He gave it to the Church which He founded.

"But for the authority of the Church, I would not believe the Gospel."

Saint Augustine, Against the Letter of Mani 5:6

---

8.

We know because the Catholic Church is a Living Body.

As we read the Acts of the Apostles we realize that from the moment the Holy Spirit descended upon the Apostles (Acts 2:1-4), He has remained in the Catholic Church (John 14:15-18), which is the Body of Christ, to make it a "Living Body".

"For He is not a GOD of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto Him."

Luke 20:38

If we have a "Living Head" in Jesus Christ, we also have a "Living Body" in the Church, a unity which the Holy Spirit makes possible by dwelling in it and by distributing His gifts so it can bear fruit.

Every member of the Catholic Church receives the Holy Spirit, the Giver of Life, with the Sacraments. At Mass the Catholic Church lives the death and Resurrection of Christ, and it is in the Holy Eucharist that we find the "Fountain of Life and Holiness". Read 1Corinthians 11:23-30.

"It is done! I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end. To him who thirsts I will give of the Fountain of the Water of Life freely."

Revelation 21:6

The Catholic Church works to bring Jesus to humanity. Scripture scholar Fr. Francis Martin wrote: "The Church is a Bride, and she shows to the world that her Spouse is alive by living by His power and receiving life from Him. If we yield to what the Lord has poured out upon us, His Spirit, the world will know that the Church is truly the spouse of a living GOD."

How does the Catholic Church make sure that it is a Living Body?

First through the Sacraments. We receive with each Sacrament, in our different capacities, the Paraclete, the Giver of Life, the Holy Spirit. Without the Holy Spirit there is no life.

9.

*We know because The Catholic Church is the Mystical Body of Christ.

As such it is the visible hands and feet of the invisible GOD.

"If the whole body were an eye, where would be the hearing? If the whole body were hearing, where would be the smelling? But as it is, GOD has set the members, each of them in the body as He willed. Now if they were all one member, where would the body be? But as it is, there are indeed many members, yet one body. AND THE EYE CANNOT SAY TO THE HAND, "I DO NOT NEED YOUR HELP"; NOR AGAIN THE HEAD TO THE FEET, "I HAVE NO NEED OF YOU"."

1Corinthians 12:17-21

"Because Christ the Head holds such an eminent position, one must not think that he does not require the help of the Body. What Paul said of the human organism is to be applied likewise to the mystical Body: "The head cannot say to the feet: I have no need of you". It is manifestly clear that the faithful need the help of the Divine Redeemer, for He has said: "Without me you can do nothing," and according to the teaching of the Apostle every advance of this Mystical Body towards its perfection derives from Christ the Head (Eph 4:16). Yet this, also, must be held, marvelous though it may seem: Christ has need of His members. First, because the person of Jesus Christ is represented by the Supreme Pontiff, who in turn must call on others to share much of his solicitude lest he be overwhelmed by the burden of his pastoral office, and must be helped daily by the prayers of the Church. Moreover as our Savior does not rule the Church directly in a visible manner, He wills to be helped by the members of His Body in carrying out the work of redemption. This is not because He is indigent and weak, but rather because He has so willed it for the greater glory of His spotless Spouse. Dying on the Cross He left to His Church the immense treasury of the Redemption, towards which she contributed nothing. But when those graces come to be distributed, not only does He share this work of sanctification with His Church, but He wills that in some way it be due to her action. This is a deep mystery, and an inexhaustible subject of meditation, that the salvation of many depends on the prayers and voluntary penances which the members of the Mystical Body of Jesus Christ offer for this intention and on the cooperation of pastors of souls and of the faithful, especially of fathers and mothers of families, a cooperation which they must offer to our Divine Savior as though they were His associates."

10.

We know by its Visibility. One cannot govern an invisible Church, only a visible one.

"No man, when he has lit a candle, puts it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light."

Luke 11:33

Jesus Christ said, "A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden."

Matthew 5:14

"And in the last days, the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared on top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow unto it. And many shall go, and say: Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the GOD of Jacob, and He will teach us His ways, and we will walk in His paths, for the law shall come forth from Zion, and the Word of the Lord from Jerusalem."

Isaiah 2:2-3

There are many verses in Holy Scripture which refer to "The Mountain of the Lord", and of going up the mountain to the House of GOD, Exodus 3:1, Numbers 14:40, Psalms 48:1-4, Isaiah 2:2-3, Isaiah 11:9, 25:6-12, 30:29, 65:11,25, 66:20, Jeremiah 31:23, Ezekiel 11:23, 20:40, Daniel 9:16, 20, Joel 2:1, 3:17, Micah 4:1-2, Haggai 1:8, Zechariah 8:3, Matthew 5:14

Jesus also had this to say, "And if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the Church, but if he refuses to hear even the Church, let him be to you as the heathen and the publican. Amen I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound also in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed also in heaven."

Matthew 18:17-18

How then does such an appeal apply to an invisible Church, and likewise, how is binding and loosing on earth applied to an invisible Church?

"As the Father has sent Me, I also send you." John 20:21

"He who hears you, hears Me." Luke 10:16

Clearly, GOD has established a visible Church in the service of the invisible GOD.

"From what We have thus far written and explained, Venerable Brethren, it is clear, we think, how grievously they err who arbitrarily claim that the Church is something hidden and invisible, as they also do who look upon her as a mere human institution possessing a certain disciplinary code and external ritual, but lacking power to communicate supernatural life. On the contrary, as Christ, Head and Exemplar of the Church is not complete, if only His visible human nature is considered..., or if only His divine, invisible nature..., but He is one through the union of both and one in both ... so is it with His Mystical Body since the Word of God took unto Himself a human nature liable to sufferings, so that He might consecrate in His blood the visible Society founded by Him and lead man back to things invisible under a visible rule."

11.

We know because the Catholic Church is the only Christian Church which has always had a Visible Head on earth, a "Father Figure", just as GOD had patterned for His people from the very beginning, since the time of Adam and Eve. GOD always dealt with His people through one man.

"And Pharaoh (the King) said unto Joseph (a Father Figure), 'For as much as GOD has shown you all of this, there is none so discreet and wise as you are: You shall be over my house, and according to your word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than you'. And Pharaoh said to Joseph, 'See, I have set you over all the land of Egypt'. And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain around his neck..."

12.

*We know because the Catholic Church is an Hierarchy* in its system of government, just as Jesus Christ had instituted. He is the Head, Ephesians 1:22, 5:23; we are the body, Colossians 1:24. The Head tells the body what to do. The body does not tell the head. Many other Christian churches are controlled by a vote of the body, as in a Democracy, which in turn informs the head of its decisions.*

We know because the Catholic Church is Jesus Christ Based. The Bible is Catholic Church Based. The Bible is a Catholic book. The New Testament was written by Catholics. The Canons of both testaments were decided by Catholics, and the written Word of GOD was Faithfully Preserved down through the ages by Catholics.

All other Christian churches are Bible Based, with a Bible Taken from the Catholic Church.

Jesus Christ founded a Church (Matthew 16:18). He did not command anyone to write a Gospel.

The Word of GOD is a person, and not a book (John 1:1,14).

The Catholic Church is based on the Word of GOD alone and not on Scripture alone.

---

15.

We know because it was the Catholic Church which, in the fourth century, exercised its authority by Deciding Which Books of the Bible ARE the Bible.

"The Church recognized its image in the inspired books of the Bible. That is how it determined the Canon of Scripture."

Fr. Ken Baker

This also shows that the Bible came from the Church, and that the Church did not come from the Bible. The Catholic Church is the Mother of the Bible, not the Daughter.

THE BIBLE IS A CATHOLIC BOOK.

For those who deny that the Bible is a Catholic Book, the founder of Protestantism, Martin Luther, concurred that the Bible is indeed a Catholic Book.

He had this to say:

"We are compelled to concede to the Papists that they have the Word of GOD, that we received it from them, and that without them, we should have no knowledge of it at all."

Martin Luther, commentary on St. John.

Isn't it strange that other Christian Churches have to admit (since they use the same canon) that the Catholic Church made an infallible decision when it decided which books of the New Testament are inspired and which ones aren't, yet these same Churches reject the Canon of the Old Testament decided by the same Bishops in the same Councils?

16.

We know because it was the Catholic Church alone, which faithfully Preserved Holy Scripture down through the centuries, due to the efforts of dedicated Monks in Monasteries, who gave years of their lives to transcribe hand written copies of it.

17.

We know because the Catholic Church has always taught that The Word was Heard and Not Read by the masses for centuries before the invention of the printing press in 1450. There were so few written Bibles that they were kept in Churches and read to the people. Besides that, the great bulk of the masses were illiterate and could not even read the written word. Those who could read or afford a hand copied Bible were few. The cost was prohibitive, for each subsequent copy took up to twenty years of a monks life to duplicate.

The Word that is Heard, is called "Tradition".

"So then, brethren, stand firm, and HOLD THE TRADITIONS THAT YOU HAVE LEARNED, WHETHER BY WORD OR BY LETTER OF OURS."

2Thessalonians 2:15

Contrast this with what Sola Scriptura advocates will tell you. They have said that there were thousands of manuscripts (for millions of people), and that the great majority of the masses were literate, and could afford to pay for the wages of 20 years work of one person. The secular history books of these time periods do not agree with this premise at all. There is no written record of the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura to be found before the reformation.

18.

We know by its Antiquity. The Catholic Church is the only Christian Church which can trace its origins back for almost 2000 years. All other Christian denominations can only go back a few hundred years at most for their origins. Here are the founders and dates of some of the mainline Churches.

They are in time line order:

\ 30 A.D., The Catholic Church was founded by Jesus Christ.*

Matthew 16:18, John 19:34, Acts 2:1-4, 1Timothy 3:15

\ 1521, Martin Luther started Protestantism by forming the Lutherans, when he broke away from the One True Church that had already existed for almost 15 centuries.*

\ 1521, Thomas Munser, a Catholic priest, started Anabaptists in the same year that Luther broke away. Protestantism started splitting within itself immediately. By 1600 there were 100 splits. By 1900 there were 1000, and today there are over 36,400. Where is the One Fold (John 10:16)?*

\ 1525, Mennonites started by Grebel, Mantz, and Blaurock in Switzerland.*

\ 1534, Henry VIII started the Church of England (Anglican).*

\ 1536, John Calvin, teaching predestination, formed the Calvinists.*

\ 1582, Congregationalists started by Rob Brown, as a branch from Puritanism.*

\ 1609, John Smyth formed the Baptists in Holland.*

- * 1639, Roger Williams started the Baptists in America. They have since splintered severely.

19.

We know by the indelible Four Marks which only the Catholic Church has.
CCC (Catechism of the Catholic Church) 813-822

20.

We know by its Durability. It is the oldest, and longest lasting established organization on earth by far. Many secular encyclopedias will tell you this.

"No weapon that is formed against you shall prosper; and every tongue that resists you in judgment, you shall condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the Lord, and their justice with Me, said the Lord."

Isaiah 54:17

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it.

ELSE PERHAPS YOU MAY FIND YOURSELVES FIGHTING EVEN AGAINST GOD."

Acts 5:38-39

I must ask you. In the almost 2000 year history of the Catholic Church, how many have tried and failed to overthrow it? What message, if any, did you get from Acts 5:38-39?

---

21.

In 2Samuel, GOD prefigured the Church which the "Seed of David", Jesus Christ will found.

"And when your days shall be fulfilled and you shall sleep with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, which shall proceed out of your bowels, and I will establish His kingdom. HE SHALL BUILD A HOUSE TO MY NAME, AND I WILL ESTABLISH THE THRONE OF HIS KINGDOM FOREVER."

2Samuel 7:12-13

This is a clear guarantee of the Holiness and perpetuality of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, the Catholic Church. All other Christian Churches came some 1500 years after His crucifixion.

---

Isaiah, who so accurately predicted many things about Jesus Christ, including the details of His passion in Isaiah 53, also foretold, equally as accurate, details of the Church which Jesus Christ would set up.

"This is My covenant with them, said the Lord: My Spirit that is in you, and the words that I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your seed, nor out of the mouth of your seed's seed, said the Lord, FROM HENCEFORTH AND FOREVER."

Isaiah 59:21

This is a clearly stated guarantee of the perpetuality and orthodoxy of the Catholic Church.

---

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it. Unless the Lord guard the city, the guard watches in vain."

Psalms 127:1

What does this verse mean to you if you cannot trace the origin of your Church all the way back to Jesus Christ?

---

Jeremiah had this to say, one short example out of many.

"And I will gather together the remnant of My flock, out of all the lands into which I have cast them out; and I will make them return to their own fields, and they shall increase and be multiplied. AND I WILL SET UP PASTORS OVER THEM, AND THEY SHALL FEED THEM: THEY SHALL FEAR NO MORE, AND THEY SHALL NOT BE DISMAYED, AND NONE SHALL BE WANTING OF THEIR NUMBER, SAID THE LORD."

Jeremiah 3:15, 23:3-4

The Catholic Church feeds its flock the truth of GOD.

---

Daniel had some things to say also.

"But in the days of those kingdoms the GOD of heaven will set up a kingdom THAT SHALL NEVER BE DESTROYED, and His kingdom SHALL NOT BE DELIVERED UP TO ANOTHER PEOPLE; AND IT SHALL BREAK IN PIECES, AND SHALL CONSUME ALL THESE KINGDOMS, AND ITSELF SHALL STAND FOREVER."

Daniel 2:44

"And He gave him power, and glory, AND A KINGDOM, and all peoples, tribes and tongues shall serve Him. His power is an everlasting power that shall not be taken away, AND HIS KINGDOM SHALL NOT BE DESTROYED."

These verses are a clearly stated guarantee of the impregnability and perpetuality of the Catholic Church. They are a clear warning against those who would attack her.

Micah added to the prophecies.

"And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and high above the hills, and people shall flow to it. And many nations shall come in haste, and say: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the GOD of Jacob, AND HE WILL TEACH US HIS WAYS, AND WE WILL WALK IN HIS PATHS, FOR THE LAW SHALL GO FORTH OUT OF ZION, AND THE WORD OF THE LORD OUT OF JERUSALEM."

Micah 4:1-2

This is clearly stated by Micah, that the Church which GOD will establish, the Catholic Church, would be a world wide teaching Church, and it would be set upon a Mountain for All to See, and that it would have the Authority to teach the Word of GOD.

It was upon a mountain, Mount Sinai, in which Moses received GOD's teaching, written on stone tablets (Exodus 31:18). This is a clear Type of the Catholic Church and its teaching authority. Jerusalem as seen here is the New Jerusalem, the Bride of Christ (Jer 7:34, Rev 19:7-8, 21:2), the Church.

Haggai wrote this:

"And I will move all nations, and THE DESIRED OF ALL NATIONS SHALL COME; AND I WILL FILL HIS HOUSE WITH GLORY, SAID THE LORD OF HOSTS. The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, said the Lord of Hosts. GREAT SHALL BE THE GLORY OF THIS LAST HOUSE MORE THAN OF THE FIRST, SAID THE LORD OF HOSTS; AND IN THIS PLACE I WILL GIVE PEACE, SAID THE LORD OF HOSTS"

Haggai 2:8-10

The "Desired of all Nations" could only mean Jesus Christ, and the Church He will build is the "Last House", the indefectible Catholic Church, greater in glory than what it replaced, the Church which will last until the end of the world (Matt 28:20).

---

Zechariah wrote this:

"Thus said the Lord of Hosts: I am returned to Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and JERUSALEM SHALL BE CALLED THE CITY OF TRUTH, AND THE MOUNTAIN OF THE LORD OF HOSTS, THE SANCTIFIED MOUNTAIN."

Zechariah 8:3

Jerusalem here is of course the New Jerusalem as described earlier. It is the Catholic Church which is the "City of Truth", and the "Mountain of the Lord of Hosts".

---

Malachi wrote this:

Malachi 1:11

He wrote a clear description of the Sacrifice performed in every Catholic Mass.

22.

We know because the Thread of the Catholic Church is Woven throughout Holy Scripture from the first book of Genesis to the last book of Revelation. However, the thread does not end with Revelation, for it continues unbroken where GOD's Public Revelation ended, and on down through the ages for almost 2000 years of richly recorded history until this very day.

23.

We know from Holy Scripture, as it is one continuous story from beginning to end. It is the story of GOD's Salvation History through a series of Covenants which He made with mankind. Each successive covenant encompassed a larger group of people until the last covenant, which included the whole world, the Universal Church, the Catholic Church.

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you shall be witnesses for Me in Jerusalem (local) and in Samaria (spreading out) and even to the very ends of the earth (worldwide)."

Acts 1:8

24.

We know because it is only the Catholic Church Which has All of the Pieces to the Puzzle.

You might ask, "What Puzzle"?

All of Scripture and the story of GOD's Salvation History is likened to a giant jigsaw puzzle, an overall picture of GOD's plan for us. Non-Catholic churches have very large gaps in their puzzle with many pieces missing. Because of this they will never see the full picture.

Here are some examples of what I mean:

They are missing all of Church history, almost 1500 years, from the end of the Book of Revelation until the start of the reformation. The recorded history is certainly there, but they simply refuse to read it.

They are missing seven books and parts of at least two more, from Holy Scripture, simply because one man decided they should be removed.

They are missing many pieces of rich Apostolic Tradition, simply because when they separated themselves from the One True Church, they could not lay claim to it.

They are missing five of the seven Sacraments which were instituted in the New Testament and which were in use by the Catholic Church for almost 1500 years before the reformation.

They are missing all of the Saints and their wonderful works.

The Catholic Church has all of the pieces listed.

---

25.

We know by its Indefectibility, as shown in Ephesians 5:25-27.

(25)"Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the Church, and delivered Himself up for her, (26) that He might sanctify her, cleansing her in the bath of water by means of The Word; (27) IN ORDER THAT HE MIGHT PRESENT TO HIMSELF THE CHURCH IN ALL HER GLORY, NOT HAVING SPOT OR WRINKLE OR ANY SUCH THING, BUT THAT SHE MIGHT BE HOLY AND WITHOUT BLEMISH."

---

26.

We know because the Catholic Church is The Bride of Christ.

Did you notice in the previous category, that the Church (singular), is mentioned twice in these three verses, and that Saint Paul referred to the Church as her four times, and as she once?

It is therefore befitting that the Church carries the title of, "The Bride of Christ".

"He who loves his own wife, loves himself. For no one ever hated his own flesh; on the contrary he nourishes and cherishes it, AS CHRIST ALSO DOES THE CHURCH because we are members of His body, made from His flesh and from His bones. For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh. THIS IS A GREAT MYSTERY - I MEAN IN REFERENCE TO CHRIST AND TO THE CHURCH."

Ephesians 5:29-32

"And the Lord Himself says in the Gospel: "So they are no longer two, but one flesh". They are, in fact, two different persons, yet they are one in conjugal union,... as Head, He calls Himself the Bridegroom, as Body, He calls Himself 'bride'."

St Augustine of Hippo, C.C.C. 796.

"Even as He chose us before the foundation of the world, THAT WE SHOULD BE HOLY AND WITHOUT BLEMISH IN HIS SIGHT IN LOVE."

Ephesians 1:4. Compare this verse with Ephesians 5:27 as listed in the previous category.

"And the Bridegroom shall rejoice over the bride, and your GOD shall rejoice over you."

Isaiah 62:5

"Can the wedding guests mourn as long as the Bridegroom is with them? But the days will come when the Bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then they will fast."

Matthew 9:15. See also Mark 2:19-20

"He who has the bride is the Bridegroom; but the friend of the Bridegroom, who stands and hears Him, rejoices exceedingly at the voice of the Bridegroom. This my joy, therefore is made full. He must increase, but I must decrease."

John 3:29-30

"For I betrothed you to one spouse, that I might present you a chaste virgin to Christ."

2Cor 11:2

Read the parable of the ten virgins and the Bridegroom in Matthew 25:1-13

Since the Catholic Church is the bride of Christ, can he be the spouse of other churches?

No, for just like us, He can have only one bride, for more than one would be the sin of polygamy.

27.

We know because the Catholic Church holds periodic Church Councils to settle disputes and problems which arise from time to time.

"Where there is no governor, the people shall fall; but there is safety where there is much council."

Proverbs 11:14

The first Church Council was the Council of Jerusalem in 49 A.D., as described in Acts 15:1-29.

A doctrinal dispute had to be decided and there was a debate, and the Primacy of the first Pope, Peter, was voiced (Vs 7). After that the whole meeting quieted down (Vs 12). The Apostles had composed a letter (Vs 23) in which they had written their agreed upon decisions in conjunction with the guidance of the Holy Spirit (Vs 28).

"The Apostles had spoken. The issue was settled."

Over the centuries, there have been many Church Councils from time to time. They are normally called in order to settle disputes, and the issues of the day, just as was the first one.

Now it is "Rome has spoken, the matter is settled."

---

28.

We know by its Church Council Teachings to the whole world in which all Christians adhere to in many respects.

It was Catholic Church Councils which have defined many doctrines used today by both Catholics and Protestants alike.

"Where there is no governor, the people shall fall; but there is safety where there is much Council."

Proverbs 11:14

"Designs are strengthened by Councils, and wars are to be managed by governments."

Proverbs 20:18

The very first Church Council held, was the Council of Jerusalem 48-50 A.D. (Acts 15:1-35), in which Peter said,

"Brethren, you know that in early days GOD MADE CHOICE THAT THROUGH MY MOUTH THE GENTILES SHOULD HEAR THE WORD OF THE GOSPEL AND BELIEVE."

Acts 15:7

---

Church Councils are presided over by the Bishop of Rome, the Pope, in conjunction with the other Bishops and...

"For THE HOLY SPIRIT AND WE HAVE DECIDED TO LAY NO FURTHER BURDENS ON YOU..." Acts 15:28

---

Here are just a few examples of doctrines which have emerged from Church Councils:

---

You will not find the word "Trinity" in Holy Scripture. The doctrine of the "Holy Trinity" was defined in the Catholic Council of Nicea in 325.

---

The "Nicene Creed", which is said in many Protestant churches as well as Catholic, came from the Council of Nicea in 325, and was revised as to the wording it is today, in the Council of Constantinople I in 381.

---

The Canons of both the Old and New Testaments were decided by the Catholic Councils of Rome in 382, Hippo in 393, and Carthage III in 397.

---

The Catholic Councils of Ephesus in 431, and of Chalcedon in 451, defined the doctrine that Jesus Christ is one person with two natures, the Hypostatic Union.

---

The Catholic Council of Lyons I in 1245 defined the doctrine that the Holy Spirit proceeds from both the Father and the Son.

---

29.

We know because of Apostolic Succession.

"May his days be few. and may another take up his duties."

Psalms 109:8

"...And his ministry let another take."

Acts 1:20

"I laid the foundation and another builds thereon."

1Corinthians 3:10

"...you are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and prophets with Jesus Christ as the chief corner stone. In Him the whole structure is closely fitted together and grows into a temple holy in the Lord..."

Ephesians 2:20-21

The succession of the Bishops of Rome, the Popes, can be traced all the way back in an Unbroken Line to St. Peter.

30.

We know because of the Truth in Teaching Succession all the way from Jesus Christ to the Bishops and Priests of the Catholic Church to this day.

Here is just one path I will show as an example.

From Jesus Christ to the Apostles.

"As the Father has sent Me, I also send you."

John 20:21

"He who receives anyone I send, receives Me; and he who receives Me, receives Him who sent Me."

John 13:20

"He who hears you, hears Me; and he who rejects you, rejects Me; and he who rejects Me, rejects Him who sent Me."

Luke 10:16

"But when He, the Spirit of Truth, has come, He will teach you all the truth."

John 16:13

"For the Holy Spirit and we have decided to lay no further burden upon you but this indispensable one..."

Acts 15:28

From the Apostles to St. Paul.

"Then after fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, taking also Titus along with me. And I went up in consequence of a revelation, and I conferred with them on the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but separately with the men of authority; lest perhaps I should be running, or had run in vain."

Galatians 2:1-2

Here, Paul went to the Apostles to have them confirm that his teaching was in tune with theirs.

From St. Paul to Timothy and then to the Bishops.

"...and the things that you have learned from me through many witnesses, commend to trustworthy men who shall be competent in turn to teach others."

2Timothy 2:2

St. Paul, in effect said: I have taught you. Now you teach others who will in turn teach yet others the truth which I received from the Apostles, who in turn received it from Truth Himself, The Word, Jesus Christ. This succession of truth is shown by the unchanging truth in the teachings of the Catholic Church.

We know from the hundreds of years of Writings by Church Fathers and Ecclesiastical Writers, where they professed the Same Beliefs then, as the Catholic Church practices today. Here is a small sampling of the thousands of writings which are available to anyone.

**Saint Irenaeus (140-202), wrote a monumental work called "Against Heresies", which is used by scholars even today.*

**Eusebius of Caesarea (263-339) wrote 10 volumes of the History of the Catholic Church. He covered Church History from before the birth of Christ until about 330 A.D..*

**Saint Augustine (354-430) was a very prolific writer. He wrote hundreds of letters, essays, and books. I recently read his "Confessions", and it was almost like he had written it this year as far as the Church goes. In his vast collection, he had mentioned the Catholic Church by name over 300 times.*

All of the writings listed here are available in the Internet, free for the downloading by anyone.

"To be deep in history is to cease to be Protestant"

John Cardinal Newman

He who does not know history is condemned to repeat it.

32.

We know from the Writings of the Church Fathers and early Church writers, in which they said the Catholic Church is the True Church which Jesus Christ founded.

"You must all follow the lead of the bishop, as Jesus Christ followed that of the Father; follow the presbytery as you would the Apostles; reverence the deacons as you would God's commandment. Let no one do anything touching the Church, apart from the bishop. Let that celebration of the Eucharist be considered valid which is held under the bishop or anyone to whom he has committed it. Where the bishop appears, there let the people be, JUST AS WHERE JESUS CHRIST IS, THERE IS THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. It is not permitted without authorization from the bishop either to baptize or to hold an agape; but whatever he approves is also pleasing to God. Thus everything you do will be proof against danger and valid."

St Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Smyrneans, 107 A.D.

"We say, therefore, that in substance, in concept, in origin and in eminence, the ancient and Catholic Church is alone..."

St. Clement of Alexander, Miscellanies, 7:17:107:3, 202 A.D.

"He cannot have GOD for his Father who does not have the Church for his Mother."

St. Cyprian of Carthage, The Unity of the Catholic Church, 6, 251 A.D.

"It is, therefore, the Catholic Church alone which retains true worship. This is the fountain of truth; this is the domicile of faith; this is the temple of GOD."

Lactantius, The Divine Institutions, 4:30:1, 304 A.D.

"But what is also to the point, let us note that the very tradition, teaching, and faith of the Catholic Church from the beginning, which the Lord gave, was preached by the Apostles, and was preserved by the Fathers. On this was the Church founded; and if anyone departs from this, he neither is nor any longer ought to be called a Christian."

St. Athanasius, Four Letters to Serapion of Thmuis, 1:28, 359 A.D.

"Christian is my name, and Catholic my surname. The one designates me, while the other makes me specific. Thus am I attested and set apart. When we are called Catholics it is by this appellation that our people are kept apart from any heretical name."

St. Pacian of Barcelona, Letter to Sympronian, 1:4, 375 A.D.

"We must hold to the Christian religion and to communication in her Church which is Catholic, and which is called Catholic not only by her members but even by all her enemies."

St. Augustine of Hippo, The True Religion, 7:12, 390 A.D.

"Yet it is a fact that the Church is called Catholic because it truly embraces the whole of that truth, some particles of which may be found even in various heresies."

St. Augustine of Hippo, Letter of Augustine to Vincent the Rogatist, 93:7:23, 408 A.D.

There are hundreds more by scores of writers.

---

33.

We know from the hundreds of years of authentic early Church Writings in which the Catholic Church is mentioned by Name, Hundreds of times.

I find it necessary to repeat what I have already said:

"He who does not know history is condemned to repeat it."

---

34.

We know because Jesus Christ did not command anyone to write a Gospel. However, He did command that His Church would be a Teaching Church.

"And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly TEACHERS..." 1Cor 12:28

"And He said to them, "Go into the whole world and preach the Gospel to every creature.""
Mark 16:15

"And the things that thou hast heard from me through many witnesses, commend to trustworthy men who shall be competent in turn to teach others." 2Tim 2:2

Next to the public school system in size, is the Catholic Parochial school system. These Catholic schools can be found in most communities. These schools are unmatched by anyone in providing quality education at a much lower cost per student than public schools, and many Protestants and Jews prefer to send their children to them.

There are more than 30 Catholic Colleges and more than 40 Catholic Universities in the United States alone. There are many more scattered throughout the world. These figures do not include Catholic Seminaries which are numerous.

There is not another Christian church which even comes close to matching the teaching ability of the Catholic Church.

Many other Christian churches put their emphasis upon a book.

35.

We know because of the Consistency of Teaching of the Catholic Church for almost 2000 years. The teaching of the Catholic Church has not changed, simply because truth does not change. The Church has frequently been accused of changing its teaching on several subjects. However, these accusations are unfounded when the facts come to light.

One of the main false charges that detractors like to reiterate is that the Catholic Church changed its teaching regarding, "Outside the Catholic Church there is no Salvation." (Lumen Gentium II,16) Contrast this Catholic consistency to the inconsistency of what other Christian churches have taught. Here is but one example out of a great many:

In the early 1930's, the Lambeth Conference of Anglicans condoned Contraception on a limited basis. Soon after, most non-Catholic sects followed suit, with each going farther and farther from the teaching of Holy Scripture. Many now wholeheartedly endorse contraception.

36.

We know because it is the Catholic Church which Develops Existing Doctrine . This is in stark contrast to the charges of detractors that it is constantly proclaiming "new" doctrine. The Church has always taught that Divine Public Revelation was sealed when the last Apostle died. This is a truth. However, understanding of that revealed public revelation is a continuing process until the end of time, as the finite mind of man struggles to discern the infinite mind of GOD. It is simply a matter of a fuller and better unfolding of what GOD has revealed to mankind.

The Church calls it the Deposit of Faith.

"The faith once delivered to the Saints".

Jude 3.

However, the total understanding of the infinite GOD by finite beings is not possible.

"But when He, the Spirit of Truth has come, HE WILL TEACH YOU ALL THE TRUTH..."

John 16:13

"GOD, who at sundry times and in diverse manners spoke in times past to the fathers by the prophets, last of all in these days has spoken to us by his Son, whom He appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the world..."

Hebrews 1:1-2.

There will be no more Public Revelation. Christ was the fulfillment of the law of the Old Testament. Matthew 5:17.

There is only one teacher, Jesus the Christ.

Matthew 23:10.

The Apostles saw in Christ, "The coming of the fullness of time".

Galatians 4:4.

"What you have learned from me, commend to trustworthy men who shall be competent in turn to teach others".

2Timothy 2:2.

"You are to continue in the things you have learned and that have been entrusted to you,...".

2Timothy 3:14.

"In giving us His Son, His only Word (for He possesses no other), He spoke everything to us at once in this sole Word, and He has no more to say... because what He spoke before to the prophets in parts, He has now spoken all at once by giving us the 'All Who is His Son'. Any person questioning GOD or desiring some vision or revelation would be guilty not only of foolish behavior but also of offending Him, by not fixing his eyes entirely upon Christ and by living with the desire for some other novelty." St. John of the Cross, The Ascent of Mount Carmel, 2,22,3-5.

See the Catechism of the Catholic Church, CCC 65-67

It takes many centuries to unpack the treasures and mysteries of Divine Revelation.

37.

We know from the Rock solid, Unwavering, Fidelity in the Teaching of the Catholic Church. Earlier in the 20th century, just about all Christian Churches agreed on several points. They were united in being against Divorce, Contraception, Abortion, the Homosexual Act, Holy Unions, and more. One by one, many Protestant Churches are accepting some of these sinful practices despite the fact that these practices are all strictly against the will of GOD.

The Catholic Church has not, and will not, accept these things, as it, like GOD, is unchanging in its doctrine and will adhere to the will of GOD regardless what the secular world thinks.

The Catholic Church obeys the directives from the Head, whereas some other Christian churches bend to the will of the body.

"But JUST AS THE CHURCH IS SUBJECT TO CHRIST, so also let wives be to their husbands in all things."

Ephesians 5:24

---

As previously stated, GOD has guaranteed Perpetual Orthodoxy for His Church.

---

38.

We know from the Infallibility of the Catholic Church when it comes to discernment, and in defining of the meaning of Holy Scripture. The Catholic Church has One single, authoritative source for the interpretation of Holy Scripture. That source is the Pope, in conjunction with All the Bishops of the world (over 3500), with All of them having impeccable credentials, and All speaking with One single unified voice, and with All under the guidance of the Spirit of Truth.

"Rome Has Spoken, the Issue is Settled".

Saint Augustine

Have you heard that there is a Spirit of Truth and a Spirit of Error?

"WE ARE OF GOD. HE WHO KNOWS GOD LISTENS TO US. BY THIS WE KNOW THE SPIRIT

OF TRUTH AND THE SPIRIT OF ERROR."

1John 4:6

Contrast that with the other Christian churches (over 36,400 denominations), all interpreting Scripture as they see fit. There are thousands of sects, all teaching a different interpretation of the same Bible. Millions of Protestants see themselves as their own "little pope". This is precisely the reason why there is no unity in Protestantism, and why they have split the Body of Christ into so many pieces. A Protestant church in my area recently split in two because of a dispute over Scriptural interpretation. The Baptists have split yet again recently (they have scores of splinters as it is) over a dispute about the ordination of women. Methodists have split again over another doctrinal dispute regarding what they call "Holy (unholy) Unions".

The strange thing here is that all of these "little popes" say the same thing, "The Holy Spirit told me". Which Pope has the Spirit of Truth, and which "popes" have the spirit of error?

Who in Protestantism has the authority to adjudicate a Scriptural dispute between two factions?

Who in Protestantism can speak with authority in order to settle the matter?

Who in Protestantism truly has the Spirit of Truth?

Why is individual interpretation of Scripture even allowed in Protestantism?

For those who are not Catholic, and who profess to follow the teaching of Scripture, why do you ignore these following verses?

"This, then, YOU MUST UNDERSTAND FIRST OF ALL, THAT NO PROPHECY OF SCRIPTURE IS MADE BY PRIVATE INTERPRETATION."

2Peter 1:20

It is as clear as it could be, there is to be NO PRIVATE INTERPRETATION, of Holy Scripture. Saint Peter's Epistle unambiguously warns, do NOT do it, and yet, non-Catholics do it regardless.

Here is another:

"In these Epistles there are certain things difficult to understand, WHICH THE UNLEARNED AND THE UNSTABLE DISTORT, JUST AS THEY DO THE REST OF SCRIPTURES ALSO, TO THEIR OWN DESTRUCTION."

2Peter 3:16

Wow! The last part is scary. Of whom did Peter speak here? It could not be the Pope in conjunction with the 3500 Bishops because, surely, they are not unlearned. They are also not unstable since they are implanted upon the Rock of Peter. They also cannot distort Scripture since they are, as a single voice of authority, under the guidance of the Holy Spirit. Saint Peter had to have been speaking about all of those "little pope's" interpreting Scripture for themselves as mentioned above.

Here is yet another:

"And Philip, running up, heard him reading the prophet Isaiah, and he said,

"Do you then understand what you are reading"?

But he said, "Why, HOW CAN I, UNLESS SOMEONE SHOWS ME?""

Acts 8:30-31

Isn't this exactly what the Catholic Church does? An Apostle interpreted the meaning of Scripture for the man. Today, the Successors to the Apostles, the Pope, and the Bishops interpret it for us.

Yet in Protestantism, there is no one to show them. It is every individual person's private opinion.

Who faithfully follows the teaching of Holy Scripture in these verses, and who does not?

"The Bible is a supernatural book and can be understood only by supernatural aid."

39.

We know because the Catholic Church Interprets Holy Scripture by always discerning it in Context, and by taking into account the Senses in which it was written, and by noting the Customs of the people of the time, and their Language of the day. The Church is also keenly aware of Translation Difficulties, which lead many "unlearned" astray and into Scriptural error.

The eleventh commandment, "Thou shalt not take Scripture Out of Context."

Never take a verse or two and the apparent meaning by itself without taking into context the verses around it.

Examples:

Protestants try to "prove" the legitimacy of Sola Scriptura from just 2 verses, 2Timothy 3:16-17. If they would only take it in context by backing up a few verses, they would find it does not mean what they believe it to mean at all. Read the link for the proof.

Matthew 23:9, call no man your Father is taken out of context.

1Timothy 2:5, there is only one Mediator is taken out of context.

"A text without a context is a pretext."

We should always take into account the Language of the day, the meaning of the words as they were written then, and not as their apparent meaning of today.

The language of that time period or era was very clear. However, enduring or undergoing several translations, has made the meaning less accurate and interpreting it today (modern era) may lose the basic meaning.

An excellent example is the Protestant present day mis-usage of the word "Brethren".

Another example is All have sinned, Romans 3:23.

Here is a prime example of using the wrong Senses of Scripture.

Protestants take practically the whole Bible in the literal sense. Yet, why is it when they come to John Chapter 6, they say it is figurative, when in no verse is a figurative sense indicated?

---

40.

We know because the Catholic Church is true to the teaching of Holy Scripture.

It Does NOT Distort Scripture to conform to its teaching. Whereas, many non-Catholic denominations form their own teaching in order to be "different" from the others, and then they deliberately "twist" Holy Scripture in order for it to seemingly "conform" to their false teachings.

"In these epistles there are certain things difficult to understand, which the UNLEARNED AND UNSTABLE DISTORT, JUST AS THEY DO THE REST OF THE SCRIPTURES ALSO, TO THEIR OWN DESTRUCTION."

2Peter 3:15

41.

We know from the sturdy, rock solid, Three Legged Stool upon which the Catholic Church is based. Each leg has its place on what is called The Deposit of Faith. First, there is Holy Scripture. Next there is Holy Tradition (2Thess 2:15). Lastly, there is the Magisterium of the Church which is the authoritative teacher, interpreter, and protector of both Holy Scripture and Holy Tradition. No two legs can stand alone without the support of the third.

During the Protestant reformation, the reformers broke with the Catholic Church, and thereby lost one leg, the teaching authority of the Church, the Magisterium. As a result of that action, they could no longer lay claim to the wealth of Holy Tradition. So they were forced to cut off a second leg of the stool for themselves, of which Christianity had been using for almost 1500 years.

They were forced to turn to the only leg left for them, Holy Scripture, which was taken from the Catholic Church, remember?

Since all that was left for them was Holy Scripture and no authority whatsoever, they invented the false man-made tradition of Sola Scriptura and declared Holy Scripture to be the Sole Authority.

How can you have an infallible book without having an infallible interpreter for it?

What is the purpose of the United States Supreme Court?

Where is the authority in Protestantism to settle interpretive disputes?

Who in Protestantism has the authority to do so?

Protestantism's one legged stool sways hither and yon, blowing with the wind of private opinion.

Upon which stool will you entrust your eternal salvation?

---

42.

We know because it is the Catholic Church which follows the teaching of Holy Scripture in that it is the Guardian of Sacred Tradition."

Does faith depend upon the reading of Holy Scripture? What does the Bible say?

"Faith then depends on HEARING, AND HEARING ON THE WORD OF CHRIST."

Romans 10:17

"So then, brethren, stand firm, and HOLD THE TRADITIONS THAT YOU HAVE LEARNED, WHETHER BY WORD OR BY LETTER OF OURS."

2Thessalonians 2:15

"Hold to the form of SOUND TEACHING WHICH YOU HAVE HEARD FROM ME, in the faith and love, which are in Christ Jesus."

2Timothy 1:13

"And the THINGS THAT YOU HAVE HEARD FROM ME THROUGH MANY WITNESSES, COMMEND TO TRUSTWORTHY MEN WHO SHALL BE COMPETENT IN TURN TO TEACH OTHERS."

2Timothy 2:2

All of these verses, and a host of others, command us to heed to the Oral Word as well, as we guard and protect the written Word of GOD. The Oral Word of GOD is called Apostolic Tradition, or the Unwritten Word of GOD, as it is handed down from generation to generation. The Catholic Church has faithfully preserved the Unwritten Word for almost 2000 years. In the 16th century when Protestantism began, the reformers lost the teaching arm of the Church, the Magisterium and they could no longer lay claim to the preserved Apostolic Traditions, so they rejected them. They put them into the same category as false man-made traditions, and then rejected the whole category.

However, they invented false man-made traditions of their own, such as Sola Scriptura and Individual Interpretation of Holy Scripture. They simply declared the Bible to be the sole authority and if it cannot be found in the Bible, then it simply did not happen and therefore does not exist. Isn't it strange that neither their beliefs in Sola Scriptura, and Individual Interpretation cannot be found in the Bible either?

Here are some traditions which came right out of the Catholic Church and to which Protestants hold, as well as Catholics, and none of them are from the Bible:

*The Nicene Creed. Many Protestants say, "We believe in one, holy 'Catholic' and Apostolic Church", which is right out of the Nicene Creed. Some try to avoid using the word "Catholic", by substituting the word "Universal" instead, but it means the same thing.

*The word "Christmas", which is "Christ's-Mass". How could anyone be more Catholic every time they say the word?

*The Writer of the Gospel of Matthew. A predominance of Christians acknowledge it was Matthew.

*The Writer of the Gospel of Mark. Almost all Christians say it was Mark.

*The Writer of the Gospel of Luke. Almost all Christians accept Luke.

*The Writer of the Gospel of John. Almost all Christians call him John.

*The End of Public Revelation when the Last Apostle died.

*The Gregorian Calendar, which we all use.

*The Date for Christmas, December 25, which all Christians acknowledge.

*The Date for Easter, which Catholics as well as Protestants recognize.

*The Date for Ash Wednesday, used by many Protestant denominations as well.

*The Ritual of receiving ashes on Ash Wednesday, now done by some Protestants.

*The Date for All Hallows Eve, which is used by practically everyone as, "Halloween".

*The Season of Advent.

*The Season of Lent.

*The Canon of the New Testament, which all Christian churches use.

*The Catholic Liturgical Calendar, which many Protestant denominations follow.

*The Praying of the Rosary, now done faithfully by a lot of Protestants.

*The Veneration of Saints, by some, all of whom were declared saints by the Catholic Church. You will not find Saint Peter, or Saint Paul, or Saint Matthew, or Saint Mark, or Saint Luke, or Saint John, worded as "Saints" in Holy Scripture. However, all Christians call these persons "Saint".

How then, can Protestants ever say that Catholics should not hold the traditions when they hold so many Catholic traditions themselves?

*Then there are the first five books of the Old Testament, all written by Moses, who appeared for the first time in Exodus 2:2. How then could he write Genesis, except from Oral Traditions handed down from generation to generation? What about Saint Luke? He was one of the earliest converts. His name is first mentioned in Colossians 4:14. How then, did he manage to write his Gospel and the book of Acts, except by Oral Tradition? Read Luke 1:1-4. His prologue says, "..the Word HANDED DOWN TO US...". What is that if not by oral tradition?

Where in the Bible does it say the Word is limited to what is written?

43.

We know because the Catholic Church teaches that Everything is NOT in the Bible. Many other Christian denominations teach that everything IS in the Bible even though the Bible itself does not say this.

"If it is not in the Bible, it simply does not exist or it is not true", is what some have said. However, the Bible itself does not, in any way, say that it is complete.

In fact it says there are many things which are NOT in it, and will be taught in some future time.

"Many things yet I have to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. But when He, THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH, has come, He will teach you all the truth. For He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He will hear He will speak, and THE THINGS THAT ARE TO COME HE WILL DECLARE TO YOU."

John 16:12-13

Here are some more verses which say everything is NOT in the Bible:

Mark 4:33-34, 6:34, John 20:30-31, 21:25, 2Thessalonians 2:15.

Here are some of the things which Non-Catholics accept, yet are not to be found in the Bible.

**The word 'Trinity'.*

**The word 'Protestant'.*

**The Canon of the New Testament.*

**The words 'Sola Scriptura'.*

**The false, man made doctrine of Sola Scriptura.*

**The word 'Rapture'.*

**The word 'Popish'.*

**The word 'Romish'.*

**Altar calls.*

Here are some of the things which are not in the Bible and that non-Catholics reject. They reject them simply because they are all Catholic oriented.

**The entire History of the Christian Church from the last book of the Bible until the reformation.*

**The Writings of the Church Fathers.*

**The Canon of the Old Testament.*

44.

We know because the Catholic Church has an "And" Philosophy, whereas non-Catholic Protestant churches have an "Either / Or" Philosophy.

P. Bible only, no tradition (except theirs). C. Bible And Apostolic tradition.

P. If it is not in the Bible, it is not true. C. All is not in the Bible And there are many other sources.

P. One Mediator only, no other intercessors. C. One Mediator only, And many intercessors.

P. Saved by Faith only, no works. C. Saved by Faith and Works.

45.

We know because the Catholic Church Does NOT Teach an "Ear Tickling Gospel".

Some other Christian churches teach only what they think their members want to hear.

"For there will come a time when they will not endure the sound doctrine; but having itching ears, will heap up to themselves teachers according to their own lusts."

2Timothy 4:3

The Catholic Church teaches all of the Gospel, and does not omit what is painful to some.

46.

We know because the Catholic Church teaches that Our Salvation is NOT guaranteed simply by accepting Jesus Christ as Our Lord and Savior as some non-Catholic sects teach. We have been redeemed by the sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross. Salvation, however, is an on going process which involves our Co-operation with GOD. This is the teaching of Holy Scripture. Just think about it for a minute or so. If we are "saved", then we can do anything we wish with no fear of losing our salvation. This is a sin of presumption. What purpose then, do the Ten Commandments serve? What purpose would any church on earth serve? Did Jesus Christ die on the cross just so we could sin?

"He has commanded no man to do wickedly, and He has given no man license to sin."

Sirach 15:21

The question, "Are You Saved?", is an invention of Protestant Evangelical sects. Those who ridicule the Catholic Church for canonizing people as Saints, are in reality canonizing themselves when they claim they are "saved".

---

The on going process of salvation...

We were saved in the past:

Romans 5:1-2, 8:24, Ephesians 2:5-10, 2Timothy 1:9, Titus 3:5.

We are being saved now:

1Corinthians 1:18, 15:2, Philippians 2:12, Hebrews 10:14, 1Peter 1:8-9, 2:1-2.

We will be saved in the future:

Matthew 10:22, 24:13, Mark 8:35, Acts 15:11, Romans 5:9-11, 6:16, 13:11, 1Corinthians 3:15, 5:5, Galatians 2:17, 5:4-5, Hebrews 9:28, Revelation 21:6-7.

We can lose our salvation:

Matthew 7:21, 24:44-51, 25:31-46, Romans 11:22, 1Corinthians 9:27, 10:11-12, Galatians 5:4, Philippians 2:12, 2Timothy 2:11-13, Hebrews 6:4-6, 10:26-27, Revelation 21:8, 27.

"THEREFORE LET HIM WHO THINKS HE STANDS TAKE HEED LEST HE FALL."

1Corinthians 10:12

"...WORK OUT YOUR SALVATION WITH FEAR AND TREMBLING."

Philippians 2:12

GOD created us without our co-operation, but He will not save us without our co-operation.

---

47.

We know because it is the Catholic Church alone which teaches the Doctrine of Purgatory .

Contrary to what detractors say, the doctrine of Purgatory is very Biblical. The problem is that they simply do not know enough about it to discern it in Holy Scripture. Also, they have tied their own hands by removing seven Canonical Books from the Bible. One key verse which detractors do not have is 2Maccabees 12:46 which says, "It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead". Neither those in hell, nor in heaven need our prayers, for in the former they are condemned and in the latter they have achieved eternal salvation.

Those souls who are in neither place are the ones in need of prayer, for GOD has said, that nothing defiled may enter heaven, Revelation 21:27.

Catholics pray for the dead individually and in every Mass. There is even a special Mass for the dead called a Requiem Mass.

I feel sorry for all those non-Catholics who have died, as there is no one to pray for them.

48.

We know by its very Name, Catholic, which means Universal, all encompassing, all peoples, all teachings, all places, and for all time.

This is shown in Matthew 28:19-20, by the three "Alls".

"Go, therefore and make disciples of ALL nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe ALL that I have commanded you; and behold, I am with you ALL days, even unto the consummation of the world."

---

49.

We know from the Unity of the Catholic Church in the Family of GOD.

The CHURCH MILITANT which are those of us on Earth, the CHURCH SUFFERING which are those in Purgatory, and the CHURCH TRIUMPHANT which are those in Heaven, are all united in one family called "The Communion of Saints". When we receive communion, the Priest says, "The Body of Christ", and we respond with "Amen", meaning "So Be It". It is an affirmation of what the Priest has just said, and that we are all truly united in One Body of Christ, One belief, One Family, Uno, Union, Communion.

"I am the GOD of Abraham, and the GOD of Isaac, and the GOD of Jacob.

I am NOT the GOD of the dead but of the living."

Mt 22:32, Mk 12:26-27

Does this sound like the dead are really dead, or are they alive? GOD has told us we do not die.

"And behold, two men were talking with Him. And these were Moses and Elias, who, appearing in glory, spoke of His death, which He was about to fulfill in Jerusalem."

Lk 9:30-31.

Not only were these two Saints alive, but they spoke, and they even spoke to Him about future happenings.

50.

We know from the Typology of Scripture where the Old Testament prefigured the New Testament, and the people, and the happenings therein. The Catholic Church is well represented, but other Christian Churches are not.

The "types" of the Old Testament point to the realities of the New Testament.

51.

We know because the Catholic Church has Deacons, Priests, and Bishops, just as the Apostles had installed at the very beginning of the Christian Church.

"So the Twelve called together the multitude of the disciples and said, 'It is not desirable that we should forsake the Word of GOD and serve at tables. Therefore, brethren, select from among you seven men of good reputation, full of Spirit and of wisdom, that we may put them in charge of this work. But we will devote ourselves to prayer and to the ministry of the Word'."

Acts 6:1-6

The word "Deacon" is derived from the Greek "Diakonos", which means "Servant".

Stephen was chosen as the first Deacon (Acts 6:5) and he also became the first Christian Martyr.

Acts 7:54-60.

---

"And when they had appointed Presbyters (Priests) for them in each Church, with prayer and fasting, they commended them to the Lord in whom they had believed."

Acts 14:22

"For this reason I left you in Crete, that you should set right anything that is defective and SHOULD APPOINT PRESBYTERS IN EVERY CITY, AS I MYSELF DIRECTED YOU TO DO."

Titus 1:5

Each Church had its own priest then, just as it does today.

"And He Himself gave some men as Apostles, and some as prophets, others again as evangelists, and others as PASTORS and teachers."

Ephesians 4:11

"Let the Presbyters who rule well be held worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in the word and in teaching."

1Timothy 5:17

"Is anyone among you sick? Let him bring in the Presbyters of the Church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the Name of the Lord."

James 5:14

---

"Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which the Holy Spirit has placed you as Bishops, to rule the Church of GOD, which He has purchased with His own blood."

Acts 20:28

Did you understand, from this verse, exactly who is to rule the Church of GOD?

Luke wrote that Paul was speaking to the Presbyters (Acts 20:17). This is a clear passage regarding Apostolic Succession and that existing and upcoming Bishops would govern the Church of GOD. Also, it is a clear message that the Church of GOD on earth has to be a Visible Church in order to have visible people ruling it. How could visible Bishops possibly rule an invisible Church?

"Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus that are at Philippi, with the Bishops and Deacons."

---

Does your Church have Deacons, Priests, and Bishops?

The Church which Jesus Christ founded, did then, and still does to this very day.

---

We know because only the Catholic Church has a Valid Priesthood, which was created by GOD to offer sacrifice in perpetuity.

"You shall be to Me a Kingdom of Priests, a holy nation."

Exodus 19:6

---

These listed verses soon follow the rebellion of Korah (Core) against the Aaronic Priesthood in Numbers 16. In reading the following, not only will you see the Priesthood in perpetuity, but the "Sacred Offerings" which prefigure the Sacred Holy Eucharist.

"...but the responsibility of the priesthood shall rest on you and your sons alone."

Numbers 18:1

"But only you and your sons are to have charge of performing the priestly functions in whatever concerns the altar and the room within the veil. I GIVE YOU THE PRIESTHOOD AS A GIFT..."

Numbers 18:7

"The Lord said to Aaron, "I myself have given you charge of the contributions made to me in the VARIOUS SACRED OFFERINGS (a 'type' of the Holy Eucharist) of the Israelites, BY PERPETUAL ORDINANCE I HAVE ASSIGNED THEM TO YOU AND TO YOUR SONS AS YOUR PRIESTLY SHARE."

Numbers 18:8

"You shall have the right to share in the OBLATIONS (see Malachi 1:11) THAT ARE MOST SACRED, in whatever they offer me as cereal offerings, or sin offerings, or guilt offerings; for these shall accrue to you and to your sons. In EATING THEM YOU SHALL TREAT THEM AS MOST SACRED; every male among you may partake of them. AS SACRED, THEY BELONG TO YOU."

Numbers 18:9-10

"By PERPETUAL ORDINANCE I have assigned to you and to your sons and daughters all the contributions from the sacred gifts which the Israelites make to the Lord; THIS IS AN INVIOLENT COVENANT, TO LAST FOREVER BEFORE THE LORD, FOR YOU AND FOR YOUR DESCENDANTS."

Numbers 18:19

"...this is a PERPETUAL ORDINANCE FOR ALL YOUR GENERATIONS."

Numbers 18:23

"...DO NOT PROFANE THE SACRED GIFTS OF THE ISRAELITES AND SO BRING DEATH ON YOURSELVES."

Numbers 18:35

See how this ties with:

"Therefore whoever eats this bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily, will be guilty of the body and the blood of the Lord. But let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of that bread and drink of the cup; for he who eats and drinks unworthily, without distinguishing the body, EATS AND DRINKS JUDGMENT TO HIMSELF."

1Corinthians 11:27-29

---

The Old Testament foundation for the Perpetual Priesthood was followed in the New Testament by, not the order of the Aaronic priesthood of the Jews (Hebrews 7:11), but of the Priestly order of Melchizedech, who was both King and High Priest, a figure of Jesus Christ.

See Hebrews 7:1-25.

53.

We know because only a Catholic Priest is Able to Act "In Persona Christi" , that is, in the Person of Christ (2Corinthians 2:10), as he calls down The Word with his word during the consecration of the Holy Eucharist, and in the Sacrament of Reconciliation .

54.

We know from the Mass, the highest form of prayer, which was instituted by Jesus Christ at the Last Supper, Matthew 26:26-28, and which you will not find in other Churches.

---

Malachi 1:11

---

The Catholic Church does offer sacrifice, a clean oblation, in every place. There is a Mass being celebrated somewhere in the world every minute of every day.

---

55.

We know because it is The Catholic Church Which Venerates the Crucified Christ on the Cross. Most non-Catholic ecclesial communities have removed the Body of Christ from the cross and have only a simple cross of two pieces of wood. This is an absurdity and a contradiction. In doing so, where is the "sacrifice from the rising of the sun even to the going down and in every place", as written in Malachi 1:11?

Fr. Benedict Groeschel once said, "People can relate to a Crucified Christ, as all of us have crosses to carry. But no one can relate to a Risen Christ, since none of us has ever risen from the dead."

56.

We know from the fact that Holy Scripture tells us to Celebrate by Breaking Bread OFTEN, as the Catholic Church has always done in the sacrifice of the Mass.

"This is My body, which is being given for you; do this in remembrance of Me."
Luke 22:19

"In like manner also the cup, after He had supped, saying "This cup is the new covenant in My blood; DO THIS AS OFTEN AS YOU DRINK IT, IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME. FOR AS OFTEN AS YOU SHALL EAT THIS BREAD AND DRINK THIS CUP, YOU PROCLAIM THE DEATH OF THE LORD, UNTIL HE COMES"."
1Corinthians 11:25-26

"As OFTEN as you shall eat this bread", does this ring a bell with you? It would seem to me that the word "often" means "frequently", does it not? Go to the end of the previous frame in which I said there is a Mass being celebrated every minute of every day, and re-read Malachi 1:11.

If you read what the Apostles said in several verses, that when they met, they broke bread.

Acts 2:42, STEADFASTLY in the breaking of the bread.

Acts 2:46, DAILY breaking bread.

Acts 20:7, WEEKLY in the breaking of the bread.

Breaking of bread is the Eucharistic sacrifice of the Mass. In most Catholic Churches there is sacrifice of the Mass at least once a day. Why is it then, when Scripture uses the word "often", and "daily", and "weekly", that some other Christian churches "break bread" only once a month, four times a year, or just once a year?

58.

We know because during the Mass we lift up our hearts and participate in Heaven on Earth.

For a brief moment, time stands still, and we are immersed in the Mass as one body in the most sublime beauty in which a mortal man can find himself. That brief moment is eternity!

59.

We know because the Catholic Church faithfully follows its founder by complying with His command to Feed My Sheep (John 21:15-17). Jesus Christ is the Shepherd and we are the sheep.

To whom did He make this remark? He made it to Simon Peter to whom he had given the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven in Matthew 16:19.

Catholics are frequently accused of being Bible deprived, but the facts are, that the priests and lectors of the Catholic Church read from the pulpit almost the entire Bible over a three year cycle, and have been doing so for centuries. The only parts omitted are some of the genealogies, the "begats". Consequently, every three years, all Catholics have heard almost all that is written in Holy Scripture.

**The Catholic Church feeds the person with nearly all of Holy Scripture every three years.*

**The Catholic Church feeds the soul with the True Presence of Jesus Christ every day.*

Name another Christian Church which feeds its sheep both in body and in spirit, as does the Catholic Church?

60.

We know because the Catholic Church still has, and will always have, Seven Sacraments, just as it had almost 2000 years ago. This is yet another example of the Fidelity to which the Catholic Church adheres in the teachings of Jesus Christ and of Holy Scripture.

For almost 1500 years there were seven Sacraments in Christianity. Now most of the other Christian Churches only have two Sacraments. By whose authority were the other five removed? They were removed by a Catholic Monk, Martin Luther, the founder of Protestantism, who had no authority whatsoever to do so. Luther was rebuked by King Henry VIII for doing this, and his Chancellor, Saint Thomas More, tried in vain to get Luther to change his mind and reinstate them.

Baptism: Matt 28:18-20, Mark 16:15-16, John 3:1-5, Acts 8:26-39, Rom 6:3-4, Eph 4:4-7.

Reconciliation: Matt 16:19, Luke 5:17-26, 7:36-50, 13:1-5, John 8:3-11, 20:23.

Confirmation: Acts 1:8, 2:1-4, 8:14-20, 19:1-7, 2Cor 1:21-22, Eph 1:13.

Holy Eucharist: Malachi 1:11, Matt 26:26-28, Mark 14:22-27, Luke 22:19-20, John 6:All, 1Cor 10:16-17, 11:17-29, Heb 7,8,9.

Matrimony: Gen 2:18-24, 1Cor 7:2-8, Eph 5:21-33.

Holy Orders: Luke 5:1-11, John 1:35-39, 15:15-16, 20:19-23, Acts 6:3-6, 13:3, 1Cor 11:19-27, 2Tim 1:6, Heb 5:1-5, 1Pet 2:5-11.

Anointing of the Sick: Mark 6:13, 16:18, James 5:14-15.

61.

We know because the Catholic Church Baptizes All Persons regardless of age. This is unlike many non-Catholic denominations which do not Baptize infants. There is nothing in the New Testament which says that Jesus Christ excluded infants from Baptism. On the contrary, He commanded:

"Let the little children be, and do not hinder them from coming to Me, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

Matthew 19:14

---

"Now they were bringing the babes to Him that He might touch them; but when the disciples saw it, they rebuked them (as some do today). But Jesus called them together and said, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not hinder them, for of such is the Kingdom of GOD.""

Luke 18:15-16

"Amen, amen I say to you, UNLESS A MAN BE BORN AGAIN OF WATER AND THE SPIRIT, HE CANNOT ENTER THE KINGDOM OF GOD."

John 3:5

We are born with the sin of Adam, and the Sacrament of Baptism removes that sin and makes the soul pleasing to GOD. Scripture is very clear that all must be baptized in order to achieve salvation.

---

62.

We know because the Catholic Church Does Not Condone Divorce, in keeping with the teachings of Jesus Christ. Marriage, as a Sacrament, has been rejected by most non-Catholic denominations, and in so doing, they have accepted divorce as a way of life.

However, Holy Scripture, to the contrary, has this to say:

And there came to Him some Pharisees, testing Him and saying, "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for any cause?" But He answered and said to them, "Have you not read that the Creator, from the beginning, made them male and female, and said, For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife, and the two shall become one flesh? Therefore, now they are no longer two, but one flesh. WHAT THEREFORE GOD HAS JOINED TOGETHER, LET NO MAN PUT ASUNDER."

Matthew 19:3-6

Clearer words than those cannot be spoken than that last sentence, yet non-Catholic churches disobey and allow the splitting of the one flesh. When what is "One Flesh" is split, does it become, two halves?

What was the first covenant GOD made with man? It was the marriage covenant in the first book of the Bible, Genesis 2:21-25. Take a look at the last paragraph of the last book of the Bible in Revelation 22:17, and who do you see mentioned? None other than a Bride. I would say that GOD is trying to tell us something here, like marriage is very important to Him.

63.

We know because the Catholic Church has an Annulment Procedure which is far removed from that of divorce.

In the previous frame, the key words spoken by Jesus Christ in Matthew 19:6 are, "What therefore GOD has joined together, let no man put asunder."

What exactly does that mean? It means that marriage is a contract between three persons, not just two. Those three persons are, the husband, the wife, and GOD. If GOD joined the two into one flesh, the contract cannot be broken, except by the death of husband or wife. However, there are impediments to marriage where GOD would not recognize that it is a valid marriage, if it does not fit with his plan for creation. This is where annulments may be utilized.

The main criteria for marriage is a love for one another and for the begetting of children. It is in GOD's plan to perpetuate the human race. We become co-creators with GOD.

"Then GOD blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it.""

Genesis 1:28

There are several valid reasons for obtaining an annulment. One of the basic reasons is when one party or the other thwarts GOD's plan by declaring that they do not want to have children. An annulment may be obtained by their not participating in pro-creation, which is God's plan and therefore, a man and woman have not become one. Other indicators are also considered and reviewed for the best solutions to be determined.

64.

We know from the many Wonders of GOD which we find in the Catholic Church, and which we do not find anywhere else.

---

65.

We know because the Catholic Church is No Smorgasbord. There is no picking and choosing as you will find in other Christian churches. The Catholic Church is Christ Centered, not secular centered. How many times have you heard people say something similar to, "I moved from this church to that one, to another, looking for a church which fits me and my lifestyle"?

The Catholic Church is a no-nonsense Church which faithfully follows the teaching of Jesus Christ, and offers the sacrifice of the Mass. It is the Church of Truth that will not bend to the whims of its members. If 99% of all Catholics wanted to change a Church doctrine, it would not be changed if it conflicted with the teaching of Jesus Christ.

66.

We know because the Catholic Church, and only the Catholic Church, has the True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist, Matthew 26:26-28.

It is the First Wonder of the World, the source, center, and summit of the Catholic Church.

It is GOD's greatest gift to us.

It is Really Jesus Christ giving His complete self, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity, to us every time we receive Him in Holy Communion.

Scoffers and unbelievers from other Christian Churches insist that it is only a "symbolic gesture", and is not the True Presence. Let me clarify this by remarking, that they are correct in saying this if they are referring to their very own celebration. It IS only a "symbolic gesture" for them. They do not have the Sacrament of Holy Orders, the Laying on of Hands, the Apostolic Succession, of the Bishops which was passed on from the Apostles. This enabled the remarkable ability of the Priests to call down The Word with their word, thus by the power of the Holy Spirit, changing the substance of ordinary bread and wine into the substance of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ.

It is to be noted, however, that none of these non-believers have the authority to say it is only a symbol for Catholics as well.

I have asked non-believers, for years, to show me the "symbolism" in Matthew 26:26-28, and not one person has been able to do so. Jesus Christ did say, "This IS My Body", did He not?

It must be true because He said it.

"And you have not His word abiding in you, since you do not believe Him who he Has sent."

John 5:38

"The Protestant celebration can be likened to their reading the menu, while we enjoy the meal. "

A quote from Dr. Scott Hahn.

Where the True Presence of Holy Eucharist is, there is Jesus Christ. Where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church. The Holy Eucharist is the source, center, and summit of Christian life.

---

67.

We know because The Apostles Knew Quite Well That There Was No One Else to Turn To. The Truth was with Jesus Christ and His One Church.

"Then Simon Peter answered Him, Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life."

John 6:68

Jesus Christ had just finished His teaching on His true presence in the Holy Eucharist in John 6:31-66.

In verse 53 He said, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink His blood, you shall not have life in you."

The non-believers of His true presence in the Eucharist walked away from Him in John 6:66 (666?) and returned not. He did not recant His teaching, for in verse 67, He asked the rest if they wanted to leave also. Most non-Catholic ecclesial communities do not believe His words of John 6 either, and they too walked away. The Catholic Church believes the words of its founder, Jesus Christ.

---

68.

We know because only the Catholic Church has Eucharistic Adoration, an unimaginable heavenly gift from GOD.

"And behold, the curtain of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom..."

Matthew 27:51. See Exodus 26:31-34, 30:10, and Hebrews 10:19

"It is a sign that the Old Covenant GOD had made with the Jews had ended, and a New Covenant was beginning. The veil of the temple hung in front of the Holy of Holies and the Ark of the Covenant. It was forbidden for anyone to pass through it except for the high priest, and only he could pass once a year. It is a symbol or 'Type' of GOD's separation from His people. The 'Archetype' is the torn body of Christ. When the veil was torn, the barrier between GOD and man was lifted."

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.

"Since then, brethren, WE ARE FREE TO ENTER THE HOLIES IN VIRTUE OF THE BLOOD OF CHRIST, A NEW AND LIVING WAY WHICH HE INAUGURATED FOR US THROUGH THE VEIL (THAT IS HIS FLESH), AND SINCE WE HAVE A HIGH PRIEST OVER THE HOUSE OF GOD, LET US DRAW NEAR WITH A TRUE HEART IN THE FULLNESS OF FAITH...."

Hebrews 10:19-22

The unapproachable GOD of the Old Testament, has become the approachable in the New.

How many non-Catholic churches can say,

"Come, and draw near and adore the real Jesus Christ"?

---

69.

We know from the many thousands of Saints which the Catholic Church has produced. Whenever there is a need to combat heresy, GOD raises up yet another Saint to aid His Church. It has happened time and time again.

---

70.

We know from the perpetual Veneration given to the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of GOD, by the Catholic Church, since the very beginning of the Church. This is shown in hundreds of writings by Church Fathers and Ecclesiastical writers in every century from the first until now. The doctrines regarding her were also defined in Church Councils, and Papal letters.

Have you ever given thought that as a mother, she gave motherly guidance to her Son as He passed through His childhood?

In other words, she told the creator of the universe what to do and He obeyed her.

"And He went down with them and came to Nazareth, AND WAS SUBJECT TO THEM."

Luke 2:51.

Jesus spent 30 years educating His mother, but only 3 years educating His Apostles.

I am always amazed at the detractors inability to distinguish between the words "venerate" and "worship". Look them up in your dictionary. I challenge anyone to show me an official Catholic document which says that Catholics "worship" the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Here is what the founder of Protestantism had to say:

"The veneration of Mary is inscribed in the very depths of the human heart."

Martin Luther, (Sermon, September 1, 1522).

71.

We know because of the many dramatic Old Testament prefigurements of the Mother of the Catholic Church, the Blessed Virgin Mary, depicting her as the Queen Mother of the King, and of many other important roles.

If the King of Kings came through her to us, then why can't we go through her to Him?

Why didn't He come directly to us instead of going through her first?

If we wish to trace our heritage back to Adam, we all have to go through a woman to do so.

---

72.

We know because Catholics Love and Honor the Blessed Virgin Mary whereas many non-Catholics constantly malign her.

Here is yet another instance of those who call themselves "Christians", and who claim to follow the Bible, but, in fact, do not:

"...for, behold, HENCEFORTH ALL GENERATIONS WILL CALL ME BLESSED."

Luke 1:48

Let us examine this statement, made by the Mother of GOD:

The word "Henceforth", means from the time she said it and for all eternity.

"All generations", means every person in every century until the end of time.

"Will", denotes a command and not a suggestion.

"Call me Blessed", means just that.

When Catholics invoke her name we say "Blessed Virgin Mary". However, when we hear criticism of her from Non-Catholics, the word "Blessed" before her name is never invoked. It is always Mary this or Mary that. This attitude is in direct violation of a command from Scripture, and is indicative of someone who refuses to call her "blessed".

The founder of the Reformation, Martin Luther, had a great Love for the Mother of GOD, as did other reformers. Why is it that most Protestant churches have since rejected any veneration due her now, in defiance of the beliefs of their founders?

When you criticize the Masterpiece, you criticize the Master.

When facing her Son after death, I would rather hear Him say,

"Yes, My mother has spoken of you often."

Those who spite her are in danger of hearing Him say, "Why did you calumnize My mother?"

What would YOU say to someone who deliberately calumnized your mother?

"Let no one presume to hope for the mercy of GOD, who dares to slight or offend GOD's mother."

Saint Louis de Montfort

---

73.

We know because of the beautiful prayer, "Hail Mary", and of the Rosary which came from the Catholic Church.

Here is what the founder of Protestantism said about that beautiful prayer to the Mother of GOD:

"Our prayer should include the Mother of God . . . What the Hail Mary says is that all glory should be given to God, using these words: 'Hail Mary, full of grace. The Lord is with thee; blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus Christ. Amen!' You see that these words are not concerned with prayer but purely with giving praise and honor . . . We can use the Hail Mary as a meditation in which we recite what grace God has given her. Second, we should add a wish that everyone may know and respect her . . .

He who has no faith is advised to refrain from saying the Hail Mary."

Martin Luther, (Personal Prayer Book, 1522).

Why do Protestants of today ignore the teaching of their founder, who was the first Protestant?

You cannot say "Hail Mary" without having "Hail Jesus" echo throughout the universe. Fr. Corapi

74.

We know because of the Veneration of the Saints, who are all Catholic, and whom we admire as role models of holiness, sanctity, tenacity, perseverance, and of all the other virtues they may possess. The difference between a Saint and the rest of us, is that when they fell, they just got up again and kept on going. They never gave up.

We have been blessed with beautiful male and female role models. In a world of chaos and immorality, we are able to look to our older brothers and sisters, the Saints, for direction.

If you need a spiritual uplift, then read the Lives of the Saints. If you have problems in life, as we all do, then read how they handled the same problems. Why re-invent the wheel when you can gain from their experience, in resolving problems successfully? There is not a present day problem where a Saint had not experienced it before you.

Non-Catholics have missed a lot by ignoring the deeds of the Saints.

75.

We know from the Relics of Many Incorrupt Saints, whose intact bodies defy scientific explanation. Scores of them can be seen today. One young girl who died in 1333, Blessed Imelda Lambertini, looks even today, like a Sleeping Beauty after over 667 years in death. She can be seen now in Bologna, Italy, just as I have described her.

How many non-Catholics have even heard of Incorrupt Saints?

76.

We know from the thousands of Catholic Martyr's who gave their lives so that the Church may live. "The blood of the martyrs became the seed of the Church."

Tertullian

From the very beginning, faithful Catholics were murdered for their belief in Jesus Christ. It is hard to imagine the courage that these people must have had to sacrifice their lives willingly for the faith.

+Saint Peter, the first Bishop of Rome, was crucified upside down in Rome in 67 A.D.. His tomb and his remains are under the main altar of St Peter's Basilica in Rome.

+Saint Paul was beheaded in Rome in 67 A.D.. His tomb and his remains are in St. Paul's Church in Rome.

+Saint Clement of Rome, Pope, was thrown into the Black Sea in 100 A.D.. His remains were taken to Rome and buried there.

+Saint Ignatius, the Bishop of Antioch, was torn apart by lions in the Roman circus in 107 A.D.. He was the first one to mention the Catholic Church by name in his writings.

All of the Popes in the first 300 years of the Church were Martyred. With a record like that, why would anyone want to accept that position during those early centuries of extreme persecution?

---

77.

We know from the many authentic Relics that the Catholic Church has in its possession.

Among them are:

The Manger in which Baby Jesus was laid after His birth. Luke 2:7

The Relic of the True Cross on which Jesus Christ was crucified. John 19:17-18

The "INRI" inscription from the True Cross, called "Titulus Crucis". John 19-19

The Nails which held Jesus to the cross. John 20:25

We know from the scores of Eucharistic Miracles which have been manifested to us for well over a thousand years. These have been investigated and verified by both Catholic and secular sources and have been found to have no scientific explanation for these events. You will not find a Eucharistic Miracle in other Christian Churches founded after 1500, as none of them have a valid priesthood to call down "The Word" with their word. Consequently, they have only a 'symbolic' presence, whereas the Catholic Church has the "True Presence" of Jesus Christ.

The Catholic Church can lay claim to the Apostles as being Catholic, for many reasons:

A.

**The Catholic Church faithfully follows their teaching where other churches do not, as seen in many verses:*

We know because it is the Catholic Church which is the New Jerusalem as described in the Bible. The old Jerusalem was destroyed in 70 A.D. by the Roman general Titus, and the destruction was prophesied by Jesus Christ in Matthew 24. Saint John wrote the Book of Revelation about 20-30 years later, and in it he describes a New Jerusalem...

"He who overcomes, I will make him a Pillar in the Temple of My GOD, and never more shall he go outside. And I will write upon him the name of my GOD, and the name of the City of my GOD, the New Jerusalem, which comes down out of heaven from my GOD, and my new name."

Revelation 3:12.

This verse is absolutely loaded with interesting details.

Who is "him" who will be made a Pillar? The precedent was set in Galatians 2:9 where three of the Apostles (meaning, one who is sent) were called "Pillars". I have already shown that all of the Apostles were Catholic.

The "Pillar in the Temple" is the Catholic Church in 1Timothy 3:15 as already discussed.

The Temple of my GOD, is the "City that is set on a Mountain that cannot be hidden", the Visible Catholic Church, as already discussed.

Revelation 3:12 calls it "The New Jerusalem".

---

"And I saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from GOD, made ready as a Bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, 'Behold the dwelling of GOD with men, and He will dwell with them. And they will be His people, and GOD Himself will be with them as their GOD'."

Revelation 21:2-3

The New Jerusalem, the "Bride Adorned for Her Husband", is the Bride of Christ, the Catholic Church, as already discussed.

Doesn't GOD come down from Heaven to Earth during every Mass, when the priest calls down The Lastly, GOD is certainly present with us in the Catholic Church in the Holy Eucharist, during Eucharistic Adoration, and in the Holy Tabernacle.

82.

We know because the Catholic Church is Our Mother. * This is Why we Call Her "Mother Church".

*Lumen Gentium I,6

Since I have previously shown that the Catholic Church is the New Jerusalem, we can see from Scripture that the Church is Our Mother:

"But that Jerusalem which is above is free, which is our mother. For it is written, Rejoice thou barren, that dost not bear; break forth and cry, thou that dost not prevail; for many are the children of the desolate, more than that of her that has a husband. Now we, brethren, are the children of promise, as Isaac was."

Galatians 4:26-28

What does a good mother do for her children? She nurtures them. She feeds them. She tends to their needs. She watches over them and protects them as a shepherd watches over the sheep.

"And the dragon was angered at the woman, and went away to wage war with the rest of her offspring, who keep the commandments of GOD, and hold fast the testimony of Jesus."

Revelation 12:17

83.

We know because Jesus Christ Loves the One Church Which He Founded.

"Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the Church, and delivered himself up for her, that He might sanctify her, cleansing her in the bath of water by means of The Word; in order that He might present to himself the Church in all her glory, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish."

Ephesians 5:25-27

Since there are over 36,400 non Catholic churches, each teaching a different "truth", name the one which can claim "not having spot or wrinkle, and be without blemish"? Truth is ONE, remember?

---

84.

We know from the many Prophecies made by Catholic Prophets of the past.

"And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, SECONDLY PROPHEETS, thirdly teachers;..."

1Corinthians 12:28

It is to be noted that Jesus Christ, The Word, and the Son of GOD, was the last prophet of public revelation (Heb 1:1-2).

The later prophets have revealed no new public revelation, but of future events and happenings. Hebrews 1:1-2 precludes any such claim of new public revelation as some attempt to do in a few non-Catholic sects, thereby showing that they are false prophets.

Beginning in the first century there have been prophets who have, with uncanny accuracy, described the times in which we presently live.

Just to show you that accurate Catholic Prophecy continues to this day, here is a comparatively recent example of one made by Pope Paul VI in 1968, which clearly has been fulfilled.

---

Do you know of any prophets from other Christian churches who have made accurate prophecies such as those on the above referenced pages?

---

85.

We know from the many authentic and verified Miracles in the history of the Catholic Church.

The Miracle of Fatima in Portugal was witnessed by over 70,000 people on October 13, 1917, and was well documented by the secular press. Over a period of several months, the Blessed Virgin Mary revealed to three children, the rise of communism a month before the communist revolution started in Russia. She foretold the end of World War I, and the beginning of a new and worse war during the Pontificate of Pope Pius XI. That Pope was elected in 1922, 5 years after the message was revealed, and he died in 1939. World War II did in fact start in 1938, 21 years after the Mother of GOD revealed it would come, and it did in fact start during the Pontificate of Pope Pius XI. The Blessed Virgin Mary had also foretold that the fall of communism was to come in Russia, but only years after Russia had spread her errors all over the world. These prophecies were all fulfilled, and beginning in 1989, the great and most feared communist USSR collapsed without a shot being fired, while the whole world held its breath. How could this have happened so painlessly and so bloodlessly except by a miracle from GOD? It was a clear fulfillment of the prophecy of Fatima.

The Miracle of Lourdes occurred in 1858. Pope Pius IX had defined the dogma of the Immaculate Conception in 1854. When the visionary, Saint Bernadette, asked the Blessed Virgin Mary, who had appeared to her, what her name was, she replied, "I am the Immaculate Conception", and in so doing confirmed from heaven what the Pope had declared on earth four years earlier. A miraculous spring of healing water came from the ground and there have been scores of well documented miraculous healings from there as a result. To this day, millions of pilgrims go to Lourdes France every year to bathe in its waters, and the healings continue. Bernadette is incorrupt.

---

There was the miraculous appearance of the Blessed Virgin Mary to Juan Diego in 1531, in what is now Mexico City, in which she left an Image of herself on his tilma, a cloak like garment. This image exists to this day and has defied all scientific explanation as to just how it was formed. Cactus cloth like that on which it is imprinted, disintegrates in about 20 years, and yet this image, and the cactus cloth, are in perfect condition after over 450 years. This image can be viewed in the Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe in Mexico City, where it is on display.

---

Read about the Miracle of Lepanto in 1571, a pivotal battle between a large Moslem force and a much smaller Christian force which prevented the inroads by Islam to all of Europe. This event is recorded in secular history books as well as in Vatican Archives.

---

A more recent Miraculous event occurred in Akita Japan in the 1970's and 1980's. It is Our Lady of Akita.

---

These are only a few examples of secular and Church verified miracles, and there are many others. For those who scoff at these miraculous events within the Catholic Church, I must point out to the scoffers, of their unbelief in Holy Scripture, where Saint Paul clearly stated that they will happen within the Church which Jesus Christ founded. If these detractors refuse to believe in these miracles, then I am forced to comment to them, that they are simply in the wrong church...

"Now you are the Body of Christ, member for member. And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church (singular), first Apostles, secondly Prophets, thirdly Teachers; after that MIRACLES, then GIFTS OF HEALING (Lourdes), Services of Help, Power of Administration, and the Speaking of various Tongues."

1Corinthians 12:27-28

I have not heard of Miracles such as these in any other Christian Church.

I have not heard of so many dramatic, medically proven, Miraculous Healings in other Christian Churches, as there are from Lourdes.

86.

We know from the Many Mysteries within the Catholic Church which defy scientific explanation. A Mystery is something that is not fully understood. It is something that baffles or is incomprehensible to reason. Science has not been able to explain the process in which these images were formed. However, science HAS been able to show how they were NOT formed, by artistry, painting, or photographic process, or any other process devised by mankind.

**The Image of Our Lady of Guadalupe.*

**The Veil of Veronica.*

We know from the Many and Varied Devotions within the Catholic Church.

**Eucharistic Adoration.*

**The Holy Face of Jesus.*

**The Sacred Heart of Jesus.*

**The Stations of the Cross.*

**The Five Wounds of Jesus.*

**The Divine Office.*

**The Divine Praises.*

**The Immaculate Heart of Mary.*

**The Rosary.*

**Novenas.*

**Votive Candles.*

These varied devotions are suitable for different types of people, filling their different spiritual needs, from the simplest to the deepest devotions available; the comfort of the Rosary; the faith of a Novena; the Spiritual stimulation of a Mission; simple words of love to God; and the most intense love given to God, daily Mass. And like little children, we say over and over to our God, our Creator, "I love you, I love you, I love you". This is no vain repetition, but a manifesto of unrequited love.

Most non-Catholic Christian churches do not offer any of these devotions. Some offer a few.

We know from the Splendor of the Many Priceless Art Treasures within the Catholic Church, which has been for centuries, the patroness of the arts.

*The Sistine Chapel with the beautiful wall and ceiling paintings by Michelangelo.

*The Pieta by Michelangelo.

*The Moses of Michelangelo.

*The Transfiguration by Raphael.

*The Borghese Gallery which holds many art masterpieces.

*The Vatican has hundreds of priceless treasures, paintings, statues, mosaics, etc.

Many of the greatest artisans that the world has ever seen, dedicated their talents and years of their lives to doing GOD's work for the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

We see that the great art, in all forms and shapes, not only comes to decorate our Churches and the Vatican, but it is a recognition of the artistic talents that God has given to a selected few. The art represents what the soul wants to manifest. Writers write. Photographers take pictures. Painters, sculptors, and architects do their own to manifest their faith. This art within the Catholic Faith has been an inspiration for many to seek the Lord. The Church has a responsibility to recognize the hands of the Lord in these great talents, and to preserve their testimonies of faith. They represent the real "splendor", the one that comes from the souls of the faithful. Every artist offers to God the best they have. When the Lord asked Moses to build the Tabernacle, He asked for the best, and He got it.

There is not another Christian Church in the world which can even come close to the splendor of the art treasures within the Catholic Church. Where should such artistic beauty be found other than in the glory of the House of GOD?

89.

We know from the well documented Exorcisms which the Catholic Church has performed for almost 2 millennia.

The definition of an Exorcism is, "To drive out evil spirits by a Priest who is delegated for the purpose by a Bishop".

"Then having summoned His twelve Apostles, He gave them power over unclean spirits, TO CAST THEM OUT, and to cure every kind of disease and infirmity."

Matthew 10:1

"The Kingdom of Heaven (the Church) is at hand! Cure the sick, raise the dead, cleanse the lepers, CAST OUT DEVILS."

Matthew 10:8

"And there came also multitudes from the towns near Jerusalem, bring the sick and those troubled with unclean spirits, AND THEY WERE ALL CURED."

Acts 5:16. See also, Acts 19:13-16.

Some Protestant denominations say that the Catholic Church was founded by Satan. I have this verse to offer to them in return.

"And knowing their thoughts Jesus said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation, and every city or house divided against itself will not stand. And if Satan casts out Satan, he is divided against himself; how then shall his kingdom stand?""

Matthew 12:25-26

So if the Catholic Church was founded by Satan, then explain the Exorcisms of Satan and his demons by the Catholic Church? How is it that the Catholic Church has stood for almost 2000 years? I can explain this easily. The demons who are being Exorcised did not come from the Catholic Church in the first place, but from those sects which made this ridiculous charge.

Who, other than a Catholic Priest, has the ability to cast out demons? Who, other than a Catholic Priest, have you ever heard of who could do such a thing? What other Christian Church can claim successful Exorcisms?

90.

*We know from its sheer Size and Rapid Growth, with over 1,057,000,000* (one billion, fifty-seven million) members, or one in six of the entire population of the earth, as of February 2000. That is an increase of over 40,000,000 (forty million), since December 1997, more than half of the total membership of the largest single non-Catholic denomination. In 2001, the Catholic Church grew to over 1,070,540,000* members, plus another 216,000,000* Orthodox. Bar none, the Catholic Church is the fastest growing Christian Church in the world. All of the over 36,400 various Non-Catholic denominations, collectively added, total less* than the Catholic membership.*

For those detractors of the Catholic Church who say that numbers are irrelevant, they are in effect, saying that Satan is winning souls and that GOD is losing souls. They are saying that more people are convinced by the lie from the father of lies, John 8:44, than they are convinced of the truth of GOD, John 14:6. They have forgotten, or maybe they never knew, that Satan can only do what GOD allows him to do. I would prefer to believe that GOD is the greater attraction, wouldn't you agree?

What other Christian Church can lay greater claim to, "Go, therefore and make disciples of all nations..." , as can the Catholic Church?

**World Christian Encyclopedia, April 2001.*

91.

We know because the Catholic Church is adamantly Pro-Life. It is the most outspoken organization on earth against the "Culture of Death" in which we live today. Pro-Life stimulates the desire to protect and promote the gift of human life. That also includes refraining from contraception, tubal ligation, vasectomy, and at the other end of the spectrum, euthanasia, assisted suicide, even the death sentence of criminals. These methods when used, preclude that life is unimportant and can be discarded at the discretion of others. Life begins when GOD creates a soul for one egg, and one sperm, as they meet in the womb. The soul is the life of the body. Why is it so hard to understand that life begins at conception? What causes the egg to immediately start multiplying its cells? Is it not life? If not life, then would you please tell me what it is? Does a "Lump of Flesh" have a heartbeat? Does a lump of flesh kick in the womb?

*"...Thou shalt not kill a child by abortion, neither shalt thou slay it when born..."
The Didache 2:2, the teaching of the Apostles.*

"And when you stretch forth your hands, I will turn away My eyes from you: and when you multiply prayer, I will not hear, for your hands are full of blood. Wash yourselves, be clean, take away the evil of your devices from My eyes."

Isaiah 1:15-16

The Catholic Church is persecuted from all directions for its unwavering stand against Abortion. The Church will never change its teaching against this most barbaric of all evils against its most helpless victims, the child in the womb.

Several other churches, which call themselves "Christian", have softened their stance against this evil. Some even accept it.

Supporters of Abortion call it by its satanic name of "Pro-Choice", while trying to mask its true name which is simply, "Legalized Murder". The people who are "Pro-Choice", are pitted against GOD and His Catholic Church, which is "Pro-Life". Which side are you on?

Which side do you think will win?

92.

We know because of the People who have gone before us in the Catholic Church. We all stand on the shoulders of Giants, each of whom has made meritorious contributions.

**Doctors of the Church, the tallest of the Giants, and all are Saints.*

**Saint Thomas Aquinas, called the Aristotle of Christianity. His many writings are studied today all over the world. His Summa Theologica is a benchmark for Catholic Christian truth in theology.*

**Johann Gutenberg, a Catholic, is credited with one of, if not the greatest invention of all time, the movable type printing press. The first book he ever printed was a Catholic Bible.*

**John Cardinal Newman, a convert from the Anglican Church is credited with many outstanding writings of his journey to the Catholic Church. He was not afraid to read the history of the Christian Church and when he did, he wrote, "To be deep in history is to cease to be Protestant."*

93.

We know because of the Influx of Intellectuals into the Catholic Church. Studies have shown that well informed Protestants, who were previously vocally anti-Catholic, but who did not have a closed mind to the truth, are entering the Catholic Church in increasing numbers. All you have to do to see this, is to tune into E.W.T.N. and see how many ex-protestant ministers have their own programs or are guest speakers. These people are Bible Christians, who spent years in the study of Holy Scripture. Many found questions that simply could not be answered in Protestant circles. One big question was, "Where are the documents of the Primitive Church?" In their search, they found that the only authentic documents to be found were in Catholic sources, the Fathers of the Church. Once they started reading of the history of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, they discovered that it was the Catholic Church alone. They did prove to themselves that, "To be deep in history was to cease to be Protestant" (Cardinal Newman). It is precisely for this reason that Protestant clergy and teachers tell their own people not to read the Church Fathers and early church writers.

"For the wrath of GOD is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of those men who in wickedness hold back the truth of GOD."

Romans 1:18

That verse by itself should deter any GOD loving person from withholding the truth from anyone.

"...but wrath and indignation to those who are contentious, and who do not submit to the truth but assent to iniquity."

Romans 2:8

A thinking person who does not ignore Church history will invariably be led to the Catholic Church.

---

In contrast to the influx is the outflow of Catholics to other Christian churches. These people are the uninformed, who knew nothing of what they were leaving, or who had misconceptions of what the Catholic Church really taught. The numbers, however, show that the influx is much greater than the outflow.

"Go into the WHOLE WORLD and preach the Gospel to every creature ." Mark 16:15

He commanded Peter, the first Bishop of Rome, the first Pope, to feed His sheep, in John 21:15-17.

He told His Apostles to be witnesses for Him, "...TO THE VERY ENDS OF THE EARTH" in Acts 1:8.

The Catholic Church offers more of these Services than any other Christian Church and they are scattered all over the world. Here are just a few examples:

Catholic Hospitals.

Catholic Relief Services

Catholic Food Services for the poor, such as Loaves and Fishes.

The Saint Vincent de Paul Society.

Orphanages

The Knights of Columbus.

The Legion of Mary.

Many diverse Missionaries, such as Maryknoll, in many countries.

We know from the many very large and beautiful Cathedrals, Basilicas, Shrines, and Churches throughout the world. Saint Peter's in Rome is the largest Church on earth, and it is only one of four major Basilicas in Rome. The other three are, Saint Paul's Outside the Walls, Saint John Lateran, and Saint Mary Major. There are several minor Basilicas as well, such as Saint Lawrence Outside the Walls. The Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington D.C. is the largest Church in the United States.

There is no other non-Catholic Christian denomination that even comes close to the sheer size, number, and beauty of Catholic Churches. This is in spite of the documented facts that King Henry VIII, Luther, Calvin and other reformers, confiscated Catholic Churches, and Protestantism still holds many of them today.

100.

We know by its Incredible Diversity. There is no other organization on earth which can match the Catholic Church in this respect, with so many Classes from kings to peasants, so many Nationalities, so many Cultures, so many Races, so many Customs, and so many Languages and Dialects. All of these variances are blended together everywhere, seamlessly, in the Catholic Mass. It is the same the world over. How can this be explained other than it is the work of GOD?

The Catholic Church certainly has fulfilled the commands given to her, the Bride, by her Originator, Founder, and Bridegroom, the Lord Jesus Christ in:

Matthew 28:19-20, Mark 16:15, Luke 24:46-49, John 21:15-17, and Acts 1:8.

We know from the Incredible Numbers of the Faithful who Flock to see the Holy Father, the Pope, no matter where in the world he visits. The numbers range from the hundreds of thousands into the millions every time. There is such an outpouring of love for him, the world over. When he visited the Philippines, they numbered 5 million in Manila, in Paris 3 million, and in Rome in August 2000, the largest gathering ever in Italy, estimated to be 2.5 to 3 million.

102.

We know because the Tiny Seed, the Acorn of the Primitive Catholic Church, planted by Jesus Christ and nurtured by the Apostles and their Successors, did Grow into the magnificent and majestic oak tree, which is the Catholic Church of today.

"The Kingdom of Heaven (the Church which Jesus Christ founded) is like a grain of mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field. This indeed is the smallest of all of the seeds; but when it grows up it is larger than any herb and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and dwell in its branches."

Matthew 13:31-32

We do not begin life in an adult stage, but slowly evolve from an infant, while gaining in knowledge and strength, over time.

Likewise, for the Church, as previously noted:

It takes many centuries to unpack the treasures and mysteries of Divine Revelation.

"I have planted, Apollos watered, but GOD has given the growth."

1Corinthians 3:6

The oak tree has all of the qualities of the acorn, but the acorn does not have all the qualities of the oak tree.

We know by the Incredible Openness of the Catholic Church.

"Therefore do not be afraid of them. For there is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, and nothing hidden that will not be made known."

Matthew 10:26

Archives and historical records regarding the Catholic Church are readily available for all to see. They can be researched by anyone through the Catholic Encyclopedia, University Libraries, even The Catholic Church invites anyone and everyone to peruse and research this vast wealth of information. There are literally thousands and thousands of documents made available for public use ranging from the first century until now.

If you wish to learn what the Catholic Church teaches, to whom do you go?

If you wish to buy a new Ford, do you go to a Chevrolet dealer? What is the Chevrolet dealer going to tell you about Fords? You will not learn the truth about them, that's for sure.

Why then do Protestants fail to go to the source, the Catholic Church itself, to learn the truth of what it teaches? Why do they, instead, listen to detractors bad mouthing it, and then believe what they have heard or read, without ever going to the source to research for themselves as to which side is telling the truth? The writings of the Church Fathers are a veritable gold mine of information of the history of Christianity. I find their writings to be most fascinating reading. Errors of the past are revealed. The truth of the teachings of Christ are made manifest. Why would anyone want to repeat the mistakes of the past? However, some Protestants will never read what the Fathers had to say, simply because they are told not to do so by others in their church.

What a pity. What a waste!

104.

We know because, in addition to the Holy Bible, the Church has given to us the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC). This comprehensive work contains the teaching of the Church for all to see. It has fast become one of the most sought after references ever written. It is for Catholics and non-Catholics alike. When someone wishes to know what the Catholic Church teaches, then they should go only to the source of that teaching and purchase a Catholic Catechism. It makes no sense at all to go to a non-Catholic source to find out what the Catholic Church teaches. Would you go to a Ford dealer to learn about Chevrolets? What would they tell you if you did? What would non-Catholics tell you about the Catholic Church?

We know because the Catholic Church Has the Answers and Can Back Them With Documents.

I have provided hundreds of Bible verses and references of official documents to back up what I have said in this file, and through the links which I have provided. The Vatican Archives contain the largest collection of authentic Christian documentation in the world.

When detractors make false charges against the Catholic Church, I always ask for their documents to "prove" their charges. Not surprisingly, they never seem to have any. However, Catholics can provide them with many historical and contemporary documents to back up what they have said. Truth can always be backed up by authentic documentation, false charges cannot.

106.

We know because of the Religious Freedom of the Catholic Church.

Have you noticed in the Gospels, that Jesus Christ never did argue with anyone who disagreed with His teaching? One of the best examples of this is in the Gospel of John. The Jews (representing us) did not agree with His teaching of His "True Presence" in the Holy Eucharist. They revolted, as in John 6:66 (666?) and simply walked away from Him. Did He call them back? No, as he would have let them all go as He said in John 6:67, "Will you also go away?".

The Catholic Church also follows in the footsteps of its founder by saying the same, "Here is the Truth. If you cannot accept it, then so be it."

We are all admonished to seek the truth, and if we refuse to do so, then we will have all eternity to pay for it.

"...but wrath and indignation to those who are contentious, and who do NOT submit to the truth but assent to iniquity."

Romans 2:8

"Wherefore, put away lying and speak truth each one with his neighbor, because we are members of one another."

Ephesians 4:25

"...And there shall not enter into it (heaven) anything defiled, nor he who practices abomination and falsehood, but those only who are written in the book of life of the Lamb."

Revelation 21:27

There you have it. Each of us is obligated to seek the truth for ourselves. That is the meaning of Religious Freedom, and is the teaching of the Catholic Church.

When I wanted to know what Protestant and Cultic denominations taught, I obtained their materials, Baptist, Seventh Day Adventist, Mormon, Jehovah Witness, etc, and I read from the source what they taught. I had the freedom in my Church to do that.

However, many denominations tell their flocks that their doctrines are the only truth, and they are cautioned not to read material from other churches, by using the excuse that,

"You will become corrupted, you must believe what we say and not seek elsewhere."

This is nothing but mind control, and it certainly is not Religious Freedom.

We are all looking for the True Church and when we have found it:

"You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

John 8:32

If you deny the truth, then you will perish. See 2Thess 2:9-12

Do you have the freedom in your church to search for the truth, or are you trapped in a mind control situation where you must believe they tell you, and read only their own materials?

Do you have Religious Freedom as we have in the Catholic Church?

107.

We know because of the Ecumenical Efforts of the Catholic Church to Unite All Christianity into One, in obedience of the words of Jesus Christ.

"And other sheep I have that are not of this fold. Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice, AND THERE SHALL BE ONE FOLD AND ONE SHEPHERD."

John 10:16

It cannot be denied that the Church has been reaching out to all of our separated brethren in an effort to bring all of Christianity together.

One only has to look at the scores of trips Pope John Paul II has made all over the world in the name of unity. He has reached out to Orthodox, Protestants, Jews, Islam, and others.

Have you noticed any non-Catholic Church attempting to do the same?

---

108.

We know because The Holy Spirit Dwells Within the Catholic Church.

I have already shown that the Bible is a Catholic Book.

I have already shown that all of the Apostles and New Testament writers are Catholic.

Here is a verse for which the Apostles confirm the indwelling of the Holy Spirit:

"For THE HOLY SPIRIT AND WE HAVE DECIDED to lay no further burden upon you but this indispensable one..."

Acts 15:28

"And we are witnesses of these things, AND SO IS THE HOLY SPIRIT, WHOM GOD HAS GIVEN TO ALL WHO OBEY HIM."

Acts 5:32

"Now throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria the Church was in peace and was being built up, walking in fear of the Lord, AND IT WAS FILLED WITH THE CONSOLATION OF THE HOLY SPIRIT."

Acts 9:31

109.

We know because the Pillar and Foundation of Truth Has Said So. (Lumen Gentium I,8)

The Catholic Church cannot silence the truth, for if it did, it would be a sin of commission, nor can it stand by in silence when it sees error being dispensed, for that would be a sin of omission. World wide error was in fact dispensed, when the United Nations announced that all of the worlds religions are equal. The Church almost immediately responded with the document, Dominus Iesus,

"On The Unicity And Salvific Universality Of Jesus Christ And The Church".

Despite the fact that there was non-Catholic criticism of this document, there is nothing new in it but a re-iteration of what the Church has always taught.

It is a simple thing to ask, "What would Jesus Christ do in this situation?"

He would most certainly speak out, as many New Testament verses attest that He did just that when He saw error. By its very actions, the Catholic Church follows in the footsteps of its Holy founder, by its imitation of Christ.

110.

We know because, "Just as there is One Christ, so There Exists a Single Body of Christ: a Single Catholic and Apostolic Church."*

**Dominus Iesus*

Using our intellect and common sense, it stands to reason that there is only one GOD, and in Him there is only One Church, which teaches only One truth, and has only One Baptism.

"One body and one Spirit, even as you were called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one Baptism; one GOD and Father of all, who is above all, and throughout all, and in us all."

Ephesians 4:4-6

111.

We know because it is a simple matter of using Common Sense and Our Human Reasoning Ability. Some people try very hard to complicate the Word of GOD, but it is in reality very simple. Jesus Christ founded one Church in Matthew 16:18, as pointed out many times in this file. Today, there are over 36,400 churches which call themselves "Christian", and all teach something different from one another. Our common sense and human reasoning should tell us, "How can this be, since Jesus Christ taught one truth?" Consequently, common sense should be telling us that there can be only one Christian Church which teaches all truth. By the simple process of elimination, we can determine which is the true church. Ask yourself:

A. Can my church be traced all the way back to the time of Christ? If not, how can it be the true Church?

B. Does my church fit the pattern of the primitive Church of the Apostles? It had better, or it is definitely not the true Church.

C. Can I trace an unbroken line of the succession of teaching authority, the Bishops, all the way back to the beginning of the Church which Jesus Christ founded?

D. Can my Church be found in authentic written documents in every century from the time of Christ until now?

E. Did my church decide which books of the Bible are the Bible?

Common sense questions such as these should be asked and answered by all of us.

How many of us are able to answer all of the above questions with a resounding, "Yes"?

How many of us are compelled to answer "No" to all of them?

Using common sense and reasoning to the questions eliminates all Christian churches, save one.

Unfortunately, it appears that common sense is not so common anymore.

112.

We know because it is the Catholic Church Which is the Most Outspoken Defender of Morality in this worldwide immoral society in which we live today.

"Woe to you that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter."

Isaiah 5:20

"But know this, that in the last days dangerous times will come. Men will be lovers of self, covetous, haughty, proud, blasphemers disobedient to parents, ungrateful, criminal, heartless, faithless, slanderers, incontinent, merciless, unkind, treacherous, stubborn, puffed up with pride, loving pleasure more than GOD, having a semblance indeed of piety, but disowning its power.

Avoid these. For of such are they who make their way into houses and captivate silly women who are sin-laden and led away by various lusts: ever learning yet never gaining knowledge of the truth."

2Timothy 3:1-7, Confraternity.

Does this sound familiar? I would say the 'last days of dangerous times' are upon us now, wouldn't you? Holy Scripture is telling us something. It is giving us a wake-up call. Are we listening?

The Church which Jesus Christ founded is listening.

Who is the "Voice of One Crying in the Wilderness" of today? (Isaiah 40:3, Matthew 3:3)

Listen, and you will hear that it is the Catholic Church.

We know from the Profound Humility demonstrated by the Catholic Church for the past actions of some of its members, by issuing an Apology to GOD. Once again, the Catholic Church demonstrated that it follows the teaching of Jesus Christ, by not only saying, but by practicing: "For everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled, and he who humbles himself shall be exalted". Luke 14:11

Has anyone ever heard of a non-Catholic church making such an apology for sins of its members?

115.

We know because the Catholic Church is Based on Faith, and Not on Feelings.

How many times have you heard someone say, I go to this church because it is cool, or it has such lively music, or for the fellowship, or for the children's activities, or for the minister as he does not talk about hell or the devil? Jesus Christ founded a Church which would serve GOD, and GOD alone, and not ourselves, and certainly not our feelings, or to tickle our senses.

You cannot connect spirituality to emotions.

116.

We know because history has shown that When an Anti-Christian Society Threatens Christianity, People Turn to the Catholic Church as their Refuge. This is but one reason why the Church has perdured for so many centuries longer than any other Christian organization on earth. In the anti-GOD society in which we live today, it is no wonder that the Catholic Church is experiencing an increasingly rapid influx of New Catholics.

During the battle of Lepanto in 1571, Christians fled to the Catholic Church, and prayed the rosary in conjunction with the Pope. This resulted in a great victory over the Muslims for the vastly outnumbered Christians.

During World War II, approximately 800,000 Jews fled to the safety of the Vatican and were sheltered there at great risk to the Catholic Church. Due to the efforts of the Church, they were subsequently saved from Nazi extermination.

The fall of Communism, predicted by the Blessed Virgin Mary at Fatima in 1917, was brought about as a result of a Polish union leader soliciting the aid of the Polish Pope of the Catholic Church.

117.

We know because in His infinite wisdom and goodness, GOD Can Bring Something Good Out of Something Evil. This is easily seen when the greatest evil ever conceived, the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ, was turned into the greatest good, the salvation of all mankind.

The greatest man-made evil of that time was centered in Rome, and was the tyrannical Roman Empire. The great evil Roman Empire collapsed and fell in 476 A.D., after an existence that spanned just over 500 years.

Now the center of all Christianity, the Catholic Church, is seated in Vatican City, which is surrounded by Rome. Is it just a Coincidence that the ruins of the seat of the old Roman Empire are within walking distance of Saint Peter's Basilica, the largest Church in Christendom, and that the great dome of St. Peter's can be seen from these same ruins?

Or is it part of GOD's plan?

"Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good."

Romans 12:21.

Is it just another coincidence that this verse is from the Epistle to the Romans?

---

118.

We know because the very center of all Christianity, the Catholic Church, is Situated in its Very Own City-State, the Vatican, in the Heart of what once was Pagan Rome, but is now Christian Rome.

The Catholic Church also is represented in the United Nations as an observer and sovereign state.

Jesus Christ said, "...but you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you shall be witnesses for Me in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and even to the very ends of the earth."

Acts 1:8

The Catholic Church is certainly the witness for Jesus Christ, "to the very ends of the earth", as it witnesses for Him before all of the nations on the earth in the United Nations.

Name a non-Catholic Christian church which has such representation?

---

119.

We know because the Catholic Church Commands Leadership of Christianity for the Whole World.

When the Holy See releases important documents there is intense interest from every sector. Non-Catholics as well as Catholics analyze every word and discussions abound, both pro and con. This is evidenced with the release of Dominus Iesus, on September 5, 2000. The rhetoric continued for weeks in all circles and the document was reported and dissected by the secular press around the world. The interest and attention given to this document, as was to many others, was monumental despite the fact that this document is just a re-iteration of what the Church has always taught for almost 2000 years.

120.

We know because It is only the Catholic Church which Proclaims and Celebrates Jubilee Years.

"Seven weeks of years shall you count, seven times seven years, so that the seven cycles amount to forty-nine years. Then on the tenth day of the seventh month let the trumpet resound; on this, the Day of Atonement, the trumpet blast shall re-echo throughout your land. This fiftieth year you shall make sacred by proclaiming liberty in the land for all its inhabitants. It shall be a JUBILEE for you..."
Leviticus 25:8-10.

Read Leviticus 25:11-54 and 27:17-24 also, for what takes place during a Jubilee year.

The timing of a Jubilee year is shown in Leviticus 25:8-10 and is echoed in Ezechiel 40:1.

Ezechiel chapters 40-47 describe the rebuilding of Jerusalem, and the temple, which are symbolic of the Church. Ezechiel chapter 47 describes an issuing of waters from the temple (2-5) which covers the land. This is symbolic of the graces which flow from GOD in a Jubilee year. The water flows to a cultural desert east of Jerusalem and into the Dead Sea (8) bringing life to something that was dead. (Note! This paragraph is a partial summary of a talk given by Fr. Mitch Pacwa, Nov 2000)

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me because He has anointed me; to bring good news to the poor He has sent me, to proclaim the captives release, and sight to the blind; to set at liberty the oppressed, to proclaim the Acceptable Year of the Lord, and the Day of Recompense (Jubilee)."

Luke 4:18-19

In these two verses, Jesus quoted Isaiah 61:1-2 which is about what is supposed to happen in a Jubilee year.

Non-Catholic Christian churches do not proclaim Jubilee Years.

However, the Catholic Church alone, continues to do so.

---

121.

We know because of the Mountain of Circumstantial Evidence Which Points Directly To the Catholic Church.

Jesus Christ founded only one Church as was pointed out before in Matthew 16:18.

In Matthew 28:20, Jesus Christ promised He would be with His Church every day in every century, and this means with no gaps in time whatsoever. There is only one Christian Church which can show it even existed in the first century and which still exists to this very day.

The Catholic Church has a multitude of genuine written records going all the way back to the time of the Apostles, and in which the Church is mentioned by name hundreds of times. It has a library much more extensive than has any other church, so much so, that scholars from all over the world and from many religions search its archives.

The Catholic Church has records of the succession of the Popes from the first one, St. Peter, to its present Pope.

Here are just a couple of examples of the weight of archaeological evidence alone that is sufficient to point to the Catholic Church. They are, St. Peter's tomb found under the main altar in St Peter's Basilica in Rome, and the finding of parts of all seven Deuterocanonical books in the Qumran library of the Dead Sea Scrolls. These seven books were removed from the Bible by Martin Luther in the 16th century.

There is not another church on earth which can match this abundance of evidence and from so many different sources, from Holy Scripture, to Historical Archives, to Archeology, and more.

123.

We know because we can sum up the Catholic Church into one word. It is simply AWESOME.

Unlike most non-Catholic churches, when you enter a Catholic Church, you immediately become aware that it truly is The House of GOD, and not just a plain looking hall or barn-like building. It is Awesome in its beauty. It is Awesome in its Liturgy. It is most sublime. There is a feeling of Divine Presence, a feeling of Holiness that is not found anywhere else.

From the humblest church building to the majestic Cathedrals, and even when Mass is celebrated under the trees or stars, the Divine Presence is felt. This incredible awesomeness staggers the mind, as we accept the Creator in His creation, and in His Church, and we are in humble subjection to His Kingdom on earth, for we are that Kingdom.

124.

*We know because When Jesus Christ speaks, the Catholic Church listens.

How many others do not listen?

When He says, "He who has ears to hear, let him hear" (Matthew 11:15), His Church hears.

**He founded one Church only by using the singular "Church", and not churches in Matthew 16:18.*

How many say He founded all of the thousands of different non-Catholic churches?

**He commanded all of us to hear His One Church (singular), (Matthew 18:17).*

Do all Christians obey this command?

**He commanded through the Apostles that whoever does not receive them, or listen to their words, (the word of His Church), go forth outside that house or town and shake the dust off their feet.*

(Matthew 10:14) Again, how many do not listen to His Church?

**He told His Apostles that he who hears them, hears Him, and he who rejects them rejects Him, and he who rejects Him, rejects He who sent Him (Luke 10:16). Jesus did not leave this world devoid of His voice, and His voice is the Catholic Church. Do you listen to His Catholic Church, or do you reject Him? You have only these two choices.*

**He commanded through St. Paul that the Church is the Pillar and Foundation of the Truth, (1Timothy 3:15). How many deny this command and say it is the Bible and not the Church?*

**He commanded through St. Paul that we must obey our superiors and to be subject to them (Hebrews* 13:17). Did the founder of Protestantism, Martin Luther, and the others who broke away during the reformation obey this command?

**He promised that He would be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time, (Matthew 28:20). How many deny His promise and say He left His Church shortly after the last book of the Bible was written, or that His Church left Him?*

**He promised that the Gates of Hell would not prevail against His Church (Matthew 16:18). How many say the gates of hell did prevail?*

**He said, "I tell you and you do not believe", (John 10:25).*

How many do not believe Him when He said, "This IS My Body" in Matthew 26:26 or, "Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink His blood, you have no life in you", in John 6:53?

The Catholic Church heard His words and believed and practices them. How many do not believe His words, but say He was only speaking symbolically? Again, I say, show me the symbolism?

**He said that he who is not with him is against Him, and he who does not gather with Him scatters (Matthew 12:30). What did He mean by this? He meant, as He prayed for in John 10:16, "...and there shall be One fold and One Shepherd." The Catholic Church hears her Founder and heeds His Word by trying to unite all Christians into One fold, while non-Catholics keep dividing the Body of Christ into ever smaller pieces.*

"He who is of GOD hears the words of GOD. The reason why you do not hear is that you are not of GOD." John 8:47

Since I have shown that the Catholic Church hears the words of her founder, Jesus Christ, then she is of GOD.

He said, "Everyone who is of the truth hears My voice". John 18:37

There again, the Catholic Church hears His voice, so it is of the truth, as Holy Scripture confirms in 1 Timothy 3:15.

Does your church comply with what I have listed here?

"HE WHO DOES NOT BELIEVE THE SON, MAKES HIM A LIAR..."

1 JOHN 5:10

125.

How do we know? In a nutshell!

Here is a summary of what we have learned so far about the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

It was prefigured by Old Testament prophets.

It has a Holy Founder in Jesus Christ.

It was built upon the Rock of Peter and the foundation of the Apostles.

God guaranteed that the Gates of Hell would not prevail against it.

Jesus Christ said it would last forever, as He would be with it always.

*The Church venerates the Saints who have done so much for it.
The Mother of GOD is also the Mother of the Church. John 19:26-27
It has all seven Sacraments.
It treats marriage as a Sacrament.
It has an annulment procedure.
It has many varied Devotions.
It can be found by its name, the Catholic Church, in thousands of early writings.
It can be shown from these same writings that it is the same Church which Jesus Christ founded.
It houses the remains of all of the Apostles and Gospel writers.
It is the New Jerusalem.
It is our Mother Church.
It has withstood the ravages of thousands of detractors and heretics from its very foundation.
It has performed many successful exorcisms.
It is unbending and unmovable in its pro-life stance.
It has scores of separate services of help. 1Corinthians 12:28
It preaches the Word of GOD to the entire world through E.W.T.N. and other resources.
It tries to unite all of Christianity into one fold.
It has incredible openness.
It has provided us with a comprehensive catechism.
It has a vast influx of intellectuals.
It has had a spectacular growth, with over one billion Catholics in the world now.
It has the Holy Spirit dwelling within it.

A message from Bishop Fulton J. Sheen...

"If I were not a Catholic, and were looking for the true Church in the world today, I would look for the one Church which did not get along well with the world; in other words, I would look for the Church which the world hates. My reason for doing this would be, that if Christ is in any one of the churches in the world today, He must still be hated as He was when He was on earth in the flesh. If you would find Christ today, then find the Church that does not get along with the world. Look for the Church which is hated by the world, as Christ was hated by the world. Look for the Church which is accused of being behind the times, as Our Lord was accused of being ignorant and of never having learned. Look for the Church which men sneer at as socially inferior, as they sneered at Our Lord because He came from Nazareth. Look for the Church which is accused of having a devil, as Our Lord was accused of being possessed by Beelzebub, the Prince of Devils. Look for the Church which, in seasons of bigotry, men say must be destroyed in the name of GOD as men crucified Christ and thought they had done a service to GOD. Look for the Church which the world rejects because it claims it is infallible, as Pilate rejected Christ because He called Himself The Truth. Look for the Church which is rejected by the world as Our Lord was rejected by men. Look for the Church which amid the confusion of conflicting opinions, its members love as they love Christ, and respect its Voice as the very voice of its Founder, and the suspicion will grow, that if the Church is unpopular with the spirit of the world, then it is unworldly, and if it is unworldly, it is other-worldly. Since it is other-worldly it is infinitely loved and infinitely hated as was Christ Himself. But only that which is Divine can be infinitely hated and infinitely loved. Therefore the Church is Divine."

129.

We know because It is the Catholic Church Alone Which Does Not Conform to This World. It Conforms Instead to the Will of GOD.

It is criticized from all sectors for not bending to secular changes and worldly ideas. As pointed out previously, other ecclesial communities have "changed with the times" over and over again as secular pressures arise to allow contraception, abortion, divorce, etc.. They bend to the "will of the people" instead of holding fast to the will of GOD.

GOD never changes so why do they change their teaching with the times?

"My Kingdom is not of this world..." said Jesus Christ in John 18:36, and His Kingdom, as previously pointed out, is His Catholic Church.

"If you were of the world, the world would love what is its own. But BECAUSE YOU ARE NOT OF THE WORLD, BUT I HAVE CHOSEN YOU OUT OF THE WORLD, THEREFORE THE WORLD HATES YOU." John 15:19

"I have given them your word; and the world has hated them, BECAUSE THEY ARE NOT OF THE WORLD, EVEN AS I AM NOT OF THE WORLD. I do not pray that you take them out of the world, but that you keep them from evil. THEY ARE NOT OF THE WORLD, EVEN AS I AM NOT OF THE WORLD." John 17:14-16

Did you notice that in verses 14 and 16, Jesus Christ repeated Himself?

Why does anyone repeat himself? It is to drive home an important message.

The Catholic Church is not loved by many, simply because she listens to and heeds the words of her founder, Jesus Christ, instead of being swayed by secular opinions and pressures. The Catholic Church did indeed get the message.

As pointed out in the previous segment, since the Catholic Church is not worldly, therefore it is other-worldly. The Body of Christ is of the same world as is the Head of Christ.

---

130.

We know because It is the Catholic Church Alone Which is the Unbending and Unmovable Fortress Against the Three Greatest Temptations of Mankind: The World, The Flesh, and The Devil.

1. Against the world, as pointed out in the previous segment, that it does not conform to worldly pressures to change to worldly ideas, but instead, it holds to the commands of Jesus Christ.
  2. Against the flesh, because it holds to the highest moral standards of any institution on earth.
  3. Against the Devil, because, who else performs exorcisms of Satan and of his demons if it is not the Catholic Church?

131.

We know from the fact that Detractors Have Not, and Will Never be Able to Show That the Catholic Church is NOT the Church which Jesus Christ Founded. There is simply too much documented historical evidence against them, for which I have already listed numerous examples. Every Christian church can be traced back to a named human person founder, that is, all except for one, and that ONE is the true Church which the Divine person of Jesus Christ founded.

---

132.

We know because Those who Make False Charges Against the Catholic Church Never Have Official Documented Proof of What They Charge. Always ask the detractor for official documents of what they charge and you will find that they have none, or at best a quote or a footnote from another detractor, who in turn had no proof of what he said.

Non Catholic detractors make all sorts of false charges against the Catholic Church trying to prove or disprove this or that. I am forced to point out to these people what Holy Scripture has to say about being Truthful at all times, and the dire consequences they will face if they persist in spreading lies and in calumnizing the Church. Read what happens to liars in Revelation 21:27.

A. They charge that the Catholic Church apostatized soon after it was formed and therefore the Church of today is not the same Church as the original Church.

Immediately, they have called Jesus Christ a liar (1John 5:10), for He promised to be with His Church forever, as in Matthew 28:20. They called Him a liar again by inferring that the gates of hell did prevail against His Church in Matthew 16:18.

If the detractors think what they say is true, then have them explain why the historians of Christianity, the Church Fathers, in all of their thousands of writings, had not once mentioned even a hint of such a "monumental event"? It would seem that the Church which Jesus Christ founded, by going into apostasy, would be the biggest, most news worthy event since the resurrection. Ask them to provide you with the documents which "prove" what they charge, or to retract the charge.

B. They charge that "since I cannot find it in the Bible, it simply did not happen and is therefore not to be believed, or does not exist". Ask them to show you in the Bible where it says, "everything is in it"? They cannot do it, as nowhere in Holy Scripture does it say that. It does, however, say that "everything is NOT in it". See John 20:30-31 and John 21:25.

How can these people believe in the Trinity, or the Incarnation, or even the Bible itself, since none of these words can be found between its covers? How can they equally believe in the things I have previously shown, since none of them can be found in Holy Scripture either? Anyone who fails to look for documents outside of the Bible, will never have the full truth, and Half Truths are no truth at all.

C. They try in vain to "prove" that Peter was never given Primacy over the other Apostles, and thus could not have been the first Pope. The evidence they supply is simply so flimsy that it is non-existent. They point out that it was James who presided over the Council of Jerusalem (Acts 15:13-21). James was the Bishop of Jerusalem, but the detractors of Peter ignore Acts 15:7, where Peter said, "GOD made choice among us that through MY MOUTH the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe". Who made the choice? GOD did. The evidence that Peter did in fact receive primacy is overwhelming. Read the link above for a plenitude of evidence that Peter, was indeed given Primacy, by the Father, by the Son, and by Holy Scripture.

D. They attack Peter again by saying that never was he in Rome, and thus could not have been the first Pope. Ask them to show you the documentation to "prove" what they charge. They will simply reply that "they cannot find it in the Bible". See "B" above. Once again, there are scores of Church Father writings attesting to the fact that Peter was indeed in Rome, and in fact he was crucified there in 67 A.D.. That fact is also in recorded secular history writings of the time. However, as I have said before, the detractors simply refuse to read the documented history of Christianity before the reformation.

I ask this question of those who deny that the Catholic Church is the Church which Jesus Christ founded:

"Since He founded only One Church, as Scripture clearly shows in Matthew 16:18, and since He guaranteed the Perpetuality of that Church in the same verse and in so many other verses, then please tell me the name of the Church which He did found? After all, it must still be here and it must have a name, isn't that true?"

I have never received a serious answer to that question.

133.

We know because Catholics can easily show that Many Non-Catholic Sects do NOT Follow the Teaching of GOD in Holy Scripture. Their preachings and teachings of hatred for the Catholic Church echo what Satan, the enemy of GOD and His Church, would say, not what GOD has said. This includes some large mainline denominations as well.

We are all GOD's children, and Jesus Christ left us with just two commandments. We must love GOD and we must love our neighbor. Our neighbor is EVERYONE.

"Thou shall love the Lord thy GOD with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with thy whole mind. This is the greatest and the first commandment. And the second is like it, THOU SHALL LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF."

Matthew 22:37-39

"For the whole law is fulfilled in one word: YOU SHALL LOVE YOUR NEIGHBOR AS YOURSELF."

Galatians 5:14

"If you love Me, keep My commandments."

John 14:15

Anyone who says he loves GOD but hates his neighbor is a hypocrite, a liar, and a heretic. The Catholic Church is the people within it, not the buildings. When you attack the Church, you attack the Body of Christ which are the members of it (Romans 12:5). A malicious attack on the Church is an attack on the Body, and whatever happens to the Body is registered in the Head.

Why then, do some non-Catholic sects attack the Catholic Church with these malicious lies?

* The Catholic Church was founded by Satan.

Where are your documents to prove this? Didn't you read about Exorcisms above?

* The Catholic Church is not the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Prove this with documents?

Also please name the Church that He did found...with documents please?

* The Catholic Church apostatized at the time of Constantine.

Prove this baseless charge with genuine historical documents. Those who charge this are calling Jesus Christ a liar (1John 5:10), as He promised the gates of hell would not prevail against His Church (Matthew 16:18), and He promised He would be with His Church forever (Matthew 28:20).

* The Catholic Church is the whore of Babylon.

Detractors mistranslate this from Revelation 17:9, "...seven mountains upon which the woman sits...". They say it is Rome, the seat of the Vatican. However, if any of them had ever been to Rome, they would have easily seen that Rome has seven low hills, not mountains, and all seven are across the Tiber River from the Vatican.

When you hear this from a non-Catholic just smile and say, "Thank you very much for confirming that the Catholic Church is the true Church which Jesus Christ founded, for you are doing exactly what Jesus Christ said you would do."

"It is enough for the disciple to be like his teacher, and for the servant to be like his master. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, HOW MUCH MORE THOSE OF HIS HOUSEHOLD!"

Matthew 10:25

* The Pope is the beast of 666.

Show me your documented proof? Of course, there never is any.

*The Pope has engraved on his miter, "Vicar of the Son of GOD".

This title adds up to 666 in Roman numerals, but unfortunately for those who say this, it was never one of his titles. This is a 'twist' on "Vicar of Christ", which is one of his titles, but, alas, it does not add up to 666. Satan has his fingerprints all over this one.

* All Catholics are going to hell.

Tell me, "How do you know who is going to hell, and who isn't"? Does GOD tell you?

What about those who do not keep GOD's commandment to love thy neighbor? Where do they go?

Whatever happened to, "Judge not lest you be judged" (Luke 6:37)?

These are but a few of the false charges made against the Catholic Church by people who call themselves "Christians".

Why do some in other denominations say these things?

They try to justify their existence by calumnizing the Church which Jesus Christ founded. It was part of the plan of the reformers. If you break from the Church of truth, what justification can you possibly show for doing so? There can be only one truth, so the only other recourse is to try to show error. If the proofs of error are not to be found, then invent some. Thus the invention becomes a lie.

Interestingly, all of these false charges melt away when the detractors are asked for authentic historical documentation of the charges they make against the Catholic Church. The only "documentation" they have, is simply a writing from another calumnizer of the Church.

I do not have to name these other churches as I am sure everyone knows which ones they are. Be it known that those who say these things are not obedient to GOD and do not follow Holy Scripture.

*"A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, nor can a bad tree bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Therefore, by their fruits you will know them."
Matthew 7:18-20*

People who propagate these lies, bear bad fruit, and so stand convicted out of their own mouths. There can be only one conclusion drawn as to why some continually attack the Catholic Church in spite of GOD's command to "Love Thy Neighbor". It is obvious that their hatred of the Catholic Church is greater than their love for GOD.

I invite all detractors to drop the attacks against the Catholic Church, that is, if they are true followers of Jesus Christ, and to put their efforts towards obeying the Word of the Lord instead.

134.

*We know because No one can find a verse in Holy Scripture which gives authority to any person to found another church other than the ONE which Jesus Christ founded.

Since non-Catholic ecclesial communities are all Bible based and believe in the man made doctrine of Sola Scriptura, how then can they continue to split the Body of Christ into smaller and smaller pieces if Scripture does not give them any authority to do so?

135.

*We know because Not One Non-Catholic Church can show, by any means, that it was Founded by Jesus Christ.

I have sent this file to militant non-Catholics and I have asked them to refute it and to show me just ONE PROOF that their church was founded by Jesus Christ, and they simply cannot do it.

Not one can:

- *Trace their origin back to the time of the Apostles.*
- *Claim the Apostles as belonging to their church.*
- *Show that they have a valid Priesthood.*

We know because of the Lack of Historicity of Non-Catholic Churches.

They disregard genuine historical documents from the time of the writing of the Book of Revelation, around 90-95 A.D., until the reformation beginning in 1517. This is an historical gap of over 1400 years, from which they draw almost a total blank. There are literally thousands of historical writings available which cover this 1400 year period. There are hundreds of authentic historical writers during this same period which are ignored. How can over 1400 years of genuine historical documents be ignored by anyone who, in good conscience, is searching for the truth?

137.

We know because Non-Catholic Ecclesial Communities are Either Imploding, or Dividing at Ever Increasing Rates, whereas at the same time, the Catholic Church is Experiencing Outstanding Phenomenal Growth.

In the summer of 2000, the Southern Baptists split yet again, this time over the ordination of women, and that women should be submissive to their husbands.

The Methodists split because of an "Unholy Union" (they called it a 'holy union') administered between two females, which was approved by a Methodist Bishop and about 65 ministers.

Recently, in my area, an independent community split in half because of a doctrinal dispute.

The Anglican church is in deep trouble ever since they approved the ordination of women in the early 1990's. Since then, they have lost more than 1200 priests and Bishops, and many lay people, in conversions to the Catholic Church. This is just one reason, out of many, for the recent rapid growth of the Catholic Church.

The Lutheran Church underwent turmoil in February 2001, because an admitted homosexual was ordained to the priesthood. Is there yet another division brewing here?

However, Catholics can easily name those who founded the non-Catholic Christian churches. They were mere men and woman, and they are undeniably recorded in the history books. ## 139.

We know the Catholic Church is the True Church because Satanists, the enemies of God in total hatred, mock the Catholic Church only, not the Reformed churches. They mock the Consecrated Holy Eucharist, the Blessed Virgin Mary, and anything Catholics proclaim Holy. Isn't it strange that they always try to steal Holy Eucharists in order to desecrate them in their demonic black masses? They know without question, that it is the true presence of their arch enemy, the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ.

I know that in my own parish, some have seen them trying to conceal the Holy Eucharist on their person without consuming it, and then they attempt to leave the Mass. We follow them and retrieve Jesus. Children have been paid to perform these abominations, so they can deliver the Eucharistic Host to the Satanists for their diabolical deeds against it. The Satanists believe their acts against the Holy Eucharist are true because they know it really is Jesus Christ. They want to hurt Our Lord and they believe this is the way to do it. We all have to be on constant watch to insure that this does not happen. During Eucharistic Adoration, there is always a loyal Catholic present during the time of exposition, to guard against it being stolen and removed from the Church. If a person or demon did not know what it was, then why would they try to steal it?

A better proof there could not be.

The devil knows very well the truth of the True Presence, even though non-Catholics deny it.

"Now in the synagogue there was a man possessed by an unclean devil, and he cried out with a loud voice, saying, 'LET US ALONE! WHAT HAVE WE TO DO WITH YOU, JESUS OF NAZARETH? HAVE YOU COME TO DESTROY US? I KNOW YOU, WHO YOU ARE, THE HOLY ONE OF GOD'."

Luke 4:33-34

Another man with an unclean spirit:

"...and crying out with a loud voice he said, 'What have I to do with you, JESUS, SON OF THE MOST HIGH GOD? I adjure you by GOD, do not torment me!' For He was saying to him, 'Go out of the man, you unclean spirit'."

Mark 5:7-8

"You believe that there is one GOD. You do well. THE DEVILS ALSO BELIEVE AND TREMBLE."
James 2:19

Have you ever heard of Satanists breaking into a non-Catholic Church in order to steal something which was considered holy by non-Catholics?

---

We know from the merciless Persecution Against the Catholic Church, from within and from without, since its inception. These Persecutions were foretold by Jesus Christ Himself, in Matthew 5:11-12, Luke 6:26, and in many other verses. These attacks were from the very beginning, and started with the Jews. Look what happened to them instead! Jerusalem and the temple were destroyed and every Jewish priest was slain by the Romans in 70 A.D.. Judaism was almost completely destroyed. Then came the Romans who burned Christians at the stake and fed them to the lions. They, in turn, and their empire with them were destroyed in 476 A.D.. Then came the Nestorians, Arians, Vandals, Moslems, Waldenses, Albigensians, Catharists, Protestantism, the French Revolution, Modernism, Nazism, Communism, Dissidents, and now Secular Humanism, Fundamentalism, Relativism, Indifferentism, and Hedonism. There are many more heretical groups and beliefs which are not listed here.

"There is not enough time in the day for me to recite even the names of all the various sects of heretics."

Saint Ambrose of Milan, The Mystery of the Lord's Incarnation, 5,35, 382 A.D.

Those who take pleasure in kicking "The Rock", have never learned that all they will ever accomplish is to hurt their own foot.

They never learned either, that those who are ignorant of history are prone to repeat its mistakes.

Where are all of these attackers today? Most are gone, some of the others are splintered so badly that they are practically impotent, and some are still with us temporarily. There will always be new ones popping up, like weeds amongst the wheat. After all, you cannot have a rose without a thorn.

"...And at harvest time I will say to the reapers: gather up the weeds first and bind them in bundles to burn; but gather the wheat into My barn."

Matthew 13:30

"It is an unhappy ending for those who attack the Catholic Church."

Saint Robert Bellarmine 1542-1621

"This Church is Holy, the One Church, the True Church, the Catholic Church, fighting as she does against all heresies. She can fight, but she cannot be beaten. All heresies are expelled from her, like the useless loppings pruned from a vine. She remains fixed in her root, in her vine, in her love. The gates of hell shall not conquer her."

Saint Augustine of Hippo, Sermon to Catechumens, on the Creed, 6,14, 395 A.D.

After all of this, where is the Catholic Church today?

The Catholic Church is still here, still very much viable, still preaching and teaching the truth of Jesus Christ, as it has been doing for almost 2000 years, and... it is still growing. GOD has won. Satan has lost.

*With all of this against it, how on earth did the Catholic Church ever survive for almost two millennia?
The answer to that one is easy, as Holy Scripture gives us the answers...*

"Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am your GOD. I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of My Just One hath upheld thee. Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded (split into 36,400 pieces maybe?) and ashamed, they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

"And they shall fight against thee, and shall not prevail, for I am with thee, said the Lord, to deliver thee."

Jeremiah 1:19

*Did you not know that Jesus Christ is the savior of His Body the Church?
"... just as Christ is head of the Church, being himself savior of the body."*

Ephesians 5:23

So...

"If GOD is for us, who is against us?"

Romans 8:31

What force on earth would give you trepidation, if the Lord of Lords, and the King of Kings is with you?

Doctrinal Development...

---

Some non-Catholics make it a practice to accuse the Catholic Church of continuously "inventing non-Biblical new doctrine". This is yet another false charge made by those, "...who deride what they do not understand...", 2Peter 2:12.

---

Doctrinal development is the on going teaching by the Holy Spirit to the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, the Catholic Church. Holy Scripture makes this abundantly clear:

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

John 16:12-13

These are powerful verses. We must examine them closely. Did you notice the futuristic tone in them? The word "will" indicates an emerging and ongoing process and with not a hint of an ending, and how many times was it repeated in just those two verses?

The first sentence implies that knowledge cannot come all at once, but slowly over time, simply because the wonders of GOD cannot be digested all at once by our puny human minds.

The last part is self explanatory when it says, "things that are to come", obviously more future tense.

Here is more on the all important second sentence which clearly says that the Holy Spirit will guide the Church into all the truth. That statement excludes tens of thousands of churches simply because truth is one. Only one Church could possibly have all the truth. All of the rest are teaching only their "opinion" of what is the truth. Personal opinion are not guidance by the Holy Spirit. If all of the thousands of Christian churches were in possession of all of the truth, then isn't it just plain common sense that there would be only one Church? Just look around and compare these various sects. One says we must worship on Saturday, another says, no, it is Sunday. One baptizes infants, another says you can't do that. One ordains women, another says that is not Biblical. I could fill many pages of different teachings of the thousands of sects, but I think you must see my point.

Thus, Holy Scripture, the Word of Jesus Christ Himself, has clearly laid the foundation for greater understanding of revealed truth over time.

"To me, the very least of all the holy ones, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the inscrutable riches of Christ, and to bring to light (for all) what is the plan of the mystery hidden from ages past in God who created all things, so that the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known through the Church to the principalities and authorities in the heavens. This was according to the eternal purpose that he accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord, in whom we have boldness of speech and confidence of access through faith in him."

Ephesians 3:8-12

Scripture is clear that it is the Church which Jesus Christ founded which dispenses the truth of GOD.

There are many levels of learning and proper interpretation of Scripture. One of the most important tools are the "senses" of Scripture. In order to properly interpret Scripture, we first must determine which sense of interpretation we will be using.

There is first, the literal interpretation, and then the spiritual interpretation, and more yet. Each sense is further broken down into sub categories. Non-Catholics generally interpret the whole Bible literally, except for John Chapter 6 (which many of them claim to be figurative or symbolic), and pay little attention to the other senses for the most part. So, many verses have several meanings depending upon the sense being used for interpretation. This is where the Pope and the Magisterium enter under the divine guidance of the Holy Spirit to interpret the deeper meanings of these verses. For example, non-Catholic Protestants, Fundamentalists, Evangelicals, etc., reject the doctrine of Purgatory simply because they cannot literally find the word in scripture, yet there are many verses in Scripture which point to Purgatory explicitly in literal and other senses, even though the word itself is not written. The same is true for the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The same people reject it because they cannot see it literally, but yet it is there implicitly in Scripture. Much doctrinal development comes from Apostolic tradition which has been passed down and preserved by the Catholic Church for almost 2000 years. Reformists rejected Apostolic tradition, by failing to separate it from man-made tradition. It is literally and explicitly stated in Scripture that we are to hold to the Apostolic traditions in many verses such as in 2Thessalonians 2:15, "So then, brethren, stand firm, and hold the teachings that you have learned, whether by word or by letter of ours."

The "word of ours" can mean nothing other than Apostolic Tradition. Church Apostolic tradition is Catholic, and when the Protestants broke from the Church in the Reformation, they could not take Catholic Church traditions with them so they have tried to condemn them. However, they did take the Catholic Bible with them, and promptly mutilated it by removing seven books which had been part of the canon for over 1100 years. By removing the Books of Maccabees, they cut themselves off from a very good verse in support of Purgatory in 2Maccabees 12:46. These books were removed by one man who had absolutely no authority whatsoever to do so. Martin Luther was that man and it was his opinion that Purgatory did not exist. I must point out that a personal opinion may have absolutely no bearing whatsoever on doctrinal truth.

Here is a sample of "Doctrinal Development", and it is straight from Holy Scripture:

In Acts 15:1-28, read of a decision which was made by the first Pope (Peter) and the other Apostles (together with Peter were the early Magisterium), in conjunction with the guidance of the Holy Spirit (verse 28). This was the very first Church Council, the Council of Jerusalem and was held in about 50 A.D..

There was literally nothing written in Scripture, and thus no Scriptural guidance regarding the question of mandatory circumcision for gentiles. By the process of "doctrinal development" a decision was made by those who had the authority.

Here is another example:

Find the word "Trinity" in Scripture. It is not there literally just like purgatory, but it is there nevertheless. The Trinity was defined by the same process of "doctrinal development" as used in the Council of Jerusalem, in the Catholic Council of Nicea in 325. This was well over two centuries after the last book of the New Testament was written. So if those who make this false charge believe in the Holy Trinity, how then can they reject "doctrinal development", the process which gave that title to them? In doing so, they would have to admit that they would be forced to reject the title "Trinity" as well.

Here are a few more examples:

For those who deny the process of "Doctrinal Development", ask yourselves these questions:

Do you believe that Jesus Christ is GOD?

This doctrine was defined at the Catholic Council of Nicea in 325.

Do you believe Jesus Christ is one person with two natures?

This was defined at the Catholic Council of Chalcedon in 451.

Do you believe that the Holy Spirit to be consubstantial with the Father and the Son?
This was defined at the Catholic Council of Constantinople in 381.

All of the above are results of "Doctrinal Development" as performed by the Catholic Church.

So there is nothing "new" in doctrinal development as enacted by the Catholic Church. It is simply a deeper understanding of what has previously been revealed by divine revelation. An acorn containing divine public revelation, called the 'deposit of faith', and left by GOD and His Holy Word to the primitive Church which Jesus Christ founded, has been undergoing an "unpacking" process by that same Church for the past 2000 years. That acorn has now grown into a large and beautiful oak tree, the Catholic Church. The unpacking process will continue indefinitely. See John 16:12-15. The last prophet of public divine revelation was Jesus Christ and there will be no new public revelation revealed after Him.

See Hebrews 1:1-2.

"In giving us His Son, His only Word (for He possesses no other), He spoke everything to us at once in this sole Word, and He has no more to say... because what He spoke before to the prophets in parts, He has now spoken all at once by giving us the 'All Who is His Son'. Any person questioning GOD or desiring some vision or revelation would be guilty not only of foolish behavior but also of offending Him, by not fixing his eyes entirely upon Christ and by living with the desire for some other novelty." St. John of the Cross, The Ascent of Mount Carmel, 2,22,3-5.

---

So doctrinal development is an on going learning process, and no doubt will continue until Christ comes again. Some theologians have postulated that it will go on forever, for the mysteries of an infinite GOD are also infinite. We must realize that the deeper we go into Scriptural understanding, the deeper we can go. It is likened to a bottomless ocean.

Non-Catholics reject doctrinal development simply because they know little or nothing of the various senses of Scripture, and they do not have the proper "rock foundation" upon which to build, which is the Pope and the Magisterium, and most importantly the teaching of the Holy Spirit to provide divine guidance.

"A Christian man is Catholic while he lives in the body; cut off, he is made a heretic; the Spirit does not follow an amputated member."

Saint Augustine, Sermons, 267:4, 400 A.D., Jurgens 1523...

One of my favorite verses for those who reject the doctrines of Catholic teaching is 2Peter 2:12,
"But these men, like irrational animals created by nature for capture DERIDE WHAT THEY DO NOT UNDERSTAND, AND WILL PERISH IN THEIR OWN CORRUPTION."

The Kingdom of GOD is the Catholic Church!

---

Why did Jesus Christ become Incarnate in the first place? Was it to leave us with a book, or to establish a Church? Well, in this verse He told us one of the reasons why:

"But He said to them, "To the other towns also I must PROCLAIM THE KINGDOM OF GOD, FOR THIS IS WHY I HAVE BEEN SENT"."

Luke 4:43

"For the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost."

Luke 19:10

And how are we, who are the lost ones, to be saved? It is through the Church which He founded.

"Therefore, if you harken to My voice and keep My covenant, you shall be My special possession, dearer to Me than all other people, though all the earth is mine. YOU SHALL BECOME A KINGDOM OF PRIESTS, A HOLY NATION."

Exodus 19:5-6

"You, however, are a chosen race, A ROYAL PRIESTHOOD, A HOLY NATION, A PURCHASED PEOPLE; that you may proclaim the perfections of Him who has called you out of darkness into His marvelous light."

1Peter 2:9

---

The Kingdom of GOD will last forever:

"And when your days shall be fulfilled and you shall sleep with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, which shall proceed out of your bowels, and I WILL ESTABLISH HIS KINGDOM. HE SHALL BUILD A HOUSE TO MY NAME, AND I WILL ESTABLISH THE THRONE OF HIS KINGDOM FOREVER...AND YOUR HOUSE SHALL BE FAITHFUL, AND YOUR KINGDOM FOREVER BEFORE YOUR FACE AND YOUR THRONE SHALL BE FIRM FOREVER."

2Samuel 7:13, 16

"And among my sons (for the Lord has given me many sons) he has chosen Solomon my son, to sit upon the THRONE OF THE KINGDOM OF THE LORD OVER ISRAEL. And He said to me: Solomon My son SHALL BUILD MY HOUSE AND MY COURTS, FOR I HAVE CHOSEN HIM TO BE MY SON, AND I WILL BE A FATHER TO HIM."

1Chronicles 28:5-6

So Solomon will sit on the throne of the Kingdom of GOD, an earthly kingdom, clearly a type of the Church which will be manifested in the New Testament.

"He shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his Kingdom: to establish it and strengthen it with judgment and with justice, FROM HENCEFORTH AND FOREVER."

Isaiah 9:7

"He shall be great, and be called the Son of the Most High; and the Lord GOD will give Him the throne of David His father, and He shall be King over the House of Jacob forever; and OF HIS KINGDOM THERE SHALL BE NO END."

Luke 1:32-33

And He said, "To what shall we liken the Kingdom of GOD; or to what parable shall we compare it?"

It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when sown upon the earth, is the smallest of all seeds upon the earth; yet when it is sown, it grows up and becomes larger than any herb, and puts out great branches, so that the birds of the air can dwell beneath its shade."

Mark 4:30-32. See also, Mark 4:26-29.

This is a clear analogy of the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

"But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of GOD, then the Kingdom of GOD has come upon you."

Matthew 12:28. See also, Luke 11:20.

Note: Saint Matthew normally used the term Kingdom of Heaven instead of Kingdom of GOD, as his Gospel was addressed to the Jews and they were forbidden to even say the Name of GOD.

"And I will give you the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; and whatever you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Matthew 16:19

Keys are a symbol of Authority as shown in Isaiah 22:20-24, and of the Primacy of the one receiving them. Also notice the earthly connotation denoting that the Kingdom of Heaven is here on earth.

"The Son of Man will send forth his angels, and they will gather OUT OF HIS KINGDOM all scandals and those who work iniquity."

Matthew 13:41

Since there are no scandals or workers of iniquity in heaven, His Kingdom has to be an earthly kingdom.

"Amen I say to you, there are some of those standing here who will not taste death, till they have seen the Son of Man coming in His Kingdom."

Matthew 16:28

Obviously all of those He spoke to died, so His Kingdom had to be that of His Church on earth.

"But woe to you, Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because YOU SHUT THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN AGAINST MEN. FOR YOU YOURSELVES DO NOT GO IN, NOR DO YOU ALLOW THOSE GOING IN TO ENTER."

Matthew 23:13

Did the Scribes and Pharisees have any control over a heavenly kingdom? It had to be earthly.

"And I appoint to you a Kingdom even as My Father has appointed to Me."

Luke 22:29

Jesus passed His Kingdom to His Apostles.

"Then comes the end, when He delivers the Kingdom to GOD the Father, when He does away with all sovereignty, authority and power."

1Corinthians 15:24

Obviously the Kingdom of GOD is not heaven, as this verse tells us.

"He has rescued us from the power of darkness and transferred us into the Kingdom of His Beloved Son, in whom we have our redemption, the remission of our sins."

Colossians 1:13-14

We have the remission of sins through the Sacrament of Reconciliation in the Catholic Church.

---

The Church is the "Sons of the Kingdom, the good seed".

Matthew 13:38

The Church is the "Key of Knowledge", taken by heretics, from those seeking to enter the Kingdom.
Matthew 23:13, Luke 11:52

The scribes learned from the Kingdom of Heaven, the Church, and brought forth things both new and old,
Matthew 13:52

The Church is the "Kingdom which cannot be shaken",
Hebrews 12:28

"But in the days of those kingdoms the GOD of heaven will set up a Kingdom THAT SHALL NEVER BE DESTROYED, and His Kingdom SHALL NOT BE DELIVERED UP TO ANOTHER PEOPLE; AND IT SHALL BREAK IN PIECES, AND SHALL CONSUME ALL THESE KINGDOMS, AND ITSELF SHALL STAND FOREVER."

Daniel 2:44

Saint Paul had fellow workers who were members of the Kingdom of GOD,
Colossians 4:11

The Whole Box of Pieces to the Puzzle...

---

And only the Catholic Church has all of the Pieces.

---

What puzzle?

Well, for a start...

The picture puzzle of the story of the Bible. You cannot sit down and read the Bible as you would a novel. You would not understand it. Think of the Bible as a giant jigsaw puzzle with thousands of interlocking pieces. Each piece is somewhere in the box but not necessarily touching the next piece to fit with it. You have to assemble the puzzle piece by piece by examining each piece to see where it fits. One piece fits nicely in Genesis while the piece next to it might be in Deuteronomy. Another fits in Isaiah, and its partner is in Matthew, and so on. It is a huge puzzle and it takes a long time to put it together. Some people never manage to complete it as they find pieces missing here and there. They never get to see the whole picture that GOD has planned for us.

---

How do some pieces of Scripture end up missing?

1. They get thrown away.

For instance some say, "I cannot find the piece about Purgatory in my Bible that says pray for the dead." It is because someone threw away the Bible book that described it, 2Maccabees. Catholics have all those pieces since their Bible has always had all 73 of the inspired books.

2. They are ignored.

For instance, huge pieces of their puzzle are missing because they ignore such key pieces as, "So then, brethren, stand firm and hold the traditions that you have learned, whether by WORD or by letter of ours, 2Thess 2:15. Look at all of the hundreds of pieces of tradition which are ignored here. Catholics have all those pieces.

3. They are misinterpreted.

For example, in other Churches it is every man for himself in Bible interpretation. Baptists are not Methodists because of differences in Bible interpretation. Presbyterians are not Lutherans for the same reason, and so on. Why else are there 39,000 splits in the body of Christ in Protestantism? Catholics have all of these pieces also, as they are united in only one interpretation of the Bible. This is given to us by the Pope in conjunction with the Magisterium, which consists of thousands of Bishops who have impeccable credentials, and all of which are guided by the Holy Spirit.

4. They are taken out of context.

For example, in other Churches they invariably take 2Tim 3:16-17 out of context to try and 'prove' the false doctrine of Sola Scriptura, or the Bible only is sufficient.

Catholics do not take the verses out of context and for this particular example, when taken in context, these verses mean just the opposite of what the other Churches teach.

---

---

What puzzle?

Why the puzzle of the Church which Jesus Christ founded. In order to find out which Church it is, it is a simple matter to make comparisons with many churches. What does Scripture say? Caution, make sure you have all of the pieces of Scripture beforehand.

---

How do some pieces of the Church end up missing?

Scripture says Christ's Church will last even unto the consummation of the world, Isa 59:21, Matt 16:18, Matt 28:20, John 14:16-17. The Catholic Church has been around for almost 2000 years and we can prove it. How old is your church? Can you trace it all the way back to Christ? Name another church which comes even close to a 2000 year age?

---

Scripture says Christ's Church is the Church which has the authority, Matt 18:17-18, John 14:16-17, Eph 1:22-23, Eph 3:10,21, Eph 5:23-24, 1Tim 3:15. Who had the authority to decide which books were inspired, and which were not, in both the Old and the New Testaments of the Bible? Can any other Church besides the Catholic Church claim authority?

---

Scripture says Christ's Church has Priests, Matt 9:38, Tit 1:5, Heb 7 all, Heb 9:6. The Catholic Church has Priests. Does yours?

---

Scripture says Christ's Church has Deacons, Phil 1:1, 1Tim 3:8-13. The Catholic Church has Deacons. Does yours?

---

Scripture says Christ's Church has Bishops, Acts 20:28, Phil 1:1, 1Tim 3:1-7, Tit 1:5-9. The Catholic Church has Bishops. Does yours?

---

Scripture says Christ's Church has seven Sacraments. Does your church have all seven?

1. Baptism, Matt 28:18-20, Mark 16:15-16, John 3:1-5, Acts 8:26-39, Rom 6:3-4, Eph 4:4-7. The Catholic Church has Baptism, does yours?

The Catholic Church Stands Alone!

---

---

---

---

For centuries in the Christian world, all were united in one faith, the Catholic Church. Then came along the "reformation" and splits in the Body of Christ. With it came many changes in teaching by the various Christian sects. Some of these teachings, especially in the 20th century, seem to be poll driven, just like our very own civil government. Their "teachings" are based on public opinion, not on truth. The "teaching" of the day among some of these non-Catholic sects seems to be based on the "let us oil the squeaking wheel" policy. I must remind you that private opinions do not change the truth one iota. However, the "Pillar and Foundation of Truth", the Catholic Church (1Tim 3:15), is unmoving in this respect. She and she alone stands up against the world in teaching the truth, as commanded by Jesus Christ Himself. In so doing, she comes under great criticism by many who have found worldly things to be their real god. How then, can the "Pillar of Truth" teach nothing but the truth?

"Have I then become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?"

Galatians 4:16

---

---

Some prime examples...

1. The Catholic Church alone upholds the canon of Holy Scripture as consisting of 73 books. The canon of both testaments was finalized in three Catholic Church councils over 1000 years before Martin Luther was even born. These 73 books were in the first Bible containing a New Testament, the Latin Vulgate, by Saint Jerome. The Catholic Church uses all 73 of these books even to today.

The reformers removed seven of these books, reducing their number to 66. They completely ignored the many verses in the Bible warning against adding or removing from the Word of GOD. Deut 4:2, Deut 11:32,13:1, Psa 12:7,33:4,50:16-17,107:10-11,119:57,139-140, Prov 5:7,30:5-6, Jer 23:36, Gal 1:8, 1Pet 1:24-25, 2Pet 3:15-16, and of course the verses we are all familiar with, Rev 22:18-20. Scores of other verses regarding traditions handed down from generation to generation, and ignored by the reformers, can be added to this list also.

The Catholic Church stands alone in preserving the Canon of both the Old and New Testaments as defined by Councils which were guided by the Holy Spirit.

Galatians 4:16...

---

2. Contraception is strictly against the teaching of Holy Scripture.

See what happened to Onan in Gen 38:9-10.

Christ cursed the fig tree because it bore no fruit in Matt 21:19, and Mark 11:13-14.

See also Gal 5:16-21 and Rev 9:21 and 21:8.

For the most part, all Christian religions were in agreement on this issue, then in the early 1930's, one Protestant sect broke from the ranks and declared that contraception was morally sound. Soon the other Protestant sects followed.

The Catholic Church stands alone in condemning contraception as being immoral. Please read 'Humanae Vitae' on this website under the 'Contraception' caption. This hauntingly prophetic and very beautifully written Encyclical released by Pope Paul VI in 1968, condemns contraception and gives dire warning of the consequences if this practice is allowed to continue. The consequences have come true just as the Pope said they would in 1968. See paragraph 17 of this document.

Galatians 4:16

---

3. The homosexual act is condemned in so many places in the Bible.

Please read Lev 18:22-30,20:13, Rom 1:23-32, and 1Cor 6:9-11.

The Catholic Church condemns the act but not the person. Now many Protestant Churches have broken ranks and have condoned the act itself by condoning "Holy Unions" between people of the same sex.

The Catholic Church stands mostly alone in fiercely condemning the act. In so doing, there has been much retaliation against the Church from various groups. Disney and their subsidiaries have released numerous anti-Catholic movies and TV shows. Many of these depict priests and nuns as being homosexual.

GALATIANS 4:16

---

4. Abortion is rampant. One reason is that it is a result of wide spread use of contraceptives. This grave sin against humanity has many Bible verses condemning it. Deut 30:19,32:39, Psa 22:10-11, Isa 1:15-21, Jer 1:5,31:15, Matt 2:17-18, are but a few.

The Catholic Church in its very outspoken condemnation of abortion is practically standing alone on this issue. Read the Didache 2:2 elsewhere on this website as well as "Abortion, Legalized Murder".

Galatians 4:16

---

5. Divorce and remarriage is forbidden by Jesus Christ himself in Matt 5:31-32,19:3-10, Mark 10:10-12, and Luke 16:18. See also Rom 7:1-3 and 1Cor 7:1-40. Many non-Catholic sects condone divorce and remarriage.

The Catholic Church stands alone in the condemnation of divorce and remarriage in cases where there was a valid marriage in the first place. See the file "Annulments", found elsewhere on this website.

Galatians 4:16

---

6. Ordination of women is anti-Biblical. There are many Bible verses contrary to this practice. Christ chose no woman to be an Apostle. "For the law appoints as priests MEN who are weak..." Heb 7:28.

There are several verses against women speaking in Church, 1Cor 14:34-35, and 1Tim 2:11-12. See also Judges 17:10 and 18:19.

Regardless of what Scripture says, there are many non-Catholic sects who are ordaining women as ministers. There is a female Methodist minister in the same town as my Church. In the Anglican Church, the Bishops voted for the ordination of women. This caused an outflow of Bishops and priests from that Church. On November 11, 1992, Episcopal Bishops voted to ordain women and that caused an outflow of priests from that Church also.

The Catholic Church stands alone in refusing the ordination of women. The Catholic Church has no authority to allow this. That authority has to come from GOD. As a result, the Catholic Church has been chastised by feminist groups all over the world.

Galatians 4:16

---

"Have I then become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?"

The Imperishable Catholic Church...

In 2Samuel, GOD prefigured the Church which the "Seed of David", Jesus Christ will found.

"And when your days shall be fulfilled and you shall sleep with your fathers, I will raise up your seed after you, which shall proceed out of your bowels, and I will establish His kingdom. He shall build a house to my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever."

2Samuel 7:12-13

---

"They shall be cursed that shall despise you; and they shall be condemned that shall blaspheme you; and blessed shall they be that shall build you up."

Tobit 13:16

---

Isaiah, who so accurately predicted many things about Jesus Christ, including the details of His passion in Isaiah 53, also foretold, equally as accurate, details of the Church which Jesus Christ would set up.

"No weapon that is formed against you shall prosper; and every tongue that resists you in judgment, you shall condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the Lord, and their justice with me, said the Lord."

Isaiah 54:17

---

"This is my covenant with them, said the Lord: My Spirit that is in you, and the words that I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, nor out of the mouth of your seed, nor out of the mouth of your seed's seed, said the Lord, from henceforth and forever."

Isaiah 59:21

This is a clearly stated guarantee of the perpetuity and orthodoxy of the Catholic Church.

---

Jeremiah had this to say, one short example out of many.

"And I will gather together the remnant of My flock, out of all the lands into which I have cast them out; and I will make them return to their own fields, and they shall increase and be multiplied. And I will set up pastors over them, and they shall feed them: they shall fear no more, and they shall not be dismayed, and none shall be wanting of their number, said the Lord."

Jeremiah 3:15, 23:3-4

---

Daniel had some things to say also.

"But in the days of those kingdoms the GOD of heaven will set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed, and His kingdom shall not be delivered up to another people; and it shall break in pieces, and shall consume all these kingdoms, and itself shall stand forever."

Daniel 2:44

"It is decreed by me, that in all my empire and my kingdom all men dread and fear the GOD of Daniel. For he is the living and eternal GOD forever; and his kingdom shall not be destroyed, and his power shall be forever."

Daniel 6:26

"And He gave him power, and glory, and a kingdom, and all peoples, tribes and tongues shall serve Him. His power is an everlasting power that shall not be taken away, and his kingdom shall not be destroyed."

Daniel 7:14

---

Micah added to the prophecies.

"And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the house of the Lord shall be prepared in the top of the mountains, and high above the hills, and people shall flow to it. And many nations shall come in haste, and say: Come, let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the GOD of Jacob, and he will teach us his ways, and we will walk in his paths, for the law shall go forth out of Zion, and the word of the Lord out of Jerusalem."

Micah 4:1-2

---

Zechariah wrote this:

"Thus said the Lord of Hosts: I am returned to Zion, and I will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem; and Jerusalem shall be called the city of truth, and the mountain of the Lord of Hosts, the sanctified mountain."

Zechariah 8:3

Jerusalem here is of course the New Jerusalem. It is the Catholic Church which is the "City of Truth", and the "Mountain of the Lord of Hosts".

Haggai wrote this:

"And I will move all nations, and the desired of all nations shall come; and I will fill his house with glory, said the Lord of Hosts. The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, said the Lord of Hosts. Great shall be the glory of this last house more than of the first, said the Lord of Hosts; and in this place I will give peace, said the Lord of Hosts."

Haggai 2:8-10

The "Desired of all Nations" could only mean Jesus Christ, and the Church He will build is the "Last House", the indefectible Catholic Church, greater in glory than what it replaced. It is the Church which will last until the end of the world (Matthew 16:18, 28:20, Ephesians 3:21).

---

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD."

Acts 5:38-39

Isn't this the reason why the Catholic Church has lasted for almost 2000 years?

---

"Let them be ashamed and troubled forever and let them be confounded and perish."

Psalms 83:18

Read all of Psalms 83 as it relates what will happen to the enemies of GOD's Church.

---

"And I say to you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

Clearly, Jesus said he will build one Church only, and it will not be destroyed from within or from without. Why then, do some insist the gates did prevail by saying the Church apostatized soon after the last Apostle died? Do they call Jesus a liar by saying these things?

---

"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and behold, I am with you all days, even until the consummation of the world."

Matthew 28:20

Jesus could not have said it any plainer that he would be with his Church every day, in every century, until the end of time. Why then do some deny his words by saying his Church apostatized shortly after the last Apostle died? Aren't they again calling him a liar? See 1John 5:10.

---

"And I will ask the Father and He will give you another advocate to dwell with you forever."

John 14:16

Forever sounds like a very long time to me. Why then do some insist it is not true? Did the Holy Spirit leave the Church which Jesus Christ founded? Did Jesus lie yet again?

---

"To Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus down through all the ages of time without end."

Ephesians 3:21

Doesn't this say that the Church which Jesus Christ founded will last forever?

---

How on earth did the Catholic Church ever survive for almost two millennia? The answer to that one is easy, as Holy Scripture gives us the answers...

---

"Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am your GOD. I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of My Just One hath upheld thee.

Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded* and ashamed, they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

Isaias 41:10-11

*The World Christian Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication, records that there were 38,000 non-Catholic Christian sects in the world as of April, 2006, a prime example of "confounding".

---

"And they shall fight against thee, and shall not prevail, for I am with thee, said the Lord, to deliver thee."

Jeremiah 1:19

"Do not be a stumbling-block to Jews and Greeks and to the Church of GOD."

1Corinthians 10:32

"Therefore, since we receive a kingdom that cannot be shaken, we have grace, through which we may offer pleasing service to GOD with fear and reverence."

Hebrews 12:28

Did you not know that Jesus Christ is the savior of His Body the Church?

"... just as Christ is head of the Church, being himself savior of the body."

Ephesians 5:23

"If GOD is for us, who is against us?"

Romans 8:31

Apostle died, aren't they denying all of those verses listed above which guarantee its perpetuality? Matthew 18:15-18 has said to appeal to the Church for the final authority. If the Church fell into error as some claim, then hasn't GOD deliberately deceived us by telling us to appeal to an apostate Church? 1Timothy 3:15 has told us that it is the Church which is the pillar and foundation of the truth. Aren't those who claim it fell into apostasy saying it is no longer so? Should we believe the words of Scripture, or mere humans who founded their own denominations without having any authority whatsoever from GOD to do so?

"This Church is holy, the one Church, the true Church, the Catholic Church, fighting as she does against all heresies. She can fight, but she cannot be beaten. All heresies are expelled from her, like the useless loppings pruned from a vine. She remains fixed in her root, in her vine, in her love. The gates of hell shall not conquer her."

"The Church, instituted by the Lord and confirmed by the Apostles, is one for all men; but the frantic folly of the diverse impious acts sects has cut them off from her. It cannot be denied that this tearing asunder of the faith has arisen from the defect of poor intelligence, which twists what is read to conform to its opinion, instead of adjusting its opinion to the meaning of what is read. However, while individual parties fight among themselves, the Church stands revealed not only by her own doctrines, but by those also of her adversaries. And although they are all arranged against her, she confutes the most wicked error which they all share, by the very fact that she is alone and One. All the heretics, therefore, come against the Church; but while all the heretics can conquer each other, they can win nothing for themselves. For their victory is the triumph of the Church over all of them. One heresy struggles against that teaching of another, which the faith of the Church has already condemned in the other heresy, - for there is nothing which the heretics hold in common, and the result is that they affirm our faith while fighting among themselves."

We know from the merciless Persecution Against the Catholic Church, from within and from without, since its inception. These Persecutions were foretold by Jesus Christ Himself, in Matthew 5:11-12, Luke 6:26, and in many other verses. These attacks were from the very beginning, and started with the Jews. Look what happened to them instead! Jerusalem and the temple were destroyed and every Jewish priest was slain by the Romans in 70 A.D.. Judaism was almost completely destroyed. Then came the Romans who burned Christians at the stake and fed them to the lions. They, in turn, and their empire with them were destroyed in 476 A.D.. Along came the Nestorians, Arians, Vandals, Moslems, Waldenses, Albigensians, Catharists, Protestantism, the French Revolution, Modernism, Nazism, Communism, Dissidents, and now Secular Humanism, Fundamentalism, Relativism, Indifferentism, and Hedonism. This only a small sampling, as there are many more heretical groups and beliefs throughout the centuries which are not listed here.

"There is not enough time in the day for me to recite even the names of all the various sects of heretics."

Saint Ambrose of Milan, The Mystery of the Lord's Incarnation, 5,35, 382 A.D.

---

---

In every century for almost 2000 years, heretics have been composing the epitaph of the Catholic Church, but instead of burying the Church, the Catholic Church has been burying the heretics.

●●● The Opulence of the Catholic Church. ●●●

---

The Catholic Church is so rich with treasure that it should sell it all and give the proceeds to the poor. This is what many non-Catholics have said about the many priceless artifacts which are on display in various Catholic Churches. My first thought would be to ask these people this question, "Well, have you sold all of your valuables and given all of the money to the poor?"

What does Holy Scripture have to say regarding the fact that GOD wants, and deserves, the very best?

The Lord said to Moses, "Speak to the people of Israel, that they take for me an offering; from every man whose heart makes him willing you shall receive the offering for me. And this is the offering which you shall receive from them: gold, silver, and bronze, blue and purple and scarlet stuff and fine twined linen, goats' hair, tanned rams' skins, goatskins, acacia wood, oil for the lamps, spices for the anointing oil and for the fragrant incense, onyx stones, and stones for setting, for the ephod and for the breastpiece.

And let them make me a sanctuary, that I may dwell in their midst. According to all that I show you concerning the pattern of the tabernacle, and of all its furniture, so you shall make it.

They shall make an ark of acacia wood; two cubits and a half shall be its length, a cubit and a half its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. And you shall overlay it with pure gold, within and without shall you overlay it, and you shall make upon it a molding of gold round about. And you shall cast four rings of gold for it and put them on its four feet, two rings on the one side of it, and two rings on the other side of it. You shall make poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with gold. And you shall put the poles into the rings on the sides of the ark, to carry the ark by them. The poles shall remain in the rings of the ark; they shall not be taken from it. And you shall put into the ark the testimony which I shall give you.

Then you shall make a mercy seat of pure gold; two cubits and a half shall be its length, and a cubit and a half its breadth. And you shall make two cherubim of gold; of hammered work shall you make them, on the two ends of the mercy seat. Make one cherub on the one end, and one cherub on the other end; of one piece with the mercy seat shall you make the cherubim on its two ends. The cherubim shall spread out their wings above, overshadowing the mercy seat with their wings, their faces one to another; toward the mercy seat shall the faces of the cherubim be. And you shall put the mercy seat on the top of the ark; and in the ark you shall put the testimony that I shall give you. There I will meet with you, and from above the mercy seat, from between the two cherubim that are upon the ark of the testimony, I will speak with you of all that I will give you in commandment for the people of Israel.

"And you shall make a table of acacia wood; two cubits shall be its length, a cubit its breadth, and a cubit and a half its height. You shall overlay it with pure gold, and make a molding of gold around it. And you shall make around it a frame a handbreadth wide, and a molding of gold around the frame. And you shall make for it four rings of gold, and fasten the rings to the four corners at its four legs. Close to the frame the rings shall lie, as holders for the poles to carry the table. You shall make the poles of acacia wood, and overlay them with gold, and the table shall be carried with these. And you shall make its plates and dishes for incense, and its flagons and bowls with which to pour libations; of pure gold you shall make them. And you shall set the bread of the Presence on the table before me always.

And you shall make a lampstand of pure gold. The base and the shaft of the lampstand shall be made of hammered work; its cups, its capitals, and its flowers shall be of one piece with it; and there shall be six branches going out of its sides, three branches of the lampstand out of one side of it and three branches of the lampstand out of the other side of it; three cups made like almonds, each with capital and flower, on one branch, and three cups made like almonds, each with capital and flower, on the other branch—so for the six branches going out of the lampstand; and on the lampstand itself four cups made like almonds, with their capitals and flowers, and a capital of one piece with it under each pair of the six branches going out from the lampstand. Their capitals and their branches shall be of one piece with it, the whole of it one piece of hammered work of pure gold. And you shall make the seven lamps for it; and the lamps shall be set up so as to give light upon the space in front of it. Its snuffers and their trays shall be of pure gold. Of a talent of pure gold shall it be made, with all these utensils. And see that you make them after the pattern for them, which is being shown you on the mountain."

Exodus 25:1-40

Here GOD gave specific instructions to Moses as to how His sanctuary was to be constructed.

How many times can you count that the word gold was used in this chapter?

Would you dare to accuse GOD of opulence also?

Please read Exodus chapters 26-30, for much more of the lavish details that GOD gave to Moses.

Isn't GOD the same yesterday, today and forever? Do you think He prefers the stark meeting hall looks of non-Catholic sects today instead of the great beauty of His house as instructed to Moses?

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

---

"Then all the congregation of the people of Israel departed from the presence of Moses. And they came, every one whose heart stirred him, and every one whose spirit moved him, and brought the Lord's offering to be used for the tent of meeting, and for all its service, and for the holy garments. So they came, both men and women; all who were of a willing heart brought brooches and earrings and signet rings and armlets, all sorts of gold objects, every man dedicating an offering of gold to the Lord. And every man with whom was found blue or purple or scarlet stuff or fine linen or goats' hair or tanned rams' skins or goatskins, brought them. Every one who could make an offering of silver or bronze brought it as the Lord's offering; and every man with whom was found acacia wood of any use in the work, brought it. And all women who had ability spun with their hands, and brought what they had spun in blue and purple and scarlet stuff and fine twined linen; all the women whose hearts were moved with ability spun the goats' hair. And the leaders brought onyx stones and stones to be set, for the ephod and for the breastpiece, and spices and oil for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the fragrant incense. All the men and women, the people of Israel, whose heart moved them to bring anything for the work which the Lord had commanded by Moses to be done, brought it as their freewill offering to the Lord."

Exodus 35:20-29

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

"And the Lord said to Moses, "Moreover you shall say to the Levites, 'When you take from the people of Israel the tithe which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then you shall present an offering from it to the Lord, a tithe of the tithe. And your offering shall be reckoned to you as though it were the grain of the threshing floor, and as the fulness of the wine press. So shall you also present an offering to the Lord from all your tithes, which you receive from the people of Israel; and from it you shall give the Lord's offering to Aaron the priest. Out of all the gifts to you, you shall present every offering due to the Lord, from all the best of them, giving the hallowed part from them. Therefore you shall say to them, 'When you have offered from it the best of it, then the rest shall be reckoned to the Levites as produce of the threshing floor, and as produce of the wine press; and you may eat it in any place, you and your households; for it is your reward in return for your service in the tent of meeting.'"

Numbers 18:25-31

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

"And we have brought the Lord's offering, what each man found, articles of gold, armlets and bracelets, signet rings, earrings, and beads, to make atonement for ourselves before the Lord." And Moses and Eleazar the priest received from them the gold, all wrought articles. And all the gold of the offering that they offered to the Lord, from the commanders of thousands and the commanders of hundreds, was sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels. (The men of war had taken booty, every man for himself.) And Moses and Eleazar the priest received the gold from the commanders of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tent of meeting, as a memorial for the people of Israel before the Lord."

Numbers 31:50-54

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

"And take the ark of the Lord and place it on the cart, and put in a box at its side the figures of gold, which you are returning to him as a guilt offering. Then send it off, and let it go its way."

1Samuel 6:8

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

"Saul said, "They have brought them from the Amalekites; for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, to sacrifice to the Lord your God; and the rest we have utterly destroyed."

1Samuel 15:15

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

"Mary took a pound of costly ointment of pure nard and anointed the feet of Jesus and wiped his feet with her hair; and the house was filled with the fragrance of the ointment. But Judas Iscariot, one of his disciples (he who was to betray him), said, "Why was this ointment not sold for three hundred denarii and given to the poor?" This he said, not that he cared for the poor but because he was a thief, and as he had the money box he used to take what was put into it. Jesus said,

"Let her alone, let her keep it for the day of my burial. The poor you always have with you, but you do not always have me."

John 12:3-8

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

" (9) Then came one of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues, and spoke to me, saying, "Come, I will show you the Bride, the wife of the Lamb." (10) And in the Spirit he carried me away to a great, high mountain, and showed me the holy city Jerusalem coming down out of heaven from God, (11) having the glory of God, its radiance like a most rare jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. (12) It had a great, high wall, with twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and on the gates the names of the twelve tribes of the sons of Israel were inscribed; (13) on the east three gates, on the north three gates, on the south three gates, and on the west three gates. (14) And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them the twelve names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb. (15) And he who talked to me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city and its gates and walls. (16) The city lies foursquare, its length the same as its breadth; and he measured the city with his rod, twelve thousand stadia; its length and breadth and height are equal. (17) He also measured its wall, a hundred and forty-four cubits by a man's measure, that is, an angel's. (18) The wall was built of jasper, while the city was pure gold, clear as glass. (19) The foundations of the wall of the city were adorned with every jewel; the first was jasper, the second sapphire, the third agate, the fourth emerald, (20) the fifth onyx, the sixth carnelian, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, the twelfth amethyst. (21) And the twelve gates were twelve pearls, each of the gates made of a single pearl, and the street of the city was pure gold, transparent as glass. (22) And I saw no temple in the city, for its temple is the Lord God the Almighty and the Lamb. (23) And the city has no need of sun or moon to shine upon it, for the glory of God is its light, and its lamp is the Lamb. (24) By its light shall the nations walk; and the kings of the earth shall bring their glory into it, (25) and its gates shall never be shut by day—and there shall be no night there; (26) they shall bring into it the glory and the honor of the nations. (27) But nothing unclean shall enter it, nor any one who practices abomination or falsehood, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life."

Revelation 21:9-27

Here Saint John described his vision of the Heavenly Jerusalem, the Church, which is analogous to the Bride, the wife of the Lamb (9). Just look at the riches in these verses, gold, pearls, precious jewels. How could anyone dare to claim that there is opulence within the House of GOD?

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

---

Apparently those who criticize the Catholic Church for being opulent, have not read the following verses, for in them GOD has said that He will fill His House with splendor, and His latter House will have greater splendor than the former:

"For thus says the LORD of hosts: Once again, in a little while, I will shake the heavens and the earth and the sea and the dry land; and I will shake all nations, so that the treasures of all nations shall come in, and I will fill this house with splendor, says the LORD of hosts. THE SILVER IS MINE, AND THE GOLD IS MINE, SAYS THE LORD OF HOSTS. THE LATTER SPLendor OF THIS HOUSE SHALL BE GREATER THAN THE FORMER, SAYS THE LORD OF HOSTS; and in this place I will give prosperity, says the LORD of hosts."

Haggai 2:6-9

There is only one Church on earth to which those verses point as a type of it.

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

---

"Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her, that he might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, that he might present the church to himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish. Ephesians 5:25-27

Does a church in "splendor" mean a practically bare meeting hall?

Not in my dictionary does it.

Many of the greatest artisans that the world has ever seen, dedicated their talents and years of their lives to doing GOD's work for the Church which Jesus Christ founded. We see that the great art, in all forms and shapes, not only comes to decorate our Churches and the Vatican, but it is a recognition of the artistic talents that God has given to a selected few. The art represents what the soul wants to manifest. Writers write. Photographers take pictures. Painters, sculptors, and architects do their own to manifest their faith. This art within the Catholic Faith has been an inspiration for many to seek the Lord. The Church has a responsibility to recognize the hands of the Lord in these great talents, and to preserve their testimonies of faith. They represent the real "splendor", the one that comes from the souls of the faithful. Every artist offers to God the best they have. When the Lord asked Moses to build the Tabernacle, He asked for the best, and He got it.

The Lord said to Moses, "See, I have called by name Bezalel the son of Uri, son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah: and I have filled him with the Spirit of God, with ability and intelligence, with knowledge and all craftsmanship, to devise artistic designs, to work in gold, silver, and bronze, in cutting stones for setting, and in carving wood, for work in every craft. And behold, I have appointed with him Oholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan; and I have given to all able men ability, that they may make all that I have commanded you: the tent of meeting, and the ark of the testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereon, and all the furnishings of the tent, the table and its utensils, and the pure lampstand with all its utensils, and the altar of incense, and the altar of burnt offering with all its utensils, and the laver and its base, and the finely worked garments, the holy garments for Aaron the priest and the garments of his sons, for their service as priests, and the anointing oil and the fragrant incense for the holy place. According to all that I have commanded you they shall do."

Exodus 31:1-11

See, it is GOD who chooses the artisans for His tabernacle and its contents, and he endowed them with the talents needed to produce to the very best of their abilities.

Isn't GOD the same yesterday, today and forever? Do you think He prefers the stark meeting hall looks of non-Catholic sects, instead of the great beauty of His house today in His Catholic Church?

There can be nothing less than the very best for GOD.

There is not another Christian Church in the world which can even come close to the splendor of the artistic beauty within the Catholic Church.

Where should such artistic beauty be found other than in the glory of the House of GOD?

---

Now, let us suppose that the Catholic Church had done from the beginning what the detractors charge that the Church should have done. Where would we be today?

Would the poor still be with us?

Yes! Have you already forgotten John 12:8?

Where would the priceless art treasures be today?

They would either be, (1) lost forever, or would be, (2) stored in warehouses, or would be, (3) in the homes of the very rich. In all three scenarios, they would be an incalculable loss to the great mass of humanity.

What would the Catholic Church look like today?

It would look like how many non-Catholic churches look today. There would be no beautiful stained glass, no magnificent art forms, no precious metals or jewels, and nothing to distinguish it as being the House of GOD, as compared to a dull, drab meeting hall. It would not at all resemble the beautiful Heavenly Jerusalem, the Bride of the Lamb, as described by Saint John.

And, besides all of the lack of beauty and the drabness of our churches, the poor will still always be with us as mentioned before.

So what would have been gained?

What would have been lost?

Christ did not found a Book. He founded a Teaching Church.

---

Nowhere in Scripture does it say that Jesus Christ wrote a book or commanded anyone else to write a Gospel. In fact the only place where it is recorded that He wrote anything at all, is in John 8:6-8. He wrote on the ground with His finger, and to this day, we do not even know what He wrote.

However, He did found a beautiful Church. He made her His Bride, and He made her a teaching Church.

His teaching Church had been in existence for over a decade before the first book of the New Testament was even written.

By the time Revelation, the last book of the Bible was written about 100 A.D., the Church was already on its fifth Pope.

---

"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and behold, I am with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world." Matt 28:19-20

---

*"And He said to them, "Go into the whole world and preach the Gospel to every creature.""
Mark 16:15*

---

*"Then He opened their minds that they might understand the Scriptures. And He said to them, "Thus it is written; and thus the Christ should suffer, and should rise again from the dead on the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem.""
Luke 24:45-46*

---

*"And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers..."
1Cor 12:28*

---

"How then are they to call upon Him in whom they have not believed? But how are they to believe Him whom they have not heard? And how are they to hear, if no one preaches? And how are men to preach unless they be sent?" Rom 10:14-15

---

*"Faith then depends on hearing, and hearing on the Word of Christ. But I say: have they not heard? Yes, indeed, Their voice has gone forth into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world."
Rom 10:17-18*

---

"He who hears you, hears Me..." Luke 10:16

---

*"Yes, to me, the very least of all saints, there was given this grace, to announce among the Gentiles the good tidings of the unfathomable riches of Christ, and to enlighten all men as to what is the dispensation of the mystery which has been hidden from eternity in GOD, who created all things; in order that through the Church there be made known to the Principalities and the Powers in the Heavens the manifold wisdom of GOD..." # See! It Is The Church!

---

What did Jesus Christ come down from heaven to found? Was it the Bible?
Or was it a teaching Church?

Jesus Christ founded a teaching Church:

"And he went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom and healing every disease and every infirmity among the people."
Matthew 4:23

"Whoever then relaxes one of the least of these commandments and teaches men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven; but he who does them and teaches them shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven."
Matthew 5:19

"And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every disease and every infirmity."
Matthew 9:35

"And when Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples, he went on from there to teach and preach in their cities."
Matthew 11:1

"And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the powers of death shall not prevail against it."
Matthew 16:18

"And when he entered the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came up to him as he was teaching, and said, "By what authority are you doing these things, and who gave you this authority?"
Matthew 21:23

And Jesus came and said to them, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, to the close of the age."
Matthew 28:18-20

"Again he began to teach beside the sea. And a very large crowd gathered about him, so that he got into a boat and sat in it on the sea; and the whole crowd was beside the sea on the land."
Mark 4:1

"And on the sabbath he began to teach in the synagogue; and many who heard him were astonished, saying, Where did this man get all this? What is the wisdom given to him?"
Mark 6:2

"And he marveled because of their unbelief. And he went about among the villages teaching."

Mark 6:6

"As he went ashore he saw a great throng, and he had compassion on them, because they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things."

Mark 6:34

And he said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

Mark 16:15

"And he called the twelve together and gave them power and authority over all demons and to cure diseases, and he sent them out to preach the kingdom of God and to heal. And he said to them, "Take nothing for your journey, no staff, nor bag, nor bread, nor money; and do not have two tunics. And whatever house you enter, stay there, and from there depart. And wherever they do not receive you, when you leave that town shake off the dust from your feet as a testimony against them." And they departed and went through the villages, preaching the gospel and healing everywhere."

Luke 9:1-6. See also Luke 10:1-12

"He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."

Luke 10:16. See also Luke 24:45-47

"And every day in the temple and at home they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ."

Acts 5:42

"But Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also."

Acts 15:35

"And he stayed a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them."

Acts 18:11

"And he lived there a whole two years at his own expense, and welcomed all who came to him, preaching the kingdom of God and teaching about the Lord Jesus Christ quite openly and unhindered."

Acts 28:31

"But how are men to call upon him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without a preacher? And how can men preach unless they are sent? As it is written, "How beautiful are the feet of those who preach good news!" But they have not all obeyed the gospel; for Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed what he has heard from us?" So faith comes from what is heard, and what is heard comes by the teaching of Christ. But I ask, have they not heard? Indeed they have; for "Their voice has gone out to all the earth, and their words to the ends of the world."

Romans 10:14-18

"Therefore I sent to you Timothy, my beloved and faithful child in the Lord, to remind you of my ways in Christ, as I teach them everywhere in every church."

1Corinthians 4:17

"Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it. And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then workers of miracles, then healers, helpers, administrators, speakers in various kinds of tongues."

1Corinthians 12:27-28

Notice that teachers are third most important, and are right behind Apostles and prophets in the plan of GOD. I do not see Bible writers mentioned here, do you?

"So with yourselves; since you are eager for manifestations of the Spirit, strive to excel in building up the church."

1Corinthians 14:12

"Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Or do we need, as some do, letters of recommendation to you, or from you? You yourselves are our letter of recommendation, written on your hearts, to be known and read by all men; and you show that you are a letter from Christ delivered by us, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts."

2Corinthians 3:1-3

"To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places."

Ephesians 3:8-10

"What you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, do; and the God of peace will be with you."

Philippians 4:9

"Him we proclaim, warning every man and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man mature in Christ."

Colossians 1:28

"Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly, teach and admonish one another in all wisdom, and sing psalms and hymns and spiritual songs with thankfulness in your hearts to God."

Colossians 3:16

"So then, brethren, stand firm and hold to the traditions which you were taught by us, either by word of mouth or by letter."

2Thessalonians 2:15

"Command and teach these things."

1Timothy 4:11

"Take heed to yourself and to your teaching; hold to that, for by so doing you will save both yourself and your hearers."

1Timothy 4:16

"Let the elders who rule well be considered worthy of double honor, especially those who labor in preaching and teaching;"

1Timothy 5:17

"Teach and urge these duties. If any one teaches otherwise and does not agree with the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ and the teaching which accords with godliness, he is puffed up with conceit, he knows nothing; he has a morbid craving for controversy and for disputes about words, which produce envy, dissension, slander, base suspicions, and wrangling among men who are depraved in mind and bereft of the truth, imagining that godliness is a means of gain. There is great gain in godliness with contentment;..."

1Timothy 6:2-6

"Hold to the form of sound teaching which you have heard from me, in the faith and love which are in Christ Jesus."

2Timothy 1:13

"You then, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus, and what you have heard from me before many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also."

2Timothy 2:1-2

"For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own likings, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander into myths. As for you, always be steady, endure suffering, do the work of an evangelist, fulfill your ministry."

2Timothy 4:3-5

"I write this to you about those who would deceive you; but the anointing which you received from him abides in you, and you have no need that any one should teach you; as his anointing teaches you about everything, and is true, and is no lie, just as it has taught you, abide in him."

1John 2:26-27

"We are of God. Whoever knows God listens to us, and he who is not of God does not listen to us. By this we know the spirit of truth and the spirit of error."

1John 4:6

"Though I have much to write to you, I would rather not use paper and ink, but I hope to come to see you and talk with you face to face, so that our joy may be complete."

2John 1:12. See also 3John 1:13 which says about the same.

See also Acts 16:4, 28:23-29, 1Cor 12:28, Eph 4:11

Where in Scripture did Jesus Christ command for anyone to write a Gospel?

See, Jesus Christ first founded a teaching Church, and that Church in turn provided the Bible.

See! It is a teaching Church that Jesus Christ founded!

---

Is it through the Bible, or through the Church that the Wisdom of GOD will be made known?

"Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace which was given me by the working of his power. To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; that through the Church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places." Ephesians 3:7-10

"He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who conquers I will grant to eat of the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God."

Revelation 2:7

This verse must be discerned very carefully...

Elucidation:

1. What churches are the 'churches' mentioned in this verse?

They are the churches which Jesus Christ commanded His Apostles to found,

"...and you shall be witness for me in Jerusalem (local) and in Samaria (spreading out) and even to the very ends of the earth (covering the whole world)", Acts 1:8.

2. It is the Holy Spirit speaking to those Churches who guides them in all truth, and with one authority, and with all of them teaching the same thing.

"For the Holy Spirit and we have decided to lay no further burdens upon you but this indispensable one...", Acts 15:28.

3. In this verse did Jesus Christ say to read the Bible, or did He say to listen to the churches?

How does the Bible answer that question?

Scripture said a lot about listening to His Church, but is silent in regards to reading the New Testament.

4. Now, why would anyone repeat himself? He does so to drive home a very important message, that is why.

Now go to Revelation 2:11, 2:17, 2:29, 3:6, 3:13, and 3:22, and you will see the first sentence of Revelation 2:7 repeated six more times. Have you gotten the message by now?

5. What is the message of the second sentence in some of these verses? Go back to each verse and read the verses before them to put the whole message in context. There were certain improprieties being committed by individuals in many of the seven churches and the letters are meant to correct them. For those who listen to the churches and overcome, there are great rewards, such as eternal life. For those who refuse to hear the Church, scripture speaks of imprisonment by the devil, or Christ will come to fight against them, or some other punishments.

What is the Pillar and Foundation of the Truth? Is it the Bible?

Then why does the Bible say it is the Church?

"I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these instructions to you so that, if I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the Church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth.

What has the final authority? Is it the Bible?
Then why does the Bible say it is the Church?

ONE! UNO! EIN! UN! URN!

---

Truth is one and it is a person, the person of Jesus Christ:

"I am the way, and the truth, and the life."

John 14:6

Elucidation:

Just as there is only one Jesus Christ, there can be only one truth. This verse is true because He said it.

---

*"And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the powers of death shall not prevail against it. I will give you* the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."*

Matthew 16:18-19

*The Greek word used here for 'you', is 'sou', meaning 'thou', which is singular.

Why did Jesus change the name of Simon to Peter? The answer is in Scripture.

Did you notice that Jesus said Church (singular), and not churches (plural) in verse 18?

Did you notice that Jesus gave the single set of keys to Peter and to him only in verse 19?

Did you notice that the binding and loosening are the authority which Jesus Christ gave to the one and only Church that He founded, and to none other?

Elucidation:

Jesus founded only one Church, and He gave the single set of keys to one person only, Peter.

Just as truth is one and Jesus Christ is one, the Church which He founded is one, the visible head of His Church (Peter) on earth is one, and the GOD given authority of that Church is one.

Caiaphas, the Jewish high priest said:

"He did not say this of his own accord, but being high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus should die for the nation, and not for the nation only, but to gather into one the children of God who are scattered abroad."

John 11:51-52

"I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me, as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice.

So there shall be one flock, and one shepherd."

John 10:14-16

Did you notice that Jesus said only one flock and one shepherd?

Elucidation:

One flock (one fold in some Bibles) and one shepherd simply means that there is only one Church which Jesus Christ founded.

---

"I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word, that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. The glory which thou hast given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and thou in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that thou hast sent me and hast loved them even as thou hast loved me."

John 17:21-23

Did you notice the pleas for oneness petitioned to the Father, from the Son here?

Elucidation:

The Father and the Son are one, as shown in these verses and in other verses as well:

"I and the Father are one", John 10:30.

"If you have seen me, you have seen the Father" (or similar), John 8:19,12:45,14:7-11.

---

"May then the GOD of patience and of comfort grant you to be of one mind towards one another according to Jesus Christ; that in one spirit, you may with one mouth glorify the GOD and Father of Our Lord Jesus Christ."

Romans 15:5-6

Elucidation:

We are to be of one mind, of one spirit, and of one mouth. In other words, we are to think and to believe, and to speak with one mouth, and do it in according to the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Do all Christians?

---

"Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all say the same thing; and there be no dissensions among you, but that you be perfectly united in one mind and in one judgment."

1Corinthians 1:10

Elucidation:

Again, we are to be of one mind, and we are to say the same things, and we are to be without any dissension, and to render only one judgment.

---

"For "who has known the mind of the Lord, that he might instruct him?"

But we have the mind of Christ."

1Corinthians 2:16

Elucidation:

Christ is one. Christ is the one truth. If we have the mind of Christ, we have the one truth.

---

"Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you stand firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel."

Philippians 1:27

"Have this mind in you which was also in Christ Jesus."

Philippians 2:5

Elucidation:

Yet again, we are reminded to be of one mind and one spirit, and to have the mind of Christ.

How many times must the Word of GOD be repeated before we finally get the message?

Later in this writing, I will show you that many do not ever get the message.

Or, they get the message but continue to ignore it.

"Therefore remember that at one time you Gentiles in the flesh, called the uncircumcision by what is called the circumcision, which is made in the flesh by hands, remember that you were at that time separated from Christ, alienated from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers to the covenants of promise, having no hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far off have been brought near in the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who has made us both one, and has broken down the dividing wall of hostility, by abolishing in his flesh the law of commandments and ordinances, that he might create in himself one new man in place of the two, so making peace, and might reconcile us both to God in one body through the cross, thereby bringing the hostility to an end. And he came and preached peace to you who were far off and peace to those who were near; for through him we both have access in one Spirit to the Father. So then you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Christ Jesus himself being the cornerstone, in whom the whole structure is joined together and grows into a holy temple in the Lord; in whom you also are built into it for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit."

Ephesians 2:11-22

"I therefore, a prisoner for the Lord, beg you to lead a life worthy of the calling to which you have been called, with all lowliness and meekness, with patience, forbearing one another in love, eager to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all."

Ephesians 4:1-6

How many one's do you count in these few verses?

Elucidation:

Saint Paul admonished us to have only one faith. Having one faith means having only one Church. Saint Paul continues in the same chapter:

"And his gifts were that some should be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers, to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the cunning of men, by their craftiness in deceitful wiles."

Ephesians 4:11-15

---

Even in the Old Testament it is GOD's will that we may all be one.

"The word of the Lord came to me: "Son of man, take a stick and write on it, 'For Judah, and the children of Israel associated with him'; then take another stick and write upon it, 'For Joseph (the stick of Ephraim) and all the house of Israel associated with him'; and join them together into one stick, that they may become one in your hand. And when your people say to you, 'Will you not show us what you mean by these?' say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I am about to take the stick of Joseph (which is in the hand of Ephraim) and the tribes of Israel associated with him; and I will join with it the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, that they may be one in my hand. When the sticks on which you write are in your hand before their eyes, then say to them, Thus says the Lord GOD: Behold, I will take the people of Israel from the nations among which they have gone, and will gather them from all sides, and bring them to their own land; and I will make them one nation in the land, upon the mountains of Israel; and one king shall be king over them all; and they shall be no longer two nations, and no longer divided into two kingdoms."

Ezekiel 37:15-22

"And the Lord shall be king over all the earth: in that day there shall be one Lord, and his name shall be one."

Zechariah 14:9

There was only one house of GOD in the Old Testament, the Jewish temple in Jerusalem.

"I will bring them into my holy mount, and will make them joyful in 'my house of prayer'. Their holocausts and their victims shall please me upon my altar, for my house shall be called the house of prayer, for all nations."

Isaiah 56:7

Elucidation:

Notice that GOD said 'my house', not my houses. The 'house of prayer, for all nations' is a perfect definition for the word 'Catholic'.

---

In summation:

There is only one GOD, one Father, one Jesus Christ, one Savior, one Shepherd, one Lord, one High Priest, one Holy Spirit to guide the one Church that Jesus Christ founded, which is the one house of GOD and the one Body of Christ. There is only one visible head of Christ's Church on earth, and there is only one authority which was given to that one Church. There is only one Word, one truth, one Scripture, one infallible interpretation of that one Scripture, one hope, one faith, and one Baptism. We are to be of one mind, be one in spirit, and speak with one mouth in unity. We are all to say the same things, are to have no dissensions between us, and are to render only one judgment.

Wow! That is a lot to remember, but then we can easily remember all of it if we would only remember one little three letter word, and what do you think that one word is?

---

Now, after all of this overwhelming oneness, demanded by GOD, Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, Saint Paul, and others in Holy Scripture, will someone please explain to me why there are more than 37,000* different Protestant and non-Catholic sects, all teaching something different aside from the one truth, given by the one GOD, and with all of the tens of thousands of them using the same one Scripture?

Where is the oneness in this satanic divide and conquer chaos?

Answer? There is none!

Are the members of those tens of thousands of sects* abiding by the teaching of Holy Scripture? Isn't it obvious that they are not?

*World Christian Encyclopedia, 2004, a Protestant publication.

---

Since Protestantism has created tens of thousands of divisions of the Body of Christ, will someone please tell me which part of ONE is it that they simply do not understand?

Are You a Member of the 666 Club?

---

The members of the 666 club are those who are firmly entrenched in John 6:66 which is written; "After this many of his disciples drew back and no longer went about with Him."

Why did those many disciples leave Jesus?

It was because THEY DID NOT BELIEVE WHAT HE HAD JUST TOLD THEM IN PREVIOUS VERSES.

In order to put this into proper context, go back and read the whole of John chapter 6, or to shorten the read start with John 6:48, His 'Bread of life' discourse.

We can take this verse (6:66) and apply it to anything that Jesus said in Scripture.

If any of His teachings are denied then those doing the denying are firmly entrenched in John 6:66.

Did you notice the 'coincidence' of the verse number as the dreaded 666 of Revelation 13:18, the number of the beast?

Is it really simply a 'coincidence' or is it perhaps something else?

---

So now let us look at some examples of His words.

After each example I will ask a simple question of what He said.

Please contrast what He actually said with what you were taught or believe that He said.

Warning! Do not read into (eisegesis) or detract from His actual words;

"And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

Notice that Jesus said 'church' (singular), and not 'churches' (multiple) in that verse.

Do you believe that Jesus Christ founded only one Church and promised that the gates of hell will not prevail against it, meaning that it will last forever?

If you answered 'no' then you are firmly entrenched in John 6:66 simply because you do not believe He who said it.

"Amen, amen, I say to you, he who enters not by the door to the sheepfold, but climbs up another way, is a thief and a robber. But he who enters by the door is shepherd of the sheep."

John 10:1-2

The sheepfold represents His Church. Are you in the sheepfold, the one Church that He founded?

Or did you 'climb up another way' by entering a church founded by a mere human person?

Do you believe what Jesus said in those two verses?

"I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word, that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. The glory which thou hast given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and thou in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that thou hast sent me and hast loved them even as thou hast loved me."

John 17:20-23

What part of the word 'one' is simply not understood by so many?

Do you agree that there is only ONE true Church that Jesus Christ founded?

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Luke 11:23

Are you 'gathered' into the one Church that Jesus founded?

Or are you scattered among the other 40,000+ sects not founded by God that call themselves Christian?

Those who do not follow His words, 'that they may be one' are those that scatter.

Aren't those who left Him in John 6:66, scatterers?

"Jesus said to him: I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No man comes to the Father, but by me."

John 14:6

Do you believe Him when He said, 'I am the way, and the truth, and the life'?

Do you believe that He is the truth?

If so, why are you not in His Church?

"You search the Scriptures, because in them you think that you have life everlasting.

And it is they that bear witness to Me, yet you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life."

John 5:39-40

You come to Him by entering His one Church, the only Church with God given authority to speak in the behalf of God Himself. .

"So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me. This is the bread which came down from heaven, not such as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live for ever."

John 6:53-58

Those within His Church know Him because He is really present in the Holy Eucharist which is not a symbol by any means.

Anywhere in the above text, is there even a hint of a symbolic gesture?

Aren't those who eat what they are taught is merely a symbol of the real Body of Christ akin to those fathers who ate of the symbol and died?

Aren't they subject to become a member of Club666?

"And I will ask the Father and He will give you another

Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth WHOM THE WORLD CANNOT RECEIVE, BECAUSE IT NEITHER SEES HIM NOR KNOWS HIM."

John 14:16-17

Who are those who are called 'the World'?

They are those who refuse to believe what He said and are therefore members of Club666.

"He who does not love me does not keep my words; and the word which you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. These things I have spoken to you, while I am still with you. But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you."

John 14:24-26

The first part of the first sentence sounds remarkably like John 6:66 where some of His disciples would not keep His words either and ended up walking away from Him. Would not you agree? I would say that these verses reinforce John 6:66 by adding the words 'He who does not love me'.

"But when the Counselor comes, whom I shall send to you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness to me; and you also are witnesses, because you have been with me from the beginning."

John 15:26

Are you truly witnesses to ALL of what Jesus had to say to us or do you reject some of it? If you reject 'some of it' then you are truly entrenched in Club666.

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now.

When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come.

He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine; therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you."

John 16:12-15

Does the 'Spirit of Truth' really dwell in your sect? If you believe He does, then how can you explain the differences in supposed truths in over 40,000 different sects?

"But if thy brother shall offend against thee, go, and rebuke him between thee and him alone.

If he shall hear thee, thou shalt gain thy brother. And if he will not hear thee, take with thee one or two more:

that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may stand. And if he will not hear them: tell the church.

And if he will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and publican."

Matthew 18:15-17

Which Church, His Church which has all truth or those human person founded sects which only have some of it?

"And other sheep I have that are not of this fold.

Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice, and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

John 10:16

That one verse expresses the theme of this entire page. Are you one of the sheep who are not of His fold?

Jesus is pleading to us by saying I MUST BRING His 'other sheep' to His ONE FOLD and ONE

SHEPHERD.

Those who are not in His ONE FOLD are not listening to Him and so are firmly entrenched in the 666 Club.

"Jesus said to the twelve, "Do you also wish to go away?"

Simon Peter answered him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life;"

John 6:67-68

Do those verses say it all to you???

If so then we all must belong to the ONE FOLD with one Shepherd and have eternal life, or be forever a member of Club 666.

The choice is yours!

Eye Candy for Bible Thumping Christians!

---

---

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old, and the Old Testament is revealed in the New."
Saint Augustine, (354-430 A.D.)

---

Joshua 22:10-19

(10) "And when they were come to banks of the Jordan, in the land of Chanaan, they built an altar immensely great near the Jordan.

(11) And when the children of Israel had heard of it, and certain messengers brought them an account that the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasses had built an altar in the land of Chanaan, upon the banks of the Jordan, over against the children of Israel:

(12) They all assembled in Silo, to go up and fight against them.

(13) And in the mean time they sent to them into the land of Galaad, Phinees the son of Eleazar the priest,

(14) And ten princes with him, one of every tribe.

(15) Who came to the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasses, into the land of Galaad, and said to them:

(16) Thus saith all the people of the Lord: What meaneth this transgression? Why have you forsaken the Lord the God of Israel, building a sacriligious altar, and revolting from the worship of him?

(17) Is it a small thing to you that you sinned with Beelphegor, and the stain of that crime remaineth in us to this day, and many of the people perished.

(18) And you have forsaken the Lord to day, and to morrow his wrath will rage against all Israel.

(19) But if you think the land of your possession to be unclean, pass over to the land wherein is the tabernacle of the Lord, and dwell among us: only depart not from the Lord, and from our society, by building an altar beside the altar of the Lord our God."

Did anyone see the connection between this happening in the time of Joshua and what we have today?

Where are altars found today? They are found in churches, right?

All throughout the Old Testament there are many examples of the "Father Figure" leader of the Hebrews - Israelites, building an altar to the Lord:

There is Noah:

Genesis 8:20,

"And Noah built an altar unto the Lord: and taking of all cattle and fowls that were clean, offered holocausts upon the altar."

There is Abraham:

Genesis 22:8-9,

"And Abraham said: God will provide himself a victim for an holocaust, my son. So they went on together. And they came to the place which God had shewn him, where he built an altar, and laid the wood in order upon it; and when he had bound Isaac his son, he laid him on the altar upon the pile of wood."

There is Isaac:

Genesis 26:25,

"So he built an altar there and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there. And there Isaac's servants dug a well."

There is Jacob:

Genesis 35:6-7,

" And Jacob came to Luza, which is in the land of Chanaan, surnamed Bethel: he and all the people that were with him. And he built there an altar, and called the name of that place, The house of God: for there God appeared to him when he fled from his brother."

There is Moses:

Exodus 17:15,

"And Moses built an altar; and called the name thereof, The Lord, my exaltation, saying:"

Exodus 24:4,

"And Moses wrote all the words of the Lord: and rising in the morning, he built an altar at the foot of the mount, and twelve tables according to the twelve tribes of Israel."

There is Aaron:

Exodus 32:5,

"And when Aaron saw this, he built an altar before it, and made proclamation by a crier's voice, saying Tomorrow is the solemnity of the Lord."

There is Joshua:

Joshua 8:30,

"Then Joshua built an altar to the Lord, the God of Israel, in Mount Hebal,"

There is Gideon:

Judges 6:24,

"Then Gideon built an altar there to the LORD..."

There is Samuel:

1Samuel 7:17,

"And he built there an altar to the Lord."

There is Saul:

1Samuel 14:35,

"And Saul built an altar to the Lord: it was the first altar that he built to the Lord."

There is David:

2Samuel 24:18-19,

"And Gad came to David that day, and said: Go up, and build an altar to the Lord in the thrashing floor of Areuna the Jebusite.

And David went up according to the word of Gad which the Lord had commanded him."

So what is the point? The point is that only the "Father Figures" had the authority to build an altar to the Lord since they were the leaders of GOD's chosen people, the Hebrews - Israelites. In all of the examples listed above, there was an altar built to the Lord and by a "Father Figure", and not additional unauthorized altars built by others, as detailed in Joshua 22:10-11 and 16 above.

As mentioned earlier, again where are altars found? 'Authorized altars' are found in 'authorized churches' today, or in assembly places as in the days of Joshua.
'Authorized'?

The rebellion of Core (Korah):

Numbers 16:1-50,

- (1) "And behold Core the son of Isaar, the son of Caath, the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab, and Hon the son of Pheleth of the children of Ruben,
- (2) rose up against Moses, and with them two hundred and fifty others of the children of Israel, leading men of the synagogue, and who in the time of assembly were called by name.
- (3) And when they had stood up against Moses and Aaron, they said: Let it be enough for you, that all the multitude consisteth of holy ones, and the Lord is among them: Why lift you up yourselves above the people of the Lord?
- (4) When Moses heard this, he fell flat on his face:
- (5) And speaking to Core and all the multitude, he said: In the morning the Lord will make known who belong to him, and the holy he will join to himself: and whom he shall choose, they shall approach to him.
- (6) Do this therefore: Take every man of you your censers, thou Core, and all thy company.
- (7) And putting fire in them to morrow, put incense upon it before the Lord: and whomsoever he shall choose, the same shall be holy: you take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi.
- (8) And he said again to Core: Hear ye sons of Levi.
- (9) Is it a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath spared you from all the people, and joined you to himself, that you should serve him in the service of the tabernacle, and should stand before the congregation of the people, and should minister to him?
- (10) Did he therefore make thee and all thy brethren the sons of Levi to approach unto him, that you should challenge to yourselves the priesthood also,
- (11) And that all thy company should stand against the Lord? for what is Aaron that you murmur against him?
- (12) Then Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab. But they answered: We will not come.
- (13) Is it a small matter to thee, that thou hast brought us out of a land that flowed with milk and honey, to kill us in the desert, except thou rule also like a lord over us?
- (14) Thou hast brought us indeed into a land that floweth with rivers of milk and honey, and hast given us possessions of fields and vineyards; wilt thou also pull out our eyes? We will not come.
- (15) Moses therefore being very angry, said to the Lord: Respect not their sacrifices: thou knowest that I have not taken of them so much as a young ass at any time, nor have injured any of them.
- (16) And he said to Core: Do thou and thy congregation stand apart before the Lord to morrow, and Aaron apart.
- (17) Take every one of you censers, and put incense upon them, offering to the Lord two hundred and fifty censers: let Aaron also hold his censer.
- (18) When they had done this, Moses and Aaron standing,
- (19) And had drawn up all the multitude against them to the door of the tabernacle, the glory of the Lord appeared to them all.
- (20) And the Lord speaking to Moses and Aaron, said:
- (21) Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may presently destroy them.
- (22) They fell flat on their face, and said: O most mighty, the God of the spirits of all flesh, for one man's sin shall thy wrath rage against all?

(23) And the Lord said to Moses:

(24) Command the whole people to separate themselves from the tents of Core and Dathan and Abiron.

(25) And Moses arose, and went to Dathan and Abiron: and the ancients of Israel following him,

(26) He said to the multitude: Depart from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest you be involved in their sins.

(27) And when they were departed from their tents round about, Dathan and Abiron coming out stood in the entry of their pavilions with their wives and children, and all the people.

(28) And Moses said: By this you shall know that the Lord hath sent me to do all things that you see, and that I have not forged them of my own head:

(29) If these men die the common death of men, and if they be visited with a plague, wherewith others also are wont to be visited, the Lord did not send me.

(30) But if the Lord do a new thing, and the earth opening her mouth swallow them down, and all things that belong to them, and they go down alive into hell, you shall know that they have blasphemed the Lord.

(31) And immediately as he had made an end of speaking, the earth broke asunder under their feet:

(32) And opening her mouth, devoured them with their tents and all their substance.

(33) And they went down alive into hell, the ground closing upon them, and they perished from among the people.

(34) But all Israel, that was standing round about, fled at the cry of them that were perishing: saying: Lest perhaps the earth swallow us up also.

(35) And a fire coming out from the Lord, destroyed the two hundred and fifty men that offered the incense.

(36) And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

(37) Command Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest to take up the censers that lie in the burning, and to scatter the fire of one side and the other: because they are sanctified

(38) In the deaths of the sinners: and let him beat them into plates, and fasten them to the altar, because incense hath been offered in them to the Lord, and they are sanctified, that the children of Israel may see them for a sign and a memorial.

(39) Then Eleazar the priest took the brazen censers, wherein they had offered, whom the burning fire had devoured, and beat them into plates, fastening them to the altar:

(40) That the children of Israel might have for the time to come wherewith they should be admonished, that no stranger or any one that is not of the seed of Aaron should come near to offer incense to the Lord, lest he should suffer as Core suffered, and all his congregation, according as the Lord spoke to Moses.

(41) The following day all the multitude of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron, saying: You have killed the people of the Lord.

(42) And when there arose a sedition, and the tumult increased,

(43) Moses and Aaron fled to the tabernacle of the covenant. And when they were gone into it, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

(44) And the Lord said to Moses:

(45) Get you out from the midst of this multitude, this moment will I destroy them. And as they were lying on the ground,

(46) Moses said to Aaron: Take the censer, and putting fire in it from the altar, put incense upon it, and go quickly to the people to pray for them: for already wrath is gone out from the Lord, and the plague rageth.

(47) When Aaron had done this, and had run to the midst of the multitude which the burning fire was now destroying, he offered the incense:

(48) And standing between the dead and the living, he prayed for the people, and the plague ceased.

(49) And the number of them that were slain was fourteen thousand and seven hundred men, besides them that had perished in the sedition of Core.

(50) And Aaron returned to Moses to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant after the destruction was over.

---

Again, so what is the point?

The point is that GOD accepts those whom He had sent and destroys those who have sent themselves.

2Corinthians 10:18,

"For it is not the man who commends himself that is accepted, but the man whom the Lord commends."

Hebrews 5:4,

"Neither does any man take the honour to himself, but he that is called by God, as Aaron was."

Of all of those altar builders in all of those tens of thousands of non-Catholic sects, was even one of them called by GOD to do so?

Or did each take the honor to himself?

Why Parables?

---

The meaning of the word Parable:

A parable is a story told to illustrate a lesson, a fact, or a truth.

Have you noticed that when Jesus spoke to the crowds, He often spoke in parables?

Since almost no one understood the meaning of the parables, he would not elaborate their meaning to the crowds, but only to His Apostles, as He explained in Matthew 13:10-23,

"Why do you speak to them in parables?" And He answered and said,

" To you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of GOD, but to them it is not given."

Mark 4:10-12, Luke 8:9-10.

Why did He explain His parables only to His Apostles, and not to the crowds who gathered to listen to Him?

Since His physical bodily presence on earth was limited, it was to show to us that all generations would receive the knowledge of the mysteries of the Kingdom of GOD through the Church which He came to establish.

"Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace which was given me by the working of his power. To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places. This was according to the eternal purpose which he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, in whom we have boldness and confidence of access through our faith in him."

Ephesians 3:7-12

It was His commission to the Apostles and to their successors to go out and teach to the whole world all that He had taught them.

And he said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation. He who believes and is baptized will be saved; but he who does not believe will be condemned."

Mark 16:15-16

See also Matthew 28:18-20.

He speaks to His Church and His Church in turn speaks His Word to the whole world.

If you reject His Church, then you have rejected Him.

"He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."

Luke 10:16

There is the obvious meaning to that verse, and there is the not so obvious meaning that is not grasped by many. In the first six words is the promise of Jesus Christ that His Church would not, and could not, teach other than what He Himself has said, and that could only be the fullness of truth. Anything coming from the mouth of His Church comes from Him, and He is truth personified (John 14:6).

This is nothing new, as GOD always spoke through a human representative on earth, a 'father figure', be he Abraham, Moses, David, or Peter (Acts 15:7), to name a few.

*GOD always dealt with His people through one man.
Bishop Fulton J. Sheen.*

Defenders of the Church...

---

✦ ✦ ✦ On the darkest nights, the stars shine the brightest... Fr. John Corapi ✦ ✦ ✦

---

*The Catholic Church is the Church which Jesus Christ founded in Matthew 16:18.
It is the only Church that can make that claim.*

---

From the first day of founding, the Church has been under constant attack from within and from without, yet it has endured for almost 2000 years and has grown to over one billion Catholics. The reasons for this phenomenal growth can be found in Holy Scripture.

*Jesus Christ said in Matthew 16:18, "...and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."
In Matthew 28:20, Jesus promised to be with His Church 'all days', that means every day in every century with no gaps.*

*The reason that the Church has endured and prospered so long is that Jesus promised it would,
"even unto the consummation of the world."*

---

History has shown us that when the Bride of Christ is under serious attack, GOD does one of three things.

1. He raises a Saint to defend her:

This is historical fact. Read about St. Francis, St. Dominic, St. Teresa of Avila and hundreds of others who 'just happened to be there' when they were needed most.

2. He sends the Blessed Virgin Mary to warn us of impending danger:

Read about Guadalupe, Lourdes, Fatima, Akita, and many other sites where she appeared. Read her messages.

3. He manifests a miracle:

The greatest of these in recent times was the miracle of the sun which occurred on October 13, 1917 at Fatima Portugal.

This happening was witnessed by over seventy thousand people and is well documented both within and external to the Church.

---

The same is as true today as it has been in the past. The Church is under great stress today and look at what has been happening?

The Blessed Virgin Mary has appeared in many countries all over the world, Mexico, Japan, Belgium, Portugal, France, Kenya, Egypt, and others.

It appears that her apparitions are on the increase in our time, so that must mean the urgency is on the increase also.

---

It seems the time is now for GOD to raise a Saint to come to the aid of His Church.

Now who do you suppose it will be?

CONTINUITY

From His Newborn Primitive Church, to His Mature Church of Today.

---

Jesus Christ founded a Church.

1. Did it all come to an end shortly after the last Apostle died? Some non-Catholics say it did.
2. Was the Church which Jesus Christ founded left to flounder as a ship caught in a tempest, and with no one at the helm?
3. Is there no continuity between the primitive Church which Jesus Christ founded and His Church of today?
4. Is that the way that Jesus Christ left His Church?

Well if you are the least bit Bible savvy, the one answer to all of the above questions is a resounding NO!

Holy Scripture clearly shows CONTINUITY of the ONE Church that Jesus Christ founded, right from the day He founded it until this present day, and even into the future until the end of time. I will show you the proof and I will do it from Holy Scripture first.

---

CONTINUITY of the Church which Jesus Christ founded as shown in the New Testament:

Try this verse first:

Acts 1:8, "But you shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost coming upon you, and you shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and Samaria, and even to the uttermost part of the earth."

Now what did that verse tell you that is not readily apparent? There are many verses in Holy Scripture similar to that one in that they may have additional common sense clues that are helpful in our understanding of the message that they convey to us.

It is in the last part where Jesus commissioned His Apostles to be witnesses for Him in Jerusalem (local), Judea and Samaria (spreading out) and even to the uttermost part of the world (world wide). The Apostles can easily satisfy the first three locations in their lifetimes, but what about "to the uttermost part of the earth"? How will the Apostles accomplish that in one lifetime? The answer is, they cannot. There you can clearly see CONTINUITY. The Apostles will not live long enough to spread the word to the whole world, so they will have to pass to someone else the commission that Jesus bestowed upon them. The message of continuity of the Church which Jesus Christ founded was not readily apparent overtly, but it was however, there covertly.

Acts 1:8 has set the stage for Apostolic Succession, CONTINUITY of His Church without even overtly mentioning it, but covertly it did, and it did it quite well.

---

Here is another example of CONTINUITY. See if you can find the hidden meaning within these verses?

Matthew 28:19-20, "Going therefore, teach ye all nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. (20) Teaching them all things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

Did you find two interesting messages within those verses?

Again, like Acts 1:8, Jesus commissioned His Apostles to 'teach all nations'. Obviously it is an impossibility yet again for those twelve men to teach all nations in their mere human lifetimes. That statement clearly shows Apostolic Succession, showing CONTINUITY of His Church without even mentioning it.

Now study the last sentence of those verses and what do you see?

"And behold I am with you all days, even to the consummation of the world."

Didn't Jesus promise to be with His Church every day in every century until the end of time in Matthew 28:20?

That statement clearly shows Apostolic Succession, CONTINUITY of His Church until the end of time.

That same Church which Jesus Christ founded is still with us to this very day. It was His promise.

---

Saint Paul joined the chorus in his teaching of the CONTINUITY of the Church which Jesus Christ founded:

Ephesians 3:21, "To him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus, unto all generations, world without end. Amen."

That verse clearly and overtly declared perpetual CONTINUITY of His Church.

---

Here is another set of verses regarding CONTINUITY:

Hebrews 5:12-14, "For whereas for the time you ought to be masters, you have need to be taught again what are the first elements of the words of God: and you are become such as have need of milk and not of strong meat. (13) For every one that is a partaker of milk is unskillful in the word of justice: for he is a little child. (14) But strong meat is for the perfect: for them who by custom have their senses exercised to the discerning of good and evil."

There are some interesting conclusions that we should be able to draw from those verses.

First of all, there is a correlation to the beginning and then to the maturing of life, and that is a little child = milk, adults = strong meat. Now equate that to the primitive Church just at the beginning of life as a little child, and the more mature Church years later. The primitive Church in the time of St. Paul would be overwhelmed by the knowledge of GOD that His mature Church has received for the past almost 2000 years.

How can a little child progress into adulthood without CONTINUITY?

In the same context, how can a primitive Church become a mature Church without CONTINUITY?

John 16:12-13, "I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. (13) When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

Do you see an echo in those verses to Hebrews 5:12-14 above?

"You have need of milk and not of strong meat" fits very nicely with "I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now."

And another

"When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

Many words in that verse clearly show future tense, such as when the Spirit comes, and He will guide you. Then the last sentence overtly declares things that are to come. From these verses we have learned that over time, His Church will grow in wisdom. It will mature.

● Those verses clearly show CONTINUITY of His Church.

Here is another set of verses proclaiming the CONTINUITY of His Church:

John 14:16-18, "I will ask the Father to give you another Helper, to be with you always. (17) He is the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, for it neither sees him nor recognizes him. But you recognize him, for he abides with you and will be in you. (18) I am not going to forsake you like orphans. I will come back to you."

● Those three short verses are loaded with CONTINUITY of His Church.

'The Spirit of Truth will be with you always'. The word always is CONTINUITY. 'He abides with you and will be in you,' more CONTINUITY. 'I will not leave you as orphans', is still more CONTINUITY of the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

With all of the Biblical proofs for the CONTINUITY of the Church which Jesus Christ founded that I have shown in this text, why then do some Sola Scriptura (Bible only) believers reject them all and insist that there is no CONTINUITY between the primitive Church and His Church of today?

Old Testament Prophecies fulfilled in the New Testament:

2Samuel 7:12-13, "And when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of the bowels, and I will establish his kingdom. (13) He shall build a house to my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom forever."

Isaiah 9:6-7, "For a CHILD IS BORN to us, and a son is given to us, and the government is upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, God the Mighty, the Father of the world to come, the Prince of Peace. (7) His empire shall be multiplied, and there shall be no end of peace: he shall sit upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom; to establish it and strengthen it with judgment and with justice, from henceforth and for ever: the zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this."

Isaiah 41:10-12, "Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am thy God: I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of my just one hath upheld thee. (11) Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded and ashamed, they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee. (12) Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find the men that resist thee: they shall be as nothing: and as a thing consumed the men that war against thee."

Isaiah 59:21, "This is my covenant with them, saith the Lord: My spirit that is in thee, and my words that I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever."

Daniel 2:44, "But in the days of those kingdoms, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that shall never be destroyed, and his kingdom shall not be delivered up to another people: and it shall break in pieces, and shall consume all these kingdoms: and itself shall stand for ever."

Daniel 6:26, "It is decreed by me, that in all my empire and my kingdom, all men dread and fear the God of Daniel. For he is the living and eternal God for ever: and his kingdom shall not be destroyed, and his power shall be for ever."

Daniel 7:13-14, "I beheld, therefore, in the vision of the night, and lo, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and he came even to the ancient of days: and they presented him before him. (14) And he gave him power, and glory, and a kingdom: and all peoples, tribes, and tongues shall serve him: his power is an everlasting power that shall not be taken away: and his kingdom that shall not be destroyed."

🌟 Those verses clearly predict CONTINUITY of His Church.

The New Testament lies hidden in the Old.
The Old Testament is revealed in the New.

---

Want more proofs of the CONTINUITY of the Church which Jesus Christ founded?
OK!

Here are some genuine historical quotes from early Church writers, many of whom are called Church Fathers.

For the sake of brevity, I have left out some of the quotes but I have given you the source, so you can find them for yourself.

Saint Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Smyrneans, 106 A.D.,

8:1-2, "You must all follow the lead of the bishop, as Jesus Christ followed that of the Father; follow the presbytery as you would the Apostles; reverence the deacons as you would God's commandment. Let no one do anything touching the Church, apart from the bishop. Let that celebration of the Eucharist be considered valid which is held under the bishop or anyone to whom he has committed it. Where the bishop appears, there let the people be, just as where Jesus Christ is, there is the Catholic Church. It is not permitted without authorization from the bishop either to baptize or to hold an agape; but whatever he approves is also pleasing to God. Thus everything you do will be proof against danger and valid."

🌟 That is CONTINUITY... In 106 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

The Martyrdom of St. Polycarp 16:2, 155 A.D.

Saint Clement of Alexandria, Stromateis, 202 A.D.,

7,17,107,3, "We say, therefore, that in substance, in concept, in origin and in eminence, the ancient and Catholic Church is alone, gathering as it does into the unity of the one faith which results from the familiar covenants..."

Hmmm, that was written in 202 A.D.. It could have been written today, for the Catholic Church is alone, and it is gathering as it does into the unity of the one faith which results from the familiar covenants.

✿ That is CONTINUITY... In 202 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

Cyril of Jerusalem, Catechetical Lectures, 350 A.D.,

✿ That is CONTINUITY... In 350 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

Serapion, The Sacramentary 13,1, 350 A.D.

Saint Athanasius, Letter to Serapion, 359 A.D.,
1,28, "But what is also to the point, let us note that the very tradition, teaching and faith of the Catholic Church from the beginning, which the Lord gave, was preached by the Apostles, and was preserved by the Fathers. On this was the Church founded; and if anyone departs from this, he neither is nor any longer ought to be called a Christian."

✿ That is CONTINUITY... In 359 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

Athanasius, Letter to Council of Rimini 5, 361 A.D.

Pacian of Barcelona, Letter to Sympronian, 375 A.D.,
1,4, "Christian is my name, and Catholic my surname. The one designates me, while the other makes me specific. This am I attested and set apart... When we are called Catholics it is by this appellation that our people are kept apart from any heretical name."

Damasus, Decree of Damasus 3, 382 A.D.

Augustine, The True Religion, 390 A.D.,
7,12, "We must hold to the Christian religion and to communication in her Church, which is Catholic, and which is called Catholic not only by her own members, but even by all her enemies."

✿ That is CONTINUITY... In 390 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

Augustine, Sermon to Catechumens on the Creed 6,14, 395 A.D.

Augustine, Against the Letter of Mani, 397 A.D.,

4,5, "In the Catholic Church, not to speak of that purest wisdom, to the knowledge of which a few spiritual men attain in this life, in such a way that, in its least part only, for they are but men, they know it without any doubting, while the rest of the multitude finds its greatest safety not in lively understanding but in the simplicity of believing, not to speak, I say, of that wisdom which you do not believe is present in the Catholic Church, there are many other things which, most properly, can keep me in her bosom. The unanimity of peoples and nations keeps me here. Her authority inaugurated in miracles, nourished by hope, augmented by love, and confirmed by her age, keeps me here. The succession of priests, from the very see of the Apostle Peter, to whom Our Lord, after His resurrection, gave the charge of feeding His sheep, up to the present episcopate, keeps me here. And at last, the very name of Catholic, which, not without reason, belongs to this Church alone, in the face of so many heretics, so much so that, although all heretics want to be called Catholic, when a stranger inquires where the Catholic Church meets, none of the heretics would dare to point out his own basilica or house."

🌺 That is CONTINUITY... In 397 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church. And from the quote above, what does this mean for you, 'the succession of priests, from the very See of the Apostle Peter, to whom Our Lord, after His resurrection, gave the charge of feeding His sheep up to the present episcopate'?

It is nothing less than Apostolic Succession, as I have shown in the Bible verses previously.

How many times in that one paragraph did Saint Augustine mention the word Catholic or Catholic Church?

Did you know that in all of his many writings, Saint Augustine mentioned the Catholic Church by name over 300 times?

Some non-Catholic sects quote from St Augustine. I wonder if they ever quote from him when he mentioned the Catholic Church by name?

Augustine, Christian Instruction 2,8,12, 397 A.D.

Augustine, Baptism 4,21,28, 400 A.D.

Augustine, Letter to Vincent the Rogatist, 408 A.D.,

93,7,23, "You seem to be saying something perceptive when you derive the name Catholic not from the communion of the whole world but from the observance of all the divine precepts and of all the Sacraments, as if we relied on the meaning of the name and not on the promises of GOD and on so many and such clear pronouncements of truth itself to prove that the Church is found among all nations. Yet it is a fact that the Church is called Catholic because it truly embraces the whole of that truth, some particles of which may be found even in various heresies."

🌺 That is CONTINUITY... In 408 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

Innocent I, Letter to Probus 36, 417 A.D.

Augustine, Sermons 2, 267,4, 430 A.D.

Fulgence of Ruspe, Forgiveness of Sins, 512 A.D.

1,23,2, "Let them abandon heresy and return quickly to the Catholic Church. Let them neither doubt the possession of their inheritance nor despair of the forgiveness of their sins. For anyone who does not believe that within the Catholic Church all sins can be loosed deprives himself of the forgiveness of sins if, persevering in the same hardness of an impenitent heart, he departs from this world alienated from the Church's society."

That is CONTINUITY... In 512 A.D. there is the primitive Church, now called the Catholic Church.

I have shown CONTINUITY from the primitive Church which Jesus Christ founded to His Catholic Church of today through five early centuries of genuine historical writings from several sources. If need be I could show genuine writings that would take us from the century where I left off in this writing, right up to the present day.

Now it is up to the naysayers to prove their false charges that there is no CONTINUITY between the primitive Church which Jesus Christ founded and His Catholic Church today.

Why Religion? Why Not? Which Religion? Which Church?

---

Age old questions that man has been asking himself:

Where did I come from?

Why am I here?

Where am I going?

---

Why religion? Why not?

From a purely scientific point of view, scientists are now closing the gap in proving that GOD does indeed exist. Such basic questions as, "Did the universe come into existence by accident or by design?", are now being answered by many differing paths that all lead to the same conclusion. It is indeed no accident, as there is a genius of intelligent order everywhere that science investigates.

1. From the smallest through a microscope:

Every single human cell is more complex than all of New York City, yet every part of every cell has a purpose to fulfill, and all parts work in well ordered unison. There are processing systems, communication systems, food distribution systems, transportation systems, plumbing systems, waste management systems, reproductive systems, first aid systems, and much more in each and every cell. It is all ordered. It is all purposeful.

This cannot be accidental happenstance, but accomplished only by the result of intelligent design.

2. To the largest through a telescope:

Billions of galaxies, each with billions of stars and planets, all working in supreme order. Cosmologists have postulated that the so-called "Big Bang", the theoretical 'cause of it all', must have had a cause in itself, a prime mover so to speak, a source of great power and "intelligence", for temperature and mass had to be extremely exacting for it to happen at all.

This cannot be accidental happenstance, but accomplished only by the result of intelligent design.

3. And everything in between by using our GOD given senses, our intellect, and reasoning power:

In fact, science is not even needed to show order everywhere we look, if we would only take the time to observe and ponder the simple things in nature. He who has eyes to see, let him see.

Since there is order in all aspects of science and of nature, and order cannot be accidental but must be designed by intelligence, we can reasonably conclude that, yes, GOD does indeed exist, and yes, a divinely ordered religion and proper worship of Him is necessary for the assurance of our salvation.

So then...

Which religion?

So many different religions, and so little time. A person who is committed to belonging to one could spend an entire lifetime researching them all.

However, never fear for there is a shortcut here.

---

Some of the major religions of the world, listed in order of size by the number of participants, (2001).

- 1. Christianity*
- 2. Islam*
- 3. Hinduism*
- 4. Buddhism*
- 5. Chinese traditional, Chinese Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, etc.*
- 6. Sikhism*
- 7. Shinto*
- 8. Universalism*

And there are many more...

GOD is GOD who is the same yesterday, today, and forever, so by using your common sense, which of the above (if any) would you choose as being the only one founded by Him? Can you think of any criteria that would make His chosen religion stand out from all the others?

Here is a hint. All were founded by a human being, who was called a prophet.

Give up?

Only one religion was founded by a prophet who was pre-announced. All of the rest were founded by self proclaimed prophets. The Old Testament of Holy Scripture is full of predictions of the coming of a "Messiah" who would save the human race from its sins. Starting with the first book (Genesis 3:15) there are a considerable number of startlingly accurate predictions regarding "He who is to come". Some books such as Isaiah 53 are chocked full of explicit details of happenings and events regarding He that would come hundreds of years later and who would fulfill Isaiah's prophecies exactly as he related.

*That religion, its root being Judaism, is of course Christianity, and was founded by the divine person of Jesus Christ, who is the long awaited and prophesied Messiah*.*

**Messiah is a Hebrew word meaning, the Anointed One. In Greek it is Christos, Christ in English.*

So then...

---

Which Church?

*Since we have now picked the right religion, of the tens of thousands* of different Christian churches in the world today, how does one pick the right church? So many churches, so little time.*

**There were more than 33,800 different Christian denominations in the world as of April 2001.*

Source: World Christian Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication.

Of those tens of thousands, there is only one Church which matches all of the following criteria.

1. It is the only Church which was founded by GOD in the person of Jesus Christ.

"And so I say to you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

We know it is the only Church because Jesus used the singular word "Church", not churches.

2. It matches its image perfectly, which is found in Holy Scripture.

3. It is able to trace its roots all the way back to its founder, Jesus Christ.

4. It has genuine historical records stretching back for twenty centuries attesting to its existence in every day in every century, and with no gaps whatsoever since its founding. See Matthew 28:20.

5. It is the Church which gave the world the Bible which all Christians use today.

6. It has an unbroken line of successors, traceable all the way back to its divine founder.

7. It is obvious that it did not have a founder who was a mere human person.

8. It is the only Church which has the authority given to it by GOD Himself. No other church founded by mere human persons can show a single Bible verse which gives them the authority to found another church other than that one which was founded by Jesus Christ, and thus, they will face the wrath of GOD.

"Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from GOD, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore he who resists the authorities resists what GOD has appointed, and those who resist will incur judgment. For rulers are not a terror to good conduct, but to bad. Would you have no fear of him who is in authority? Then do what is good, and you will receive his approval, for he is God's servant for your good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword in vain; he is the servant of God to execute his wrath on the wrongdoer. Therefore one must be subject, not only to avoid God's wrath but also for the sake of conscience."
Romans 13:1-5

9. It is the only Church which has all truth.

Let us consult Holy Scripture for the meaning of this:

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

John 16:12-13

Of the tens of thousands of Christian sects, each one teaches something different in order to distinguish themselves from the others in the pack. They will all readily admit that they do this. Since there is only one truth, how can this way of thinking be accepted by any sane person who is searching for that one truth?

In a deeper understanding of these verses, it becomes obvious that the Holy Spirit teaches all the truth to only one Church, the only Church which Jesus Christ founded. How then, could the Holy Spirit teach 'something different' to the tens of thousands of other denominations which were founded by mere men or women and not by Jesus Christ?

Here is another verse where Saint Paul reinforces what Saint John said:

"But if I should be delayed, you should know how to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of truth."

1 Timothy 3:15

Notice in this verse also that the word "Church" is singular.

We know that the Holy Spirit will teach GOD's one Church all truth, and that His Church is the "pillar and foundation of truth". It has to be, since its teaching comes from the Holy Spirit.

Now let us recap this segment with yet a third verse from a third writer which emphasizes GOD's Church while at the same time excluding all others:

"Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain. Unless the Lord watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain."

Psalms 127:1

It should be so obvious to everyone that the Catholic Church is the only Church which fulfills every one of the above criteria. Not one of the tens of thousands of non-Catholic denominations can match even one of them.

We know it can only be the Catholic Church, as it is the Most Hated Christian Church in the World. Just as the Catholic Church is the Body of Christ, so she naturally must follow the trials and tribulations of her founder and Head. His physical body endured an unmerciful persecution and scourging, and so must His Mystical Body, the Catholic Church, endure the same.

A comparison between Jesus Christ and His Mystical Body. He is the head and His Church is His body (Ephesians 1:22-23). You cannot separate the head from the body. They are one. What happens to the one must also happen to the other.

Jesus Christ persecuted.....His Mystical Body, the Catholic Church persecuted.

*They rebelled against His Authority.....They rebel against its Authority, 2Peter 2:10.
They said Crucify Him.....Heretics have tried to destroy it for 2000 years.
He is called Beelzebub.....It is run by Satan, Matthew 10:25.
He is a false messiah.....It is a false church, Luke 22:70-71.
He called Himself the Son of GOD.....It claims it was founded by GOD, Matthew 16:18.
He called Himself Truth.....It claims to be infallible, 1Timothy 3:15.
He called Himself King.....It says it is the only true Church, Matthew 16:18.
He could not sin.....It has no spot or wrinkle, Ephesians 5:27.
He was not believed by many.....It is not believed by many, Luke 22:67.
He was denied by many.....It is denied by many, Luke 22:57-60.
He was derided, not being understood.....It is derided, not being understood, 2Peter 2:12.
Not understanding Him, they walked away.....Not understanding it, they walk away, John 6:66.
He had false accusers.....It has false accusers, Mark 14:56-59.
He was mocked.....It is mocked, Luke 23:35-37.
He was scandalized.....It is scandalized, Luke 17:1-2.
He was hated without a cause.....It is hated without a cause, John 15:18-25.
His accuser, Judas, died.....Its accusers die, but still, the Church lives on.
His enemies would stumble and fall.....Its enemies stumble and fall, John 18:6.
We have no king but Caesar.....We have no need of it, as we have the Bible.
Can anything good come out of Nazareth?.....Can anything good come from Rome? John 1:46
They cried out, "Not this one but Barabbas"...It is also rejected by the world, John 15:18-25.
He bore His Cross.....It bears a cross also, the cross of persecution.
He died on the Cross.....It has thousands of martyrs, many on crosses.*

1970+ years later, He lives, stronger than ever.....1970+ years later, it lives, stronger than ever.

However, no matter how hard the persecutors try... His Kingdom will last forever, Daniel 7:14, Hebrews 1:8.

His Church will last until the end of the world as promised by Him in Matthew 28:20.

"BEHOLD, I HAVE GIVEN YOU POWER TO TREAD UPON SERPENTS AND SCORPIONS, AND OVER ALL THE MIGHT OF THE ENEMY; AND NOTHING SHALL HURT YOU."

Luke 10:19

"Do not be a stumbling block to Jews and Greeks AND TO THE CHURCH OF GOD".

IF THEY HAVE PERSECUTED ME, THEY WILL PERSECUTE YOU ALSO; IF THEY HAVE KEPT MY WORD, THEY WILL KEEP YOURS ALSO. BUT ALL OF THESE THINGS THEY WILL DO TO YOU FOR MY NAME'S SAKE, BECAUSE THEY DO NOT KNOW HIM WHO SENT ME. IF I HAD NOT COME AND SPOKEN TO THEM, THEY WOULD HAVE NO SIN. BUT NOW THEY HAVE NO EXCUSE FOR THEIR SIN. HE WHO HATES ME HATES MY FATHER ALSO. IF I HAD NOT DONE AMONG THEM WORKS SUCH AS NO ONE ELSE HAS DONE, THEY WOULD HAVE NO SIN. Every time you see someone persecuting the Catholic Church, or speaking falsely against her, be happy, because those people are merely helping Catholics to gain their eternal reward in Heaven.

It is a promise from Jesus Christ Himself. See Matthew 5:11-12.

A message from Bishop Fulton J. Sheen...

"If I were not a Catholic, and were looking for the true Church in the world today, I would look for the one Church which did not get along well with the world; in other words, I would look for the Church which the world hates. My reason for doing this would be, that if Christ is in any one of the churches in the world today, He must still be hated as He was when He was on earth in the flesh. If you would find Christ today, then find the Church that does not get along with the world. Look for the Church which is hated by the world, as Christ was hated by the world. Look for the Church which is accused of being behind the times, as Our Lord was accused of being ignorant and of never having learned. Look for the Church which men sneer at as socially inferior, as they sneered at Our Lord because He came from Nazareth. Look for the Church which is accused of having a devil, as Our Lord was accused of being *possessed by Beelzebub, the Prince of Devils. Look for the Church which, in seasons of bigotry, men say must be destroyed in the name of GOD as men crucified Christ and thought they had done a service to GOD. # The House of GOD is the Awesome Church of GOD!

---

The "House of GOD" is mentioned over 75 times in Holy Scripture (RSV), and over 220 times as the "House of the Lord", but in all cases it is used in the singular, not in the plural.

How many "houses" of GOD are there?

There is only one, as Holy Scripture so very clearly tells us in a plenitude of verses.

---

In the Old Testament there was only one House of GOD. What began as a tent (tabernacle), culminated in a magnificent temple in Jerusalem.

There was only one tent, followed in time by only one temple. And after that the one Church that Jesus Christ founded.

2Chronicles 30:1, "Hezekiah sent to all Israel and Judah, and wrote letters also to Ephraim and Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, to keep the passover unto the LORD God of Israel."

Genesis 28:16-17, "Then Jacob awoke from his sleep and said, "Surely the Lord is in this place; and I did not know it."

And he was afraid, and said, "How awesome is this place! This is none other than the house of GOD, and this is the gate of heaven."

Did you notice that the "house of GOD" is not only "awesome", but it is also the "gate of heaven"?

Note also, that the word "awesome" is only for the singular "house of GOD", and the singular "gate of heaven."

2Chronicles 3:1, "And Solomon began to build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem, in mount Moria, which had been shewn to David his father, in the place which David had prepared in the thrashing floor of Ornan the Jebusite."

1Kings 7:51, "Thus all the work that King Solomon did on the house of the LORD was finished.

And Solomon brought in the things which David his father had dedicated, the silver, the gold, and the vessels, and stored them in the treasuries of the house of the LORD."

1Kings 8:10-13, "And when the priests came out of the holy place, a cloud filled the house of the LORD, so that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud; for the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD. Then Solomon said, "The LORD has set the sun in the heavens, but has said that he would dwell in thick darkness. I have built thee an exalted house, a place for thee to dwell in for ever."

So GOD will dwell in His House forever.

Psalms 127:1, "Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain."

If it was not founded by GOD, it simply is not the House of GOD."

"Great shall be the glory of this last house more than of the first, saith the Lord of hosts: and in this place I will give peace, saith the Lord of hosts."

Haggai 2:9 (10)

Notice that this verse refers to a last house (singular) of GOD, and the glory of it is greater than the first.

Micah 4:1-2, "It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established as the highest of the mountains, and shall be raised up above the hills; and peoples shall flow to it, and many nations shall come, and say: "Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob; that he may teach us his ways and we may walk in his paths." For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem."

And the word of the Lord did go forth from Jerusalem and it did indeed encompass the whole world.

Acts 1:8, "But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be witnesses for me in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and even to the very ends of the earth."

---

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old, and the Old Testament is revealed in the New." Saint Augustine

Typology is the key which unlocks this relationship between the Old and the New Testaments.
See how the Old Testament types above, point to the New Testament realities below.

Likewise, in the New Testament, there is only one House of GOD.

1Timothy 3:15, "But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the House of GOD, which is the Church (singular) of the living GOD, the pillar and ground of the truth."

How many "pillars" and "grounds of the truth" can there possibly be?

Truth is one and it is a person, John 17:17-23, James 2:10.

Hebrews 10:21, "And a high priest over the house of GOD:"

1Peter 4:17, "For the time is, that judgment should begin at the house of GOD. And if at first at us, what shall be the end of them that believe not the gospel of God?"

---

Elucidation:

Since Saint Paul in 1Timothy 3:15 clearly equated the House of GOD to the Church of GOD, we can with certainty, make some very substantial and irrefutable conclusions from verses presented in this writing, and by using Holy Scripture ALONE.

I believe the common term for this Protestant invention is Sola Scriptura!

By using your very own GOD given common sense and reasoning power, the end result should be obvious for "He who has wisdom" (Revelation 17:9).

Therefore.....

  49. The House of GOD is the Dwelling Place For GOD. Ephesians 2:22
  50. The House of GOD is Where GOD Will Dwell Forever. 1Kings 8:13

Since there is only One GOD, and His House (Church) is always referred to in the singular*, why then do some try to justify the false belief that GOD has more than one Church? Who can name the one Church which fits all of the Sola Scriptura requirements above?

* It is to be noted that there are about 35 verses in the New Testament in which the word "churches" is used such as Acts 16:5, but in every case they refer to the multiple churches of which the Apostles, all teaching the same truth, founded in various cities. They are all likened to parishes of today, located in many cities but still the same one Church. In the Old Covenant there was only one Jewish temple and it was located in Jerusalem. Jews from miles around had to make long trips in order to visit it. This trend became an impossibility when in the New Covenant, the reach of the House of GOD extended to all the world, Acts 1:8.

Here is an important message from Bishop Fulton J. Sheen (1895-1979), which helps "He who has wisdom" (Revelation 17:9), and GOD given common sense, and the power to reason from Sola Scriptura alone, which is the one and only House of GOD...

"If I were not a Catholic, and were looking for the true Church in the world today, I would look for the one Church which did not get along well with the world; in other words, I would look for the Church which the world hates. My reason for doing this would be, that if Christ is in any one of the churches in the world today, He must still be hated as He was when He was on earth in the flesh. If you would find Christ today, then find the Church that does not get along with the world. Look for the Church which is hated by the world, as Christ was hated by the world. Look for the Church which is accused of being behind the times, as Our Lord was accused of being ignorant and of never having learned. Look for the Church which men sneer at as socially inferior, as they sneered at Our Lord because He came from Nazareth. Look for the Church which is accused of having a devil, as Our Lord was accused of being possessed by Beelzebub, the Prince of Devils. Look for the Church which, in seasons of bigotry, men say must be destroyed in the name of GOD as men crucified Christ and thought they had done a service to GOD. Look for the Church which the world rejects because it claims it is infallible, as Pilate rejected Christ because He called Himself The Truth. Look for the Church which is rejected by the world as Our Lord was rejected by men. Look for the Church which amid the confusion of conflicting opinions, its members love as they love Christ, and respect its Voice as the very voice of its Founder, and the suspicion will grow, that if the Church is unpopular with the spirit of the world, then it is unworldly, and if it is unworldly, it is other-worldly. Since it is other-worldly it is infinitely loved and infinitely hated as was Christ Himself. But only that which is Divine can be infinitely hated and infinitely loved. Therefore the Church is Divine."

Why Protestantism Will Never Last, and Why The Catholic Church Will Ever Last...

---

For the sake of brevity, anyone who calls themselves "Christian", and who are not Catholic, I have grouped all 38,000 different existing denominations as of April 2006, under the title of Protestant in this writing. I realize that many would prefer not to call themselves Protestant, but any Christian who is not Catholic is making a protest against the only Church which Jesus Christ founded whether they care to admit it or not.

The word "protest" comprises the first seven letters of Protestant.

---

Why Protestantism will never last:

1. Simply because Holy Scripture gave no one the authority to found another church other than the one which Jesus Christ founded:

There are now over 38,000* different non-Catholic denominations in the world today. Please show me the verse(s) in Holy Scripture which authorize any human person to found even one of those tens of thousands? Any sect without GOD given authority to exist, is a false man-made sect.

*World Christian Encyclopedia, April 2006. It is a Protestant publication.

2. Simply because Holy Scripture has said it will not survive:

"Unless the Lord builds the house, those who build it labor in vain. Unless the Lord watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain."

Psalms 127:1.

What is meant by the "house that the Lord builds"? Notice that it is a singular "house" and not houses. The answer is in the New Testament:

"But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the Church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth."

1Timothy 3:15

Thus the house built by the Lord is the singular Church of the living GOD.

These verses teach us that GOD founded His one and only Church and none other.

In the Old Testament, there was only one Jewish temple, the singular House of GOD, and it was centered in Jerusalem.

In the New Testament, again GOD set up His one and only Church, and today it is centered in Rome.

This is shown in Matthew 16:18 where Jesus said, "And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Notice that Jesus did say "church" and not "churches" in this verse.

Wouldn't you have to agree that each of these three verses alone, negate all of those tens of thousands of individual man-made sects?

However, there are additional verses which reinforce those three:

"According to the grace of God given to me, like a skilled master builder I laid a foundation, and another man is building upon it. Let each man take care how he builds upon it. For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ."

1Corinthians 3:10-11

No other foundation means, no other church but the one which Jesus Christ founded.

"Everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on rock. The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and buffeted the house. But it did not collapse; it had been set solidly on rock. And everyone who listens to these words of mine but does not act on them will be like a fool who built his house on sand. The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and buffeted the house. And it collapsed and was completely ruined."

Matthew 7:24-27

Notice that Jesus mentioned the house (Church) built upon the "rock" here. This verse gives us a hint of what Jesus will say later in Matthew 16:18. He is the "wise man" who will build His one Church on "rock". It is clear that the "fool who built his house on sand", represents all denominations which were not founded by Jesus Christ.

As Psalms 127:1 said, "those who build it labor in vain". And as Matthew 7:27 continues, "the rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and buffeted the house. And it collapsed and was completely ruined".

"If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand."

Mark 3:24-25

"A (meaning only one) house divided against itself"?

A much worse case situation would be 38,000+ houses divided against themselves, would it not?

---

3. Simply because not one of the thousands of sects can show that it was founded by GOD:

Not one can trace its history back before 1500 A.D.. There are no genuine historical documents that any one of them can find to "prove" that their origins are any older. By the time the first one came into existence, the Catholic Church was already approaching 1500 years of age.

However, all of them can only trace their heritage back to a mere human person founder, and never back to Jesus Christ.

Doesn't Psalms 127:1 seem to echo, echo, echo, here?

Here is a sampling of some of the Protestant denominations and their founding dates:

1521, Martin Luther started Protestantism by forming the Lutherans.

1521, Thomas Munser, a Catholic priest, started Anabaptists a few months after Lutherism.

1525, Mennonites started by Grebel, Mantz, and Blaurock in Switzerland.

1534, Henry VIII started the Church of England (Anglican).

1536, John Calvin, teaching predestination, formed the Calvinists.

1560, John Knox, who studied under Luther, started Presbyterians.

1582, Congregationalists were started by Rob Brown, as a branch from Puritanism.

1609, John Smyth formed the Baptists in Holland.

1639, Roger Williams started the Baptists in America. They have since splintered severely.

1647, George Fox started the Quakers in England.

1739, John and Charles Wesley started the Methodists.

1770, Universalists were started by John Murray in New Jersey.

1774, Theophilus Lindley started Unitarians.
1789, Samuel Seabury started Episcopalians.
1793 to 1809, the Churches of Christ had four separate human persons as founders.
1803, Evangelicals were founded by Jacob Albright in Pennsylvania.
1830, Joseph Smith founded the Mormons in Palmyra New York. See Galatians 1:8-9
1860, William Miller, a farmer, started the Adventists.
1863, Ellen Gould White started the Seventh-Day Adventists.
1865, William Booth started The Salvation Army.
1879, Mary Baker Eddy started Christian Scientists.
1879, Charles Russell started the Jehovah's Witnesses.
1875, New Age was started by Helena Blavatsky. See Colossians 2:8
1895, French Abbe Alfred Loisy, and English Jesuit George Tyrrell started Modernism.
1901, Pentecostalism was started in the United States.
1914, Felix Manalo started Iglesia ni Cristo.
1914, Assembly of GOD was started by a General Assembly in Arkansas.
1919, Church of the Nazarene was started by a Union at a General Assembly.
1930, Independent Churches of America (IFCA), a consortium of churches .
1934, Evangelical Reformed was started by Union at a General Assembly.
1952, L. Ron Hubbard started the Church of Scientology.
1965, Chuck Smith began Calvary Chapel.
1968, Disciples of Christ, separated from the Churches of Christ.
1974, Ken Gullickson started the Vineyard Christian Fellowship.
Pentecostal Gospel, and other splinter Pentecostal groups, are some of the hundreds of new sects founded by mere men in the 20th century.

Go here to see many more.

Were any of these sects founded by GOD, or were they all founded by mere human creatures?

"Has Christ been divided up?" 1Corinthians 1:13

Again! "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it." Psalms 127:1 "

---

4. Simply because they refuse to search for, and to believe the truth:

Who, other than the Catholic Church, really knows the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches? The answer to that one is that NO ONE outside of the Catholic Church does. However, Protestants continue to believe "what they are told" instead of searching for the truth for themselves as Holy Scripture demands.

If you had a Ford to fix, would you take it to a Ford, or to a Chevrolet dealer?

It is the same principle when you want to learn the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches.

You must always go to the source for the truth of what comes from that source.

Why then do anti-Catholic militants continue to perpetuate lies against the Catholic Church, from which they learned from other non-Catholic militant sources?

Those who refuse to go to the source, and who continue to believe the lies of others will be met with the wrath of GOD.

Believe me, their end will not be pretty, and will not be at all what they had expected. They believe they are doing GOD a "service", but instead, they are incurring His wrath. It is one of satan's ways to deceive the innocent.

"For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and wickedness of men who by their wickedness suppress the truth."

Romans 1:18

All of those who refuse to go to the Catholic Church to find the truth of what it teaches, but instead believe what they are told by others, are guilty of Romans 1:18, since they have suppressed the truth.

"...to those who by patience on well-doing seek for glory and honor and immortality, he will give eternal life; but for those who are factious and do not obey the truth, but obey wickedness, there will be wrath and fury."

Romans 2:7-8

Factious? Who is more factious than the 38,000+ Protestant factions?

"But as for the cowardly, the faithless, the polluted, as for murderers, fornicators, sorcerers, idolaters, and all liars their lot shall be in the lake that burns with fire and sulphur, which is the second death."

Revelation 21:8

Wow! Look what happens to liars? Fire and sulphur awaits them. Does that sound like heaven?

"But nothing unclean shall enter it, nor any one who practices abomination or falsehood, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life."

Revelation 21:27

"Outside are the dogs and sorcerers and fornicators and murderers and idolaters, and every one who loves and practices falsehood."

Revelation 22:15

Liars will surely get their just "rewards", but it is certain that the "rewards" will not be in heaven. All of us are obligated to search for the truth, and the consequences for failing to do so are fearful:

"The coming of the lawless one by the activity of Satan will be with all power and with pretended signs and wonders, and with all wicked deception for those who are to perish, because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. Therefore God sends upon them a strong delusion, to make them believe what is false, so that all may be condemned who did not believe the truth but had pleasure in unrighteousness"

2Thessalonians 2:9-12

There are many verses which continue this same theme. See the consequences link for many more.

IF YOU WISH TO AVOID ALL OF THIS WRATH, THE SOLUTION IS SIMPLE. IF YOU HAVE NOT GONE TO THE SOURCE TO LEARN THE TRUTH, THEN DO NOT PROPAGATE THE LIE. IF YOU HAVE REFUSED TO GO TO THE SOURCE FOR THE TRUTH, THEN YOU DESERVE WHAT YOU GET. REMEMBER THAT GOD ALWAYS GETS THE LAST LAUGH. HE IS THE JUST JUDGE OF YOUR IMMORTAL SOUL. BE SURE THAT YOU READ THE LAST LINE OF THIS SECTION # 4.

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."

Cardinal Ratzinger, October 9, 2000

However, He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death.

5. Simply because they simply refuse to take advantage of the teaching of Holy Scripture and the stories about those in the past who were disobedient to GOD's chosen Father Figures. If you will recall, GOD has always spoken through a Father Figure and not through the populace as a whole, be it through the great prophets, or through Noah, Abraham, Jacob, Moses, David, John the Baptist, Simon Peter, or through Saint Simon Peter's unbroken line of successors down through almost two thousand years.

Read of the rebellion against the authority of Moses by Korah (Core) and his followers. The story is in Numbers 16:1-35. Here is Korah's demand in verses 1-3. See how the demands of Korah are echoed by Martin Luther thousands of years later:

"Korah, son of Izhar, son of Kohath, son of Levi, (and Dathan and Abiram, sons of Eliab, son of Pallu, son of Reuben) took two hundred and fifty Israelites who were leaders in the community, members of the council and men of note. They stood before Moses, and held an assembly against Moses and Aaron, to whom they said, "Enough from you! The whole community, all of them, are holy; the LORD is in their midst. Why then should you set yourselves over the LORD'S congregation?"

Isn't this last line reminiscent of the demands of Luther?

Read about how Moses pleaded with him not to break away in verses 10-11:

"He has allowed you and your kinsmen, the descendants of Levi, to approach him, and yet you now seek the priesthood too. It is therefore against the LORD that you and all your band are conspiring. For what has Aaron done that you should grumble against him?"

Read Acts 5:38-39 for an echo of what Moses said to Korah and his followers.

GOD's Father Figure on earth at the time of Luther, did exactly as Moses had done with Korah, as he too had pleaded with Luther to end his rebellion. However, like Korah, Luther was adamant, and refused the overtures of GOD's Father Figure on earth, the Pope.

Be sure and read of the ending of Korah and of all of his followers in Numbers 16:25-35.

It is not pretty.

Then there is the story of Miriam and Aaron who rebelled against the authority of Moses in Numbers 12:1-15. "(vs 2) They complained, "Is it through Moses alone that the LORD speaks? Does he not speak through us also?" And the LORD heard this."

This is essentially the same argument of which Korah had against Moses.

See what happened to Miriam in verse 10 for her disobedience to the authority of Moses?

Again, it is not pretty what happened to her.

"But these people revile what they do not understand and are destroyed by what they know by nature like irrational animals. Woe to them! They followed the way of Cain, abandoned themselves to Balaam's error for the sake of gain, and perished in the rebellion of Korah."

Jude 1:10-11

How many Catholic teachings are reviled by those who refuse to go to the source for the truth of what the Catholic Church teaches and instead prefer to believe what they are told by others?

We all know the story of Cain and Abel in Genesis 4:1-26 where Cain was banished from the land that was given the special protection of GOD. The one Church which Jesus Christ founded is also given special protection by GOD. See Matthew 16:18, 28:20, John 14:16-18, Ephesians 5:23.

Balaam was paid by king Balak to put a curse upon Israel. However, GOD prevented Balaam from doing so and instead Balaam gave Israel a blessing. Read the whole story of Balaam in Numbers 22-31. Read this and see how Martin Luther cursed the Pope, GOD's Father Figure on earth. Balaam met his end by being executed by the sword of Israel in Numbers 31:8.

Who is the Father Figure in the tens of thousands of Protestant sects? There is none because the first Protestant, a lowly priest without any authority, said one was not needed. Since GOD always had a Father Figure isn't that a rebellion against the will of GOD? Do you think GOD obeyed the first Protestant and agreed that a Father Figure was no longer needed? If you say yes to that one then you have just elevated the will of a lowly man or woman above the will of GOD.

Those who fail to profit from the teaching of Holy Scripture regarding the grave human errors committed in Biblical History, are doomed to repeat them again....and have!

6. Simply because, as Holy Scripture teaches us, that none of them can have the fullness of truth:

"Knowledge of the mysteries of the kingdom of God has been granted to you; but to the rest, they are made known through parables so that 'they may look but not see, and hear but not understand.'"

Luke 8:10

Since truth is one, the fullness of truth can be in only one Church, the one founded by truth Himself.

7. Simply because they all teach something different:

Since Jesus Christ is truth, that means truth is one. It stands to reason that if each of the tens of thousands of individual sects teach something different to distinguish themselves from the others, then which one, if any, teaches the one truth?

This principal is born out simply by analyzing what each one teaches:

One has infant Baptism, another bans it. One worships only on Saturday, whereas another on Sunday. One has female ministers, another says that is not biblical. One says the Eucharist is the Body of Christ, whereas another says it is only a symbol. I could go on and on through every subject. Every doctrine taught by one is denied by another, except for the existence of GOD. Every one of these tens of thousands of sects acts as if they had their own Pope. If that does not sound bad enough, some sects even teach a "feel good" theology, if it feels good for you, then it must be the truth. By doing this, each individual member becomes his or her very own pope. Instead of thousands of popes, running around, each proclaiming the truth, we have millions.

Wherein does the authority lie? What is the ending for this chaos?

Opinions, opinions, all of these Protestant denominations are guided by mere human personal opinion only, even though they all say they are guided by the Holy Spirit. How can that possibly be? How could one Holy Spirit teach such variances of doctrine? The answer is that He could not, for the Church which Jesus Christ founded is not governed by mere human opinions, but by GOD given doctrinal truth, and that truth, like GOD, is one.

GOD has no regard for the opinions of men, but only for doctrinal truth, as Scripture tells us:

"...Teacher, we know that you are a truthful man and that you are not concerned with anyone's opinion. You do not regard a person's status but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth."

Mark 12:14

Why do Protestants ignore this verse as well as so many others that I have listed in this writing? Aren't they simply picking and choosing the verses which "feel good" for them, while at the same time rejecting those verses which clearly show the error of which they are in?

"Now when Jesus came into the district of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, "Who do men say that the Son of man is?" And they said, "Some say John the Baptist, others say Elijah, and others Jeremiah or one of the prophets." He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?" Simon Peter replied, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." And Jesus answered him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jona! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven."

Matthew 16:13-17

These verses offer a perfect example of personal opinions (for flesh and blood has not revealed this to you) none of which were correct, and then GOD given doctrinal truth (but my Father who is in heaven).

Peter, the first Pope, was the only one who had doctrinal truth, because he was given it directly by GOD. All of the rest merely had an opinion.

Did the Holy Spirit prompt those who merely had a personal opinion?

Not at all, since none of them expressed the truth, and Jesus Christ did say the truth was revealed by the Father to Simon Peter only.

I have asked non-Catholics, "What is the pillar and foundation of truth?" I am told, it is the Bible in many cases. Here is another verse ignored by those who find it to be too "uncomfortable" to ponder; "But if I should be delayed, you should know how to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of truth."

1Timothy 3:15

So who has the truth according to Holy Scripture? Is it the opinions of millions of pseudo popes in 38,000 different sects, or is it the one and only Church which Jesus Christ founded?

"But the hour is coming, and is now here, when true worshipers will worship the Father in Spirit and truth; and indeed the Father seeks such people to worship him. GOD is Spirit, and those who worship him must worship in Spirit and truth."

John 4:23-24

True worshipers must worship in truth. This is a command and not a suggestion. If you are not in the "pillar and foundation of truth", which is the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, then you are not abiding by Holy Scripture.

"That servant who knew his master's will but did not make preparations nor act in accord with his will shall be beaten severely;"

Luke 12:47

It is the will of GOD that we worship in truth. Those who refuse to accept the truth, which comes from the one Church founded by Jesus Christ, will face the consequences at death.

"For the Holy Spirit and we have decided to lay no further burden upon you but this indispensable one..."

Acts 15:28

However, the Holy Spirit did guide the Apostles in the first Catholic Church Council, the Council of Jerusalem in 49 A.D., as shown in the above verse. It is so clear that this was a decision made not by the opinions of mere human creatures alone. This process continues to this very day, for the Holy Spirit has been guiding the Church which Jesus Christ founded ever since then.

Here is the proof of what I just said:

"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you."

John 14:16-17

Here is yet more proof:

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

John 16:12-13

Did you notice the future tense in these verses, "he will guide you...", and "he will declare to you the things that are to come"?

Holy Scripture clearly has said that the Holy Spirit will guide the Church which Jesus Christ founded, and He will guide it for ever. This is proof positive that the Spirit could not possibly be guiding any of the tens of thousands of sects which are each teaching something different from the one truth, and whose teachings are based solely upon the opinions of mere human creatures. If the Holy Spirit were teaching them, then they would have to be all in agreement with one other. Isn't that true? However, it is so obvious that they are not in agreement at all, and in so many ways.

"And we also thank God constantly for this, that when you received the word of God which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men but as what it really is, the word of God, which is at work in you believers."

1Thessalonians 2:13

Scripture has so clearly told us not to obey the opinions of men, but only the truth of GOD.

"But Peter and the apostles answered, "We must obey God rather than men"." Acts 5:29

Doesn't this one verse alone pre-empt all of us from obeying the opinions of men?

No? Well here is another one:

"If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of GOD is greater..." 1John 5:9

"May the GOD of patience and of comfort grant you to be of one mind towards one another according to Jesus Christ; that in one spirit, you may with one mouth glorify the GOD and Father of Our Lord Jesus Christ."

Romans 15:5-6

How many one's do count in those 2 verses?

Does it say you shall be tens of thousands of minds, anywhere?

"What the soul is to man's body, the Holy Spirit is to the Body of Christ, which is the Church. The Holy Spirit does in the whole Church what the soul does in all members of one body. But see what you must beware of, see what you must take note of, see what you must fear. It happens that in the human body, or rather, off the body, some member, whether hand, finger, or foot, may be cut away. And if a member be cut off, does the soul go with it? When the member was in the body, it lived; and off, its life is lost. So too, a Christian man is Catholic while he lives in the body; cut off, he is made a heretic; the Spirit does not follow an amputated member."

Saint Augustine of Hippo, Sermons, 267, 4, 391-430 A.D.

8. Simply because they teach an "ear tickling" theology:

"For the time is coming when people will not endure sound teaching, but having itching ears they will accumulate for themselves teachers to suit their own likings, and will turn away from listening to the truth and wander into myths."

2Timothy 4:3-4

The time is not coming any longer, AS PROTESTANTISM HAS BROUGHT IT UPON US NOW.

Read on for proof of this...

Now you can pick and choose any type of theology which sounds comfortable to your "itching ears".

If you have a fear of hell and do not want to accept it, well do not despair, for there are many who will tell you that there is no hell, as it simply is a myth. Never mind what the Bible says on the subject, believe our human "opinions" instead. Does that make you feel better now?

Do you scoff at the notion that Jesus Christ is truly present in the Holy Eucharist, in spite of what Holy Scripture in John Chapter 6 teaches us?

Well do not be concerned, for you have a wide choice of those who teach that it is only a symbol.

Are you unsure of your salvation? Never fear, for some will tell you that you are saved now and forever, regardless of how many sins you commit in this life. So go out and have a good time and rest assured that you are saved no matter what you do. Isn't that comforting for the "itching ears", and doesn't it make life seem so much easier by not having to be anxious as to where you will spend eternity?

Is having children a bother for you? Never fear, for many of them teach that abortion is a simple solution for you, although they will not call it abortion, but "pro-choice". That title does sound much less harsh, than the murder of the innocents as it really is. How much "choice" does the completely innocent child in the womb have? And of course, they will never tell you that you are committing murder by doing it, will they? What do you suppose GOD has to say on this subject, or do you care? Read this abortion file for the answer as to what GOD thinks of murder in the womb.

"Now the serpent was more subtle than any other wild creature that the Lord God had made. He said to the woman, "Did God say, 'You shall not eat of any tree of the garden'?" And the woman said to the serpent, "We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden; but God said, 'You shall not eat of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, neither shall you touch it, lest you die.'" But the serpent said to the woman, "You will not die. For GOD knows that when you eat of it your eyes will be opened, and you will be like GOD, knowing good and evil." So when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was a delight to the eyes, and that the tree was desired to make one wise, she took of its fruit and ate; and she also gave some to her husband, and he ate."

Genesis 3:1-6

So what is different today? Not a thing.

Many today still would rather listen to the serpent with his "easy theology", than to listen to GOD.

So just take your very own list of what you want to believe, and what you refuse to believe, and just go shopping through the 38,000+ sects from which you have to choose, and maybe someday you will find the one which suits your "opinions". If you cannot find one, you can always think about starting another one which does fit. After all, most of those 38,000+ were started in that very same manner.

Now show me the verse in the Bible where Jesus Christ gave anyone the authority to be cafeteria Christians who say, "I will take this because it is to my liking but I will reject that because it isn't"?

9. Simply because in all of Protestantism there is no central governing body:

Who in all of Protestantism has any GOD given authority to be the central governing body?

The answer is that there isn't anyone.

Holy Scripture tells us that authority was given by GOD to His one and only Church.

Echo, Psalms 127:1

"Let every person be subordinate to the higher authorities, for there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been established by God. Therefore, whoever resists authority opposes what God has appointed, and those who oppose it will bring judgment upon themselves."

Romans 13:1-2

Just imagine a United States with 38,000+ presidents at the same time? How long would the country last? In which direction would the country head? Surely it could head in only one direction, and that direction is straight down. It would be impossible to govern and it would simply stagnate, die, disintegrate, and decay. If you put just five people together in a room could you get them all to agree with one another all of the time? How about tens of thousands in the same room? Simple common sense should tell sane people that more than one heads of state, or heads of GOD's Church, at the same time, simply would never work. But alas, where is common sense today?

When these sects have an internal dispute over doctrine, they simply split and form yet another sect. Baptists alone are split into over a score of major splinters and scores more of minor ones.

In 2000 the Southern Baptists split yet again over doctrinal disputes such as the ordination of women and other issues. Most of the others are factious also. Can you see now why trying to govern by personal opinion is self defeating?

Is all of this chaos in obedience with the command of Jesus, "...that all may be one,..." as He said in John 17:21-22?

10. Simply by looking at the extremely poor track record of previous heresies, because the survival rate of heresies against the Catholic Church are almost non-existent, with one exception...Islam, and the reasons for its survival are far different from the failures of all of the others:

Just look at the historical records of a few of the previous heresies before Protestantism was started by mere human creatures, and not by GOD. Scores of heretical movements sprang up over the centuries. Just a few of them are mentioned here, Judaizers, Ebionites, Simonians, Cerinthians, Basilidians, Carpocratians, Gnostics, Valentinians, Marcionites, Cerdonians, Docetists, Montanists, Encratites, Monarchians, Novatianists, Manichaeans, Pelagianists, Arians, Nestorians, Icanoclasts, Albigensians, Waldenses, Catharists, etc, etc, and etc.. Where are they all today? They all died out, simply because "no lie is of the truth". Truth cannot be refuted, and the lie cannot be proven.

Holy Scripture warns against persecution of the Church which Jesus Christ founded:

"Give no offense to Jews or to Greeks or to the church of God..."

1Corinthians 10:32

---

11. Simply because Protestantism is imploding, and the hand writing is on the wall to prove it:

In 1521, the year the reformation started, there was only one Protestant sect, Lutherism, the one which the first Protestant, Martin Luther founded. A short time later, Munzer, founded another one, then Zwingli, Calvin, and Henry VIII followed suit. By 1600 there were about 100. In 1900 there were 1000. By 1981 there were 22,000. In 2006, 38,000 were counted, all founded by mere human men or women. Where was their GOD given authority to do so? Protestant sects, as they become more numerous, are also becoming smaller and smaller. Do the calculations yourself. It is only a matter of time before each will become so small that it will become impossible for them to support themselves. At the rate things are going, it is inevitable that each member will become his or her own ecclesial community. You can only slice an apple into so many pieces before you are compelled to call it apple sauce, a form not even resembling the original.

"There is not enough time in the day for me to recite even the names of all the various sects of heretics."

Saint Ambrose of Milan, The Mystery of the Lord's Incarnation, 5,35, 382 A.D.

I must repeat myself here, for this next verse fits the topic of this #10 section as well as the #2 section above.

"If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand."

Mark 3:24-25

A "house divided against itself"?

A much worse case situation would be 38,000 houses divided against themselves, all of which will surely not stand for long.

"But there were false prophets also among the people, just as among you there will be lying teachers who will bring in destructive sects. They even disown the Lord who bought them, thus bringing upon themselves swift destruction. And many will follow their wanton conduct, and because of them the way of truth will be maligned. And out of greed they will with deceitful words use you for their gain. Their condemnation, passed of old, is not made void, and their destruction does not slumber."

2Peter 2:1-3

Destructive sects? What does that sound like? Isn't dividing Christ into over thirty thousand pieces destructive? Maligning the way of truth? I thought truth was one, and if that is true as Scripture so clearly states, then there can be only ONE true Church. What about those words of condemnation and destruction in those verses? To whom do they apply?

"Oh what a tangled web we weave when we first practice to deceive." Sir Walter Scott

Why the Catholic Church will ever last:

1. Simply by just looking at its longevity record:

Soon it will have been in existence for 2000 years. It has endured attacks from within and from without for almost all of those 2000 years, yet it is still the oldest, longest lasting living institution on earth. These attacks were from the very beginning, and started with the Jews. Look what happened to them instead! Jerusalem and the temple were destroyed and every Jewish priest was slain by the Romans in 70 A.D.. It takes a priest (Bishop) to make a priest and since the Jews had no priests to make new ones, that is the reason why they have no priests today, but only Rabbi's. The Aaronic priesthood came to a brutal ending. Judaism was almost completely destroyed. Then came the Romans who burned Christians at the stake and fed them to the lions. They, in turn, and their evil pagan empire with them, collapsed in 476 A.D.. Then came the Nestorians, Arians, Vandals, Moslems, Waldenses, Albigensians, Catharists, Protestantism, the French Revolution, Modernism, Nazism, Communism, Dissidents, and now Secular Humanism, Fundamentalism, Relativism, Indifferentism, and Hedonism. There are many more heretical groups and beliefs which are not listed here. Where are the above ones today? Since all of the listed heretical groups did their best to destroy the Catholic Church for 20 centuries, why do you think they failed? If all of that man made "power" could not destroy the Catholic Church, why then do some bigots of today think they can? Heretics and bigots have been trying to bury the Catholic Church for almost 2000 years, yet it is the Catholic Church which is burying them instead. Those who are ignorant of history are doomed to repeat the errors of others before them, and in so doing they never profit from previous mistakes.

Today, the Catholic Church is far from "imploding", as Protestantism is doing. In fact it is going the other way. It is "exploding" instead, with well over 1.1 billion Catholics on earth today, which is one sixth of the entire population of the whole world. To what, or to "whom", would you say is responsible for this two millennia of longevity and endurance?

Name the Church which is fulfilling the command of Jesus Christ in Matthew 28:19, "Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations..."

These Persecutions were foretold by Jesus Christ Himself:

Matthew 5:11-12, "Blessed are you when men revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so men persecuted the prophets who were before you."

Luke 6:26, "Woe to you, when all men speak well of you, for so their fathers did to the false prophets."

Most of Protestantism does not speak well of Catholics or of the Catholic Church, so I would venture to say that these verses speak of the Catholic Church, wouldn't you? If you do not agree, then please give me the name of the church of which Jesus spoke in these verses?

"Fear not, for I am with thee: turn not aside, for I am your GOD. I have strengthened thee, and have helped thee, and the right hand of My Just One hath upheld thee. Behold all that fight against thee shall be confounded (split into 38,000 pieces maybe?) and ashamed, as they shall be as nothing, and the men shall perish that strive against thee."

Isaiah 41:10-11

"And they shall fight against thee, and shall not prevail, for I am with thee, said the Lord, to deliver thee."

Jeremiah 1:19

Words of wisdom from two saints, one of which is also a Church Father:

"This Church is Holy, the One Church, the True Church, the Catholic Church, fighting as she does against all heresies. She can fight, but she cannot be beaten. All heresies are expelled from her, like the useless loppings pruned from a vine. She remains fixed in her root, in her vine, in her love. The gates of hell shall not conquer her."

Saint Augustine of Hippo, Sermon to Catechumens, on the Creed, 6,14, 395 A.D.

"It is an unhappy ending for those who attack the Catholic Church."

Saint Robert Bellarmine 1542-1621

Those who take pleasure in kicking "The Rock", have never learned that all they will ever accomplish is to hurt their own foot. They never learned either, that those who are ignorant of history are prone to repeat its mistakes. Where are all of these attackers today? Most are gone, some of the others are splintered so badly that they are practically impotent, and some are still with us temporarily. There will always be new ones popping up, like weeds amongst the wheat. After all, you cannot have a rose without a few thorns.

"...And at harvest time I will say to the reapers: gather up the weeds first and bind them in bundles to burn; but gather the wheat into My barn."

Matthew 13:30

Who is the wheat here, and who are the weeds?

Did you not know that Jesus Christ is the savior of His Body the Church?

"... just as Christ is head of the Church, being himself savior of the body."

Ephesians 5:23

Well then,

"If GOD is for us, who is against us?"

Romans 8:31

That verse sums up this whole section into just 9 words.

I wonder if any of those who attack the Catholic Church have ever read or understood

Ephesians 5:23, and Romans 8:31?

They are the reasons why the Catholic Church still stands after 2000 years of persecution, and will continue to stand until the end of time. It is the promise of GOD.

What force on earth would give you trepidation, if the Lord of Lords, and the King of Kings is with you?

---

2. Simply because Old Testament Holy Scripture says it will:

"And when your time comes and you rest with your ancestors, I will raise up your heir after you, sprung from your loins, and I will make his kingdom firm. It is he who shall build a house for my name. And I will make his royal throne firm forever. I will be a father to him, and he shall be a son to me. And if he does wrong, I will correct him with the rod of men and with human chastisements; but I will not withdraw my favor from him as I withdrew it from your predecessor Saul, whom I removed from my presence. Your house and your kingdom shall endure forever before me; your throne shall stand firm forever."

2Samuel 7:12-16

"And as for me, this is my covenant with them, says the Lord: my spirit which is upon you, and my words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart out of your mouth, or out of the mouth of your children, or out of the mouth of your children's children, says the Lord, from this time forth and for evermore."

Isaiah 59:21

"And in the days of those kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed, nor shall its sovereignty be left to another people. It shall break in pieces all these kingdoms and bring them to an end, and it shall stand forever;"

Daniel 2:44

"And to him was given dominion and glory and kingdom, that all peoples, nations, and languages should serve him; his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom one that shall not be destroyed."

Daniel 7:14

---

3. Simply because New Testament Holy Scripture also says it will:

We have Scriptural guarantees of perpetuality from GOD Himself.

"And I say to you, you are Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you. And behold, I am with you always, until the end of the age."

Matthew 28:19-20

"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you."

John 14:16-17

"I will not leave you orphans; I will come to you."

John 14:18

"To Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus down through all the ages of time without end. Amen."

Ephesians 3:21

"Therefore let us be grateful for receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, and thus let us offer to God acceptable worship, with reverence and awe; for our God is a consuming fire."

Hebrews 12:28-29

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work, is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD."

Acts 5:38-39

I believe Acts 5:38-39 sums up the turbulent history of the Catholic Church, and of its many attackers over the last 2000 years quite nicely. How could any human institution last for 2000 years while under constant persecution? Unrelenting futile attacks by hundreds of heretical groups for two millennia is indicative of the fact that the Catholic Church clearly is of GOD and is not of men. How else could you possibly account for its survivability under such difficult circumstances?

I have listed many references from both the Old and New Testaments in which we have the promises of GOD that His one Church will be defended from within and from without by GOD Himself. Now if anyone does not believe that these verses apply to the Catholic Church, then pray tell me to which church do they apply? Not one Protestant denomination even appeared on the scene until almost 1500 years after Jesus Christ founded His Church, so it could not be any one of those tens of thousands that those verses address.

4. Simply because we can show by many means that Jesus Christ founded the Catholic Church:

If you believe that Holy Scripture is inspired by GOD, then you must realize that it was the Catholic Church who gave the Bible to the whole world. The Catholic Church is the mother of the Bible, not the daughter.

There is proof from Apostolic Succession.

There is an unbroken line of successive visible Father Figures, the Popes.

There is a huge library of genuine historical documents from every one of the twenty centuries which can be researched by anyone. Hundreds of these writings mention the Catholic Church by name starting from 107 A.D.*

Here are 140 reasons why it is the Catholic Church which Jesus Christ founded and none other. For all of those who attack the Catholic Church, I ask you to show me just one reason why you think it is your denomination that Jesus Christ founded. Be sure to include genuine historical documents "proving" what you say. I am not interested in personal opinions, or in quotes from an anti-Catholic book, just the facts only please.

Also, in your "opinion", if Jesus Christ did not found the Catholic Church, then please give me the name of the person who did, since all churches on earth have a namable founder?

Do not forget your document(s) of "proof" of what you say.

After all of this, where is the Catholic Church today? The Catholic Church, despite all of the slings and arrows from all quarters, is still here, still very much viable, still preaching and teaching the truth of Jesus Christ, as it has been doing for almost 2000 years, and... it is still growing even faster. Why? Simply because GOD is at the helm as I have shown. Satan, the father of lies (John 8:44), and his heretical helpers, who cannot show that they have any authority whatsoever, have lost.

---

5. Simply because only the Catholic Church fits perfectly with what Scripture says about the trials and tribulations of the Body of Christ:

A message from Bishop Fulton J. Sheen...

"If I were not a Catholic, and were looking for the true Church in the world today, I would look for the one Church which did not get along well with the world; in other words, I would look for the Church which the world hates. My reason for doing this would be, that if Christ is in any one of the churches in the world today, He must still be hated as He was when He was on earth in the flesh. If you would find Christ today, then find the Church that does not get along with the world. Look for the Church which is hated by the world, as Christ was hated by the world. Look for the Church which is accused of being behind the times, as Our Lord was accused of being ignorant and of never having learned. Look for the Church which men sneer at as socially inferior, as they sneered at Our Lord because He came from Nazareth. Look for the Church which is accused of having a devil, as Our Lord was accused of being possessed by Beelzebub, the Prince of Devils. Look for the Church which, in seasons of bigotry, men say must be destroyed in the name of GOD as men crucified Christ and thought they had done a service to GOD. Look for the Church which the world rejects because it claims it is infallible, as Pilate rejected Christ because He called Himself The Truth. Look for the Church which is rejected by the world as Our Lord was rejected by men. Look for the Church which amid the confusion of conflicting opinions, its members love as they love Christ, and respect its Voice as the very voice of its Founder, and the suspicion will grow, that if the Church is unpopular with the spirit of the world, then it is unworldly, and if it is unworldly, it is other-worldly. Since it is other-worldly it is infinitely loved and infinitely hated as was Christ Himself. But only that which is Divine can be infinitely hated and infinitely loved. Therefore the Church is Divine."

6. Simply because the barque of Peter has Christ aboard:

"While the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Gennesaret. And he saw two boats by the lake; but the fishermen had gone out of them and were washing their nets. Getting into one of the boats, which was Simon's, he asked him to put out a little from the land. And he sat down and taught the people from the boat."

Luke 5:1-3

"And when he got into the boat, his disciples followed him. And behold, there arose a great storm on the sea, so that the boat was being swamped by the waves; but he was asleep. And they went and woke him, saying, "Save, Lord; we are perishing." And he said to them, "Why are you afraid, O men of little faith?" Then he rose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. And the men marveled, saying, "What sort of man is this, that even winds and sea obey him?"
Matthew 8:23-27, Mark 4:35-40, Luke 8:22-26

"Though the mountains leave their place and the hills be shaken, My love shall never leave you nor my covenant of peace be shaken, says the LORD, who has mercy on you. O afflicted one, storm-battered and unconsoled, I lay your pavements in carnelians, and your foundations in sapphires; I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of carbuncles, and all your walls of precious stones. All your sons shall be taught by the Lord, and great shall be the peace of your children. In justice shall you be established, far from the fear of oppression, where destruction cannot come near you. Should there be any attack, it shall not be of my making; whoever attacks you shall fall before you. Lo, I have created the craftsman who blows on the burning coals and forges weapons as his work; It is I also who have created the destroyer to work havoc. No weapon fashioned against you shall prevail; every tongue you shall prove false that launches an accusation against you. This is the lot of the servants of the LORD, their vindication from me, says the LORD."
Isaiah 54:10-17

Of all of the heretical groups that have failed in the past 2000 years, not one heeded the many warnings of Holy Scripture.

Isaiah is not to be ignored here.

Also did you notice that when the storm (heretics and detractors) threatens the Barque of Peter (the one true church, prefigured by Noah's ark) that Jesus is there to calm the storm and to protect His Church? What happened to the storm? It was vanquished!

Do you, who attack the Catholic Church, heed the dire warnings of Holy Scripture? If 2000 years of constant attacks against the Catholic Church have failed, what makes you think yours will succeed?

---

The storm-battered barque of Peter will survive because Christ is aboard.
Luke 5:1-3

---

"So now I say to you, keep away from these men and let them alone.
For if this plan or work, is of men, it will be overthrown;
but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it.
Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against GOD."
Acts 5:38-39

The Amputated Member...

---

Attention all non-Catholics who "claim" to follow the teaching of Holy Scripture!

Have you ever read 1Corinthians 12:1-31 before?

Have you understood the message written therein?

- (1) "Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I do not want you to be uninformed.
- (2) You know that when you were heathen, you were led astray to dumb idols, however you may have been moved.
- (3) Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking by the Spirit of God ever says "Jesus be cursed!" and no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except by the Holy Spirit.
- (4) Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit;
- (5) and there are varieties of service, but the same Lord;
- (6) and there are varieties of working, but it is the same God who inspires them all in every one.
- (7) To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.
- (8) To one is given through the Spirit the utterance of wisdom, and to another the utterance of knowledge according to the same Spirit,
- (9) to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by the one Spirit,
- (10) to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another the ability to distinguish between spirits, to another various kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.
- (11) All these are inspired by one and the same Spirit, who apportions to each one individually as he wills.
- (12) For just as the body is one and has many members, and all the members of the body, though many, are one body, so it is with Christ.
- (13) For by one spirit we were all baptized into one body--Jews or Greeks, slaves or free--and all were made to drink of one Spirit.
- (14) For the body does not consist of one member but of many.
- (15) If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body.
- (16) And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," that would not make it any less a part of the body.
- (17) If the whole body were an eye, where would be the hearing? If the whole body were an ear, where would be the sense of smell?
- (18) But as it is, God arranged the organs in the body, each one of them, as he chose.
- (19) If all were a single organ, where would the body be?
- (20) As it is, there are many parts, yet one body.
- (21) The eye cannot say to the hand, "I have no need of you," nor again the head to the feet, "I have no need of you."
- (22) On the contrary, the parts of the body which seem to be weaker are indispensable,
- (23) and those parts of the body which we think less honorable we invest with the greater honor, and our unrepresentable parts are treated with greater modesty,
- (24) which our more presentable parts do not require. But God has so composed the body, giving the greater honor to the inferior part,
- (25) that there be no discord in the body, but that the members may have the same care for one another.
- (26) If one member suffers, all suffer together; if one member is honored, all rejoice together.
- (27) Now you are the body of Christ and individually members of it.
- (28) And God has appointed in the church first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then workers of miracles, then healers, helpers, administrators, speakers in various kinds of tongues.
- (29) Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles?
- (30) Do all possess gifts of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret?
- (31) But earnestly desire the higher gifts. And I will show you a still more excellent way."

1Corinthians 12:1-31

"...and he has put all things under his feet and has made him the head over all things for the church, which is his body, the fulness of him who fills all in all."

Ephesians 1:22-23

Elucidation:

1. There is but one Body of Christ (vs 12).
2. The Body of Christ is the Church which He founded, Ephesians 1:22-23
3. Therefore the Church which Jesus Christ founded IS Christ.
4. Therefore those who reject His Church, reject Him. Matthew 12:30
5. Since there is but one Christ with one Body, so there must be but one Church. Psalms 127:1, Matthew 16:18
6. The Body (Church) consists of not one member, but many (vs 14).
7. The many members of the one (Church) Body are all part of the same Body but each with his own function (vs's 15-20).
8. The Body of Christ cannot be separated from His Head.
9. Since the Body consists of members, individual members of the Body can be separated from the Head.
10. GOD has said that there must be no discord within the Body (vs 25).
11. However, there was great discord within the one Body, and it was a clear violation of verse 25.
12. It is called the Protestant Revolt.
13. Leaders and members of the Protestant Revolt Amputated themselves from the one Body (Church) (vs 21).
14. Each member of the Body has his own function, by analogy, an eye, ear, hand, foot (vs's 15-18).
15. Can a hand live by itself, disconnected (Amputated) from the Body, or can an eye, an ear, or a foot?
16. What happens to a member which is Amputated from the Body?
17. The soul does not go with the Amputated member, and thus the member dies.

"For as in one body we have many members, and all the members do not have the same function so we, though many, are one body in Christ, and individually members one of another." Romans 12:4-5
These verses clearly do not leave room for Amputated members.

"Because there is one bread, we who are many are one body, for we all partake of the one bread." 1Corinthians 10:17

Show me where Amputated members partake of the "one bread"?

Here is a very interesting observation from Saint Augustine (354-430)...

"What the soul is to man's body, the Holy Spirit is to the Body of Christ, which is the Church. The Holy Spirit does in the whole Church what the soul does in all members of one body. But see what you must beware of, see what you must take note of, see what you must fear. It happens that in the human body, or rather, off the body, some member, whether hand, finger, or foot, may be cut away. And if a member be cut off, does the soul go with it? When the member was in the body, it lived; and off, its life is lost. So too, a Christian man is Catholic while he lives in the body; cut off, he is made a heretic; the Spirit does not follow an amputated member." Sermons, 267, 4, 391-430 A.D.

Elucidation:

1. The Holy Spirit is the Soul of the Body of Christ which is the one Church.
2. The Holy Spirit does in the whole Church what the soul does in all members of the one Body.
3. When a member of the Body is Amputated, the soul does not go with it*, and thus the member dies.
4. The Amputated member, when cut off from the Body of Christ, is made a heretic.
5. The Holy Spirit does not follow an Amputated member (heretic).
6. Therefore the Holy Spirit, not following an Amputated member, is only guiding the one Church which Jesus Christ founded.

*Unlike the body which has many parts and can be divided, the soul has no parts and thus cannot be divided.

---

Now for all of those who think that all they need is a one on one relationship with Jesus Christ, the Head of His Church, and have Amputated themselves from His Body, they had better heed the teaching of Holy Scripture, as shown very clearly above. A hand detached from the body has no life and cannot exist for very long on its own. How could a hand alone, divorced from the body, be in any way attached to the head? Nowhere in Scripture is it said that parts of the one Body may separate themselves into individual Amputated members.

However, Holy Scripture clearly does say that unfruitful members can be Amputated by GOD.

"I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinedresser. Every branch of mine that bears no fruit, he takes away, and every branch that does bear fruit he prunes, that it may bear more fruit. You are already made clean by the word which I have spoken to you. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit by itself, unless it abides in the vine, neither can you, unless you abide in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and I in him, he it is that bears much fruit, for apart from me you can do nothing. If a man does not abide in me, he is cast forth as a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire and burned."

John 15:1-6

Clearly, those who have Amputated themselves from the Body, are not bearing fruit for the Head or the Body.

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters", is what the Head has said, Matthew 12:30

With more than 35,000 Protestant sects in the world today, are those who are doing the scattering bearing fruit for the Vine?

Are they still attached to the one Vine? Aren't they the dissenters and dividers spoken of in 1Corinthians 1:10 and 11:18-19?

Aren't they the ones who violated Hebrews 13:17?

"Obey your prelates and be subject to them. For they watch as being to render an account of your souls: that they may do this with joy and not with grief. For this is not expedient for you."

Haven't they illegally Amputated themselves from the vine, or have they been Amputated by the vinedresser?

To the contrary, the Body of Christ is commanded by GOD to be one...

Jesus said, "I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." John 17:20-21

"May the God of steadfastness and encouragement grant you to live in such harmony with one another, in accord with Christ Jesus, that together you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ." Romans 15: 5-6

"I appeal to you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree and that there be no dissensions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment." 1Corinthians 1:10

For, in the first place, when you assemble as a church, I hear that there are divisions among you; and I partly believe it, for there must be factions among you in order that those who are genuine among you may be recognized." 1Corinthians 11:18-19

All who are not joined to the one Body and one Church of Jesus Christ are in violation of those verses, and of others . United in the same mind? United in the same judgment? No dissensions? No divisions? No factions?

You certainly cannot say any of these things about Protestantism with its 35,000+ denominations can you?

It is interesting that there must be factions (Amputated members) so that the true members of the Body of Christ are made manifest.

Those who have the truth shine like beacons ✨ among the heretical Amputated members.

They are those who fit this verse, "You are the light ✨ of the world", Matthew 5:14

"Only let your manner of life be worthy of the gospel of Christ, so that whether I come and see you or am absent, I may hear of you that you stand firm in one spirit, with one mind striving side by side for the faith of the gospel," Philippians 1:27

In verse after verse in the New Testament, it is stressed that it is only the one true Church:

1. Which has the final authority on earth, and not any other outside of it, Isaiah 22:21, Matthew 9:8, 18:15-18, Luke 10:19, John 20:21-23
2. Which is the Pillar and Foundation of Truth, and none other, 1Timothy 3:15
3. Which alone is guided by the Holy Spirit, John 14:15-17, 16:12-16, Acts 15:28

---

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters." Matthew 12:30

What with the undeniable evidence of 35,000+ Protestant sects* in the world today, just who is doing the scattering?

"Lord, to whom shall we go?"

John 6:68

---

In John 6:66, the Jews had refused to believe Jesus when he had told them they must eat His Body and drink His blood in order to have (spiritual) life in them. They simply walked away from Him, nevermore to return. Jesus asked His disciples if they wished to go away also in the next verse. To which Simon Peter answered, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life; and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God."

Is it just a coincidence that the verse for those who refused to believe the truth of the words of Jesus Christ, and simply walked away from Him, had been assigned the number 6:66?

It is no coincidence, for those who refuse to believe Him have called Him a liar, 1John 5:10. We all know who the 'father of lies' is, and that same entity has a tie to the number 666.

In Matthew 16:13-17 when Jesus asked His disciples, "Who do men say that the Son of man is?", it was again Simon Peter who had the correct answer. Simon Peter replied, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." All of the rest had only an opinion. Of all of the Apostles, it is Peter who has the correct answers when asked by Jesus. It is no different today, as it is still Peter who has the correct answers.

"And after there had been much debate, Peter rose and said to them, "Brethren, you know that in the early days God made choice among you, that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe."

Acts 15:7

Meaning: it is by the choice of GOD, that the fullness of truth comes from the mouth of Peter and none other.

Who are the Gentiles? Everyone who is not a Jew is a Gentile.

So from whose lips do all of us who are not Jews hear the Gospel? From the mouth of Peter and His successors.

Now it is almost 2000 years since Peter said those words, so they had to have been passed down from generation to generation if we are to receive the same Gospel and believe, as the first Christians of Peter's time did. How was that accomplished?

Where is the path?

Well, Holy Scripture gave us the answer:

"For it is written in the book of Psalms (Psa 109:8): Let their habitation become desolate, and let there be none to dwell therein. And his bishopric let another take. Wherefore of these men who have companied with us, all the time that the Lord Jesus came in and went out among us, Beginning from the baptism of John, until the day wherein he was taken up from us, one of these must be made a witness with us of his resurrection. And they appointed two, Joseph, called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. And praying, they said: Thou, Lord, who knowest the heart of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen, To take the place of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas hath by transgression fallen, that he might go to his own place. And they gave them lot, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven apostles."

Acts 1:20-26

When one died, the line was preserved by the Apostles as shown in these verses. The Apostles were also the first Bishops and so the command, "And his bishopric let another take" was preserved from

Bishop to Bishop down through the ages from the Apostles to the Bishops of today. That verse does not mean that the line ended when the last Apostle died. It means that the line is to be continued from generation to generation without end.

"You then, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus, and what you have heard from me before many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach others also."

2Timothy 2:1-2

The line must be continuous and unbroken and with no gaps lest, "...that by my mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the gospel and believe", the fullness of truth would be lost forever.

So now, what about John 6:68?

"Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life; and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God."

Here we have the Apostles scratching their heads, looking around in faith, and finding that there simply is to none other and to no other place that they could go.

Here are the rules of what we have learned so far:

1. Jesus Christ is the truth ("I am the way, the truth, and the life", John 14:6), so there is none other with whom they could go.
2. The line of the fullness of truth is passed from a valid Bishop to Bishop, and not through anyone else.
3. The line must be continuous and unbroken.
4. Where there is no valid Bishop (one who is descendant in the unbroken line from the Apostles), there is no fullness of truth.
5. Present day non-Catholics seem to think they do have another choice 'to whom they shall go'.

In 1521, Martin Luther, an Augustinian monk and the first Protestant, started Protestantism by forming the Lutherans. Unfortunately for them, not one Bishop joined Luther's revolt, so the valid priesthood for all Lutherans, and for all of those who splintered off from him, ended when the last valid Catholic priest of the revolt died. There was no succession of the fullness of truth in Lutheranism, or in any of its spinoffs. Here is a small sampling of those spin offs which now total over 38,000.

In 1521, Thomas Munser, a Catholic priest, started Anabaptists when he broke from Lutheranism, and unfortunately for them, no Bishops joined his revolt either.

In 1536, John Calvin formed the Calvinists. Sorry, no Bishops.

In 1560, John Knox started Presbyterians. Sorry no Bishops.

In 1609, John Smyth formed the Baptists in Holland. Sorry, no Bishops.

In 1639, Roger Williams started the Baptists in America. Sorry, no Bishops.

In 1739, John and Charles Wesley started the Methodists. Sorry, no Bishops.

You can readily see the pattern here.

All of these mainline Protestant sects, following the lead of revolt of the first Protestant of 1521, in one way or another, had no valid (Apostolic succession) Bishops to join their revolt, so therefore, all of them violated rules # 2 through 4 above.

"Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life; and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God."

Now we have a different case, and a very interesting one indeed. In it we can easily see the hand of GOD at work in the final outcome. In 1534, Henry VIII started the Church of England (Anglican).

Some valid Catholic Bishops did join his revolt under the threat for them to either do so or die. Those who capitulated to the threat of the king continued in a valid Bishopric for a few short years. Those who refused to do so either fled the country, went into hiding, or were murdered. King Henry died in 1547, and in 1550, King Edward VI, in a greater effort to protestantize the Anglican church, deliberately changed the form of ordination (called the Edwardian Ordinal), which had the effect of rendering ordinations of priests and Bishops invalid. In 1662, realizing that a mistake had been made, the Anglicans reverted to the valid ordination form, but by then it was too late, since all of the validly ordained Bishops had died. Because of this gap (rule 3) between 1550 and 1662, Anglican orders, being broken, remain invalid to this day.

Rules 2-4 were broken by Anglicans.

Can't you see GOD's fingerprints amid these facts?

Does GOD allow valid priesthoods in other than the one Church which He built? Here is yet another interesting example proving that He certainly does not.

The old covenant ended when the new covenant of Jesus Christ replaced it. However, the majority of Jews, refusing to accept Jesus as the Christ, continued with the Levitical priesthood of the old covenant. So then there were two priesthoods, the new one of Jesus Christ and the superseded one of the Aaronic Levites. However, this conflict of priesthoods only lasted for about forty years. In 70 A.D. Roman armies surrounded Jerusalem (Luke 21:20) and destroyed it (Matthew 24:2) and they killed every Levitical priest. That ended the Levitical priesthood in one fell swoop. It takes a priest (Bishop in the new covenant) to make a priest. Now do you see the fingerprints of GOD in these historical facts? Try to find a valid Jewish priest today. You will not find one. You will find only Rabbi's (teachers). Not only was the Jewish priesthood ended, but the Jewish temple was completely destroyed, and to this very day it has not been rebuilt. It was the will of GOD that the old covenant was fulfilled and would be ended (Hebrews 8:13), and replaced by the new covenant instituted by Jesus Christ (Hebrews 7:11-22).

Do you see the parallel between the demise of any priesthood other than the one belonging to GOD's "new covenant house", which is His one and only Church?

Divine intervention is all too obvious against those who are not firmly situated in the "House that GOD built".

"Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life; and we have believed, and have come to know, that you are the Holy One of God."

Now we are back to the original question and again Holy Scripture has given us the answer for it. It is in the second sentence of John 6:68 when Peter said, "You have the words of eternal life;". Those words are the gist of the words spoken by Jesus Christ in John 6:47-58 when He said in verse 51:

"I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh."

Then Peter said, "...and we have believed...". Unlike the Jews who refused to believe His words and who walked away from Him in John 6:66, the Apostles believed because they had come to know that He was the Holy One of GOD and would not lead them astray. The answer to "Lord, to whom shall we go?", for the Apostles, was to stay right where they were because they already had the fullness of truth. They heard the Words directly from the Author of Life (Acts 3:15), and have believed.

For the rest of us, it is still the same answer.

It is the only Church which has the fullness of truth.

It is the only Church which conforms to rules 2-4 listed earlier.

It is the only Church which has an unbroken line of succession of Bishops stretching all the way back to Saint Peter.

It is the only Church which conforms perfectly with what the New Testament says it will be.

It is the only Church which conforms perfectly as the Body of Christ.

It is the only Church which can prove what it says with genuine historical documents.

It is the only Church which can call down from Heaven the true Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist for us to consume so we can each have eternal life.

It is the only Church which can be found in every century from the first, when Christ founded it, until this day in the twenty-first.

It is the only Church which is mentioned by its same present name in every century beginning in 107 A.D.

It is the only Church which is almost two thousand years old and can prove it.

It is the only Church which Jesus Christ founded.

It is the only Church which can truly be called the House that GOD built.

"Lord, to whom shall we go?"

WE SHALL GO WITH GOD IN THE ONLY HOUSE BUILT BY GOD,

(Matthew 16:18, 18:17, Acts 20:28, 1Corinthians 1:2, 10:32, 11:22, 12:28, 15:9, 2Corinthians 1:1, Galatians 1:13, Ephesians 3:10, 5:23-32, Colossians 1:18, 1:24, 1Thessalonians 1:1, 1Timothy 3:5, 3:15)

AND WE SHALL NOT LABOR IN VAIN IN HOUSES BUILT BY MERE HUMAN CREATURES.

Psalms 127:1

Ships and Boats, Arks and Barques...

---

Have you ever noticed that there are several stories in Holy Scripture regarding ships and boats being tossed about in a tempest, and that all of those who remained aboard were saved?

Noah built an ark:

Noah's Ark saved only eight people, Noah and his wife, their three sons, Sem, Ham, and Japeth, and their wives. When the great flood came, whoever was not in the Ark perished and was not saved.

Genesis 7:13-23

This Noah's Ark Old Testament story is a type of the 'Ark' of the New Testament, the Catholic Church.

Hebrews 11:7, "By faith Noah, having been warned concerning things not seen as yet, prepared with pious fear an ark in which to save his household. Having thus condemned the world, he was made heir of the justice which is through faith."

1Peter 3:20, "Which had been some time incredulous, when they waited for the patience of God in the days of Noe, when the ark was a building: wherein a few, that is, eight souls, were saved by water."

2Peter 2:5, "And spared not the original world, but preserved Noe, the eighth person, the preacher of justice, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly."

Who does "the preacher of justice" remind you of?

This is a full size replica of Noah's Ark, built in the Netherlands by Creationist Johan Huibers. Construction began in May 2005.

Isaiah 54:8-17, "In a moment of indignation have I hid my face a little while from thee, but with everlasting kindness have I had mercy on thee, said the Lord thy Redeemer. (9) This thing is to me as in the days of Noe, to whom I swore, that I would no more bring in the waters of Noe upon the earth: so have I sworn not to be angry with thee, and not to rebuke thee. (10) For the mountains shall be moved, and the hills shall tremble; but my mercy shall not depart from thee, and the covenant of my peace shall not be moved: said the Lord that hath mercy on thee.

(11) O poor little one, tossed with the tempest, without all comfort, behold I will lay thy stones in order, and will lay thy foundations with sapphires, (12) And I will make thy bulwarks of jasper: and thy gates of graven stones, and all thy borders of desirable stones. (13) All thy children shall be taught of the Lord: and great shall be the peace of thy children. (14) And thou shalt be founded in justice: depart far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terror, for it shall not come near thee. (15) Behold, an inhabitant shall come, who was not with me, he that was a stranger to thee before, shall be joined to thee. (16) Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the killer to destroy. (17) No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper: and every tongue that resisteth thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the inheritance of the servants of the Lord, and their justice with me, saith the Lord."

Simon Peter had a barque:

Luke 5:1-7, "And it came to pass, that when the multitudes pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Genesareth, (2) And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them and were washing their nets. (3) And going into one of the ships that was Simon's, he desired him to draw back a little from the land. And sitting, he taught the multitudes out of the ship. (4) Now when he had ceased to speak, he said to Simon: Launch out into the deep and let down your nets for a draught. (5) And Simon answering said to him: Master, we have laboured all the night and have taken nothing: but at thy word I will let down the net. (6) And when they had done this, they enclosed a very great multitude of fishes: and their net broke. (7) And they beckoned to their partners that were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came and filled both the ships, so that they were almost sinking."

Jesus taught from a ship, but was it just any ship?

Or was He very specific about whose ship it was from which He taught?

Paul sailed in ships, and was shipwrecked:

Acts 27:13-43, "And the south wind gently blowing, thinking that they had obtained their purpose, when they had loosed from Asson, they sailed close by Crete. (14) But not long after, there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroquilo. (15) And when the ship was caught and could not bear up against the wind, giving up the ship to the winds, we were driven. (16) And running under a certain island that is called Cauda, we had much work to come by the boat. (17) Which being taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship: and fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, they let down the sail yard and so were driven. (18) And we, being mightily tossed with the tempest, the next day they lightened the ship. (19) And the third day they cast out with their own hands the tacking of the ship. (20) And when neither sun nor stars appeared for many days and no small storms lay on us, all hope of our being saved was now taken away. (21) And after they had fasted a long time, Paul standing forth in the midst of them, said: You should indeed, O ye men, have hearkened unto me and not have loosed from Crete and have gained this harm and loss. (22) And now I exhort you to be of good cheer. For there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but only of the ship. (23) For an angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve, stood by me this night, (24) Saying: Fear not, Paul, thou must be brought before Caesar; and behold, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee. (25) Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall so be, as it hath been told me. (26) And we must come unto a certain island. (27) But after the fourteenth night was come, as we were sailing in Adria, about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they discovered some country. (28) Who also sounding, found twenty fathoms: and going on a little further, they found fifteen fathoms. (29) Then fearing lest we should fall upon rough places, they cast four anchors out of the stern: and wished for the day. (30) But as the shipmen sought to fly out of the ship, having let down the boat into the sea, under colour, as though they would have cast anchors out of the forepart of the ship, (31) Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers: Except these stay in the ship, you cannot be saved. (32) Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat and let her fall off. (33) And when it began to be light, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying: This day is the fourteenth day that you have waited and continued fasting, taking nothing. (34) Wherefore, I pray you to take some meat for your health's sake: for there shall not an hair of the head of any of you perish. (35) And when he had said these things, taking bread, he gave thanks to God in the sight of them all. And when he had broken it, he began to eat. (36) Then were they all of better cheer: and they also took some meat. (37) And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls. (38) And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, casting the wheat into the sea. (39) And when it was day, they knew not the land. But they discovered a certain creek that had a shore, into which they minded, if they could, to thrust in the ship. (40) And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves to the sea, loosing withal the rudder bands. And hoisting up the mainsail to the wind, they made towards shore. (41) And when we were fallen into a place where two seas met, they run the ship aground. And the forepart indeed, sticking fast, remained unmoveable: but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the sea. (42) And the soldiers' counsel was that they should kill the prisoners, lest any of them, swimming out should escape. (43) But the centurion, willing to save Paul, forbade it to be done. And he commanded that they who could swim should cast themselves first into the sea and save themselves and get to land."

Matthew 8:23-27, "And when he entered into the boat, his disciples followed him: (24) And behold a great tempest arose in the sea, so that the boat was covered with waves, but he was asleep. (25) And they came to him, and awaked him, saying: Lord, save us, we perish. (26) And Jesus saith to them: Why are you fearful, O ye of little faith? Then rising up, he commanded the winds, and the sea, and there came a great calm. (27) But the men wondered, saying: What manner of man is this, for the winds and the sea obey him?"
All of His disciples that were in the boat were saved.

What Pope Boniface VIII had to say:

"There had been at the time of the deluge only one ark of Noah, prefiguring the one Church, which ark, having been finished to a single cubit, had only one pilot and guide, Noah, and we read that, outside of this ark, all that subsisted on the earth was destroyed...

We declare, say, define and proclaim to every human creature that they by necessity for salvation are entirely subject to the Roman Pontiff."

Pope Boniface VIII, Unam Sanctum, November 18, 1302

Elucidation:

1. In the days of Noah, a carpenter built an ark at the command of GOD.

When the great flood came, the only persons who were saved were those who were within the ark.

2. Isaiah prophesied of the Church which the Savior would found, and that it would be tossed about by a tempest.

3. Jesus Christ calmed the tempest in the Sea of Galilee, and all of His disciples aboard were saved.

4. Saint Paul's ship was also caught in a tempest at sea and yet all 276 who were aboard the ship were saved.

5. Noah the carpenter, built an ark of redemption. Jesus Christ the carpenter, built a Church of redemption.

6. Part of the interior of Catholic Churches is called the 'Nave'. It is the place of worship in the Church.

The word 'Nave' comes from the Latin word 'Navi' which means 'ship'. From the Latin word 'Naves' we get the plural word 'ships'.

Mark 4:36, "et dimittentes turbam adsumunt eum ita ut erat in navi et aliae naves erant cum illo."

Mark 4:36, "And sending away the multitude, they take him even as he was in the ship: and there were other ships with him."

7. As Christ taught from the boat of Saint Peter, so does the Catholic Church teach the Gospel to the whole world from the nave of the successor of Saint Peter.

"And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,
Praising God, and having favour with all the people.

AND THE LORD ADDED TO THE CHURCH DAILY SUCH AS SHOULD BE SAVED."

Acts 2:46-47, King James Bible

What do those two verses tell you?

Are those tens of thousands of non-Catholic sects in the world today of one accord?

Do they have singleness of heart?

Are they "having favor with all the people?"

What about the last line?

Are you attached to the one Church that Jesus Christ founded?

That last line does say that in order to be saved, you must be added to His Church, does it not?

So what is preventing you from climbing aboard the Barque of Peter?

Which is the True Church, and Which ones are not?

---

Pontius Pilate asked the question "What is truth?" in John 18:38.

That is an interesting question, but how many know the answer? What does Holy Scripture say?

---

Truth is a person and that person is Jesus Christ.

"Jesus said to him, 'I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but by me'." John 14:6

Elucidation: Since truth is a person, then whatever that person has said must be true.

Therefore, everything Jesus Christ said must be true, simply because He said it.

---

Here are some Moral questions for Sola Scriptura believers to answer from the Bible alone.

1. Where in Scripture is the verse which gives us moral guidance on cloning of human persons?
2. Which Scriptural verses provide moral guidance for the question of invitro fertilization?
3. Which Scriptural verses provide moral guidance for bioethics?
4. Which Scriptural verses provide moral guidance for the use of human body parts?

The answer to all of the above questions is that Holy Scripture is silent for each and every one of them. Consequently, we have to look elsewhere for the answers. Now suppose everyone on earth was a Sola Scriptura believer? Since we would all be bound to that clearly unworkable doctrine (as I will show), we could not look elsewhere for spiritual guidance for those pressing questions, could we? Those questions and hundreds more under the same circumstances would go unanswered. If that is the case, then how long would civilization last? The answer is not for very long. Fortunately, most of us are not Sola Scriptura believers, and so there is a way to receive Spiritual guidance for those important questions which cry out for resolution.

That way, surprisingly, is spelled out in detail in Holy Scripture itself in the book of Acts.

In Acts chapter 15, such a moral question did arise, the resolution of which could not be found in Scripture itself. Verses 1-5 of Acts 15 present the question, "should Gentiles be circumcised as the Jews were"? Verses 6-29 explain in detail exactly how it was resolved, by calling a Council (6) of all of the Apostles, and having a debate with one lead spokesman, Peter, at the helm (7). The final decision made in conjunction with the Holy Spirit (28), was not to burden Gentiles with having to be circumcised.

How much help was Sola Scriptura in the resolution of this issue? None at all! There is no mention in that chapter that Scripture was even consulted. There is the possibility that the members of that first council did consult Scripture but found that it was silent on that issue.

The moral question which was not resolved by Holy Scripture was resolved by calling the first Council of the Church, and settling it with the guidance of the Holy Spirit. This is exactly the way which Scripture says the system will work for future issues, and the Word is from Truth Himself: "I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

John 16:12-13

Please take note of the future tone of those verses. What things does Jesus have to say that his disciples cannot bear now? If they could bear them, then they would be recorded in Scripture, isn't that true? Now then, Jesus also said:

"Now this he said about the Spirit, which those who believed in him were to receive; for as yet the Spirit had not been given, because Jesus was not yet glorified."

John 7:39

And He said:

"Nevertheless I tell you the truth: it is to your advantage that I go away, for if I do not go away, the Counselor will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you."

John 16:7

So Jesus must leave first, before the Spirit is given, and in leaving, he had not left instruction for us in Scripture, for all that we are to know.

That truth is clearly seen in John 20:30 and John 21:25.

Scripture clearly has said that everything is not in the Bible, but what is not therein will be revealed by the Holy Spirit over time.

Is that the theme of Sola Scriptura? It is not. Obviously it is to the contrary.

How many similar moral questions or situations as those listed above would you guess have arisen in the 2000 year history of the Church which Jesus Christ founded? I have listed five moral questions so far in this document, and all have arrived on the scene in recent years.

Consequently, over the centuries there had to have been hundreds more.

In truth, I have clearly shown that Sola Scriptura simply is not workable in order to resolve non-Biblical moral questions which are bound to arise from time to time. Holy Scripture is exactly what it says it is in 2Timothy 3:16, 'All Scripture is useful for teaching'. It is a teaching tool, but it does not say it is the only teaching tool. That is why Scripture is sorely lacking for new issues which arise outside of its scope, and one of the main reasons why Jesus Christ founded an authoritative teaching Church.

Since Holy Scripture is not the only teaching tool, then His Church picks up where Scripture left off. I have already discussed the first Church Council, so let us now expand upon that topic.

"Where there is no governor, the people shall fall: but there is safety where there is much counsel."
Proverbs 11:14

Let us examine a few examples of questions of Faith which have also cried out for answers, and which are not formally defined by Holy Scripture:

- 1. What is the nature of Jesus Christ? The Council of Chalcedon in 451 defined Jesus Christ as being one person, with two natures, one Divine nature and one human nature.
- 2. Who defined the Holy Trinity? The Council of Nicaea in 325.
- 3. Who defined The Holy Spirit as consubstantial with the Father and the Son?
The Council of Constantinople I, in 381.
- 4. Who condemned predestination as not Biblical? The Council of Mainz did in 848.
- 5. Who defined the Hypostatic Union? The Councils of Ephesus in 431, and Chalcedon in 451.
- 6. Where in Scripture is listed the canons of both the Old and New Testaments? If you cannot find such a list from Scripture, then how do you know that the book which you use is the Bible?

Scripture is silent on which books, out of hundreds available at the time, were canonical and which were not. There is no list of inspired books in the Bible.

It was the Councils of Rome in 382, Hippo in 393, and Carthage in 397, which decided which books were canonical in both the Old and New Testaments.

So there you have it, just a few examples of questions of faith which required authoritative answers of truth and in each case Holy Scripture was silent. However, the Holy Spirit, in every case, was not silent.

Deja vu Acts 15:1-26.

Over the centuries, time and again, the concept of Sola Scriptura has failed to provide answers to extremely important and fundamental questions.

Here is additional Scripture given to us by Our Lord Jesus Christ, as to how the system will work for future issues:

"These things I have spoken to you, while I am still with you. But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you."

John 14:25-26

"Designs are brought to nothing where there is no counsel: but where there are many counsellors, they are established." Proverbs 15:22

"Because war is managed by due ordering: and there shall be safety where there are many counsels." Proverbs 24:6

By now you must realize that you cannot answer any of the above questions from Scripture alone. Since this is true, then how do these questions become resolved? Is Scripture the highest authority, or is the highest authority on earth something else? How can authority reside in a book? Who is there to interpret it infallibly? Can each person interpret it simply by using his or her own individual personal opinion? What if the government of the United States were run by hundreds of millions of individual personal opinions? How long would it last? Would anything ever be accomplished?

It would be a very strange thing indeed for GOD to have given us an inerrant book without first giving us an infallible interpreter for it.

Who has the authority to decide the one true meaning of Holy Scripture?

Here are some questions for everyone to answer.

1. If you lived in the year 1200, to what Church would you go to satisfy the command of Jesus Christ in Matthew 18:18? Where would you go if you lived in the years 1400, 800, or 500?
2. Why cannot any authentic historical documentation be found describing the meaning of Sola Scriptura before the Protestant revolt in the early 16th century?

So, the answer to "Which is the true Church and which ones are not", should be obvious from the evidence which I have presented here. Using our powers of reasoning, and by a careful examination of the evidence, we can come to several conclusions:

1. It is the only Church which has the authority given to it by GOD*, to make infallible decisions to settle pressing issues which arise from time to time, such as the moral questions I have presented in this writing, not one of which can be settled by Scripture alone.

*Matthew 18:15-18, Luke 22:31-32, John 20:21-23, John 21:15-17, Romans 13:1-2, Hebrews 13:17

2. It is the only Church which is guided by the Holy Spirit as promised in John 16:13.

3. It is the same Church which called the first Council, the Council of Jerusalem in 50 A.D., and settled the question of circumcision for Gentiles as described in Acts 15.

4. It is the same Church which called the several Councils listed above and settled those pressing questions of faith.

5. It is the same Church which called such monumental Councils as Trent in 1545, Vatican I in 1870, and Vatican II, in 1963. These are but a small sampling of many others.
6. It is the only Church which is traceable from that first Council of Jerusalem to this very day.
7. It is the only Church which one could go to in order to satisfy the command of Jesus Christ in Matthew 18:18 in the years of 1400, 800, and 500.
8. It cannot be a Sola Scriptura believing church, since nothing would ever be resolved by that process in any of the issues I have presented in this writing regarding faith and morals.

We can determine which Church it is by either coming in through the front door and finding which Church fits all of the requirements listed, or we can come in through the back door by using a process of elimination of those churches which do not meet the criteria, and see which Church is the only Church left standing.

The So-called "Great Apostasy" Has Already Come to Pass!

But it did not happen when non-Catholics claim it happened.

And Holy Scripture teaches that it could not be the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Do you believe the teaching of Holy Scripture?

---

Many non Catholics have made the false charge that the Catholic Church Apostatized shortly after the last Apostle died and therefore the Catholic Church of today is not the primitive Christian Church founded by Jesus Christ in Matthew 16:18. No genuine historical documents, exact dates, or names are ever presented by them to substantiate this false charge.

---

---

First of all, the promises of Jesus Christ and of others in Holy Scripture are completely ignored by those who make this false charge. Read this verse taken right from their very own Bible.

"Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen."

Matthew 28:20

Everyone can easily see that it is the promise of Jesus Christ to be with His Church every day in every century until the end of the world, and with no gaps whatsoever, not even one single day, and that quote is right from the Protestant King James Bible, one of the same Bibles which those who make this false charge use. If I can clearly see the meaning of this verse, then why can't they who make the false charge see it at all?

The answer is, they do not want to see it, for if they do, they would have to admit that when they made that false charge, they have also just called Jesus Christ a liar.

Here are more verses on the same theme of the perpetuality of the only Church which Jesus Christ founded, all of which would have to be denied by the false accusers:

"And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall, not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

Those who say Christ's Church apostatized, also have said that the gates of hell did prevail.

"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you. I will not leave you desolate; I will come to you."

John 14:16-18

Those who say Christ's Church apostatized, also have said that Jesus lied in these verses, for the Counselor did not stay forever, but left at some "unspecified time".

"Now to him who by the power at work within us is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, for ever and ever. Amen."

Ephesians 3:20-21

Those who say Christ's Church apostatized, also have said that Saint Paul must have lied here, for how can there be glory in the apostatized Church of Jesus Christ, and what does "for ever and ever" mean?

---

Apostasy:

"Abandonment of ONE'S religious faith."

That is how one dictionary defines the word.

"The total rejection by a baptized person of the Christian faith he once professed."

That is how a second dictionary defines the word.

The Greek word used is "apostasia", and from a Greek dictionary its meaning is:

"a falling away, defection, forsake".

Notice that the definitions apply to individual persons ONLY and not to the entire Church.

Isn't that exactly what Holy Scripture says?

"For it is impossible to restore again to repentance those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, and have become partakers of the Holy Spirit, and have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the age to come, if they then commit apostasy, since they crucify the Son of God on their own account and hold him up to contempt. For land which has drunk the rain that often falls upon it, and brings forth vegetation useful to those for whose sake it is cultivated, receives a blessing from God. But if it bears thorns and thistles, it is worthless and near to being cursed; its end is to be burned."

Hebrews 6:4-8

"Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him, that ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand. Let, no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;"

2Thessalonians 2:1-3

Does this verse speak of a falling away of all the faithful of the Church?

"For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock. Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them."

Acts 20:29-30

Does this verse say to draw away all of the disciples of the Church? No it does not, but it does sound exactly like the actions of the first Protestants, Luther, Zwingli, and others who were Catholic priests, "Also of your own selves shall men arise".

They also "spoke perverse things". Read of the "perverse things" of which Luther wrote.

They also did "draw away disciples after them." But again, they did not draw all of the faithful after them.

So what have we learned here? We have learned that it is individual persons who apostatize, not the whole Church which Jesus Christ founded, for according to Scripture, that would be an impossibility.

Secular dictionaries, and Holy Scripture, both confirm that the term "apostasy" is applied only on an individual basis.

I ask those who insist that the Catholic Church apostatized in the early centuries of its existence, to explain to me how an entire Church could apostatize, unless every single member of it agreed to do so, and all apostatized at the same point in time? If the false chargers still insist it was the entire Church which Jesus Christ founded, I would ask them to show me the verse(s) in the Bible which "prove" it? I also ask them to give me the firm date of this supposed great historical event?

Next, I would like to ask those same people why there are no historical documents to be found which would "prove" that this earth shaking, monumental event, happened at all? Imagine the impact of such a happening? Did the Son of GOD sacrifice Himself needlessly? Did His entire Church simply pack up and leave him, as many of His unbelieving disciples did in John 6:66?

To the contrary, genuine historical documents teach just the opposite of this blatant lie, for the Catholic Church is mentioned by name many times and by many writers in every century beginning with 107 A.D. Saint Augustine (354-430 A.D.) alone, mentioned the Catholic Church by name over 300 times in his writings. Yet there is no mention of even the slightest hint of a so-called "great apostasy" of the Catholic Church. Strangely enough for the detractors, not one document offers even the merest support for their false charge, so the onus is upon them to prove what they say.

Questions to ask of those who make the false accusation that the Catholic Church apostatized early on at some nebulous undetermined time...

1. Why is it that you cannot find a verse in Holy Scripture which says the entire Church which Jesus Christ founded apostatized?
2. Why do you stretch the meaning of the word "apostasy" to apply to a whole Church instead of its rightful meaning of an individual basis?
3. Why do you believe in the Bible at all, and reinforce your beliefs with the man made doctrine of Sola Scriptura, knowing full well that your Bible was handed down by a supposed "apostate" church?
4. Why is it that no one can find any authentic historical documentation to back up what they falsely charge? Of the thousands of genuine historical documents which anyone can see, why in century after century, did historians, and the early writers of the Christian Church fail to mention an apostasy of the Catholic Church. Do you think it is because no lie is of the truth (1John 1:21), and truth can be proven but the lie cannot?
5. Why is it that no one can provide a firm date, and provide authentic historical documents showing the names of those who were involved?
6. What was Jesus Christ doing for over one thousand years, while at the same time allowing His supposed "apostate" church to exist status quo until Martin Luther and his Protestant revolt came along? What happened to the billions of poor souls who lived through those same years? Did GOD simply abandon them?
7. Why do you deny the many promises made by Jesus Christ, and Saint Paul, and others, that the only Church which Jesus Christ founded will last forever, when Holy Scripture says clearly and so explicitly that it certainly will last forever?

Answers please, to these very simple questions of which I have asked of the false accusers?

---

The "Great Apostasy":

The meaning is the same as for "apostasy" with the difference being in the numbers of individual apostates.

Now that we know that the entire Church could have not apostatized as detractors charge, and since the "Great Apostasy" has happened already, then who is responsible for this blatant crime against

Jesus Christ and His Holy Catholic Church?

There have been many apostates in the Church ever since it was founded. We have not forgotten Magnus, Marcion, Montanus, Severus, Tertullian, Origen, Novatian, Mani, Arius, Pelagius, Nestorius, Berengarius, Albigensians, Waldensians, and many others. Each of these apostates and heretical movements, caused hundreds and thousands of individuals to leave the Catholic Church. The "Great Apostasy" therefore would have to be when the largest number of individuals left the Catholic Church, numbers amounting to millions. That event came to pass starting in 1520, when about ten million* participants in the European Protestant revolt left the only Church which Jesus Christ founded. Echo, echo, echo, John 6:66.

It is to be noted that the Catholic Church did not leave them.

Thus, the "Great Apostasy" can only have reference to the tens of thousands of individual sects and the hundreds of millions of Protestants existing today, all of which had their beginnings in the 16th century and who were galvanized by the first Protestant apostate, Martin Luther.

*Interestingly, the approximately ten million apostates of Europe were replaced by about the same number of new Catholic Converts in the Americas, starting just eleven years later in 1531. This well documented event was due to the miraculous appearance of Our Lady of Guadalupe in what is now Mexico City.

Was this event simply a coincidence, or was it by divine design? Ephesians 5:23

Many thanks to these tens of thousands of apostate sects, for they are in such contrast to the truth of Jesus Christ and of His one and only Church, that they do nothing but allow those who are "The Light of the World" (Matthew 5:14) to shine like a beacon upon those who live in darkness. Here are three versions of 1Corinthians 11:19 which prove what I have just said:

"Factions have to exist in order to make it clear who the genuine believers (Lights of the World) among you are." GOD's Word Bible

"For there must be factions among you in order that those who are genuine among you (Lights of the World) may be recognized."

RSV

"For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved (Lights of the World) may be made manifest among you."

Apostate:

"One who practices apostasy."

Note: Mention of "the Church" in the following statements reference the Catholic Church.

What makes an apostate?

1. Apostates reject teachings of the Church. James 2:10, Saint Thomas Aquinas, Summa, 2,2,5,3. If anyone rejects one teaching of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, he/she rejects it all. Martin Luther and his cohorts rejected teachings of the Church, and their followers still do.

2. Apostates reject the authority of the Church. Matthew 18:15-18.

Martin Luther and his allies rejected the authority of the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

3. Apostates believe the Church is a democracy, when in fact it is a hierarchy. Since when does the body tell the head what to do? The head always tells the body what to do, and the Head of the Catholic Church, which is His Body, is Jesus Christ. Ephesians 1:22-23.

Martin Luther believed he could tell the head what to do as in a democracy.

4. Apostates reject obedience to the superiors of the Church. Hebrews 13:17.

Martin Luther rejected obedience to his superiors, the Pope and the Bishops of the Church.

5. Apostates invent their own teaching, based solely upon their own personal opinions, and not upon doctrinal truth.

Martin Luther invented much of his own teaching, based solely upon his personal opinions.

6. Apostates reject many parts of Holy Scripture and strive to change it to suit their teaching.

Martin Luther rejected many parts of Holy Scripture, and both added to and subtracted from the Holy Word of GOD in a vain attempt to make it conform to his teaching.

7. Apostates in criticizing the Word of GOD are in fact setting themselves up as critics of GOD Himself.

Martin Luther is guilty of criticizing the Word of GOD by removing Old Testament books from the Bible and writing against several New Testament books such as James, and Revelation.

"And the LORD said to Job: "Shall a faultfinder contend with the Almighty? He who argues with God, let him answer it." Job 40:1-2

---

So you see? The so-called "Great Apostasy" has already come to pass.

Bible Christians and Protestants who have no documentation, no firm date, and no names whatsoever to "prove" their false charge against the Catholic Church, surely must realize by now that every time they point their fingers at someone else, they have three of them pointing at themselves. Try it and see.

The Old Fashioned and Outdated Catholic Church.

---

That is what many say about the Catholic Church.

They say it is outmoded and needs to change in order to keep up with the rapidly changing times.

Changing times? Who is responsible for the changes, the degradation of faith and morals in our country and in other countries of the world?

Is it GOD?

No, for GOD never changes. He is Immutable:

"And from the beginning I am the same, and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall turn it away?"

Isaiah 43:13

"For I am the Lord, and I change not: and you the sons of Jacob are not consumed."

Malachi 3:6

"Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today, and for ever."

Hebrews 13:8

"Every best gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no change nor shadow of alteration."

James 1:17

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, saith the Lord God, who is and who was and who is to come, the Almighty."

Revelation 1:8

---

Now what do all of the verses mentioned above have to do with the Church which Jesus Christ founded?

Isn't Jesus Christ GOD?

And since He is GOD, He never changes. Isn't that true?

If He cannot change then how can His Body His Church ever change?

"For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, and is himself its Savior."

Ephesians 5:23

So since GOD never changes, then who is responsible for the changes going on around us?

It is man who is responsible, not GOD.

Consequently no one has any right to say that GOD's never changing body, His Church, must comply with mans' ever changing ways.

Luke 10:16

Non-Catholics, having no claim to Apostolic succession and thus no valid priesthood, "invented" the idea that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is an "invisible" church within each one of us, and thus has no need of a priesthood at all.

Holy Scripture, however, tells us that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is a highly visible Church as so it must be.

As is their custom, non-Catholics tend to ignore verses which are strictly counter to their false teaching.

---

Fact: The Church which Jesus Christ founded is His Body, and He is the Head: Ephesians 1:22-23. Is He not divinity who came to earth in a highly visible human Body? Luke 2:7, Philippians 2:5-8 With that inescapable fact made manifest, non-Catholics, using their "either / or" theological opinions (as compared to the Catholic "and"), attempt to divide the humanity of Christ from His divinity by denying His visibility.

This is an impossibility for non-Catholic theology, due to the hypostatic union, which inseparably binds His two natures together into the one divine Person. Those two natures simply cannot be divided one from the other.

The Person of Jesus the Christ possesses the invisible nature of His divinity, and the visible nature of His humanity. Since His two natures cannot be separated, neither can His visible Body, the Church, be separated from His visible humanity or His invisible divinity.

Consequently, just as Jesus Christ has two natures, His Body the Church, has two natures, one invisible in its divinity, and one visible in its humanity. This explains how Holy Scripture can make these statements which at first appear to be a contradiction:

"Husbands love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her, that he might sanctify her, having cleansed her by the washing of water with the word, that he might present the church to himself in splendor, without spot or wrinkle or any such thing, that she might be holy and without blemish."

Ephesians 5:25-27

It is obvious that those two verses refer to the divine nature of Christ's Church.

Holy Scripture can also state this seemingly contradictory verse to those just given:

"It is impossible that scandals should not come. But woe to him through whom they come!"

Luke 17:1

It is quite clear that this verse can only be applied to the human side of His Church, and not to the divine side.

We recall the scandals and human weaknesses of Jesus Christ's very own inner circle.

They are His personally chosen Apostles, the very foundation of His Church (Ephesians 2:19-22).

One betrayed Him (Luke 22:48).

One denied Him, not once but three times (Matthew 26:69-75).

One doubted Him (John 20:24-29).

All ran away from Him (Mark 14:50).

Note that all of them, save one, are now saints.

By using sound reasoning and common sense from what we have observed so far, we can elucidate that:

1. Jesus Christ has a divine nature and a human nature, both of which are possessed by the one divine Person.
2. His two natures are inextricably bound together by the hypostatic union.
3. Since His natures cannot be divided, His Body the Church, therefore must possess those same two natures as well.
4. The divine side (nature) of His Church is without spot or wrinkle, while the human side of His Church is populated by sinners.

After all, isn't the purpose of His Church to save sinners? How then can an "invisible" Church save sinners?

"For, every one who calls upon the name of the Lord will be saved. But how are men to call upon him in whom they have not believed? And how are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard? And how are they to hear without a preacher? And how can men preach unless they are sent?"

Romans 10:13-15

I must add here, "How can any of this be accomplished through an "invisible" Church? Does an invisible" Church have "invisible" preachers? Did "invisible" Apostles preach to "invisible" Churches?"

---

The word "church" is mentioned about 74 times (KJ and RSV) in the New Testament alone. In the Old Testament, the word used for "church" was "assembly" which is used about 110 times (RSV), or "congregation" about 330 times (KJ). Now for "Bible only" believers, and "true to the Word" as non-Catholics claim to be, then the word "invisible" should be found in the same verse as the three example words for "church" which I have listed. The word "invisible" appears in only seven verses in the entire Bible (Rom 1:20, Col 1:15-16, 1Tim 1:17, Heb 4:13,11:3,11:27) and none of them have anything to do with an assembly, congregation or church. For the Sola Scriptura believer to believe anything, then the "invisible church" has to be found somewhere in Scripture. Is this not true? Strangely, an invisible church is not mentioned anywhere in Holy Scripture, so someone please tell me how any Sola Scriptura believer can truthfully say that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is "invisible"? I would say that Sola Scriptura believers have a double standard when it comes to "Bible only". When dealing with Catholics, they tell us that everything has to be in the Bible or it simply is not believable, but among themselves it does not, and this "invisibility" topic is a prime example of that double standard.

The non-Catholic concept of the "invisible" church is not Biblical. Neither is it historical, as genuine historical documents before the Protestant revolt make no mention of "invisibility" of the Church which Jesus Christ founded. It also is not workable as no one can govern an "invisible" church, but only a visible one. Jesus Christ certainly did set up a visible body of Bishops working under the prompting of the Holy Spirit (John 14:16-17, John 16:12-13, Acts 20:28) to guide His one Church.

However, Holy Scripture is replete with verses which tell us of the great ✦ ✦ of the Church which Jesus Christ founded. How is this one for starters?

"You are the light ✦ of the world. ✦ A city set on a mountain cannot be hidden. ✦ Nor do men light a lamp ✦ and put it under a bushel, but on a stand, and it gives light ✦ to all in the house."

Matthew 5:14-15

You may say that "a mountain" has nothing to do with GOD's Church? Then please take note of this next verse.

"It shall come to pass in the latter days that the mountain of the house of the Lord shall be established as the highest of the mountains, and shall be raised above the hills; and all the nations shall flow to it..." Isaiah 2:2

We are in the latter days and the house of the Lord is His Church, placed high so nations may easily see it in order to flow to it.

You may also say that "a city" does not refer to GOD's Church? Then please read this verse.

"There is a river whose streams make glad the city of GOD, the holy habitation of the Most High."

Psalms 46:4

Also, please take note that the city of GOD is also called "the New Jerusalem".

"He who conquers, I will make him a pillar in the temple of my God; never shall he go out of it, and I will write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my GOD, the new Jerusalem which comes down from my God out of heaven, and my own new name." Revelation 3:12

"For to us a child is born, to us a son is given; and the government will be upon his shoulder, and his name will be called "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace."

Of the increase of his government and of peace there will be no end, upon the throne of David, and over his kingdom, to establish it, and to uphold it with justice and with righteousness from this time forth and for evermore. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this."

Isaiah 9:6-7

It is obvious that these two verses refer to the coming of Jesus Christ. They speak of an increase of His government (note the singularity of the word) which can only mean His Church. Any government has to be highly visible in order for it to function at all. Also the verses make it quite clear that His Kingdom, again His Church, will last forever as reinforced in Matthew 28:20, and Ephesians 3:21.

As stated, the "invisible" church was invented by non-Catholics in a vain attempt to claim that the new covenant priesthood established by Jesus Christ was non-existent.

However, they have conveniently ignored the inescapable fact that GOD did indeed assure a very visible priesthood in both the Old and New Testaments. They also have ignored one of the most important tools of Biblical exegesis, that of typology.

By using typology we can readily and easily see that the Old Testament type of the Levitical priesthood points directly to the reality of the Priesthood of Jesus Christ of the New Testament. The Levitical priesthood was powerless to forgive sins. However, Jesus Christ gave His Apostles, the first New Testament priests, the power to forgive sins,

"Jesus said to them again, "Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you." And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained.." John 20:21-23

In John 20:19, the context clearly shows that only the Apostles were present when Jesus spoke these words and gave them these powers, and only they received the power to remit sins. The succession of Bishops down to the present time began here as Jesus Christ passed the baton to the Apostles.

Likewise in Luke 22:19, and again when only the Apostles were present, Jesus said these words, "And he took bread, and when he had given thanks he broke it and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

Jesus told His Apostles and none other, to break bread and to do this in remembrance of Him. Only the Apostles and their successors in turn, by the laying on of hands, were given these powers.

Beginning in Genesis 14:18 we see Melchisedek as a type of the High priesthood of Christ.

Then we see the appearance of the Levitical priesthood in Exodus 31, with Aaron as the high priest. That Levitical priesthood type is woven throughout the Old Testament and into the New Testament.

In the New Testament we see the formation of the Christian Church, founded by Jesus Christ (Matthew 16:18), and built up by the Apostles and their successors, beginning with their commission by Jesus Christ in Acts 1:8,

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem (local) and in all Judea and Sama'ria (expanding to surrounding areas) and to the end of the earth."

(Covering the whole earth...universal, Catholic)

Are the Apostles to be "invisible" witnesses?

---

And the Church grew and expanded:

The new Church expanded rapidly. This rapid expansion was due in part to the fact that the Romans had built excellent roads connecting the various cities. The Apostles used these roads to advantage.

"Now they who received his word were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand souls." Acts 2:41

"And the multitude of men and women who believed in the Lord increased still more..." Acts 5:14

"Now in those days, as the number of the disciples was increasing..." Acts 6:1

"So the Churches grew stronger and stronger in the faith and increased in numbers daily." Acts 16:5

"And the Word of the Lord continued to spread, and the number of the disciples increased rapidly in Jerusalem; a large number also of the priests accepted the faith." Acts 6:7

"Now throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria the Church was in peace and was being built up, walking in fear of the Lord, and it was filled with the consolation of the Holy Spirit." Acts 9:31. The command of Jesus Christ in Acts 1:8 is being carried out.

"And news concerning them came to the ears of the Church in Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas as far as Antioch. Acts 11:22

"But the Word of the Lord continued to grow and spread." Acts 12:24

Starting in Acts 13:1, the worldwide, universal, Catholic Church began to expand to eventually include all of humanity...

"Now in the Church at Antioch there were prophets and teachers, among whom were Barnabas and Simon, called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen the fostering brother of Herod the tetrarch, and Saul." Acts 13:1

"On arriving at Jerusalem they were welcomed by the Church and the Apostles and Presbyters (priests), and they proclaimed all that GOD had done with them." Acts 15:4

"Then the Apostles and the Presbyters (priests) with the whole Church decided to select representatives and to send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. Acts 15:22

"But I commend to you Phoebe, our sister, who is in the ministry of the Church at Cenchrea..." Rom 16:1

"For from you the Word of the Lord has been spread Abroad, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in Every Place Your Faith In GOD Has Gone Forth, so that we need say nothing further." 1Thess 1:8

"Amen I say to you, wherever in the Whole World this Gospel is preached, this also that she has done shall be told in memory of her." Matt 26:13

"But I say; Have they not heard? Yes, indeed, Their voice has gone forth into All the Earth, and their words Unto the ends of the World." Rom 10:18

"And this Gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in the Whole World, for a witness to All Nations; and then will come the end." Matt 24:14

"Go, therefore and make disciples of All Nations..." Matt 28:19

And He said to them, "Go into the Whole World and preach the Gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15

"But they went forth and preached everywhere, while the Lord worked with them and confirmed the preaching by the signs that followed." Mark 16:20 "

Show me where the "invisibility" is in all of these Churches? The Apostles founded them, visited them, and wrote Epistles (letters) to them. How did the postman ever find them if they were "invisible"?

"And Saul was consenting to his death. And on that day a great persecution arose against the church in Jerusalem; and they were all scattered throughout the region of Judea and Sama'ria, except the apostles. Devout men buried Stephen, and made great lamentation over him. But Saul was ravaging the church, and entering house after house, he dragged off men and women and committed them to prison."

Acts 8:1-3

How does one go about persecuting an "invisible church"? How could Saul ravage an "invisible Church"?

---

Before the Apostles passed on, they started a system, commanded by Jesus Christ, to pass the baton to successors. This was to insure the perpetuality and the growing visibility of the Catholic Church which Jesus Christ founded.

That system is called "Apostolic Succession", and it is very Biblical despite the fact that sects of diverse denominations teach that it is not.

"You then, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus, and what you have heard from me before many witnesses entrust to faithful men who will be able to teach* others also."

2Timothy 2:1-2

*Teach: Jesus Christ commanded His Apostles to go out and teach all nations in Matthew 28:19-20. The Apostolic successors, the Bishops are the teachers today in the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Every Catholic Bishop can show his line of spiritual descent, that is, who consecrated him, who consecrated his consecrator, and so on, all the way back to the Apostles. Jesus Christ vested in the Apostles special authority. This special Apostolic authority has been passed down in unbroken succession through the Bishops of the Catholic Church for almost two thousand years, so that the present Bishops of the Church as a group in conjunction with the Vicar of Christ, the Pope, truly teach with the voice of Jesus Christ through the Apostles.

The Calling...

Gen 3:9, "But the Lord GOD called the man and said to him, 'Where are you?'"

1Sam 3:4, "And the Lord called Samuel. And he answered; 'Here I am'."

Acts 9:10, "...the Lord said to him in a vision, "Ananias." And he said, "Here I am Lord."

Lk 6:13, "And when day broke, He summoned His disciples; and from those He chose twelve, whom He also named Apostles."

Mk 3:13-14, And going up a mountain, He called to Him men of His own choosing, and they came to Him. And He appointed twelve that they might be with Him and that He might send them forth to preach."

Jn 15:16, "You have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you, and have appointed you that you should go and bear fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatever you ask the Father in My Name he may give you."

Jn 15:19, "If you were of the world, the world would love what is its own. But because you are not of this world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hates you."

Mt 10:1, "Then having summoned His twelve disciples, He gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to cure every kind of disease and infirmity."

Acts 13:2, "...the Holy Spirit said, 'Set apart for Me Saul and Barnabas unto the work to which I have called them."

Acts 9:15, "But the Lord said to him, "Go, for this man is a chosen vessel for Me, to carry My Name among nations and kings and the children of Israel."

Eph 4:11, "And He Himself gave some men as Apostles, and some as Prophets, others again as Evangelists, and others as Pastors and teachers."

"And He Himself gave some men as...Pastors". The Greek word used here is Poimenas which means shepherds. Pastors are the shepherds of the Christian flock and are the priests or Bishops. Isn't this a clear indication of a visible priesthood? How are we to see invisible pastors?

Acts 26:17-18, "...to whom I am now sending thee, to open their eyes that they may turn from darkness to light and from the dominion of satan to GOD; that they may receive forgiveness of sins and an inheritance among those sanctified by faith in Me."

Acts 20:28, "Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock in which the Holy Spirit has placed you as Bishops, to rule the Church of GOD, which He has purchased with His own blood."

How can there be any rule whatsoever over an invisible Church? One can not govern an invisible Church, only a visible one.

Gal 1:1, "Paul, an Apostle, sent not from men nor by man, but by Jesus Christ and GOD the Father who raised Him from the dead."

Acts 14:22, "And when they had appointed presbyters for them in each church, with prayer and fasting, they commended them to the Lord in whom they had believed."

Tit 2:15, "Thus speak, and exhort, and rebuke, with all authority. Let no one despise thee."

1Cor 12:28, "And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues." King James Bible

Governments? How can anyone govern an invisible church?

Lk 22:29-30, "And I appoint to you a kingdom, even as My Father has appointed to Me, that you may eat and drink at My table in My kingdom; and you shall sit upon thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

Lk 10:16, "He who hears you, hears Me; and he who rejects you, rejects Me; and he who rejects Me, rejects Him who sent Me."

1Thes 2:7, "Although as the apostles of Christ we could have claimed a position of honor among you, still while in your midst we were as children: as if a nurse were cherishing her own children..."

1Thes 3:2-3, "...and we sent Timothy, our brother and a servant of GOD in the Gospel of Christ, to strengthen and comfort you in your faith, lest any should be shaken by these tribulations. For yourselves know that we are appointed thereto."

1Thes 2:11, "Inasmuch as you are aware of how we entreated and comforted each one of you, acting towards you as a father towards his children."

1Thes 5:12-13, "Now we beseech you, brethren, to appreciate those who labor among you, and who are over you in the Lord and admonish you. Esteem them with a more abundant love on account of their work. Be at peace with them."

The 'Laying on of Hands' to convey authority and leadership is prefigured in the Old Testament.

Num 27:15-23, Then Moses said to the Lord, "May the Lord, the GOD of the spirits of all mankind, set over the community a man who shall act as their leader in all things, to guide them in all their actions; that the Lord's community may not be like sheep without a shepherd." And the Lord replied to Moses, "Take Joshua, son of Nun, a man of spirit, and lay your hands upon him. Have him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, and commission him before their eyes. Invest him with some of your own dignity, that the whole Israelite community may obey him. He shall present himself to the priest Eleazar, to have him seek out for him the decisions of the Urim in the Lord's presence; and as He directs, Joshua, all the Israelites with him, and the community as a whole shall perform all their actions." Moses did as the Lord had commanded him. Taking Joshua and having him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, he laid his hands on him and gave him his commission, as the Lord had directed through Moses."

Deut 34:9, "And Joshua, the son of Nun was full of the Spirit of Wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel hearkened unto him, and he did as the Lord commanded Moses."

---

This same rite was practiced in the early Church and continues to this day. The Bishop, by the 'laying on of hands' , conveys a succession of Priests and Bishops with a commission, giving them the authority and the leadership needed to perpetuate the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Acts 6:6, "These they set before the apostles, and after they had prayed they laid their hands upon them."

Acts 9:17, "...and laying his hands upon him, he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus, who appeared to thee on thy journey, that thou mayest recover thy sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit." A 'laying on of hands' is a filling of the Holy Spirit.

Heb 6:1-3, "Therefore, leaving the elementary teaching concerning Christ, let us pass onto things more perfect, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith towards GOD, of the doctrine of Baptism and the laying on of hands, of the resurrection of the dead and of eternal judgment. Mt 16:15-19, "...'But who do you say that I am'? Simon Peter answered and said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living GOD'. Then Jesus answered and said, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to thee, but My Father in Heaven. And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give thee the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, and whatever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.'"

Jn 14:15-17, "If you love Me, keep My commandments, and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him."

Eph 3:21, "To Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus down through all the ages of time without end. Amen."

As you can readily see, I have presented many verses in support of a valid, visible priesthood, commanded by GOD in Holy Scripture. There are many verses regarding the demise of the Levitical priesthood in the New Testament, but not one regarding the ending of the priesthood of the covenant of Jesus Christ.

---

How would any non-Catholic explain these verses if he believed that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is an "invisible church"?

Matthew 18:17-18, "And if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the Church, but if he refuse to hear even the Church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican. Amen I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound also in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed also in heaven."

Please show me how anyone can appeal to an "invisible church"? As for Sola Scriptura believers, in order to satisfy the word of GOD in these verses, to which Church would you go if you lived in 100, or 300, or 700, or 1000, or 1400 A.D.? Answers?

1Corinthians 12:28, "And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly teachers; after that miracles, then gifts of healing, services of help, power of administration, and the speaking of various tongues."

How could any of these members of Christs Church be invisible? How could they communicate? How could the 'power of administration' govern an invisible Church?

1Timothy 3:15, "...if I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth."

Of which Church is St Paul speaking in this verse? How could it be an "invisible" Church?

In non-Catholic bibles, does Matthew 16:18 read, 'And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my invisible Church'...?

---

It is impossible for anyone to write anything with complete assurance that everyone who would be reading it would interpret the writing exactly as to the meaning of what the writer had in mind. Since everything we see and everything we hear must pass through the filter of the human intellect, there will always be differences of opinion as to the true meaning of the written word.

Now what about the only faithful and true interpretation of the most important Book ever written, Holy Scripture, the Bible? It is absolutely imperative that the Word of GOD be interpreted exactly as GOD had intended it to be. That is why Holy Scripture says, "First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, because no prophecy ever came by the impulse of man, but men moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from GOD."

2Peter 1:20-21

Who are these "men moved by the Holy Spirit"?

Now, with that said, we must now look at the tens of thousands of sects of diverse denominations, all of which defy the words of GOD in those two verses. Ask them why they continue to interpret Scripture according to their very own private interpretation and none other? Ask them why they claim "the Holy Spirit told them", when in fact each has a different interpretation, and the Holy Spirit being GOD, has only one interpretation which is the one truth? After all, if GOD did indeed give us an inerrant book, as non-Catholics claim it is, why then did He not give us an infallible interpreter for it? The fact is, that He did give us an infallible interpreter for it. He gave us His highly visible teaching Church.

The Bible needs His Church to defend His Word, as it cannot defend itself.

Now, just how could that teaching Church ever be an invisible Church?

---

Invisible: something which exists, but cannot be seen. GOD is a prime example.

Invisible: something which cannot be seen and therefore does not exist. Read on for some prime examples.

In all of the verses which I have listed regarding the Church and the priesthood, there is not even the slightest hint of "invisibility" of either, but what we do see is a very profoundly "visible" Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Non-Catholics, however, are partially correct in their concept of an "invisible church". But unfortunately for them, they shot themselves in the foot by declaring it, simply because the only "invisible churches" on the planet are the over 39,000 existing sects of diverse denominations*, as they are not "churches" at all**, since none of them can show that they were founded by GOD, but only by mere human creatures.

After all, GOD did establish only one Church, did He not?
See Psalms 127:1 for proof.

*World Christianity Encyclopedia, 2008, a Protestant publication.

**Remember, Jesus Christ did say "Church" (singular) and not "churches" in Matthew 16:18 and 18:17, as did Saint Paul in 1Corinthians 10:32 and Ephesians 3:10,21, Colossians 1:18, 1:24, 1Timothy 3:5, and 3:15. Saint Luke said the same in Acts 5:11, 9:31, 12:1, 12:5,14:27,15:22, and 20:28, just to name a few. Then Saint James echoed the same in James 5:14, as well as Saint John in 3John 1:6, and 1:9-10. With Jesus Christ, and Paul, Luke, James and John, all using the singular "Church" as many times as they did in Holy Scripture, it is a foregone conclusion that there could be only one Church.

All of those "Churches" mentioned earlier in this file in Revelation 2 and 3, Acts, and several other Scriptures, are the same one Church located in different cities (Acts 1:8). They were all founded by the Apostles, each of whom was infused with the same one knowledge of truth at Pentecost (Acts 2:1-21). They are not individual sects of diverse denominations with each teaching something different, as some non-Catholics would like to have us believe.

Today we have Catholic Churches located in thousands of cities all over the world, fulfilling the command of Holy Scripture in Acts 1:8. However, all of them, teaching the same one truth, are members of the same one highly ✠ visible ✠ Church which Jesus Christ founded.

The Oldest Living, And Longest Lasting Teaching Institution On Earth Is The Church Which Jesus Christ Founded!

---

Think about why this is absolutely true, and why it has to be?

---

"Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up." The Jews then said, "It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and will you raise it up in three days?"
John 2:19-20

This is an interesting verse, because from it we can calculate the approximate date of its happening. According to historical records of the time, the rebuilding of the Jewish temple was begun in 19 B.C.

Forty-six years later would bring the time up to about 27 A.D..

John chapter 2 is right at the beginning of the three years in which Jesus practiced His ministry. From this calculation, He founded His Church near the end of His ministry on earth three years later or about 30 A.D..

Jesus promised that His Church would last every day in every century until the end of time (Matthew 28:20, John 14:16-17, Ephesians 3:21), and that the gates of hell would not prevail against it (Matthew 16:18).

Now, what this means is that in the year 2030, the Church which Jesus Christ founded will be 2000 years old.

His Church is a living Church since it is the Body of Christ, and He is its Head (Ephesians 1:22-23). The Head of Christ cannot be separated from His Body, therefore He and His Church are one, and very much alive.

This is why Holy Scripture has said, "Give no offense to Jews or to Greeks or to the Church of GOD."

1Corinthians 10:32

Because, as you can readily see, that when someone persecutes His Church, they are really persecuting Him.

This is shown again in these verses,

"For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the Church, his body, and is himself its Savior."

Ephesians 5:23

"And he fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?" And he said, "Who are you, Lord?" And he said, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting;"

Acts 9:4-5

Saul had been persecuting His Church as shown in Acts 8:3. Why then, did Jesus say "why do you persecute me?"

Why didn't He say 'why do you persecute my Church'?

A great civilization cannot be destroyed from the outside unless it first destroys itself from the inside.

Let us make a few observations regarding longevity and survivability of one institutional entity. The Roman Empire, was the most powerful state the world had ever seen at the time. It was begun in 27 B.C. by Caesar Augustus, and collapsed under Romulus in 476 A.D.. Its total life was 503 years. At the time of the collapse of the Roman Empire, the Church which Jesus Christ founded was already 446 years old despite the fact that it was brutally attacked from within by heretics such as the Simonians, Marcionites, Monarchians, Montanists, Novatians, Donatists, Arians, Jovinians, Pelagians, Nestorians, and scores of others. The Arian heresy alone, started by Arius, an insider priest who denied the divinity of Christ, was blamed for causing many of the faithful priests and Bishops to follow him. Yet despite all the slings and arrows from within, Christ's Church survived. The gates of hell did not prevail. Yet that is only part of the story, since at the same time all of this was going on, the Church was brutally attacked from without by the Jews, Romans, Vandals and many others, yet Christ's Church survived, and all the while it was steadily growing and expanding. Again, the gates of hell did not prevail.

How then could the powerful Roman Empire collapse and yet the fledgling Church which Jesus Christ founded, survive during those same tumultuous years? That question brings to mind these verses which provide us with the definitive answer:

"So in the present case I tell you, keep away from these men and let them alone; for if this plan or this undertaking is of men, it will fail; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might even be found opposing GOD!"

Acts 5:38-39

From those verses, it is obvious that the Roman Empire was undertaken by men, whereas the Church which Jesus Christ founded is of GOD. Yes, the mighty Roman Empire is long gone, but the Church which Jesus Christ founded is still with us to this very day in spite of centuries of Roman persecution.

Was it not promised by GOD that His Church would last until the end of time as I previously pointed out?

Why then is it so hard for some to believe the Word of GOD?

---

After the collapse of the Roman Empire, the next major obstacle to Christianity was the founding of Islam early in the seventh century. We remember the many Christian Crusader - Moslem wars that dragged on for several centuries. The Church which Jesus Christ founded survived and grew during that very difficult period, in spite of the fact that the wars were not won by the Christians. It is generally recognized that the final action in those wars was the Miracle of Lepanto in 1571 where Moslem inroads into Europe were finally stopped by outnumbered and out-gunned Christians. Again, the gates of hell did not prevail. Echo, echo, echo, Acts 5:38-39.

---

In 1520, the Church which Jesus Christ founded, was beset with more attacks from within, by the heresy of Protestantism.

Martin Luther and several others who led the Protestant revolt were insider priests of that Church. These attacks from within led to several bloody conflicts from without, such as the persecutions by Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth, and the wars with Oliver Cromwell and others, and which caused many loyal priests and Bishops to suffer martyrdom. There was a large temporary outflux soon after 1520 when approximately nine million European members of the Body of Christ left and formed a multitude of Protestant denominations. However, beginning in 1531 the Church had an influx of ten million new converts in Mexico due to the miraculous event of Guadalupe in that year. This influx more than made up for the outflow in Europe. Despite the turmoil of the Protestant revolt, the Church which Jesus Christ founded continued to grow.

Again, the gates of hell did not prevail. It is GOD's guarantee that His Church will be protected and will continue to grow.

His Church has always been much larger than any individual within it.

If you look closely, you can easily see that the fingerprints of GOD can be detected from the final outcomes of these events.

Compare the Biblical story of the Tower of Babel, with the advent of Protestantism. Both groups, being threats to GOD's plan of salvation, were almost immediately divided into small pieces and rendered impotent, Babel by a plethora of languages, and Protestantism by a plethora of sects, which at the time of this writing, number more than 35,500*.

For he who has eyes to see, and ears to hear, behold the fingerprints of GOD!

"Knowing their thoughts, he said to them,

"Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and no city or house divided against itself will stand;"

Matthew 12:25

While Protestantism is imploding (surely as a house divided against itself), with declining membership in the main line sects, the Church which Jesus Christ founded is exploding with a total world membership now of 1.1 billion*.

Two great world wars during the twentieth century caused much suffering for the Church. Many religious were murdered especially during WWII. In 1917 yet another miracle occurred, the Miracle of Fatima in Portugal in which the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to three peasant children and told them that the war (WWI) would end soon, but another and worse one would start during the reign of Pope Pius XI. WWI did end in 1918 and WWII did begin in 1938 during the reign of Pope Pius XI. She also told of the rise of Communism and that Russia will spread her errors over the whole world. The Communist take-over of Russia did take place only one month after she said this, and we all know what the scourge of Communism did for the whole world.

On June 4, 1944, Rome was liberated from Adolf Hitler's Nazi regime. Just weeks before then, Hitler had ordered a German regiment to enter the Vatican and kill everyone therein. The German commander refused to obey the order.

Was that yet another miracle? Was the Hand of GOD involved in this? Please read Ephesians 5:23 again.

---

I have presented in this writing three genuine and well documented miracles, each of which demonstrated that surely, the gates of hell will not prevail against the Church which Jesus Christ founded. When His Church is threatened, He comes to its aid, and this is prefigured in the Gospel of Mark 4:35-40. A fierce storm began to swamp the boat, which is symbolic of His Church*. Jesus arose from a sleep and calmed the sea, thereby saving all who were aboard the vessel.

I am sure that you realize that genuine miracles, which cannot be explained by natural means, come from GOD alone.

"So in the present case I tell you, keep away from these men and let them alone; for if this plan or this undertaking is of men, it will fail; but if it is of GOD, you will not be able to overthrow them. You might even be found opposing GOD!"

Acts 5:38-39

* His Church is symbolized by the Barque of Peter (Luke 5:3), and is the antitype of Noah's Ark (1Peter 3:20-21).

All who were within the Ark were saved, while all who were outside of it perished.

---

With a little common sense and reasoning, it all becomes crystal clear and so very simple:

1. Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth and the life". John 14:6

2. Therefore truth is a person, the Divine Person of Jesus Christ.

3. Since Jesus is only one person, there can be only one truth.

4. In Matthew 16:18, Jesus founded His one Church, and He did say that He would protect it from within and from without for all time, since He promised that the gates of hell would not prevail against it.

5. His Church is His Body and He is the Head, and He is the Savior of His Body. Ephesians 5:23.

6. He proved this many times in Scripture by performing Miracles for the salvation of His Church such as the encounter with Saul for one, in Acts 9:4-5. Since GOD is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow (Malachi 3:6, Hebrews 13:8, James 1:17), why then do some feel that GOD can not, or does not, perform similar salvific miracles in our times?

7. In Matthew 28:20, He promised that His Church would last every day in every century until the end of time.

8. Consequently, His Church has existed every day from the day of its founding (30 A.D.) until this very day.

9. Despite the non-stop merciless persecution from within and from without for almost 2000 years, the Church which Jesus Christ founded, has grown in every century since its founding, and now comprises about one-sixth of the entire population of the earth. How can this possibly be unless Jesus Christ truly is the Savior of His Body?

His promise of Matthew 28:20 is continually being fulfilled.

10. Christ made all of these salvific promises for His Church simply because He loves His Church; "Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the Church and gave himself up for her..."

Ephesians 5:25

"For no man ever hates his own flesh, but nourishes it and cherishes it, as Christ does the Church..."

Ephesians 5:29

The Scripture verses to which I have referred in this writing are all so very simple and clear, and the truth is all too obvious that Jesus Christ does indeed love, and cherish, and protect His Church.

Why then is it that Bible believing Protestants cannot even name that one Church which Jesus Christ founded and so loves, even though it has been highly visible in the world continuously for almost 2000 years?

Well if you do not have the answer to that question, Holy Scripture does in the following verses:

Although they had seen Jesus perform so many miracles, they wouldn't believe in him. In this way the words of the prophet Isaiah came true: "Lord, who has believed our message? To whom has the Lord's power been revealed?" So the people couldn't believe because, as Isaiah also said, "God blinded them and made them close-minded so that their eyes don't see and their minds don't understand. And they never turn to me for healing!"

John 12:37-40

"He will give everlasting life to those who search for glory, honor, and immortality by persisting in doing what is good. But he will bring anger and fury on those who, in selfish pride, refuse to believe the truth and who follow what is wrong."

Romans 2:7-8

"He who does not believe the Son, makes him a liar..."

1John 5:10

Those who deny that the same Church which Jesus Christ founded is still with us today and with Him as its Head, find themselves embedded in 1John 5:10, and are guilty of what it has said. They do not believe Him since:

They have denied that Jesus Christ is the Savior of His Body as in Ephesians 5:23.

They have denied His promise that His Church would last every day in every century as He said it would in Matthew 28:20.

They have denied that His Church would last for all time and eternity as Saint Paul said it would in Ephesians 3:21.

They have denied that Jesus loves His Church as Saint Paul recounted in Ephesians 5:25 and 5:29.

They have denied that the Holy Spirit would be with His Church forever as He promised in John 14:16-17.

They have denied that the Spirit of Truth has come to His Church as He promised in John 16:12-14.

They have denied that Jesus would not leave His Church orphaned as He promised in John 14:18.

They have denied that the Head and the Body are one and cannot be separated, Ephesians 1:22-23.

They have denied Jesus Christ Himself since He and His Church are one and the same Body, Ephesians 1:22-23.

They have indeed refused to believe Him in all of these verses.

Therefore they have surely made the Son of GOD a liar.

The verdict for those who deny any, or all of these verses is...GUILTY as charged in 1John 5:10.

---

Name another continuous living intelligent teaching institution in the world today, which has endured such constant persecution, and is as much as half as old as the Church which Jesus Christ founded almost 2000 years ago?

"There is no other case of one continuous intelligent institution that has been thinking about thinking for two thousand years. Its experience naturally covers nearly all experiences; and especially nearly all errors. The result is a map in which all the blind alleys and bad roads are clearly marked, all the ways that have been shown to be worthless by the best of all evidence: the evidence of those who have gone down them."

A Brief History of Christianity in a Nutshell.

In the Beginning, there was a little acorn tightly packed with layer upon layer of truth.

---

Since the dawn of civilization, many persons have appeared on the scene, and proclaimed themselves to be a prophet, or even GOD Himself. There was Confucius, Buddha, Mohammed, and many others. All of them except for one, were self proclaimed, and none, except for that one, rose from the dead.

In all of recorded history, there was only one person who came pre-announced, and who rose from the dead. He was the Christ. How could anyone come pre-announced unless the announcers could see future happenings? Only GOD, being outside of time, can see the entire history of mankind from beginning to end. If the pre-announcement fits perfectly with the reality of its happening, then we can deduce that it could have only come from GOD. This is exactly how and why the Old Testament prefigurements dovetail perfectly with the New Testament realities.

The Old Testament is primarily devoted to the coming of a Messiah, the Anointed One, the Christ, who would be the Savior of all mankind. He would be the one who would make infinite atonement (at-one-ment) for the infinite offense against GOD by the sin of Adam and Eve in Eden. The first announcement of the coming of a Savior is in Genesis 3:15 where GOD rebuked the serpent:

"I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel."

Isaiah 7:14 has an actual prediction of the birth of the Savior, "Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign. Behold a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son and his name shall be called Emmanuel (GOD with us)."

This pre-announcement was of the long awaited Messiah and Savior, the Christ.

Well, several hundred years after Isaiah wrote those inspired words, a virgin by the name of Mary did conceive, and a Savior was born of her as recounted in Luke chapters 1 and 2. He was pre-announced again by Gabriel, an archangel of GOD (Luke 1:28-33). He is Jesus the Christ. I say Jesus the Christ simply because that is His correct title. Christ is the second person of the Holy Trinity. He was born (begotten) into eternity of a Father without a mother, and therefore He always existed. Jesus, however, was born of one of GOD's creatures whose name is Mary. Jesus was born into time of a mother without a father. He did not always exist. Therefore, Jesus came after Mary. Examine this page for 100 prophecies in the Old Testament regarding the coming of the Messiah, and in which the verses mentioned provide explicit details of His ministry and passion, which were fulfilled in the New Testament.

Jesus was truly pre-announced by many Old Testament prophets, over a span of many hundreds of years.

Why did GOD send His only begotten Son to us?

- 1. To atone for the sin of Adam and Eve, and to repair the gulf that was created between GOD and mankind by that sin (1Corinthians 15:22,45).
- 2. To open the gates of heaven which had been closed since the sin of Adam and Eve (Genesis 3:1-24).
- 3. To provide us with the New Covenant of Jesus Christ since the Old Covenant had become obsolete (Luke 22:20, Hebrews 8:13).
- 4. To found the Kingdom of GOD on earth, a highly visible teaching Church which would lead all of the world to the fullness of truth (Matthew 16:18, Matthew 18:15-18, Matthew 28:19-20, John 16:12-13, 1Timothy 3:15).
- 5. To provide a Father Figure for His Church, as GOD had always provided for His people in the Old Testament, some of whom were Noah, Abraham, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, and David (John 21:15-17).

All but one who is born into this world was born to live.
Jesus the Christ was the only person who was born to die.

---

"What is truth?"

That question was asked of Jesus by Pontius Pilate in John 18:38.

Jesus could have answered with the now famous, "I am" (Exodus 3:13-15, John 8:58).

However, He did not answer His persecutors, and by not doing so, He fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah 53:7,

"He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth; like a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and like a sheep that before its shearers is dumb, so he opened not his mouth."

Earlier, in John 14:6, Jesus had said to the Apostle Thomas,

"I am the way, the truth and the life".

By relating this to Thomas, He had taught us that truth, in reality, is a person, the Divine Person of Jesus the Christ.

It stands to reason that since Jesus is only one person, that there can be only one truth. He could never tell one group a truth and a second group another truth, simply because it is an impossibility. The truth of Jesus the Christ is infinite truth, and multiple infinities simply cannot exist. He spoke the same truth for all of humanity.

We all know that GOD cannot lie (Titus 1:3, Hebrews 6:18).

For those who search for the truth, then you must realize that if Jesus said it, then it is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

---

The unpacking and peeling back of the layers of truth begins!

The unpacking agent was to be the Church which Jesus Christ said He would found in Matthew 16:18.

His Church would not be orphaned, and would be guided by the Holy Spirit, John 14:18, Acts 15:28.

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now.
When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come."

John 16:12-13

"I fed you with milk, not solid food; for you were not ready for it; and even yet you are not ready,..."
1Corinthians 3:2

Notice the future tense of these verses, 'you cannot bear now the things I have to say to you'.
'He will guide you, and declare to you the things that are to come'. 'Even yet you are not ready'.

In John 16:7, Jesus said that He would have to go away first before the Spirit would come.
Just three chapters later in John 19:18, Jesus was crucified but the Spirit of Truth still had not yet come.

In Acts 2:2-4 at Pentecost, the Spirit did come and filled the Apostles with infused knowledge, and immediately after, an emboldened and enlightened Peter, began his discourse in Acts 2:14.

The unpacking of the little acorn of truth had begun.

All of this happened almost 2000 years ago.

Ever since then, the 'unpacking' of truth, layer by layer, from the little acorn has been an unending and continuing process through the teaching Church which Jesus Christ founded.

The book of Acts recorded the humble beginnings of this primitive teaching Church, and of its expansion over all of the earth as commanded by Jesus Christ.

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem (local) and in all Judea and Sama'ria (expanding to surrounding territories) and to the end of the earth (world wide)."

Acts 1:8

---

When Jesus Christ announced the founding of His Church in Matthew 16:18, He also promised to defend it from within and from without for all time, by His words that 'the gates of hell would not prevail against it'.

Since truth Himself said this, it must be true.

His Church is His Body and He is the Head, and He is the Savior of His Body as written by Saint Paul in Ephesians 5:23.

Jesus proved this many times in Scripture by performing miracles for the salvation of His Church.
For example, in Acts 9:1-18 Saul, who was fervent in his persecution of the fledgling Church, was traveling to Damascus in order to persecute Christians there. Suddenly a miraculous light shown around him and he fell to the ground. The voice of Christ asked him why he was persecuting Him.
Christ did not ask Saul why he was persecuting His Church. This incident was the root cause of Saul's instant conversion from a zealous persecutor to a zealous defender of the Church which Jesus Christ founded. These verses verify that Christ is indeed the Savior of His Body.

Since GOD is immutable (Malachi 3:6, Hebrews 13:8, James 1:17), why then do some believe that He does not perform similar salvific miracles in our time?

In Matthew 28:20, Jesus promised that His Church would last every day in every century until the end of time.

Consequently, His Church has existed every day in every century from the day of its founding (in about 30 A.D.) until this very day. Despite the non-stop merciless persecution from within and from without for almost 2000 years, in every century since its founding, His Church has grown, prospered, and developed as all living things do. His Church now comprises about one sixth of the population of the entire earth.

It is an impossibility that this could have happened at all if it were an institution founded not by GOD, but by mere humans.

Jesus Christ truly is the Savior of His Body.

"Behold, I have given you power to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the might of the enemy; and nothing shall hurt you."

Luke 10:19

Again, this is true because He said it.

Christ made all of these salvific promises for His Church simply because He loves His Church;

"Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the Church and gave himself up for her..."

Ephesians 5:25

"For no man ever hates his own flesh, but nourishes it and cherishes it, as Christ does the Church..."

Ephesians 5:29

Why all of these salvific promises for His Church?

Simply because, again, His Church is His Body and whatever scourging and insults that He received, His Mystical Body, His Church, will endure also.

We know because as Jesus Christ was hated, so must His Church be hated.

"You will be hated by all nations for my names sake."

Matthew 24:9

Just as the Church is the Body of Christ, so she naturally must follow the trials and tribulations of her founder and Head. His physical body endured an unmerciful persecution and scourging, and so must His Mystical Body, the Church, endure the same.

A comparison between Jesus Christ and His Mystical Body. They are one and cannot be separated. What happened to the one also must happen to the other.

Jesus Christ persecuted:	His Mystical Body, His Church persecuted:
They rebelled against His Authority.	They rebel against its Authority. 2Peter 2:10
They said Crucify Him.	They have tried to destroy it for 2000 years. John 19:15

Not understanding Him, they walked away.	Not understanding it, they walk away. John 6:66
He had false accusers.	It has false accusers. Mark 14:56-59
He was mocked.	It is mocked. Luke 23:35-37
He was scandalized	It is scandalized. Luke 17:1-2
He was hated without a cause	It is hated without a cause. Psalms 35:19, John 15:18-25
His accuser, Judas, died.	Its accusers die, and His Church buries them, and it lives on.
His enemies would stumble and fall.	Its enemies stumble and fall. John 18:6
We have no king but Caesar.	We have no need of it, as we have the Bible. John 19:15
Can anything good come out of Nazareth?	Can anything good come from Rome? John 1:46
They cried out, "Not this one but Barabbas".	It is also rejected by the world. John 15:18-25
He bore His Cross.	It bears a cross also, the cross of persecution. John 19:17
He died on the Cross.	It has thousands of martyrs, many on crosses. John 19:30
Almost 2000 years later, He lives, stronger than ever.	Almost 2000 years later, it lives, stronger than ever.

However, no matter how hard the persecutors try...

His Kingdom will last forever: Isaiah 41:10-11, 54:17, 59:21, Ephesians 3:21.

At this point, can anyone name the Church which Jesus Christ founded? No? Well read on!

One reason that the Church which Jesus Christ founded is hated is because it does not conform to this world. It is accused of being old fashioned and out of date. Is Jesus Christ old fashioned and out of date? Does GOD change with the times? Does He follow secularism? Those who make these baseless charges dismiss the fact that what is fashionable today is passe tomorrow. Truth will always withstand the test of time.

"Nine out of ten of what we call new ideas are simply old mistakes.....There is no other case of one continuous intelligent institution that has been thinking about thinking for two thousand years. Its experience naturally covers nearly all experiences; and especially nearly all errors. The result is a map in which all the blind alleys and bad roads are clearly marked, all the ways that have been shown to be worthless by the best of all evidence: the evidence of those who have gone down them."

G.K. Chesterton

The cults of today are the ways which have been shown to be worthless ways, the errors, and the bad roads of the past.

"All things are full of weariness; a man cannot utter it; the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing. What has been is what will be, and what has been done is what will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun. Is there a thing of which it is said, "See, this is new"? It has been already, in the ages before us. There is no remembrance of former things, nor will there be any remembrance of later things yet to happen among those who come after."

How can anyone determine which Church is the Church that Jesus Christ founded?
Simply by comparing what Holy Scripture has prefigured for it, and the reality of those prefigurements over the past 2000 years:

What Holy Scripture has said Christ's Church would be:	How Christ's Church has conformed to Holy Scripture:
It will be founded by GOD: Psalms 127:1, Matthew 16:18	It was founded by GOD .
It will be highly visible: Isaiah 2:2, Matthew 5:14	It is highly visible .
It will have the authority: Matthew 18:15-18, John 20:21-22	It has the authority given to it by Jesus Christ.
It will have a Father Figure: Isaiah 22:20-25	It has a Father Figure , as GOD always had for His people.
It will be a Theocracy and not a Democracy: Eph 5:23-24	It is a Theocracy. It is governed from the top down.
The blueprint for it is described in the book of Acts.	It is blueprinted in the book of Acts .
It will have priests, deacons, Bishops: Acts 6:1-6, 14:22, 20:28	It always has had priests, deacons, and Bishops .
It will have Apostolic Succession: Psalm 109:8, Acts 1:20-26	It has Apostolic Succession .
It will offer sacrifice every day in every place: Malachi 1:11	It does offer sacrifice every day in every place.
It will be guided by the Holy Spirit: John 14:16-17, 16:12-13	It is guided by the Holy Spirit : Acts 15:28, Rev 2:7
Truths of GOD to be revealed to it over time: John 16:12-13	Truths of GOD have been revealed to it over time: Eph 3:10
It will be the Pillar and Foundation of Truth: 1 Timothy 3:15	It is the Pillar and Foundation of Truth .
It will be the guardian of truth: 2 Timothy 1:13-14	It has been the guardian of truth for almost 2000 years.
It will uphold Apostolic Tradition: 2 Thessalonians 2:15	It upholds Apostolic Tradition .
It will have Church councils: Proverbs 11:14, Acts 15:1-29	It holds periodic Church councils : Acts 15:1-29
It will be attacked from the inside: John 6:70	It has been attacked from the inside .
It will be attacked from the outside: Matthew 5:10-12, 10:22	It has been attacked from the outside .
All who fight against it shall be confounded: Isaiah 41:11	37,000+ Protestant sects is proof that they are confounded.
It will be found in every century: Ephesians 3:21	It is found in every century from the day Christ

It will last forever: Isa 41:10-11, 54:17, 59:21, Matt 28:20

founded it.

Outside of the Catholic Church There is no Salvation!

---

You may have heard that the Catholic Church is prefigured by Noah's Ark.

No one outside of the Ark was saved during the flood. Only those eight people inside the ark were saved, Noah, his wife, their three sons and their wives... Gen 6-8.

"These in times past had been disobedient when the patience of GOD waited in the days of Noah while the ark was building. In that ark a few, that is, eight souls were saved through water. Its counterpart, Baptism, now saves you also..." 1Pet 3:20-21.

Now we have the new Noah's Ark, the Catholic Church... and a controversy...

From the Council of Florence-Basel-Ferrara held in 1431-1445, came the following decree:

"It (the council) firmly believes, professes and preaches that all those who are outside the catholic church, not only pagans but also Jews or heretics and schismatics, cannot share in eternal life and will go into the everlasting fire which was prepared for the devil and his angels, unless they are joined to the Catholic Church before the end of their lives; that the unity of the ecclesiastical body is of such importance that only for those who abide in it do the church's sacraments contribute to salvation and do fasts, almsgiving and other works of piety and practices of the Christian militia produce eternal rewards; and that nobody can be saved, no matter how much he has given away in alms and even if he has shed his blood in the name of Christ, unless he has persevered in the bosom and the unity of the catholic church."

---

The first impression one would receive from this rather harsh sounding decree, is that the Church has said, that if you are not a Catholic, you will have no salvation. If this is the conclusion to which you have arrived, then please allow me to try to set the record straight. What about the souls who have never heard of GOD or are ignorant of the commandments? Are all of these automatically condemned? No, they are not. What about the souls who are isolated from civilization and have not had the Gospel preached to them? Are they condemned, through no fault of their own, for something of which they had no control?

Of course not, for we have a merciful GOD who loves us all and wants salvation for all people.

---

Romans 2:14-15, "When the Gentiles who have no law do by nature what the Law prescribes, these having no law are a law unto themselves. They show the work of the Law written in their hearts."

All of us have had GOD's Laws written in our hearts, and are therefore eligible for salvation. If the unlearned follow those infused Laws of GOD, they will see salvation.

---

What about our Protestant brothers and sisters, are they too condemned? No, they are not.

The key to this perplexing (to some) Council statement is in having a valid Baptism.

---

Whether Catholics and non-Catholics realize it or not, anyone Baptized by the Catholic Church, or Baptized validly by the standard Church approved method by Church sanctioned non-Catholic denominations, or by individuals who have the intention of doing what the Church does, is Baptized into the Catholic Church, or if you prefer, the Church which Jesus Christ founded in Matthew 16:18.

What this means, is that all who meet the above requirements for Baptism, are joined to the Catholic Church, and are therefore, not outside of the Catholic Church, as the Council states. This covers most protestant denominations, as most of them, but not all, are Church sanctioned.

Unfortunately, there are a few who call themselves Catholic, who take the phrase, "There is no salvation outside of the Catholic Church", as a 'truth' without bothering to find out the real meaning of what the Council of Florence decreed. Again, the words are taken out of context, and thus, their interpretation is in error.

Vatican Council II explained what I have tried to show you above. It is not a contradiction of the Council of Florence, but merely a redefinition of the decree. You will have to remember that times change, and language and conditions change.

---

Now the true meaning of,

"Outside of the Catholic Church, there is no Salvation", is, 'if you realize the Catholic Church is the True Church, and if you refuse to join it, then you have rejected the truth of the Church. By rejecting the Church, you reject Jesus Christ who founded it'. Therefore you are... 'Outside of the Catholic Church and there is no salvation'.

See Heb 6:4-8

---

Here is what Vatican II said regarding this subject...

---

An excerpt from Lumen Gentium...

The Dogmatic Constitution on the Church of the Second Vatican Council

14. This holy Council first of all turns its attention to the Catholic faithful. Basing itself on scripture and tradition, it teaches that the Church, a pilgrim now on earth, is necessary for salvation: the one Christ is mediator and the way of salvation; he is present to us in his body which is the Church. He himself explicitly asserted the necessity of faith and baptism (cf. Mk. 16:16; Jn. 3:5), and thereby affirmed at the same time the necessity of the Church which men enter through baptism as through a door. Hence they could not be saved who, knowing that the Catholic Church was founded as necessary by God through Christ, would refuse either to enter it, or to remain in it. Fully incorporated into the Church are those who, possessing the Spirit of Christ, accept all the means of salvation given to the Church together with her entire organization, and who--by the bonds constituted by the profession of faith, the sacraments, ecclesiastical government, and communion--are joined in the visible structure of the Church of Christ, who rules her through the Supreme Pontiff and the bishops. Even though incorporated into the Church, one who does not however persevere in charity is not saved. He remains indeed in the bosom of the Church, but "in body" not "in heart." [12] All children of the Church should nevertheless remember that their exalted condition results, not from their own merits, but from the grace of Christ. If they fail to respond in thought, word and deed to that grace, not only shall they not be saved, but they shall be the more severely judged. [13] Catechumens who, moved by the Holy Spirit, desire with an explicit intention to be incorporated into the Church, are by that very intention joined to her. With love and solicitude mother Church already embraces them as her own.

---

15. The Church knows that she is joined in many ways to the baptized who are honored by the name of Christian, but who do not however profess the Catholic faith in its entirety or have not preserved unity or communion under the successor of Peter. [14] For there are many who hold sacred scripture in honor as a rule of faith and of life, who have a sincere religious zeal, who lovingly believe in God the Father Almighty and in Christ, the Son of God and the Saviour, [15] who are sealed by baptism which unites them to Christ, and who indeed recognize and receive other sacraments in their own Churches or ecclesiastical communities. Many of them possess the episcopate, celebrate the holy Eucharist and cultivate devotion of the Virgin Mother of God. [16] There is furthermore a sharing in prayer and spiritual benefits; these Christians are indeed in some real way joined to us in the Holy Spirit for, by his gifts and graces, his sanctifying power is also active in them and he has strengthened some of them even to the shedding of their blood. And so the Spirit stirs up desires and actions in all of Christ's disciples in order that all may be peaceably united, as Christ ordained, in one flock under one shepherd. [17] Mother Church never ceases to pray, hope and work that this may be achieved, and she exhorts her children to purification and renewal so that the sign of Christ may shine more brightly over the face of the Church.

---

16. Finally, those who have not yet received the Gospel are related to the People of God in various ways. [18] There is, first, that people to which the covenants and promises were made, and from which Christ was born according to the flesh (cf. Rom. 9:4-5): in view of the divine choice, they are a people most dear for the sake of the fathers, for the gifts of God are without repentance (cf. Rom. 11:29). But the plan of salvation also includes those who acknowledge the Creator, in the first place amongst whom are the Moslems: these profess to hold the faith of Abraham, and together with us they adore the one, merciful God, mankind's judge on the last day. Nor is God remote from those who in shadows and images seek the unknown God, since he gives to all men life and breath and all things (cf. Acts 17:25-28), and since the Savior wills all men to be saved (cf. 1 Tim. 2:4). Those who, through no fault of their own, do not know the Gospel of Christ or his Church, but who nevertheless seek God with a sincere heart, and, moved by grace, try in their actions to do his will as they know it through the dictates of their conscience--those too may achieve eternal salvation.[19] Nor shall divine providence deny the assistance necessary for salvation to those who, without any fault of theirs, have not yet arrived at an explicit knowledge of God, and who, not without grace, strive to lead a good life. Whatever good or truth is found amongst them is considered by the Church to be a preparation for the Gospel[ 20] and given by him who enlightens all men that they may at length have life. But very often, deceived by the Evil One, men have become vain in their reasonings, have exchanged the truth of God for a lie and served the world rather than the Creator (cf. Rom. 1:21 and 25). Or else, living and dying in this world without God, they are exposed to ultimate despair. Hence to procure the glory of God and the salvation of all these, the Church, mindful of the Lord's command, "preach the Gospel to every creature" (Mk. 16:16) takes zealous care to foster the missions.

From Protestant to Catholic in Ten Easy Verses...

Verses borrowed from Marcus Grodi in his EWTN program "Coming Home".

---

Marcus Grodi recounted his conversion from nine years as a Protestant minister to the Catholic Church simply by understanding ten Bible verses that he either had not seen before, or did not understand. His ten verses are listed here.

He made comments on all ten. The comments here are mine.

Verse #1, Proverbs 3:5-6

"Trust in the LORD with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths."

There are New Testament verses which complement Proverbs 3:5-6 perfectly.

"Understanding this first: That no prophecy of Scripture is made by private interpretation. For prophecy came not by the will of man at any time: but the holy men of God spoke, inspired by the Holy Ghost."

2Peter 1:20-21

So the key here is to be inspired by GOD and not by your own individual insight. But then, anyone could claim that he or she was inspired by GOD. So the question is to find the truth of who is and who is not inspired by GOD.

Again, we must not rely on our individual insight, but by the inspiration of GOD through His Holy Scriptures to enlighten us in the truth.

Matthew 7:15-20

"Beware of false prophets, who come to you in the clothing of sheep, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

(16) By their fruits you shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

(17) Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit, and the evil tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

(18) A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can an evil tree bring forth good fruit.

(19) Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, shall be cut down, and shall be cast into the fire.

(20) Wherefore by their fruits you shall know them.

Go here for much more on this subject of discernment.

Verse #2, 1Timothy 3:14-15

"I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these instructions to you so that,

(15) if I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth."

Wait a minute! If the Bible is the pillar and bulwark of the truth, then why can't I find that truism in the Bible?

This is really a profound and serious turn of events to one's thinking.

It forces a person to think opposite to what they have been taught, and spawns yet another very serious question:

Since the Bible says that it is the Church that is the pillar of truth, then which Church is it?

Well there is an easy answer to that one.

Common sense tells me that it could only be the one and only Church that was in existence when Paul wrote this epistle to Timothy. Now I must search for that Church.

---

---

Verse #3, 2Timothy 3:14-17

"But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have firmly believed, knowing from whom you learned it

(15) and how from childhood you have been acquainted with the sacred writings which are able to instruct you for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. (16) All scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, (17) that the man of God may be complete, equipped for every good work.

All Scripture! Hmmm, what was 'all Scripture' at the time that 2Timothy was written?

Hey, those verses can only mean the Old Testament, since there was no New Testament at that time and not for centuries to come.

---

---

Verse #4, 2Thessalonians 2:15

"So then, brethren, stand firm and hold to the traditions which you were taught by us, either by word of mouth or by letter."

Whew! Here is yet another verse that was missed by so many. I was taught that we should not follow the traditions of men.

Here Paul said we must hold to the traditions that were taught by us. Who are us? Who was Paul? He was an Apostle (Romans 1:1).

So what he really said was to hold to traditions taught by the Apostles whether they were written traditions or oral.

What does oral mean?

It means just that, not written, as in Holy Scripture, but passed on by word of mouth down through the centuries.

---

---

Verse #5, Matthew 16:13-19

"And Jesus came into the quarters of Caesarea Philippi: and he asked his disciples, saying: Whom do men say that the Son of man is?"

(14) But they said: Some John the Baptist, and other some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

(15) Jesus saith to them: But whom do you say that I am? (16) Simon Peter answered and said: Thou art Christ, the Son of the living God. (17) And Jesus answering said to him: Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona: because flesh and blood hath not revealed it to thee, but my Father who is in heaven. (18) And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock

I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (19) And I will give to thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven.

And whatsoever thou shalt bind upon earth, it shall be bound also in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, it shall be loosed also in heaven."

Well in my search for 'which Church' from what was learned in 1Timothy 3:14-15 above, I am in a dilemma yet again from these verses. It is confirmed by Jesus Himself in verse 18 that He did say "I will build my Church" and He did not say

Churches. "And the gates of hell shall not prevail against it" must mean that it still exists to this day. And look to whom He gave the keys of the kingdom of heaven? He gave them to Peter and none other.

Did you notice in verse 16 that it was Simon Peter alone who gave the correct reply that Jesus is Christ?

My search for 'which Church' has suddenly become easier and by Holy Scripture alone.

Verse #6, Revelation 14:13

"And I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me: Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord. From henceforth now, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours. For their works follow them."

Oh my gosh! I was taught that works are useless.

Now Holy Scripture has turned my thinking upside down by its teaching that my works will follow me if I die in the Lord.

---

Verse #7, Romans 10:14-15

"How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? Or how shall they believe him of whom they have not heard?

And how shall they hear without a preacher? (15) And how shall they preach unless they be sent, as it is written:

How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, of them that bring glad tidings of good things?"

Sent? I know who sent me but who sent him who sent me? Who sent the one before him and so on back through history?

---

---

Verse #8, John 15:4 and 6:56

John 15:4, "Abide in me: and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, unless it abide in the vine, so neither can you, unless you abide in me."

We must abide in Jesus. If the branch does not abide in the vine then what becomes of it? It is cut off and thrown into the fire. Ouch! So how then do we abide in Jesus? The answer to that one again is in Holy Scripture in the following verse.

John 6:56, "He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him."

Wait a minute! Where is the word 'symbol' in that verse? There isn't any such word. That verse is very clear and is very simple. Why would anyone try to read more into it than what is already there?

Now I must find the Church that teaches that the Eucharist is not merely a symbol but is truly the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ Himself. Is there really such a Church?

---

---

Verse #9, Colossians 1:24

"Now I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake, and in my flesh I complete what is lacking in Christ's afflictions for the sake of his body, that is, the church."

Saint Paul said it. His Body IS the Church. Again, THE CHURCH, singular.

The pressure has been raised on me to find that Church, and the onus has been put upon me from GOD through His Holy Scripture.

How can I resist the Word of GOD? I must not. I cannot.

---

Verse #10, Luke 1:46-48

"And Mary said, "My soul magnifies the Lord, (47) and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, (48) for he has looked on the humble estate of his servant. For behold, from now on all generations will call me blessed;"

What's this? Verses that I never did give much thought to...that is until now.

"All generations" means you and I and everyone who has ever lived since she said it.

That little word "will" is much more than a suggestion, but a command, and a firm command at that,

and is yet again right from Holy Scripture.

"Call me blessed". All of you Bible thumping Christians out there, have you ever called her blessed even once in your life?

How can you ever say that you are Bible believers only (Sola Scriptura) if you do not do what Holy Scripture commands you to do in such a forceful and undeniable manner?

Do you pick only the Bible verses that appear at first glance to reinforce your beliefs and ignore those verses that run counter to what you have been taught?

---

Well there you have it, the Scripture verses that changed the thinking of Marcus Grodi, and caused him to resign his Protestant ministry and to become a member of the only Church which Jesus Christ founded.

What a beautiful conversion story it is. It shows the power of GOD's word in all things.

---

---

Elucidation:

What we have discovered are truths that have always been in Holy Scripture but were mis-interpreted, overlooked, or simply ignored.

1. Verses that have been mis-interpreted frequently are taken out of context, or the senses of scripture have not been heeded.

2. It is easy to see how verses can be overlooked. I have done that myself.

Every time I go through scripture multiple times I find things that I missed the first and subsequent times through.

Holy Scripture should be read slowly and each sentence or phrase should be pondered upon.

3. Under no circumstances should any verse be deliberately ignored simply because it does not agree with what you have been taught.

GOD's word always takes precedence over man's word.

Let us look at the gist of what we have learned from Holy Scripture as we review the verses listed in this writing:

1. Proverbs 3:5-6, acknowledge GOD in all things and look to Him for spiritual inspiration, and not by your own human initiative.

2. 1Timothy 3:14-15, it is the Church which is the pillar and foundation of truth, not the Bible, for the Bible tells us so.

3. 2Timothy 3:14-17, all scripture is inspired by GOD, but 'all scripture' is only the Old Testament that Paul had at the time.

4. 2Thessalonians 2:15, hold to the traditions that were taught by the Apostles and handed down through the ages.

5. Matthew 16:13-19, Christ founded only one Church, installed Peter as its head, and guaranteed that it would last forever.

6. Revelation 14:13, good works have an important place in our salvation, for they will follow us.

7. Romans 10:14-15, a person has to be sent with authority from GOD.

8. John 15:4 and 6:56, in order to be joined to Christ we must abide in Him through the Holy Eucharist, and not by symbolism.

9. Colossians 1:24, the Body of Christ is the Church that He founded.

10. Luke 1:46-48, we must honor Mary, the Mother of GOD, by calling her Blessed.

So what is the obvious message that we are obliged to derive from what we have learned from Holy Scripture?

We must find the only Church founded by Christ, which is the only Church that was endowed with GOD given authority, the Church which is the Body of Christ, the Church which existed at the time the epistles were written by the Apostles, the Church that has held to the traditions that were taught by the Apostles and handed down through the ages.
the Church which eclipses the Bible as the "Pillar and Foundation of Truth", the Church headed by Peter the only one who was given the keys to it, the Church that exists to this very day because it was the guarantee of Christ Himself, the Church that teaches that the Holy Eucharist is truly the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ and not merely a symbol, and the Church which has always honored Blessed Mary, the Mother of GOD.

To which Church would you think that Jesus Christ would want you to belong?
Would it be His, or one of the many founded by mere humans who were without any GOD given authority to do so?

"But Peter and the apostles answered, "We must obey God rather than men."" Acts 5:29 That verse pretty much wraps it up, doesn't it?

Who in his right mind would not want to be joined to the only Church that Jesus the Christ founded?

---

For if a person realizes that the Catholic Church is the true Church, and fails to join it, then there is no salvation for him.

"If a man realizes that the Catholic Church is the true Church, he must join it if he wishes to save his soul."

Radio Replies I-536, volume #1 page 116

The following verses are Biblical proof of the aforesaid statement.

Hebrews 6:4-6

"For it is impossible to restore again to repentance those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, and have become partakers of the Holy Spirit, (5) and have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the age to come, (6) if they then commit apostasy, since they crucify the Son of God on their own account and hold him up to contempt."

Hebrews 10:26-27,

"For if we sin wilfully after having the knowledge of the truth, there is now left no sacrifice for sins: (27) But a certain dreadful expectation of judgment, and the rage of a fire which shall consume the adversaries."

Haydock Catholic Bible Commentary 1859 edition, for Hebrews 10:26,

Ver. 26. If we sin wilfully. He speaks of the sin of wilful apostacy from the known truth; after which, as we cannot be baptized again, we cannot expect to have that abundant remission of sins, which Christ purchased by his death, applied to our souls in that ample manner as it is in baptism; but we have rather all manner of reason to look for a dreadful judgment; the more, because apostates from the know truth seldom or never have the grace to return to it. (Challoner)

Acts 20:28,

"Take heed to yourselves and to the whole flock, wherein the Holy Ghost hath placed you bishops, to rule the Church of GOD which he hath purchased with his own blood."

Did Jesus Christ purchase your church 'with his own blood'?

Obviously not, seeing again that the words 'Church of GOD' denotes one Church only, His, does it not?

From Protestant to Catholic in a Few Simple Verses.

"It is logical Captain", as Mister Spock would say.

---

---

Let us pretend that I were non-Catholic and saw these verses for the first time. They would certainly cause me great consternation.

I must spend much time and research for answers to the questions that have been brought to mind because of them.

---

Psalms 127:1

"Unless the LORD builds the house, those who build it labor in vain."

There is a New Testament verse which complements Psalms 127:1 perfectly:

"And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock
I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

Matthew 16:18

I noticed in both examples that a singular house or a singular Church was mentioned.

Here is another New Testament verse which supports those above:

"For no other foundation can any one lay than that which is laid down, which is Jesus Christ."

1Corinthians 3:11

That verse tells me that absolutely no one can found a Church other than GOD, and He founded only one, around 2000 years ago.

Questions:

Was my church built by the Lord?

Am I laboring in vain unless I am in the house that GOD built? It would seem so since the Bible tells me so.

If I cannot believe what Holy Scripture tells me, who or what can I believe?

I know, I can answer those questions easily as soon as I prove that GOD founded my church.

Good Grief!!!

I found my church on that founded page. Well obviously that list is wrong because it is against what I have been taught.

I will do the research myself and find the truth. But where do I begin?

A long time later:

Well I searched and searched and found nothing to support my church.

I could find no genuine historical document that even mentioned my church before it was first founded by a human person.

I found nothing about it in the writings of the Church Fathers.

I found no chain of succession from Jesus Christ through Saint Peter and down through the centuries to my founder.

Worst of all I could not find a single verse that would give authority to any human person to found another Church other than the one that Jesus Christ founded.

But I did find these two crushing verses:

"But Peter and the Apostles answered and said, "We must obey GOD rather than men."

Acts 5:29

"He who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory; but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood."

John 7:18

Yikes! And this one:

"But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be among you lying teachers who shall bring in sects of perdition and deny the Lord who bought them: bringing upon themselves swift destruction." (DRB)

2Peter 2:1

Sects?

If GOD did not found my church then is it considered to be a sect?

Well according to Holy Scripture 2Peter 2:1, and by using some GOD given common sense, it is obvious to me that the Church which GOD founded could not be a sect, but all of those founded by mere human persons must be.

I checked two other Bibles and look at the wording that each one used instead of using the word 'sects'?

"But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction." (KJ)

2Peter 2:1

"False prophets appeared in the past among the people, and in the same way false teachers will appear among you. They will bring in destructive, untrue doctrines, and will deny the Master who redeemed them, and so they will bring upon themselves sudden destruction." (GNB)

2Peter 2:1

Damnable heresies? Destructive, untrue doctrines? False teachers? False prophets? Swift or sudden destruction?

Wow! This is all very scary.

Here is another:

"I am come in the name of my Father, and you receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him you will receive."

John 5:43

Remember, If you reject His Body (the Church, Col 1:24) , you reject Him, and those who do would rather accept the false prophet.

Here are another condemning two verses that I found:

"Amen, amen, I say to you, he who enters not by the door to the sheepfold, but climbs up another way, is a thief and a robber.

But he who enters by the door is shepherd of the sheep."

John 10:1-2

How are you with parables? Jesus used them a lot. The sheepfold can only mean His Church which must be entered by its door. He who does is shepherd of the sheep. He who does not is a thief and a robber. What do you think of that?

I seem to recall that Jesus appointed an earthly shepherd of His sheep. Oh yes, see John 21: 15-17 where Jesus gave the primacy to Peter by telling him three times to feed His sheep.

Why would Jesus find the need to repeat Himself three times? Did He mean for Peter to feed them with food?

And here is still another condemning verse that I found. Goodness, how many more are there?

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."

Luke 11:23

Scatters? That sounds like this disturbing fact that I found:

There are now over 40,000 denominations in the world today that call themselves Christian, with new ones popping up every week.

See 'The World Christian Database' publication for this fact. It is a Protestant publication.

With 40,000+ denominations (sects, heresies, untrue doctrines, false teachers, false prophets) doesn't that sound like a lot of people are guilty of scattering, when Jesus commanded that we be gathered.....as in one?

That shocking 40,000+ figure raises some troubling questiona in my mind.

1. With but one GOD and His one Word, the Bible, how can there not be but one Church?

2. Those 40,000+ sects must each have to be teaching something different from each other as well as from the true Church.

However, with only one Holy Scripture to interpret, how can that be?

The solution to that question must lie in the human interpreter of it and not in Holy Scripture itself.

After all, Holy Scripture teaches us that GOD is not the author of confusion, (1Corinthians 14:33) and 40,000+ sects all teaching their own interpretation of the Bible are a great confusion, are they not?

So the author of confusion can only be man himself.

3. It would be a very strange thing indeed since GOD did give us an infallible book, and knowing the minds of men, that He neglected to give them an infallible interpreter for it. Well, what do you think? Did He or didn't He?

Hey, if He did, then He must have told us that He did, and if He did tell us then in must be recorded in Holy Scripture.

Well let us see if we can find it? Where shall we start? How about starting with a keyword such as 'truth'?

Here is a good start:

John 14:6, "Jesus said to him: I am the way, and the truth, and the life. No man comes to the Father, but by me."

"The Way" was the first term used to represent Christianity in those days:

Mark 1:3, 12:14, Luke 3:4, 20:21, John 1:23, 14:4-6, Acts 9:2, 16:17,
Acts 18:25-26, 19:9,23, 22:4, 24:14,22.

Jesus said He was the truth. Since there is only one Jesus, there can also be only one truth....Right? So logically, and by using our GOD given common sense, we must conclude that if all of those 40,000+ sects taught the truth, then there would be only one Church.....Agreed?

After all, Jesus Christ founded only one Church as Scripture plainly told us in Matthew 16:18. He told us that there shall be one fold and one shepherd in John 10:16. Does 40,000+ sects sound like one fold to you?

In John 17:11,21 and 22, Jesus prayed that we all be one. He said it not once but three times in John 17.

Why does anyone, especially Jesus, repeat Himself multiple times? I recall asking that question earlier in this writing but for a different set of verses. Why should anyone have to repeat his or her message over and over again?

It is because so many of us simply do not get the message the first time around.

It had to have been an extremely important message from GOD since Jesus had to pray for it three times.

Does 40,000+ splinters in Christianity sound like we are obedient to GOD's word that was iterated to us not once but three times from Holy Scripture?

How could any person who calls himself a Bible believer, simply ignore this plea from GOD Himself?

John 15:14, "You are My friends if you do the things I command you."

John 14:23-24, "If anyone love me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our abode with him. He who does not love me does not keep my words.

And the word that you have heard is not mine but the Father's who sent me."

Matthew 13:15-16, "For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears they have been dull of hearing, and their eyes they have shut: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them. But blessed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear."

Context for those two verses: Jesus was speaking to the Apostles about those who simply do not get the message.

What about the founders of those 40,000+ sects? Did they ever get the message? Did they obey His commands?

Or did they simply act on their own initiative as this next verse prophesied?

Matthew 15:9, "And in vain do they worship me, teaching doctrines and commandments of men."

Matthew 15:13-14, "Every plant which my Heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up. Let them alone: they are blind, and leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both fall into the pit."

Hey! Those last two verses caused me to recall Psalms 127:1, similar meaning but with different words.

If GOD did not build it or plant it, then those mere humans who did are either laboring in vain or are rooted up.

John 5:39-40, "You search the Scriptures, because in them you think that you have life everlasting. And it is they that bear witness to Me, yet you are not willing to come to Me that you may have life."

Very important! Very scary! Do you remember the last part of the first part of John 14:6, that we have been examining?

"I am the way, and the truth, and the life."

What did Jesus mean by 'the life'?

I found the answer to that question in Holy Scripture, troubling verses that I was taught were merely symbolic:

John 6:53-58, "So Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me. This is the bread which came down from heaven, not such as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live for ever."

Now I am in real trouble with several profound eternal salvation questions that have suddenly come to mind.

How can I have eternal life simply by eating a symbol of something else?

How can eating a cracker and drinking grape juice give me eternal life?

I feel as if every word in those verses has come alive.

Jesus said in another verse that He was the truth, and the first two words of those verses are "Truly, truly", so how can the rest of those verses be anything other than absolute truth? Let us read further in John 6.

Here is one that agrees with how I feel, "This is a hard saying; who can listen to it?" (John 6:60). That verse made me feel better but this one made me feel worse.

"After this many of his disciples drew back and no longer went about with him" (John 6:66).

Obviously they did not believe what He had said and so they left Him. Ouch!

Oh and did you see an ominous sign in that verse number, the dreaded satanic 666?

Leaving Jesus as they did, no doubt made them easy targets for Satan.

I want no part of Satan so I must believe everything that Jesus said in those verses.

"unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life,"

Okay I must believe it. I do believe it. Begone Satan! I desire that eternal life with Jesus.

But how do I eat His flesh and drink His blood? Holy Scripture must give me the answer to that question.

Oh yes, the Last Supper, where Jesus said to the Apostles, 'This is my body', and later, 'This is my blood'.

And He added 'Do this in remembrance of me'. Also I noticed that He did not say those words to the world but only to the Apostles who were deemed to be the earthbound leaders of His Church.

It seems that in every research that I have done for the truth has ended up with the eternal Church that Jesus Christ founded.

Have I gotten the message yet? Yes I finally got the message, but I still have a few questions that beg for answers...

---

Now let us study the Word of GOD and see if He did give us of an infallible interpreter for His Holy Scripture...

Let us explore the Book of John. Make sure that you know the context of these verses.

Look at all of the promises Jesus made to us of sending the Holy Spirit to guide His Church...

John 14:16-17, "And I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth WHOM THE WORLD CANNOT RECEIVE, BECAUSE IT NEITHER SEES HIM NOR KNOWS HIM."

John 14:24-26, "He who does not love me does not keep my words; and the word which you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me. These things I have spoken to you, while I am still with you. But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you."

John 15:26, "But when the Counselor comes, whom I shall send to you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, who proceeds from the Father, he will bear witness to me; and you also are witnesses, because you have been with me from the beginning."

John 16:12-15, "I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, for he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine; therefore I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you."

Context: Again, to whom was Jesus speaking in those verses?

He was speaking to the Apostles alone.

Jesus said the Spirit of Truth will dwell with them forever. But wait a minute! Will the Apostles live forever?

No they all died, so in context, the Spirit must dwell in the Church which Jesus founded since it alone will live forever.

Spend some time perusing the following verses, for they are Biblical proof that His Church will indeed live forever:

2Samuel 7:12-13, Psalms 127:1, Isaiah 2:2, 9:6-7, 41:10-11, 54:11-17, 59:20-21, Daniel 2:44, 6:26, 7:14,

Matthew 16:18, 28:20, Luke 1:33, John 14:16,18, Acts 5:38-39, Romans 8:31, Ephesians 3:21, 5:23, Hebrews 12:28.

Have you ever noticed how many Old Testament verses spoke of the eternal nature of the New Testament Church?

It is because the Old and New Testaments are one story of salvation history. They are intertwined as a great Saint wrote:

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old. The Old Testament is revealed in the New."

Saint Augustine

Ephesians 3:8-10, "To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; THAT THROUGH THE CHURCH THE MANIFOLD WISDOM OF GOD

MIGHT NOW BE MADE KNOWN to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places."

Mt 18:15-17, "But if thy brother shall offend against thee, go, and rebuke him between thee and him alone.

If he shall hear thee, thou shalt gain thy brother. And if he will not hear thee, take with thee one or two more:

that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may stand. And if he will not hear them: tell the church.

And if he will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and publican."

Those verses could not have been written any more clearly than they are.

Who has the final authority? Is it man or is it the Church of GOD?

Recap of this session:

First we learned that the Holy Spirit will dwell forever in the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

Then we learned that the Church which Jesus Christ founded will last for all eternity.

After that we learned that the wisdom of GOD will be made manifold through that Church.

Finally we learned that it is the Church which is the final authority.

And just look and remember what those verses have to say about those who refuse to listen to His Church?

Again, the question is which Church?

Well now I know that Holy Scripture has said that there was only one in existence at that time.

It is an easy question to ask, but now maybe not so hard to answer this time.

Interestingly, so many of those 40,000+ sects teach that the Church which Jesus Christ founded fell into apostasy soon after the last Apostle died. Even of more interest is that not one of them can provide an exact date or show genuine historical documentation to prove that false teaching. There is no Scripture verse that says the Church would fall into apostasy but it does say individual followers will do so. Hmmm! Could that mean those 40,000+ sects are apostates? Besides that, they are all Sola Scriptura believers, so how can they possibly explain away all of those Old and New Testament verses regarding the guarantee of the eternal nature of the Church without refuting Holy Scripture itself?

John 20:22, "When He had said this, He breathed upon them and said to them,
"Receive the Holy Spirit..."

GOD did indeed give His Church an infallible interpreter for His infallible Word, the Bible. And that infallible interpreter is none other than the Holy Spirit, the third person of the Holy Trinity.

A thought just came to mind:

Would I rather have a human interpreter for Holy Scripture for each of those 40,000+ sects, all of which claim that the Holy Spirit told them?

OR:

The Holy Spirit directly through GOD's Church?

---

---

Now, from Holy Scripture I have come to these inescapable conclusions about the only Church that Jesus Christ founded.

1. His Church did not have a human person as its founder since He is GOD.
2. But what is the definition of the word 'person'?
3. I researched the founders of so many denominations, and did not find a single one that had other than a mere human person founder.

That means I must reject all of those that I researched.

Moreover, all of them are only a fraction of the age of the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

4. But after much searching I found this interesting page that shows how to find the Church that Jesus Christ founded by using four different methods.

I also discovered that none of those sects that I tested could prove to be the true Church by even one of those four methods.

5. His Church existed then after He founded it and it must still exist today almost 2000 years later, as it was His promise.

Of which Church would you rather be a member?

One of those 40,000+ man made sects, the founders each of which had no GOD given authority whatsoever to do so.

OR...

The only Church with GOD given authority, the one which was founded by GOD Himself?

---

---

Some final notes...

Ephesians 5:25, "Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ also loved the Church, and delivered himself up for her."

Yet once again the text speaks of a singular Church, not churches. Did Christ deliver himself up for 40,000+ splinters in his body, or as He said three times, 'that they may be one'?

What else did He say?

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters."
Luke 11:23

---

---

John 10:16,
"And other sheep I have that are not of this fold.
Them also I must bring, and they shall hear My voice,
and there shall be one fold and one shepherd."

Well, after reading this Holy Scripture filled lesson, I certainly did get the message this time.

DID YOU???

The Phantom Verse(s) of Holy Scripture that Thousands of People Follow Religiously, But Few Have Ever Seen...

---

---

Would you believe that many thousands of people have used those verses for several hundred years now?

They are quite useful to some people, whereas it is interesting that many others have never heard of them before.

They are used by Baptists, Methodists, Church of Christ, Seventh-Day Adventists, Mormons, Jehovah Witnesses,

Presbyterians, Four Square Gospel, Lutherans, Anabaptists, Anglicans, Episcopalians, Disciples of Christ, Adventists,

Church of GOD, Christian Scientists, Iglesia ni Cristo, Branch Davidians, United Church of Christ, Calvary Chapel,

Vineyard Christian Fellowship, Saddleback Church, Evangelical Presbyterian Church, Alliance of Baptist Churches,

Charismatic Episcopal Church, Church of GOD International, Assemblies of Yahweh, Berean Fundamental Church, and would you believe at least 39,999 others?

Martin Luther no doubt was one of the first to use those verses.

Just a few years ago a man in a nearby city, not far from where I live, set up a card table in a parking lot, and started preaching to anyone who would listen. From that humble beginning, that endeavor has mushroomed into the largest church in that town both in physical size and the number of attendees, with around 4000 members the last that I read.

I guess that today's catchword for a church that size is 'Megachurch'. They seem to be springing up all over the place.

The 'Crystal Cathedral' in Southern California apparently was one of the first 'megachurches'. It pulled in million$ for a few years but have you read what has happened to it recently? It has filed for bankruptcy and is under investigation. I have heard nothing more at this date on that situation.

There was yet another upstart church to spring up just 15 miles or so away from my home in the last three years.

It was started by a man and wife who call themselves 'pastors'. They have a website and I visited it and the first thing I saw was "Please send us donations" $$$$. Next I saw "Buy our products" $$$$. Lastly were a very few details of their church. From the way the site was presented I could readily see what their highest priority was.

They are still in business so I suspect many unwary folks are eager to fill their coffers.

Anyhow, from what I have presented so far is that millions of people are trying to find GOD in this very confusing world in which we find ourselves today. However, millions are either looking in the wrong places, or they are ignorant of the messages that are recorded for our use in Holy Scripture. Within Holy Scripture, GOD has presented to us His plan for our salvation, but so many have failed to see it, or if they have seen it, they have closed their minds to it or have deliberately ignored it. Just take the time to study some of the stories in the Old Testament and you will readily see in many chapters how GOD's chosen people deliberately ignored His commands despite His pleas. Because of this, GOD punished them with wars, plagues, pestilence, and a host of other undesirable events until they turned around and finally listened to Him and repented of their ways, only to backslide generations later. Read the two books of Maccabees in Holy Scripture, which may be missing in your Bible. If they are, then ask your minister why they are missing. In them are recounted war after war and so much horror, and so many needless deaths, had all of those involved heeded the message of Holy Scripture to begin with. But in their pleas with GOD for help and by repenting their ways, GOD indeed came to their rescue. The Hebrews (Jews) were surrounded by hostile neighbors who had vastly superior armies, were attacked repeatedly over many years, and with the miraculous help from GOD were able to survive and to rout their enemies. Those Maccabee events happened over 2000 years ago, but they do sound like they are still happening in our time to the Israeli's.

---

But what has all of the aforementioned have to do with the theme of this writing that I titled, "The Phantom Verses"?

Here is the definition of the word 'Phantom':

As a noun: Something that exists in perception only.

As an adjective: Something apparently sensed but has no physical reality.

Of all the sects that I have listed above and the tens of thousands more that I mentioned, what verse or verses did their founders use as authorization to allow themselves to form their own churches, and to speak in behalf of GOD?

There appears to be an anomaly here. Those founders, as well as their followers believe in something called "Sola Scriptura", or "Everything to be believed is in the Bible only, and if I cannot find it there, then it simply does not exist, or is false".

Therefore, in order for all of those founders to have any GOD given authority to do what they did, then they had to have the permission of GOD, His authority for them to form churches other than the one that GOD

Himself founded in Matthew 16:18.

And since the doctrine of Sola Scriptura teaches that everything is in the Bible, then those verses must be found somewhere within its covers as well.

Please, anyone!

Show me those verses?

I have searched and searched and I simply cannot find even one verse where GOD gave man the authority to found another church in which to speak in His behalf, other than in the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

What verse(s) did the first Protestant, Martin Luther use as his authority to found the first Protestant church, the Lutherans?

Apparently he could not find the verses either since he never mentioned them in his writings.

Those verses simply are not to be found anywhere in Holy Scripture.

That is why I called them, "The Verses".

However, Luther did tell the world by whose authority he founded Lutherans. He did it on his own authority.

Here is an example of his self-proclaimed 'authority':

Luther had translated the New Testament into his version of the German Bible.

It is to be noted that Luther taught a false doctrine that man was saved by faith alone, and upon his own recognizance and without any authority but his own, he added the word "alone" to Romans 3:28, thereby ignoring all of the verses which admonish anyone not to add to or take away from, the Holy Word of GOD.

Then regarding this, he displayed his inflated ego and total arrogance, when he wrote the following in defense of his addition:

"If your Papist annoys you with the word (alone), tell him straightway, Dr. Martin Luther will have it so:"

(I bleeped a sentence after the above one because he used foul language against the Papacy.

Continue with the next sentence).

"Whoever will not have my translation, let him give it the go-by: the devil's thanks to him who censures it without my will and knowledge. Luther will have it so, and he is a doctor above all the doctors in Popedom."

Amic. Discussion, 1, 127.

In his pamphlet titled "The Papacy at Rome", of 1520, he claimed his own authority by 'twisting' Holy Scripture in a futile attempt to justify himself. Here is one excerpt from that pamphlet:

"It is to this church (Luther's), to the believers, that Jesus gave the keys."

Oh, was Martin Luther there in Matthew 16:19?

Apparently all of the human founders of those 'other churches' just followed the lead of Luther and founded their own churches without giving thought to finding those Biblical "Phantom Verses" of GOD given authority for them to do so.

Eisegesis (as applied to those beholding the Bible):
Reading something into Holy Scripture that simply is not there.

---

I just had a thought:

If you could ask each one of the founders of their own churches, "By whose authority did you do this?"

What do you think they would have answered?

I know what I think they would have said. "GOD told me to".

That answer immediately brought this reply to mind:

"Well, why then didn't GOD say, "You must join My one and only Church"?"

You will have to think awhile about these theoretical replies of GOD.

Could GOD really have told them to found other churches?

Recall what you have already learned from Holy Scripture. Put the pieces together.

Do you see an insurmountable error if GOD had actually told them to found their own church?

1. Jesus said He was the truth in John 14:6.
  2. There can be only one truth, just as there is only one Jesus Christ.
  3. Jesus prayed three times that we all be one in John 17:11,21-22.
  4. GOD cannot contradict Himself. 2Timothy 2:13
  5. How then could He pray in Scripture that we must be one, and yet tell the founders that we may be many?
  6. So if those founders say that GOD told them to found other churches, then it would have been impossible for GOD to have told them to do so.
  7. Therefore it could not have been GOD who gave them that message.
  8. However, could it have been GOD's adversary speaking to them, the great deceiver, the father of lies (John 8:44)?
  9. Hasn't the adversary been trying to destroy GOD's only Church ever since it was founded by Jesus Christ?
  10. What better way is there to do that other than by using a process called 'Divide and Conquer'?

Oh! At the beginning of this page I said that few have ever seen the Phantom Verses. I was mistaken, since not one person has ever seen them.

The Councils of the Catholic Church

Church Councils define Church Doctrine:

There are 5 types of councils, Diocesan, National, Ecumenical, Plenary, and Provincial. No council has ever changed Church dogma, nor can it, since dogma was proclaimed by Jesus Christ Himself, *Acts 6:12,15,15:6,*Gal 2:2*.

An Ecumenical Council is where all the Bishops in the world that are entitled to vote, gather under the presidency of the Pope or his representative. There have been 21 Ecumenical councils in the history of the Church, other important councils called 'synods' are marked '*'.

The very first council or meeting of the Apostles and presbyters is recorded in Acts 15, and is called the Council of Jerusalem. Tradition speaks of St. James as being the Bishop of Jerusalem at that time of about 50 AD.

A Church council is usually a reaction as opposed to an action. They are held to define a truth after someone has denied it. Jesus Christ gave His authority in several verses of Holy Scripture. One example is in Luke 10:16, "He who hears you hears me". Armed with this authority, Church teaching has been accepted over the centuries. Then along comes someone who denies a certain teaching and therefore there becomes a need for a Church council to react to the denial. The Council of Ephesus of 431, one such reaction, defined the Blessed Virgin Mary as the "Theotokos", meaning GOD bearer or Mother of GOD. This formal teaching was only done after someone had denied it. Another example is the reaction of the Council of Trent in 1546 which defined again, the canon of Holy Scripture after seven books were denied by the Protestants in their revolt. Non-Catholics look at these reactive Church councils as teaching something new, when in fact, all they are doing is defining a truth that has been taught for centuries without denials.

The Major Councils Are...

Nicaea I, 325: The first world council in Church history was convened at the request of Emperor Constantine I (285-337). Jesus Christ is GOD, and is equal to the Father and to the Holy Spirit, the Nicene Creed.

Constantinople I, 381: divinity of the Holy Spirit, condemned the Arian heresy.

Rome 382: Pope Damasus I, settled the New Testament Canon. ***

Hippo 393: work on the New Testament. ***

Carthage 397: finalized the New Testament and the Deuterocanonicals. ***

Ephesus, 431: Blessed Virgin is the Mother of GOD, hypostatic union.

Chalcedon, 451: condemned Monophysitism.

Constantinople II, 553: condemned the Three Chapters, and Nestorian heresy.

Constantinople III, 680: condemned Monothelitism, and censured Honorius.

Nicaea II, 787: condemned Iconoclasm.

Constantinople IV, 869: ended the Greek schism and deposed Photius.

Lateran I, 1123: issued decrees on celibacy and simony.

Lateran II, 1139: ended the Papal Schism.

Lateran III, 1179: condemned Albigensian and Waldensian heresies.

Lateran IV, 1215: planned a crusade, enacted reforms.

Lyons I, 1245: the Holy Spirit proceeds from the Father and the Son, true body and blood of Christ in the consecration, unleavened bread in hosts.

Lyons II, 1274: reunited the Church with the Greeks.

Vienne, 1311: abolished the Knight Templars.

Constance, 1414: ended the great schism. Basle, Ferrara.

Florence, 1431: union of Greeks, and enacted reforms.

Lateran V, 1512: treated of the Neo-Aristotelians, enacted reforms.

Trent, 1545: convened on Dec 4, 1545, and closed on Dec 4, 1563, it was the longest Church council ever, 18 years, and made the largest number of decrees. It is the most controversial among the Protestants as they claim falsely that the deuterocanonicals were 'added' then, but in fact they were 'reaffirmed'. If they were added, then how could Martin Luther have removed them in 1531? See 'Carthage' above. The council authenticated the Vulgate, and declared the Bible & Tradition are rules of faith.

Vatican I, 1869: Papal infallibility.

Vatican II, 1962: the greatest religious event of the 20th century. So much was accomplished in this council. There are several books written on what was discussed here. Please refer to Vatican Council II, Vols 1,2,3,4,5.

Introduction

CAVEAT EMPTOR .... These notes are intended as an AID to study by Catholic Students of the Second Vatican Council. They contain material, some written in a journalistic style, for the American reader. To that extent they are biased; but they 'set the stage' and 'wet the appetite' for further study of this crucial historical event..

Thirty odd years on the 'Aggiornamento' is still fermenting, the fresh air of the Holy Spirit still blowing, a self-destructive 'Civil War' still raging .... But His Peace will come to us all ...

Students are reminded that, as with all serious study, research is necessary and recourse must be had, wherever possible, to original documentation.

These notes should lead the serious student to the libraries of our Catholic Colleges and Universities and to resources no computer system yet devised can replace.

---

The First Vatican Council was adjourned in 1870, following the solemn definition of papal infallibility. Only a part of its task had been accomplished, but it was destined never to meet again. Pope Pius IX died in 1878, and five popes had come and gone before the Second Vatican Council was proclaimed by Pope John XXIII.

---

Pope John announced his intention of summoning the Oecumenical Council in January, 1959, within three months of his election to the Chair of Peter; he signed the Apostolic Constitution, Humane Salutis, on Christmas Day in 1961. Meanwhile, ten commissions had been formed to prepare draft decrees to be debated in the Council. At first, seventy decrees were proposed, but gradually their number was reduced to seventeen.

---

Pope John wished the Council "to increase the fervour and energy of Catholics, to serve the needs of Christian people." To achieve this purpose, bishops and priests must grow in holiness; the laity must be given effective instruction in Christian faith and morals; adequate provision must be made for the education of children; Christian social activity must increase; and all Christians must have missionary hearts. In Italian, he was bale to express his desire in one word -- Aggiornamento -- the Church must be brought up to date, must adapt itself to meet the challenged conditions of modern times. More than words, Italians appreciate expressive gestures; so also Pope John, when asked to reveal his intentions, simply moved to a window and threw it open, to let in a draught of fresh air.

---

Eighteen months before the Council assembled, the Pope himself showed how very fresh and new the air was to be. He established a special Secretariat "for promoting Christian Unity" and authorized this Secretariat to take part in the preparatory work of the Council so that schemes, drafted for debate, would take into account the truly Ecumenical spirit -- that is, the desire to understand the beliefs and practices of other Christian bodies, and the need to work for the union of all in Christ.

---

Preparation for the Council:

Long before the Council began, the bishops of the Catholic world were asked to submit their proposals for subjects to be raised in the Council sessions. More than two thousand lists of proposals were received together with detailed opinions from sixty theological faculties and universities. All of this material was studied and summarized, and suggestions made by the Congregations of the Roman Curia were also examined.

In June 1960, Pope John established ten commissions, entrusting to each commission the task of studying particular questions. In this way the Theological Commission examined problems of scripture, tradition, faith and morals; other commissions considered bishops and the control of dioceses, religious orders, the Liturgy of the Church, seminaries and ecclesiastical studies, the missions, the Eastern Churches and the lay apostolate. A central commission worked to coordinate the labours of individual commissions, assisted the Pope to decide the subjects for debate in the Council, and suggested rules of procedure.

The Council Opens:

The Second Vatican Council opened on October 11th, 1962. More than two thousand five hundred Fathers were present at the opening Mass -- the greatest gathering at any Council in the history of the Church. After the Mass, Pope John addressed the Fathers, showing them the way in which the Council must move, and the spirit which must animate it. The way was to be a renewal, the spirit was to be that of men who place all their trust in God. In the past, Pope John said, the Church felt it necessary to use severity and condemnation. What is required now is mercy and understanding and, above all, an outpouring of the riches which the Church has received from Christ. The task of the Council must be to find ways by which the Church can present itself to the world of today, and can reach into the minds and hearts of men. The Council must not become a school where theologians can perfect their formulation of Catholic truth.

Inspired by the words of Pope John, the Fathers began their work. Viewed from outside, in the manner in which a reporter might comment on Parliamentary debates, the impression was of two groups -- the "progressives" and the "reactionaries," radically and bitterly opposed to one another. Those bishops whose only concern, it seemed, was to safeguard the Church's teaching were labelled reactionaries; those, on the other hand, who showed concern for pastoral needs were called progressives. In reality, however, a Council is not a parliament. The bishops are united in the Faith and in their love of Christ. In the second Vatican Council, all have tried to find, in the riches of the Church's teaching, those truths which must be stressed and emphasized in the modern world, and to decide how these truths may best be set forth for the good of all -- of those who are unbelievers as well as those who believe in Christ.

---

Cardinal Montini (who was soon to succeed Pope John in the chair of Peter) wrote to his people in Milan on November 18th, 1962, to explain the two "tendencies" of the bishop. The Council, he said, was an assembly of many with complex religious problems. The unity of the Church, and its universality; the old and the new; what is fixed and what develops; the inner value of a truth, and the way in which it is to be expressed; the search for what is essential and care for particular details; principles and their practical application -- religious problems can be considered from so many different aspects. Discussion of these problems will often be animated and lively -- yet all the bishops are united by that very love which they have for the truth.

---

Another observer shows how the two "tendencies" were like two voices. One voice was uttered by those bishops who wanted, above all else, to preserve the Faith whole and entire; the other voice spoke for the bishops who had the same concern for preserving the Faith committed by Christ, but who also felt the great pastoral need to express that faith in a language which the modern world could understand and appreciate. This observer (Jean Guitton) found in the two voices a poetic image of the Cross of Christ. The upright pillar of the Cross, fixed into the ground, tells the Christian of the unity, integrity and unchanging truth of the Faith; the cross-bar, on which Christ stretched out his arms, tells the Christian that the Faith is open to all men, that it is universal. Just as the Cross unites its two parts, so also the two "voices" or tendencies are united in the Christian faith.

---

From the beginning, the Second Vatican Council has shown that the great majority of the bishops are concerned with the pastoral needs of the Church. They have shown that concern in many different ways -- in the enthusiasm with which they have welcomed Oecumenical dialogue with non-catholic Christians and with Orthodox Churches; in the interest with which they have followed the historic visits of Pope John Paul VI to the Holy Land and to India; and above all in the overwhelming approval which they gave to the "Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy," in the second session of the Council (December 1962).

---

The Council and the Liturgy:

The changes in the Liturgy of the Church show how the work of the Council affects every catholic. In earlier ages of Christendom changes were made in Canon Law and in the Christian Life itself. But these changes usually took place so slowly and gradually that each man in his own brief life-time hardly noticed them; if he did take heed of change, he did not find the change disturbing. But in modern times -- above all in the middle of the twentieth Century -- the whole tempo and movement of secular history has increased in every sphere of life, and with the greatest rapidity. The Church is new as well as old. If it is to remain up to date and in touch with the urgent needs of modern life, then the Church, too, must undergo change. Clearly, changes and adaptations must be accomplished with great prudence. Clearly, too, great courage is needed, if the ancient and unchanging truths and ways of life and worship are to take on new forms.

Inevitably, many Catholics have found the liturgical changes disturbing. Older Catholics, in particular, have over the years grown deeply attached to the words and actions of the Latin Mass; they have learned to love it, in its Latin form, and it has become for them a permanent and unchanging reality in a rapidly changing world. Latin was the common tongue -- the lingua franca -- of the Western world, used by clerics, statesmen and scholars. Since the Mass is the common prayer of the whole Church, many feel that Latin should still be retained. This view was expressed in the first great Decree to issue from the Council -- the "Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy." The Decree states "the use of the Latin language is to be preserved in the Latin rites."

---

The change from Latin to English, in parts of the Mass, has been singled out because it appears to many to be the most striking result of the Council's work. But the Council has authorized the use of the vernacular, or mother-tongue, not only for parts of the Mass but also for the administration of every sacrament and sacramental. It has directed national councils of bishops to establish liturgical commissions whose task is to produce suitable translations of liturgical texts, and to promote knowledge and love of the sacred liturgy.

---

While local commissions are engaged upon this work, the Central Liturgical Commission meets in Rome. Its primary function is the revision of the liturgical books. Its secondary function is to adapt the liturgy to the needs of modern times, and to enable all Catholics to take part actively in the official worship which the Church offers to God. However rapid and unexpected these changes might appear, they are in fact intended to be gradual, step by step, until eventually the renewal of the liturgy has been completed.

---

The first major result of this work by the Central Commission was the promulgation, in September 1964, of an Instruction for putting into effect the "Constitution of the sacred Liturgy." This instruction drew attention to the fact that changes are taking place, not for the sake of change, but because the Liturgy is at the centre of Christian life and worship. It is through the active sharing in these sacred rites that the faithful, the People of God, "will drink deeply from the source of divine life. They will become the leaven of Christ, the salt of the earth. They will bear witness to that divine life; they will be instrumental in passing it on to others."

---

By modern standards, florid and elaborate ceremonies, dress and ornament are seldom esteemed. During the course of centuries, many features or details had crept into the liturgy, and these features are now regarded as unsuited to the worship of God and out of keeping with the real nature and dignity of that worship. For this reason the liturgical books are being revised and the rites simplified. The first book to appear, following the Council's decree, is known as the Ordo Missae. Issued in January 1961, this book sets forth the rite which is to be followed, in keeping with the changes introduced by the Council and by the Liturgical Commission.

The Altar:

Where possible, the high altar is to be placed in such a way that Mass may be offered by the priest facing the people; the altar should stand away from the wall of the sanctuary, so that room is left to allow the priest to move around it. The Blessed Sacrament should be reserved in a strong tabernacle, placed at the centre of the high altar; but it may be placed upon a side altar, if that side altar is dignified and easily seen. Again, the tabernacle may be placed on the altar at which Mass is said facing the people; in this case the tabernacle should be small.

---

The cross and candlesticks will be placed upon the altar in the customary way; in certain circumstances, however, the bishop may allow them to be placed alongside the altar. The sedilia, or seats for the celebrant and sacred ministers, should be easily seen by the faithful, and the celebrant's sedile should be so placed as to show that he is presiding over the Mass as the assembly of the People of God. There should be an ambo (lectern or reading-desk) -- clearly visible to the faithful; from which the readings from Scripture are to be made. It should be observed that many of these changes can be effected only when new churches are planned; where possible, the sanctuary of an existing church should be adapted in accordance with the Instruction of the Central Commission.

---

The sacrifice of the Mass:

In the rite of the Mass, the following are the changes already announced:

1. The celebrant does not say privately those parts of the Proper of the Mass which are sung by the choir, recited by the people, or proclaimed by the deacon, sub-deacon or lector. The celebrant may, however, join with the people in singing or reciting parts of the Ordinary of the Mass --as, for example, the Gloria and the Credo.

2. Psalm 42 is omitted from the prayers to be said at the foot of the altar at the beginning of Mass. Whenever another liturgical service immediately precedes the Mass, all these opening prayers are omitted.

3. The "secret" prayer before the preface is to be said or sung aloud.

4. The "Doxology" at the end of the Canon of the Mass (that is, the prayer "Through him, and with him . . . ") is to be said or sung in a loud voice. The signs of the Cross, formerly made during this prayer, are omitted, and the celebrant holds the host with the chalice, slightly raised above the corporal. The "Our Father" is said or sung in the vernacular by the people together with the priest. The prayer which follows -- is called the Embolism (that is, an insertion or interpolation) and was originally added to the Mass as an extension of the last petition in the "Our Father:" a prayer to be freed from evil, and for our sins to be forgiven. This prayer is also to be said or sung aloud by the celebrant.

5. The words spoken by the priest when giving Holy Communion have been shortened to "Corpus Christ" -- "The Body of Christ;" the person communicating says "Amen" before receiving Holy Communion; and the priest no longer makes the sign of the Cross with the host.

6. The Last Gospel is omitted, and the prayers formerly recited at the end of the Mass (the "Leonine" prayers) are no longer said.

7. Provision is made for the Epistle to be read by a lector or by one of the servers; the Gospel must be proclaimed by the celebrant or by a deacon.

8. At all Masses attended by the faithful on Sundays and Holydays, the Gospel is to be followed by a homily, or explanation reading from the Scriptures. This homily may be based upon some other text of the Mass, taking account of the feast or mystery which is being celebrated.

9. After the Creed, provision is made for what is called the "community prayer" sometimes called the "prayer of the faithful." In some countries this prayer is already customary; in most places, however, it has not yet been introduced. In due course the form of this community prayer will be announced by the Central Liturgical Commission.

10. In accordance with the changes outlined above, the Ordo Missae issued in January 1965 states that, as a general rule, the celebrant will say the opening prayers at the foot of the altar; when he has kissed the altar, he will go to the sedile or seat and remain there until the prayer of the faithful has been said before the offertory leaving it for the ambo if he himself is to read the Epistle and Gospel but returning to it for the Creed.

11. At a High Mass the subdeacon no longer wears the humeral veil; the paten is left upon the altar, and the subdeacon joins the deacon in assisting the celebrant.

12. Suitable translations of parts of the Mass are to be prepared by regional or national councils of bishops. When these translations have been confirmed by the Holy See, they may be used when Mass is said in the vernacular. The extent to which the vernacular is used varies greatly. Generally speaking, its use is permitted for the first part of the Mass -- the "Service of the Word" -- and for certain prayers in the second part -- the Eucharistic Sacrifice.

Another important change concerns the Eucharistic Fast. Until recent years, this Fast was from midnight. Then it was reduced to three hours. Finally it was altered to a fast of one hour from food and drink; this hour is to be reckoned from the time when Holy Communion is to be received, and not from the time Mass starts. Those who receive Communion in the Mass of the Easter Vigil, or at the Midnight mass of Christmas, may also receive Communion on the following morning (That is, Easter Sunday or Christmas Day).

The Sacraments and Sacramentals:

Among the changes which have been introduced into the rites for the administration of sacraments, the following points should be noted.

- 1. The rites themselves are to be modified and adapted to the needs of modern times, so that the true meaning of sacramental signs may be readily grasped.
- 2. The vernacular may be used
  - (a) throughout the rites of Baptism, Confirmation, Penance, the Anointing of the Sick, and Matrimony; and in the distribution of Holy Communion;
  - (b) in conferring Holy Orders, for the allocution, or opening address, for the "admonitions" to those receiving Orders, and for the ritual "interrogation" of a priest who is about to receive consecration as a bishop;
  - (c) in funeral ceremonies, and in all blessings known as "sacramentals."
- 3. The ancient ritual for adults who are receiving instruction in the Catholic faith was called the "catechumenate." This ritual is to be brought into use once more, and will extend through several distinct stages, with an interval of time between each stage. In missionary regions some features of local "initiation rites" may be introduced, provided that they can be adapted to Christian principles.
- 4. The rite of infant baptism is to be altered, to express the fact that an infant is receiving the sacrament, and to emphasize the duties of parents and godparents.
- 5. Confirmation should be administered within the Mass, following the Gospel and sermon. Those to be confirmed should renew the promises made at baptism.
- 6. The rite and formula for the Sacrament of Penance are to be altered, to give clearer expression to the nature and effects of this sacrament.
- 7. Similar revisions are to be made in the Sacrament of the "Anointing of the Sick." The Council has ruled that this phrase should be used in preference to the former name, "Extreme Unction." The prayers and the number of the anointings will be altered, to correspond with the changing conditions of the sick person. In countries where provision has not yet been made for a continuous rite for the Sacraments of the Sick (that is, when the illness is such that the sick person is to receive the Last Blessing and Holy Viaticum) instructions have now been given for the use of this continuous rite.
- 8. The Sacrament of Matrimony is to be celebrated within Mass, unless there is a good reason for the marriage to take place outside Mass. The Mass known as the "Nuptial Mass" (Missa pro Sponsis) must be said, or at least commemorated. The homily, or address, may never be omitted, and the Nuptial Blessing is always to be given, even during those times when the solemnization of marriage has been excluded, and even if one or both of the parties has already been married. A new rite has been introduced for the celebration of Matrimony outside Mass. This rite consists of a short address, the reading of the Epistle and Gospel (taken from the Missa pro Sponsis), a homily, the celebration of the marriage, and the Nuptial Blessing. A hymn or other chant may be sung, and the "prayer of the faithful" -- adapted to include prayers for the newly married couple -- may be said before the Nuptial Blessing is given. These instructions concerning marriage have been made for Catholic weddings; that is, when both parties are Catholics.
- 9. In the past, the right to give many blessings had been reserved, in such a way that without special authority a priest could not give these blessings, With some exceptions these blessings may now be give by any priest. The exceptions are: the blessing of Stations of the Cross; the blessing of a church bell of the foundation stone of a church; the blessing of a new church or public oratory, or of a new cemetery. Papal blessings are still reserved.

Further instances of the adaptation and simplification desired by the Council are the abbreviations in the elaborate ceremonial which, in the course of centuries, had been built around the Cardinalate. While the number of cardinals has greatly increased, the ceremonies have been shortened. The Pope no longer places the large red hat on the head of a new cardinal; instead, the hat is delivered to his residence in Rome by a Vatican messenger. The ceremony, in which the Pope places the red biretta upon the cardinal's head, has now been incorporated within one comprehensive ceremony, which is still called a "public consistory," during which the Pope and the newly-created cardinals join together to concelebrate Mass. Some simplification of the ecclesiastical dress of cardinals, bishops and other prelates, as well as simplification of the ceremonies at which they pontificate, also indicates the manner in which the Church is anxious to adapt itself to present-day values.

The Concelebration of Mass:

a custom which has always been found in the Church -- signifies the unity of the priesthood. Until the Second Vatican Council, however, the custom had usually been restricted to the Mass for the ordination of a priest or the consecration of a bishop. The Council has extend the custom of concelebration to other occasions, such as the Mass on the evening of Maundy Thursday, and Masses celebrated at meetings of priests. Similarly, the Council has recognized that in certain cases, clerics, religious and lay people may receive Holy Communion under the species of wine as well as of bread. Examples given in the Constitution on the Liturgy are: newly ordained clerics in the Mass of Ordination; newly professed religious, in the Mass of profession; and newly baptized adults in the Mass which maybe said following their baptism. The Apostolic See reserves the right to determine these cases, and to issue rules both for concelebration and for receiving Holy Communion under both kinds.

The Divine Office:

The following are the main changes introduced by the Council in the signing or recitation of the Divine Office.

1. The sequence of the "hours" of the Office is to be restored to its traditional form, so that each hour is in fact related to the time of day at which it is said; in this way the recitation of the Office will better express its purpose, to sanctify the whole course of the day.
2. The hour of Lauds represents the morning prayer of the Church; while Vespers is the hour of evening prayer. These two hours are to become once again the principal hours of the day's Office. Compline is to be revised so that it will become a suitable prayer for the end of the day.
3. The hour of Prime is suppressed. When the office is recited in choir, the three "little hours" of Terce, Sext and None are to be said. Those who are not obliged to recite the Office in choir may select any one of these three hours, according to the time of day.
4. When recited in choir, the hour of Matins is to be regarded as the night prayer of the Church; but this hour is to be reconstructed with longer scriptural and other readings and fewer psalms, and adapted so that it may be recited at any time of the day.
5. The Latin language remains the official language of the Western Church; but in individual cases, where Latin is an obstacle, bishops and other superiors may authorize the recitation of the Office in the vernacular. This is because the Divine Office is, first and foremost, a prayer offered to God.

The Council has recognized that, in some cases, the use of the Latin tongue can be a hindrance of devotion and can make it difficult for a person to pray the Office as it should be prayed.

The Liturgical Year:

- 1. The Constitution recalls the unchanging practice of the Church of celebrating every Sunday the paschal mystery -- the mystery of the passion, death, resurrection and glorifying of Christ the Lord. Sunday is the original feast day, the center of the whole liturgical year.
  - 2. The liturgical year is to be revised, both to preserve the age-old customs and instructions of the holy seasons, and also to adapt those customs, where necessary, to the conditions of modern times. Detailed rules are provided for this revision; the rules are based upon the pastoral nature of the liturgy -- the need to keep before the minds of Christians the mysteries of salvation in Christ.
  - 3. The Constitution declares that there is no objection to fixing the date of Easter -- provided other non-Catholic Christian communities reach agreement. Similarly, a "perpetual calendar" is acceptable, if it is based upon a reckoning which retains a seven-day week with Sunday, and provided that it does not insert extra days which are considered to belong to no week.

Sacred Music:

- 1. The Council drew attention to the age-old tradition of sacred music and singing, closely linked to the liturgy; and the Constitution declares that worship becomes more noble when it is carried out with solemn singing, especially when the celebrant, ministers and people take an active part.
  - 2. Great attention is to be paid to the teaching and practice of sacred music, in harmony with training and instruction in the liturgy.
  - 3. Gregorian chant is especially suited to the Roman liturgy, but other kinds of sacred music must not be excluded. In mission lands where the people have their own characteristic musical traditions, these traditions also should be incorporated into Christian worship.
  - 4. In the Latin Church, the pipe organ is recognized as the traditional musical instrument, but other instruments may be used provided that they can be adapted for use in divine worship.

Sacred Art:

- 1. Things that are set apart for use in divine worship should have dignity and beauty, because they serve as symbols and signs of the supernatural world. The highest achievement of the fine arts is sacred art, which is man's attempt to express the infinite beauty of God and to direct his mind to God.
- 2. The Church has always been the patron of the fine arts. The Church reserves the right to decide whether an artist's work is in keeping with divine worship.
- 3. Artistic styles vary from one time and place to another. Modern art is the expression of our times; provided that it is in keeping with divine worship, a work of modern art may be used for sacred use.
- 4. Bishops and others responsible for churches and holy places should remove from those places all objects which lack true artistic value, or which may be out of keeping with divine worship. Similarly, they should see that the number of statues and pictures should be moderate, and that they should be placed in such a way that a true sense of proportion is observed.
- 5. All things destined for use in divine worship should have simple dignity; lavish display does not accord with the worship of God. Each diocese should have its own Commission of Sacred Art; ecclesiastical laws, relating to the building of churches, are to be revised wherever necessary.

The Constitution on the Church:

The First Vatican Council, ending so abruptly in 1870, is known as the Pope's Council, for it defined the dogma of papal infallibility and stressed the supremacy of the Holy See. It is likely that the Second Vatican Council will go down in history as the Council which explained the organic structure of the Church. This explanation is centred upon the Constitution De Ecclesia -- dealing with the Church itself. The main points of this Constitution are outlined below.

- 1. Too often in the past, the sacramental nature of the Church has been lost to view. Some theologians used to describe the Church in terms of a perfect, independent society, often in competition with other social systems. Others preferred to see it as a complexity of legal systems, issuing laws to control man's spiritual destiny. Others, again, looked at age-old institutions, its fine buildings and palaces, the splendour of its ornaments, vestments and ceremonies, and saw in all these things evidence of triumph and victory -- "ecclesiastical triumphalism."
- 2. The Constitution sees the Church, not as any of those things, but as "the sacrament of union with God, the sacrament of the unity of the whole of the human race." A sacrament is a sign which brings about what it signifies. The Church is the sign of unity. Through it, Christ, its founder, shows the power and presence of God, acting upon society, upon mankind, upon the world itself; and the action is the same as Christ's action on Cavalry -- bringing mercy and pardon to men.
- 3. The Church is the sign because it is the community of the People of God. Divine redemption and the power of the Holy Ghost, act in and through God's people to save all mankind. The People of God are being sanctified; yet they remain weak and human, subject to temptation, liable to sin. This is not a Church of triumph, whose members can lord it over others, while remaining secure within its walls. It does not compete with other social systems and other cultures; it adapts itself to these systems, because it is an instrument which God uses to save mankind. It is a missionary Church -- the People of God are missionaries. They seek that union with God which is true holiness; they are the instruments through whom God unites and sanctifies mankind.
- 4. The Catholic Church professes that it is the one, holy catholic and apostolic Church of Christ; this it does not and could not deny. But in its Constitution the Church now solemnly acknowledges that the Holy Ghost is truly active in the churches and communities separated from itself. To these other Christian Churches the Catholic Church is bound in many ways: through reverence for God's word in the Scriptures; through the fact of baptism; through other sacraments which they recognize.
- 5. The non-Christian may not be blamed for his ignorance of Christ and his Church; salvation is open to him also, if he seeks God sincerely and if he follows the commands of his conscience, for through this means the Holy Ghost acts upon all men; this divine action is not confined within the limited boundaries of the visible Church.
- 6. The Constitution then turns to the structure of the hierarchy which Christ established in his Church. It uses the word "college" in the sense of a unified, corporate body of men (just as cardinals are said to belong to a "sacred college"). Christ formed his Apostles "after the manner of a college," and over this college he placed Peter, whom he had chosen from their midst. The mission which Christ entrusted to the Apostles must last until the end of the world; accordingly the Apostles chose others to succeed them. It is therefore by divine institution that bishops have succeeded the Apostles. The college or body of bishops, however, has authority together with the Pope as its head. The Pope is the foundation of unity, of bishops as well as of the Faithful; so that supreme authority can be exercised by the college of bishops only in union with the Pope and with his consent.

7. Bishops give to other individuals a share in the ministry. Priests and bishops are united in the priestly office. At a lower level is the hierarchy are deacons. When regional conference of bishops deem it necessary--and when the Pope consents--bishops can confer the diaconate upon men of mature years, even if these men are married.

In the third session of the Council, practical applications of the principle of collegiality were left over to await discussion in the draft scheme concerning bishops. These practical applications affect such problems as the division of dioceses and the powers to be used by episcopal conferences. Another important problem, related to the principle that the bishops and the Pope together form a "college," is the establishment of a central advisory council of bishops. The form which this advisory council takes is likely to resemble a "cabinet" in a civil state, in which the president or prime minister chooses a group of ministers and advisers. When Pope Paul VI, in February 1965, created many new cardinals and greatly increased the number in the "Sacred College" of cardinals, he spoke of the great importance of this senate of the Church. Since each cardinal is consecrated bishop (if he is not already a bishop), and since the College of Cardinals includes representatives from every part of the world, it seems to many observers that the cardinals themselves will form the "central advisory council," in which the collegiate responsibility of the bishops will be expressed.

The Holy See has also continued the work of "reforming" the roman Curia, adapting its structure and activities to bring it into harmony with the needs of modern times and including among its officials a greater proportion of non-Italians. An important instance of this reform is in the Holy Office, which now includes bishops of dioceses in France and in the United States.

The Decree On The Eastern Churches:

At the close of the thirds session, the Vatican Council gave overwhelming approval to the Decree on the Eastern Churches.

1. The Catholic Church reveres these Eastern Churches, which are "living witnesses to the tradition which has been handed down from the apostles through the Fathers."

The whole Church of Christ is made up of a number of particular Churches or rites; many of these Eastern Churches are joined in full communion with the Apostolic See.

2. The traditions of each Church should be preserved intact, while adapting itself to the different necessities of time and place. Each Church has the duty and the right to govern itself according to its traditional discipline. In each Church the rights and privileges of patriarchs must be preserved and, where necessary, restored. But all Churches are entrusted tot he supreme pastoral care of the Roman Pontiff as the successor of Saint Peter.

3. All Eastern Catholic Christians must follow the rite, as well as the discipline, of their respective Churches. In many places, Catholics of different rites are intermingled. in those places, priests should have faculties for hearing confession may absolve the faithful who belong to other rites. In certain circumstances Baptism and Confirmation may be administered to people of other rites, and marriages contracted between Christians of different rites may also be valid, when the marriage contract is made in the presence of a sacred minister. Similarly, the Council recognizes the validity of Holy Orders conferred in the Eastern Churches, and permits Catholics to receive Holy Communion and the Anointing of the Sick from priests of other rites, when the need arises and when no Catholic priest is available. These permissions express the desire of the Catholic Church to promote union with the Eastern churches which are separated from Catholic unity.

The importance which the Holy See attaches to the Eastern Churches, and the great desire for reunion, were evident throughout the sessions of the Council. Apart from the Greek Orthodox Church, all the separated Eastern Churches sent observers to the Council. Patriarchs of Eastern Catholic Churches were given a special place of honour, and some took a prominent part in Council debates. The Consistory held in February 1965 for the creation of new cardinals, raised the number of cardinals of Eastern rites to six. The Eastern patriarchs ranks as cardinal bishops.

Unlike other cardinals, they are not allotted titular churches in Rome, nor are they given titular sees in the province of Rome; instead, they retain the title of their patriarchal sees. This compromise has not been welcomed by every Eastern Catholic; for, in the hierarchy of the Church, a patriarch possesses the highest authority, to which the cardinalate can add nothing.

Similarly, the decree on the Eastern Churches has been criticized on the grounds that, while it is ostensibly addressed to the Churches which are in full communion with the Holy See, in reality it is directed to the Orthodox Churches whose members consider that the Eastern catholic Churches are obstacles to reunion.

The Decree On Ecuminism:

Over the centuries differences between Christians have led to profound divisions, but modern times have seen a great movement towards unity; and the decree begins by saying, "Christ the Lord founded one Church and one Church only. One of the principal concerns of this Council is the restoration of unity among all Christians."

1. All who have been "justified by faith in baptism" are members of the Body of Christ; they all have the right to be called Christian; the children of the Catholic Church accept them as brothers.

2. The Catholic Church believes that the separated Churches and communities "are efficient in some respects." But the Holy Ghost makes use of these Churches; they are means of salvation to their members.

3. Catholics are encouraged to join in Oecumenical activity, and to meet non-Catholic Christians in truth and love. The task of "Oecumenical dialogue" belongs to theologians, competent authorities representing different Churches.

4. Catholics should not ignore their duty to other Christians --- they should make the first approach. Even so, the primary duty of the Church at the present time is to discover what must be done within the catholic Church itself; to renew itself, to put its own house in order. Catholics sincerely believe that theirs is the Church of Christ; everything necessary must be done that others also may clearly recognize it as Christ's Church.

5. The ecumenical movement can make no progress without a real change of heart. Theologians and other competent Catholics should study the history, teaching and liturgy of separated Churches. All Christians have a common purpose -- to confess Christ before men. Practical expression must be given to this, by relieving the distress which afflicts so many of the human race: famine, poverty, illiteracy, the unequal distribution of wealth, housing shortage.

6. In appropriate circumstances prayers for unity should be recited jointly with non-Catholic Christians. Catholics are to be directed in this by their bishops, subject to the decisions of the Holy see.

7. Between the catholic Church and Western non-Catholic Christian communities, important differences remain; these differences are most evident in the interpretation of truth revealed by God. But the bonds of unity are already strong; their strength must be put to use. The bonds are, chiefly, the fact that Christians believe in the divinity of Christ and the fact of reverence for God's word revealed in the Bible.

8. In the cause of ecumenism, the Catholic must always remain true to the Faith that he has received. Impudent zeal in this matter is a hindrance to unity and not a help. So also is any attempt to achieve a merely superficial unity.

Other Problems:

By the close of the third session, in November of 1964, the Council had voted in favour of two Constitutions and three Decrees. The Constitutions were those dealing with the liturgy and with the Church; the Decrees were on Oecumenism, on the Eastern Churches, and on "Means of Communication" (dealing with modern mass media, such as the Press, cinema, radio and television; this Decree was generally regarded as excessively clerical, abstract and unworthy of its important subject).

Of the schemata outstanding at the end of the third session, the principal ones were those dealing with priests and seminaries, religious, the missions, the "pastoral duties of bishops," "Divine revelation, and "the Church and the Modern World." Intensive and prolonged drafting, debating, amending, further debating followed by further amending, have marked the path of each of these topics. They have also manifested the will of the Council that everything possible must be done to make this the Council of renewal in the Church.

Among the outstanding topics, those contained in Schema 13 command the greatest interest. For this is the schema on the Church in the modern world. The Council must show that in its debates it is not moving on the abstract plane; the Church is in this world, committed to it by a divine commission. Of all the topics discussed, probably none has been more widely awaited.

No schema has passed through more stages, none has suffered greater amendment. This schema is entrusted to two commissions working together -- the Commission for Theology and the Commission for the Lay Apostolate. In February 1965 the revised text (that is, the text in its fourth form) was examined by the mixed commission, and a further meeting was to be held before the text was to be sent to the bishops. In this text there are stated the questions and problems that the modern world puts to the Church, and the fields in which it seeks the Church's co-operation. Then the text outlines the things on which the Church is competent to pronounce, while a brief analysis of history shows how mistakes have been made in the past when the Church became involved in political systems. Under the headings of anthropology, sociology and cosmology, the text then details the attitude of the Church to the modern world.

The extreme complexity of these problems is shown by the fact that seven distinct sub-committees are at work. These sub-committees deal with:

- (a) the basis in theology;
- (b) the general manner of presentation;
- (c) the question of man's presence in society;
- (d) marriage;
- (e) social and economic questions;
- (f) peace and war -- including nuclear war and disarmament; and finally
- (g) questions of modern culture.

During the third session, many other important issues were raised. Among them were the declaration on religious liberty, and a further declaration concerning those who are not Christians (including a declaration on those who belong to the Jewish faith).

These declarations were returned for further revision, and action for approval was postponed until the fourth session.

The question of mixed marriages was also raised (that is, marriages contracted between Catholic and non-Catholic Christians). The Council Fathers decided to submit this question to the Pope for a ruling, and expressed the hope that this ruling would be given in advance of the promulgation of the reform in Canon Law. While the general question of marriage is included in the schema on the Church in the modern world, Pope Paul VI has reserved to himself the decision as to whether any change should be made in the teaching of Pope Pius XI (which was repeated by his successor, Pope Pius XII) concerning means of birth control. Pope Paul enlisted aid from distinguished theologians and doctors to assist him in forming his judgement on this question.

THE FINAL SESSION:

The fourth and last session of the Council opened September 14th, 1965, and closed December 8th. By far the most active of the sessions, it issued two constitutions (divine revelation, modern problems of the Church), six decrees (duties of bishops, seminaries, life of religious, apostolate of the laity, priestly life, missions), and three declarations (the Church and non-Christian religions, Christian education, religious liberty).

The Council witnessed a dramatic demonstration of ecumenism on December 7th, when Pope Paul and the Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I formally expressed their regret for the mutual excommunications pronounced by their predecessors. Pope Leo IX and Patriarch Cerularius, in 1054.

The documentary work of the Council, the fruit of laborious committee study, many preliminary versions, and countless revisions, is represented by sixteen final drafts, as follows:

Four Constitutions:

"On the Sacred Liturgy" (Dec. 4, 1963),
"On the Church" (Nov. 21, 1964),
"Divine Revelation" (Nov. 18th, 1965),
"The Church in the Modern World" (Dec. 7, 1965);

Nine Decrees:

"The Instruments of Social Communication" (Dec. 4, 1963),
"Ecumenism" (Nov. 21, 1964),
"The Eastern Catholic Churches" (Nov. 21, 1964),
"The Pastoral Duty of Bishops," (Oct. 18, 1965),
"On the up-to-date Renewal of Religious Life,
"On Priestly Formation" (Oct. 28, 1965),
"On the Apostolate of the Laity" (Nov. 18, 1965),

Baptism...

---

---

Baptism: A Sacrament by which a person is cleansed of all sin, by water, and by the Word of GOD. In Baptism sin goes out and GOD comes in.

"Holy Baptism is the basis of the whole Christian life, the gateway to life in the Spirit..., and the door which gives access to the other sacraments." CCC (Catechism of the Catholic Church) 1213.

In Baptism, we become the sons and daughters of GOD.

---

---

Typology of Baptism, prefigurements from the Old Testament...

The Lord said to Moses, "Take the Levites from among the Israelites and purify them. This is what you shall do to them to purify them. Sprinkle them with the water of remission then have them shave their whole bodies and wash their clothes, and so purify themselves."

Numbers 8:5-6

"Any unclean man who fails to have himself purified shall be cut off from the community, because he defiles the sanctuary of the Lord. As long as the lustral water has not been splashed over him, he remains unclean. This shall be a perpetual ordinance for you." Num 19:20-21

"Sprinkle me with hyssop, and I shall be cleansed; wash me, and I shall be made whiter than snow."

Psalms 51:9

"Wash your heart from wickedness, O Jerusalem, that you may be saved."

Jeremiah 4:14

"For I will take you from among the Gentiles, and will gather you together out of all the countries, and I will bring you into your own land. And I will pour upon you clean water, and you shall be cleansed from all your filthiness, and I will cleanse you from all your idols. And I will give you a new heart, and put a new spirit within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh. And I will put My Spirit in the midst of you, and I will cause you to walk in My Commandments, and to keep My judgments and to do them." Ezek 36:24-27

"...And I will save them out of all the places in which they have sinned, and I will cleanse them, and they shall be My people, and I will be their GOD."

Ezekiel 37:23

"In that day there shall be a fountain open to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem; for the washing of the sinner, and of the unclean woman."

Zechariah 13:1

---

---

The first mention of Baptism in the New Testament is in the story of John the Baptist...

"...and they were Baptized by him in the Jordan."

Matthew 3:6

However, the Baptism by St. John was not yet a Christian Baptism, which began with Jesus Baptizing His disciples in John 3:22, and for all after the Resurrection of Christ. St John's was a Baptism of repentance.

"I indeed baptize you with water, for repentance. But He who is coming after me is mightier than I, whose sandals I am not worthy to bear. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit, and with fire."

Matthew 3:11

"If anyone thirst, let him come to Me and drink. He who believes in Me, as the Scripture says, From within Him there shall flow rivers of living water." He said this, however, of the Spirit whom they who believed in Him were to receive; FOR THE SPIRIT HAD NOT YET BEEN GIVEN, SINCE JESUS HAD NOT YET BEEN GLORIFIED.

John 7:37-39

And he said to them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you became believers?" But they said to him, "We have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit." And he said, "How then were you baptized?" They said, "With John's baptism." Then Paul said, "John baptized the people with a baptism of repentance, telling them to believe in Him who was to come after him, that is, in Jesus." On hearing this they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus;"

Acts 19:2-5

---

What Church Fathers had to say about the Baptism by St. John...

"Even the Lord Himself said that unless He first ascended to the Father, the Spirit would not otherwise descend (John 16:7). Thus, what the Lord was not yet conferring, certainly the servant was not able to supply. Accordingly, we find afterwards in the Acts of the Apostles that those who had the Baptism of John had not received the Holy Spirit (Acts 19:1-5)."

Tertullian, Baptism, 10:4

"Know then, my beloved, that the Baptism of John was of no value for the forgiveness of sins, but for repentance."

Aphraates, Treatises, 12:10

"I ask then, if the Baptism of John remitted sins, what more could the Baptism of Christ do for those whom the Apostle Paul wanted to be baptized with the Baptism of Christ after they had received the Baptism of John? (Acts 19:4-5)"

St. Augustine, Baptism, 5:10:12

"...but those of whom John baptized, were they not baptized again?"

St. Augustine, Homilies on John, 5:18

---

---

It is to be noted that the same holds true for the Baptisms given by the Apostles also before the resurrection. It was not until Acts 2:3-4, when the Apostles received the Holy Spirit, that they were able to perform the Baptism of Christ.

"But you shall receive power when the Holy Spirit comes upon you, and you shall be witnesses for Me in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and even to the very ends of the earth."

Acts 1:8.

"And there appeared to them parted tongues as of fire, which settled upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in foreign tongues, even as the Holy Spirit prompted them to speak."

Acts 2:3-4.

Soon after the descent of the Holy Spirit, the Apostles began Baptizing the people...

"But Peter said to them, 'Repent and be Baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins; and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit'."

Acts 2:38

"Now they who received his word were baptized, and there were added that day about three thousand."

Acts 2:41.

"And now why do you delay? Get up and be Baptized and wash away your sins, calling on His name."

Acts 22:16

---

---

Where is the authorization for Baptism?

"Go, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

Matthew 28:19

---

Q. Who can Baptize?

A. Anyone who has the right intention to do what the Church does and has the use of reason.

Q. Who can be Baptized?

A. Anyone who has not been Baptized and who has the right intention. Anyone can be Baptized conditionally if there is doubt.

Q. What is the proper way to Baptize?

A. "The essential rite of Baptism consists in immersing the candidate in water or pouring water on his head, while pronouncing the invocation of the Most Holy Trinity: the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit."

The Catechism of the Catholic Church...CCC-1278

---

---

Questions I have received regarding Baptism. My answers follow.

Baptism by immersion, I believe, is the only valid Baptism. After all, the very word Baptism, is taken from the Greek word 'baptizo' which means 'to dip'. Why doesn't the Catholic Church Baptize by immersion?

Yes you are right that the Greek word 'baptizo' (also 'baptisma', and 'baptismos' for baptism) means to dip. However, it also means to cleanse by dipping or submerging, to wash, to MAKE CLEAN WITH WATER, to wash ones self, or to bathe. If you wish to use the word 'dip' as the only meaning of baptism, then to 'dip' ones hand or foot in the water would be correct also. Is the purpose of Baptism to clean our bodies by immersion, or to 'make clean' our souls and make them pleasing to GOD, by the removal of original sin?

The Catholic Church does Baptize by immersion when requested, see CCC-1278.

Not all Catholic Churches have the facilities to Baptize by immersion, so you might have to go to a Church which does.

Now, why do you ask this? Is it because Jesus Christ was Baptized by immersion? If so, then I will have to say, He was crucified too before He arose into heaven. Does that mean we have to be crucified also before we can enter heaven?

Show me in the Bible where every time a Baptism was performed, it was said it was done by immersion? Show me where Jesus Christ was immersed? Scripture says He came up from the water, Matt 3:16, Mark 1:10. It does not say He was immersed. Throughout Scripture it says Baptize with water. Never does it say Baptize immersed in water. Jesus Christ said in John 3:5, "...unless a man be born again of water..." Again He did not say, 'born again Immersed in water'.

John 13:6-10, "He came, then, to Simon Peter. And Peter said to Him, "Lord do you wash my feet?" (7) Jesus answered and said to him, "What I do you know not now; but you shall know hereafter." (8) Peter said to Him, "You shall never wash my feet!" Jesus answered him, "If I do not wash you, you shall have no part with Me." (9) Simon Peter said to Him, "LORD, NOT MY FEET ONLY, BUT ALSO MY HANDS AND MY HEAD!" (10) JESUS SAID TO HIM, "HE WHO HAS BATHED NEEDS ONLY TO WASH, AND HE IS CLEAN ALL OVER. And you are clean, but not all.""

Verse 8 makes it clear that Jesus is talking about Baptism. Verse 10 makes it clear that the whole body does not have to be washed to make it clean. It is obvious that He is not talking of a cleansing of the body, but of the soul, thus making baptismal immersion not mandatory.

Go back and read Ezekiel 36:25 again. The Old Testament "type" of Baptism was by pouring or sprinkling.

The "Didache" is a genuine historical document which contains the teachings of the Apostles. Here is how they performed early Baptisms...

DIDACHE CHAPTER 7:

7:1 But concerning baptism, thus baptize ye: having first recited all these precepts, baptize in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, in running water;

7:2 but if thou hast not running water, baptize in some other water, and if thou canst not baptize in cold, in warm water;

7:3 but if thou hast neither, pour water three times on the head, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.

7:4 But before the baptism, let him who baptizeth and him who is baptized fast previously, and any others who may be able. And thou shalt command him who is baptized to fast one or two days before.

Notice that the Apostles made no mention of "Baptism by Immersion" in this document..

Q. The Catholic Church Baptizes infants. Show me the Biblical authority to do this?

A. Where does it say in Holy Scripture, "Do not Baptize infants"? Show me the Biblical authority NOT to Baptize infants?

Jesus Christ said in Matthew 28:19, "GO, therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit..."

He did not say adults only did he? Did he ever put an age limit to receive Baptism?

Acts 22:16, "and now WHY DO YOU DELAY? Get up and be Baptized and wash away your sins, calling on his name."

So why do you delay in Baptizing your children?

Acts 2:38, But Peter said to them, "Repent and be Baptized every one of you..."

I would say that verse would include everyone, including infants and children of all ages. Peter did not say to leave your infants at home.

Acts 16:15, "And when she and her household had been Baptized..."

Did her household have infants maybe? Did Luke say "everyone in her household except infants"?

Acts 16:33, "And he took them at that very hour of the night and washed their wounds; and he and ALL his family were baptized immediately."

Again, were infants excepted here?

1Corinthians 1:16, "I Baptized also the household of Stephanas..."

Did Paul say "everyone except infants"?

Luke 3:21, "Now it came to pass when all the people had been baptized..."

Aren't infants part of "all the people"?

For those who deny infant baptism, the burden of proof is upon you to show that in all of the verses listed above there were no infants in all of those households and families.

Jesus Christ said in Matthew 19:14, "Let the little children be, and do not hinder them from coming to me."

He also said in John 3:5, "...unless a man be born again of water and the Spirit HE CANNOT ENTER INTO THE KINGDOM OF GOD."

How are they to come to Him unless they are Baptized?

Those who say not to Baptize infants clearly have a Biblical conflict here, and they risk the salvation of the souls of their children.

The baptism of the New Testament makes a man a Christian, and baptism saves,

Acts 2:38, Romans 6:4, 1Peter 3:21.

The "type" of baptism in the Old Testament was circumcision, which made a man a Jew,

Genesis 17:10-14.

Circumcision had to be done early in life, on the eighth day of birth.

"He that is eight days old among you shall be circumcised, every male throughout your generations..."

Genesis 17:12

Eight days old and every male, certainly does include infants, does it not?

I must ask: Since circumcision of infants was so important for the GOD of the Old Testament, why then are children excluded from Baptism by some in the New Testament?

"When his son Isaac was eight days old, Abraham circumcised him as GOD had commanded him."

Genesis 21:4

"And when eight days were fulfilled for his circumcision, his name was called Jesus..."

Luke 2:21

Where in the Old Testament does it say not to circumcise infants?

Once again, where does it say in the New Testament not to baptize infants?

One final note regarding infant baptism:

Infant baptism in the Catholic Church is just about the strongest demonstration of salvation without works that there could possibly be.

The infant can do nothing, nor does the infant need to do anything, in order to be "saved". The church freely supplies all that's necessary, including the water, the faith, and the grace, while the infant truly becomes a temple of the Holy Spirit, an adopted child of God, a member of the Church, and co-heir with Jesus Christ ... simply because God desires all to be saved.

The Catholic sacrament of Confirmation later allows each person to make the declaration of faith that was made for them at baptism.

Why Should I Confess My Sins to a Man?

---

---

It is GOD who forgives sins, and once forgiven, He ceases to remember them.

---

---

Isaiah 43:25, "I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins."

It is God only who forgives sins.

Jeremiah 31:34, "...for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more."

Ezekiel 18:22, "I will not remember all his iniquities that he has done."

Romans 3:26, "GOD in His patience remitting former sins..."

Hebrews 8:12, "Because I will be merciful to their iniquities, and their sins I will remember no more."

---

GOD forgave sins through a human nature.

Matthew 9:2-7, "...And Jesus, seeing their faith, said to the paralytic, "Take courage son; your sins are forgiven you...For which is easier to say, Your sins are forgiven you, or to say, Arise and walk? But that you may know that the Son of Man has power on earth to forgive sins", then He said to the paralytic, "Arise, take up your pallet and go to your house.""

---

---

GOD uses His priests as His instruments of reconciliation. The New Covenant priesthood is prefigured or 'typed' in many places in the Old Testament. Here are several examples from the Old Testament of reconciliation and atonement being performed by a priest:

Leviticus 4:20, "...Thus the priest shall make atonement for them, and they will be forgiven."

Leviticus 4:26, "Thus the priest shall make atonement for the prince's sin, and it will be forgiven."

Leviticus 4:32, "Thus the priest shall make atonement for him, and he will be forgiven."

Leviticus 4:35, "Thus the priest shall make atonement for the man's sin, and it will be forgiven."

Leviticus 5:5-6, "...then whoever is guilty in any of these cases shall confess the sin he has incurred, and as his sin offering for his sin he has committed he shall bring to the Lord a female animal from the flock, a ewe lamb or a she-goat. The priest shall then make atonement for his sin."

See also Leviticus 5:10,13,16,18, 12:8, 14:18-20,31, 15:15,30, 19:22.

Leviticus 6:7, "And the priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord; and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he has done in trespassing therein."

Leviticus 7:7, "Because the sin offering and the guilt offering are alike, both having the same ritual, the guilt offering likewise belongs to the priest who makes atonement with it."

Leviticus 16:32, "This atonement is to be made by the priest who has been anointed and ordained to the priesthood in succession to his father."

Leviticus 19:20-22, "If a man lies carnally with a woman . . . they shall not be put to death . . . but he shall bring a guilt offering for himself to the Lord, to the door of the tent of meeting, a ram for a guilt offering. And the priest shall make atonement for him . . . before the Lord for his sin which he has committed, and the sin which he has committed shall be forgiven him."

Numbers 6:11, "The priest shall offer up the one as a sin offering and the other as a holocaust, thus making atonement for him for the sin he has committed by reason of the dead person."

Numbers 15:25, "And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and it shall be forgiven them..."

Numbers 15:28, "And the priest shall make atonement before the Lord for him who sinned inadvertently; when atonement has been made for him, he will be forgiven."

The prophets in the Old Testament spoke in GOD's Name, in the first person. Here are examples...

Deuteronomy 18:18-19, "I will raise up for them a prophet like you from among their kinsmen, and will put My words into his mouth; he shall tell them all that I commanded him. If any man will not listen to My words which he speaks in My name, I Myself will make him answer for it."

Ezekiel 3:4, "And He said to me: Son of man, go to the house of Israel, and you shall speak My words to them."

David the King conversed directly with GOD:

2Samuel 2:1, "And after these things David consulted the Lord, saying: Shall I go up into one of the cities of Juda? And the Lord said to him: Go up. And David said: Whither shall I go up? And he answered him: Into Hebron."

Yet David still had to confess to Nathan and hear from him that he had been forgiven.

2Samuel 12:13, "And David said to Nathan: I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said to David: The Lord also hath taken away thy sin: thou shalt not die."

---

The priest has been given the ministry of reconciliation. He mediates GOD's forgiveness to the sinner. The priest is merely an instrument of GOD. As an analogy, think of GOD as the Supreme Healer, the Master Surgeon. He will remove the cancer of sin from the soul, while using one of His priests as the scalpel.

This GOD given ministry is shown very plainly in Holy Scripture:

Matthew 16:19, when Jesus gave the power and authority to Peter, "And I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; and whatever you shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Matthew 18:18, Jesus gave this power to all of the Apostles, "Amen I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed also in heaven."

John 20:21-23, "He therefore said to them again, 'Peace be to you! As the Father has sent Me, I also send you'. When He had said this, He breathed upon them, and said to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained'."

Matthew 10:40, "He who receives you receives Me; and he who receives Me, receives Him who sent Me."

Luke 22:29-30, "And I appoint to you a kingdom, even as My Father has appointed to Me, so that you may eat and drink at my table in My kingdom; and you shall sit upon thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."

2Corinthians 5:17-20, "Therefore, if any one is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come. All this is from God, who through Christ reconciled us to himself and gave us the ministry of reconciliation; that is, in Christ God was reconciling the world to himself, not counting their trespasses against them, and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation. So we are ambassadors for Christ, GOD making his appeal through us. We beseech you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God."

Clearly, the Apostles were given the authority to remit sins, or to bind them, in the person of Christ. How are they to accomplish this if they do not know what sins to remit or to bind? The sinner is required to confess his sins as shown.

1John 1:8-10, " If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just, and will forgive our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us."

---

The Apostles obviously would not live forever, and sin will always be with us, so they passed the authority on to others.

2Corinthians 2:10, "Whom you pardon anything, I also pardon. Indeed, what I have forgiven, if I have forgiven anything, I have done for your sakes, IN THE PERSON OF CHRIST."

The priest says in the confessional, "I absolve you of your sins." The priest is acting in Persona Christi, in the person of Christ. Since the priest is acting in the person of Christ, then it is Christ to whom you confess your sins. It is Christ alone who remits them. Jesus Christ uses the priest as His voice and His hands.

As mentioned earlier, the prophets of the Old Testament spoke in GOD's name. They spoke IN THE PERSON OF GOD. The priests of the New Covenant speak IN THE PERSON OF CHRIST. GOD never changes.

Matthew 9:5-8, "For which is easier to say, "Your sins are forgiven you, or to say arise and walk? But that you may know that the Son of Man has power to forgive sins" - then He said to the paralytic, "Arise, take up your pallet and go to your house". And he arose, and went away to his house. But when the crowds saw it, they were struck with fear, AND GLORIFIED GOD WHO HAD GIVEN SUCH POWER TO MEN."

The New Testament lies hidden in the Old and the Old Testament is revealed in the New.

Christ, the High Priest of the New Covenant, ordained the apostles to continue His priestly mission. James 5:14-16, (14) "Is any among you sick? Let him bring in the presbyters (priests) of the church, and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord; (15) and the prayer of faith will save the sick man, and the Lord will raise him up; and if he be in sins, they will be forgiven him. (16) Confess, therefore, your sins to one another, and pray for one another, that you may be saved. For the unceasing prayer of a just man is of great avail."

St. James taught us that we must go to the "presbyters", and not to just anyone, to receive the "anointing", and the remission of sins. First, he told us to go to the presbyters, or priests, in verse 14. Verse 16 continues with the word "therefore", so that word is a conjunction that connects verse 16 back to verses 14 and 15. It is the priests to whom St. James told us to confess our sins.

---

Why do we go to confession? What is the real reason?
We go to meet Christ...

The True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist, Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity.

---

---

---

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with GOD; and the Word was GOD." John 1:1
"And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us." John 1:14

---

Truth is a person, and that person is one, and that person is Jesus Christ.

"I am the way, and the truth, and the life."

These are the words of Jesus Christ in John 14:6

Therefore, truth is one. There can be only one truth, as there can be only one Jesus Christ.

Whatever Jesus Christ said is true, because He said it.

---

"He who does not believe the Son, makes Him a liar."

1John 5:10

---

The Holy Eucharist in the Old Testament...

Consuming the Lamb Slain (Rev 5:6), or participating in the Eucharistic Meal, or Supper, is prefigured or "Typed" in the Old Testament. The Lamb of GOD is depicted throughout the Bible as being Jesus Christ...

"Behold, the Lamb of GOD, who takes away the sin of the world."

These are words spoken by John the Baptist in John 1:29 as he saw Jesus coming to him.

In Exodus 12:1-22, the Israelites, in order to avoid the slaying of their firstborn by the "Angel of Death", were commanded by GOD to take an unblemished male lamb (12:5) and slaughter it (12:6), and apply its blood to the two door posts, and the lintels of every household which did partake of the Lamb (12:7). Now look at verse (12:8), and you will clearly see that in order for their firstborn to be saved, they had to eat the Lamb as well. Is this not what we do in the sacrifice of the Mass? Are we not to be saved by consuming the Body and the Blood of the Lamb as shown in John Chapter 6:33-58?

In Exodus 16:13-16, is the story of the quail and the manna which fed the Israelites as they proceeded through their desert trek. GOD provided the bodily food for the hundreds of thousands involved. Can you imagine how much food was required for all of these people every day? There were 600,000 men alone, not counting women and children. See Exodus 12:37. The quail and the manna are "Types" of the Holy Eucharist. See John 6:32.

The prophet Malachi tells us what is to come regarding the Holy Eucharist. Malachi 1:11: "For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, My name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to My name a CLEAN OBLATION." Malachi has said there will be no more bloody sacrifices to GOD as was done in the Old Testament. The Catholic Church offers the sacrifice of the Mass, and a "clean oblation", the Holy Eucharist, all over the world, and around the clock. This prophecy of Malachi has been fulfilled.

The Holy Eucharist in the New Testament...

In Matthew 26:26, He said, "Take and eat; THIS IS MY BODY."

In Matthew 26:27-28 He said, "All of you drink of this; FOR THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, WHICH IS BEING SHED FOR MANY UNTO THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS."

These words of Jesus Christ, faithfully recorded by St. Matthew, are the First Mention of them in Holy Scripture. His Gospel was written for the Jews, in order to try and convince them that the long awaited Messiah had truly come, just as the Old Testament Prophets had predicted He would. Therefore, Matthew refers to more Old Testament verses than any of the four Gospel writers, since the Jews knew Holy Scripture quite well. This Gospel, therefore, stands alone on its own merit, as do all of the Gospels.

I challenge anyone to show me any hint of symbolism of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ in this Gospel of St. Matthew.

In Mark 14:22-24, are recorded, "Take; THIS IS MY BODY", and "THIS IS MY BLOOD OF THE NEW COVENANT, WHICH IS BEING SHED FOR MANY."

These words recorded by St. Mark are almost identical to those of St. Matthew, and therefore, have the same meaning as those of St. Matthew under the "Law of First Mention". However, Mark wrote his Gospel to a different audience, the Romans. He tries to show them that Jesus Christ is the Divine Savior by including more of His miracles in this Gospel. St. Mark's Gospel stands alone as do all of the Gospels.

I challenge anyone to show me any hint of symbolism of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ in this Gospel of St. Mark.

In Luke 22:19-20, are recorded, "THIS IS MY BODY, WHICH IS BEING GIVEN FOR YOU; DO THIS IN REMEMBRANCE OF ME", and "THIS CUP IS THE NEW COVENANT IN MY BLOOD, WHICH SHALL BE SHED FOR YOU."

These words of Jesus Christ, set down by St. Luke, are very similar and have the same meaning as those of Matthew and Mark, and again follow the "Law of First Mention". St. Luke wrote to yet another audience, the Gentile converts. His Gospel also stands alone on its own merit.

I challenge anyone to show me the symbolism of the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ in this Gospel of St. Luke. Some may try to show that the word "remembrance" means it is symbolic. However, if you would look at the original Greek word used here, it is "anamnesis", which means not only to "remember", but more importantly, "to make present". There is no symbolism in these words recorded by St. Luke. To try and show symbolism in St. Luke's Gospel, you would also have to show the symbolism in the Gospels of Matthew and Mark as well. Each Gospel stands alone.

In John Chapter 6, the true presence is demonstrated in a most formidable way. If you have not done so already, please read my file "John, Chapter 6" for a verse by verse explanation. At the beginning of the chapter, Jesus demonstrated the feeding of the body by the multiplication of the loaves and fishes, and the filling of five thousand people. Starting with verse 22 through the end, He told us we need spiritual nourishment for our souls as well.

In verses 26-27 He said, "...you seek Me, not because you have seen signs, but because you have eaten of the loaves and have been filled. Do not labor for the food that perishes, but for that which endures unto life everlasting, which the Son of Man will give you."

How can nothing more than crackers and grape juice fulfill these verses? These two foods feed the body as did the loaves and fishes, but they do absolutely nothing for the soul.

As I have recounted above from John 14:6, Jesus said He is the "Life", and in 6:56, He said, "He who eats My flesh, and drinks My blood, abides in Me and I in him." Abide means to live in.

Verse 53, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink His blood, YOU SHALL NOT HAVE LIFE WITHIN YOU."

Is consuming crackers and grape juice going to fulfill verses 53 and 56? Where is the symbolism? Read these two verses again.

Now compare John 6:56 above with John 15:6, "If a man does not abide in me, he is cast forth as a branch and withers; and the branches are gathered, thrown into the fire and burned."

John 6:56 clearly said that we must eat his flesh and drink his blood.

John 15:6 clearly said that if we do not, then we are lost. How can we be lost by failing to eat a symbolic gesture?

Count the number of times Jesus said, He is the bread, the living bread, that it is His flesh and it is His blood, and that we must eat of His flesh and drink His blood?

In John 6:66 (the 666 connection) who walked away from Jesus and never returned? Was it the Jews who were there? Did GOD give the Ten Commandments to the Hebrews only? You cannot be selective of a single group, as the Gospels were written for all of us. It was all of those, then and now, who refuse to believe His words which He repeated over and over again. Why does a person repeat himself? It is to drive home a point and to make it stick. But stick it did not for many, then as now. All those who refuse to believe in the true presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist, are those embedded in John 6:66.

Some try to show that verse 63 shows that the whole chapter is symbolic. However, "It is the spirit that quickens; the flesh profits nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life" (63), merely shows that we cannot accept this mystery in too human a way, by having an earthly view of things. See John 3:6, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Verse 63 means that we should not have a carnal human understanding of His words, but a spiritual understanding. See John 8:15, Rom 8:1-13,15:27, 1Cor 3:1-4,9:11, and 2Cor 10:4.

He who takes "The flesh profits nothing" as an excuse for denying the "True Presence", denies the incarnation and humanity of Jesus Christ." It is interesting that those who do this are taking one verse and calling it literal by itself, and all the while calling all of the other verses around it figurative, or symbolic.

The word "Amen" is a Greek word (amen) of Hebrew origin which, at the beginning of a discourse means, "certainly", "surely", "truly", "of a truth", "so be it". When used as a prefix by Jesus Christ, it is to emphasize that it is a Statement of especial solemnity.

Now, what do you suppose He meant when He emphasized twice, by using a double "Amen"?

"Amen, amen, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of GOD is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

John 6:32-33

Notice that Jesus used a double emphasis by beginning these verses with 'truly', 'truly'. Do you 'truly' 'truly' believe what He said in this verse? Is there any room for symbolism in these verses whatsoever?

"Amen, amen, I say to you, he who believes in me has life everlasting."

John 6:47

Again, He said 'truly', 'truly', but of course everyone believes His words in this verse, so everyone 'truly', 'truly' believes Him here. But, read on for a possible "snag" for some, regarding this verse.

"Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you do not have life within you."

John 6:53

What? 'Truly', 'truly' again? Another double emphasis? The context for this verse is the same as for the previous examples in this section. Why do you think Jesus used a double emphasis yet again? Again I ask, why do people repeat themselves at all? Again, for emphasis, they do it to drive home a very important point, that is why! Interestingly, Weymouth's Modern Speech New Testament translates the first words of this verse as: "In most solemn truth, I tell you...".

What would Jesus have had to say to make his words any more clear than what He actually said?

Then why do some say "Truly, truly, in this verse, He was only speaking symbolically"?

If this verse is to be taken only symbolically, then the previous example, John 6:47, must be treated in the same context, as being only a symbolic gesture also. If that is the case, then we have a domino effect working throughout Scripture. All verses with the same meaning of John 6:47, "believe in Christ and you have life everlasting", must be only symbolic as well.

Some well known, and well used verses with the same, or very similar meaning are, John 3:15-16,18, 5:24, 6:40, 8:24, and 20:31, Acts 13:48, and 16:31, Romans 10:9-11, 1Timothy 1:16, and 4:10, 2Timothy 1:1, and 1John 5:13.

The Greek word for "life" used in John 6:53, is "zoe" (zoe) which means, "divine life of GOD imparted to us". There are other Greek words for "life" that St. John could have chosen, such as "bios" (bios) which simply means "life". The fact that he chose the word that he did, lends great credibility to the literal meaning of this verse and with not a hint of symbolism.

Again, if you try to show that John Chapter 6 is symbolic, then you have to show the symbolism in the other three Gospels, and the other verses I have presented as well.

John 20:21, "He therefore said to them again, 'Peace be to you! As the Father has sent Me, I also send you.'"

What did Jesus say here?

The Father sent Him to redeem us, to forgive us our sins, to open the Gates of Heaven, and to bring us his life saving food from Heaven, the manna for our souls, which is now His most precious Body and Blood.

He did redeem us and He did open the Gates of Heaven. On the night of the Last Supper, He established the Priesthood, and commanded them to "Do this in remembrance of Me", thus perpetuating the Holy Eucharist, and fulfilling the prophecy of Malachi 1:11. In John 20:22-23, He breathed upon them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained". He thus empowered them to act in His Person, in "Persona Christi", (2Cor 2:10). The priest had become the hands and the voice of Jesus Christ.

Please read Matt 9:8, "But when the crowds saw it, they were struck with fear, and glorified GOD WHO HAD GIVEN SUCH POWER TO MEN."

1Cor 10:16, "The cup of the blessing that we bless, IS IT NOT THE SHARING OF THE BLOOD OF CHRIST? And the bread that we break, IS IT NOT THE PARTAKING OF THE BODY OF THE LORD?"

Could St. Paul have said this any clearer than he did here? Where did he say the "symbolic" sharing or the "symbolic" partaking? This verse is absolutely to the point, and there is not a hint of symbolism anywhere.

Did you notice the BLESSING THAT WE BLESS, and the BREAD THAT WE BREAK?

Here, Saint Paul clearly stated that he and the other Apostles have the authority and the power (Acts 1:8,2:2-4) to call down "THE WORD" with their word, and the cup (of wine) is no longer wine, but the Blood of Christ, and the bread is no longer bread, but the Body of Christ.

This authority and power bestowed upon the Apostles, was passed down to their successors, the Priests and the Bishops, through the "Laying on of Hands", in a process called "Apostolic Succession". This process has been perpetuated to this very day, and can be vividly seen in the unbroken line of the "Bishops of Rome", the "Popes".

1Cor 11:23, St Paul was not present at the Last Supper, but in this verse he said that he had received the following recount of it, and of the True Presence from the Lord. Why did he not receive the teaching from the Apostles? Is it because the Lord knew it was so important to give the teaching of His True Presence in the Holy Eucharist to him directly since he missed it the first time around?

1Cor 11:23-26, St. Paul repeats the words of consecration of Jesus Christ at the last supper.

1Cor 11:27-29, St. Paul lays it on the line, "Therefore, whoever eats this bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily, will be guilty of the Body and the Blood of the Lord (27). But let a man prove himself, and so let him eat of that bread and drink of the cup; (28) FOR HE WHO EATS AND DRINKS UNWORTHILY, WITHOUT DISTINGUISHING THE BODY, EATS AND DRINKS JUDGMENT (the word is 'damnation' in the King James Bible) TO HIMSELF." (29)

Wow! Just what is going on here? When Catholics receive Holy Communion, the priest holds up the Sacred Host and says "The Body of Christ". The communicant responds with "Amen". The word "Amen" means "so be it". It is an affirmation that we believe what the priest has just said. Since each receptor is a member of the Body of Christ, then he or she is in communion with the other members of the Body of Christ in the Catholic Church. It is an affirmation that we believe and accept the teachings of the Catholic Church. This is what St. Paul is telling us in those three verses. This is also precisely the reason why Protestants should not receive Holy Communion in the Catholic Church. They do not believe it is the true Body and Blood of Jesus Christ, therefore they are not in communion with the Catholic Church, and they are not believers of Catholic teachings. If they were, then why would they still be Protestant?

On the road to Emmaus...

In Luke 24:13-35, we have the story of two of the disciples walking on the road to Emmaus shortly after the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Jesus joined them in their walk, but they did not recognize Him (16). He interpreted all the Scriptures for them that referred to Himself (27) and yet they still failed to recognize Him. It was toward evening and they invited Him to dine with them (29). Then something very dramatic happened as they reclined (30-31). Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and broke it, and gave it to them. And their eyes were opened and with that, they immediately recognized

His true presence in the Breaking of Bread, the Holy Eucharist.

"And they themselves began to relate what had happened on the journey, AND HOW THEY RECOGNIZED HIM IN THE BREAKING OF THE BREAD." (35)

---

Non-Catholics are correct when they say "it is only a symbol", because for them, it IS only a symbol. You see, they have no valid "Priestly Orders". They have no Apostolic Succession and therefore, no valid Orders for the priesthood. They cannot consecrate a host. They cannot call down "The Word" with their word, as the Catholic priest can. However, they have no right or authority whatsoever, to say that the Holy Eucharist, as consecrated by Catholic priests, is only a symbolic gesture.

The Council of Trent...

Convened on December 4, 1545 and closed on December 4, 1563.

About 25 years after the Protestant reformation, the Catholic Church convened the Council of Trent as a counter to the reformation, and for the refutation of the heresies created by it. Here are the decrees of this council regarding the True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist...

The Thirteenth Session: Decreed on March 8, 1547.

ON THE MOST HOLY SACRAMENT OF THE EUCHARIST...

CANON I.-If any one denieth, that, in the sacrament of the most holy Eucharist, are contained truly, really, and substantially, the body and blood together with the soul and divinity of our Lord Jesus Christ, and consequently the whole Christ; but saith that He is only therein as in a sign, or in figure, or virtue; let him be anathema*.

* Anathema means, accursed, (let him be) cursed, excluded from the Kingdom of GOD, banned, or excommunicated. The phrase "Let him be Anathema", is used many times in Church Council decrees, and in so doing, makes that statement in which it is contained an "Infallible Statement". See 1Chron 2:7, Judith 16:23, Isa 65:20, Rom 9:3, 1Cor 12:3,16:22, and especially Gal 1:8-9.

CANON II.-If any one saith, that, in the sacred and holy sacrament of the Eucharist, the substance of the bread and wine remains conjointly with the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, and denieth that wonderful and singular conversion of the whole substance of the bread into the Body, and of the whole substance of the wine into the Blood-the species Only of the bread and wine remaining-which conversion indeed the Catholic Church most aptly calls Transubstantiation; let him be anathema.

CANON III.-If any one denieth, that, in the venerable sacrament of the Eucharist, the whole Christ is contained under each species, and under every part of each species, when separated; let him be anathema.

CANON IV.-If any one saith, that, after the consecration is completed, the body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ are not in the admirable sacrament of the Eucharist, but (are there) only during the use, whilst it is being taken, and not either before or after; and that, in the hosts, or consecrated particles, which are reserved or which remain after communion, the true Body of the Lord remaineth not; let him be anathema.

CANON V.-If any one saith, either that the principal fruit of the most holy Eucharist is the remission of sins, or, that other effects do not result therefrom; let him be anathema.

CANON VI.-If any one saith, that, in the holy sacrament of the Eucharist, Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, is not to be adored with the worship, even external of latria; and is, consequently, neither to be venerated with a special festive solemnity, nor to be solemnly borne about in processions, according to the laudable and universal rite and custom of holy church; or, is not to be proposed publicly to the people to be adored, and that the adorers thereof are idolators; let him be anathema.

CANON VII.-If any one saith, that it is not lawful for the sacred Eucharist to be reserved in the sacrarium, but that, immediately after consecration, it must necessarily be distributed amongst those present; or, that it is not lawful that it be carried with honour to the sick; let him be anathema.

CANON VIII.-If any one saith, that Christ, given in the Eucharist, is eaten spiritually only, and not also sacramentally and really; let him be anathema.

CANON IX.-If any one denieth, that all and each of Christ's faithful of both sexes are bound, when they have attained to years of discretion, to communicate every year, at least at Easter, in accordance with the precept of holy Mother Church; let him be anathema.

CANON X.-If any one saith, that it is not lawful for the celebrating priest to communicate himself; let him be anathema.

CANON XI.-If any one saith, that faith alone is a sufficient preparation for receiving the sacrament of the most holy Eucharist; let him be anathema. And for fear lest so great a sacrament may be received unworthily, and so unto death and condemnation, this holy Synod ordains and declares, that sacramental confession, when a confessor may be had, is of necessity to be made beforehand, by those whose conscience is burthened with mortal sin, how contrite even soever they may think themselves. But if any one shall presume to teach, preach, or obstinately to assert, or even in public disputation to defend the contrary, he shall be thereupon excommunicated.

What did the Church Fathers have to say about the True Presence in the Holy Eucharist?

---

The Didache (Did-Ah-Key), or teaching of the Apostles, 9:1

Let no one eat or drink of the Eucharist with you except those who have been baptized in the Name of the Lord; for it was in reference to this that the Lord said, "Do not give that which is Holy to dogs." Matthew 7:6

---

St. Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Romans, 7:3, 106AD

"I desire the bread of GOD, which is the flesh of Jesus Christ."

St. Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Smyrneans, 6:2, 106AD

"They abstain from the Eucharist and from prayer, because they do not confess that the Eucharist is the Flesh of Our Savior Jesus Christ, Flesh which suffered for our sins and which the Father, in His goodness, raised up again. THEY WHO DENY THE GIFT OF GOD ARE PERISHING IN THEIR DISPUTES."

St. Justin the Martyr, First Apology, 65-66, 148 A.D.

"But we, after we have thus washed him who has been convinced and has assented to our teaching, bring him to the place where those who are called brethren are assembled, in order that we may offer hearty prayers in common for ourselves and for the baptized person, and for all others in every place, that we may be counted worthy, now that we have learned the truth, by our works also to be found good citizens and keepers of the commandments, so that we may be saved with an everlasting salvation. Having ended the prayers, we salute one another with a kiss. There is then brought to the president of the brethren bread and a cup of wine mixed with water; and he taking them, gives praise and glory to the Father of the universe, through the name of the Son and of the Holy Ghost, and offers thanks at considerable length for our being counted worthy to receive these things at His hands. And when he has concluded the prayers and thanksgivings, all the people present express their assent by saying Amen. This word Amen answers in the Hebrew language to so be it. And when the president has given thanks, and all the people have expressed their assent, those who are called by us deacons give to each of those present to partake of the bread and wine mixed with water over which the thanksgiving was pronounced, and to those who are absent they carry away a portion.

And this food is called among us Eukaristia [the Eucharist], of which no one is allowed to partake but the man who believes that the things we teach are true, and who has been washed with the washing that is for the remission of sins, and unto regeneration, and who is so living as Christ has enjoined. For not as common bread and common drink do we receive these; but in like manner as Jesus Christ our Saviour, having been made flesh by the Word of God, had both flesh and blood for our salvation, so likewise have we been taught that the food which is blessed by the prayer of His Word, and from which our blood and flesh by transmutation are nourished, IS THE FLESH AND BLOOD OF THAT JESUS WHO WAS MADE FLESH. For the apostles, in the memoirs composed by them, which are called Gospels, have thus delivered unto us what was enjoined upon them; that Jesus took bread, and when He had given thanks, said, "This do ye in remembrance of Me, this is My body;" and that, after the same manner, having taken the cup and given thanks, He said, "This is My blood;" and gave it to them alone..."

St. Cyril of Jerusalem, Catechetical Lectures, 22(Mystagogic 4)6, 350AD

"Do not, therefore, regard the Bread and the Wine as simply that; for they are, according to the Masters declaration, the Body and Blood of Christ."

---

St. Gregory of Nyssa, The Great Catechism, 37, 383AD

"Rightly then, do we believe that the bread consecrated by the Word of GOD has been made over into the Body of GOD the Word."

---

St. Ambrose of Milan, The Sacraments, 4:4:14, 390AD

"You may perhaps say: 'My bread is ordinary.' But that bread is bread before the words of the Sacraments; where the consecration has entered in, the bread becomes the Flesh of Christ."

St. John Chrysostom, Homilies on the First Corinthians, 24:4:7, 392AD

"When you see the Body of Christ lying on the altar, say to yourself, Because of this Body I am no longer earth and ash, no longer a prisoner but free...This is that Body which was blood-stained, which was pierced by a lance, and from which gushed forth those saving fountains, one of blood, the other of water, for all the world. This is the body which He gave us, both to hold in reserve and to eat, which was appropriate to intense love."

St. Augustine of Hippo, Sermons, 227, 393AD

"The Bread which you see on the altar, having been sanctified by the Word of GOD, is the Body of Christ. That chalice, or rather, what is in that chalice, having been sanctified by the Word of GOD, is the Blood of Christ."

---

St. Cyril of Alexandria, Commentary on Matthew, 26:27, 428AD

"He states demonstratively: 'This is My Body,' and 'This is My Blood', lest you might suppose the things you see are a figure. Rather, by some secret of the all-powerful GOD the things seen are transformed into the Body and Blood of Christ, truly offered in a sacrifice in which we, as participants, receive the life-giving and sanctifying power of Christ."

Macarius, Bishop of Magnesia, Apocriticus, 3:23, 400 AD

"Christ took the bread and the cup, each in similar fashion, and said, 'This is My Body and this is My Blood'. Not a figure of His Body nor a figure of His Blood, as some persons of petrified mind are wont to rhapsodize, but in truth the Body and the Blood of Christ, seeing that His Body is from the earth, and the bread and wine are likewise from the earth. Holy Eucharist. The True Presence of Our Lord..."

Eucharistic Miracles...

For hundreds of years, and in diverse places, Eucharistic Miracles have occurred. These listed here are well documented from both Church and secular sources, and have been declared unexplainable by science and therefore, are genuine miracles from GOD. Some of the Sacred Hosts turned into real human flesh, some have bled real human blood, some have exuded a pure olive oil of a species of olive tree not found on earth. Others have lasted inexplicably for centuries, whereas if they were simply bread, would have disintegrated within just a few years. Many, you can see today, in or near the cities or towns in which they were manifested.

The man did not feed his mule for several days and St. Anthony brought out the Holy Eucharist and the man brought out food for the animal. # Infallibility...

---

Exactly what does the word 'Infallible' mean when referring to the Bishop of Rome? There are so many misconceptions as to just what it means to others, especially to our Protestant brothers and sisters. Here are some answers we have received:

1. The Pope cannot tell a lie.
2. The Pope cannot sin.
3. The Pope cannot make a mistake.
4. Everything the Pope says is the absolute truth.
5. The Pope is perfect in every way.

And the correct answer is...

'None' of the above.

If I were told to believe any of those answers, I would have second thoughts about 'Papal Infallibility' myself.

Substitute the name 'Jesus Christ' for 'the Pope' in all the answers above and the correct answer to all of them is a resounding 'YES'. The Pope is the human visible head of the Church, the Vicar of Christ on earth, just as Jesus Christ is the invisible head.

---

The correct definition of Papal infallibility (ex Cathedra), as defined by the First Vatican Council (1870), is:

"The Roman Pontiff, when he speaks ex cathedra—that is, when in discharge of the office of pastor and teacher of all Christians, by virtue of his supreme apostolic authority, he defines a doctrine regarding Faith or Morals to be held by the universal Church, by the divine assistance promised to him in Blessed Peter, is possessed of that infallibility with which the divine Redeemer willed that His Church should be endowed in defining doctrine regarding Faith or Morals; and therefore such definitions are irreformable of themselves, and not in virtue of consent of the Church."

Condensed, this means, a Papal infallible statement, when all conditions are met, has freedom from error in teaching the universal Church in matters of faith or morals.

---

So, is the Bishop of Rome, the Pope a sinner?

Yes, we all are sinners. He is no different from the rest of us in that respect.

"But when Simon Peter saw this, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, 'Depart from me for I am a sinful man, O Lord'

...And Jesus said to Simon, 'Do not be afraid; henceforth thou shall catch men'." Luke 5:8-10.

---

Now what about the authors of the New Testament, Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Paul, Peter and others? Were they infallible people or were they sinners? As I have already shown, Peter admitted that he was a sinner, and we all know the story of Saul who became Paul. We know they were all sinners. How then, could fallible men write such inerrant documents as the books they authored? It is because they were guided by the Holy Spirit. GOD prevented them from writing error. GOD is the same yesterday, today, and forever. If GOD prevented these men from writing error, why then could He not do the same for the successor of St. Peter today?

---

The gift of infallibility was given by GOD to a very select few:

In Luke 10:16, Jesus said,

"He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."

That verse is a verse of authority and it is a verse of infallibility as well. It is basic rule of Scripture interpretation to always discern Scripture verses in proper context. So, to put Luke 10:16 in its proper context, we must look at to whom Jesus spoke when He said those words of authority and of infallibility. He spoke to His disciples only, the Apostles, and not to anyone else.

Consequently, the only persons authorized to preach with authority and infallibility are the Apostles, and subsequently those who followed them in a long line of succession, the Papal office and the office of the Bishops (Psalms 109:8, Acts 1:20).

Today there are well over 36,000 non-Catholic sects in existence, each with at least one preacher and all of them are preaching something different from one another. So, given the fact that there can be only one truth of Jesus Christ with the one authority of Jesus Christ, which one of those tens of thousands has the authority and infallibility given to him or her by Jesus Christ?

Which one of the tens of thousands of them could lay claim to Luke 10:16?

"...and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me." What else could this part of Luke 10:16 mean other than to be applied to those who reject the teaching of His Apostles and their successors through the one Church which He founded?

There is only one Church in the whole world which can lay claim to infallible teaching in the matters of faith and morals.

That one Church, the one founded by Jesus Christ, in but one example out of many, exercised its authority and infallibility over fifteen hundred years ago by deciding which books of the Bible were inspired by GOD and which books were not.

It required an infallible decision by Jesus Christ's infallible Church to proclaim the canon of that one inerrant book.

Apostolic Succession

---

The critics say that it does not exist, that it is not Biblical, and that it is not needed. Well, if all of that is true, then we did not need Jesus Christ to come to redeem us, for according to the critics, His Church ceased to exist soon after the last Apostle died.

---

Before the Apostles passed on, they started a system, commanded by Jesus Christ, to pass the baton to successors. This was to insure the perpetuity of the Catholic Church which Jesus Christ founded. That system is called "Apostolic Succession".

Every Catholic Bishop can show his line of spiritual descent, that is, who consecrated him, who consecrated his consecrator, and so on, all the way back to the Apostles. Jesus Christ vested in the Apostles special authority. This special Apostolic authority has been passed down in unbroken succession through the Bishops of the Church for almost two thousand years, so that the present Bishops of the Church truly teach with the voice of Jesus Christ through the Apostles.

Passing the Baton...

Psa 109:8, "...May another take up his duties."

Acts 1:20, "...And his ministry let another take."
Isn't this one verse enough to prove Apostolic Succession?

Acts 20:32, "And now I commend you to GOD and to the Word of His grace, who is able to build up and to give the inheritance among all the sanctified."

1Chron 24:5, "And he divided both the families one with the other by lot; for there were princes of the sanctuary, and princes of GOD..."

1Chron 25:8, "And they cast lots by their courses, the elder equally with the younger..."

1Chron 24:31, "And they also cast lots over against their brethren the sons of Aaron before David the king, and Sadoc, and Ahimelech, and the princes of the priestly and Levitical families, both the elder and the younger. The lot divided all equally."

Lk 1:8-9, "Now it came to pass, while he was officiating in the order of his course as a priest before GOD, according to the customs of the priest's office, that he was chosen by lot to enter the temple of the Lord to burn incense."

Acts 1:15-26, "In those days Peter stood up in the midst of the brethren, now in the number of persons met together was about a hundred and twenty,....And they drew lots between them, and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles."

1Cor 3:10, "According to the grace of GOD which has been given to me, as a wise builder, I laid the foundation, and another builds thereon."

The 'Laying on of hands' to convey authority and leadership is prefigured in the Old Testament.

Num 27:15-23, Then Moses said to the Lord, "May the Lord, the GOD of the spirits of all mankind, set over the community a man who shall act as their leader in all things, to guide them in all their actions; that the Lord's community may not be like sheep without a shepherd." And the Lord replied to Moses, "Take Joshua, son of Nun, a man of spirit, and lay your hands upon him. Have him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, and commission him before their eyes. Invest him with some of your own dignity, that the whole Israelite community may obey him. He shall present himself to the priest Eleazar, to have him seek out for him the decisions of the Urim in the Lord's presence; and as He directs, Joshua, all the Israelites with him, and the community as a whole shall perform all their actions." Moses did as the Lord had commanded him. Taking Joshua and having him stand in the presence of the priest Eleazar and of the whole community, he laid his hands on him and gave him his commission, as the Lord had directed through Moses."

Deut 34:9, "For Joshua, the son of Nun was full of the Spirit of Wisdom; for Moses had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Israel harkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses."

This same rite was practiced in the early Church and continues to this day. The Bishop, by the 'laying on of hands', conveys a succession of Priests and Bishops with a commission, giving them the authority and the leadership needed to perpetuate the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Acts 6:6, "These they set before the apostles, and after they had prayed they laid their hands upon them."

Acts 9:17, "...and laying his hands upon him, he said, "Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus, who appeared to thee on thy journey, that thou mayest recover thy sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit."

A 'laying on of hands' is a filling of the Holy Spirit.

Acts 8:17, "Then they laid their hands on them and they received the Holy Spirit."

Acts 19:6, " and when Paul laid his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came upon them, and they began to speak in tongues and to prophesy."

Acts 13:3, "Then having fasted and prayed and laid their hands upon them, they let them go."

2Tim 1:6, "For this reason I admonish thee to stir up the grace of GOD which is in thee by the laying on of my hands."

1Tim 4:14, "Do not neglect the grace that is in thee, granted to thee by reason of prophecy with the laying on of hands of the presbyterate."

Acts 9:15-17, "But the Lord said to him, 'Go for this man is a chosen vessel to me, to carry My Name among nations and kings and the children of Israel. For I will show him how much he must suffer for My Name'. So Ananias departed and entered the house, and laying on of hands upon him, he said, 'Brother Saul, the Lord has sent me, Jesus, who appeared to thee on thy journey, that thou mayest recover thy sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit'."

Heb 6:1-3, "Therefore, leaving the elementary teaching concerning Christ, let us pass onto things more perfect, not laying again a foundation of repentance from dead works and of faith towards GOD, of the doctrine of Baptism and the laying on of hands, of the resurrection of the dead and of eternal judgment. AND THIS WE WILL DO IF GOD PERMITS."

Col 1:24-26, "I rejoice now in the sufferings I bear for your sake; and what is lacking of the sufferings of Christ I fill up in my flesh for His body which is the Church; whose minister I have become in virtue of the office that GOD has given to me in your regard. For I am to preach the Word of GOD fully, the mystery which has been hidden for ages and generations, but now is clearly shown to His Saints."

Eph 2:20, "You are built upon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets with Jesus Christ Himself as the chief cornerstone."

Tit 1:5, "For this reason I left thee in Crete, that thou shouldst set right anything that is defective and shouldst appoint presbyters in every city, as I myself directed thee to do."

Jn 15:20, "Remember the word I have spoken to you..."

2Tim 2:2, "...and the things that thou hast heard from me through many witnesses, commend to trustworthy men who shall be competent in turn to teach others."

This verse clearly tells us that the truth of the Apostles will be passed on to competent teachers. The Bishops of the Church are the teaching authority. How can the truth be passed on trustworthily and with authority unless there is a succession of competent teachers? If this line of succession is ever broken then it is every man for himself in passing on nothing but personal opinions. We see this today ever since the reformation in the proliferation of Protestant churches, which now number in the tens of thousands.

See how many more verses listed below echo this one in various ways?

2Tim 3:14, "But do thou continue in the things that thou hast learned and that have been entrusted to thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them."

2Thess 2:15, "So then, brethren, stand firm, and hold the traditions that you have learned, whether by word or by letter of ours."

2Tim 1:13, "Hold to the form of sound teaching which thou hast heard from me, in the faith and love which are in Christ Jesus."

1Cor 11:2, "Now I praise you, brethren, because in all things you are mindful of me and hold fast my precepts as I gave them to you."

1Thes 2:2, "But although we had previously experienced suffering and shameful treatment at Philippi, as you know, we had confidence in our GOD to preach to you the Gospel of GOD amid much anxiety."

1Thes 3:10, "Night and day we pray more and more that we may see you again, and may supply those things that are lacking to your faith."

1Thes 5:14, "And we exhort you, brethren, reprove the irregular, comfort the fainthearted, support the weak, be patient towards all men."

1Pet 5:1-4, "Now I exhort the presbyters among you, I your fellow presbyter and witness of the sufferings of Christ, the partaker also of the glory that is to be revealed in time to come, tend the flock of GOD which is among you, governing not under constraint, but willingly, according to GOD; not yet for the sake of base gain, but eagerly; nor yet as lording it over your charges, but becoming from the heart a pattern to the flock. And when the Prince of the Shepherds appears, you will receive the unfading crown of glory."

Heb 13:7, "Remember your superiors, who spoke to you the Word of GOD. Consider how they ended their lives, and imitate their faith."

Heb 13:17, "Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that they may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you."

1Thess 5:12, "Now we beseech you, brethren, to appreciate those who labor among you, and who are over you."

Mt 16:15-19, "...'But who do you say that I am'? Simon Peter answered and said, 'Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living GOD'. Then Jesus answered and said, 'Blessed art thou, Simon Bar-Jona, for flesh and blood has not revealed this to thee, but My Father in Heaven. And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give thee the keys of the Kingdom of Heaven, and whatever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.'" Simon Peter was the only Apostle who had the correct answer, and it was given to him by GOD the Father. All of the rest had only personal opinions, all of which were wrong. Simon Peter was the only one to receive the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven***

If there was no such thing as Apostolic Succession, then where are those keys today?

*The phrase "Kingdom of Heaven", was used by Matthew since he addressed his Gospel to the Jews. The Jews were forbidden to mention the holy name of GOD. Mark and Luke used the phrase "Kingdom of GOD". Either phrase refers to the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

Mt 18:17-18, "And if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the Church, but if he refuse to hear even the Church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican. Amen I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound also in heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed also in heaven." If there is no such thing as Apostolic Succession, then to which church would one appeal if he lived in 400, 1000, or 1600 A.D.?

Jn 14:15-17, "If you love Me, keep My commandments, and I will ask the Father and He will give you another Advocate to dwell with you forever, the Spirit of Truth whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees Him nor knows Him."

Jn 16:13, "When the Spirit of Truth comes, He will guide you into all the truth; for He will not speak on His own authority, but whatever He hears He will speak, and He will declare to you the things that are to come."

How can the critics explain this verse? Does, "He will guide you into all the truth", mean that all truth was revealed to the Apostles before they passed away and there will be nothing more to be revealed? If so, then please explain the last part, "He will declare to you the things that are to come"? That speaks of future tense. To whom is the Spirit going to guide or declare, if there is no Apostolic Succession?

However, Holy Scripture does say also that everything is not in the Bible, Jn 20:30-31, 21:25.

Jn 10:16, "And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice. So there shall be one flock, one shepherd."

Jesus of course is the Good Shepherd, but who did He speak of here? The "other sheep" can only mean the Gentiles who are everyone who is not a Jew. His Church is to cover the whole world (Mt 28:19, Acts 1:8) and He and the Apostles will only be on earth for a short period of time. His Apostles started building His Church, guided by the Holy Spirit. Was the Church completed in the first century? Did the Church cover the whole earth before the last Apostle died? Far from it. His Church has been "building" for almost two-thousand years now. Who other than the Apostolic Successors are the ones making sure that the whole world "heeds His voice"? The "one flock" is His one Church. GOD has always spoken through a father figure on earth. The "one shepherd" can only be the one who leads His Church, the successor to the Apostle, Saint Peter. How can anyone lead His Church without Apostolic Succession?

Jn 16:23, "And in that day you shall ask Me nothing. Amen, amen, I say to you, if you ask the Father anything in My Name, He will give it to you."

Eph 3:21, "To Him be glory in the Church and in Christ Jesus down through all the ages of time without end. Amen."

What the Apostles had to say regarding Apostolic Succession...

Didache 15:1, "Elect for yourselves, therefore, Bishops and Deacons worthy of the Lord..."

What an Apostolic Father of the Catholic Church had to say about Apostolic Succession...

ST. CLEMENT OF ROME, BISHOP AND APOSTOLIC FATHER OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH. FIRST LETTER TO THE CORINTHIANS 80 A.D.

CHAP. XLIV.--THE ORDINANCES OF THE APOSTLES, THAT THERE MIGHT BE NO CONTENTION RESPECTING THE PRIESTLY OFFICE.

"Our apostles also knew, through our Lord Jesus Christ, and there would be strife on account of the office of the episcopate. For this reason, therefore, inasmuch as they had obtained a perfect fore-knowledge of this, they appointed those [ministers] already mentioned, and afterwards gave instructions, that when these should fall asleep, other approved men should succeed them in their ministry. We are of opinion, therefore, that those appointed by them, or afterwards by other eminent men, with the consent of the whole Church, and who have blame-lessly served the flock of Christ in a humble, peaceable, and disinterested spirit, and have for a long time possessed the good opinion of all, cannot be justly dismissed from the ministry. For our sin will not be small, if we eject from the episcopate those who have blamelessly and holily fulfilled its duties. Blessed are those presbyters who, having finished their course before now, have obtained a fruitful and perfect departure [from this world]; for they have no fear lest any one deprive them of the place now appointed them. But we see that ye have removed some men of excellent behaviour from the ministry, which they fulfilled blamelessly and with honour."

What Church Fathers, Church Councils, and early writers had to say about Apostolic Succession...

IRENÆUS, AGAINST HERESIES 4,33,8, 180 A.D.

"The true gnosis is the doctrine of the Apostles, and the ancient organization of the Church throughout the whole world, and the manifestation of the Body of Christ according to the successions of Bishops, by which successions the Bishops have handed down the Church which is found everywhere."

IRENÆUS, AGAINST HERESIES 5,20,1, 180 A.D.

"For all these [heretics] are of a much later date than are the Bishops to whom the Apostles handed over the Churches."

CLEMENT OF ALEXANDRIA, WHO IS THE RICH MAN THAT IS SAVED 42,2, 200 A.D.

"After the death of the tyrant, the [Apostle John] came back to Ephesus from the island of Patmos; and upon being invited, he went even to the neighboring cities of the pagans, here to appoint Bishops, there to set in order whole Churches, and there to ordain to the clerical estate such as were designated by the Spirit."

TERTULLIAN, THE DEMURRER AGAINST HERETICS 32,1, 200 A.D.

"Moreover, if there be any (heresies) bold enough to plant themselves in the midst of the apostolic age, so that they might seem to be handed down by the Apostles... we can say to them: let them show the origins of their churches, let them unroll the order of their bishops, running down in succession from the beginning, so that their first bishop shall have for author and predecessor some one of the Apostles or of the apostolic men who continued steadfast with the Apostles."

TERTULLIAN, THE DEMURRER AGAINST HERETICS 32,2-3, 200 A.D.

"For this is the way in which the apostolic Churches transmit their lists: like the Church of the Smyrneans, which records that Polycarp was placed there by John; like the Church of the Romans where Clement was ordained by Peter. In just this same way the other Churches display those whom they have as sprouts from the Apostolic seed, having been established in the episcopate by the Apostles."

FIRMILIAN BISHOP OF CAESAREA, LETTER TO CYPRIAN 75,16, 255 A.D.

"Therefore the power of forgiving sins was given to the Apostles and to the Churches which these men, sent by Christ, established; and to the Bishops who succeeded them by BEING ORDAINED IN THEIR PLACE."

COUNCIL OF LAODICEA, CANON 12, 343 A.D.

"That Bishops are to be appointed to ecclesiastical leadership by the judgment of the metropolitans and their surrounding Bishops, after they have been examined at length as to their knowledge of the faith and quite frankly as to their deportment."

This is only a small sampling of the early writings in support of Apostolic Succession. There are many more.

Tracing All The Way Back To St. Peter...

The Unbroken Line of Popes Throughout the Ages:

It is by far the longest continuous line of succession of any religious institution on earth.

By the time that the last book of the Bible (Revelation) was written, the Catholic Church was already on its fifth Pope.

St. Irenaeus listed the first 14 Popes in "Against Heresies", 3:3:3, 180 AD

The Deeper and Most Overlooked Meanings of Luke 10:16

---

"He who hears you hears me, and he who rejects you rejects me, and he who rejects me rejects him who sent me."

Luke 10:16

---

This is but one of the promises of authority which Jesus Christ gave to His Apostles.

Holy Scripture can be analogous to some common object with many sub-layers such as an onion, or a cabbage, or a tightly packed acorn. The outer layer is sometimes fairly easy to discern, but when that layer is peeled back, subsequent deeper layers of more subtle meaning are revealed.

Can you see the deeper meaning of the first six words of Luke 10:16?

The deeper teaching reads like this, 'He who hears me, so through your mouth will never hear anything but the absolute truth'. It has the meaning of that, 'through His Church the Apostles and their descendants will be prevented by GOD Himself from teaching anything other than the absolute truth'. Down through almost two-thousand years of recorded history of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, and with a succession of two hundred sixty three Bishops of Rome (Popes), not one Pope has ever taught error from the Chair of Peter on the matter of faith and morals, and all of this in spite of a handful of 'less than holy' popes (remember, Jesus Himself chose one 'less than holy' Apostle, by the name of Judas).

This is proof positive of the deeper meaning of, "He who hears you hears me...", and that it does indeed work.

However, there is yet another word which enters the picture here under yet another layer for that same verse, and that word is infallibility.

The following verses add certitude to what I have just presented in this document:

"I hope to come to you soon, but I am writing these instructions to you so that, if I am delayed, you may know how one ought to behave in the household of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and bulwark of the truth."

1 Timothy 3:14-15

It is the Church which has the truth of the teaching of Christ. The Church is His Body (Ephesians 5:23) and so it must be truth, as He is truth. The teaching of His Church is infallible, as He is infallible.

"Of this gospel I was made a minister according to the gift of God's grace which was given me by the working of his power. To me, though I am the very least of all the saints, this grace was given, to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make all men see what is the plan of the mystery hidden for ages in God who created all things; that through the church the manifold wisdom of God might now be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places. This was according to the eternal purpose which he has realized in Christ Jesus our Lord, in whom we have boldness and confidence of access through our faith in him."

Ephesians 3:7-12

It is through the Church that the Wisdom of GOD is manifested.

Who or what is the final authority on earth? It is none other than the Church which Jesus Christ founded.

"(15) If your brother sins against you, go and tell him his fault, between you and him alone. If he listens to you, you have gained your brother. (16) But if he does not listen, take one or two others along with you, that every word may be confirmed by the evidence of two or three witnesses. (17) If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, let him be to you as a Gentile and a tax collector. (18) Truly, I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Matthew 18:15-18

Clearly, verse 17 has said it is the Church which is the "Supreme Court" on earth regarding spiritual issues.

Notice also in verse 18 that again Jesus gave authority on earth to His Apostles, this time for "binding and Loosening" (of sins).

---

GOD has always spoken to His people through a father figure, be it Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses, David, Peter (John 21:15-17, Acts 15:7), and others. Since it is a known fact that GOD never changes (Malachi 3:6, Hebrews 13:8, James 1:17), He is the same today as He was in the time of those Biblical figures. He speaks to His Church through the present day "Peter", the successor to the Biblical Peter, today's Bishop of Rome.

The Papacy is Scriptural...

---

Some say the Papacy is a fabrication of the Catholic Church.
Well, let us look at Holy Scripture and see what we can find...

---

GOD, who is Himself a "Father Figure", has always provided a human "Father Figure", a "Chief Shepherd", a visible leader on earth to act as a liaison between Himself and His people. In the Old Testament, His Chief Shepherds were Noah, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, and David, to name a few. In the New Testament, the "Father Figure", and "Chief Shepherd", of GOD's people, the Church, is Saint Peter. His successors down through the centuries are affectionately called, Papa, or let us use the Italian word meaning the same as father, the Pope.

---

"And Pharaoh (the King) said unto Joseph (a Father Figure), 'For as much as GOD has shown you all of this, there is none so discreet and wise as you are: You shall be over my house, and according to your word shall all my people be ruled: only in the throne will I be greater than you'. And Pharaoh said to Joseph, 'See, I have set you over all the land of Egypt'. And Pharaoh took off his ring from his hand, and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain around his neck..."

Genesis 41:39-42

Keys have always been used as a symbol of power and authority for the Jews. He who has the key can open the locked door. He who has not the key remains locked out. The one who has the key has all authority over who enters through the locked door. If He shuts (locks), no one can open (unlock). If He opens (unlocks), no one can shut (lock).

"And to the angel of the Church at Philadelphia write: Thus says the Holy One, the True One, he who has the "Key of David". he who opens and no one shuts, and who shuts and no one opens: I know thy works. Behold, I have caused a door to be opened before thee which no one can shut, for thou hast scanty strength, and thou hast kept My Word and hast not disowned My Name." Rev 3:7-8

---

The "Key of David", what is the significance?

---

"And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call My servant Eliakim the son of Helcias, and I will clothe him with thy Robe, and I will strengthen him with thy Sash, and will give thy Power (authority) into his hand; and he shall be as a FATHER (the word 'Pope' means 'Father') to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. And I will lay the Key of the House of David (the symbol of primacy) upon his shoulder; and he shall open and none shall shut; and he shall shut and none shall open. And I will fasten him as a peg in a Sure Place(the Papal Office), and he shall be for a Throne of glory to the house of his Father. And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his Fathers house, diverse kinds of vessels, every little vessel, from the vessels of cups even to every instrument of music." Isaiah 22:20-24

"My servant" means "Faithful to GOD". "Eliakim" means "GOD will establish". Here we have a figure who is faithful to GOD and someone whom GOD will exalt. In several verses in Scripture, whenever this "Eliakim" is mentioned, he is also shown to be "Over the Household", 2Kings 18:18, 2Kings 18:37, 2Kings 19:2, Isaiah 36:3, Isaiah 36:22, Isaiah 37:2. In Isaiah 36:3, he is described as being "Over the House". The Pope is certainly "Faithful to GOD", and he is "Over the House of GOD", the visible Church on earth.

So what do we have here? We have an OFFICE, a SASH, a ROBE, a THRONE, a KEY, a PEG, and a SURE PLACE.

The House of David is the Davidic Kingdom. David is a figure of Christ.

The OFFICE is the Papacy, the Holy Father, the Pope, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the House of Judah, (the Church), the Vicar of Christ, the Bishop of Rome, the successor of Saint Peter, the visible head of the Catholic Church on earth.

The SASH, The ROBE, the THRONE, and the KEYS are symbols of his authority.

The SASH is what separates the prime priest from the other priests, "Therefore, to the various expert workmen whom I have endowed with skill, you shall give instructions to make such vestments for Aaron as will set him apart for his sacred service as My priest. These are the vestments they shall make; a breastpiece, an ephod, a Robe, a brocaded tunic, a miter, and a SASH." Ex 28:3-4.

"He(Aaron) shall wear the sacred linen "Tunic", with the linen drawers next to his flesh, gird himself with the linen Sash and put on a linen Miter (the Pope wears a Miter)." Lev 16:3

The ROBE symbolizes his authority as The Bishop of Rome, the Supreme Pontiff, the High Priest of the Visible Church on earth.

"As an olive tree budding forth, and a cypress tree rearing itself on high, when he put on the ROBE of Glory, and was clothed with the perfection of POWER. When he went up to the Holy Altar, he honored the vesture of Holiness. And when he took the portions out of the hands of the priests, he himself stood by the Altar. And about him was the ring of his brethren: and as the cedar planted in mount Libanus, and as branches of palm trees, they stood round about him, and all the sons of Aaron in their glory. And the Oblation of the Lord (the Holy Eucharist) was in their hands before all the Congregation (Church) of Israel. And finishing his service on the Altar, to honor the offering of the Most High King, he stretched forth his hand to make a libation, and offered the Blood of the grape (wine transformed into the Blood of Christ)." Sir 50:11-16

"Now therefore we make thee this day High Priest (Vicar of Christ) of thy nation, and that thou be called the King's friend (and he sent them a Purple ROBE, and a CROWN OF GOLD (Miter)), and that thou be of one mind with us in our affairs, and keep friendship with us." 1Macc 10:20

The THRONE is the Chair (Seat) of Saint Peter from which the Vicar of Christ proclaims to the whole world, infallible statements on faith and morals.

Moses, the Leader of GOD's chosen people had a Seat of Authority.

"The Scribes and the Pharisees have sat on the Chair of Moses." Matt 23:2

"This Propitiatory (Mercy Seat) you shall then place on top of the Ark. In the Ark itself you are to put the Commandments which I will give you. There I will meet you and there, from above the Propitiatory, between the two cherubim on the Ark of the Commandments, I will tell you all of the commands that I wish you to give the Israelites (Ex-Cathedra)." Ex 25:20-22

"He took the Commandments and put them in the Ark; he placed poles alongside the Ark and set the Propitiatory upon it." Ex 40:20

"...the Lord spoke to Moses and said to him, "Tell your brother Aaron that he is not to come whenever he pleases into the sanctuary, inside the veil, in front of the Propitiatory on the Ark; otherwise, when I reveal myself in a cloud above the Propitiatory, he will die (GOD will speak to His chosen Visible Leader on earth only, His Vicar)." Lev 16:2

"When Moses entered the Meeting Tent to speak with Him, he heard the voice addressing him from above the Propitiatory on the Ark of the Commandments, from between the two cherubim; and it spoke to him...(Ex-Cathedra)" Num 7:89

The Mercy Seat thus becomes the protector of the Ark and its contents. In the Ark were the Stone Tablets handed to Moses, Aaron's staff, and the Manna from Heaven. These are prefigurements of the New Ark of the Covenant, the Blessed Virgin Mary, as she carried within her womb, the Word of GOD, the Power of GOD, and the Body of Christ, the Manna from Heaven.

---

The KEYS are symbolic of His Authority, and over the Binding and Loosening powers of sin, and as a symbol of discernment.

The PEG is symbolic in Hebrew tradition, as the main tent peg into which all other lines ran.

The SURE PLACE, of course, is The Vatican in Rome, the Papal Office.

---

"With him is wisdom and strength. He hath counsel (the Magisterium in conjunction with the Holy Spirit) and understanding (discernment). If he pull down, there is no man that can build up. If he shuts up a man, there is none that can open (Papal authority, Rome has spoken, the matter is settled)." Job 12:13-14

---

"And I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this 'Rock' I will build My Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. And I will give THEE the KEYS of the Kingdom of Heaven; and whatever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in Heaven, and whatever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in Heaven." Matt 16:18-19

Jesus Christ addressed Peter and Peter only in these two verses. He gave Peter alone, the KEYS to the Kingdom of Heaven, and the power of "Binding and Loosening" of sins, or if you prefer, the "Sacrament of Reconciliation". Clearly, when Jesus addressed Peter only, and at the same time gave him a name change from Simon to Peter, he had appointed Peter as the "prime" Apostle. Later in Matt 18:18, Jesus gave the power of "Binding and Loosening" to all of the Apostles. After Jesus had risen from the dead, He appeared to all of the Apostles and again gave them the power of "Binding and Loosening" in John 20:22-23.

To further strengthen the "Primacy of Peter" Jesus addressed him only, in John 21:15-17, when He commanded him to "Feed My Sheep". As another example, Jesus commanded Simon-Peter to strengthen his brethren in Luke 22:31-32.

Peter acknowledged his primacy, when at the Council of Jerusalem, he stood up and said, "Brethren, you know that in early days GOD made choice among us, that through MY mouth the Gentiles should hear the word of the Gospel and believe." Acts 15:7

Peter's statement was singular in that the truth of the Gospel would come from the primacy of the Catholic Church, and that primacy is the Papacy.

---

"But if thy brother sin against thee, go and show him his fault, between thee and him alone. If he listen to thee, thou hast won thy brother. But if he do not listen to thee, take with thee one or two more so that on the word of two or three witnesses every word may be confirmed. And if he refuse to hear them, appeal to the CHURCH, but if he refuse to hear even the CHURCH, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican. Amen I say to you, whatever you bind on earth shall be bound also in Heaven; and whatever you loose on earth shall be loosed also in Heaven." Matt 18:15-18

Here, right out of Holy Scripture is an outline for a system of appeal. How do you appeal to the Church unless there is a system of arbitrators pre-existing in that Church? To whom does one appeal in civil life? We appeal to a higher court of our government. What do you suppose would have happened if our founding fathers had not set up a system of checks and balances; a system with lots of laws, but no 'hierarchy' to interpret those laws for us? What would happen if our founding fathers wrote our constitution and made no provision for a Supreme Court to have the final say on interpretation of the laws within it? What would have happened if they left it up to the people and said, "Interpret the law of the land as you see fit?" Immediately, there would be conflicts and chaos and splits in the unity of the country. Isn't this exactly what our Protestant brothers and sisters did to the 'Law of GOD', the Bible? The reformers rejected the authority of the Catholic Church and immediately there began conflicts and chaos, infighting within their ranks, and splits in the Body of Christ which number over 28,000 in Protestantism today.

Where is the 'supreme court' of Protestantism? Who or what is the authority in their ranks which arbitrate disputes in Bible interpretation? The prefigurement of final authority of such matters was recorded in detail in the Old Testament, and it fits perfectly with Papal authority and the Magisterium of today in the Catholic Church.

"The next day Moses sat in judgment for the people, who waited about him from morning until evening. When his father-in-law saw all that he was doing for the people he inquired, "What sort of thing is this that you are doing for the people? Why do you sit alone while all the people have to stand about you from morning till evening?"

Moses answered his father-in-law, "THE PEOPLE COME TO ME TO CONSULT GOD. Whenever they have a disagreement, THEY COME TO ME TO HAVE ME SETTLE THE MATTER (MOSES HAD SPOKEN, THE ISSUE WAS SETTLED) BETWEEN THEM AND MAKE KNOWN TO THEM GOD'S DECISIONS AND REGULATIONS."

"You are not acting wisely," his father-in-law replied. "You will surely wear yourself out, and not only yourself but also these people with you. The task is too heavy for you; you cannot do it alone. Now, listen to me, and I will give you some advice, that GOD may be with you. ACT AS THE PEOPLE'S REPRESENTATIVE BEFORE GOD, BRINGING TO HIM WHATEVER THEY HAVE TO SAY. ENLIGHTEN THEM IN REGARD TO THE DECISIONS AND REGULATIONS, SHOWING THEM HOW THEY ARE TO LIVE AND WHAT THEY ARE TO DO. BUT YOU SHOULD ALSO LOOK AMONG ALL THE PEOPLE FOR ABLE AND GOD-FEARING MEN, TRUSTWORTHY MEN WHO HATE DISHONEST GAIN, AND SET THEM AS OFFICERS (CARDINALS AND BISHOPS, THE MAGISTERIUM) OVER GROUPS OF THOUSANDS, OF HUNDREDS, OF FIFTIES, AND OF TENS. LET THESE MEN RENDER DECISIONS FOR THE PEOPLE IN ALL ORDINARY CASES. MORE IMPORTANT CASES THEY SHOULD REFER TO YOU (PAPAL AUTHORITY. ROME HAS SPOKEN, THE ISSUE IS SETTLED), BUT THE LESSER CASES THEY CAN SETTLE THEMSELVES. THUS YOUR BURDEN WILL BE LIGHTENED, SINCE THEY WILL BEAR IT WITH YOU. IF YOU DO THIS, WHEN GOD GIVES YOU ORDERS YOU WILL BE ABLE TO STAND THE STRAIN, AND ALL THESE PEOPLE WILL GO HOME SATISFIED."

Moses followed the advice of his father-in-law and did all that he had suggested. HE PICKED OUT ABLE MEN FROM ALL ISRAEL AND PUT THEM IN CHARGE OF THE PEOPLE AS OFFICERS OVER GROUPS OF THOUSANDS , OF HUNDREDS , OF FIFTIES, AND OF TENS (CARDINALS, ARCHBISHOPS, AND BISHOPS, AS WE HAVE IN THE CATHOLIC CHURCH TODAY). THEY RENDERED DECISIONS FOR THE PEOPLE IN ALL ORDINARY CASES. THE MORE DIFFICULT CASES THEY REFERRED TO MOSES, BUT ALL THE LESSER CASES THEY SETTLED THEMSELVES."

Exodus 18:13-26

Rome has truly spoken.

If Exodus 18:13-26 isn't enough proof, here is another reference which reinforces it.

Moses said,

"I cannot carry all this people by myself for they are too heavy for me. If this is the way you will deal with me, then please do me the favor of killing me at once, so that I need no longer face this distress."

Then the Lord said to Moses, "Assemble for Me seventy of the elders of Israel, men you know for true elders and authorities among the people, and bring them to the Meeting Tent. When they are in place beside you, I will come down AND SPEAK WITH YOU THERE. I WILL ALSO TAKE SOME OF THE SPIRIT THAT IS ON YOU AND WILL BESTOW IT ON THEM, THAT THEY MAY SHARE THE BURDEN OF THE PEOPLE WITH YOU. YOU WILL THEN NOT HAVE TO BEAR IT BY YOURSELF."

Numbers 11:14-17

Exodus 18 and Numbers 11 depict a "type" of the hierarchy of the Catholic Church of today. We see a system of arbitration and a final authority to settle inevitable disputes which arise from time to time. We see a 'type' of the Magisterium in the seventy elders. Rome has truly spoken. The blueprint was drawn in the Old Testament.

---

"Now you are the Body of Christ, member for member. And GOD indeed has placed some in the Church, first Apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly TEACHERS (The Pope is the foremost teacher); after that miracles, then gifts of healing, services of help, POWER OF ADMINISTRATION, and the speaking of various tongues." 1Cor 12:27-28

ADMINISTRATION: Management, especially of business affairs. The activity of a sovereign state in the exercise of its powers or duties. This is how one dictionary defines the word. This is a good description of the hierarchy of the Catholic Church, which certainly does include the Pope and the Magisterium, and over 3500 Bishops.

Every government, every corporation, and every institution, has a POWER OF ADMINISTRATION.

The Federal Government has an Executive Branch, a Legislative Branch, and a Judicial Branch. Corporations have a Chief Executive Officer, a Board of Directors, and Stockholders.

Why then, should the largest and oldest western institution on earth, the Catholic Church, not have a Pope, a Magisterium, and thousands of Bishops, all guided in truth by the Holy Spirit?

"If in your community there is a case at issue which proves too complicated for you to decide, in a matter of bloodshed or of civil rights or of personal injury, you shall then go up to the place which the Lord your GOD chooses, to the Levitical priests (Magisterium) or to the JUDGE (Pope) who is IN OFFICE (the Papacy) at that time. They shall study the case and then hand down to you their decision. According to this decision that they give you in the place which the Lord chooses, you shall act, BEING CAREFUL TO DO EXACTLY AS THEY DIRECT. YOU SHALL CARRY OUT THE DECISIONS WHICH THEY GIVE YOU AND THE VERDICT THEY PRONOUNCE FOR YOU, WITHOUT TURNING ASIDE TO THE RIGHT OR TO THE LEFT FROM THE DECISION THEY HAND DOWN TO YOU. ANY MAN WHO HAS THE INSOLENT TO REFUSE TO LISTEN TO THE PRIEST WHO OFFICIATES THERE IN THE MINISTRY OF THE LORD, YOUR GOD, OR TO THE JUDGE, SHALL DIE (now, Spiritual death). THUS SHALL YOU PURGE THE EVIL FROM YOUR MIDST." Deut 17:8-12

"In this breastpiece of decision you shall put the Urim and Thummim, that they may be over Aaron's heart whenever he enters the presence of the Lord. Thus HE SHALL ALWAYS BEAR THE DECISIONS FOR THE ISRAELITES OVER HIS HEART IN THE LORD'S PRESENCE." Ex 28:30

Now, just what do these verses prefigure? This is exactly how the Pope and the Magisterium work in conjunction with the Holy Spirit today.

---

Now that we have a Church Hierarchy guided by the Holy Spirit, one of their primary duties is to hold periodic Church Councils. These Councils are called in order to define revealed truths in Scripture and to address rising heresy, and other problems of the time. The Councils are attended by the Pope and the Bishops.... And they are Biblical.

"Where there is no Governor, the people shall fall; but there is safety where there is much Council." Prov 11:14

"The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; but he that is Wise harkens unto Councils." Prov 12:15

"Designs are brought to nothing where there is no Council; but where there are many Counselors, they are established." Prov 15:22

"Hear Council, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end." Prov 19:20

"Designs are strengthened by Councils, and wars are to be managed by governments." Prov 20:18

"Because war is managed by due ordering; and there shall be safety where there are many Councils." Prov 24:6

"Take Council, gather a Council..." Isa 16:3

"And that they had made themselves a senate house, and consulted daily three hundred and twenty men that sat in Councils always for the people, THAT THEY MIGHT DO THE THINGS THAT WERE RIGHT. And that they committed their government to One Man every year, to rule over their country, and they all obey one, and there is no envy nor jealousy among them." 1Macc 8:15-16

The Papal Apology...

What the Pope said and what he did NOT say...

---

On March 12, 2000 our Holy Father, Pope John Paul II, made a sincere apology to GOD for sins of the past. He apologized for the sins of individual persons, who in the past, overstepped their authority and did things contrary to the will of GOD and the teachings of the Catholic Church.

Some detractors have twisted his words to make it look like he apologized for the sins of the Church. This is far from being the truth. The Catholic Church is indefectible, and has to be, as it has an indefectible founder in Jesus Christ.

Ephesians 5:27, "...in order that He might present to Himself the Church in all her glory, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but that she might be holy and without blemish."

However, the Catholic Church is not a hotel for saints, but a hospital for sinners, as are all churches. Individual members are the ones for whom the Holy Father apologized, not the Church.

Did you know there was a Pope who sinned grievously? He even denied Christianity three times. Later, this same Pope went on to write infallible letters which we read and follow to this day.

His name is...

Peter.

Our Fathers...

---

Our Father who art in Heaven...Matthew 6:9, Luke 11:2.
This is the beginning of the Lord's Prayer.

---

Adam became the "Father of the Human Race" in Genesis 4:1-2,25.
GOD spoke directly to Adam in Genesis 2:16-17, and in many other verses.

Noah, the Father of three sons, Genesis 6:10, his wife and his sons wives, were all that was left of the human race after the great flood, Genesis 7:23.
GOD spoke directly to Noah in Genesis 6:13-14, and in many other verses.

Our Father Abraham: Luke 1:73,3:8, John 8:39,53, Acts 7:2, Romans 4:1,12, James 2:21. He became the "Father of a Multitude of Nations" in Genesis 17:5.
GOD spoke directly to Abraham in Genesis 17:1-22, and in many other verses.

Our Father Isaac...Romans 9:10
GOD spoke directly to Isaac in Genesis 26:2-5, and in many other verses.

Our Father Jacob...John 4:12. He became the "Father of Israel" in Genesis 32:29, and he had twelve sons who became the "Father Figures" of each of the twelve tribes of Israel, Exodus 29-49.
GOD spoke directly to Jacob in Genesis 35:1, and in many other verses.

Moses was the "Father Figure" for GOD's chosen people, the one who would lead them out of the bondage of Egypt. Exodus 1 to Deut 34.
GOD Spoke directly to Moses from the Burning Bush in Exodus 3:4-10, and in many other verses.

Our Father David...Mark 11:10, who was both King, 2Sam 6:16, and Priest, 2Sam 6:18, foreshadowed Jesus Christ who is both King and High Priest in the New Testament.
GOD spoke directly to David in 2Samuel 2:1 and in many other verses.

"Thus said the Lord, the GOD of David thy Father...", 2Kings 20:5

"He said to them, "But who do you say that I am?" Simon Peter replied, "You are the Christ, the Son of the living God." And Jesus answered him, "Blessed are you, Simon Bar-Jona! For flesh and blood has not revealed this to you, but my Father who is in heaven."
Matthew 16:15-17

In these verses it is shown that GOD had spoken through His "Father Figure", Peter, and Peter only, revealing the truth to him. Why then do some say that GOD does not speak today through His "Father Figure" on earth, the successor to Simon Peter?_

---

"Father figures", are all throughout Holy Scripture.
You can readily see that GOD always provided a "Father Figure" on earth to shepherd His people.
GOD is the invisible head of His people, and His "Father Figure" is the visible head.

It is no different today.

GOD is the same yesterday, today and forever. The truth never changes. Since GOD is infinite truth, how then could He possibly change, since any change would then imply a defect in the truth?

Consequently, GOD does provide us with a visible head of the Catholic Church on earth today, a shepherd to lead His people just as He always has done, a present day "Father Figure". He is the Vicar of Christ, the Bishop of Rome.

We call him, "The Holy Father". He is our "Papa", the "Pope".

Since I have shown that GOD spoke directly to His Old Testament "Father Figures", who is there to deny that GOD does likewise to His present day "Father Figure", the Vicar of Christ, the visible head of the Catholic Church, the Pope?

Holy Scripture clearly has said that the Holy Spirit will speak, and the things to come He will declare to you, John 16:13. To whom will the Holy Spirit speak? To whom did GOD speak to directly in the Old Testament?

When the Holy Spirit speaks, it is the Holy Trinity speaking. The Father is the Speaker. The Son is the Word. The Holy Spirit is the Breath.

Isaiah 22:20-24, "And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim, the son of Helcias, and I will clothe him with thy robe, and will strengthen him with thy girdle, and will give thy power into his hand: and he shall be as a Father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah. And I will lay the KEY of the House of David upon his shoulder; and he shall open, and none shall shut; and he shall shut, and none shall open. And I will fasten him as a peg in a sure place, and he shall be for a throne of glory to the house of his Father. And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his Father's house, diverse kinds of vessels, every little vessel, from the vessels of cups to every instrument of music."

The House of David prefigures or "Types" the Catholic Church in many verses in addition to those given above from Isaiah. See 2Samuel 3:1, 5:11, 6:21, 7:26, 1Kings 5:5, 8:16-20, 12:19-20, 2Kings 17:21, 20:5, Psalms 122:5, Zechariah 12:7-11, 13:1, and Luke 1:68-69.

The KEY is the symbol of authority as shown in Isaiah 22. The KEYS of authority were given by Jesus Christ to the first Pope, Saint Peter, and to him alone.

"And I will give thee the KEYS of the Kingdom of Heaven; and whatever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven."

Matthew 16:19.

This sounds just like GOD's "Father Figure" of today, the Pope. He has the authority of Abraham and Moses, and others of GOD's earlier visible "Father Figures" on earth. On his Crest are the KEYS, which symbolize that authority. He presides over the new House of David, the Catholic Church. Whatever he opens, none can shut. Whatever he shuts, no one can open. Whatever he binds on earth is bound in heaven. Whatever he shall loose on earth is loosed also in heaven. When he speaks, "ROME HAS SPOKEN, THE ISSUE IS SETTLED". See Acts 15:7-12

See "The Papacy is Scriptural" for a more in depth look at the prefigurements of the Papacy in Holy Scripture.

Judges 17:10, "Be Father and Priest to me..."

Judges 18:19, "Come with us and be our Father and Priest."

Hebrews 13:17, "Obey your superiors and be subject to them, for they keep watch as having to render an account of your souls; so that they may do this with joy, and not with grief, for that would not be expedient for you."

The Sacrifice of the Mass, the Highest Form of Prayer...

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is glorified among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice,
and there is offered to my name a clean oblation,
for my name is great among the Gentiles, said the Lord of Hosts."

Malachi 1:11

---

This is a clear prophecy of the Mass that we celebrate today.
In every place there is sacrifice, as the Catholic Church is truly worldwide. Every minute of every day, somewhere in the world, a 'Clean Oblation' is offered to the Lord of Hosts.

This 'Clean Oblation' is the Holy Eucharist, the true Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

This prophecy is fulfilled by the Catholic Church.

---

The Mass is the highest form of prayer that can be offered up to GOD.
It is the source, the center, and the summit of the Catholic Church.

---

---

---

The Sacrificial Lamb in Scripture...

"And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and laid it upon Isaac his son." "...Isaac asked his father,...where is the Lamb for a burnt offering?" "And Abraham said, My Son, GOD will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering..." Genesis 22:6-13

This is a prefigurement of the "Lamb of GOD", Jesus Christ. The wood which was laid upon Isaac prefigures the Cross laid upon Jesus. GOD did provide a ram in verse 13 for a burnt offering. "And Abraham lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold a ram caught in a thicket by his horns; and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son." The horns of the ram caught in the thicket represent the Crown of Thorns. GOD saved the son of Abraham, but He would not save His own Son.

---

Moses called all the elders of Israel and said to them, "Go and procure lambs for your families, and slaughter them as Passover victims. Then take a bunch of hyssop, and dipping it in the blood that is in the basin, sprinkle it on the lintel and the two doorposts with this blood...For the Lord will go by, striking down the Egyptians. Seeing the blood on the lintel and the two doorposts, the Lord will pass over the door and not let the destroyer come into your houses to strike you down."

Exodus 12:21-23

The blood of the sacrificed Lamb saved GOD's chosen people. Later, the blood of the Lamb, Jesus Christ, will save the people who have chosen GOD.

---

The next day John saw Jesus coming to him, and he said, "Behold the Lamb of GOD, who takes away the sins of the world." John 1:29

---

And looking upon Jesus as He walked by, he said, "Behold the Lamb of GOD." John the Baptist said this to the first two disciples of Christ, Andrew and John. John 1:35-39

---

"He shall be led as a sheep to the slaughter, and shall be dumb as a lamb before His shearer, and He shall not open His mouth."

Isaiah 53:7, Acts 8:32

---

"And bearing the cross for himself (Isaac, remember?) He went forth to the place called the Skull, in Hebrew Golgotha." John 19:17

---

"Then they crucified Him." Mark 15:24. GOD did not save His own Son.

---

"...but one of the soldiers opened His side with a lance, and immediately there came out blood and water." John 19:34

The blood of the Lamb (of GOD) that redeemed the world.

---

"You were not redeemed with corruptible things...but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb without blemish and without spot."

1 Peter 1:18-19

The blood of the Lamb of GOD redeemed us all.

"And I saw, and behold, in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the elders, a Lamb standing as if slain..." Revelation 5:6

---

"After this I saw a great multitude which no man could number, out of all nations and tribes and peoples and tongues, standing before the throne and before the Lamb clothed in white robes, and with palms in their hands." Revelation 7:9

---

---

The Sacrifice of the Mass:

Why do some believe that Christ is sacrificed again and again in each and every Mass, when Scripture plainly states that He was sacrificed on Calvary once and for all? Heb 10:10

Many do not realize it, but Christ Himself offered the first Mass at the Last Supper when He offered (sacrificed) Himself to His Father in an unbloody manner, that is, under the form of bread and wine, in anticipation of His bloody sacrifice on the cross to be offered on the following day.

In the Mass, Christ continues to make that offering of Himself to His Father, by the hands of the priest.

"And while they were at supper, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and broke: and gave to his disciples, and said: "Take and eat. This is my body." And taking the chalice, he gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying: "All of you drink of this. For this is my blood of the new covenant, which shall be shed for many unto remission of sins", Mt 26:26-28.

Christ ordered His Church to perpetuate that sacrificial rite for the continued sanctification of His followers, saying, "Do this in remembrance of me," Luke 22:19.

The Catholic Church complies with His order in the Mass. The Mass is a re-enactment of Our Lord's one sacrifice of Calvary. It is that same sacrifice, not another, Heb 10:12.

We, are in time, and to us it would seem that this one sacrifice was consummated 2000 years ago. GOD, however is outside of time and space.

Everything is now in GOD's eyes, and so we are taken back to that one sacrifice as if it were happening now at each and every Mass.

The Catholic Church teaches that the sacrifice on the Cross was a complete and perfect sacrifice of the Lamb of GOD, offered once.

St. Paul bears witness that the sacrificial rite which Christ instituted at the Last Supper is to be perpetuated, and that it is not only important for man's sanctification, but is the principal factor in man's final redemption.

In 1Cor 11:23-26, St. Paul told how, at the Last Supper, Our Lord said: "For as often as you shall eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the death of the Lord until He comes."

During the Breaking of the Bread, we say twice, "Lamb of GOD, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us," and a third time, "Lamb of GOD, you take away the sins of the world, grant us peace."

Thus at every Mass the faithful have a new opportunity to worship God with this one perfect sacrifice and to absorb more of Christ's saving and sanctifying grace of Calvary. This grace is infinite, and the faithful should continuously grow in it. The Mass is offered again and again, because of our imperfect capacity to receive.

Finally, the holy sacrifice of the Mass fulfills the Old Testament prophecy:

'For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean oblation: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts'. (Mal 1:11). The Sacrifice of the Mass is offered every day throughout the world, and in every Mass the only truly clean oblation is offered, that is, Christ Himself; thus the Mass is the perfect fulfillment of this prophecy.

Prefigurements of the sacrifice of the Mass:

Gen 14:18,22:9-14, Ex 16:4,13-36, Num 11:6-9, Deut 8:3-16, Josh 5:12, Neh 9:15-20, Wis 16:20, Psa 78:24,105:40, Isa 55:10, Dan 12:11, Mal 1:11, John Chapt 6, Heb 9:4, Rev 2:17

The Mass:

Mt 26:26-28, Lk 22:19, Acts 2:42,20:7, 1Cor 10:16,11:17-34, Heb Chapt 7-10, 1Pet 2:5, Rev 8:1-5

His Sacrifice was once for all:

Heb 9:22-28,10:10-14

---

---

What do the Church Fathers have to say about the Mass?

---

The Didache, or teaching of the Apostles, 70 A.D.

14:1, "But on the Lord's Day, after that you have assembled together, break bread and give thanks, having in addition confessed your sins, that your sacrifice may be pure."

---

St. Irenaeus, Against Heresies, 180 A.D.

4:17:5, He taught the new sacrifice of the New Covenant, of which Malachi, one of the twelve prophets, had signified beforehand, "...For from the rising of the sun to its setting, My name is glorified among the Gentiles, and in every place incense is offered to My name, and a pure sacrifice;

CHAPTER I

On the institution of the most holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Forasmuch as, under the former Testament, according to the testimony of the Apostle Paul, there was no perfection, because of the weakness of the Levitical priesthood; there was need, God, the Father of mercies, so ordaining, that another priest should rise, according to the order of Melchisedech, our Lord Jesus Christ, who might consummate, and lead to what is perfect, as many as were to be sanctified. He, therefore, our God and Lord, though He was about to offer Himself once on the altar of the cross unto God the Father, by means of his death, there to operate an eternal redemption; nevertheless, because that His priesthood was not to be extinguished by His death, in the last supper, on the night in which He was betrayed,--that He might leave, to His own beloved Spouse the Church, a visible sacrifice, such as the nature of man requires, whereby that bloody sacrifice, once to be accomplished on the cross, might be represented, and the memory thereof remain even unto the end of the world, and its salutary virtue be applied to the remission of those sins which we daily commit,--declaring Himself constituted a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedech, He offered up to God the Father His own body and blood under the species of bread and wine; and, under the symbols of those same things, He delivered (His own body and blood) to be received by His apostles, whom He then constituted priests of the New Testament; and by those words, Do this in commemoration of me, He commanded them and their successors in the priesthood, to offer (them); even as the Catholic Church has always understood and taught. For, having celebrated the ancient Passover, which the multitude of the children of Israel immolated in memory of their going out of Egypt, He instituted the new Passover, (to wit) Himself to be immolated, under visible signs, by the Church through (the ministry of) priests, in memory of His own passage from this world unto the Father, when by the effusion of His own blood He redeemed us, and delivered us from the power of darkness, and translated us into his kingdom. And this is indeed that clean oblation, which cannot be defiled by any unworthiness, or malice of those that offer (it); which the Lord foretold by Malachias was to be offered in every place, clean to his name, which was to be great amongst the Gentiles; and which the apostle Paul, writing to the Corinthians, has not obscurely indicated, when he says, that they who are defiled by the participation of the table of devils, cannot be partakers of the table of the Lord; by the table, meaning in both places the altar. This, in fine, is that oblation which was prefigured by various types of sacrifices, during the period of nature, and of the law; in as much as it comprises all the good things signified by those sacrifices, as being the consummation and perfection of them all.

CHAPTER II

That the Sacrifice of the Mass is propitiatory both for the living and the dead. And forasmuch as, in this divine sacrifice which is celebrated in the mass, that same Christ is contained and immolated in an unbloody manner, who once offered Himself in a bloody manner on the altar of the cross; the holy Synod teaches, that this sacrifice is truly propitiatory and that by means thereof this is effected, that we obtain mercy, and find grace in seasonable aid, if we draw nigh unto God, contrite and penitent, with a sincere heart and upright faith, with fear and reverence. For the Lord, appeased by the oblation thereof, and granting the grace and gift of penitence, forgives even heinous crimes and sins. For the victim is one and the same, the same now offering by the ministry of priests, who then offered Himself on the cross, the manner alone of offering being different.

The fruits indeed of which oblation, of that bloody one to wit, are received most plentifully through this unbloody one; so far is this (latter) from derogating in any way from that (former oblation). Wherefore, not only for the sins, punishments, satisfactions, and other necessities of the faithful who are living, but also for those who are departed in Christ, and who are not as yet fully purified, is it rightly offered, agreeably to a tradition of the apostles.

CHAPTER III

On Masses in honour of the Saints. And although the Church has been accustomed at times to celebrate, certain masses in honour and memory of the saints; not therefore, however, doth she teach that sacrifice is offered unto them, but unto God alone, who crowned them; whence neither is the priest wont to say, "I offer sacrifice to thee, Peter, or Paul;" but, giving thanks to God for their victories, he implores their patronage, that they may vouchsafe to intercede for us in heaven, whose memory we celebrate upon earth.

CHAPTER IV

On the Canon of the Mass. And whereas it beseemeth, that holy things be administered in a holy manner, and of all holy things this sacrifice is the most holy; to the end that it might be worthily and reverently offered and received, the Catholic Church instituted, many years ago, the sacred Canon, so pure from every error, that nothing is contained therein which does not in the highest degree savour of a certain holiness and piety, and raise up unto God the minds of those that offer. For it is composed, out of the very words of the Lord, the traditions of the apostles, and the pious institutions also of holy pontiffs.

CHAPTER V

On the solemn ceremonies of the Sacrifice of the Mass. And whereas such is the nature of man, that, without external helps, he cannot easily be raised to the meditation of divine things; therefore has holy Mother Church instituted certain rites, to wit that certain things be pronounced in the mass in a low, and others in a louder, tone. She has likewise employed ceremonies, such as mystic benedictions, lights, incense, vestments, and many other things of this kind, derived from an apostolical discipline and tradition, whereby both the majesty of so great a sacrifice might be recommended, and the minds of the faithful be excited, by those visible signs of religion and piety, to the contemplation of those most sublime things which are hidden in this sacrifice.

CHAPTER VI

On Mass wherein the priest alone communicates. The sacred and holy Synod would fain indeed that, at each mass, the faithful who are present should communicate, not only in spiritual desire, but also by the sacramental participation of the Eucharist, that thereby a more abundant fruit might be derived to them from this most holy sacrifice: but not therefore, if this be not always done, does It condemn, as private and unlawful, but approves of and therefore commends, those masses in which the priest alone communicates sacramentally; since those masses also ought to be considered as truly common; partly because the people communicate spiritually thereat; partly also because they are celebrated by a public minister of the Church, not for himself only, but for all the faithful, who belong to the body of Christ.

---

CHAPTER VII

On the water that is to be mixed with the wine to be offered in the chalice.

The holy Synod notices, in the next place, that it has been enjoined by the Church on priests, to mix water with the wine that is to be offered in the chalice; as well because it is believed that Christ the Lord did this, as also because from His side there came out blood and water; the memory of which mystery is renewed by this commixture; and, whereas in the apocalypse of blessed John, the peoples are called waters, the union of that faithful people with Christ their head is hereby represented.

CHAPTER VIII

On not celebrating the Mass every where in the vulgar tongue; the mysteries of the Mass to be explained to the people. Although the mass contains great instruction for the faithful people, nevertheless, it has not seemed expedient to the Fathers, that it should be every where celebrated in the vulgar tongue. Wherefore, the ancient usage of each church, and the rite approved of by the holy Roman Church, the mother and mistress of all churches, being in each place retained; and, that the sheep of Christ may not suffer hunger, nor the little ones ask for bread, and there be none to break it unto them, the holy Synod charges pastors, and all who have the cure of souls, that they frequently, during the celebration of mass, expound either by themselves, or others, some portion of those things which are read at mass, and that, amongst the rest, they explain some mystery of this most holy sacrifice, especially on the Lord's days and festivals.

CHAPTER IX

Preliminary Remark on the following Canons. And because that many errors are at this time disseminated and many things are taught and maintained by divers persons, in opposition to this ancient faith, which is based on the sacred Gospel, the traditions of the Apostles, and the doctrine of the holy Fathers; the sacred and holy Synod, after many and grave deliberations maturely had touching these matters, has resolved, with the unanimous consent of all the Fathers, to condemn, and to eliminate from holy Church, by means of the canons subjoined, whatsoever is opposed to this most pure faith and sacred doctrine.

Sacrifice...

Continuous and Perpetual, is demanded by Holy Scripture.

Who abides by the edicts of Holy Scripture, and who does not?

---

---

Sacrifice, the supreme act of worship:

Malachi 1:11, Luke 22:19-20, John 6:32-34, 47-58, 1Corinthians 11:23-29, Hebrews 9:11-15, 9:22-28, 10:2-10...

---

"(1) After these things, God tempted Abraham, and said to him: Abraham, Abraham. And he answered: Here I am. (2) He said to him: Take thy only begotten son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and go into the land of vision; and there thou shalt offer him for an holocaust upon one of the mountains which I will shew thee. (3) So Abraham rising up in the night, saddled his ass, and took with him two young men, and Isaac his son: and when he had cut wood for the holocaust, he went his way to the place which God had commanded him. (4) And on the third day, lifting up his eyes, he saw the place afar off. (5) And he said to his young men: Stay you here with the ass; I and the boy will go with speed as far as yonder, and after we have worshipped, will return to you. (6) And he took the wood for the holocaust, and laid it upon Isaac his son; and he himself carried in his hands fire and a sword. And as they two went on together, (7) Isaac said to his father: My father. And he answered: What wilt thou, son? Behold, saith he, fire and wood: where is the victim for the holocaust? (8) And Abraham said: God will provide himself a victim for an holocaust, my son. So they went on together. (9) And they came to the place which God had shewn him, where he built an altar, and laid the wood in order upon it; and when he had bound Isaac his son, he laid him on the altar upon the pile of wood. (10) And he put forth his hand, and took the sword, to sacrifice his son. (11) And behold, an angel of the Lord from heaven called to him, saying: Abraham, Abraham. And he answered: Here I am. (12) And he said to him: Lay not thy hand upon the boy, neither do thou any thing to him: now I know that thou fearest God, and hast not spared thy only begotten son for my sake. (13) Abraham lifted up his eyes, and saw behind his back a ram, amongst the briers, sticking fast by the horns, which he took and offered for a holocaust instead of his son."

Genesis 22:1-13

This story is so embedded with typology and is so rich in symbolism, all of which point directly to New Testament realities.

Elucidation:

- ( 1) In Genesis 17:5 GOD had changed the name of Abram to Abraham, and in so doing gave him primacy as the 'Father of a Multitude of Nations'. This act prefigured the name change of Simon to Peter by Jesus Christ in Matthew 16:18, and in doing so He gave him primacy over the other Apostles.
- ( 2) Isaac is Abraham's only begotten son. GOD has only one begotten Son also, Jesus Christ.
- ( 2) Abraham is to sacrifice his only son. GOD will sacrifice His only Son.
- ( 2) The sacrifice of Isaac was to be on a mountain. The sacrifice of Jesus Christ was on a mountain.
- ( 3) Two men accompanied Isaac and Abraham. Jesus Christ was crucified between two men.
- ( 4) The 'third day' brings to mind the resurrection of Jesus Christ on the third day.

( 6) Isaac carried the wood for his sacrifice on his back. Christ carried the wood of the cross on His back.

( 7) Isaac called to his father. Jesus Christ called to His Father.

( 8) GOD did provide a victim in the New Testament as well, His only begotten Son.

( 9) Isaac was bound so he could not move. Christ was affixed to the cross by nails so He could not move.

(10) This is the first verse in Holy Scripture where the word sacrifice is used, and it is befitting the theme of this story.

The full meaning of sacrifice will be graphically revealed in the New Testament realities.

(12) GOD saved Abraham's only begotten son, but He did not save His own only begotten Son.

(13) A Ram was stuck by the head amongst the briers.

Christ was impressed on the head with a crown of thorns from a brier bush.

(13) A Ram was sacrificed in place of Isaac. The Lamb of GOD (John 1:29) was sacrificed with no one to take His place.

---

From the bloody animal sacrifices of the old covenant...

"Now this is what you shall offer upon the altar: two lambs a year old day by day continually. One lamb you shall offer in the morning, and the other lamb you shall offer in the evening;

Exodus 29:38-39

"Besides the morning holocaust which you shall always offer. So shall you do every day of the seven days for the food of the fire, and for a most sweet odour to the Lord, which shall rise from the holocaust, and from the libations of each.

Numbers 28:23-24

"And he shall offer every day for a holocaust to the Lord, a lamb of the same year without blemish: he shall offer it always in the morning. And he shall offer the sacrifice for it morning by morning, the sixth part of an ephi: and the third part of a hin of oil to be mingled with the fine flour: a sacrifice to the Lord by ordinance continual and everlasting. He shall offer the lamb, and the sacrifice, and the oil morning by morning: an everlasting holocaust."

Ezekiel 46:13-15

"And it was magnified even to the prince of the strength: and it took away from him the continual sacrifice, and cast down the place of his sanctuary. And strength was given him against the continual sacrifice, because of sins: and truth shall be cast down on the ground, and he shall do and shall prosper. And I heard one of the saints speaking, and one saint said to another I know not to whom, that was speaking: How long shall be the vision, concerning the continual sacrifice, and the sin of the desolation that is made: and the sanctuary, and the strength be trodden under foot?"

Daniel 8:11-13

"And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall defile the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the continual sacrifice: and they shall place there the abomination unto desolation."

Daniel 11:31

"And from the time when the continual sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination unto desolation shall be set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred ninety days."

Daniel 12:11

Elucidation:

In all of the above verses, notice the recurring theme regarding sacrifice:

You shall always offer, offer every day, continual and everlasting, morning by morning, an everlasting holocaust, the continual sacrifice.

Holy Scripture clearly has said that sacrifice is to be offered in continuum every day, and will be everlasting for all time.

---

Toward the end of the Old Testament, we foresee a great change. The bloody animal sacrifices of the old covenant will give way to a new and unbloody sacrifice.

The "sacrificial ram" of the old covenant will be superseded by the infinitely greater "Sacrificial Lamb" of the new covenant.

It will no longer be a bloody animal sacrifice but a new clean oblation.

The prophecy:

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean oblation: for my name is great among the Gentiles, saith the Lord of hosts."

Malachi 1:11

To avoid any misconceptions and confusion, I must pause here to present a few definitions...

**Sacrifice*:

The highest form of worship. An authorized priest offers a victim to GOD in atonement for the sins of mankind.

However, sacrifice in the Old Testament was a holocaust of unblemished animals, which being a finite sacrifice, could not atone for the infinite sins of mankind.

Sacrifice in the New Testament is an infinite sacrifice of atonement for which puny finite man could never have fulfilled. It took the infinite GOD to atone for the infinite offense committed against Him by the disobedience of man.

Jesus the Christ is the sacrificial victim, the infinite sacrifice:

1Corinthians 5:7, Ephesians 5:2, 1Peter 1:19, 1John 2:2, Revelation 13:8

**Oblation*:

The act of offering something such as worship or giving thanks to GOD.

It is the offering of the bread and wine for transubstantiation into the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ at Mass.

**Holocaust*:

Total destruction especially by fire.

**Thanks*:

The Greek word for thanks in the New Testament is eucharisteo, from which derived the word Eucharist.

**Transubstantiation*:

1. In Philosophy, accidents are properties, or characteristics in the material itself. Its size, shape, color, texture, etc.

2. In the transubstantiation of bread and wine, the substance changes, but the accidents, remain the same.

3. The substance of bread is turned into the substance of HIS body.

The substance of wine is turned into the substance of HIS blood.

*Eucharist:

After transubstantiation the substance of bread and wine have changed into the substance of the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ, who is really and substantially present under the appearance (accidents) of bread and wine.

It is called Eucharist, or Thanksgiving because at the Last Supper Jesus Christ gave thanks.

---

Prophecy in the Old Testament is fulfilled with the advent of unbloody and "Clean Oblation" sacrifices offered by the authorized priests of the New Testament:

---

"But when Christ appeared as a high priest of the good things that have come, then through the greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hands, that is, not of this creation he entered once for all into the Holy Place, taking not the blood of goats and calves but his own blood, thus securing an eternal redemption. For if the sprinkling of defiled persons with the blood of goats and bulls and with the ashes of a heifer sanctifies for the purification of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without blemish to God, purify your conscience from dead works to serve the living God. Therefore he is the mediator of a new covenant, so that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance, since a death has occurred which redeems them from the transgressions under the first covenant."

Hebrews 9:11-15

We have already seen from Holy Scripture that Jesus the Christ is the infinite sacrificial victim. Now we have learned from Scripture that He is also the High Priest with the authority of GOD. Therefore He is both the Priest offering sacrifice, and the sacrificial victim.

We can witness this revelation in superb clarity in the following verses:

"And he took bread, and when he had given thanks he broke it and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me." And likewise the cup after supper, saying, "This cup which is poured out for you is the new covenant in my blood."

Luke 22:19-20

"For I received from the Lord what I also delivered to you, that the Lord Jesus on the night when he was betrayed took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it, and said, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me." In the same way also the cup, after supper, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me." For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes." 1Corinthians 11:23-26

"Jesus then said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of GOD is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

John 6:32-33

"They said therefore to Him, "Lord, give us always this bread."

So, the authorized Priest, acting in Persona Christi (the person of Christ, 2Corinthians 2:10) says, "This IS My Body" (Matthew 26:26), and in so doing, calls down "The Word" (John 1:1) with his word, and the Holy Spirit transubstantiates the bread and the wine into the Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ has now come down from heaven to earth, and has humbled Himself, so that He may be seen, and touched, and consumed, under the appearance of simple bread and wine. We consume Him, and He assimilates us. We become uno, union, in communion with one another.

Heaven and earth have been joined.

GOD has sent an abundance of gifts of Himself from heaven for us through His Church on earth for almost 2000 years.

Elucidation:

1. He took bread in His hands.
2. He gave thanks, eucharisteo (Eucharist remember?).
3. He (the High Priest) said, "This is my body".

Thus the bread is no longer bread, but was instantly transubstantiated into the Body of Christ.

4. Astonishingly, when you think about it, Jesus was holding His very own Body in His Hands after He had said those words. Psa 119:109.

"I will take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in my hand." Job 13:14

5. He then said, "This cup which is poured out for you is the new covenant in my blood."

Thus the wine is no longer wine in the cup, but is now His precious blood, transubstantiated by His Word.

Notice here that He also announced that this was the dawn of the New Covenant.

6. Amazingly, as He held the cup and said the words of transubstantiation, He actually held His own blood in the cup.

7. During the wedding feast at Cana, Jesus has changed water into wine (John 2:1-11). Here He had changed wine into His blood.

8. "Do this in remembrance of me", resonates from the Old Testament prefigurements shown earlier as being daily, in continuum, and in perpetuality.

9. The authorized priest acting in the Person of Christ, calls down The Word with his word, and fulfills the command, "Do this in remembrance of me", every day all over the world, and fulfills Malachi 1:11 as well.

10. Jesus Christ comes down from heaven under the appearance of bread and wine. Heaven and earth are joined.

11. "For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes."

1Corinthians 11:26. This verse enjoins us to proclaim the death of the Lord often. How can this verse possibly be reconciled with the following verse?

"For Christ also died for sins once for all..." 1Peter 3:18.

Using this verse, those who do not understand what is really happening during the sacrifice of Our Lord, charge that the Catholic Church is crucifying Christ over and over again at every Mass. Proclaiming the death of the Lord is a re-presentation of the one sacrifice of Jesus Christ at Calvary. We, are in time, and to us it would seem that this one sacrifice was consummated 2000 years ago. However, since the sacrifice of Jesus Christ is presented to the Father, we must remember that GOD is outside of time and space. This is a truism because GOD created time and space in Genesis 1:1-19. Therefore, the crucifixion of Jesus Christ on Calvary, and everything else in time is now with GOD. The Holy Mass of the Catholic Church is merely a re-presentation of that one sacrifice.

Heaven and earth are joined and are standing at the foot of the cross and are witnessing the supreme sacrificial event during every Mass. Christ will be on the cross forever.

---

In the early 16th century there was the Protestant revolt led by Martin Luther joined by a few other dissenters, most of whom believed in the True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Luther, however, believed that Christ existed along with the bread, and he coined the word consubstantiation in order to distance himself and others from the Catholic transubstantiation. Do you remember from what we learned earlier, that it takes an authorized priest to perform sacrifice? However, we add now that it takes an authorized Bishop to make an authorized priest, and not a single Bishop joined Luther in his revolt. As the first generation of those in revolt died out, so did any vestige of authorized priests. With no authorized priest there was no valid sacrifice. The heirs of the first generation started distancing themselves and began dismantling what Luther and others had taught. Since they had no authorized priesthood, they declared the Holy Eucharist to be only a symbolic* gesture. However, that line of thinking is diametrically opposed to the teaching of Jesus Christ and the Apostles in Holy Scripture...

*Symbol:

Something that represents something else by association

*Symbolic:

Relating to or expressed by means of symbols.

"So Jesus said to them, (53) "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you; (54) he who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. (55) For my flesh is food indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. (56) He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me, and I in him. (57) As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me. (58) This is the bread which came down from heaven, not such as the fathers ate and died; he who eats this bread will live for ever."

John 6:53-58

Elucidation:

53. Truly means most assuredly it is true. A word repeated is used for emphasis associated with an important statement that follows. So truly, truly, means what Jesus is about to say is absolute truth, and therefore there is no room for symbolism whatsoever. Then He gave us a stern warning proceeded by the word unless. Unless sends the message that we have a choice to do something or not. He added that we must eat His Body and drink His Blood, or (the choice) we will have no life in us. Of course He meant spiritual life which is needed to attain the Kingdom of Heaven, something for which we all strive. With the double emphasis put into this verse, how could it ever be misinterpreted as a symbolic gesture?

54. If verse 53 were not enough, Jesus raised the ante in this verse by saying if we do not eat His flesh and drink His blood, we will have no eternal life, and will not rise on the last day (to heaven, that is). Verse 54 is a double emphasis for verse 53, so the pressure is upon those who refuse to believe in the reality and would prefer the symbolism, even though there is not even a hint of symbolism here.

55. He emphasized again in this verse that His words are in truth reality. I ask again, where is the symbolism?

56. Jesus wishes to abide in us and we in him. How can either abide in the other with a mere symbolic gesture?

57. Emphasis yet again that He speaks of reality and not of symbolism.

58. Do you want to live forever? The only way is through Jesus Christ who is truth personified. If you do not believe His words, then you have just called Him a liar (1John 5:10). Anyone who calls Him a liar will definitely not attain eternal life.

"(27) Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of profaning the body and blood of the Lord. (28) Let a man examine himself, and so eat of the bread and drink of the cup. (29) For any one who eats and drinks without discerning the body eats and drinks judgment upon himself."

1Corinthians 11:27-29

Elucidation:

27. How could anyone who eats His Body and drinks His Blood be guilty of profaning His Body and Blood? Here is one reason:

"But nothing unclean shall enter it, nor any one who practices abomination or falsehood, but only those who are written in the Lamb's book of life."

Revelation 21:27

God and sin are mutually excludable. Therefore where one is, the other cannot be.

28. This verse is an examination of conscience. As the priest presents the Sacred Host to the tongue, he says, "The Body of Christ". The recipient responds with the word "amen", meaning "So be it", or "Truly truly", a word of absolute consent that he or she is truly receiving the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ.

29. For those who do not believe that truly truly the Holy Eucharist is the Body of Jesus Christ, then they truly truly have brought judgment upon themselves and are guilty as charged in this verse.

These three verses explain why Protestants, Fundamentalists, and other non-Catholics cannot receive the Holy Eucharist. They do not believe what the Word of GOD and the Catholic Church teaches about what it really is, but they instead prefer to call it a mere symbolic gesture. Now will someone please explain to me how a person could eat or drink judgment to himself over a mere powerless symbolic gesture?

Simple isn't it?

---

A summary of what we have learned according to the words of Holy Scripture:

1. Holy Scripture has shown us that a sacrificial offering to GOD for atonement of sin has been performed by mankind ever since the time of Abraham.
2. Holy Scripture has said that those sacrifices are on a continuous daily basis, and will go on until the end of time.
3. The bloody animal sacrifices of the Old Testament will be superseded by a new sacrifice with a clean oblation.
4. Jesus Christ is both the High Priest and the sacrificial victim of the New Covenant.
5. The New Testament sacrifice of Jesus Christ is an unbloody re-presentation of His bloody crucifixion on Calvary. He is the clean oblation of Malachi 1:11.
6. Bread and wine will be transubstantiated into the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ, as He Himself did at the Last Supper. The authorized priest acting "In Persona Christi", calls down the Word with his word. The bread and the wine thus become the Holy Eucharist by the power of the Holy Spirit.
7. Jesus Christ taught that we have to eat His Body and drink His blood or we will have no life within us. He did not say we have to eat symbols of His Body and Blood. A symbol is not a reality, has no power, and cannot impose spiritual life.

8. Those who have refused to believe His words, have called Him a liar.

9. Those who partake of the Holy Eucharist, and do not believe it truly is His Body and Blood, have brought judgment upon themselves.

---

Does your sect offer sacrifice every day? How about once a month? Twice a month? Yearly?

Does your sect have authorized priests to even offer sacrifice?

Does your sect abide by the commands of Holy Scripture?

Does your sect offer sacrifice at all, seeing that Holy Scripture demands it as the supreme act of worship?

If not, then why are you where you are, and not in the one and only Church which Jesus Christ founded?

The Mystery Of The Holy Eucharist...

---

*This is My Body. This is My Blood.
Matthew 26:26-28*

---

*In the morning a dew lay all about the camp, and when the dew evaporated, there on the surface of the desert were fine flakes like hoar frost on the ground.
On seeing it the Israelites asked one another, "What is this?"
For they did not know what it was. But Moses told them,
"This is the bread which the Lord has given you to eat."
Exodus 16:14-15*

---

*What sign, then, do you, that we may see and believe you?
What work will you perform? Our fathers ate the manna in the desert, even as it is written, Bread from Heaven He gave them to eat."
Jesus then said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you,
Moses did not give you the bread from Heaven,
but My Father gives you the true bread from Heaven.
For the bread of GOD is that which comes down from Heaven and gives life to the world."
John 6:30-32*

---

*But Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life.
He that comes to Me shall not hunger,*

*and he who believes in Me shall never thirst."
John 6:35*

---

*"I am the bread that has come down from Heaven."
John 6:41,51,58*

---

Elucidation:

- 1. The Israelite community grumbled against Moses that they might die of famine. Exodus 16:1-3*
  - 2. GOD provided 'manna' from Heaven to feed their bodies. Exodus 16:4-18*
  - 3. This prefigures the Holy Eucharist.*
  - 4. Jesus Christ instituted the Holy Eucharist when He said, "This is My Body and this is My Blood." This 'Last Supper' was the first Mass. Matthew 26:26-28*
  - 5. Jesus Christ said that He was the Bread come down from Heaven.*
  - 6. He said, "The Bread that I will give is My flesh." John 6:51.*
  - 7. Jesus repeated Himself over and over that we must eat His flesh and drink His Blood in John 6:51,53,54,55,56. Why did He repeat Himself?*
  - 8. Name another area in the Bible where Jesus repeated Himself anywhere near that number of times? Why does anyone repeat himself? To drive home a point, that's why. This 'Bread' is His Body and this 'Cup' is His Blood.*
  - 9. GOD gave the Israelites food for their bodies. Jesus Christ gave all people His Body and Blood as food for their souls.*

Jesus Christ ordered the Apostles to perpetuate the 'Last Supper' when He said to them, "This is My Body which is given for you: do this in remembrance of Me."

Luke 22:19

*Did you notice that as Jesus said these words, He was holding His own body in His hands?
See Psalms 119:109 and Job 13:14*

---

This 'Last Supper' is recreated at every Mass, as the priest acting 'In Persona Christi' or in the 'Person of Christ' (2Cor 2:10), draws down 'The Word' by his word, 'This is My Body', and 'This is My Blood'.

As these words are spoken, the Holy Spirit changes the bread and wine into the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ.

Thus Jesus Christ in his entirety is made visible upon the altar under the appearance of bread and wine.

---

Transubstantiation:

This is the term that the Church uses to describe the changing of bread and wine into the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ.

*The substance of bread is turned into the substance of His Body.
The substance of wine is turned into the substance of His Blood.*

'Accidents', are the properties or characteristics in the material itself, its color, shape, size, texture, etc, all the physical attributes it has.

In the 'Transubstantiation' of the bread and wine, the 'substance' changes, but the 'accidents' remain the same.

This then is the 'Mystery of the Holy Eucharist'.

---

What then did the Early Church Fathers have to say about the 'True Presence of Our Lord in the Holy Eucharist'?

---

*The Didache (Did-Ah-Key), or teaching of the Apostles, 9:1-5
Let no one eat or drink of the Eucharist with you except those who have been baptized in the Name of the Lord; for it was in reference to this that the Lord said, "Do not give that which is Holy to dogs." Matthew 7:6*

---

*St. Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Romans, 7:3, 106AD
I desire the bread of GOD, which is the flesh of Jesus Christ.*

*St. Ignatius of Antioch, Letter to the Smyrneans, 6:2, 106AD
They abstain from the Eucharist and from prayer, because they do not confess that the Eucharist is the Flesh of Our Savior Jesus Christ, Flesh which suffered for our sins and which the Father, in His goodness, raised up again. THEY WHO DENY THE GIFT OF GOD ARE PERISHING IN THEIR DISPUTES.

---

*St. Cyril of Jerusalem, Catechetical Lectures, 22(Mystagogic 4)6, 350AD
Do not, therefore, regard the Bread and the Wine as simply that; for they are, according to the Masters declaration, the Body and Blood of Christ.*

*St. Gregory of Nyssa, The Great Catechism, 37, 383AD
Rightly then, do we believe that the bread consecrated by the Word of GOD has been made over into the Body of GOD the Word.*

---

*St. Ambrose of Milan, The Sacraments, 4:4:14, 390AD
You may perhaps say: "My bread is ordinary." But that bread is bread before the words of the Sacraments; where the consecration has entered in, the bread becomes the Flesh of Christ.*

*St. John Chrysostom, Homilies on the First Corinthians, 24:4:7, 392AD
When you see the Body of Christ lying on the altar, say to yourself, "Because of this Body I am no longer earth and ash, no longer a prisoner but free...This is that Body which was blood-stained, which was pierced by a lance, and from which gushed forth those saving fountains, one of blood, the other of water, for all the world. This is the body which He gave us, both to hold in reserve and to eat, which was appropriate to intense love.*

We Kneel to Our GOD!

---

"Therefore GOD also has exalted Him and has bestowed upon Him the name that is above every name, so that AT THE NAME OF JESUS EVERY KNEE SHOULD BEND of those in heaven, on earth and under the earth, and every tongue should confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of GOD the Father."
Philippians 2:9-11

---

Unfortunately, in some parishes, the priest requires the parishioners to stand during the most holy part of the Mass, the Consecration. When asked why they do this, they either refuse to answer or they say that Vatican Council II requires it.

---

Let us see exactly what Vatican Council II really does say regarding this subject...

General Instructions:

Chapter II:

20. A bodily posture common to all who are present is a sign of their unity with each other as a congregation; it expresses the mental attitude and dispositions of those taking part and enhances them.

21. To achieve this bodily posture the faithful should heed the directions given to them in the course of the celebration by the deacon, the priest, or other assistant. Unless some contrary instruction has been given, they should in all forms of the Mass, stand from the moment the priest enters or reaches the altar until the end of the Collect; also at the Alleluia before the Gospel; during the Gospel itself, the Creed and the Prayer of the Faithful; in addition from the Prayer over the Gifts until the end of Mass except where indicated below.

They should sit during the readings which precede the Gospel and during the Responsorial Psalm; for the homily, and during the Preparation of the Gifts; also when it seems fitting, during the silence which follows the distribution of Communion. But unless impeded by lack of space, density of the crowd or other reasonable cause, THEY SHOULD KNEEL DOWN FOR THE CONSECRATION.

This excerpt from Vatican II can be found in "Vatican Collection Volume 1, Vatican Council II, the Conciliar and Post Conciliar Documents", Costello Publishing Company, page 167.

As you can see, the document from Vatican II does NOT say to stand during the Consecration, but it does say to KNEEL DOWN. I have yet to see an "other reasonable cause" regarding this rubric.

---

The Roman Missal says essentially the same thing...

Introduction:

Chapter I: Importance and Dignity of the Eucharistic Celebration

Chapter II: Structure, Elements, and Parts of the Mass
General Structure of the Mass
Different Elements of the Mass
Individual Parts of the Mass
Introductory Rites
Liturgy of the Word
Liturgy of the Eucharist
Concluding Rite

20. The uniformity in standing, kneeling, or sitting to be observed by all taking part is a sign of the community and the unity of the assembly; it both expresses and fosters the spiritual attitude of those taking part. [28]

21. For the sake of uniformity in movement and posture, the people should follow the directions given during the celebration by the deacon, the priest, or another minister. Unless other provision is made, at every Mass the people should stand from the beginning of the entrance song or when the priest enters until the end of the opening prayer or collect; for the singing of the Alleluia before the Gospel; while the Gospel is proclaimed; during the profession of faith and the general intercessions; from the prayer over the gifts to the end of the Mass, except at the places indicated later in this paragraph. They should sit during the readings before the Gospel and during the Responsorial Psalm, for the homily and the presentation of the gifts, and, if this seems helpful, during the period of silence after Communion. They should kneel at the Consecration unless prevented by lack of space, the number of people present, or some other GOOD REASON.*

But it is up to the conference of bishops to adapt the actions and postures described in the Order of the Roman Mass to the customs of the people. [29] But the conference must make sure that such adaptations correspond to the meaning and character of each part of the celebration.

Priests have no authority to circumvent the postures decreed by the G.I.R.M.. If a priest has said we must stand during the consecration, the laity has the right to respectfully decline to do so...

Canon 214:

The Christian faithful have the right to worship GOD according to the prescriptions of their own rite approved by the legitimate pastors of the Church, and to follow their own form of spiritual life consonant with the teaching of the Church.

1983 Code of Canon Law.

In addition, the priest cannot refuse reception of Holy Communion to those who respectfully decline to stand during the consecration...

Canon 843:

1. The sacred ministers cannot refuse the sacraments to those who ask for them at appropriate times, are properly disposed, and are not prohibited by law from receiving them.

1983 Code of Canon Law.

---

The Daily Missal which is provided by all Churches, tells the parishioners what postures to assume at which points in the Mass. It tells us all to KNEEL from the end of the Sanctus, to the end of the Great Amen. The Sanctus is before the Consecration and the Great Amen is after it.

---

In this writing, I have provided three authentic Church documents, all of which say the same thing, we do not stand for the Consecration, but we KNEEL to Our Lord Jesus Christ.

---

---

Bible references. We Kneel before our GOD...

1Kings 8:54, 2Chronicles 6:13-14, Ezra 9:5, Psalm 95:6-7, Isaiah 45:24, Daniel 6:10,10:9-10, Matthew 2:11,17:14, Mark 1:40,10:17, Luke 22:41, Acts 9:40,20:36,21:5, Rom 14:11, Ephesians 3:14, Philippians 2:9-11.

---

---

"...For we all stand at the judgment seat of GOD; for it is written, As I LIVE, says the Lord, to Me EVERY KNEE SHALL BEND, and every tongue shall give praise to GOD."

Romans 14:10-11

Does not this verse describe the Consecration? As the priest calls down THE WORD with his word, the bread and the wine become the LIVING GOD in totality, BODY, BLOOD, SOUL, and DIVINITY. Who would not feel in his heart, the yearning to kneel before the LIVING GOD? It would be even more reverent for us to prostrate ourselves before Him.

Heaven on Earth.

---

"When you see the Lord immolated and lying upon the altar, and the priest bent over that sacrifice praying, and all the people empurpled by that precious blood, can you think that you are still among men and on earth? Or are you not lifted up to heaven?"

St. John Chrysostom, The Priesthood, 3,4,177, 386 A.D..

CCC-1354 (Catechism of the Catholic Church)

---

---

"In the evening quail came up and covered the camp. In the morning a dew lay all about the camp, and when the dew evaporated, there on the surface of the desert were fine flakes like hoarfrost on the ground. On seeing it, the Israelites asked one another, "What is this?", for they did not know what it was. But Moses told them, "This is the bread which the Lord has given you to eat."

Exodus 16:15

A gift from heaven had come to earth for the people of GOD.

The manna from heaven was the bread of the Word of GOD...

"He therefore let you be afflicted with hunger, and then fed you with manna, a food unknown to you and your fathers, in order to show you that not by bread alone does man live, but by every WORD THAT COMES FORTH FROM THE MOUTH OF THE LORD."

Deuteronomy 8:3

The Israelites wandered in the desert for forty years (Joshua 5:6), and then the manna ceased the day after a Passover (Joshua 5:12).

Have you ever given any thought to the logistics of this miraculous abundance from heaven? The Israelites set out from Egypt with 600,000 men, not counting women and children (Exodus 12:37). The total number of mouths to feed must have been well over 1,000,000 and was probably closer to 1,800,000. It would have taken the equivalent of train loads of manna, every single day for forty years to feed them all. If each person ate an average of only one pound per day, that would be 1,800,000 pounds per day or 900 tons. That works out to 328,500 tons per year or about 13,140,000 tons over the 40 year period.

An abundance of heavenly gifts fell to earth during that 40 year period.

---

Jesus then said to them, "Amen, amen, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but My Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of GOD is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

John 6:32-33

They said therefore to Him, "Lord, give us ALWAYS this bread."

John 6:34

The fulfillment of John 6:34 was prophesied in the Old Testament...

"For from the rising of the sun even to the going down, My Name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to My Name a clean oblation, for My Name is great among the Gentiles, said the Lord of Hosts."

Malachi 1:11

"I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the desert and have died. This is the bread that comes down from heaven, so that if anyone eat of it he will not die. I am the living bread that has come down from heaven. If anyone eat of this bread he shall live forever; and the bread that I will give is My Flesh for the life of the world."

John 6:48-52

So, the Priest, acting "In Personna Christi says, "This IS My Body" (Matthew 26:26), and in so doing, calls down "The Word" with his word, and the Holy Spirit transubstantiates the bread and the wine into the Body and Blood of Our Lord Jesus Christ (CCC 1353, 1357).

Jesus Christ has now come down from heaven to earth, and has humbled Himself, so that He may be seen, and touched, and consumed, under the appearance of simple bread and wine. We consume Him, and He assimilates us. We become uno, union, in communion with Him.

Heaven and earth have been joined.

GOD has sent an abundance of gifts of Himself from heaven for us on earth for almost 2000 years.

---

"To the offering of Christ are united not only the members still here on earth, but also those already in the glory of heaven..." CCC-1370

K.I.S.S.

---

I am sure that most people have an inkling as to what the meaning of that acronym is.
For those who have never heard of this one, the explanation can be found later in this writing.

---

"What is truth"? That question was asked of Jesus Christ by Pontius Pilate in John 18:38.
Truth is a person, and that person is Jesus Christ. John 14:6, Ephesians 1:13,4:21
Since there is only one Jesus Christ, it stands to reason that there can be only one truth. John 17:17-19.
Since He IS truth, then His Word is truth. John 17:17
In fact, He IS "The Word". John 1:1
Therefore, we know that something is true if, and because He said it.
We also know something is true if Holy Scripture had said it elsewhere, since the books within it were inspired by the Holy Spirit.
Simple, isn't it?

---

Now since His Word is truth, whoever does not abide by His Word has just called Him a liar.
"He who believes in the Son of God has the testimony of GOD in himself. He who does not believe the Son, makes him a liar, because he does not believe the witness that God has borne concerning his Son." 1John 5:10
Simple, isn't it?

"Jesus answered him, "If a man loves me, he will keep my word, and my Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. He who does not love me does not keep my words; and the word which you hear is not mine but the Father's who sent me." John 14:23-24
"You are my friends if you do what I command you." John 15:14
Are you still His friend if you do not do all of what he commands of you?
Now these verses do not say that we keep some of what He said, but ALL of what He said.
We cannot be selective and choose this, and reject that of what He commanded, can we?
Simple, isn't it?

---

While He walked the earth, He founded a teaching Church, and guaranteed that He would be with it every day in every century until the end of time.

"And I say to thee: That thou art Peter; and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Matthew 16:18
In this verse He said one Church only, and nothing could ever destroy it from the outside or from the inside.
Simple isn't it?

His one Church was prefigured (typed) in the Old Testament:
"Unless the LORD builds the house, those who build it labor in vain. Unless the LORD watches over the city, the watchman stays awake in vain." Psalms 127:1
Simple, isn't it?

"Going therefore, teach ye ALL nations: baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Teaching them to observe ALL things whatsoever I have commanded you. And behold I am with you ALL days, even to the consummation of the world." Matthew 28:19-20
Notice the three "ALLS", ALL nations, ALL teaching of His, for ALL time.
That is the definition of the "Universal Church". The Greek word for "Universal" is "Katholicos".
Hmmm, I wonder what that word would be when translated into English?
Notice also in the last sentence, where He said that He will be with His Church every day in every century until the end of the world, and with no gaps whatsoever, not one single day.
That is what the person of Truth Himself said.
Strangely, I ask non-Catholics to name this one Church which Jesus Christ founded, since it was His guarantee that it is with us every day from the time He founded it and to this very day. It has been in plain sight for almost 2000 years and yet not one has ever given me a correct answer.

Why then do some say He left His Church since they falsely charge that it fell into apostasy soon after the last Apostle died?

Who are we to believe, truth Himself, or those who make undocumented and unprovable false charges contrary to what He said?

I would suggest at this point, that you should go back and re-read 1John 5:10, for the answer to these questions. Now if Truth Himself is deemed a liar, then of what purpose is all of Christianity?

Simple, isn't it?

"I will not leave you orphans; I will come to you." John 14:18

Yet another promise of perpetuity for the Church which He founded.

Simple, isn't it?

"Now to him who by the power at work within us is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus to all generations, for ever and ever. Amen." Ephesians 3:20-21

Yet another promise that His Church will last for ever and ever.

Simple, isn't it?

Now comes more promises of teaching.

"And I will pray the Father, and he will give you another Counselor, to be with you for ever, even the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot receive, because it neither sees him nor knows him; you know him, for he dwells with you, and will be in you." John 14:16-17

Notice that the Spirit of Truth is not given to the whole world, but to a select few, His Apostles, those who build upon the foundation of which He laid.

Simple isn't it?

"But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you." John 14:26

Notice the future tense of this verse. The teaching or Development of Doctrine will continue into the future.

Simple isn't it?

"I have yet many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own authority, but whatever he hears he will speak, and he will declare to you the things that are to come." John 16:12-13

Another two verses speaking of future tense, "He will guide you..."

Simple, isn't it?

---

Since it is all so very simple, why then do pickers and choosers accept verses which fit with their personal opinions or feelings, and reject others which do not? Doing that makes it a smorgasbord religion. "I will pick this verse and reject that one, or at least pretend that it does not exist."

Here are a few examples of what the pickers and choosers reject:

Luke 1:48 (NIV), "From now on all generations will call me blessed."

1. "From now on", means from the time she said it until the end of time.

2. "All generations", without a doubt means every one of us. There is no excuse. There is no escape.

3. "Will", is surely a binding command and not merely a suggestion.

4. "Call me blessed". The word "blessed" has been missing in every non-Catholic post I have ever received regarding the person who uttered these words. Why do they think they can reject this verse? If anyone rejects "The Word" of GOD, then they reject Him, simply because "The Word" IS GOD (John 1:1).

Simple, isn't it?

Matthew 18:17 (NIV), "If he refuses to listen to them, tell it to the church; and if he refuses to listen even to the church, treat him as you would a pagan or a tax collector."

I have asked the pickers and choosers, "To which Church would they go to satisfy this command of "Truth Himself", if they had lived in 150, 700, 1000, or 1400 A.D.?" It is such a simple question, but of the scores of those I have asked, I have yet to receive an answer of the truth from any one of them. The answer is obvious, as it is the Church which Jesus Christ founded and promised that it would be found in every century until the end of time.

What is so hard about answering this question by naming the Church?

Simple isn't it?

1Timothy 3:15 (CR), "if I am delayed, you will know how people ought to conduct themselves in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth."

Strangely, when I ask the pickers and choosers, "What is the pillar and foundation of the truth?", they usually say it is the Bible. I then ask, "Why do you say that when the Bible had said it is the Church?"

When I ask them to name the Church to which Saint Paul referred in this verse, they cannot, or simply refuse to do so.

It is, quite simply, the one Church which Jesus Christ founded, and it most certainly has a name. Simple, isn't it?

2Peter 1:20-21 (RSV), "First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation, because no prophecy ever came by the impulse of man, but men moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God."

Clearly, Saint Peter had said in these verses that private personal interpretation of Scripture is NOT to be done. Interpretation of Scripture comes from GOD alone through a few chosen men inspired by the Holy Spirit. Yet there are millions of non-Catholics all running around claiming "The Holy Spirit told them". That is the main reason why there are over 35,500 different Protestant sects in the world today, with each disagreeing on this private interpretation or that one.

Why do those millions continue to ignore these very simple and very important Words of GOD?

Just look at the problems they have created for themselves by not abiding by this basic teaching of Holy Scripture?

Simple, isn't it?

John 10:16, "and there shall be one flock, and one shepherd."

Why is it when Truth Himself has exhorted all of us to be one, that today we find over 35,500 Protestant divisions (and still increasing every week) of the Body of Christ?

There is only one Jesus Christ and He has only one Body.

"Has Christ been divided up?" 1Corinthians 1:13

How could Jesus have made the meaning of the number one to be any simpler than it is in John 10:16?

Will someone please tell me what part of one is it that they simply do not understand?

Simple, isn't it?

James 2:10 (GW), "If someone obeys all of God's laws except one, that person is guilty of breaking all of them."

James 2:10 (RSV), "For whoever keeps the whole law but fails in one point has become guilty of all of it."

Wow! Those are tough words, but they are not my words. They are GOD's Words. That verse is so important that I had to give you quotes from two different Protestant Bibles, so there could be absolutely no confusion in grasping the meaning of it.

I have listed in this writing many verses which are disobeyed or ignored by millions of non-Catholics.

Saint James has said that breaking only one was needed to make anyone guilty of breaking them all.

According to "The Word of GOD" in James 2:10, all of GOD's laws have been broken by them.

So where have they put themselves in regards to their own salvation?

Simple, isn't it?

---

What I have presented here is so very simple that anyone with GOD given common sense and the power to reason, should have no difficulty whatsoever in gleaning the truth from these verses. Why then do some "invent" elaborate and complicated denials of them?

K.I.S.S. Is the acronym for "Keep it Simple Stupid". It is not what you thought it was is it?
Everything which Jesus Christ taught is so very simple, straight forward, and is plain old common sense.
Why then do some try to complicate something which is so simple?

Start Your Own Bible Study Class

You would be surprised at how many people in your parish would welcome a Bible Study class. So many are intimidated by Holy Scripture, as they are unfamiliar with the basics of how to understand the Word of GOD. Many pick up a Bible and turn to page one and start reading it as they would a novel. This is all well and good for a start, but soon they realize they are completely lost as to just what is going on. The story becomes muddled and hopelessly complicated. This causes them to lose interest and quit. Holy Scripture is the rarest of all jewels, and with just a little understanding of the basics, the reader will soon find that it is a veritable inexhaustible treasure chest. It is an amazing collection of such magnitude, that one lifetime is not long enough to master it all. Once you discover a few simple keys to Bible understanding, you will find, as I have, that it is pure excitement that will last forever.

---

I have tried to make this course easy for you by providing all that you will need to get started. All of the various files are provided for you on this website. It is only a matter of printing them out and starting your very own class. Here are the files, in the order in which I would teach them. The first of these lessons are laid out in building block fashion and should be taught in the order listed. I will be adding to this list from time to time.

---

The Basics of the Bible. This is an introduction to the Bible. It is very basic and can be done in one session.

The Canon of the Bible. This is the history as to the origin of the Bible which you use today. It explains why and how Protestant bibles have only 66 books, while ours has 73 books. This is a long one so it might take more than one session.

Some of the Basic Rules of Bible Interpretation. This is a short lesson with some important aids to Bible understanding.

The Senses of Scripture. In order to understand the verses, you should know in which of the various senses the author had in mind as he was writing them. Some verses have multiple senses also.

Typology of Scripture. This section ties the Old Testament to the New Testament and helps to show that the entire Bible is one continuous story.

Prefigurements of Scripture. This lesson consists of additional "Types" from Scripture which you learned about in "Typology of Scripture".

---

With a good understanding of the preceding lessons, the following could be taught in the order you or your students prefer. Take a vote in order to add student participation.

---

Authority: Which Church has it? A very important topic, since to have only one truth, you have to have only one authority.

**The Family of GOD.** We on earth are united with those in purgatory and in heaven. We are one family.

**The Catholic Church in the Old Testament.** It is prefigured, predicted, and prophesied by many Old Testament prophets.

**The Catholic Church in the New Testament.** This is a very long file, but an extremely important one. It will lay out a blueprint of the primitive Church, the Church which Jesus Christ founded. With it, you can compare every Church on earth and see immediately which is the only Church that fits this plan perfectly. It is all Biblical. I would advise this lesson to be spread over several sessions.

**Prophecies of the Old Testament which were Fulfilled in the New Testament.** This lesson shows that over 100 prophecies of the Old Testament were fulfilled in the New Testament. How could anyone deny that Jesus Christ is the Messiah after reading this? This one is fascinating.

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old Testament, and the Old Testament is revealed in the New Testament", St. Augustine.

Jesus Christ did say, "I have not come to condemn but to fulfill", Matt 5:17

**The True Presence in the Holy Eucharist.** We analyze the Gospel of John, Chapter Six.

**The Blessed Virgin Mary in the Old Testament.** With your understanding of the basic foundational building blocks in previous sessions, this topic is readily revealed in the Old Testament.

**The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.** There are some observations in this file that you no doubt have never heard of before.

**The Papacy is Scriptural.** Surprise! Protestants say the Papacy is an invention of the Catholic Church. The truth is, the Papacy is very Scriptural...if you know where to look.

**The Primacy of Peter.** It is denied by those who do not know their Bible. The Scriptural proof that Peter indeed had primacy over all of the Apostles is overwhelming.

**Purgatory is Scriptural.** Even in the 66 book Protestant Bibles.

**The Inquisition is Scriptural.** This is a topic which Protestants constantly bring to our attention, but, surprise!!!, it is very Scriptural.

**Amazing Stories from the Bible.** Some short stories which add interest to Bible study.

**Tidbits.** Some amazing Biblical issues you may have never noticed before. It is loaded with facts.

**The Bible is a Scientific Wonder.** For those of you who have scientific minds, the Bible provides scientific facts, some of which were not discovered by man until centuries later.

**GOD is Pro-Life.** You will be very surprised at the number of verses which support pro-life.

**Bible Twisting.** Methods used by some to twist the meaning of Scripture to suit their teaching. We must be careful and be on guard to be able to recognize these devious ways designed to lead us astray.

**Truth or Consequences.** Yes, we must say, teach, and preach, the truth at all times, for if we do not, we will suffer the consequences, and Scripture tells us those consequences are severe.

There are many more topics on this website from which you may choose to add to your class.

The Senses of Scripture

---

When interpreting Holy Scripture, you must take into account the sense of the verses. There are two major senses as shown in the Catechism of the Catholic Church: CCC 115-119.

St Thomas Aquinas has a section regarding the senses of Scripture in "Summa Theologica, I, 1, 10".

---

1. *Literal Sense: word for word verbatim. A word by itself can have many meanings. However that same word taken in context can have only one meaning. Every part of Scripture has a literal sense. Literal senses can have an explicit sense such as Jn 1:14, "...the Word was made flesh", explicitly means, 'the Son of GOD became Man'. The same verse can have an implicit meaning, 'Christ had a human soul'. When words are used in their 'original sense' (not metaphorical) they are called 'Literal Proper'. The Literal sense of Scripture can be only one.

- a. Historical sense: Based on, or concerned with events in history.
- b. Etiological sense: Studying causes or origins.
- c. Analogical sense: Based on an analogy. Similarity in some respects between things that are dissimilar.
- d. Plenary sense: GOD may imply more in the words of Scripture than the human author is conscious of. There may be a hidden meaning in the words to be revealed later.
- e. Consequent sense: Reasoning to a theological conclusion. This sense is better not to be used as it is not an inspired sense of Scripture.
- f. Metaphorical sense: Also called the 'Figurative' sense. Sometimes called the 'Literal Improper sense'. The 'Literal Proper' and 'Literal Improper' senses are normally mutually exclusive. Metaphorical senses can also be classed as 'Spiritual Senses'.

2. *Spiritual Sense: Also called 'Typological' or 'Mystical' sense. The sacred writer had nothing to do to introduce the 'Spiritual' sense. It was put there by GOD and the human writer was unconscious of it.

- a. Metaphorical sense: The Spiritual sense of Scripture can be Metaphorical if the Literal sense on which it is based is also Metaphorical. Psa 118:22, and Mt 21:42
- b. Allegorical sense: Also called the 'Typical' sense. Things of the old law signifying things of the new law. Types in the OT which prefigure the Church on earth. The crossing of the Red Sea is a symbol of the victory of Christ, and a type of the freeing of mankind from the bondage of sin by Baptism - 1Cor 10:1-2, Ex 13:21,14:19-22. The Paschal Lamb - Ex 12:21 and 46, the Brazen Serpent - Num 21:8 and Jn 3:14, and the Cornerstone - Psa 118:22, are Allegorical.
- c. Moral sense: also called the 'Tropological' sense. Events in Scripture imploring us to act justly. Things we should do. How to act. Wis 16:28, 1Cor 10:11, Heb 3-4:11
- d. Anagogical sense: Mystical interpretations, all visions of heaven. Our destiny. Gal 4:26, Rev 21:1 to 22:5

3. *Paraboliical Sense:

- a. Parables: A story to illustrate a lesson. Mt 24:32-35, Lk 16:19-31.

The Deuterocanonicals

The Apocrypha...

This is what the fundamentalists call the 7 books in Catholic Bibles that protestant Bibles do not have. Catholics call them 'Deuterocanonicals'. They are, Baruch, Judith, Sirach, Tobit, Wisdom, and 1 and 2 Maccabees. They also include parts of Daniel and Esther. There are many other books, called Apocrypha, by Catholics that are not considered inspired. I believe Protestants merely put those 7 books in the same pot and called them all Apocrypha.

The Problem...

Non Catholics insist that the 'Council of Trent' added those seven books to bring the total number of books to 73. They point to the fact that the 'Council of Jamnia' removed those books from the Bible in 90-95 A.D., so they were never in the 'Bible' from that date on.

The Solution...

Absolutely right, for the second part of the problem. The 'Council of Jamnia' did indeed remove those 7 books. The fact of the matter is that Jamnia was not a Christian council, but a Jewish one, called specifically to counter Christianity. In keeping with their practice of presenting only half truths, the non-Catholic detractors fail to mention that fact. The Apostles and Christians in general, used the Greek 'Septuagint', also called LXX, as their Bible in the first century. This upset the Jews, so they decided to call a council to deal with the matter. Keep in mind that the Jewish temple was completely destroyed by the Romans in 70 A.D., and the Jewish priests were killed. Now they were fearful that Christianity would overtake them. The Septuagint is the Old Testament translation into Greek from Hebrew, which the Jews completed at Alexandria in the second century B.C., and it had all 46 books including the Deuterocanonicals. The Jews decided to revise the canon of the Old Testament and they wanted to remove references that would be useful to Christians.

---

They set up 4 criteria that all books had to meet in order to be included.

1. The books had to conform to the Pentateuch (the first 5 books).
  2. The books had to be written in Hebrew.
  3. The books had to be written in Palestine.
  4. The books had to be written before 400 B.C..

The seven books did not meet all 4 criteria set up by the Jews...

Baruch was not written in Palestine. Disqualified by reason 3.

Sirach and 1Maccabees were written after 400 B.C.. Disqualified by reason 4.

Tobit and parts of Daniel and Esther were written in Aramaic and outside of Palestine. Disqualified by reasons 2 and 3.

Judith was written in Aramaic. Disqualified by reason 2.

Wisdom was written in Greek. Disqualified by reason 2.

2Maccabees was written after 400 B.C. and in Greek. Disqualified by reasons 2 and 4.

---

Christians continued to use the Septuagint. In 397 the Old Testament canon containing all 46 books was formalized along with the 27 inspired books of the New Testament at the Council of Carthage. St. Jerome completed a Latin translation of the entire Bible in 405, called the 'Vulgate' which can still be found today. It always had all 73 books. All Christian Bibles for the next 1100 years had all 73 books. Martin Luther, at about 1521 decided to remove the 7 Deuterocanonicals from the Old Testament and put them in an appendix, because they had teachings of the Catholic Church which he rejected, such as Purgatory. He used as an excuse, that they were already removed at Jamnia, and never should have been considered as inspired. Yes, but don't forget that the Jews did it at Jamnia, not the Christians. On Luther's own initiative, he removed 7 books that had been in use from before the first day of Christianity. Let me ask you, if they were "added" at the Council of Trent in 1545, how could Luther have removed them some 20 years earlier if they weren't there?

The Council of Trent was called in 1545 in response to the protestant reformation. One of the things they accomplished at Trent was a "reaffirmation that the 7 disputed books were indeed inspired and would continue to be included in the canon of the Old Testament". They did not add them. They merely reconfirmed that they should be there. All Christian Bibles for the first 1500 years of Christianity had 46 books in the Old Testament, and all Catholic Bibles today continue to have them. I have noticed that even some King James Bibles now have them. Why is this?

History of the canons of the Old Testament can be confirmed by checking the records of the Councils of Hippo, Carthage, and Trent. They are readily available, as is St. Jerome's Latin Vulgate and the Septuagint.

Christianity was in effect for between 35-65 years before the Jewish Council of Jamnia was called. As such, the Jewish Council had absolutely no authority whatsoever over Christianity. Suppose that next month of this year, the Jews decided to call a council in order to remove Isaiah and Jeremiah from the Old Testament and then voted to do it. Would Protestants also remove these books from the King James bible? It would seem they have already set a precedent. Why do Protestants accept the ruling of the Jewish Council of Jamnia, and at the same time reject the ruling of the Christian Council of Carthage regarding the Old Testament canon? Further still, why do they accept the canon of the New Testament which was decided at the same Christian Council?

Protestants have repeatedly said there is no evidence that Deuterocanonical books are inspired as none of them are referenced in the New Testament. This is absolutely not true as there are several references to the "Deuters", and at least two from apocrypha which I have found...

---

Bible references (NT) to Apocryphal books:

1. Jude 1:9, Yet when Michael the archangel was fiercely disputing with the devil about the body of Moses, he did not venture to bring against him an accusation of blasphemy, but said, "May the Lord rebuke thee."
This is only in the Apocryphal book, 'The Assumption of Moses'.
2. Jude 1:14, Now of these also Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied, saying, "Behold the Lord has come with thousands of His holy ones..." This prophecy is from the Apocryphal Book of 'Enoch', 1:9.
3. 2Tim 3:8, "Just as Jannes and Jambres resisted Moses, so these men also resist the truth, for they are corrupt in mind, reprobate as regards the faith." Although this is a reference to Ex 7:11, the 'magicians' of Pharaoh, they are not named in Exodus. They are found in the Apocryphal book 'Gospel of Nicodemus' 5:1. They are also found in the 'Narrative of Aeneas' Account of the Suffering of the Lord Jesus Christ', 5:4.

Bible references (NT) to Deuterocanonical books of the O.T.: These references show legitimacy to these books that Protestants rejected.

1. Heb 11:35, "...Others were tortured, refusing to accept release, that they might find a better resurrection." The only place in the O.T. that you will find reference to that is 2Macc 7:1-29. How do you, who do not have 2Maccabees, explain that? Note! The first half of Heb 11:35 is found in 1King 17:23 and 2King 4:36.
2. Heb 11:38, "...wandering in the deserts, mountains..." This is found in 1Macc 2:28-30 and 2Macc 5:27.
3. Jn 10:22, "Now there took place at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication..." This found in 1Macc 4:52-59.
4. Jn 14:23, "...If anyone love Me, he will keep My word..." This is in Sir 2:18.
5. Rom 9:21, " is not the potter master of his clay..." Found in Wis 15:7

6. 1Pet 1:6-7, "...gold which is tried by fire..." See Wis 3:5-6
7. Heb 1:3, "...brightness of His glory..." Similar to Wis 7:26-27
8. 1Cor 10:9-10, "...perished by serpents and destroyed by the destroyer." Almost perfectly matched in Judith 8:24-25.
9. 1Cor 6:13, "...food for the belly and belly for food..." Similar to Sir 36:20
10. Rom 1:18-32, GOD is known by the things He has created...Similar to Wis 13:1-9
11. Mt 7:12, Lk 6:31, "...all that you wish men to do to you, even so do you also to them..." Similar to Tob 4:16
12. Lk 14:13, "...when you give a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame..." Similar to Tob 4:17.
13. Rev 21:18, "And the material of its wall was jasper; but the city itself was pure gold, like pure glass." Similar to Tob 13:21.
14. Mt 13:43, "Then the just will shine forth..." Found in Wis 3:7.
15. Mt 18:15, "But if thy brother sin against thee..." Similar to Sir 19:13
16. Mt 25:36, "...sick and you visited me..." Similar to Sir 7:39.
17. Mt 27:42, "...if He is the King of Israel, let Him come down now from the cross..." Similar to Wis 2:18-20.
18. Mk 14:61-62, "...are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One: And Jesus said to him, I AM." Found in Wis 2:13.
19. Lk 2:37, "...as a widow...She never left the temple, but worshiped night and day with fasting and prayer." Found in Judith 8:4-6.
20. Lk 24:4, "...two men stood by them in dazzling raiment." Found in 2Macc 3:26.
21. Jn 16:15, "All things that the Father has are mine." Found in Wis 2:13.
22. Rom 10:6, "...Who will go up into heaven..." Found in Bar 3:29.
23. Rom 11:33, "...How inscrutable are His judgments and how unsearchable are His ways." Found in Judith 8:14.
24. 1Cor 10:20, "...they sacrifice to demons, not to God..." Found in Bar 4:7.
25. 1Jn 3:17, "If someone who has worldly means sees a brother in need and refuses him compassion, how can the love of GOD remain in him?" Found in Tob 4:7.

---

These are just a few that I have found, and with very little effort. Most of them were found just by reading the cross references in Bibles. There are many more.

Clearly from what I have shown, the seven disputed books should have not been removed by Protestants from the Bible.

100 Prophecies Of The Old Testament That Were Fulfilled In The New Testament

---

Of all the religions of the world, it is only Jesus Christ, Christianity, and His Church, which were foretold by prophets hundreds of years in advance of His coming.

---

Christ would come out of Israel (Num 24:17-19, Isa 11:1,49:7, Heb 7:14).

Christ would be descended from Abraham, Isaac, Jacob (Gen12:2;17:19,Num 24:17).

Yikes!

Who Has Eyes to See and Ears to Hear These Days?
How could anyone be so blind and so deaf to all of the GODless attacks that are going on all around us in these tumultuous times?

---

An almost 2000 year old book has given us quite an accurate picture of life as we know it today.
It has hit the nail squarely on the head.

---

2Timothy 3:1,
"This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come."

I would say they are here now, wouldn't you agree?
Can you think of more perilous times than we have now, what with so many nations having the bomb that is able to destroy all mankind?
And that is only one aspect. There are so many other perils facing all of us today, and they are coming from every direction at once.

2Timothy 3:2,
"For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,"
How many of the examples listed above can be applied to what you have seen or heard lately?*

2Timothy 3:3,
"Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,"
Without a doubt, all of the above are happening this very day.*

2Timothy 3:4,

"Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;"

Just look at some of the people in high places today and see how they fit perfectly with 2Timothy 3:4.

2Timothy 3:5,

"Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away."

Isn't it true that we are witness to all of this today?

2Timothy 3:6,

"For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,"

Isn't it true that we see and hear all of this today?

2Timothy 3:7,

"Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth."

Truer words were never spoken.

---

Back to 2Timothy 3:1, are we in perilous times today?

It appears that we surely are.

Granted...

"Nothing under the sun is new, neither is any man able to say:

Behold this is new: for it hath already gone before in the ages that were before us."

Ecclesiastes 1:10

The dire things listed in 2Timothy 3:1-7, were happening long before 2Timothy was written by Saint Paul in about 67 A.D..

There is no doubt that they have been happening in every century ever since.

However, who can show that they were all happening at the same time in every century as they are happening today?

---

Romans 11:8,

"As it is written, God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes that should not see and ears that should not hear, down to this very day."

Detour Ahead

I have noticed in reading Holy Scripture that my trend of thought is sidetracked often by a verse that changes direction of my study goal. It is sort of like a detour in the road. I am headed in the direction I had chosen, but must alter my destination first to see where the detour takes me. I call them 'detour verses'. I was 'detoured' by another trend of thought that calls for study. I have noticed that those 'detour verses' seem to be more abundant in subsequent passes through Scripture, verses with a special meaning that did not catch my attention in previous passes.

Holy Scripture is deep and at times I am paddling on the surface and miss the deeper meanings. As I have said before in a previous writing, Holy Scripture should be read slowly and each verse should be pondered upon.

You cannot glean the beauty of Holy Scripture if you simply read it as you would a novel.

Here are a few examples of what I term 'detour verses'.

Mark 4:1-2;

- (1) "Again he began to teach beside the sea. And a very large crowd gathered about him, so that he got into a boat and sat in it on the sea; and the whole crowd was beside the sea on the land.
- (2) And he taught them many things in parables,"

I see several interesting things in those two verses.

1. First of all, Jesus taught by the sea but when the crowds got larger He moved to a boat to teach. Why would He do this? It must have something to do with boats, and what is the most famous boat in Holy Scripture? My thought was Noah's Ark, where all the people and animals aboard survived the flood, and everyone else drowned. Noah's Ark is symbolic of the Church which Jesus Christ founded, the saving institution that He gave to us. Symbolically He was giving us a preview of His teaching from His Church.

2. Secondly, He sat down and began to teach. There are several verses where Jesus is depicted as sitting down to teach. Some of them are: Matthew 5:1-2, Mark 9:35, Luke 5:3, and John 8:2. Why is this important?

Well it is very important because sitting while teaching is symbolic of teaching with authority. Can you think of a modern day person who, while seated, is a person of authority? How about a judge?

Well, not only in modern times is this the norm, but in the times when Jesus walked the earth, persons of authority sat in judgement. See John 19:13 where we have Pilate sitting in judgement of Jesus.

3. Thirdly, why did Jesus teach the crowds in parables? Why did He not explain the meaning of the parables to them? Well the answer to that one is found in yet other verses.

Mark 4:10-12;

(10) "And when he was alone, the twelve that were with him asked him the parable.

(11) And he said to them: To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but to them that are without, all things are done in parables:

(12) That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them."

Elucidation of Mark 4:10-12;

1. The context for those three verses is found in verse 10. Jesus spoke these words, not to the crowds, but to His twelve Apostles only. Why? Because His Church is to be the pillar and foundation of truth (1 Timothy 3:15) and the authority for upholding the truth obviously has to be given to only a few, and not to the crowds.

2. What is 'the kingdom of GOD'? It is His Church. He was giving teaching authority for the future earthly leaders of His Church.

3. Jesus was calling for all of those outside of His Church to convert into the new Noah's Ark where parable teaching will be explained, and to have their sins forgiven so that they may be saved.

---

Here is another detour of note.

Mark 6:4-5;

(4) "And Jesus said to them: A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and in his own house, and among his own kindred.

(5) And he could not do any miracles there, only that he cured a few that were sick, laying his hands upon them."

Elucidation for Mark 6:4-5;

1. I have often wondered about what Jesus said in verse 4. Doesn't it sound strange that those who grew up with Him seemed not to have any affinity for Him, yet outsiders who never knew Him did?

2. The 'detour' for me is in verse 5. How many of you who are reading this page have missed what was said in that verse? Jesus could not work any miracles there? GOD is incapable of working them? It is hard to believe that Jesus could not perform miracles at anytime or any place.

But wait a minute!

There are several verses in the Gospels where Jesus chastised others with words like, 'Oh you of little faith'. So it sounds to me like faith on our part is needed for GOD to work miracles.

Or better yet, GOD requires us to have faith before He will grant us miracles.

Are you sure that you are in full compliance to the Word of God in Holy Scripture? Do you fully comprehend the truths of what you have read within it? We Shall See...

---

Here is some food for thought regarding your Biblical beliefs. See if you can answer these simple questions honestly and truthfully!

---

Q: How many Churches did Jesus Christ found?

A: He founded only one. See Matthew 16:18 where He used the word "church" (singular) and not churches.

Q: What does Holy Scripture say regarding all of the other churches that Jesus Christ did not found?

A: The Bible clearly says, "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it..."
Psalms 127:1

Are you in the one Church that Jesus Christ founded or entrenched in one that fits "they labor in vain who build it"?

Q: Do you believe that the Church which Jesus Christ founded fell into apostasy sometime after the last Apostle died?

Can you provide documented proof that this ever happened? Do you have a date and genuine historical documents proving what you have been taught by your church?

A: If you cannot find a date or documented proof of this 'galactic' revelation, then is it not a lie against the Word of GOD?

What does the Bible say about this monumental revelation? It says just the opposite, that His Church will last forever.

Yes, some people within it have certainly fallen into apostasy but surely not the whole Church. It is the promise of GOD.

The Church which Jesus Christ founded is already almost 2000 years old, and has endured many centuries of conflicts, heresies, schisms, apostates, unfaithful priests, bankruptcy, avarice, wars, persecutions, treachery, and more.

If Mother Church lasted through all of those difficulties and attacks for all of those years, then that is certainly indicative of Divine protection, is it not?

Go to your Bible and read these verses for proof from GOD that his one and only Church truly will last forever:

2Samuel 7:12-13, Psalms 127:1, Isaiah 9:7,41:10-11,54:17,59:21, Jeremiah 1:17-19, Ezekiel 36:15, Daniel 2:44,6:26,7:13-14,

Haggai 2:8-10, Matthew 16:18,28:20, Luke 1:32-33, John 14:16-17, Acts 5:38-39, 1Corinthians 10:32, Ephesians 3:21,5:23,

Hebrews 12:28,13:20. Are you in full compliance with all of those verses of which all are the word of God?

Anyone who believes that the Church which Jesus Christ founded fell into apostasy, also has to believe that His head separated from His body, His Church*. So they must also believe that Jesus has been severed just as Christianity has been severed by its never ending splits of His body into sects which number over 40,000 at this point in time.

Where does His Head reside today, with His one Church, or with each and every one of those splits of His body?

*Romans 12:5, 1Corinthians 12:12,27, Ephesians 1:22-23,3:6,4:12,5:23, Colossians 1:18,24,2:17

Q: Do all of those 40,000+ splits in the body of Christ speak the full truth?

A: Using our own God given common sense, how could they? If all taught the same full truth then there would be only one Church. Isn't that true?

Truth is one and it is the person of Jesus Christ when He said, "I am the way, the truth and the life". John 14:6

Could Jesus Christ teach anything but the full truth? Is He teaching those 40,000 sects as they claim, or not?

Q: Does Holy Scripture say anything regarding that there be no splits in the body of Christ?

A: You bet it does, numerous times. Here are a few examples:

In John 10:14-16 Jesus said:

"I am the good shepherd; I know my own and my own know me, as the Father knows me and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep. And I have other sheep, that are not of this fold; I must bring them also, and they will heed my voice.

So there shall be one flock, and one shepherd."

In John 17:21-23 Jesus said:

"I do not pray for these only, but also for those who believe in me through their word, that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us, so that the world may believe that thou hast sent me. The glory which thou hast given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one, I in them and thou in me, that they may become perfectly one, so that the world may know that thou hast sent me and hast loved them even as thou hast loved me."

Wow! How many times did the word 'one' appear in those verses? I counted seven times.

What part of 'one' is simply not understood by so many?

In 1 Corinthians 11:18-19 St Paul wrote:

"For First of all I hear that when you meet in church there are divisions among you, and in part I believe it.

For there must be factions so that those who are approved may be made manifest among you."
Who are those approved? They are none other than those who have the fullness of truth.

In 2 Corinthians 13:11, St Paul wrote:

"In Conclusion, brethren, rejoice, be perfected, be comforted, be of the same mind, be at peace; and the God of peace and love will be with you."

My gosh! How many have glossed over that verse, not even seeing the most important meaning of it?

"The God of peace and love will be with you" is surely something that everyone would want,

However, did you notice that it is conditional upon the prerequisites in the first part of the verse, one of which is to "be of the same mind"?

Are 40,000+ splits in the body of Christ of the same mind?

Not hardly.

In Philippians 1:27, St Paul wrote:

"Only let your lives be worthy of the gospel of Christ; so that, whether I come and see you, or remain absent, I may hear about you, that you are steadfast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the Gospel."

Whew! Are your lives worthy of the gospel of Christ? They surely are if you accept all of Christ's teaching in the gospels, and refrain from picking and choosing to suit your own beliefs. As for the last part, how many 'ones' will it take for all of us to finally realize what the meaning of that word is?

Following are several additional verses with many more 'ones' for all of us to ponder.

In Ephesians 4:4-25, St Paul said it so simply and so well, that not one person can deny it:

(4) "There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope that belongs to your call,

(5) one Lord, one faith, one baptism, (6) one God and Father of us all, who is above all and through all and in all. (7) But grace was given to each of us according to the measure of Christ's gift.

(8) Therefore it is said, "When he ascended on high he led a host of captives, and he gave gifts to men."

(9) (In saying, "He ascended," what does it mean but that he had also descended into the lower parts of the earth?

(10) He who descended is he who also ascended far above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.)

(11) And his gifts were that some should be apostles, some prophets, some evangelists, some pastors and teachers,

(12) to equip the saints for the work of ministry, for building up the body of Christ, (13) until we all attain to the unity of the faith and of the knowledge of the Son of God, to mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ; (14) so that we may no longer be children, tossed to and fro and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the cunning of men, by their craftiness in deceitful wiles. (15) Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ, (16) from whom the whole body, joined and knit together by every joint with which it is supplied, when each part is working properly, makes bodily growth and upbuilds itself in love. (17) Now this I affirm and testify in the Lord, that you must no longer live as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their minds; (18) they are darkened in their understanding, alienated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them, due to their hardness of heart; (19) they have become callous and have given themselves up to licentiousness, greedy to practice every kind of uncleanness. (20) You did not so learn Christ!--`

(21) assuming that you have heard about him and were taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus. (22) Put off your old nature which belongs to your former manner of life and is corrupt through deceitful lusts, (23) and be renewed in the spirit of your minds, (24) and put on the new nature, created after the likeness of God in true righteousness and holiness. (25) Therefore, putting away falsehood, let every one speak the truth with his neighbor, for we are members one of another."

Elucidation of the power of St Paul's words in the verses just listed:

Verse (5) condenses the whole paragraph into just two words, one faith. Do we have one faith now? No, we have 40,000+ different Christian faiths. So who is not in full compliance to the Word of God? It is all of those who split from the Church that Jesus Christ founded.

Verse (12). Are any of those who split from the only Church that Jesus Christ founded building up the body of Christ? No! They are tearing it down into ever and ever smaller pieces with their constant splits.

So who is not in full compliance to the Word of God?

Verse (14) is loaded for all to not listen to the false prophet, those who do not speak the truth, to pull the faithful into yet more splits in the body of Christ.

Verse (16), is the whole body of Christ joined and knitted together?

No! How could it be with all of those splits running off in different directions?

So who is not in full compliance to the Word of God?

Verse (25) implores everyone to speak the truth. Does any one of those 40,000+ plus splits in the body of Christ speak the full truth?

No, for if they did, they would have never split in the first place.

So just who is not in full compliance to the Word of God?

Q: What kind of government runs the Church which Jesus Christ founded?

A: To answer that one we must decide who is the governing power. Since Jesus Christ founded it, He is the head and we, the members, are His body (Ephesians 5:23-24). Therefore the governing power is God. It is always the head that tells the body what to do. The body does not tell the head what to do.

Therefore, His Church is a Theocracy.

Many churches founded by mere human beings are republics or democracies wherein a vote of the body tells the head what to do. Is your church governed by a vote of the body?

Q: What is the name of the only Church which Jesus Christ founded?

A: The answer to that one is easy. What is the name of the only Church which has lasted from the time

He founded it until this very day?

It is none other than the Catholic Church as shown by these four different methods.

Here are more proofs from many secular sources:

The Catholic Church was founded by Jesus Christ as found in the following sources:

- 8. The Oxford Dictionary of the Christian Church, from the Oxford University Press, pg.1195.

She writes, "If you are a Roman Catholic, Jesus Christ began your religion in the year 33 AD." Ann Landers was Jewish.
- 11. Nelson's Illustrated Encyclopedia of Bible Facts by J.I.Packer, Merrill C. Tenney, William White Jr; pg 536, "The Roman Catholic Church traces the authority of the Pope back to Peter, for it is alleged that Peter was bishop of the Church at Rome when he died. Tradition says that the basilica of St. Peter in Rome is built over the spot where Peter was buried. (pg 537) A careful reading of the Gospels would tend to support the tradition that Peter was the leading figure of the early Church. The tradition that Peter was the leading figure of the apostolic Church has strong support. (pg. 535) Peter means 'rock' in every sense.
- 12. The Readers Digest (After Jesus, the Triumph of Christianity) 1992.

Q: Okay, I have given you a plethora of proofs that it was the Catholic Church that Jesus Christ founded.

If you still do not believe that He founded the Catholic Church, then please tell me the name of the Church which He did found? Remember it has to be traceable from this very day back for almost 2000 years.

Please do not forget to include your genuine historical documents proving what you say.

Christianity is not an answer, as that is a belief, and not the name of a church.

A: I have never received a serious answer to that question.

Isn't it strange that the Church which Jesus Christ founded, and was Biblically guaranteed to last forever, cannot be named if it is not the Catholic Church, as so many believe?

Q: What verse(s) in Holy Scripture gave authority for any human person to found another church other than the one Church that Jesus Christ founded?

A: There are none, not a single verse that gave anyone, other than the Apostles and their Church appointed successors and their successors, the authority to speak in behalf of God. What does that mean for anyone who is not in the Church which Jesus Christ founded, but is in one founded by a mere human person?

Q: What is in this verse that many have not even noticed before?
"Finally, brethren, farewell. Mend your ways, heed my appeal, agree with one another, live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you."
2Corinthians 13:11

A: "The God of love and peace will be with you" is the last part of that verse but isn't that last part conditional on the first part?
One of those conditions is to heed the appeal of Saint Paul who wrote the verse. He preached to non-Christians of his time appealing to them to come to the Church which Jesus Christ founded. His appeal was for all to "agree with one another".
Non-Catholic Christians do not agree with the only Church that Jesus Christ founded, or even with one another what with the 40,000+ splits in the body of Christ that we have today.
Holy Scripture has very clearly taught that those who do not agree with the Church which Jesus Christ founded cannot agree with its Head, so how could the GOD of love and peace be with them?

Q: Does Holy Scripture say anything about man must follow every word of God?

A. You bet it does, and it does so in more than one book.
"Not by bread alone does man live but by every word that comes forth from the mouth of God."
Deuteronomy 8:3, Matthew 4:4, Luke 4:4.
If man lives by 'every word that comes forth from the mouth of God' then why are so many of His words ignored by so many? 'Not by bread alone' has a meaning of food for the body. The rest of the verse has a meaning of food for the soul. So for the sake of saving our souls we are to believe and practice every word that comes from the mouth of God.
If so then Holy Scripture instructs every one of us that we are in danger of losing our salvation if we do not honor these words of God:
1. I have previously mentioned John 17:21-23, "that they may be one".
How many have ignored that command from the mouth of God?
2. Thou shalt not bear false witness (lie), Exodus 20:16. And of course all of the rest of the ten commandments of God.
3. For those who take pride in attacking the Catholic Church, are you sure that you know what you are doing?

If you end up being wrong then these verses are just for you:

"So now I say to you keep away from these men and let them alone. For if this plan or work is of men, it will be overthrown; but if it is of God, you will not be able to overthrow it. Else perhaps you may find yourselves fighting even against God." Acts 5:38-39

For the last almost 2000 years, many times more powerful people than we see today have tried to overthrow the Catholic Church in every century and they have been unable to do so. Now who do you think are those who are fighting against God? Is it the Catholic Church, or is it those who persecute it?

Here is another set of verses as food for thought on the same subject:

2Thessalonians 1:5-9. "This is evidence of the righteous judgment of God, that you may be made worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are suffering-- (6) since indeed God deems it just to repay with affliction those who afflict you, (7) and to grant rest with us to you who are afflicted, when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven with his mighty angels in flaming fire, (8) inflicting vengeance upon those who do not know God and upon those who do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. (9) They shall suffer the punishment of eternal destruction and exclusion from the presence of the Lord and from the glory of his might,"

Q: Are you in full compliance with these verses from Holy Scripture?

(24) "Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock. (25) The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. (26) But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. (27) The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash."
Matthew 7:24-27 (NIV, I used a Protestant bible for these verses on purpose)

A: Are you in full compliance with those verses? We shall see!

Who is the wise man who built His house on the rock?

It is none other than Jesus Christ who built His Church on rock as posed in my first question in this writing and is recorded in Matthew 16:18.

How many churches did Jesus build on the rock? He built only one when He said 'church' and not churches.

The storms (attacks over the centuries from both without and within) could not destroy it.

Again, another proof that it was His promise that His Church would last forever. Review all of those verses that I listed earlier from both the Old and New Testaments regarding divine protection for His Church.

Who is the foolish man who built his house on sand? It is all of those 40,000+ sects who continue to split the body of Christ, not one church of which could have been built on the rock and not one who had God given authority to do so.

Now here is an excellent Old Testament verse which complements Matthew 7:24-27.

I mentioned it earlier but here it is again since it fits so well:

"Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it..." Psalms 127:1

Do you see how nicely that verse fits here? Aren't all of those who built their 'house' on sand laboring in vain?

Could that be the reason why all of the mainline Protestant churches are in decline while the Catholic Church continues to grow*?

*The World Christian Encyclopedia, a Protestant publication, lists a figure of 1,134,584,000 Roman Catholics in the world in mid 2009. That is more than 1.1 billion.

Not one of those thousands of splits in the body of Christ even comes close to that figure.

Q: Do you call Mary, the Mother of GOD, Blessed?

A: No? Well, Holy Scripture commands all of us to do so in Luke 1:48, "Behold, henceforth all generations shall call me Blessed".

Do you know what 'henceforth' means? It means from the time she said it and forever more.

Do you believe that the words 'all generations' exclude you?

How about the word 'shall' (or 'will' in some Bibles), does it mean a command to you, or merely a suggestion?

Q: Is Blessed Mary the Mother of GOD?

A: Is Jesus the Son of GOD? Yes, Matthew 27:54, Mark 1:1, Luke 1:34, John 1:49 and many other verses.

Is Blessed Mary the mother of Jesus? Yes, see Luke 1:42-43, 2:6-21.

So those verses do confirm that she gave birth to Jesus, the Son of God.

Mothers give birth to persons with a nature. They cannot give birth to natures alone.

Jesus is a Divine person meaning Blessed Mary gave birth to a divine person, so she can rightly be called The Mother of God.

---

Q: Do you believe what Martin Luther, the first Protestant taught regarding sin?

"If you are a preacher of grace, then preach a true and not a fictitious grace; if grace is true, you must bear a true and not a fictitious sin. God does not save people who are only fictitious sinners. Be a sinner and sin boldly, but believe and rejoice in Christ even more boldly.... as long as we are here [in this world] we have to sin....

No sin will separate us from the Lamb, even though we commit fornication and murder a thousand times a day."

Letter to Melanchthon, August 1, 1521 Luther's Works, vol. 48

A: What did Jesus Christ teach us regarding sin?

After Jesus had rescued the sinful woman from being stoned to death:

"Jesus looked up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?"

She said, "No one, Lord." And Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you; go, and do not sin again."

John 8:10-11

Are you in full compliance with that last verse which is the word of God?

---

Q: Who wrote the Holy Scriptures that we call the Bible?

A: The many books of the Bible were written by scores of individuals over the course of many hundreds of years.

Their writings were inspired by the Holy Spirit.

Q: Who is the only valid interpreter of Holy Scriptures?

A: Since the Holy Spirit inspired the authors of the books, which are His word (2 Timothy 3:16), then the Holy Spirit can be the only valid interpreter of its contents with the fulness of truth.

It is impossible for anyone to write a text of which any person could take a line or two out of context and twist it to mean something entirely different from what the author had intended. By taking verses out of context, a true statement could easily be transformed into something other than the truth.

In all cases that is why the author can be the only valid interpreter of what he had written.

2Peter 1:20, "First of all you must understand this, that no prophecy of scripture is a matter of one's own interpretation,"

That is one of the most important and most ignored verses in the entire Bible.

It is also one of the most damaging to the many who choose to ignore it.

St Peter, the Apostle who was told by the Lord to feed His sheep (John 21:15-17) did exactly what he was told to do here by first saying "you must understand this". That certainly should have captured the attention of anyone who read it.

But alas, it did not obviously for those 40,000+ sects that call themselves Christian since they completely ignored the last part of the verse and continue to do their own interpretation of Scripture.

Q: So if I call on the Holy Spirit to interpret the fulness of truth of Holy Scripture, will I receive it?

A: I hate to answer a question with another question, but here comes the use again of our God given common sense.

If all of those 40,000+ splits in the body of Christ did call on the Holy Spirit for guidance, then why are there thousands of splits instead of one united body of Christ? The Holy Spirit cannot speak anything but the one full truth.

Q: Well if individual calling of the Holy Spirit for a truthful interpretation, may be misleading, then who can I call on for the full truth?

A: Well the answer to that one is in Holy Scripture:

John 14:26, "But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you."

Now for the proper context, to whom did Jesus express those words?

It was during the last supper and it was to the Apostles that He taught. Read all of John 13 and 14. It is through the only Church that Jesus Christ founded where the Holy Spirit will teach you all things.

And in Luke 8:10 He said, "To you it has been given to know the secrets of the kingdom of God; but for others they are in parables, so that seeing they may not see, and hearing they may not understand."

Mark 7:14, "And he called the people to him again, and said to them, "Hear me, all of you, and understand:""

Luke 2:50, "And they did not understand the saying which he spoke to them."

Mark 12:24, Jesus said to them, "Is not this why you are wrong, that you know neither the scriptures nor the power of God?"

Acts 28:26, "Go to this people, and say, You shall indeed hear but never understand, and you shall indeed see but never perceive."

Acts 28:27, "For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears have they heard heavily and their eyes they have shut, lest perhaps they should see with their eyes and hear with their ears and understand with their heart and should be converted: and I should heal them."

Healing only after conversion?

John 8:43, "Why do you not understand what I say? It is because you cannot bear to hear my word."

A very interesting verse. "It is because you cannot bear to hear my word" sounds like those who preach against the only Church that Jesus Christ founded. It brings to mind a quote from Cardinal Ratzinger, who is now Pope Benedict XVI:

"Truth has always bothered people and is never comfortable."

Cardinal Ratzinger, October 9, 2000

However, 'He who has refused to acknowledge the truth in life will be forced to confront it in death.' That one-liner is one that we all should remember because after death it is too late to repent.

Here is a real 'corker' (Corker: a remarkable or outstanding message)!

1Corinthians 2:14, "The unspiritual man does not receive the gifts of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned."

Now go back up about half a page and read John 14:26 again.

Do you see the connection between it and 1Corinthians 2:14?
Here is a hint, "they are spiritually discerned".

Here is another eye opening and mind stimulating 'corker':

1Corinthians 12:3, "Therefore I want you to understand that no one speaking by the Spirit of God ever says "Jesus be cursed!"

And no one can say "Jesus is Lord" except by the Holy Spirit."

From what you have learned so far, does the underlined portion of this verse have any meaning for you?

Does the Holy Spirit guide your church?

Ephesians 5:17, "Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is."

Do you recall what the will of the Lord is?

If not then please go back to the beginning of this page and count how many ones that you find in this document.

2Peter 3:3, "First of all you must understand this, that scoffers will come in the last days with scoffing, following their own passions."

That is another verse from St Peter where he started with, "First of all you must understand this". The only Church which Jesus Christ founded is certainly being scoffed at today and from many directions.

What many do not understand, however, is that His Church is His body (Ephesians 1:22-23), and whatever His physical body had to endure then, likewise His Church must have to endure now as well.

Jude 1:10, "But these men revile whatever they do not understand, and by those things that they know by instinct as irrational animals do, they are destroyed."

This is another strong warning from St Jude, yet another Apostle (Luke 6:16). "They are destroyed"?

Read the underlined first part again followed by the last part. Would you want to be one of those destroyed?

It is certainly a scary verse once understood. Is anyone listening? Is anyone heeding this message of St Jude?

Nothing in Holy Scripture is written as a lark (any carefree episode), but as the serious consequences that we will all face if the instructions within it are not heeded by all of us.

Acts 8:29-31, "And the Spirit said to Philip, "Go up and join this chariot." So Philip ran to him, and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and asked, "Do you understand what you are reading?"

And he said, "How can I, unless some one guides me?" And he invited Philip to come up and sit with him."

See, when reading Holy Scripture, we need the guidance of its author, the Holy Spirit as we have learned before, and Philip, an Apostle, was certainly filled with the Holy Spirit in Acts 2:4.

1Corinthians 2:12, "Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from God, that we might understand the gifts bestowed on us by God."

2Peter 3:15-16, "So our beloved brother Paul wrote to you according to the wisdom given him, speaking of this as he does in all his letters. There are some things in them hard to understand, which the ignorant and unstable twist to their own destruction, as they do the other scriptures."

Luke 24:27, "And beginning with Moses and all the prophets, he interpreted to them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself."

Luke 24:32, "They said to each other, "Did not our hearts burn within us while he talked to us on the road, while he opened to us the scriptures?""

Luke 24:45, "Then he opened their minds to understand the scriptures".?

Q: So you can clearly see from these three verses of Luke, that Jesus Himself while He walked the earth, was the sole interpreter of Holy Scripture. But what about after He ascended into Heaven?

A: What was His promise to us before He ascended into Heaven?
I gave you the verse earlier but here it is again as Jesus spoke these words to the Apostles:
John 14:26, "But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things, and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you."

Q: Do you believe that the Bible is the final authority?

A: If you do then please explain why the Bible says it is the Church in Matthew 18:17?

Q: Do you believe that the Bible is the pillar and foundation of the truth?

A: If you do then please explain why the Bible says it is the Church in 1Timothy 3:15?

---

Well how did you do? How many questions were you able to answer correctly?

Holy Scripture is such a complex collection of interactive books, written by scores of inspired persons, most of whom did not even know each other. Yet their books all dovetail so perfectly that only God inspired people could have written them. I feel one lifetime is simply not long enough to grasp all that Holy Scripture has to teach us.

After all, God is infinite and we have such puny finite minds in comparison.

My opinion is that if we make it to Heaven we will learn more and more about God for all eternity and we still will not be able to grasp all there is to know. To me, Holy Scripture is simply mind boggling. I have gone all the way through it many times and every subsequent time I find things that I completely missed in previous passes.

GOD Bless,

Do We Have Free Will?

---

Some say that we do not have Free Will, and that it is under GOD's will in which we live. They say we have no control over our lives, as GOD has predestined us to spend eternity in heaven or in hell. This thought process is called 'Predestination' and was a teaching of John Calvin, (1509-1564).

---

What is the meaning of Free Will?

It is I will, or I won't power, the power to decide. We are free to choose to love GOD or not to love GOD. We were all given Free Will by the Creator. We can choose for ourselves to go to heaven or to go to hell. Unless we are really free, we cannot be held fully responsible for our actions.

The dictionary says: Free Will

'Done of one's own accord, voluntary'.

'The power attributed especially to human beings, of making free choices that are unconstrained by external circumstances or by an agency such as divine will'.

Few have defined what free will is, although it is mentioned often in the writings of many of the Church Fathers and of others throughout history. Origen defined Free Will as a faculty of the reason to distinguish between good and evil, and a faculty of the will to choose one or the other. Augustine taught that it is a faculty of the reason and the will to choose good with the assistance of grace, or evil when grace is absent.

In summation, whatever we decide to do from a list of options, we are exercising our Free Will. If the definition is so simple, then why do some sects deny we have it?

---

Let us see what Holy Scripture has to say...

Perhaps one of the best examples of the use of Free Will is in Gen 2:15 to Gen 3:1-7. GOD commanded Adam not to eat of the tree of good and evil. Then the serpent tempted Adam and Eve to eat of the fruit of that tree. They decided of their own free will to eat of the tree. They chose evil over good. It was NOT the will of GOD for them to do this (Gen 2:17).

"GOD made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his own counsel", Sir 15:14.

"For if we sin willfully after receiving the knowledge of truth, there remains no longer a sacrifice for sins", Heb 6:4-8,10:26.

"I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse. Choose life then, that you and your descendants may live..." Deut 30:19.

"...And afterwards the continual holocaust, both on the new moons and on all the solemnities of the Lord that were consecrated, and on all in which a freewill offering was made to the Lord." Ezra 3:5.

"...And all the silver and gold that you shall find in all the provinces of Babylon, and that the people is willing to offer of their own accord to the house of their GOD, which is in Jerusalem." Ezra 7:16.

*"And the people blessed all the men that willingly offered themselves to dwell in Jerusalem."
Neh 11:2.*

"Because I called and you refused; I stretched out my hand, and there was none that regarded." Prov 1:24.

*"If you be willing, and will harken to me, you shall eat the good things of the land. But if you will not, and will provoke me to wrath, the sword shall devour you because the mouth of the Lord has spoken it."
Isa 1:19-20.*

*"My teaching is not mine, but his who sent me; if any man's will is to do his will, he shall know whether the teaching is from God or whether I am speaking on my own authority. He who speaks on his own authority seeks his own glory; but he who seeks the glory of him who sent him is true, and in him there is no falsehood. Did not Moses give you the law? Yet none of you keeps the law."
John 7:16-20*

Then there is the story of the Prodigal Son. Did not he exercise his free will when he left his father and family in Luke 15:13, and yet again when he willingly decided to return in Luke 15:17-20?

"He who rejects me, and does not accept my words, has one to condemn him." John 12:48.

"If I do this willingly, I have a reward. But if unwillingly, it is a stewardship entrusted to me. What then is my reward?" 1Cor 9:17-18

"Tend the flock of GOD which is among you, governing not under constraint, but willingly, according to GOD." 1Pet 5:2.

---

*GOD wishes all men to be saved. If that is true, then how could he ever predestine anyone to hell?
Here is the proof from Holy Scripture:*

*"For the Lord your God is God of gods and Lord of lords, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who is not partial and takes no bribe."
Deut 10:17*

*"Now then, let the fear of the Lord be upon you; take heed what you do, for there is no perversion of justice with the Lord our God, or partiality, or taking bribes."
2Chron 19:7*

*"Will you condemn him who is righteous and mighty, who says to a king, 'Worthless one,' and to nobles, 'Wicked man'; who shows no partiality to princes, nor regards the rich more than the poor, for they are all the work of his hands?"
Job 34:17-19*

*"For the lowliest man may be pardoned in mercy, but mighty men will be mightily tested. For the Lord of all will not stand in awe of any one, nor show deference to greatness; because he himself made both small and great, and he takes thought for all alike."
Wis 6:6-7*

"Do not offer him a bribe, for he will not accept it; and do not trust to an unrighteous sacrifice; for the Lord is the judge, and with him is no partiality. He will not show partiality in the case of a poor man; and he will listen to the prayer of one who is wronged."

Sir 35:12-13

Here is a very good anti-predestination argument formulated by a Catholic priest who is a former Calvinist himself, Fr. Paul Rothermel...

PROPOSITION: A true Calvinist teaches that everything that happens has been predestined before the foundation of the world. Thus, according to Calvinism, because I have free agency and no true power to choose contraries (i.e., free will), I do voluntarily what I could never do otherwise. Thus, "My sins last week happened; they were certain to happen; and they were predestined before the foundation of the world. I freely did evil, but I could not have done otherwise."

A true Calvinist admits this. Yet St. Paul teaches that, with every temptation, God has made a way to escape from committing the sinful deed (1 Cor 10:13). Therefore, the question for the true Calvinist is: "Which way did God, in fact, provide for you to escape the temptations to do the sins you committed last week, if indeed you are so inclined? That is, if you have been predestined before the foundation of the world to do it?"

This is a clear hole in the Calvinist position, forcing one to conclude that Calvinism cannot be reconciled with St. Paul. Clearly, if Calvin is right and one is predestined to commit a particular sin before the foundation of the world, God could not have truly provided a way out of that sin for you to take. How could He if you were predestined not to take it? So, either Calvin is wrong or we are dealing with a God Who feigns offers of deliverance from temptation. So, which is it? Is God a fraud or is Calvin?

Basic Rules in Bible Interpretation...

There are several ground rules in Bible interpretation that must be followed before anyone even attempts to study Holy Scripture. I will show but a few important ones.

---

The first rule is:

"In what sense am I interpreting a particular verse?"

Is it to be taken literally, or figuratively, or is it a parable? For more on this please read "The Senses of Scripture", elsewhere on this website.

---

The next rule is:

"Context, context, context."

Never take one verse out of context in order to try to "prove" a point. This is the one rule that is broken most often by detractors of the Catholic Church. Remember this, "A text taken out of context is a pretext, and nothing more". Verses taken out of context can be made to look like what the detractor is trying to "prove". Remember this axiom, "A text without a context is a pretext".

---

The next rule I will mention is:

"The Law of First Mention."

When something is mentioned in Scripture the first time, the same meaning for that verse holds true for subsequent verses. An example of this law is in Genesis 17:5, where GOD gave authority to Abram by changing his name to Abraham, and making him "The Father of a Multitude of Nations".

Next is in Genesis 17:15-16, where GOD gave authority to Sarai, by changing her name to Sarah, and making her "The Mother of all Nations".

Then there is Matthew 16:18. GOD changed the name of Simon to Peter, and gave to him the authority of the Church, and supremacy over all of the other Apostles.

The "Law of First Mention" functions here, to show that authority is given when the persons name is changed by GOD.

---

Another rule is:

"How many times something is mentioned."

If it is mentioned three times or more, it is certainly to be taken literally.

In John chapter 6, Jesus emphasized nine times, "This IS My Body".

He also said it in Matthew 26:26, Mark 14:22, and Luke 22:19. And if that isn't enough, St. Paul said it again in 1Corinthians 11:24.

"THIS IS MY BODY" falls not only under this rule, but also under the "Law of First Mention", doesn't it, starting with Matthew 26:26?

"THIS IS MY BODY" also must follow the "Senses of the Bible". These verses are literal. There is nothing said in these chapters to indicate any other sense.

*How can anyone deny that Jesus meant what He said, when He said it so many times?
How can anyone break three basic rules of Bible interpretation, by saying "It is only a Symbol, or a representation of His Body"?*

---

Of course everyone is aware of this next rule:

"You must take into account the meaning of the words, in the languages written by the authors at the time, and not necessarily the English translation of them today."

For example, the word "brethren" had many meanings, only one of which is "brother". It meant cousins and other kin, as well as friend, comrade, fellow believer, etc.

---

Another rule that should be mentioned here:

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old, and the Old Testament is revealed in the New."

It takes a little bit of Bible study to realize this, but it is true. There are hundreds of prophecies about Jesus Christ in the Old Testament, and a lot of parallels. For more on this, see "100 Prophecies Fulfilled", elsewhere on this website.

---

If you break any of the rules, you are NOT interpreting Scripture properly...

Symbol, Symbolic, Symbolical, Symbolize, Symbolism!

---

Isn't it strange that Protestants, Fundamentalists, and other non-Catholics, take the whole Bible literally except for the Gospel of John chapter 6, for which they, in error, claim is only symbolic?

---

Let us first define what a Symbol is:

A symbol is something that represents something else by association, resemblance, or convention, especially a material object used to represent something invisible.

So a symbol is merely something that represents something else, and that something else is the reality of the symbol even if it is invisible.

Here are a few ground rules regarding symbolism that must be mastered before anyone makes an attempt for serious Bible study.

1. You have probably heard the quotation by Saint Augustine:

"The New Testament lies hidden in the Old Testament and the Old Testament is revealed in the New Testament".

2. The New Testament is hidden in the Old by a plethora of symbolism called typology.

3. Old Testament types (symbols) and even New Testament symbolism always point to New Testament realities as I will show soon.

4. An Old Testament type never points to a New Testament symbol.

This is such an important point, that I will reword it for emphasis. A symbol of the O.T. never points to a N.T. symbol but always to the reality of what the symbol represents.

5. A symbol of itself has no power to save. All power is reserved for the much greater reality.

6. Here are some other terms, some of which are in Holy Scripture, which are sometimes used as substitutions for symbolism:

shadow, foreshadow, badge, emblem, figure, template, pattern, token, foretoken, prefigurement, prefiguration, gesture, label, picture, hint, sign, blueprint, image. As you can readily see, none are the reality of what they represent.

We are made in the image of GOD (Genesis 1:26-27) but we are certainly not divine as is GOD.

Here are some examples of symbolism versus reality...

*The Sabbath:

Colossians 2:16-17, the Jewish Sabbath is but a shadow of good things to come. This is a foreshadowing of the Christian Sunday worship. How much power does a shadow have compared to what causes it to begin with?

Exodus 31:16-17, the Sabbath is a sign or a token (the word used depends on the Bible) and it is for the children of Israel.

*The Law:

Hebrews 10:1, the Law (the first five books of the Old Testament) is but a shadow of good things to come.

The "good things to come" is the New Covenant of Jesus Christ which has obsoleted the Law, Hebrews 8:13.

*Animal sacrifice:

Hebrews 10:4, the blood of oxen and goats cannot take away sins. Animal sacrifices were symbolic of the New Testament reality of the Blood of Christ which could wash away the sins of the world. Ephesians 1:7, through the blood of His Son, we are set free from our sins.

*The Holy Eucharist:

The manna in the desert (the O.T. type) fed the body, but it could never feed the soul, John 6:49.

The manna is the symbol for the Holy Eucharist.

The only thing that could feed the soul is the Body and Blood of Christ, the Holy Eucharist (the N.T. reality), John 6:47-58.

Remember the basic rules of typology,

"An Old Testament type never points to a New Testament symbol, but to its reality."

"A symbol of itself has no power to save anyone. All power to save is reserved for the much greater reality."

Now why do Protestants and Fundamentalists and other non-Catholics bend and break the rules of typology by taking the whole Bible literally except for chapter six of the Gospel of John for which they say is symbolic? Doesn't it sound strange to you that all books of the Bible are taken literally by them except for that one chapter in the Gospel of John?

Isn't it reminiscent of Martin Luther who wanted to remove entire books from the Bible simply because they were opposed to HIS teaching?

The answer to why is simply because none of them have a valid authorized priesthood which is able to perform sacrifice as commanded by Holy Scripture that we must do on a continuous daily basis. So, for them IT IS ONLY A SYMBOL!

However, they have no right to say for the Catholic Holy Eucharist, that it is only a symbolic gesture also.

For those who deny the true presence in the Catholic Holy Eucharist, I must point out two Bible references which fit all of the scoffers perfectly. I have listed each of the two from different Bibles for emphasis:

"But these people, like irrational animals born by nature for capture and destruction, revile things that they do not understand, and in their destruction they will also be destroyed, suffering wrong as payment for wrongdoing.

2Peter 2:12-13

"These false teachers insult what they don't understand. They are like animals, which are creatures of instinct that are born to be caught and killed. So they will be destroyed like animals and lose what their wrongdoing earned them. These false teachers are stains and blemishes."

2Peter 2:12-13

"But these people revile what they do not understand and are destroyed by what they know by nature like irrational animals. Woe to them! They followed the way of Cain, abandoned themselves to Balaam's error for the sake of gain, and perished in the rebellion of Korah."

Jude 1:10-11

"Whatever these people don't understand, they insult. Like animals, which are creatures of instinct, they use whatever they know to destroy themselves. How horrible it will be for them! They have followed the path of Cain. They have rushed into Balaam's error to make a profit. They have rebelled like Korah and destroyed themselves."

Jude 1:10-11

---

One of the basic rules of Bible study is that,
AN OLD TESTAMENT SYMBOL CAN NEVER POINT TO A NEW TESTAMENT SYMBOL, BUT ONLY TO A *REALITY!

John Chapter Six

What Does It Really Say?

---

"And behold, thou shalt be dumb and unable to speak until the day when these things come to pass, BECAUSE THOU HAST NOT BELIEVED MY WORDS, WHICH WILL BE FULFILLED IN THEIR PROPER TIME." Luke 1:20.

---

Saint John, New Testament, Chapter Six...

This chapter is so important in explaining the "true presence" of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Following is a verse by verse explanation. If you will read the whole chapter, you will not find any verse to indicate Jesus was speaking figuratively, or in parables. He was speaking literally as the context of the chapter plainly shows. One of the basic rules of Bible interpretation is, if something is said only once in Scripture, it might be taken figuratively, but if it is repeated three times, it is to be taken literally. Jesus repeated His message in John Chapter six, nine different ways, or nine times.

The key verses are indicated here...

Vs 1-15, Jesus demonstrated the need to feed the body, by the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. In later verses He will show the need to feed the spiritual soul as well, with His very own Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. Just as the life of the body is in the blood, Lev 11:17, so the life of the spiritual soul is in the body and blood of Jesus Christ, John 6:54.

Vs 24-25, These verses show that Jesus was speaking to all of the people, who represent all of us and not just to the Jews, or His disciples.

Vs 32-33, Jesus said, "Amen, amen, I say to you, Moses did not give you the bread from heaven, but my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of GOD is that which comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

Note! Moses and the bread in this verse, refer to the manna in the desert as shown in Exodus 16:14-31. The manna is a "type" of the "antitype" of the "true bread from heaven" which is the true Body of Christ. You can read about "types" and "typology" in 1Corinthians 10:1-11, Hebrews 9:9,11:19.

Never does an Old Testament "type" point to a New Testament symbol, but always to a vastly superior reality.

The word "Amen" is a Greek word (amen) of Hebrew origin, which, at the beginning of a discourse means, "certainly", "surely", "truly", "of a truth", "so be it"? When used as a prefix by Jesus Christ, it is to emphasize that it is a solemn statement, and is of utmost importance. Now, what do you suppose He meant when He emphasized twice, by using a double "Amen", a "Truly, truly"?

Do you "truly, truly" believe what He said in this verse? Is there any room for symbolism in these verses whatsoever?

Vs 35*, Jesus said, "...I am the bread of life. He who comes to Me shall not hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst."

This is the first of two verses that non-Catholics use to "prove" that Jesus was speaking figuratively for the whole chapter. "He who believes in Me shall never thirst", means to believe in what He said. If anyone denies what He said, he does not believe in Him. In order to support this belief, then they have to show that Jesus also spoke figuratively in Mt 26:26-28, Mk 14:22-24, and Lk 22:19-20, where He said "This is my Body." Also St. Paul must have spoken figuratively in 1Cor 10:16, and 1Cor 11:23-30. Yet in none of these verses is there a shred of evidence to support their belief in figurative speech. Apparently they close their eyes to 1Cor 11:29, "...for he who eats and drinks unworthily, without distinguishing the body, eats and drinks judgment to himself." How could anyone bring judgment upon himself if it is only a symbol?

---

Vs 41, already the Jews have begun to doubt Him.

Vs 43, Jesus knew they were doubting when He said, "Murmur not among yourselves."

Vs 47, Jesus said, "Amen, amen, I say to you, he who believes in Me has life everlasting."

He told them that the ones who believe what He is saying, have everlasting life. Do you want everlasting life? Then you have to believe Him because He said it. He is truth, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life", John 14:6.

If you do not believe His words here, then you are guilty of 1John 5:10...

"He who believes in the Son of GOD has the testimony of GOD in himself. He who does not believe the Son, makes him a liar; because he does not believe the witness that GOD has borne concerning his Son."

Vs 48, A second time Jesus said, "I am that bread of life."

Vs 49, "Your fathers ate manna in the wilderness and they are dead."

This is because the manna was only a type, the symbol of the reality which was to come.

---

Vs 50, "This is the bread which comes down from Heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die."

We know that all of us will die physically, but Jesus meant the eternal life of the spiritual soul.

Vs 51, Jesus said, "I am the living bread that came down from Heaven, if any man eat of this bread, he shall live forever. And the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."

Did He say the bread is a "symbol" of His flesh, or did He say it is my flesh?

Vs 52, the Jews doubt even more as they said, "How can this man give us His flesh to eat?"

Isn't this what non-believers in the "True Presence" say today?

Vs 53, Jesus said, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man, and drink his blood, you do not have life within you."

The very next verse 54 says that those who eat the flesh of the Son of Man, do have everlasting life. How then, can these verses be symbolic?

Interestingly, Weymouth's Modern Speech New Testament translates the first words of this verse as: "In most solemn truth, I tell you..."

The context for this verse is the same as for the previous examples in this chapter. Here we have yet another "Truly, truly". Why do people repeat themselves at all? They do it for a purpose, in order to drive home a very important point, that is why!

What would Jesus have had to say to make his words any more clear than what He actually said? Then why do some say "Truly, truly, in this verse, He was only speaking symbolically"? If this verse is to be taken only symbolically, then the previous verses, John 6:32-33 and 6:47, must be treated in the same context, as being only a symbolic gesture also. If that is the case, then we have a domino effect working throughout Scripture. All verses with the same meaning of John 6:47, "believe in Christ and you have life everlasting", must be only symbolic as well. Some well known, and well used verses with the same, or very similar meaning are, John 3:15-16,18, 5:24, 6:40, 8:24, and 20:31, Acts 13:48, and 16:31, Romans 10:9-11, 1Timothy 1:16, and 4:10, 2Timothy 1:1, and 1John 5:13.

It is to be noted that some Protestant Bibles use the word "Verily", instead of "Amen", in the verses shown above. Verily means, "in truth", or "with confidence". However, in the Greek text the word used is Amen.

Not only do we have the double "amen" for solemn emphasis in this verse, but we also have the keyword "unless".

Have you ever noticed that when Jesus used the word "unless", it was accompanied by a dire warning that His word must be obeyed, "Or you shall not enter the Kingdom of Heaven", or similar wording?

Matthew 5:20, "...Unless your justice exceeds that of the Scribes and the Pharisees...."

Matthew 18:3, "...Unless you turn and become like little children...."

Luke 13:3,5, "...Unless you repent...." (you will all perish).

John 3:3, "...Unless a man be born again...."

John 3:5, "...Unless a man be born again of water and the Spirit...."

John 6:53, "...Unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink His blood, you shall not have life in you, (implied, "no life everlasting", as shown by the very next verse, John 6:54), "He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood has life everlasting and I will raise him up on the last day".

The Greek word for "life" used in John 6:53, is "zoen" (zoen) which means, "divine life of GOD imparted to us".

There are other Greek words for "life" that St. John could have chosen, such as "bios" (bios).

Why then did he choose "zoen" instead, other than to emphasize the fact that it really is the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ?

I have shown you three powerful words in this one verse, amen, unless, and the Greek zoen for life. Each word by itself is sufficient to show the literal sense of this verse and without so much as a hint of symbolism. All three of these words collectively, in one verse, show that there is not the slightest possibility of symbolism whatsoever in John 6:53.

Vs 54, "Whoever eats My flesh, and drinks My blood, has eternal life; and I will raise him up on the last day." Did He say to eat the symbol of His flesh?

Vs 55, Jesus said, "For My flesh is meat indeed, and My blood is drink indeed."

---

Vs 56, Jesus said, "He that eats My flesh and drinks My blood dwells in Me, and I in him."

Did He say, 'He that eats a symbol of My flesh...'. How can a mere symbol fulfill this promise?

Does only a symbol of Christ dwell in us? I thought GOD Himself dwelt within us, 1John 4:12-13.

Vs 59, This verse shows that Jesus taught this discourse to all the people.

Vs 60, They doubt a third time when many disciples said, "This is a hard saying, who can hear it"?

The Jews were instilled by many Old Testament verses, admonishing them not to consume blood.

See Deut 12:23, Lev 17:11 and 14. They must have thought this was something akin to cannibalism.

Is this what you think too?

At any point did Jesus back down? Explain to me, if this chapter is symbolic, why did He not explain the symbolism to them?

Vs 61, Jesus did not back down, for He said, "Does this offend you?"

He knew their thoughts and He certainly knew the Old Testament verses about the consumption of blood.

In the next verse, He separated spiritual things from earthly things.

Vs 63*, Jesus said, "It is the spirit that quickens; the flesh profits nothing. The words I speak to you, they are spirit, and they are life."

Did He say He was speaking figuratively or in parables? This is the second verse detractors use to try to "prove" that Jesus spoke figuratively for the whole chapter. Did Jesus say "My" flesh? No, He said "the" flesh. What Jesus had said was, that we cannot accept this mystery if we accept it in too human a way, by having an earthly view of things. Those who can only think of cannibalism, are they not having an earthly view?

See John 3:6, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Verse 63 means that we should not have a carnal human understanding of His words, but a spiritual understanding.

Romans 8:1-13 explains what "the flesh" means very nicely...

"There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set me free from the law of sin and death. For God has done what the law, weakened by the flesh, could not do: sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh and for sin, he condemned sin in the flesh, in order that the just requirement of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh but according to the Spirit.

For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit. To set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace. For the mind that is set on the flesh is hostile to God; it does not submit to God's law, indeed it cannot; and those who are in the flesh cannot please God.

But you are not in the flesh, you are in the Spirit, if in fact the Spirit of God dwells in you. Any one who does not have the Spirit of Christ does not belong to him. But if Christ is in you, although your bodies are dead because of sin, your spirits are alive because of righteousness. If the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead dwells in you, he who raised Christ Jesus from the dead will give life to your mortal bodies also through his Spirit which dwells in you. So then, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh — for if you live according to the flesh you will die, but if by the Spirit you put to death the deeds of the body you will live."

I count that the term, "the flesh" is used twelve times in those verses of Romans 8.

Mark 14:38, "Watch and pray that you may not enter into temptation; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak."

More on the Spirit and the flesh:

1Corinthians 2:10 to 1Corinthians 3:3, "God has revealed to us through the Spirit. For the Spirit searches everything, even the depths of God. For what person knows a man's thoughts except the spirit of the man which is in him? So also no one comprehends the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. Now we have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is from God, that we might understand the gifts bestowed on us by God. And we impart this in words not taught by human wisdom but taught by the Spirit, interpreting spiritual truths to those who possess the Spirit. The unspiritual man does not receive the gifts of the Spirit of God, for they are folly to him, and he is not able to understand them because they are spiritually discerned. The spiritual man judges all things, but is himself to be judged by no one. For who has known the mind of the Lord so as to instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ. But I, brethren, could not address you as spiritual men, but as men of the flesh, as babes in Christ. I fed you with milk, not solid food; for you were not ready for it; and even yet you are not ready, for you are still of the flesh. For while there is jealousy and strife among you, are you not of the flesh, and behaving like ordinary men?"

He who takes, "The flesh; profits nothing" (meaning the flesh of Jesus), as an excuse for denying the "True Presence", has denied the incarnation and humanity of Jesus Christ." It is interesting that those who take John Chapter six as being figurative, also take this one verse by itself and call it literal, and all the while calling all of the other verses around it figurative, or symbolic. If "The flesh profits nothing" taken figuratively, meaning the "symbolism" of the flesh of Jesus, then Jesus died for nothing. Anyone who says what Jesus Christ said in these verses is figurative, is also breaking at least three basic rules of Bible interpretation.

Vs 64, Jesus said, "But there are some of you who believe not."

Jesus knew from the beginning who they were, and who should betray Him. This is the first time Jesus alludes to Judas, as the betrayer.

Vs 66, and now look what happens in John 6:66...

"From that time many of His disciples went back, and walked no more with Him."

Did He call them back and say, "Hey I was just kidding, it is only a parable"? No He did not, for in the next verse, He did just the opposite. He would have let them all go. Are you one of those who walked away because His teaching is too hard? Interestingly, the Jews knew exactly what He was saying. If they thought it was only a symbol, then why would they walk away? If they thought He had spoken only symbolically, then why did they not ask Him to explain it to them as they had done many times before? This verse does not apply to the Jews only. It applies to all of us to this day who reject the True Presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Did you see the connection to the verse number of John 666?

Vs 67, Jesus said to the twelve, "Will you also go away?"

Right here, He would have let them ALL go for not believing what He had said, and He did not offer any further explanation.

Vs 68, interestingly it was Simon Peter who answered, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life". Have you ever wondered why Simon Peter is usually the spokesman for the Apostles?

Vs 69, Simon Peter continued, "We believe and are sure that you are that Christ, the Son of the living GOD." The Apostles believed Him. They did not walk away from Him as the Jews had done. Why do so many non-Catholics follow in the footsteps of the Jews in verse 66, and not follow the Apostles in verse 69?

Vs 70-71, Jesus named Judas Iscariot as the one who would betray Him.

---

There you have it. In verses 33,35,47,48,50,51,53,55, and 56, Jesus said it is literal what I am telling you. In verses 41,43,52,60, and 64, the Jews doubt, and grumble, and murmur, and in verse 66, they, and many others to this day, walked away from Him and never came back. Did He call them back to say this was only a parable, and explain the meaning of it to them, as he had explained many other parables? No, for in verse 67, He would have let them ALL go, had they all not believed.

---

Yet Simon Peter, in verse 69 said, "We believe...". I believe. The Catholic Church believes. Why don't you believe? Show me, in John chapter six, where it says Jesus did not speak literally, but figuratively, or in parables?

Show me another group of verses in Scripture in which the whole context is figurative, and yet one verse in the middle (as in vs 63 in John 6) is to be taken literally?

Doing that goes against the rules of proper Bible interpretation. We do not attempt to 'twist' the Bible to conform to our teaching, but rather, we conform our teaching to the correct interpretation of the Bible.

Are you one of those in John 6:66, who walked away from Him because you refused to believe what He had said, or are you with Simon Peter when he said in verse 69, "We believe..."?

---

Why do non-Catholics take almost the whole Bible literally, but when it comes to John chapter 6, they insist it is figurative, when it does not say that it is?

---

Remember, when non-Catholics say John 6 is figurative, then they have to show that Mt 26:26, Mk 14:22, and Lk 22:19, are also, where Jesus again said, "This IS My Body." Then show them 1Cor 11:24, where Paul repeated the words of Christ.

---

Finally, when non-Catholics say, "It is only a symbol", that is true, that is, for them it is true. For you see, they have no valid priesthood to call down "the Word" with their word.

Catholics have the valid priesthood which has been handed down through the ages by the "laying on of hands" in an unbroken line, for almost 2000 years from generation to generation, and dating to the Last Supper when Jesus Christ said, "This IS my body which is being given for you; do this in remembrance of me".

Luke 22:19

However, non-Catholics have no right, and no authority whatsoever to say:

"It is only a symbol" for Catholics as well.

Please go to "Body and Soul" for more insights into why the Holy Eucharist cannot possibly be a symbolic gesture.

Body and Soul...

---

A person has a body, a soul, and a human spirit, 1Thessalonians 5:23, Hebrews 4:12.

We may combine the soul and spirit and call it a spiritual soul. The soul is the life force of the body. Death is merely the separation of the soul from the body. When death has come, the body corrupts, but the spiritual soul will never die. It lives on forever, Matthew 10:28, Luke 12:1-4, John 5:24, John 11:25.

"Since we have these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from every defilement of body and spirit, and make holiness perfect in the fear of God."

2Corinthians 7:1

Notice that both the body and the spirit of the person must be cleansed.

So which is more important, preserving the body, or preserving the soul? The body lives but a blink of an eye in time. The spirit lives for all eternity. What then does Scripture say?

"And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul; rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell."

Matthew 10:28

---

You may have noticed that Holy Scripture has many verses regarding the body. What may not be so apparent to you is that many of those verses are prefigurements, or types of the soul.

There are, in fact, deeper meanings of Holy Scripture which must be discerned.

"The LORD said to Moses, "This is the law for the victim of leprosy at the time of his purification. He shall be brought to the priest, who is to go outside the camp to examine him. If the priest finds that the sore of leprosy has healed in the leper, he shall order the man who is to be purified, to get two live, clean birds, as well as some cedar wood, scarlet yarn, and hyssop. The priest shall then order him to slay one of the birds over an earthen vessel with spring water in it. Taking the living bird with the cedar wood, the scarlet yarn and the hyssop, the priest shall dip them all in the blood of the bird that was slain over the spring water, and then sprinkle seven times the man to be purified from his leprosy. When he has thus purified him, he shall let the living bird fly away over the countryside."

Leviticus 14:1-7

Notice who the instrument of healing of the body is in this verse. It is not a physician but a priest. Is the primary concern for the priest the preservation of the body or of the salvation of the soul? These and other verses literally are about healing of the body, but a deeper meaning is that they are types of healing of the spiritual soul, as we shall see in the New Testament.

"When he came down from the mountain, great crowds followed him; and behold, a leper came to him and knelt before him, saying, "Lord, if you will, you can make me clean." And he stretched out his hand and touched him, saying, "I will; be clean." And immediately his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus said to him, "See that you say nothing to any one; but go, show yourself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a proof to the people."

Matthew 8:2-4

This was a cleansing and healing of the body. Why then did Jesus tell the cleansed leper to show himself to the priest and not to a physician?

Read John Chapter 6. Notice in verses 1-15 there is the story of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes by Jesus, and the feeding of five thousand. This part is about feeding the body which has to be nourished every day. Verses 16-21 is about Jesus walking upon the water, proving that He is GOD. Starting in verse 22 all the way to the end of the chapter, we see the antitype of the type presented to us in the first 15 verses. The key is verse 27,

"Do not labor for the food which perishes, but for the food which endures to eternal life, which the Son of man will give to you; for on him has God the Father set his seal."

John 6:27

Did Jesus say the "symbol" of the food which endures to eternal life?

What is the "food which perishes"?

It is the food which sustains the body until it dies.

It is the loaves and fishes, the "bread" of bodily life of verses 1-15.

Without the "food which perishes", the body soon perishes.

"I am the bread of life. Your fathers ate the manna in the wilderness, and they died."

John 6:48

The "manna in the wilderness" was merely a type or a symbol of what was to come in the New Testament. As you can readily see, the manna type preserved the body for a period of time, but had no effect on the spiritual soul. Remember one of the basic rules of typology is:

The New Testament reality is far superior to the Old Testament type.

So now we must look to this far superior reality of the New Testament.

What is the "food which endures to eternal life"?

Jesus told us what it is,

"This is the work of God, that you believe in him whom he has sent." So they said to him, "Then what sign do you do, that we may see, and believe you? What work do you perform? Our fathers ate the manna in the wilderness; as it is written, 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'" Jesus then said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, it was not Moses who gave you the bread from heaven; my Father gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is that which comes down from heaven, and gives life to the world." They said to him, "Lord, give us this bread always." Jesus said to them, "I am the bread of life; he who comes to me shall not hunger, and he who believes in Me shall never thirst."

John 6:29-35

And yet again Jesus told us what it is,

"This is the bread which comes down from heaven, that a man may eat of it and not die. I am the living bread which came down from heaven; if any one eats of this bread, he will live for ever; and the bread which I shall give for the life of the world is my flesh."

John 6:48-51

Did Jesus say it is a symbol of His flesh?

"And he took bread, and when he had given thanks he broke it and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

Luke 22:19

Did Jesus say it is a symbol of His body? Not that I can find anywhere in Scripture.

"For as often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes."

1Corinthians 11:26

This verse clearly said we are to proclaim the Lords death often and continue until He comes again. How often are we to do this in remembrance of Him?

Never fear for Holy Scripture tells us.

"For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city which is to come. Through him then let us continually offer up a sacrifice of praise to God, that is, the fruit of lips that acknowledge his name."
Hebrews 13:14-15

And:

"And day by day, attending the temple together and breaking bread in their homes, they partook of food with glad and generous hearts."
Acts 2:46

"And every day in the temple and at home they did not cease teaching and preaching Jesus as the Christ."
Acts 5:42

And:

"For from the rising of the sun, even to the going down, my name is great among the Gentiles, and in every place there is sacrifice, and there is offered to my name a clean oblation, for my name is great among the Gentiles, says the LORD of hosts."
Malachi 1:11

"Give us this day our daily bread."
Matthew 6:11

This is from the prayer that Jesus taught us, the "Our Father".
It means in totality, bread as food for our bodies and spiritual bread as food for our souls.

We are to continually offer up a sacrifice of praise to God.

Every day in every place a clean oblation is offered.

What, or who, is the sacrifice and what is a clean oblation?

It is an offering of praise to GOD, in the Holy Eucharist, the Body, and the Precious Blood of Christ.

The Catholic Church offers the sacrifice of praise to GOD all over the world, every day in the Mass.

It has replaced the bloody animal sacrifices of the Old Testament.

That is why it is called a clean oblation.

In Matthew 26:26, didn't Jesus take bread and say, "Take and eat; this is my body"?

And did he not beseech us to say in the Lords Prayer:

"Give us this day out daily bread", (both physical for the body, and spiritual for the soul).

Matthew 6:11

How many non-Catholic ecclesial communities offer daily sacrifice, a clean oblation, as is clearly commanded for us to do by Holy Scripture? How many do not even offer sacrifice?

"Cleanse out the old leaven that you may be a new lump, as you really are unleavened.

For Christ, our paschal lamb, has been sacrificed."

1Corinthians 5:7

"Therefore be imitators of God, as beloved children. And walk in love, as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us, a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God."

Ephesians 5:1-2

"I have received full payment, and more; I am filled, having received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent, a fragrant offering, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasing to God."

Philippians 4:18

Jesus Christ is the "food" which sustains the spiritual soul which lives forever. He is the "bread come down from heaven" as we saw in John chapter six.

Can a mere "symbol" sustain the spiritual soul to eternal life?

Since the manna was the type or symbol of the New Testament reality, that question can be answered by another basic rule of typology:

"An Old Testament type (symbol) never points to a New Testament symbol, but to a reality."

So obviously the "food which endures to eternal life" cannot be a symbol, but a New Testament reality. It also cannot be a symbol, for another reason. It would violate yet a second basic rule of typology which we have previously discussed:

"The New Testament reality is far superior to the Old Testament type."

---

So does this mean that Christ is sacrificed over and over again in the Eucharistic Celebration?

Again, what does Holy Scripture say?

"For Christ also died for sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh but made alive in the spirit;"

1Peter 3:18

"The former priests were many in number, because they were prevented by death from continuing in office; but he holds his priesthood permanently, because he continues for ever. Consequently he is able for all time to save those who draw near to God through him, since he always lives to make intercession for them. For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, blameless, unstained, separated from sinners, exalted above the heavens. He has no need, like those high priests, to offer sacrifices daily, first for his own sins and then for those of the people; he did this once for all when he offered up himself."

Hebrews 7:23-27

Christ was sacrificed only once and for all time. He is both the High Priest and the victim.

Catechism of the Catholic Church # 1366

"The Eucharist is thus a sacrifice because it re-presents (makes present) the sacrifice of the cross, because it is its memorial and because it applies its fruit: (Christ), our Lord and God, was once and for all to offer himself to God the Father by his death on the altar of the cross, to accomplish there an everlasting redemption. But because his priesthood was not to end with his death, at the Last Supper 'on the night when he was betrayed,' (he wanted) to leave to his beloved spouse the Church a visible sacrifice (as the nature of man demands) by which the bloody sacrifice which he was to accomplish once for all on the cross would be re-presented, its memory perpetuated until the end of the world, and its salutary power be applied to the forgiveness of the sins we daily commit.

(Council of Trent (1562): DS 1740; cf. 1 Cor 11:23; Heb 7:24,27.)"

We must remember that GOD is outside of time. Time is a measure of change for the things He has created. Since He never changes, He Himself is outside of time. Consequently, everything from creation, and before, and for all eternity is now with GOD, including the sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross. It is a continuous, never ending sacrifice. How can something that never ends be repeated?

God said to Moses, "I AM WHO I AM."

And he said, "Say this to the people of Israel, 'I AM has sent me to you.'"

Exodus 3:14

Jesus said to them, "Truly, truly, I say to you, before Abraham was, I am."

John 8:58

---

"And getting into a boat he crossed over and came to his own city. And behold, they brought to him a paralytic, lying on his bed; and when Jesus saw their faith he said to the paralytic, "Take heart, my son; your sins are forgiven." And behold, some of the scribes said to themselves, "This man is blaspheming." But Jesus, knowing their thoughts, said, "Why do you think evil in your hearts? For which is easier, to say, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Rise and walk'? But that you may know that the Son of man has authority on earth to forgive sins"—he then said to the paralytic—"Rise, take up your bed and go home." And he rose and went home. When the crowds saw it, they were afraid, and they glorified God, who had given such authority to men."

Matthew 9:1-8

These classic verses graphically show the connection between healing of the body and healing of the soul. Jesus first cleansed the paralytic's soul, and then He cleansed his body. Pay especial attention to the last line. To whom was authority given? Notice that the very last word in the verses is plural.

In summation:

1. The body needs physical food in order to survive or else it will die.
2. The spiritual soul needs spiritual food in order to avoid spiritual death, the separation from GOD.
3. Spiritual food cannot be a symbolic gesture, simply because a mere symbol could not possibly feed the spiritual soul. Spiritual food is as much a reality as is physical food. It is the antitype of its Old Testament type of the manna in the desert. Recall that an O.T. type never points to a N.T. symbol.
4. Scripture tells us that there will be offered sacrifice every day in every place, a clean oblation. How can symbolism of a sacrifice be a sacrifice in itself?
5. The bread come down from heaven, Jesus Christ, is that clean oblation, His sacrifice on the cross.
6. Jesus Christ was sacrificed once on the cross for all eternity.
7. Jesus Christ is both the High Priest and the victim, the Paschal Lamb of sacrifice.
8. Since He is High Priest forever (Heb 7:17), He is also the sacrificial Lamb forever (Rev 5:13-14).
9. Since GOD is outside of time, everything is now with Him. That one sacrifice at Calvary, which is always now for GOD, is made present for us during the Eucharistic celebration of the Mass.
10. The Mass is a re-presentation of that one sacrifice. We are re-presented at Calvary.

The Bible Is a Scientific Wonder...

---

---

Many principles of modern science were recorded in the Bible long before scientists discovered them. Some examples are...

---

---

Gen 15:5, stars are innumerable.

Gen 7:11,8:2, fountains and springs exist under the sea.

Lev 15:13, a flow of water becomes cleansing. This was not found until the 19th century by Pasteur in his discovery of bacteria.
